"The demand for this dictionary having been greater than was expected the first edition was soon exhausted. The publication of the second edition has afforded an opportunity for a complete revision and the addition of over eighteen hundred names" (Preface to the Second Edition).

1942: [LILLYbm] Swahili Exercises for the Soldier, Settler, Miner, Merchant, and their Wives and all who deal with Up-Country Native without Interpreters, by F. H. La Breton. Kitale: LeBreton, 1942. Original wrappers. Fifth edition. First edition 1936.

1944a: [LILLY] A Ki-Swahili instruction book for the East Africa Command / East African Army Education Corps. Entebbe, Uganda: Government Printer, 1944. 2nd ed. ii, 141 p.; 19 cm. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Includes Swahili-English, pp. 116-128, and English-Swahili, pp. 129-141. With a few grammar notes in manuscript at the end. With the stamp on the title page of the "Coast Battery Defense King's African Rifles" and the ownership initials: "V.A.F."

1944b: [IUW] Grammaire swahili, suivie d'un vocabulaire, par le r. p. F. van den Eynde ... Bruxelles, Éditorial-office, H. Wauthoz-Légrand [1944?]. 217 p. 22 cm. Library binding. French-Swahili, pp. 89-154, Swahili-French, pp. 157-213.

"To achieve the ideal [of bringing civilization to the Africans] it is absolutely necessary to understand the mentality of the blacks and to make oneself understood by them, which presupposes a perfect knowledge of the indigenous language, from which arises the obligation, on the part of all colonials, to learn the languages of the Congolese" (Preface: tr: BM).

1952: [LILLYbm] A New English-Swahili Phrase Book, by B. J. Ratcliffe & Howard Elphinstone. Nairobi: East African Standard, [1952]. Original pale green wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-72. Front wrapper sole title page. Later printing, with date of 1952 in adverts. on verso of front wrapper. Preface dated 1932. Includes English-Swahili vocabulary, pp. 43-72.

"The authors hope...that [this little booklet] may be found helpful by those who intend to make a more thorough study of the official language of the Colony by giving them the correct expression and so encourage the effort to avoid the jargon with which so many are content to 'scrounge along.' It is not intended to be a substitute for but a first step in the attempt to master the language now ranked as the seventh in the most universally spoken languages of the world."

1955: [LILLYbm] Swahili pocket dictionary, by Margaret [Arminel] Bryan. Nairobi; London: Highway Press; Longmans, Green, 1955. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in red. Pp. i-iv v-vi, 1-56 57-58. Reprint. "First published in 1948, reprinted by photolithography in 1951, reprinted 1955" on verso of title page. Includes English-Swahili, pp. 1-56.

"This Pocket Dictionary is intended to provide a handy collection of useful everyday words, arranged according to subject... The use of a full dictionary is recommended for more detailed study" (Bibliography).

1962: Reprinted [IUW] Swahili pocket dictionary, by Margaret Bryan. Nairobi; London: Highway Press; Longmans, Green, 1962. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown. Pp. i-iv v-vi, 1-56 57-58. Reprint. "First published in 1948, new impressions by photolithography 195... and 1962" on verso of title page. Includes English-Swahili, pp. 1-56.

1958: [LILLYbm] A Concise English-Swahili Dictionary. Kamusi ya Kiingereza-Kiswahili, by R.A. Snoxall. London: Oxford University Press, 1958. Original light green cloth over boards, lettered in black. 326 pp. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1563. This edition was also published in Nairobi by Oxford University Press in the same year.

1961: Revised printing [IUW] A concise English-Swahili dictionary. Kamusi ya Kiingereza-Kiswahili, by R.A. Snoxall. London, Oxford University Press, 1961, c1958. xii, 325 p. illus. 17 cm. Revised printing 1961.

1960: [IUW] Kiswahili-Sprachführer; Deutsch-Kiswahili, Kiswahili-Deutsch, by Emil Meier. Wiesbaden, O. Harrassowitz, 1960. 122 p. 18 cm. Library binding, preserving original tan front wrapper, lettered in black. German-Swahili, pp. [34]-104, Swahili-German, pp. [105]-122.

"This language guide is intended primarily for German-speaking tourists and emigrants who wish to make contact with natives in East and Central Africa without studying the language for a long time" (Vorwort: tr: BM).

1984: Second edition [IUW] Sprachführer der Suaheli-Sprache; Deutsch-Kiswahili, Kiswahili-Deutsch, by Emil Meier. 2. Aufl. Wiesbaden, O. Harrassowitz, 1984. 122 p. 18 cm.

1961: [LILLYbm] [In Cyrillic script] Suakhili-russkii slovar, ed. by D[mitrii] A[alekseevich] Oldgerogge. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsionalnykh slovarei, 1961. Original red cloth over boards, stamped in blind and lettered in black. 560 pp. + fold-out and errata slip. First edition. Published under the auspices of the Russian Academy of Sciences. Hendrix 1545: "Designed for translators and students interested in folklore, literature, ethnography, and social science." This copy has a bookplate of the Library of Congress and an ink stamp indicating it was a duplicate. This appears to be the first Russian-Swahili dictionary. Second copy: [IUW].

"This Swahili-Russian Dictionary contains nearly 18,000 words and is intended for translators and students who are studying African languages. It can serve as a text-book for the reading of contemporary social-political and artistic literature, the press, folklore, and texts having ethnographic contents" (translated slip loosely inserted in book, presumably from a librarian).

1962: [IUW] Swahili pocket dictionary / by Margaret Bryan. Nairobi: Highway Press; London: Longmans, Green, [1962]. vi, 56 p.; 13 cm.

1963a: [IUW] Slovar' russko-suakhili gazetnoï leksiki, by Aleksandr Ivanovich Kutuzov. Moskva, 1963. 174 p. 21 cm. Library binding. Russian-Swahili, pp. [5]-168. Preliminary material in Russian.

1963b: [IUW] Suaheli-deutsches Wörterbuch, by Hildegard Höftmann, with the assistance of Stephen Mhando. Leipzig, Verlag Enzyklopädie [1963]. xii, 420 p. 20 cm. First edition. Original brown and orange cloth over boards, lettered in white. Swahili-German, pp. [1]-379.

"The present dictionary is intended to aid students and other interested parties in working with this language. It is based primarily on material gathered by Krapf, Madan, Velten and Johnson" (Vorwort: tr: BM).

2000: Fourth edition [IUW] Langenscheidts Handwörterbuch Swahili-Deutsch / von Hildegard Höftmann und Irmtraud Herms. New edition. Berlin: Langenscheidt, c2000. 403 p.; 20 cm. Langenscheidts Handwörterbücher. Updated ed. of: Wörterbuch Swahili-Deutsch. 4., erw. Aufl. c1989.

2005: New edition Wörterbuch Swahili-Deutsch / von Hildegard Höftmann und Irmtraud Herms. Köln: Köppe, 2005. 403 p.; 21 cm. Previous edition title: Langenscheidts Handwörterbuch Swahili-Deutsch, Berlin, 2000.

1963c: [IUW] Swahili, 12 weeks course. Monterey, Calif.: Defense Language Institute, West Coast Branch, 1963. 6 v.: ill.; 26 cm. Original pale green stapled wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. V. 1-5. Lessons 1-55. v. 6. Vocabulary list: Swahili-English, pp. 1-13, English-Swahili, pp. 17-32.

1965a: [LILLYbm] The E.U.P Concise Swahili and English Dictionary, together with students' notes and a short grammar, by D.V. Perrott. London: The English Universities Press, Ltd., 1965. Original blue cloth over boards, decorated in blind, with a black stamped label on the spine, lettered in gold; d.j. yellow and blue, lettered in yellow and black. Pp. [8] 1 2-184. First edition. Hendrix 1522. Includes Swahili-English, pp. 23-78, and English-Swahili, pp. 84-184. Second copy: [IUW].

"Although it is a Concise Dictionary, its Swahili section contains all the words the compiler heard during thirty years' residence in East Africa, together with a selection of those taken for her own use from the dictionaries of Krapf, Sacleux, and Madan and the writings of Swahili authors, and a few present-day words not yet in any dictionary" (Preface).

1990: New edition [IUW] Concise Swahili and English dictionary: Swahili-English/English-Swahili, by D. V. Perrott. Sevenoaks: Hodder and Stoughton, 1990, c1965. 184 p.; 20 cm. Series: Teach yourself books.

2003: Revised edition [IUW] Swahili and English dictionary: Swahili-English/English-Swahili / D.V. Perrott. [Rev. ed.] / rev. by Joan Russell. Chicago, IL: Contemporary Pub., 2003. vi, 266 p.; 20 cm. Teach yourself books (Lincolnwood, Ill.) Includes bibliographical references (p. vi).

1965b: [LILLYbm] Kratkii suakhili-russkii i russko-suakhili slovar, by A[leksandr] I[vanovich] Kutuzov & Ali Juma Zidikher. Moscow: Sovetskaia Entsiklopediia, 1965. Added title page: Kamusi fupi ya kiswahili-kirusi na kirusi-kiswahili. Original black cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in red, silver and black. Pp. 1-6 7-442 443-444. First edition. Hendrix 1522. Includes Swahili-Russian, pp. [13]-194, and Russian-Swahili, pp. [211]-435. Second copy: [IUW].

1967: [LILLYbm] Swahili-English Dictionary, by Charles W[illiam] Rechenbach. [Washington, D.C.]: The Catholic University of America Press, 1967. Original light

green cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. i-iv v-xi xii, 1-641 642-644. First edition. Hendrix 1556 (dated 1968). Dalby 1485.

"The compilers of this Swahili-English dictionary, the first new lexical work for English speakers in many years, hope that they are offering to students and translators a more reliable and certainly a more up-to-date working tool than any previously available...In the long view, the future of Swahili is difficult to predict; but, for the present, its position appears to be more stable than that of any other African language...Swahili can no longer be considered in the category of the 'rarer' languages...Like all subsequent publications, [this volume] builds gratefully upon the Standard Swahili-English and English-Swahili Dictionary in two volumes...published by the Oxford University Press in 1939. The present dictionary has critically reappraised the entire word-stock of the language, modernizing and augmenting from many sources. It brings the vocabulary up to date, including the fantastic developments since World War II" (Introduction).

1968: [IUW] A social science vocabulary of Swahili, by James Brain. [Syracuse, N.Y.] Program of Eastern African Studies, 1968. ii, 43 l. 28 cm. Library binding, preserving original red front wrapper, lettered in black. Occasional paper (Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. Program of Eastern African Studies); no. 33. Swahili-English, pp. 1-43.

"The need for a new Swahili dictionary is too well-known to require comment. It is hoped that within the next few years we may see both a dictionary and a reference grammar as a result of the labors of Dr. Lyndon Harries and Sheikh Ali Ahmad Jahadmy at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. This work does not pretend to be in any way a comprehensive dictionary, but it is hoped that it may prove of some value to students of the social sciences who are concerned with the Swahili-speaking area" (p. i).

1969: [IUW] Kamusi ya maneno ya utaalumu wa mambo ya kibinadamu; a short dictionary of social science terms for Swahili speakers, by James L. Brain. [Syracuse, N.Y., Syracuse University, Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs] 1969. 70 l. 29 cm. Library binding, preserving original red front wrapper, lettered in black. Occasional paper (Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. Program of Eastern African Studies); no. 51. English-Swahili, ff. 1-70.

"The writing of this work was originally initiated by a similar, though much smaller, vocabulary of Swahili terms made up for the benefit of English-speaking students concerned with research using documents and newspapers printed in Swahili [see 1968 above]. It was apparent that any such work was made most difficult by the absence of many words in common usage from any standard dictionary" (Foreword).

1970?: [IUW] Le Swahili simplifié / P.M. Wilson. Nairobi: Kenya Literature Bureau, [1970?]. 617 p.; 19 cm. Includes vocabulary lists in French, Swahili and English.

1970: [LILLY] A Swahili nautical dictionary, by A. H. J.. Prins. Dar es Salaam: Chuo cha Uchunguzi wa Lugha ya Kiswahili, 1970. Original gray-green wrappers, lettered in black. First edition. Hendrix 2078. Second copy: [IUW].

1972a: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1972b: [IUW] Kamusi ya kwanza, Kiswahili-Kiingereza. A first dictionary, Swahili-English, by William F. Cahill, illustrated by Roger Phillips. London, Nelson, 1972. 80 p. illus. 20 cm.

1974a: [IUW] Jambo means hello; Swahili alphabet book, by Muriel Feelings. Pictures by Tom Feelings. New York, Dial Press [1974]. [48] p. (chiefly illus.) 24 x 27 cm. Presents a word, with English translation, for each of the twenty-four letters in the Swahili alphabet. Brief explanation of each word introduces an East African custom.

1974b: see 1974 under LESE.

1975a: [IUW] A concise dictionary of English-Swahili idioms / Abdilahi Nassir. Nairobi: Shungwaya Publishers, 1975-. 1 v.; 19 cm.

1975b: [IUW] Dictionnaire de la langue swahili / Kajiga Balihuta. Goma, Zaïre: Librairie Les Volcans, 1975. 681 p.: map; 24 cm. Library binding. French-Swahili, pp. [1]-442, Swahili-French, pp. 443-655. Preliminary material on the history of the language.

1976: [IUW] A contribution to the Swahili maritime terminology / Sergio Baldi. Roma: Tip. Pioda, 1976. 99 p.; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original pale yellow front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. Classified vocabulary of maritime terms, English-French-Italian-Swahili, pp. [15]-71, Swahili index, pp. [73]-99. Collana di studi africani; 2. Includes bibliographical references and index.

"This research was carried out in Tanzania, thanks to a grant by the Istituto Italo-Africano.... The words have been collected during my stay in Tanzania from December 1972 to April 1973 in the area Bagamoyo, Dar es Salaam, Zanzibar. I have left aside in this research also the English terms and expressions of which I did not find the Swahili equivalent either in the dictionaries or other works consulted" (Introduction).

1978a: [IUW] Dictionnaire de la langue swahili / Kajiga Balihuta. Goma, Zaïre: Librairie Les Volcans, 1975. 681 p.: map; 24 cm.

1978b: [IUW] Kamusi vocabulaire: kiswahili-français, français-kiswahili / par Walter Heylen. [Lubumbashi]: Éditions Saint-Paul Afrique, [1978] 428 p.; 17 cm. Original cream and light orange decorated wrappers, lettered in black. Swahili-French, pp. 17-190, French-Swahili, pp. 195-428.

"This vocabulary is a revised, corrected and enlarged edition of the Vocabulaire by E. Brutel, p. b., of which the last edition, long since out of print, appeared in 1932"

1978c: [IUW] Russko-suakhili uchebnyĭ slovar': 5000 slov / N. V. Gromova, N. G. Fedorova; pod red. Khuseĭna Abdul-Razaka. Moskva: Russkii ĭazyk, 1978. 320 p.; 21 cm.

1979a: [IUW] Piccolo dizionario, italiano-kiswahili-inglese. Nairobi, Kenya: Transafrica, 1979. 31 p.; 12 x 19 cm. Original green wrappers, lettered in yellow. Italian-Swahili-English, pp. 1-[32]. Oblong format. No preliminary material.

1979b: [IUW] A short English-Swahili medical dictionary / by T. Hedley White; expanded and edited by C. E. Sorsbie, with the collaboration of Nathan Mbwele and Anne Ndubbi; with a foreword by Charles Njonjo. 1st ed. Edinburgh; New York: Churchill Livingstone; New York: distributed by Longman, 1979. xi, 105 p.; 20 cm. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. English-Swahili, pp. 1-102. Bibliography: p. [103]-105.

"I hope that this conspectus of Swahili medical terms and useful words, including some that are not often heard nowadays but which crop up from time to time as patients tell their stories, will be helpful.... It began as a cyclostyled pamphlet of about three hundred words and their Swahili equivalents that I circulated to expatriate hospital staff over twenty years ago when there was a movement afoot, of which I strongly disapproved, to abolish the teaching of Swahili. Over the next few years, this list was lengthened to comprise about 1,200 words" (Preface).

1979c: [IUW] Wörterbuch, Swahili-Deutsch / von Hildegard Höftmann, unter Mitarb. von Irmtraud Herms. 1. Aufl. Leipzig: Verlag Enzyklopädie, VEB, 1979. 402 p.; 21 cm.

1980a: [LILLYbm] Afrikan language dictionary: Swahili-English and English-Swahili, by D. W. Kabithe. Toledo, Ohio: Swahili Understanding International, 1980. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. I-VI, 1-411 412-418. First edition. Includes Swahili-English, pp. 1-148, and English-Swahili, pp. 150-411. Second copy: [LILLYmk].

"It took six years to compose this dictionary.... The most unique aspect of this dictionary is that words that originate from the same root are grouped together, in spite of their alphabetical order. This helps to cut down on the time and labor involved in looking up the words. In previously-published dictionaries, it is common to look up a given words like upendo under u, only to be directed to the root word penda under p. Sometimes it is possible to have to search for the meaning of one word over several pages. In this dictionary the problem has been overcome" (Introduction).

1980b: [IUW] Kamusi ya Kiswahili-Kijapani / kimetungwa na Yoichi Wazaki. [Tenri]: Yotokusha, 1980, c1978. xvi, 826, 15 p.: ill.; 26 cm. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Colophon title in Japanese: Suwahiri-Nihongo jiten. Swahili-Japanese, pp. 1-826, with scattered illustrations. Preliminary material in Japanese.

1980c: [IUW] Kortfattad swahili-svensk ordbok / Tommy Otterbrandt, Abdulaziz Y. Lodhi. 2., helt omarb. uppl. Second, revised and enlarged edition. Uppsala: Nordiska Afrikainstitutet, 1980. 195 p.; 18 cm. Original limp brown and yellow plastic lettered in yrllow. Rev. ed. of: Kortfattad swahili-svensk ordbok / Abdulaziz Lohdi, Tommy Otterbrandt, Sigvard von Sicard. 1973. Swahili-Swedish, pp. 35-195. Preliminary material in Swedish. Includes bibliographical references.

1981: [IUW] Learner's Swahili-English, English-Swahili dictionary / Ali Ahmed Jahadhmy. London: Evans Brothers, 1981. xix, 106 p.; 22 cm. Original yellow wrappers, lettered in black. English-Swahili, pp. 1-42, Swahili-English, pp. 45-106.

"This dictionary, newly compiled specifically for the beginner, contains those lexical items which the student will come across most requetly in conversation, and also in written material.... Over 12,000 head words" (from rear cover).

1982a: [IUW] Kamusi ya ndege wa Tanzania = A glossary of birds of Tanzania / Musa Maimu. Dar es Salaam: Tanzania Pub. House, c1982. 188 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Library binding preserving original orange front wrapper, lettered in brown, with a black and white photo of a bird on the front cover. Swahili-English-Latin glossary of birds, with illustrations, pp. 1-174, English-Swahili names, pp. 175-188. Bibliography: p. 188. Preliminary material in Swahili.

1982b: [IUW] Kamusi ya wanyama na nyoka wa Tanzania = A glossary of animals and snakes of Tanzania / Musa Maimu. Dar es Salaam: Tanzania Pub. House, [1982]. viii, 131 p.: ill.; 19 cm. In Swahili, with some English, French, German, and Latin. Bibliography: p. 128-131.

1983: [IUW] Dictionnaire swahili-français: partiellement adapté du Standard Swahili-English dictionary de Frederick Johnson avec l'autorisation d'Oxford University Press / Alphonse Lenselaer. Paris: Editions Karthala, c1983. 646 p.: ill.; 25 cm. Original rose cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Swahili-French, pp. [21]-646. Bibliography: p. [17]-19. Printed October 1983.

"The present dictionary contains a good number of words in the Kingwana dialect [Congo Swahili] of Zaire [now Democratic Republic of the Congo], which diverge from standard Swahili current in newspapers and books in Tanzania.... Each time that it is possible, we have indicated the standard Swahili word beside its Kingwana variant. In addition, words of standard Swahili in current use in Zaire are marked with a cross" (Présentation du Dictionnaire: tr: BM).

1984: [IUW] An intermediate Swahili newspaper reader / John B.K. Rutayuga and John D. Murphy. 1st ed. Kensington, Md.: Dunwoody Press, 1984. xix, 259 p.; 24 cm. Original black imitation leather paper over boards, lettered in gold. General glossary, Swahili-English, pp. 195-259.

"The objective of the present Reader is to make available to the intermediate student of written Swahili a broad variety of current newspaper selections together with sufficient grammatical aids to facilitate a rapid comprehension of them" (Introduction).

1985: [IUW] An elementary Swahili newspaper reader / by Agnes Musyoki and John D. Murphy. 1st ed. Kensington, Md.: Dunwoody Press, 1985. viii, 201 p.; 24 cm. Repaired library binding, now lacking the original spine, which bore the title: Elementary Swahili reader. Binding incorporates the original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Includes twenty selections from the newspaper Uhuru published in 1980. General glossary, Swahili-English, pp. 153-201.

"The present volume is intended to provide the elementary student of Swahili with a broad selection of newspaper selections together with the necessary lexical and grammatical aids" (Preface).

1987a: [IUW] Primary technical dictionary English-Swahili / compiled by Rajmund Ohly; standardized by the National Kiswahili Council (BAKITA); with a foreword by His Excellency Ali Hassan Mwinyi. Dar es Salaam, Tanzania: Institute of Production Innovation IPI, University of Dar es Salaam, 1987. vi, 243 p.; 22 cm. Original green wrappers, lettered in green, white and black. English-Swahili, pp. 1-222. Includes "Directions for coinage in Swahili," pp. 225-243.

"Swahili, the national language of Tanzania, is in the process of lexical modernization as a result of rapid environmental changes. Especially technical branches of learning demand a proper reflection in language in order to enable the verbal application of techniques in daily practice. The Institute of Production Innovation of the University of Dar es Salaam... has therefore decided to compile a dictionary comprising all the technical terms in use which would serve oral instruction in Swahili in different technical fields and the translation of technical texts into Swahili. As a result, a dictionary has been compiled containing more than 30,000 Swahili technical terms" (Introduction).

1987b: [IUW] Suakhili-russkiĭ slovar': okolo 30,000 slov / pod redaktsiĭ E.N. Miachinoĭ; s prilozheniem "Kratkogo grammaticheskogo ocherka iazyka suakhili" E.N. Miachinoĭ; [avtory N.V. Gromova ... et al.]. Moskva: "Russkiĭ iazyk", 1987. 695 p.; 23 cm.

1987c: [IUW] Swahili-English slang pocket-dictionary / Rajmund Ohly. Wien: AFRO-PUB, 1987. 86 p.; 21 cm. Veröffentlichungen der Institute für Afrikanistik und

Ägyptologie der Universität Wien Nr. 44. Beiträge zur Afrikanistik Bd. 31. "1500 terms and phrases."

1989: see under CHIDURUMA.

1990a: [IUW] Kamusi sanifu ya biolojia, fizika na kemia / Taasisi ya Uchunguzi wa Kiswahili. Dar es Salaam, Tanzania: TUKI: UNESCO: SIDA, c1990. xi, 184 p.; 20 cm. Library binding, preserving original green and gray wrappers, lettered in gray. English-Swahili terms from biology, physics and chemistry, pp. 1-179. Includes bibliographical references (p. vi). Preliminary matter in Swahili.

1990b: [IUW] Wörterbuch Deutsch-Swahili / von Karsten Legère. 1. Aufl. First edition. Leipzig: Verlag Enzyklopädie, c1990. 267 p.; 20 cm.

2000: New edition [IUW] Langenscheidts Handwörterbuch Deutsch-Swahili / von Karsten Legère. [Neuausg.]. New edition. Berlin: Langenscheidt, 2000. 267 pages; 20 cm. Original yellow and blue cloth over boards, lettered in black and blue. Langenscheidts Handwörterbücher. German-Swahili, pp. [13]-267.

1990-1997: [IUW] Suwahirigo jiten / Morino Tsuneo, Nakajima Hisashi hen. Tōkyō: Tōkyō Gaikokugo Daigaku Ajia Afurika Gengo Bunka Kenkyūjo, 1990-1997 6 v.; 27 cm. Other titles: Dictionary of the Swahili language. Kamusi ya Lugha ya Kiswahili. Asian & African lexicon 21, etc.

1991a: [IUW] Dictionnaire français-kiswahili = Kamusi ya kifaransa-kiswahili. Nairobi: CREДУ; Dar es Salaam: TUKI, FLL, 1991. 315 p.; 21 cm. Original green wrappers, lettered in white and black and decorated in black. French-Swahili, pp. 9-315.

"Our objective was to produce the first French-Swahili dictionary based on the standard Swahili our Institute [CREДУ] is meant to develop. The preceding French-Swahili dictionary, edited by Père Sacleux, missionary to Zanzibar, which appeared nearly a century ago, does not render the present-day language" (Introduction: tr:MB).

1991b: [IUW] English-Swahili pocket dictionary / J. Safari & H. Akida. Dar es Salaam: Mkuki na nyota Publishers; Nairobi: Heinemann, 1991. 271 p.; 16 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue front and rear wrappers, lettered in black and white. English-Swahili, pp. 1-271.

"Publication of this pocket English-Swahili dictionary brings to fruition many years of dedicated labour... Two considerations guided the work on this dictionary. Firstly, the dictionary had to remain truly concise and easily portable. Secondly... the Swahili equivalents of the English words as well as their usages had to correspond to those of the best Swahili speakers" (Publishers' Note).

1993: [IUW] Hindī-Svāhīlī śabdakosha = Kamusi ya Kihindi - Kiswahili / compiled and edited by Achyut Ramkrishna Pathak. Delhi: Kalinga Publications, 1993. 123 p.; 22 cm. Hindi dictionary of important terms with their meanings in Swahili.

1994a: [IUW] Arbeitsvokabular Deutsch-Swahili / Sheikh/Gerhardt/Samsom. Hamburg: RaP-Research and Progress Verlagsgesellschaft, 1994 69 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. German-Swahili, pp. 5-69.

"The present small volume complements our Arbeitsvokabular Swahili-Deutsch.... This volume too is intended for the German reader" (Vorwort: tr: BM).

1994b: [IUW] Modern Swahili, modern English / by Baba Malaika. 2nd ed., rev. and enl. Arusha, Tanzania: Training Centre for Development Co-operation, 1994. xvi, 206 p.; 21 cm. Original purple and light orange wrappers, lettered in purple and white. Cover title: Friendly modern Swahili, modern English dictionary. Swahili-English, pp. 1-206.

"The reception accorded to the first edition [of this dictionary] in 1991, of restricted circulation, is evidence enough that people are interested in the current state of the language. This second edition has been extensively revised and expanded: new entries are above a thousand" (Foreword).

1996?: [IUW] Dictionnaire kiswahili-français = Kamusi ya Kiswahili-Kifaransa. Nairobi: Institut français de recherche en Afrique, [1996?] 125 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original orange wrappers, lettered in black. The wrappers fade easily to yellow. Swahili-French, pp. 1-125.

1996a: see under GLOSA.

1996b: see under NYAKYSA-NGONDE.

1996c: [IUW] TUKI English-Swahili dictionary = Kamusi ya Kiingereza-Kiswahili. 1st ed. Dar es Salaam: Institute of Kiswahili Research, University of Dar es Salaam, 1996. xx, 882 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue, white, green and yellow front and rear wrappers, lettered in green and white. "Lexicographers ... J.S. Mdee ... editors ... D.P.B. Massamba ..."--Foreword. Dalby 1487. English-Swahili, pp. [1]-[883].

"The long-awaited TUKI English-Swahili Dictionary is at last in print and ready for its users. Having taken sixty years of writing, fourteen years of preparation, the heavy and difficult task has now exposed the brains and energy of lexicographers, academic members and the administrative staff of the Institute of Kiswahili Research who consistently and continuously devoted themselves to its accomplishment" (Foreword).

"TUKI English-Swahili Dictionary is the most up to date dictionary of current English. It is published after more than a century since Madan published the first English-Swahili Dictionary in 1894 [see above], and half a century since Johnson (1939) was published [see above].... A new dictionary was necessary for two reasons: (1) to record new words and new meanings of words which the language acquired during the last 55 years, and (2) to provide some lexicographical information that current dictionary users need" (Preface).

1996d: [IUW] Vortaro Esperanto-Suahila = Kamusi Kiesperanto Kiswahili / Jan Knappert. 2. eldono, reviziita kaj ampleksigita. Second edition revised and amplified. Rotterdam: Universala Esperanto-Asocio, 1996. 158 p.; 19 cm. Library binding, preserving original red and pale purple wrappers, lettered in white, with a small drawing of a giraffe on the front cover. Esperanto-Swahili, pp. 1-79, Swahili-Esperanto, pp. 81-158. Preliminary material in Esperanto. First ed. appeared in 1982.

1997a: [IUW] Russko-suakhili slovar': okolo 20,000 slov / D.V. Polikanov; pod redaktsiei N.T. Petrenko. Moskva: [s.n.], 1997. 675 p.; 22 cm. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Russian-Swahili, pp. 10-673. Includes bibliographical references (p. 5).

1997b: [IUW] Swahili phrase book & dictionary / Berlitz. 2nd rev. ed. Princeton, NJ, USA: Berlitz Pub., 1997 (fourth printing). 191 p.: ill., col. map; 15 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow and multicolor front and rear wrappers, lettered in red, yellow and black, with a color photo of the face of a tribal member on the front cover. Dictionary: English-Swahili, pp. 184-189, Swahili index, pp. 190-191. Includes index. First edition 1995.

1999a: [IUW] Istilahi za elimumisitu: Kiingereza-Kiswahili / kimetungwa na kuhaririwa na L. Nshubemuki, H.J.M. Mwansoko, A.G. Mugasha. [Dar es Salaam: Forest Research Support in Tanzania: Taasisi ya Utafiti wa Misititu Tanzania, [1999] 269 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original green wrappers, lettered in black. English-Swahili glossary of terminology used in forestry education, pp. 1-269. Preliminary matter in Swahili.

1999b: [IUW] Kamusi ya biashara na uchumi: Kiingereza-Kiswahili / Z.N. Tumbo-Masabo na A.R. Chuwa. Dar es Salaam: Taasisi ya Uchunguzi wa Kiswahili, Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam, 1999. 78 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow wrappers, lettered in black, with brown drawing of measuring scales on front cover. English-Swahili business terms, pp. 1-78. Preliminary matter in Swahili. An English Swahili dictionary of business and commerce.

1999c: [IUW] Kamusi ya sheria: Kiingereza-Kiswahili / S.A.K. Mlacha. Dar es Salaam: Taasisi ya Uchunguzi wa Kiswahili, c1999. 114, [2] p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original green and brown wrappers, lettered in black. Title on added t.p.: Legal dictionary: English-Kiswahili. English-Swahili legal terms: pp. [1]-[116]. No preliminary matter.

2000?: [IUW] Expressions quotidiennes utilisés = Words and expressions for daily use = Maneno na misemo ya kila siku / Baraza la Kiswahili la Taifa. [Tanzania?]: BAKITA, [2000?]. 26 p.; 20 cm.

2000: [IUW] Swahili-English, English-Swahili dictionary / by Nicholas Awde. New York: Hippocrene Books, c2000. 596 p.; 18 cm. Hippocrene practical dictionary.

2001a: see under LENDU.

2001b: [IUW] A first English-Swahili dictionary of terms in use in the Catholic Church (with glosses in Latin and Italian). Toleo la 1. First edition. Mapanda [Iringa, Tanzania]: Printed by Ndanda Mission Press, 2001. ix, 86 p.; 26 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow and white wrappers, lettered in black. English-Swahili-Italian-Latin, pp. 1-78. Includes bibliographical references (p. ix). Preliminary material in Swahili.

2001c: [IUW] Law glossary of Islamic terms in Swahili / by Jan Knappert. Peramiho, Tanzania: Benedictine Publications Ndanda, 2001. 128 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original pink wrappers, lettered in black. Islamic terms in Swahili-English, pp. 39-124, English legal concepts with Swahili equivalents, pp. 125-128. In English, with some Swahili.

2001d: [IUW] Tuki kamusi ya Kiswahili-Kiingereza = Swahili-English dictionary / Toleo la Kwanza. Dar es Salaam: Taasisi ya Uchunguzi wa Kiswahili, Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam, 2001. xviii, 372 p.; 20 cm. Library binding, preserving brown, green, blue and light purple wrappers, lettered in blue, white and black. Swahili-English, pp. [1]-372. Preliminary material in Swahili.

2014: Second edition [IUW] TUKI: kamusi ya Kiswahili-Kiingereza = [TUKI]: Swahili-English Dictionary. Toleo la pili. Second edition. Dar es Salaam: Taasisi ya Uchunguzi wa Kiswahili, Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam, 2014. xviii, 551 pages; 21 cm.

2002a: [IUW] English-Kiswahili assorted dictionary / K.W. Wamitila and Florence M. Kyallo. Nairobi, Kenya: Focus Books, 2002. xiv, 191 p.; 18 cm. Library binding, preserving original orange, white and yellow front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. English-Swahili, thematically arranged, pp. 1-191.

"The purpose of this dictionary is modest: to assist Kiswahili learners acquire a mastery of some very basic terms.....For a long time there has been a dire need for a dictionary of this nature to help bilingual users. Readers will concur with us that Kiswahili language has been developing rather fast, especially at the basic word or lexical level" (Introduction).

2002b: [IUW] First Swahili-English dictionary of food and drinks / Kineene Wa Mutiso. Nairobi: Bookman Consultants, c2002. 69 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original greenish-brown wrappers, lettered in black, with a color photo of a plate of food on the front cover. Swahili-English, pp.1-69. No preliminary material.

2002c: see under NYAMBO.

2002d: [IUW] Swahili: Handwörterbuch des internationalen Swahili: Deutsch-Swahili, Swahili-Deutsch = Kamusi ya kijerumani na Kiswahili / Cosmo Ambokile Lazaro. 1. Aufl. First edition. Cologne, Germany: AM-CO Publishers, c2002. 362 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue, gray and black wrappers, lettered in black, white and green. German-Swahili, pp. [11]-230, Swahili-German, pp. [231]-349.

"The dictionary contains all the words of everyday life. The author includes modern vocabulary from such areas as technology, the internet, computers, medicine, society culture and religion.... The author was born in Tanzania and lived more than 20 years in Germany" (Vorwort: tr: BM).

2003a: [IUW] Kamusi ya tiba / A.M.A. Mwita, H.J.M. Mwansoko. Dar es Salaam: Taasisi ya Uchunguzi wa Kiswahili, Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam, c2003. iv, 292 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue, pink and orange wrappers, lettered in white and black, with a color illustration of a microscope on the front cover. English-Swahili medical terms pp. 1-292. Preliminary matter in Swahili.

2003b: [IUW] Rafiki marejeo: Kiswahili-Kiarabu / mwadshl Othman A. Mohammed = al-Rafīq marja' al-qāri': 'Arabī-Swāḥilī / ta'līf 'Uthmān 'Abd al-Salām Muḥammad. Tanzania: O.A. Mohammed, 2003. vi, 204 p.; 15 cm. Library binding, preserving original pale blue wrappers, lettered in black and red. Swahili-Arabic, thematically arranged, pp. 1-204. Preliminary matter in Arabic.

2004: see under TANZANIAN SIGN LANGUAGE.

2005: see under KWAYA.

2006a: [IUW] Dictionnaire kiswahili-français et français-kiswahili / Georges Mertens; préface d'Alain Ricard. [Paris]: Karthala, c2006. 285 p.; 20 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown. Swahili-French, pp. 13-117, French-Swahili, pp. 121-285. Series: Dictionnaires et langues. Includes bibliographical references (p. [5]).

"To the monument of Sacleux's dictionary which still stands for French speakers must be added a practical tool that takes into account contemporary Swahili" (Preface: tr: BM).

2006b: [IUW] Français-Kiswahili-English: misamiati ya msingi kwa wanaojifunza lugha: Kifaransa-Kiingereza-Kiswahili / Maria-Anna J. E. Chipa. Dar es Salaam: Maria-Anna Joachim Emmanuel Chipa, 2006. xvii, 362 p.; 20 cm. Original orange and purple wrappers, lettered in orange and white. Thematically arranged, French-Swahili, pp. 2-91, French-English, pp. 93-180, Swahili-French, pp. 182-267, Swahili-English, pp. 269-353.

"...'Basic Vocabulary for language learners' of French-Swahili-English is a collection of useful vocabulary for learners of foreign languages in our society, especially those in schools" (To the Users).

2006c: [IUW] Kamusi ya kitumbatu / Haji Gora Haji. [Zanzibar: H.G. Haji, 2006] (Zanzibar: Express Print. Services) viii, 83 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Dictionary of Kitumbatu dialect, a Swahili countryside dialect of Zanzibar island. This dialect is not listed in Ethnologue under Swahili, but the dialect "Zanzibar" is given along with Kiunguja as an alternate name of the dialect Unguja.

2006d: [IUW] Kamusi ya wanyama kwa picha / J.S. Mdee and J.G. Kiango. Dar es Salaam, Tanzania: Taasisi ya Uchunguzi wa Kiswahili, Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam, 2006. v, 29 p.; 21 cm. A picture dictionary. Original wrappers with color photographs, lettered in red and white. Animal names, Swahili-English with photos of animals, pp. 1-20. Preliminary material in Swahili.

2007: [IUW] My first peak dictionary: fully illustrated. Nairobi: East African Educational Publishers Ltd., c2007. 123 p.: ill.; 25 cm.

2008a: see under ASU.

2008b: [IUW] Dictionnaire des emprunts arabes dans les langues de l'Afrique de l'Ouest et en swahili / Sergio Baldi. Paris: Éditions Karthala, c2008. 617 p.; 24 cm.

2008c: [IUW] The Impact of the Arabic language on standard Swahili: Zanzibar island = Athar al- 'Arabīyah fī al-lughah al-Sāhilīyah (al-Sawāhilīyah) al-fuṣḥā: Jazīrat Zanjibār / Ibrahim Boshah Ahmad Fadl. Khartoum: International Center for African Studies, [2008]. xv, 96 pages; 24 cm. "October 2008." Includes bibliographical references (pages 83-87). In English, Swahili and some Arabic.

2008d: see under BONDEI.

2008e: see under IKIZU.

2008f: see under JITA.

2008g: see under KAHE.

2008h: see under MACHAME.

2008i: see under KIMÎRU.

2008j: see under MOCHI.

2008k: see under SUBA-SIMBITI.

2008l: see under ZIGULA.

2008m: see under ZINZA.

2008n: see under SUMBWA.

2009a: see under GOGO.

2009b: [IUW] English-Kiswahili picture dictionary / K.W. Wamitila. Nairobi, Kenya: Vide-Muwa Publishers Limited, 2009. ©2009. 161 pages; 25 cm. Original pink and white wrappers, lettered in green and black, with color photos on front and rear covers. English-Swahili, pp. 1-161, with color illustrations throughout.

"This detailed dictionary contains an enormous number of clear and well done illustrations. In a number of cases, the dictionary has real pictures of objects for clarity" (from the rear cover)(.

2009c: [IUW] Swahili-suomi-swahili-sanakirja / toimittaneet Anu Abdulla ... [et al.] 2. painos. Second edition. Helsinki: Suomalaisen Kirjallisuuden Seura, 2009. 401 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Original orange and green wrappers, lettered in white and green. Suomalaisen Kirjallisuuden Seuran toimituksia; 865. Swahili-Finnish, pp. 285, Finnish-Swahili, pp. 287-401. Preliminary matter in Finnish.

201-?a: [IUW] A Concise English-Swahili dictionary = Kamusi ya Kiingereza-Kiswahili / I.P. Kiwia, S.V. Mamkwe. Dar es Salaam: XYZ Publishers Ltd, [201-?]. 353 pages; 21 cm. Original red, white and blue wrappers, lettered in white and yellow. English-Swahili, pp. 5-344.

"This dictionary has been compiled purposely to meet the major need of the users, which is to have a dictionary that includes current and commonly used words, and omits any archaic and rare words, which come in voluminous dictionaries" (Foreword).

"More than 150,000 headwords including newly coined words such as vuvuzela, facebook, tweeter and blog" (from rear cover).

201-?b: [IUW] Kamusi ya Kiswahili-Kiingereza = Swahili-English dictionary / compiler and lexicographer Justine H. Bake. Mwanza, Tanzania: Serengeti Educational Publishers (T) Ltd, [201-?]. vi, 105 pages; 21 cm. Original green, red and multicolor wrappers, lettered in white. Cover title: Swahili-English and simplified student companion English-Kiswahili dictionary. Additional compilers on cover: Fred Simiyu Wanjala, Charles Kambale Matayanga. Swahili-English, pp. 1-127.

"[This is] a very important book for guidance prepared specifically for Upper and Lower Primary and Secondary School students respectively. It covers fully a foundation course in English language for classes 3-7 for primary schools and forms a basic terminologies of science, art and commercial subjects... It is hoped that this special book will solve the problem of lack of books of orientation course for form one students in the whole country as well as meeting the needs of other lower and upper classes" (from the rear cover).

2011a: [IUW] Comprehensive Swahili-English dictionary / Mohamed A. Mohamed. Nairobi, Kenya: East African Educational Pub., 2011 xxxii, 891 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Original multi-colored wrappers, lettered in yellow, orange and white. Series: Kamusi kutoka EAEP; 9. Swahili-English, pp. 1-888. Includes bibliographical references (p. 889-891).

"[This dictionary] has more than 60,000 entries covering various fields. These include scientific, political, economic, linguistic and educational domains. The dictionary also contains illustrations and pictures which facilitate a quick understanding of the various headwords" (Preface).

2011b: see under HAYA.

2012a: [IUW] Concise English-Swahili and Swahili-English dictionary / E. Newton. Revised edition. Dar es Salaam, Tanzania: Elena Publisher, 2012. xxi, 200 pages: color illustrations; 22 cm.

2012b: [IUW] Kamusi Asisi ya Kiingereza-Kiswahili-Kiarabu / Abdu Mtajuka Khamisi. Dar es Salaam, Tanzania: Taasisi ya Taaluma za Kiswahili, Chuo Kikuu cha Dar es Salaam, [2012]. ©2012. v, 1042 pages; 25 cm. Original blu, white and yellow wrappers, lettered in white and black. English-Swahili-Arabic, pp. [1]-1042. Includes bibliographical references (page v). Preliminary material in Swahili.

2012c: [IUW] Kamusi la lahaja ya Kimakunduchi. Toleo la 1. Zanzibar: Baraza la Kiswahili la Zanzibar, 2012. xi, 159 p.: col. ill., col. map; 21 cm. Dictionary of Kimakunduchi dialect, a Swahili dialect of the southern part of Zanzibar island. This dialect is not listed in Ethnologue under Swahili, but the dialect "Zanzibar" is given along with Kiunguja as an alternate name of the dialect Unguja.

2012d: [IUW] Kamusi la lahaja ya Kipemba / Baraza la Kiswahili la Zanzibar. Nairobi: Oxford University Press, 2012. xvi, 176 p.: col. ill., col. map; 21 cm. Dictionary of Kipemba dialect, a Swahili dialect of Pemba island. Ethnologue lists Pemba as a dialect of Swahili.

2012e: [IUW] Kamusi la lahaja ya Kitumbatu. Toleo la 1. Zanzibar: Baraza la Kiswahili la Zanzibar, 2012. xii, 153 p.: col. ill., col. map; 21 cm. Dictionary of Kitumbatu dialect, a Swahili dialect of Tumbatu island, off the northern part of Zanzibar island. This dialect is not listed in Ethnologue under Swahili, but the dialect "Zanzibar" is given along with Kiunguja as an alternate name of the dialect Unguja.

2013?: [IUW] Concise trilingual English-French-Kiswahili dictionary / compilers and lexicographers Fred Simiyu Wanjala, Chalres Kambale Matayanga, Justine H. Bake. Mwanza, Tanzania: Serengeti Educational Publishers (T) Ltd, [2013?]. xii, 673 pages; 24 cm.

2013a: see under DHOLUO.

2013b: see under MAKONDE.

2013c: [IUW] Excellent self guide: bilingual dictionary: English-Kiswahili / Sibuur Omeno Sibuur. Nairobi: Sibuur Omeno Sibuur, 2013. 288 pages; 18 cm. Original blue, yellow, white and light blue wrappers, lettered in white, yellow, black and gray. English-Swahili, pp. 9-288.

"This lexicon not only contains the equivalent of Swahili and English words, but also short explanations of abbreviations. It will be understood that the word equivalent is used in a broad sense, as words of one language rarely have an exact equivalent in another" (Preface).

2013d: [IUW] Kamusi kuu ya diplomasia na uhusiano wa kimataifa. Dar es Salaam: Baraza la Kiswahili la Taifa, [2013]. x, 242 pages: illustrations; 21 cm. A Swahili-English dictionary of diplomatic and foreign relations terms.

2013e: [IUW] Longhorn kamusi ya wanafunzi ya Kiswahili-Kiingereza: jifunze Kiswahili kwa Kiingereza / James S. Mdee. Nairobi, Kenya: Longhorn Publishers, 2013. xxii, 313 pages: illustrations; 25 cm.

2015a: see under Kinyarwanda.

2015b: [IUW] Jadida practical English Swahili bilingual dictionary for schools = Kamusi ya kiingereza-Kiswahili kwa shule / edited by Said Rashid Abdullah. Dar es Salaam: Jadida Book House, [2015]. x, 446 pages: color illustrations; 20 cm. Original green, yellow and purple wrappers, lettered in yellow, white, blue, red and black. English-Swahili, pp.1-446.with color illustrations.

"[This dictionary] has been produced for pupils in the upper primary schools in Tanzania and can also be used by pupils in the first year of the secondary schools. It is based on the vocabulary commonly used in school books.... [The] dictionary contains about 3000 entries" (Introduction).

2015c: [IUW] Swahili-norsk ordbok / Issak Esmail Issak. Oslo: Scandinavian Academic Press, [2015]. 309 pages; 21 cm. Original red, brown and black wrappers, lettered in pale yellow. Swahili-Norwegian, pp. [1]-309. Preliminary material in Norwegian.

2017: see under YAO.

[SWAHILI, CONGO] Kingwana is redirected to the general article on Swahili in Wikipedia. Congo Swahili is not treated separately.

Ethnologue: swc. Alternate Names: Zaire Swahili. Kingwana is listed as a dialect of Congo Swahili.

1911: see under BANGALA.

1928: [LILLYbm] Manuel de kingwana: le dialecte occidental de swahili, by John Whitehead & L.F. Whitehead. Wayika, Congo Belge: La Mission de et a Wayika, 1928. Original red cloth over boards lettered in gold. Pp. i-iii iv-x, 1 2-492. First edition. Not in Zaubmüller. Not in Hendrix. Reinecke 104.221 (not seen by compilers). Includes Kingwana-French-English vocabulary, pp. 84-210, a French-Kingwana vocabulary, pp. 211-289, an English-Kingwana vocabulary, pp. 290-381, with additions and corrections to the Kingwana-French-English vocabulary, pp. 429-468, to the French-Kingwana vocabulary, pp. 468-486, and to the English-Kingwana vocabulary, pp. 486-492. With list of previous works consulted on p. [iii]. Preliminary matter in both French and English throughout. Whitehead was also the author of the dictionary of Bobangi published in 1899. With the ownership inscription of G. R. M. Stephens.

"To meet the need at Stanleyville for a small Handbook of the Swahili in local use, the Rev. W. Millman issued in 1917 a Petit vocabulaire de français-english-swahili [not in Zaubmüller]. On their return from England in 1919, the authors of the present book undertook to revise and enlarge Mr. Millman's work...The actual task...was begun in 1922...The present work is the first and unique effort made to grapple with the whole question of the universal Lingua franca Swahili under its lingua franca name Kingwana...A mere glance at the contents of this book will be sufficient to convince anyone of the high possibilities for the most ignorant types of the Congo natives to attain a high degree of culture, for every line and every page has been composed and printed by native boys, trained during the past nine years at Wayika. The issue of the present book is entirely unauthorized, it is issued on the sole responsibility of the authors...They regret the great delay in the production of the book...due not alone to standard missionary duties, but as well to] mental and spiritual struggles due to misconceptions, insinuations, the withdrawal of practical sympathy, the withholding of supplies of paper, etc. and the official refusal to sanction the production of this book" (Preface).

1983: see under SWAHILI.

1984: see under TEMBO.

[SWAZI] The Swazi or Swati language (Swazi: siSwati [siswat'i]) is a Bantu language of the Nguni group spoken in Swaziland and South Africa by the Swazi people. The number of speakers is estimated to be in the region of 3 million. Swazi is an official language of Swaziland (along with English), and is also one of the eleven official languages of South Africa. Although the preferred term is "Swati" among native speakers, in English it is generally referred to as Swazi (WikP).

Ethnologue: (Swati) ssw. Alternate Names: Isiswazi, Ngwane, Phuthi, Siswati, Swazi, Tekela, Tekeza.

1980: [IUW] Siswati/Swazi = iTheminioloji nemisetvo yesispelingi YesiSwati = Swazi orthography terminology and spelling rules = Swazi terminologie, ortografie en spelreëls. Pretoria: The Government Printer = Die Staatsdrukker, 1980. 237 p. 21 cm.

Library binding, preserving original yellow front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. English-Afrikaans-Swazi, pp. 23-237.

"The terms included in the lists are intended in the first place for use in the primary classes and the majority have been taken from the syllabuses concerned" (Foreword).

1981: [LILLYbm] Concise SiSwati Dictionary. SiSwati-English / English-SiSwati, compiled by D[avid] K. Rycroft ("Mkhosi"). Pretoria: J.L. van Schaik, 1981. Original orange and black cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in orange, black and white. Pp. i-vi vii-xxix xxx-xxxii, 1 2-189 190-192. First edition. With the ownership signature of Keith Fenwich. Includes siSwati-English, pp. [1]-111, and English-siSwati, pp. [115]-188. Second copy: [IUW].

"The siSwati language (sometimes called Swazi, from the Zulu form of the name) is a Bantu language of the Nguni group, closely related to Zulu. It is the national language of Swaziland (or kaNgwane) and is widely spoken also in the Eastern Transvaal province of the Republic of South Africa. Since 1968 when Swaziland became an Independent sovereign State, siSwati has steadily been replacing Zulu in education, administration and public life and its use as a written medium has grown rapidly. This dictionary...reflects 'standard siSwati,' based on the so-called 'royal dialect' spoken mainly in and around Mbabane, Lobamba and Manzini" (Introduction).

1983: see under SWAHILI.

1985: [IUW] Learner's English-Swazi dictionary. Alberton, RSA: Librarius; Johannesburg: Thorold's Africana Books [distributor], c1985. 156 p.: col. ill.; 19 cm. Distributor from label on p. 2 of cover. Library binding, preserving original blue, light blue and white front and rear wrappers, lettered in white and green. English-Swazi, pp. 1-156, with color photos as illustrations throughout.

"This across-the-curriculum learner's dictionary was designed to help Junior and Senior Primary pupils to cope with the demands of English, particularly during transition at the Standard 3 and 4 levels" (A note to parents and teachers).

2010: [IUW] Silulu SeSiSwati: English-SiSwati dictionary. Manzini, Swaziland: Macmillan Boleswa, 2010. viii, 452 p.; 21 cm. Original red wrappers, lettered in white and blue. English-Swazi, pp. 1-96, Swazi-English, pp. 115-452.

"We present to the nation this very first dictionary by native speakers of siSwati. It comes after a great work in the domain of siSwati literary works, the first dictionary ever in the language" (Foreword).

2016: [IUW] SiSwati-English dictionary / compiled by M.J. Whelton S.D.B. Mphungane. Fifth edition. Centurion [South Africa]: RedOystor Media (Pty) Ltd in partnership with Print Hub (Pty) Ltd - Swaziland, [2016] ©2016.xiii, 829 pages; 21 cm. "Copyright ©2013"--Title page verso. "Copyright Michael John Whelton 2016"--Page 4 of cover. Includes bibliographical references (pages 824-829).

[SWEDISH] (See under EUROPEAN LANGUAGES: pre-1800 BILINGUAL AND POLYGLOT). Swedish (svenska ['svên:ska] is a North Germanic language from the Indo-European language family, spoken predominantly in Sweden and in parts of Finland. It has at least 10 million native speakers, the fourth most spoken Germanic language and the first among any other of its type in the Nordic countries overall. Swedish, like the other Nordic languages, is a descendant of Old Norse, the common language of the Germanic peoples living in Scandinavia during the Viking Age. It is largely mutually intelligible with Norwegian and Danish, although the degree of mutual intelligibility is dependent on the dialect and accent of the speaker.

Standard Swedish, spoken by most Swedes, is the national language that evolved from the Central Swedish dialects in the 19th century and was well established by the beginning of the 20th century. While distinct regional varieties and rural dialects still exist, the written language is uniform and standardized. Swedish is the most widely spoken second language in Finland where it has status as co-official language. Swedish was long spoken in parts of Estonia, although the current status of the Estonian Swedish speakers is almost extinct. It is also used in the Swedish diaspora, most notably in Oslo, Norway, with more than 50,000 Swedish residents (Wikipedia).

Ethnologue: swe. Alternate Names: Ruotsi. Autonym: Svenska.

[SYRIAC] The Syriac language (/ˈsɪriæk/ SIH-ree-ak; Classical Syriac: ܠܝܬܐܢܐ ܣܘܪܝܝܐ, romanized: Leššānā Suryāyā), also known natively in its spoken form in early Syriac literature as Edessan (Urhāyā), the Mesopotamian language (Nahrāyā) and Aramaic (Aramāyā), is an Eastern Middle Aramaic dialect. Classical Syriac is the academic term used to refer to the dialect's literary usage and standardization, distinguishing it from other Aramaic dialects also known as 'Syriac' or 'Syrian'. In its West-Syriac tradition, Classical Syriac is often known as leššōnō kṭōḇonōyō (lit. 'the written language or the book language') or simply kṭōḇonōyō, or kṭowonōyō,[8][9] while in its East-Syriac tradition, it is known as leššānā ʔatīqā (lit. 'the old language') or saprāyā (lit. 'scribal or literary').

It emerged during the first century AD from a local Eastern Aramaic dialect that was spoken in the ancient region of Osroene, centered in the city of Edessa. During the Early Christian period, it became the main literary language of various Aramaic-speaking Christian communities in the historical region of Ancient Syria and throughout the Near East. As a liturgical language of Syriac Christianity, it gained a prominent role among Eastern Christian communities that used both Eastern Syriac and Western Syriac rites. Following the spread of Syriac Christianity, it also became a liturgical language of eastern Christian communities as far as India and China. It flourished from the 4th to the 8th century, and continued to have an important role during the next centuries, but by the end of the Middle Ages it was gradually reduced to liturgical use, since the role of vernacular language among its native speakers was overtaken by several emerging Neo-Aramaic languages.

Syriac remains the sacred language of Syriac Christianity to this day. It is used as liturgical language of several denominations, like those who follow the East Syriac Rite, including the Assyrian Church of the East, the Ancient Church of the East, the Chaldean Catholic Church, the Syro-Malabar Catholic Church, and the Assyrian Pentecostal Church, and also those who follow the West Syriac Rite, including: Syriac Orthodox Church, the Syriac Catholic Church, the Maronite Catholic Church, the Malankara Mar Thoma Syrian Church, the Malankara Orthodox Syrian Church and the Syro-Malankara Catholic Church (Wikipedia).

Ethnologue does not include Classical Syriac.

1928: [IUW] Lexicon syriacum / Carl Brockelmann. Ed. 2, aucta et emendata. Halis Saxoniæ, Sumptibus M.Niemeyer, 1928. v,vii,930 p. 26 cm.nIssued in parts, 1923-28. "Index compendiorum": p. [i]-vii. Syriac-Latin, Latin-Syriac dictionary.

1963: [IUW] Dictionnaire syriaque-français. Syriac-English dictionary / Louis Costaz. Beyrouth, Impr. catholique [1963]. xxiii, 421 p. 25 cm. Library binding, preserving almost the original ochre cloth lettered in black, including the original printed portions of the spine. Dalby 1503. Syriac-French-English dictionary, pp. [1]-420. Additions and Corrections, p. 421. "Alphabet syriaque. Alphabet chaldéen": slip inserted.

"The second edition of Brockelmann's dictionary, which appeared in 1928 [see above], provides the Syriac scholar with an excellent tool. It is an original work, which takes into account practically all the Syriac texts published thus far ... But unfortunately, beginners or seminary students have no easy access to the treasures of a voluminous work, written in Latin, with a predilection for sibylline abbreviations, and an alphabetical order which often refers to some hidden etymology. The writing of the present concise student's dictionary was undertaken in the hope that it might offer them the essentials as a faithful reflexion of the original work [followed by further acknowledgement of sources]" (Preface in English).

[SYUBA] Kagate [an alternate name for Syuba] is a language from the subgroup of Tibetic languages spoken by the Kagate people primarily in the Ramechhap district of Nepal. An orthography for the language was developed for the publication of the Syuba-Nepali-English dictionary. This orthography is Devanagari-based with modifications to represent the sounds of the Syuba language. There is a varying degree of mutual intelligibility between Syuba and other Kyirong-Yolmo varieties. It is most closely related to the Yolmo language, and more distantly related to other languages in the family. While the languages are similar, Syuba speakers see their language as distinct from Yolmo (WikP).

Ethnologue: syw. Alternate Names: Kagate, Shuba, Shuuba, Shuva, Shuwa, Shyuuba, Syuba Tam, Syuuba, Yholmo, Yholmoli, Yholmu, "Kagate Bhote" (pej.).

Autonym: स्युबा (Syuba).

1903-1927: see Vol. 3, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

T

[TAABWA] Taabwa (Ichitaabwa), or Rungu (Malungu), is a Bantu language of Congo and Zambia spoken by half a million or so people (WikP).

Ethnologue: tap. Alternate Names: Ichitaabwa, Kitabwa, Lungu, Rungu, Taabua, Tabwa, Zabwa.

1907: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire kitabwa-français et français-kitabwa, by August van Acker. Brussels: [Spineux et cie], 1907. Original tan printed paper folder enclosing unbound gatherings. Pp. 1-9 10-170 171-172. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1585. Series: Annales du Musée du Congo. Ethnographie. Série V. Linguistique. Includes Taabwa-French, pp. [15]-75, and French-Taabwa, pp. [77]-170. First dictionary of Taabwa. Second copy: [IUW].

"The first thought of this Dictionary was due to Reverend Father Gustave Debeerst, who founded and served as the first leader of the Mission St.-Jacques at Lusaka (Marungu). Called as his successor (1898), I was charged by my apostolic Vicar Monsignor Roelens with completing this work and delivering it to the printers. If this modest work has any merit, it should be attributed to this scholar and zealous missionary, taken too soon from his beloved mission" (Introduction, tr: BM).

[TABLA] Tanah Merah (Tanahmerah) may refer to either of two Papuan languages: Sumuri language (Trans–New Guinea) or Tabla language (Sentani) (WikP). Ethnologue calls these same two languages Tanahmerah and Tabla. Speakers of Table: 3,750 (1990 UBS).

Ethnologue: tnm. Alternate Names: Jakari, Tabi, Tanah Merah, Tanahmerah. Autonym: Tepera.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TABO] Waia (Waya) or Tabo is a language of the proposed Trans-Fly – Bulaka River family in the Western Province of Papua New Guinea, just north of the Fly River delta. The language has also been known as Hiwi or Hibaradai (WikP).

Ethnologue: knv. Alternate Names: Waya.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TACHAWIT] Shawiya Berber, also spelled Chaouiā (native form: Tacawit [θafawiθ]), is an Afroasiatic language of the Berber branch. It is a variety of the Zenati languages spoken in Algeria by the Shawiya people. The language's primary speech area is the Awras Mountains in eastern Algeria and the surrounding areas, including Batna, Khenchela, Sétif, Oum El Bouaghi, Souk Ahras, Tébessa, and the northern part of Biskra. The Shawiya people call their language Tacawit (Thashawith), which is also known as Numidian Berber (IPA: [θfawiθ] or [hfawiθ]). Estimates of number of speakers range from 1.4 to 3 million speakers. The French spelling of Chaouiā is commonly seen, due to the influence of French conventions on Algeria. Other spellings are "Chaoui", "Shawia", "Tachawit", "Thachawith", "Tachaouith", and "Thchèwith". Shawiya Berber was, until recently, an unwritten language and rarely taught at school. Recently the Shawiya language, together with Kabylean Berber, has begun to achieve some cultural and media prominence thanks to the Berber cultural and political movements in Algeria, and to the introduction of Berber language education in some public schools (WikP).

Ethnologue: shy. Alternate Names: Aurès, Awras, Chaouia, Chawi, Shawia, Shawiya, Tacawit.

1906: [LILLY] Dictionnaire Français-Chaouia, par Le P. G. Huyghe. Alger: Adolphe Jourdan, 1906. viii, 750 p. 21.5 cm. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black, lacking top 4 cm. of spine wrappers. French-Tachawit, pp. [1]-750. Entire text printed by lithography from hand-written manuscript. Includes a substantial preface about the language. First dictionary of the language. From the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ink ownership stamps and ink annotations on title page.

[TABURTA] Taworta, or Diebroud (also Dabra, Bok, Taria), is a Lakes Plain language of Irian Jaya, Indonesia (WikP). Population: 600 (2023). Ethnic population: 600 (2023). As of 2024, Ethnologue prefers the language name Taburta, with Taworta as an alternate.

Ethnologue: tbp. Alternate Names: Bok, Dabra, Diebroud, Taria, Taworta, Taworta-Aero.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TACHELHIT] Shilha /'ʃilħə/ is a Berber language native to Shilha people. It is spoken by around 4 million people in western Morocco. The endonym is Tašlḥiyt /taʃlħijt/, and in recent English publications the language is often rendered Tashelhiyt or Tashelhit. In Moroccan Arabic the language is called Šəlḥa, from which the alternative English name Shilha is derived. In French sources the language is called tachelhit, chelha or chleuh. Shilha is spoken in an area covering c. 100,000 square kilometres, comprising the western part of the High Atlas Mountains and the regions to the south up to the Draa River, including the Anti-Atlas and the alluvial basin of the Sous River. The largest urban centres in the area are the coastal city of Agadir (population over 400,000) and the towns of Guelmim, Taroudannt, Oulad Teima, Tiznit and Ouarzazate. Shilha possesses a distinct and substantial literary tradition that can be traced back several centuries before the colonial era. Many texts, written in Arabic script and dating from the late 16th century to the present, are preserved in manuscripts. A modern printed literature in Shilha has developed since the 1970s (WikP).

Ethnologue: shi. Alternate Names: Shilha, Soussiya, Southern Shilha, Susiya, Tachilhit, Tashelheyt, Tashelhit, Tashilheet, Tashlhiyt, Tasoussit.

1899: [LILLY] Handbuch des Schilhischen von Tazerwalt: Grammatik-Lesestücke-Gespräche-Glossar, von Dr. Hans Stumme, Privatdozenten an der Universität Leipzig. Leipzig: J. C. Hinrichs'sche Buchhandlung, 1899. v, 249 p.; 22 cm. First edition. Contemporary blue-gray cloth over boards, with red leather label on spine, lettered in gold. [Shila/Tachelhit]-German, pp. [155]-246. Includes preliminary material in German tracing the origin and sources of the Handbook in some detail.

1907: [LILLY] Dictionnaire français-tachelh'it et tamazir't (dialectes berbères du Maroc), by S. Cid Kaoui, Officier interprète de 1^{re} classe. Paris, E. Leroux, 1907. Original green wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [8] 1-5 6-248 249-250. First edition. Zaunmüller 30. Hendrix 346. Includes French-Tachelhit/Tamazight, pp. [23]-248. Appears to be first dictionary of this Berber dialect.

1920: [IUW] Étude sur la tachelhît du Soûs, I. Vocabulaire français-berbère, by Edmond Destaing. Paris, Imprimerie nationale, 1920. xii, [2], 300 p. Contemporary red quarter-leather binding with five raised bands, lettered in gold, and black marbled paper, preserving the original tan front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. Paris. École des langues orientales vivantes. Bibliothèque, v.7. French-Berbère [Tachelhit], pp. [1]-300. This copy with the stamp of the École des langues orientales vivantes on the title page. Destaing was also the author of Dictionnaire Français-Berbère (Dialecte des Beni-Snous) in 1914. This dialect is that spoken in Algeria.

"The words that comprise the present vocabulary are those of approximately twenty tribes living in the mountains in north-east Ilir (Iliy)...We have only indicated the most common words.... It goes without saying that the Dictionnaire français-tachelhit et tamazir't Cid Kaoui, and the Manuel by M. H. Stumme (Handbuch des Schilhischen von Tazerwalt) [see both above] have been of great service to us" (Note, tr: BM).

Second edition 1938: [LILLYbm] Étude sur la Tachelit du Soûs: vocabulaire Français-Berbère, by E[dmund] Destaing [1872-1940]. Paris: Ernest Leroux, 1938. Original brown wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. Pp. [2] I-V VI-XII XIII-XIV, 1 2-300 301-304. Second edition, Series: Bibliothèque de l'École des langues orientales vivantes, 7. Zaunmüller, col. 29. Although there is no indication in this edition, the work was first published in 1920 in Paris by the Imprimerie Nationale (see above). Includes French-Tachelhit, pp. [1]-300.

1954: [LILLYbm] Diccionario español-baamarani (dialecto bereber de Ifni), by Esteban Ibañez. Madrid: Consejo Superior de Investigaciones Científicas, Instituto de Estudios Africanos, 1954. Contemporary full brown leather over boards, spine with raised bands and green label lettered in gold. Pp. [2] I-IX X-XXXV XXXVI, 1 2-335 336-342. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 29. Hendrix 365. Includes Spanish-Baamarani [Tachelhit], pp. [1]-335. This dictionary is of the dialect spoken on the coast of Morocco. This copy with the blind embossed bookplate on the title page of David Alexander Griffin Griffin [1919-], author of Los mozarabismos del "Vocabulista" atribuido a Ramon Marti, based on his thesis at the University of Chicago and published in Madrid in 1961.

2000: [IUW] Tashuruhito goishu / Horiuchi Rika. Tōkyō: Tōkyō Gaikokugo Daigaku Ajia Afurika Gengo Bunka Kenkyūjo, 2000. 260, [36] leaves of plates: ill., port., map; 26 cm. Added title page: Lexique Tachelhit-Japonais, dialecte berbère du Sud-ouest marocain. Library binding, preserving original white wrappers, lettered in black. Asian & African lexicon 36. Tachelhit-Japanese, pp. 59-217, Japanese-Tachelhit index, pp. 218-256. Includes bibliographical references (p. 260).

2001: [IUW] Vocabulaire usuel du tachelhit: tachelhit-français / Abdellah Bounfour, Abdallah Bounmalk. 1. éd. Rabat: Centre Tarik ibn Zyad, 2001. 248 p.; 23 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered in black, with a color photo of buildings through a decorative window on front cover. Tachelhit-French, pp. 1-221, French-Tachelhit index, pp. [225]-248. Includes bibliographical references.

"The goal of this dictionary is at least two-fold. First of all, it serves as a tool for beginning students of Tachelhit. There are indeed many others dictionaries, already out of print and in need of revision since the language and its speakers have evolved. It is also a modest sign of a movement now a decade old in Morocco and elsewhere that is still without a name or structure. This movement is interested in what is commonly called the standardization of the language. A very complex process, which is entered upon here with the greatest of prudence on a very practical level" (from the rear cover: tr: BM).

[TADO] Tado, a language of Central Sulawesi, Indonesia, is considered by some a dialect of Moma. Ethnologue considers it a separate language, but notes its close similarity to Moma. WikP redirects Tado to Moma.

Ethnologue: klw. Alternate Names: Lindoe, Lindu, Linduan. Autonym: Tado.

1939: see under KOLA.

[TAE'] Tae' is a language spoken in Tana Luwu (Land of Luwu). It is an Austronesian language of Sulawesi, Indonesia, and one of the languages of the ten tribes that inhabit Tana Luwu, South Sulawesi. The Tae' language is used by most of the inhabitants of the four districts of Tana Luwu: Luwu, North Luwu, Luwu Timur, and Palopo town. Tae' is part of the South Sulawesi group of languages, related to Toraja, Mandar, Massenrengpulu, and Mamuju. Tae' is used as a lingua franca from south of the border with Buriko Kabupaten Wajo to Malili East Luwu regency, as well as in Tana Toraja and Massenrempulu. Tae' is a dialect cluster consisting of 12 ethnic dialects used by the people who were in the area of Tana Toraja. Since Islam as the official religion in official United Luwu, Luwu Government has made Buginese the language of introduction and Tae' is the language in everyday situations (WikP).

Ethnologue: rob. Alternate Names: East Toraja, Luwu', Luwu-Rongkong, Rongkong, Rongkong-Luwu, Tae' Tae', Taeq, "Toala", Toraja Timur, Toware.

1940: [LILLYbm] Tae' (Zuid-Toradjasch)-Nederlandsch Woordenboek met Register Nederlandsch-Tae', by H. Van der Veen. 's-Gravenhage: Martinus Nijhoff, 1940. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black (lacks rear wrapper). Pp. I-V VI-XXIII XXIV, [2] 1 2-930 931-932. First edition. Not in Zaubmüller. Dalby 1559. Includes Tae'-Dutch, pp. [1]-768, Dutch-Tae' index, pp. [769]-924, with additions and corrections to the Dutsch-Tae' index, pp. [927]-930.). Second copy: LILLYbm: this copy misbound by the publisher; it duplicates the first gathering of the book and lacks an initial gathering of the Tae-Dutch dictionary, starting on p. 17 with the Tae word "ampoe" and continues through p. 786.

"The first dictionary to appear in this Sulawesi dialect, before a grammar had been published." (bookseller's description: Smitskamp).

[TAFI] The Nyangbo-Tafi language is spoken in the Volta Region of Ghana. It is considered one of the Ghana–Togo Mountain languages of the Kwa family. It consists of two distinct varieties which Ethnologue treats as separate languages, Nyangbo (Tutrugbu) and Tafi (Tegbo). The differences are reported to be only phonological (WikP).

Ethnologue: tcd. Alternate Names: Tegbo.

1952: see 1952b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TAGALOG] Tagalog (/tə'ɡɑ:lɒɡ/; Tagalog pronunciation: [tə'ɡa:lɒɡ]) is an Austronesian language spoken as a first language by a quarter of the population of the Philippines and as a second language by the majority. Its standardized form, officially named Filipino, is officially the national language, along with English. It is related to other Philippine languages, such as the Bikol languages, Ilocano, the Visayan languages, Kapampangan and Pangasinan, and more distantly to other Austronesian languages, such as the Formosan languages, Indonesian and Malay, Hawaiian, Malagasy and Māori....

The first substantial dictionary of Tagalog language was written by the Czech Jesuit missionary Pablo Clain in the beginning of the 18th century. Clain spoke Tagalog and used it actively in several of his books. He wrote the first dictionary, which he later passed over to Francisco Jansens and José Hernandez. Further compilation of his substantial work was prepared by P. Juan de Noceda and P. Pedro de Sanlucar and published as Vocabulario de la Lengua Tagala in Manila in 1754 and then repeatedly reedited, with the last edition being in 2013 in Manila (WikP). Population: 76,500,000 in Philippines, all users. L1 users: 22,500,000 in Philippines (2010 census). L2 users: 54,000,000 (2020). Ethnic population: 28,300,000 (2020 census). Total users in all countries: 83,357,970 (as L1: 29,211,970; as L2: 54,146,000).

Ethnologue: tgl. Alternate Names: Wikang Tagalog. Autonym: Tagalog.

1754 [1954]: [IUW] Bicentenary celebration of the publication of Vocabulario de la Lengua Tagala by Juan de Noceda and Pedro de Sanlucar. Manila: Bibliographical Society of the Philippines, 1954. 1 volume (unpaged); 23 cm. At head of title: Souvenir program. "Nov. 19-Dec. 4, 1954."

1803: [LILLY] Ueber die tagalische sprache, by Franz Carl Alter [1749-1804]. Vienna: Gedruckt bei J.T. Edl. v. Trattner, 1803. x, [11]-80 p. 18 cm. Contemporary (original?) gray-blue wrappers, unprinted. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes earliest vocabulary of Tagalog in German. The earliest Tagalog-English dictionary appears to be that of Charles Nigg, published in Manila in 1904 (but see 1903 below).

1848: see under AUSTRONESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1860: [LILLY] Vocabulario de la lengua Tagala, compuesto por varios religiosos doctos y graves ... por varios religiosos de la Orden de Agustinos calzados, by Juan de Noceda & Pedro de Saniucar. Manila: Ramirez y Giraudier, 1860. Folio, pp. [18], 642; text in double columns, contemporary limp vellum; hinges split, pastedowns torn, pencil marks throughout preliminaries, occasional light worming through the text, owner's signature and ex-Libreria de Colon stamp on title page. An Ayer Linguistics duplicate, with their label on rear pastedown, and release stamp on flyleaf. The first incomplete vocabulary of Tagalog was published in 1613. It was later enlarged by Noceda and Sanlucar, with their first revised edition appearing in 1754 and undergoing repeated revisions up to 2013. This is the third edition under their editorship. The Biblioteca Filipina describes this dictionary as "difficult to find, because the book is valued like gold by those who have it." Biblioteca Filipina 1825, Palau 192021.

1883: [LILLY] Vocabulario Tagalo-Castellano, by D. E. Fernandez. Manila: Esteban Balbas, 1883. First edition, 16mo, pp. 118, [2]; paper wrappers; spine chipped, one inch closed tear at the top of upper joint, a few pages creased at the bottom corner, small stain to fore-edge, in a custom stiff library folder. An Ayer Linguistics duplicate with release stamp on verso of the title page. Subsequent editions appeared in 1890, 1893 and 1894. Tagalog-Spanish, pp. [3]-64, Tagalog-Spanish verbs, pp. 76-84. Includes Tagalog-Spanish phrases, pp. 85-118. No preliminary material.

1889-1914: [IUW] Diccionario hispano-tagalog por Serrano Laktaw ... Manila, 1889-1914. v. 21 cm. 2 vols. IUW has vol. 2 only of first edition: Diccionario tagalog-hispano (1914). Tagalog-Spanish, pp. [1]-1392.

1965: Facimile edition Diccionario hispano-tagalog, by Pedro Serrano Laktaw. Madrid, Ediciones Cultura Hispánica, 1965. 2 v. in 3. facsim. 20 cm. Facsim. of 1889-1914 ed. Vol. 2 has title: Diccionario tagalog-hispano. 1. Hispano-tagalog. 2. Tagalog-hispano.

1903?: [IUW] A Tagalog-English dictionary, by P.D. Neilson. Manila, P.I.: American Book and News Co., [1903 entered in ink]. 68, iv p.; 15 cm. Library binding. "Copyright applied for" on title page. Tagalog-English, pp. [7]-68. No preliminary material.

1903: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary of the [Native] Plant Names of the Philippine Islands, by Elmer D[rew] Merrill. Manila: Bureau of public printing, 1903.

Contemporary brown half-leather and green cloth over boards, red leather label on spine, lettered in gold, raised bands. Pp. 3-193 (lacking title page and interleaved throughout with blank leaves). Series: Philippine Islands. Bureau of government laboratories. [Publications] no. 8, 1903.

"The present paper enumerates about 5,000 plants names used by the natives of the Philippines, and has been compiled chiefly from the publications of the various Spanish botanists who have worked on the flora of the Archipelago.... By far the greater number of names in the present enumeration are those of the Tagalog language, while of many of the dialects spoken in the Archipelago not a single plant name has ever been recorded... Most of the names recorded here are from perhaps 12 or 15 of the 70 or 80 dialects spoken by the various peoples of the Archipelago... Previously but two attempts have been made to compile any extensive lists of the plant names used by the natives of the Archipelago. The first was Vigil's 'Diccionario,' a pamphlet of 50 pages published in the year 1879, which enumerates about 2,400 names... The second list is that given by Vidal in Appendix II to his 'Sinopsis,' where he enumerates about 1,800 names of tree species, giving the generic identifications only" (Introduction). This copy with the ownership stamp of O.W. Pflueger, with his extensive annotations, both manuscript and typed. Literally scores of additional plant names (both scientific and native terms) have been added. Otto Wilhelm Pflueger was the author of Elementary forest measurements, Mont Alto, Pa., 1940.

1904: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1934-1938: see under AUSTRONESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT

1940: A Tagalog-English vocabulary, Institute of National Language (Philippines). Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1940. Original gray-blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. [4] 12-180 181-182. First edition. Includes Tagalog-English, pp. 35-180.

"The present work is an abridged Tagalog-English dictionary, almost a vocabulary. Its publication seeks to fulfill one of the major provisions of the organic law creating the Institute of National Language, that is, the publication of a dictionary of the Tagalog language" (Preface).

1944: [LILLYbm] Tagalog. The basis of the national language of the Philippines. [Cover title] A guide to the Tagalog dialect in the Philippines. Brisbane: H. Pole & Co., 1944. Original brown stapled wrappers, lettered in black and shaded white. Pp. 1-5 6-51. First edition. United States. Army. 14th Anti-Aircraft command. Information and education section. Includes thematically arranged word lists, pp. 4-51. With a cartoon of a paratrooper parachuting down with an umbrella as he reads the Tagalog book.

ca. 1947: [LILLYbm] (Draft) Tesaurong Ingles-Tagalog, by Consuelo Torres Panganiban, Jose Ma. Panganiban, & Jose Villa Panganiban. S.l: n. p., n.d. [ca. 1947]. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [2] 12-388 [2]. First edition. A-G only. Not in Zaunmüller. Cf. Dalby 1508-1509. English-Tagalog only. This is probably the early draft version referred to in the government dictionary published in 1960 (see below), which states: "Begun in 1947, this dictionary, still in draft form, went through several revisions...".

1948: [LILLYbm] Pocket Dictionary Tagalog-English / English-Tagalog by Andrea Amor Tablan. Manila: Abiva Publishing House, 1948. Original wrappers. 208 pp. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller.

1949: [LILLYbm] Pocket Dictionary. Talatingang Pambulsa. English-Tagalog Tagalog-English Vocabulary, by P[ablo] Jacobo Enriquez & Maria Odulio Guzman. Manila: Philippine Book Company, [1949]. Original orange, green and white wrappers, lettered and decorated in black, white, and orange. Pp. [6] 1-170 171-174. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Second copy: [IUW].

"The authors have compiled in this dictionary around 16,000 most common English words [most commonly used by students of the elementary and secondary schools] based on fundamental word lists compiled by educators from well-known universities in the United States like New York, Oxford, Columbia, and Chicago, with additions taken from dictionaries of Serrano-Laktaw, Eusebio T. Daluz [Filipino-English vocabulary: with practical example of Filipino and English grammars, Manila: [s.n.], 1915] and Sofronio Calderon [Tagalog-English vocabulary and manual of conversation, 4th ed. Manila, 1947], as well as those taken from the Institute of National Language vocabulary" (Preface).

1953: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1954-1955: [LILLYbm] Publications of the Institute of National Language, Nos. 1-9. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954-55. Not in Zaunmüller. A set of specialized English-Tagalog vocabularies as follow:

No. 1: Vocabulary lists for teaching various subjects in the Filipino languages, by R[ufino] Alejandro, T[eodora] A. Agoncillo, & P. R. Glorioso. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-12. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 1. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog vocabulary on various school subjects, including biology and math, pp. 7-12. "This bulletin contains vocabulary lists for teaching various subjects in the Filipino language. Many of the terms in these lists have not perhaps been translated before... [T]he equivalents in the Filipino language of the terms in English are merely suggestive and are therefore to be regarded as tentative" (Foreword).

No.2: Economic and allied terms (Mga katawagáng pangkabuhayan at mga kauri), by V[ito] C. Santos and others. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-23 24. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 2. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog economic terms, pp. 5-23. Foreword similar to first volume in series.

No. 3: Legal terms (Mga katawangang pambatas), by P[onciano] B. P[eralta] Pineda and others. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-31 32. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 3. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog legal terms, pp. 5-31. Foreword similar to first volume in series.

No. 4: Parliamentary terms and usages (Mga katawagan at pananalitang gamit sa kapulungan), by P[onciano] B. P[eralta] Pineda and others. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-16. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 4. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog parliamentary terms, pp. 5-16. Foreword similar to first volume in series.

No. 5: Arithmetical and geometrical terms (Mga katawagang pang-aritmetika at pangheometriya), by V[ito] C. Santos and others. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-11 12. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 5. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog arithmetical and geometrical terms, pp. 5-11. Foreword similar to first volume in series.

No. 6: Geographical terms (Mga katawagang pangheograpiya), by V[ito] C. Santos and others. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-10 [2]. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 6. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog geographical terms, pp. 5-10. Foreword similar to first volume in series.

No. 7: Traffic signs and terms (Mga babala at katawagang pantrapiko), by V[ito] C. Santos and others. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-7 8. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 7. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog traffic signs and terms, pp. 5-7. Foreword similar to first volume in series.

No. 8: Mga katawagan sa pagsasaka (farming terms), by P[onciano] B. P[eralta] Pineda. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1954. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-12. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 8. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Tagalog farming terms, pp. 5-16.

No. 9: Vocabulary of identical Tagalog and Ilocano words with identical meanings translated into English, by Catalino D. Garduque. Manila: Bureau of Printing, 1955. Original green wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-23 24. First edition. Publications of the Institute of National Language, Paper No. 9. Not in Zaunmüller. This copy with pencilled note on title page: "from Rufus Alejandro | [illegible initials] | 20-1-56". Alejandro was Secretary and Executive Office of the Institute of National Languages and the author of the first vocabulary in this series. Includes Tagalog-Ilocano-English vocabulary, pp. 5-23. "This vocabulary was prepared...to disprove the contentions of some school men and women that the Filipino Language had been adopted from 'Tagalog alone', and as such, it is a 'foreign language to Ilocanos'.... When an Ilocano child enters grade one, he practically does not know a word of English. In contrast to this situation, he has a ready vocabulary of around 575 Filipino Language words, a fact which the child and perhaps the teachers do not know. The 575 words in this vocabulary prove the truth. This list is not conclusive. There are some more words" (letter printed as foreword).

1958: [IUW] English-Tagalog vocabulary, by José Villa Panganiban. Manila, [University Publishing Co.] Distributed by University Book Supply, 1958. Copyright 1946. 170 p. Original reddish-brown cloth over boards, lettered on spine in silver. Cf.

Dalby 1509. English-Tagalog, pp. 1-143. Second copy: [LILLYmk], in original yellow wrappers lettered in black, 21.5 cm., with a loosely inserted t.l.s from "Jim" Macrie to Allen Read regarding the author's visit to America, with a detailed vita including a list of the author's publications, and an a.l.s from the author to Allen Read presenting a copy of the book and requesting his assistance in lexicographical research.

"Only one driving motive has impelled the author to prepare this English-Tagalog Vocabulary: the imperative need of such a book in the schools, among teachers and students, among translators, and among foreigners interested in the study of the national language. There have been many dictionaries and vocabularies published before... Most of these books are now out of print.... Thus at this time, we have not a single vocabulary available for the use of those who have any activity in connection with the national language. This is the need that this little book tries to fill. The original of this vocabulary contained 26,000 English entries with probably around 82,000 Tagalog equivalents, but the publishers wanted an edition for students and one that could be priced within the pocketbook of everyone. Thus, the author was commissioned to abridge the original into around 6,000 most common English words" (Preface).

1959: [IUW] Tagal'sko-russkiĭ slovar'. Sostavili Manuël' Krus i S.P. Ignashev. Okolo 20 000 slov. S prilozheniem kratkogo ocherka grammatiki tagal'skogo ĭazyka. Moskva, Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsional'nykh slovareĭ, 1959. 387 p. 17 cm. Original blue and gray cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Added t.p.: Tagalog-rusong talatinigan. Tagalog-Russian, pp. 11-323.

1960: [LILLYbm] An English-Tagalog Dictionary. Manila: Institute of National Language, Republic of the Philippines, Bureau of Printing, 1960. Original red cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. 412 pp. First edition. Bibliography, p. [xvii]. "Begun in 1947, this dictionary, still in draft form, went through several revisions both as to word and phrase entries and as to their meanings... This dictionary is a trial edition." The dictionary was evidently compiled by the Institute of National Language under government directive. The language became the official language of The Philippines in 1962, and its name was changed to Pilipino.

1961: [LILLYbm] Pilipino-English English-Pilipino Dictionary, compiled by Andrea A. Tablan & Carmen B. Mallari. New York: Washington Square Press, Inc., 1961. Original stiff red, white and blue wrappers, lettered in yellow, black and blue. Pp. i-iv v-xvii xviii, 1 2-213 214-222. First edition. Includes Pilipino-English, pp. 3-60, and English-Pilipino, pp. 63-213. Second copy: [IUW].

"For students, teachers, laymen, professionals and foreigners. Words and terminologies that are pure, derived, colloquial or slang. Modern, to the point" (from the title page). Mass paperback dictionary.

1965: [IUW] Russko-tagal'skiĭ slovar': Okolo 23 000 slov / Sostavili Manuzl' Krus i Sergeĭ Ignashev. Moskva: Sovetskaĭa ěnsiklopediĭa, 1965 760 p.; 18 cm. Original green cloth over boards, letted in yellow and blue. In Cyrillic characters. Added t.p.: Talatinigang ruso-tagalog. Russian-Tagalog, pp. [27]-746.

1966: [LILLY] An English-Tagalog and Tagalog-English dictionary, by Mariá Odulio de Guzmán. Manila: G.O.T. 1966. xxxix, 668, xl-xlix p. 17 cm. Original black, red and yellow wrappers, lettered in black and white. Revised edition, first printing, November 1966. Numbered and signed by the author. The first edition was issued in May of 1966. Includes English-Tagalog, pp. 4-402, and Tagalog-English, pp. 405-668.

1971a: [IUW] A lexicographic study of Tayabas Tagalog of Quezon Province / by E. Arsenio Manuel. Quezon City: Diliman Review, 1971 vii, 420 p.; 23 cm. Library binding. Vocabulary, Tayabas Tagalog-Tagalog- English, pp. 17-420. Includes bibliographical references. Ethnologue lists Tayabas as a dialect of Tagalog.

1971b: [LILLYbm] Tagalog Dictionary, by Teresita V. Ramos. Honolulu: University of Hawaii Press, 1971. Original blue-green wrappers, lettered in white, shades of green and gray. Pp. i-vii viii-xliii xliv, 1 2-330. First edition. "This dictionary is a compilation of about 4,000 Tagalog roots, affixes, stems... and a few compounds and idioms" (Introduction). "The work reported herein was performed pursuant to a contract with the Peace Corps" (verso of title page). Second copy: [IUW].

1977 [1995]: [IUW] English-Tagalog dictionary / by Leo James English. [Manila?]: Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer, 1977 (1995 printing). 1211 pages; 22 cm. Original orange and red wrappers, lettered in black, orange and white. Dalby 1507. English-Tagalog, pp. [1]-1211. "Twenty-First printing in the Philippines."

1985: [LILLYbm] Pilipino-English / English-Pilipino Concise Dictionary by Sam & Angelina Bickford. New York: Hippocrene Books, 1985. 389 p. 16 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered in red and black, with a color photo of man in boat on front cover.

1986 [1996]: [IUW] Tagalog-English dictionary / by Leo James English. [Manila?]: Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer; Philippines: Distributed by National Book Store, c1986, Twelfth Printing in the Philippines, 1996. 1583 p.; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving the original green front and rear wrappers, lettered in gold. Dalby 1506: "A comprehensive modern dictionary with numerous phrases and example sentences." Tagalog-English, pp. 1-1583.

"This is a Tagalog-English Dictionary compiled by Father Leo James English, C.Ss.R. and his assistants. The work took almost eighteen years. It now becomes the companion volume to his English-Tagalog Dictionary compiled several years ago" (reprinted Preface to the First Edition, 1986).

"The response to the first edition of the Tagalog-English Dictionary has fully justified the faith of my Redemptorist colleagues and other supporters of the Dictionary in Manila. The first of 5,000 hard-cover copies became available late in October 1986. Four months later the entire edition had been all but disposed of, either through advance subscriptions or private distribution within the Philippines. Almost half of the edition was donated to schools and teachers in the Philippines through the generosity of the Australian Embassy in Manila [and others]" (reprinted Preface to the Second Edition, 1987).

1994: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1997: [LILLYbm] Dictionary English-Tagalog (Pilipino), compiled & edited by Ricardo Benedikto. New Delhi: Star Publications, 1997. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in white; d.j. orange, black, pale orange and white, lettered and decorated in black, white, red, and gold. Pp. 1-8 9-287 288. First edition. Includes English-Tagalog only.

"According to an estimate about 10 million people speak and write this language. Though originated from an area called LUZON near Manila (Philippines), this language is today spoken and written by a large number of people settled in United States, Canada, Europe and almost the whole of Philippines. Tagalog is a part of Malayo-Polynesians family of languages, and is strongly influenced by Spanish language because of Spanish domination in Philippines for about 300 years" (Publisher's Note).

1998: [IUW] Pilipino (Tagalog) phrasebook / Violetta Lorenzana. 2nd ed. Hawthorn, Vic, Australia; Oakland, CA: Lonely Planet Publications, 1998. 235 p.: ill.; 14 cm. Library binding, preserving original red and yellow front and rear wrappers, lettered in white and orange, with a color photo of an overly-decorated car on front cover. English-Pilipino [Tagalog], pp. 155-191, Pilipino [Tagalog]-English, pp. 193-228. Intended for tourists.

2002: [IUW] Tagalog-English, English-Tagalog dictionary = Pilipino-Inggles, Inggles-Pilipino Taláhuluganang / compiled by Carl R. Galvez Rubino with the assistance of Maria Gracia Tan Llenado. Rev. and expanded ed. New York: Hippocrene Books, 2002. 461 p.; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 431-433).

2017: [IUW] Concise Tagalog dictionary: Tagalog-English; English-Tagalog / Joi Barrios, Nenita Pambid Domingo and Romulo Baquiran, Jr.; with assistance by Teresita Raval, Agnes Magtoto and Maria Cora Larobis; research assistant: Ryann Kitchell. Singapore: Tuttle, [2017]. li, 556 pages; 16 cm. Original red, white and gray wrappers, lettered in black, red and white, with photo of young woman on front cover. Tagalog-English, pp. [1]-268, English-Tagalog, pp. [269]-556. Includes bibliographical references (pages xlvii-li).

"The Tuttle Concise Tagalog Dictionary gives you the most complete and up-to-date translations from English to Tagalog/Filipino and is the most current dictionary available today. Designed primarily for English speakers, it can also be used by Tagalog speakers who are learning English" (from rear cover).

[TAGARGRENT] Ouargli, or Teggargrent (also Twargrit, Təggəngusit), is a Zenati Berber language. It is spoken in the oases of Ouargla (Wargrən) and N'Goussa (Ingusa) in Algeria. As of 1987, Ouargli had no more than 10,000 speakers. Ethnologue estimated only 5,000 speakers as of 1995. There are some differences between the dialects of Ouargla (Təggargrənt) and N'Goussa (Təggəngusit), notably in the position of pronominal clitics; within Ouargla, there are minor differences between the three tribes At-Brahim, At-Sisin and At-Waggin. Speakers from Ouargla regard the varieties of Ouargla, N'Goussa, Tugurt/Temacine and Tumzabt/Mozabite, and possibly other Zenati varieties, as dialects of a single language they call Twargrit. [The] lexicon [of Tagargrent] is fairly extensively documented in Delheure's (1987) dictionary [see below] (WikP).

Ethnologue: oua. Alternate Names: Ouargla, Ouargli, Wargla.

1987: [IUW] Agerraw n iwalen: teggargrent-tarūmit = Dictionnaire ouargli-français / Jean Delheure. Paris: SELAF: Published avec le concours du Centre national de la recherche scientifique, 1987. ix, 493 p.: map; 24 cm. Original yellow wrappers, lettered in brown, and decorated in re and brown. Etudes ethno-linguistiques Maghreb-Sahara, 5. Ouargli [Targargrent]-French, pp. [15]-429, French-Ouargli [Targargrent] index, pp. [431]-493. First dictionary of the language.

"This is the first dictionary dealing with the Berber language spoken at Ouargla and Ngoussa, two oases in the north of the Algerian Sahara. It is intended primarily for the Berber-speaking people of those two oases, as well as for their neighbors in the Mzab region and at the Righ wadi; but it is also meant for the other Berber-speaking people of the Maghreb. These will be made aware one more of the basic unity of their tongue, notwithstanding dialectal and regional variants" (English abstract).

[TAGBANWA] Aborlan Tagbanwa is spoken on Palawan Island in the Philippines. It is not mutually intelligible with the other languages of the Tagbanwa people (WikP).

Ethnologue: tbw. Alternate Names: Aborlan Tagbanwa, Apurawnon, Tagbanua.

1904: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1971: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TAGBANWA, CALAMIAN] Calamian Tagbanwa is spoken on Palawan Island in the Philippines. It is not mutually intelligible with the other languages of the Tagbanwa people (WikP).

Ethnologue: tbk. Alternate Names: Kalamianon, "Unggoy" (pej.).

1971: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TAGIN] Tagin (Tagen), also known as West Dafla, and Bangni (incl. Na) [is] a Sino-Tibetan language spoken in India. Stuart Blackburn states that the 350 speakers of Mra have "always been, wrongly, subsumed under the administrative label of Tagin." It is not clear if Mra is therefore a distinct dialect of Bangni-Tagin, or a different Tani language altogether (WikP).

Ethnologue: tgj. Alternate Names: Nil.

1983: [LILLY] An outline on Tagin language, by Kamalesh Das Gupta [1923-]. Shillong: Directorate of Research, Govt. of Arunachal Pradesh, 1983. 8, 60 p.; 23 cm. Original pink and white wrappers, lettered in black. First edition. Includes English-Tagin glossary, pp. [21]-54.

[TAHITIAN] Tahitian (autonym Reo Tahiti, part of Reo Mā'ohi, languages of French Polynesia) is a Polynesian language, spoken mainly in the Society Islands in French Polynesia. It belongs to the Eastern Polynesian group. Tahitian was first transcribed from the oral spoken language into writing by missionaries of the London Missionary Society in the early 19th century. When Europeans first arrived in Tahiti at the end of the 18th century, there was no writing system and Tahitian was only a spoken language. In 1797, Protestant missionaries arrived in Tahiti on a British ship called Duff, captained by James Wilson. Among the missionaries was Henry Nott (1774–1844) who learned the Tahitian language and worked with Pōmare II, a Tahitian king, to translate the English Bible into Tahitian. A system of 5 vowels and 9 consonants was adopted for the Tahitian Bible which would become the key text by which many Polynesians would learn to read and write (WikP).

Ethnologue: tah. Alternate Names: Reo Tahiti.

1771: [LILLY] A journal of a voyage round the world, in His Majesty's ship Endeavour, in the years 1768, 1769, 1770, and 1771; undertaken in pursuit of natural knowledge, at the desire of the Royal Society: containing all the various occurrences of the voyage, with descriptions of several new discovered countries in the southern hemisphere; and accounts of their soil and productions; and of many singularities in the structure, apparel, customs, manners, policy, manufactures, &c., of their inhabitants. To which is added, a concise vocabulary of Otahitee ... London: Printed for T. Becket and P.A. De Hondt, 1771. [2], ii, 130, [3] pages; (4to). From the library of J. K. Lilly. First edition, first issue with the "Address to the Lords of the Admiralty, and to Mr. Banks and Dr. Solander" which was suppressed in later issues. Bound in contemporary boards with leather spine. References Sabin, 16242. "A Concise Vocabulary of the Language of Otahitee," English-Otahitee [Tahitian], pp. [131-133].

1772: [LILLY] A voyage round the world: performed by order of His most Christian Majesty, in the years 1766, 1767, 1768, and 1769. By Lewis de Bougainville ... commodore of the expedition, in the frigate La Boudeuse, and the store-ship L'Etoile. Tr. from the French by John Reinhold Forster, F. A. S. London: Printed for J. Nourse [etc.], 1772. xxviii, 476 pages: folded plates, 5 folded maps; 26 x 21 cm. "Vocabulary of the Language of T Ai Ti Island," Tahitian-English, pp. [470]-476.

"First English edition; first published in Paris in 1771: Voyage autour du monde. - First official French circumnavigation of the world. Louis Antoine Bougainville gives an account of the discovery, occupation and natural history of the Falkland Islands, which he handed over to Spain. He describes in detail the expulsion of the Jesuits of Paraguay, his visits to Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo and Patagonia in South America, the Tuamotu Archipelago, Tahiti (a vocabulary of Tahiti is added), the Samoa Islands, the New Hebrides, the Solomon, Luisiada, and New Britain archipelago, the Moluccas, etc. are described....The translator was John Reinhold Forster, the naturalist who accompanied Cook on his second voyage" (bookseller's description: Gert Jan Bestebeurtje).

1773a: [LILLY] Journal d'un voyage autour du monde, en 1768, 1769, 1770, 1771: contenant les divers événemens du voyage ... traduit de l'anglois, par M. de Fréville. A Paris: Chez Saillant & Nyon, 1773. 288 pages; 17 cm (12mo). Bound in mottled sheep. From the library of Bernardo Mendel.

1773b: [LILLY] Voyage autour du monde, par le frégate du roi la Boudeuse, et la flûte l'Étoile, en 1766, 1767, 1768 & 1769, Louis Antoine de Bougainville. Nouv. ed. augm. Neuchatel: Société Thypographique, 1773. 2 volumes in 1; 17 cm (12mo). From the library of Bernardo Mendel. Preface signed: de Bougainville.

1797: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1823: [LILLY] [John Davies] A grammar of the Tahitian dialect of the Polynesian language. Tahiti: printed at the Mission Press, Burder's Point, 1823.

1843: [LILLYbm] Aperçu de la langue des îles Marquises et de la langue taitienne, précédé d'une introduction sur l'histoire et la géographie de l'archipel des Marquises, accompagné d'un vocabulaire inédit de la langue taïtienne par le baron Guillaume de Humboldt, by J[ohann] Ch. Éd[uard] Buschmann [1805-1880]. Berlin: C.G. Luderitz, 1843. Contemporary brown half-leather and gray paper over boards; blue paper label with manuscript abbreviated title in ink. Top ½ inch of spine missing. Title page torn and remounted with loss of last two letters in Aperçu and a few letters from place of publication (Berlin) and publisher's address. Ex-library with small stamps. Pp. 1-3 4-197 198-200. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 374. Earliest vocabulary of Tahitian listed in Zaunmüller. Wolf 838. Includes Marquesan-French vocabulary, pp. [69]-79, French-Marquesan, pp. [81]-89, (earliest vocabulary of Marquesan, along with Mosblech) Tahitian-French, pp. 102-140, an appendix of Tahitian-French vocabulary from Humboldt, as indicated on title page, pp. 140-149, and a comparative table of over a dozen Malay languages, pp. 152-165.

"My Marquesan vocabulary is based on a manuscript vocabulary by Johann Reinhold Forster in the Royal Library in Berlin... The small collection of words Forster published in his 'Observations' is only a extract, and another extract was offered by Captain Cook in the report of his second voyage. These extracts were reproduced in the large vocabulary ... edited by Pallas, and in the polyglot works of Hervas and Marsden. To Forster's vocabulary I have added the fine collection of words found in Marchand's voyage... The work of Mr. John Williams on the Polynesian missions formed a small supplement to my collection... After Forster and Marchand a vocabulary of M. de Langsdorff forms an important part of my Marquesan vocabulary [taken from Bemerkungen auf einer Reise um die Welt in den Jahren 1803 bis 1807] (Vocabulaire Marquesan, pp. 62-64, tr: BM).

1846: see under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1851: [LILLYbm] A Tahitian and English Dictionary, with introductory remarks on the Polynesian language, and a short grammar of the Tahitian dialect: with an appendix containing a list of foreign words used in the Tahitian Bible, in commerce, etc. with the sources from whence they have been derived, [by Herbert John Davies]. Tahiti: printed at the London Missionary Society's press, 1851. vi, 314 p. + 7 p. appendix. 21.5 cm. Original tan wrappers, printed and decorated in black, preserved in later quarter black leather over marbled boards. pp. [2], vi, 40, 314, 7. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 374; Trübner Catalogue, p. 153; not in the Astor Catalogue; not in Vancil; not in Collison, Dictionaries of English and Foreign Languages (Rulon-Miller). Tahitian-English, pp. [1]-314; appendix "containing a list of foreign words used in the Tahitian Bible, in commerce, etc., with the sources from when they have been derived," pp. [1]-5 (second pagination); errata, pp. [6]-7 (second pagination). Reissued several times in the second half of the twentieth century, including a 1978 AMS reprint. With an inscription: "A monsieur le gouverneur Julien Sourein" dated Papeete, 16 July, 1918, and three pages of loosely inserted notes in an unknown hand.

This is "the first Tahitian-English dictionary, the first such book of its kind printed in Tahiti, and only the third dictionary printed in the Pacific.... The compiler, John Davies, was a pioneer missionary in the Pacific, and he had compiled a grammar of Tahitian which was printed on the mission's press in 1823 [see above]" (bookseller's description: Horden House).

"Although work on a dictionary had begun when the first missionaries visited Tahiti at the end of the 18th century, there existed no agreement on an orthography of the Tahitian language. Under the leadership of the missionary and linguist John Davies (1772-1855) this matter was finally resolved and the dictionary was completed in 1839, though not published until 1851. Davies's attempt at a grammar of Tahitian, which had been published earlier, is also included in the present publication. Interestingly enough, it is estimated that more than half of the almost 10,000 words present in this dictionary are unknown to modern speakers of Tahitian. Because of this the dictionary is an almost incomparable resource for information on daily life in Tahiti in the early 19th century 'when institutions, techniques, knowledge, literature and religion were still those of the classical Tahitian culture. In each page of the book one may come across an evocation of a ceremony, a feast or a dance, or ships and navigation, or a simple artifact used for fishing or cooking, or a plant or a fish still unidentified' (Lemaître: "Review", in: The journal of the Polynesian Society XCVI, no. 2, pp. 256-258)" (bookseller's description of another copy: Asher Rare Books).

1978: Reprinted [IUW] A Tahitian and English dictionary: with introductory remarks on the Polynesian language and a short grammar of the Tahitian dialect: with an appendix containing a list of foreign words used in the Tahitian Bible, in commerce, etc., with the sources from whence they have been derived [by John Davies]. New York: AMS Press, [1978] vi, 314, 7 p.; 23 cm. Reprint of the 1851 ed. printed at the London Missionary Society's Press, Tahiti.

1861: [LILLYbm] Grammaire et dictionnaire de la langue maori; dialecte tahitien, by [Tepano Jaussen]. [Saint-Germaine; Saint-Cloud]: Impr. de L. Toinon et Ce; Impr. De Mme Ve Belin], [1861]. Contemporary unlettered brown quarter-cloth and brown marbled paper over boards. Pp. i-iii iv v, [vocabulaire français-tahitien] 5 6-56, [dictionnaire abrégé tahitien-français] 1 2-96, 1 2-78. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. The present copy contains the complete dictionary, but does not include the separately-paginated 115 page dual-language printing (French-Tahitian) of the Book of Mark.

"We owe a great of the Tahitian-French dictionary to the works of Mm. Carré, Noury, Orsmond; above all to the excellent Tahitian-English dictionary published in Tahiti by the press of the Society of London [Davies, 1851], and to the Tahitian-French dictionary that Mr. Ribourt sent to us in 1850. The French-Tahitian dictionary is our work. We had hoped to attach to these essays the story of Tobias and the Maccabees. But unforeseen circumstances have forced us to take the story of Joseph and the Book of Mark... This book is in no way a speculative venture. Anyone who publishes for such a small audience will always lose money. But it is time the schools and our compatriots had a work of this type" (Author's note, tr: BM).

1898: Second edition [LILLYbm] Grammaire et dictionnaire de la langue maori; dialecte tahitien, by Tepano Jaussen. Paris: Neia i te nenei raa no Belin, 1898. Original heavily worn blue cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. 1-5 6-388. Although not identified as such, this is the second edition, with a substantially enlarged dictionary. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Tahitian-French, pp. 83-172, and French-Tahitian, pp. [175]-381, double-columned. In addition to an illegible ownership signature and the date "September 1899" in ink on the flyleaf, this copy bears an inscription from Eug. Amiot dated 22 August 1931, at Uturoa on the island of Raiatea in the Society Islands, presenting the book to "our friend Bill," and with the bookplate of William Emil Belanske. Belanske was an artist who accompanied William K. Vanderbilt on three expeditions, including the "Alva" World Expedition of 1931-1932. His watercolors of tropical fish made from live specimens caught on the cruise of 1926 were published in: To Galapagos on the Ara ([New York], 1927). The originals of these as well as those executed in 1931-32 are in the permanent collection of American Museum of Natural History.

1969: Fifth edition [IUW] Grammaire & dictionnaire de la langue tahitienne, by Tepano Jaussen. 5. éd. / rev. par Mgr Mazé et H. Coppenrath. Paris: Musée de l'homme, 1969. 336 p.; 25 cm. Publications de la Société des océanistes; no. 22. Previous editions published under title: Grammaire et dictionnaire de la langue maorie, dialecte tahitien.

1919: [LILLY] A new grammar of the Tahitian dialect of the Polynesian language, together with brief reading exercises, by Ernest G. Rossiter. Papeete, Tahiti, 1919. 2 p. l., 290, [4] p. [errata], one typed page inserted at end. 17.1 cm. Original cloth, lettered and ruled in black. This copy with the presentation inscription of J. Frank Stimson as the "author", revised and corrected throughout in his hand (see Rossiter's Preface: "We feel that this work may be fully relied upon as we have been fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. J. Frank Stimson, formerly of Yale University, whose technical studies of the Tahitian, as well as of other Polynesian Dialects, have been of great assistance in completing the present grammar"). With numerous short Tahitian-English vocabularies throughout. The recipient was James Lyle Young, an Irishman who was born in 1849. He went to Australia in the mid-1850s. From 1870 to 1876, he worked on Fiji and Samoa. In May 1876, he came to Ebon to trade for Thomas Farrell. In November 1877, he went to Majuro as a trader. At the end of 1879, he moved to Jaluit to become business manager for Capelle & Co., Young travelled throughout Micronesia by ship. In October, 1881, he quit working for Capelle and went to Tahiti as manager of a company. Later he became owner of Henderson & Macfarlanes of Auckland. He died in 1929 in Canberra. [information from internet].

1923: [LILLYbm] A vocabulary of English - French - Tahitian, with explanatory remarks on Tahitian dialect, by J[ohn] Frank Stimson [1883-], Orovini, Papeete, Tahiti: Published by O.B. Peterson for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 1924. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in orange. Pp. [26] 1 2-60 61-70. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. O'Reilly & Reitman 5776. This copy with the bookplate of Burton M. Doolittle and the ink inscription "Papeete, | June 1925". Includes thematically arranged English-French-Tahitian lists, pp. [1]-60, and errata, pp. [61-62]. With a manuscript list of thirty-one Tahitian names with English meanings in two columns on p. [63] and a few further manuscript additions on p. [65].

"This Vocabulary...is written for the purpose of assisting...those who are desirous of acquiring a working knowledge of the Tahitian language in the shortest possible time....This is not a dictionary, and consequently no effort has been made to give lengthy definitions, or to list the words in any particular way so as to find them readily; but it is a vocabulary and a lesson book, and the idea of the author has been largely to group the words according to their relationship or parts of speech" (Preface).

1930: [LILLYbm] A New grammar of the Tahitian dialect of the Polynesian language, and combined with a vocabulary of English, French, Tahitian, Second Edition, arranged and published by Geo. W. Burbidge for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. [n.p.], 1930. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-5 6-334. Second edition. Includes English-French-Tahitian vocabularies, pp. [267]-334, arranged in 64 "lessons."

"Due to the great need of a good reliable Grammar with which to enable English speaking people to acquire a knowledge of Tahitian, Ernest C. Rossiter, in 1919, published, 'The Tahitian Grammar'. This publication was followed later by a vocabulary of English, French, and Tahitian, published by O. B. Peterson, in 1924. The supply of these two books has become exhausted; therefore, with a few slight corrections and alterations, we have combined them in this book" (Preface).

1938: [LILLYbm] [Cover title] Grammaire Tahitienne suivie d'un vocabulaire pratique, by Marcel Sénac. With woodcut illustrations by Roger Parry. Toulouse: Imprimerie Régionale, n.d. [c. 1938]. Original gray wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. First edition. Series: Bibliothèque d'Études Polynésiennes. Not in Zaubmüller. Printed dedication to André Gide. Includes a thematically-arranged French-Tahitian vocabulary, pp. [89]-127.

"It is the quasi-impossibility of finding the classic grammar of M. Tepano Jaussen, which appeared in 1898 and has long since disappeared from commerce, which has led us to publish this work today. Thus we hope to spare tourists, future colonists, sailors, and French of French-speaking functionaries, the difficulties we have had" (Introduction, tr: BM).

1944: [LILLYbm] A comparative dictionary of the Tahitian language: Tahitian-English with an English-Tahitian finding list, by Edmund Andrews [1892-1941] & Irene [Geene] D[wen] Andrews [1892-]. Chicago: Chicago Academy of Sciences, 1944. Original yellow wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. i-iv v-xvi, 1-253 254-256. 24.5 cm. First edition. Special publication, Chicago Academy of Sciences, no. 6. Reproduced from type-written copy. Zaubmüller, col. 373. Includes Tahitian-English, pp. 1-195, and English-Tahitian, pp. 197-253. Andrews was surgeon whose grandfather was one of the founders and first secretary of the Chicago Academy of Sciences. He and his wife compiled this dictionary while in Tahiti. Second copy: [IUW].

"This work is not the product of the authors' knowledge but of their desire to learn the Tahitian languages. It was the result of our months in Tahiti without any available dictionary....It is indeed anomalous that there is not today available any dictionary of the language which is spoke in the capital of French Oceania. Previous works, first of Bounty fame, later by the Protestant Missions, and finally the authoritative one of Msgr. Jaussen are utterly unobtainable now. The only copy of any of them in America of which the authors have knowledge is one of the latter in the Library of Congress. One can buy today in Tahiti a 'Tahitian Grammar' published by the Mormon Church. This volume unfortunately was never completed by its author, and was brought out, we have heard, without his consent from the half finished manuscript. There is no alphabetically arranged vocabulary...and the diacritical marks are scattered through it in a reckless, haphazard manner.... [A]s an aid to learning the languages...one soon realizes its total uselessness. Thus, it is that the lingua franca of the South Seas is without even a word list.... One of us was interested in the unusual medical vocabulary of the race and the other in the remarkably poetic legends.... If the work proves too top-heavy with words bearing in those fields, it is therefore quite natural. for other shortcomings we can only repeat the famous excuse of Dr. Johnson, when questioned by a lady regarding an error in his Dictionary: 'Pure ignorance, Madame.'" (Preface).

1958: [LILLYbm] Tahitian-English English-Tahitian Dictionary, compiled by Leonard Clairmont in collaboration with Mauu Ariiteuira Teriitahi. North Hollywood, CA: Edward Dew, n.d. [1958]. a-d, 1-55 + 10 photos. 17.6 cm. Original tan and dark brown illustrated wrappers, lettered in brown. First edition. Introduction dated Papeete, Tahiti, 1958. Tahitian-English, pp. 1-20, English-Tahitian, pp. 21-53. Second copy: IUW, library binding.

"This unpretentious book is by no means a complete dictionary to the Tahitian language, but is intended merely to serve as a guide to the traveller, or the casual student."

n.d.: Second edition, revised [LILLYbm] Tahitian-English English-Tahitian Dictionary, compiled by Leonard Clairmont in collaboration with Mauu Ariiteuira Teriitahi. Hollywood, CA: Leonard Clairmont, n.d. [1960's]. Original tan and dark brown illustrated wrappers, lettered in brown. 68 pp., ill.

n.d.: Third edition, revised, [LILLYbm] Say It In Tahitian. Tahitian-English English-Tahitian Dictionary. Useful Phrases and Conversation. Third Edition Revised, compiled by Leonard Clairmont in collaboration with Mauu Ariiteuira Teriitahi. Los Angeles: Tahiti Musique, n.d. Original illustrated wrappers (sailboat and island), lettered in yellow, light blue and black, with advertisements for Tahiti Records, Papeete, Tahiti on the rear cover. Pp. [2] 1 2-69 70. Third edition, revised. Includes "Tahiti Hit Parade" list with illustrations of record covers, pp. 68-[70] and rear cover, with address "P.O. Box 478, Papeete, Tahiti."

1959: [IUW] Introduction à la langue tahitienne: grammaire, vocabulaire usuel, conversation / Charles Vernier. [Nouv. éd. refondue et augmentée]. Paris: Besson & Chantemerle, 1959. 162 p.; 14 cm. Library binding. First ed. published in 1934 under title: Grammaire de la langue tahitienne. Classified vocabulary, French-Tahitian, pp. 123-142.

1964: [LILLY] A revised study guide and dictionary: the Tahitian dialect of the Polynesian language, by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Papeete: Arranged and published by Thomas R. Stone for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 1964. 203 p. 28 cm. Original blue cloth, lettered in yellow.

"[This book] represents a revision and enlargement of the original 'Study Guide and Dictionary,' published in 1958, and should be considered as an introduction to the more comprehensive 'Tahitian Grammar and vocabulary' first published by the church in 1930 [see above]" (from the Preface).

1970: [IUW] Conversational Tahitian; an introduction to the Tahitian language of French Polynesia [by] D. T. Tryon. Berkeley, University of California Press, 1970. xiv, 177 p. 23 cm. Original beige cloth over boards, spine lettered in gold on black stamped panel. Glossary, Tahitian-English, pp. [148]-173/

1973a: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire moderne tahitien-français et français-tahitien, by Mai-Arii Cadousteau & Jacques Anisson de Perron. Papeete (Tahiti): Stepolde, 1973. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-11 12-366 367-368. First edition. Includes Tahitian-French, pp. [11]-113, and French-Tahitian, pp. [117]-366.

"The present dictionary, while not pretending to be exhaustive, nevertheless contains almost all words utilized in present-day Tahitian. Although words which have fallen out of use have been rigorously omitted, a certain number of older terms have been retained because they remain of historic interest or occur frequently in the Tahitian Bible, upon which most linguistic exercises in Tahitian are still based" (Introduction, tr: BM).

1973b: [LILLYbm] Lexique du tahitien contemporain: tahitien-français, français-tahitien, by Yves Lemaitre. Pref. de A. G. Haudricourt. Paris: Office de la recherche scientifique et technique outremer, 1973. Original orange cloth over boards, lettered in green: dust jacket orange, black and white, lettered in black and orange. Pp. 1-9 10-201 202 + 9 blank leaves. First edition. Includes Tahitian-French, pp. [29]-139, and French-Tahitian, pp. [141]-201.

"The Tahitian dictionary offered us by Yves Lemaitre is the first dictionary in which Tahitian is correctly noted. In the recent reediting of Jaussen's dictionary [this may refer to the dictionary published in 1973 in Tahiti by Mai-Arii Cadousteau & Jacques Anisson de Perron, see above], the length of the vowels is not noted except for certain disyllabic words" (Preface). "This dictionary attempts to respond to a double demand: to present what is indeed a limited vocabulary, but one which is actually in use today, and to present this vocabulary in a coherent and precise transcription (phonetic)" (Introduction, tr: BM).

1979: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2002: [LILLY] English-Tahitian / Tahitian-English Dictionary. Fa'atoro Parau Marite/Peretane – Tahiti / Tahiti – Marite/Peretane, by Sven Wahlroos (Taote Tivini). Honolulu: The Ma'ohi Heritage Press, 2001. First edition. xxvi, 684 p. 28 cm. Original white paper over boards, lettered in black and red, with flags in full color on front cover. and color photo of author on rear cover; white d. j. with identical text, flags and photo. English-Tahitian, pp. 3-549, Tahitian-English, pp. 553-684. This is a presentation copy from the author with a long inscription in Tahitian on the front free endpaper.

"This dictionary is ... both a legacy (which took 37 years to complete) and a pure work of love. Dr. Wahlroos has refused all royalties or other financial gains connected with the Dictionary—all proceeds will go to republication and, if possible, to lowering the price of the book for Tahitian churches (steadfast guardians of the Tahitian language) and Tahitian cultural organizations" (from the rear cover).

"Any observant visitor to Tahiti will soon notice that the Tahitian languages... is in danger. Not only is the language contaminated by French, but many Tahitians speak exclusively French... with their children.... You can easily test the tragic consequences of this most regrettable policy by saying 'Iaorana! ('Hello!') to a Tahitian Child. The odds are 99 to 1 that the child, even on the outer islands, will answer you with a 'Bon jour'" (Preface).

"A truly useful and reasonably complete English-Tahitian/Tahitian-English dictionary with frequent examples of how words are used in phrases has not been published before. I hope that this dictionary will fill the void" (Introduction).

[TAI LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT] The Tai or Zhuang–Tai languages (Thai: ภาษาไทย or ภาษาไต, transliteration: phāśāthay or phāśātay) are a branch of the Tai–Kadai language family. The Tai languages include the most widely spoken of the Tai–Kadai languages, including standard Thai or Siamese, the national language of Thailand; Lao or Laotian, the national language of Laos; Burma's Shan language; and Zhuang, a major language in the southern Chinese province of Guangxi (WikP).

1923: [IUW] The Tai race, elder brother of the Chinese: results of experience, exploration and research of William Clifton Dodd, D.D. / Compiled and edited by his wife. Cedar Rapids, Iowa: Torch, 1923. xxi, [2], 353 p.: ill.; 23 cm. Original dark green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Comparative Tai vocabulary: English-Siamese-Laos of Yun including Kün and Lü-Western Shan or Ngio of Burma-Tai Nüa of Muang Baw Yünnan-Tai Dam of Tongking-Tai Li Yünnan-Tai Nam or Water Tai of Yünnan-Tai To of Tongking-Tai Yoi of Kwanguan Yünnan-To-jen of Nanningfu Kwangsi-Pu Tai of Yünnan-Chin Tai on the Yangtze, pp. xiv-xxi. Includes bibliographical references.

"The present treatise is... the pioneer in treatment of a large part of the Tai field and people, viz., those outside of Siam, and of the Tai Race as a whole" (Foreword).

1994: [LILLYbm] William J. Gedney's Southwestern Tai Dialects: Glossaries, Texts, and Translations, edited by Thomas John Hudak. Ann Arbor, Michigan: The University of Michigan, Center for South and Southeast Asian Studies, 1994. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. i-vi vii-xviii, 1-2 3-1117 1118. First edition. Series: Michigan Papers on South and Southeast Asia, no. 42. Includes White Tai-English, pp. 9-137, Black Tai-English, pp. 167-322, Red Tai I-English, pp. 327-436, Red Tai II-English, pp. 441-507, Red Tai III-English, pp. 513-596, Hsi Paw Shan-English, pp. 601-705, Tai Maaw Shan-English, pp. 763-770, Che Fang Shan-English, pp. 781-828, Muong Khawn Shan-English, pp. 833-871, Keng Tung Shan-English, pp. 877-974, Klang Muong Khuen-English, pp. 981-1020, Baan Veng Khuen-English, pp. 1025-1055, Yong-English, pp. 1061-1100.

"White Tai is found in the extreme north-western part of Vietnam... White Tai speakers call themselves and their language tay don because of the white blouses worn by the women.... One of the most comprehensive dictionaries is Diêu and Donaldson [(White) Tai-Vietnamese-English vocabulary, Saigon, 1971].... The chief center of Black Tai is at Son La in northwestern Vietnam and to the south of the White Tai speaking area... A large group of speakers live in the state of Iowa in the United States.... Scholars generally attribute the name of the group to the fact that the women wear distinctive black blouses or because the group has resided in the area of the Black River... Red Tai is located in northwest Vietnam to the south of the White Tai and Black Tai areas... Some speakers claim that the Red Tai originally came from a town called Red town... Shan is the general term for the language spoken at the western end of the Southwestern Tai dialect continuum.... Shan is often divided into Southern Shan, Shan spoken primarily in Burma, and Northern Shan, those dialects spoken around the Burma-China border. Northern Shan is also referred to as Chinese Shan (see the dialects from Che Fang, Tai Maaw, and Muong Khawn). Dialects of both Southern and Northern Shan are often indicated by place names, as in His Paw Shan. The origin of the term Shan is obscure, although it is thought to be a variant of the same word as 'Siam'." (from the introductions to the various glossaries).

[TAI DÓN] ai Dón, also known as Tai Khao or White Tai, is a Tai language of northern Vietnam, Laos and China (WikP).

Ethnologue: twh. Alternate Names: Tai Blanc, Tai Kao, Tai Lai, Táy Khao, Thái Trắng, White Tai.

1940: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire tay blanc français avec transcription latine, by Georges Minot, in: Bulletin de l'École Française d'Extrême-Orient, Vol. XL, fasc. 1, Hanoi, 1940, pp. [1]-237 238-240. Includes White Thai [White Hmong]-French only, pp. 11-237. The dictionary makes up the entire issue. Minot published a French-White Thai [White Hmong] dictionary, together with an elementary grammar, in 1949. White Hmong belongs to the Tai group of languages. From the library of Carleton T. Hodge. Second copy: [IUW].

"One is accustomed to say that the Thai language is a poor one, and easy to learn...But its poverty must not be exaggerated. If, at times, it reveals itself as insufficient to translate modern ideas or describe the things that we have imported and of which the Tai knew nothing not many years ago, it is on the contrary in its common use both very complete and quite precise" (Foreword, tr: BM).

[TAI NÜA] Tai Nüa (Tai Nüa) (also called Tai Nuaa, Dehong Dai, or Chinese Shan; own name: Tai2 Lə6, which means "upper Tai" or "northern Tai", or [tai tau xon]; Chinese: Dǎinǎyǔ 傣哪语 or Déhóng Dǎiyǔ 德宏傣语; pronounced [pʰā:sǎ: tʰāj nǎa] or ภาษาไทตอง, pronounced [pʰā:sǎ: tʰāj tāj.kʰōŋ]) is one of the languages spoken by the Dai people in China, especially in the Dehong Dai and Jingpo Autonomous Prefecture in the southwest of Yunnan province. It is closely related to the other Tai languages. Speakers of this language across the border in Myanmar are known as Shan. It should not be confused with Tai Lü (Xishuangbanna Dai). There are also Tai Nüa speakers in Thailand (WikP).

Ethnologue: tdd. Alternate Names: Chinese Shan, Chinese Tai, Dai Kong, Dai Na, Dai Nuea, Daide, Dehong, Dehong Dai, Shan, Tai Dehong, Tai Le, Tai Mao, Tai Neua, Tai nō, Tai Nü, Tai Nue, Tai taü, Tai-Kong, Tai-Le, Yunannese Shan, Yunnan Shant'ou.

1998: [LILLYbm] A dictionary of Dehong, Southwest China, by Yongxian Luo [1954-]. Canberra: Pacific Linguistics, 1998. Original gray-green wrappers, lettered and decorated in black and white. Pp. [2] i-vi vii-xl, 1-298 299-302 with linguistic map. First edition. Series: Pacific linguistics, Series C, 145. Includes Dehong-English, pp. 1-252, and an English-Dehong finderlist, pp. 253-298. First English dictionary of this language. Second copy: [IUW].

"Dehong Tai, also referred to as Chinese Shan, is the language of a minority group in the western part of Yunnan Province in the Sino-Burmese border area of Southwest China. ... Dehong Tai has a distinctive Indic-based script, recently reformed by the Chinese authorities.... The dialect under consideration is spoken in Mangshi [and]... is chosen as representative of Dehong Tai by Chinese linguists on account of its homogeneity. The text of the dictionary is compiled from the following sources: 'A Dehong Tai-Chinese lexicon' (MS, prepared by the Central Institute of Nationalities, Beijing, 1984), A comparative lexicon of the Zhuang-Dong (Kam-Tai) languages (compiled by the Fifth Research Group, Language Research Centre, Central Institute of Nationalities, 1985) and A Chinese Dehong Tai dictionary (Meng & Fang, 1991)" (Introduction).

[TAIKAT] Taikat (Tajkat) or Arso is a Papuan language of Indonesian Papua (WikP). Population: 500 (Wurm 2000).

Ethnologue: aos. Alternate Names: Abrab, Abrap, Arso, Tajkat.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT

[TAINAE] Tainae is an Angan language of Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: ago. Alternate Names: Ivori.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TAÍNO] Taíno is a language historically spoken by the Taíno people of the Caribbean. At the time of Spanish colonization, it was the principal language throughout the Caribbean. Classic Taíno (Taíno proper) was the native language of the northern Leeward Islands, Puerto Rico, the Turks and Caicos Islands, and most of Hispaniola, and was expanding into Cuba. Ciboney is essentially unattested, but colonial sources suggest it was a dialect of Taíno. It was the language of westernmost Hispaniola, the Bahamas, Jamaica, and most of Cuba. By the late 15th century, Taíno/Ciboney had displaced earlier languages except for western Cuba and pockets in Hispaniola. Taíno declined after Spanish colonization began with the language being displaced by Spanish and other European languages. The language continued to be spoken in isolated pockets in the Caribbean until the late 19th century. As the first native language encountered by Europeans in the New World, it was a major source of new words borrowed into European languages (WikP).

Ethnologue: tnq. Alternate Names: Taino.

1879: [LILLY] Du parler des hommes et du parler des femmes dans la langue caraïbe, by Lucien Adam [1833-1918]. Paris: Maisonneuve, 1879. 32 p. 22 cm. Original brown wrappers, lettered in black, front cover detached. Includes a 41-word list of Taino, an ancient language of Cuba, compared with various dialects of Carib, pp. 31-32.

1992: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Gaztambide taíno-español/español-taíno, by Carlos Gaztambide Arrillaga. Puerto Rico, U.S.A.: C. Gaztambide Arrillaga, 1992. xiii, 109 p.; 21 cm. Series: Serie Gaztambide Arrillaga de historia y lingüística;; t. 23; Variation: Gaztambide Arrillaga, Carlos.; 1914-; Serie Gaztambide Arrillaga de historia y lingüística;; t. 23. Original illustrated colored wrappers. First edition.

2010: [IUW] Voces de bohío: vocabulario de la cultura taína / Rafael García Bidó. Santo Domingo: Archivo General de la Nación, 2010. 155 p.: ill.; 23 cm. Original pale brown wrappers, lettered in brown. Colección Cuadernos populares (Archivo General de la Nación (Dominican Republic)); 3. Taino-Spanish, pp. 11-145. Includes bibliographical references (p. 147-148). With introduction discussing the vocabulary based on historical and cultural material.

[TAIRUMA] Tairuma, also known as Uaripi after its location, is a Trans–New Guinea language of Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: uar. Alternate Names: Kerema, Tairuma'a, Uaripi.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TAJIK] Tajik or Tajiki (Tajik: забони тоҷикӣ, [za'bɒni tɔdʒi'ki], also called Tajiki Persian (Tajik: форсии тоҷикӣ, [fɔr'siji tɔdʒi'ki])) is the variety of Persian spoken in Tajikistan and Uzbekistan. It is closely related to Dari Persian. Since the beginning of the twentieth century, Tajik has been considered by a number of writers and researchers to be a variety of Persian (Halimov 1974: 30–31, Oafforov 1979: 33). The popularity of this conception of Tajik as a variety of Persian was such that, during the period in which Tajik intellectuals were trying to establish Tajik as a language separate from Persian, Sadriddin Ayni, who was a prominent intellectual and educator, had to make a statement that Tajik was not a bastardized dialect of Persian. The issue of whether Tajik and Persian are to be considered two dialects of a single language or two discrete languages has political sides to it (see Perry 1996). Today Tajik is recognized as a West-Iranian language. Tajik is the official language of Tajikistan. In Afghanistan (where Tajiks make up a large part of the population), this language is less influenced by Turkic languages, is called Dari, and has co-official language status. Tajik has diverged from Persian as spoken in Afghanistan and Iran due to political borders, geographical isolation, the standardization process, and the influence of Russian and neighboring Turkic languages. The standard language is based on the northwestern dialects of Tajik (region of old major city of Samarqand), which have been somewhat influenced by the neighboring Uzbek language as a result of geographical proximity. Tajik also retains numerous archaic elements in its vocabulary, pronunciation, and grammar that have been lost elsewhere in the Persophone world, in part due to its relative isolation in the mountains of Central Asia (WikP).

Ethnologue: tgk. Alternate Names: Tadjhik, Tajiki, Tajiki Persian, "Galcha" (pej.). Autonym: тоҷикӣ (Tojiki).

1949: [IUW] Russko-tadzhikskii slovar' / pod red. A.P. Dekhota i N.N. Ershova. Moskva: Gos. izd-vo, 1949. Moskva: Gos. izd-vo, 1949. 800 pages Added t.p. in Tajik.

1954: [LILLYbm] Tadzhiksko-russkii slovar: 40 000 slov, edited by E[vgenii] E[duardovich] Bertels. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsionalnykh slovarei, 1954. Original black cloth over boards, lettered and decorate in gold. Pp. 1-7 8-789 790-792. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 373. Tajik-Russian, pp. [15]-521. From the library of Carleton T. Hodge.

1957: [IUW] Russko-tadzhikskii slovar'. 14,000 slov. Sostavili D. Arzumanov i Kh.K. Karimov. Pod red. M.F. Fazylova. Moskva, Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsional'nykh slovarei, 1957. 630 p. 18 cm. Added t.p. in Tajik. Russian-Tajik dictionary.

1991: Second edition [IUW] Russko-tadzhikskii slovar': 25,000 slov i vyrazhenii' / S.D. Arzumanov, Kh.K. Karimov; pod redaktsiei Shamsi Sobora. Izd. 2., s izmeneniami i dopolneniami. Dushanbe: Maorif, -1991. v.; 21 cm. Russian-Tajik dictionary. First edition published in 1957.

1981: [IUW] *Russko-tadzhikskii slovar': 20,000 slov i vyrazhenii' / sostaviteli S.D. Arzumanov i Kh.K. Karimov; pod redaktsiei Khabiba Akhroni. Dushanbe: Izd-vo "Maorif," 1981. 693 p.; 21 cm. Title on added t.p.: Lughati rusi-tojikī. Russian-Tajik dictionary.*

1982: [IUW] Tadzhiksko-russkii dialektnyi slovar': Ūgo-Vostochnyi Tadzhikistan / A.Z. Rozenfel'd. Leningrad: Izd-vo Leningradskogo universiteta, 1982. 239 p.; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Tajik-Russian dialect dictionary.

1985: [IUW] *Russko-tadzhikskii slovar': svyshe 72,000 slov / pod redaktsiei M.S. Asimova; [avtory S.D. Arzumanov ... et al.]. Moskva: "Russkii iazyk", 1985. 1280 p.; 27 cm. Title on added t.p.: Lughati rusi-tojikī. Bibliography: p. 19. Russian-Tajik dictionary.*

1990a: [IUW] Farhangi ash"ori Rūdakī / Amon Nurov. Dushanbe: Maorif, 1990. 368 p.; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [11]). Early Persian and Tajik dictionary. Rūdakī was active in the 10th century.

1990b: [IUW] Russko-tadzhikskii tematiceskii frazeologicheskii slovar' / Samokrutova L.V., Mirsalimov P.K. Dushanbe: "Maorif", 1990. 45 p.; 14 cm. Authorized for instructional purposes. Russian-Tajik thematic terms and phrases.

1995: see 1995b under UZBEK.

2005: [IUW] Farhangi anglisī-tojikī: bo rohnamon vozhaḡoni tojikī / Parvona Jamshedov, Tolibi Rozī (Sharipov). Dunshanbe: Chopkhonai "Paīvand", 2005. 1202 p.; 22 cm. Added title page: English-Tajik dictionary: with tajik terms indexes. Includes bibliographical references (p. 10-12). English-Tajik dictionary.

2006: [IUW] فرهنگ فارسی تاجیکی / زیر نظر، محمدجان شکوری، ... [و دیگران] ؛ بر گردان از خط سیریلیک و تصحیحات محسن شجاعی. Farhang-i Fārsī-i Tājīkī / zīr-i naẓar-i, Muḡammad'jān Shukūrī ... [et al.]; bar'gardān az khaṭṭ-i Sīrīlīk va taṣḡihāt-i Muḡsin Shujā'ī. 1. چاپ. First edition. Chāp-i 1. 1385. تهران: فرهنگ معاصر، [2006 or 2007]. Tihṡrān: Farhang-i Mu'āṣir, 1385 [2006 or 2007]. 2 v.; 25 cm. Contents: jild-i 1. Ā – Zh. jild-i 2. S – Y. Persian-Tajik dictionary.

2008: [IUW] فرهنگ عامیانه تاجیکی بدخشان / تالیف، عنایت الله شهرانی ؛ ویراستار، برهان الدین. Farhang-i 'āmīyānah-i Tājīkī-i Badakhshān / tālīf-i 'Ināyat Allāh Shahrānī; vīrāstār, Burhān al-Dīn Nāmiq. [Afghanistan: Kezel Chopaan Cultural Center], 2008. 3, 538 p.; 21 cm. Dictionary of Colloquial Tajiki dialect of Badakhshan.

2009a: [IUW] English-Tajik university dictionary = Farhangi donishgohii anglisī-tojikī / Abdusalom Mamadnazarov. Nashri takmilshudai 2. Dushanbe: "Ēr-graf", 2009. 484 p.; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 8).

2009b: [IUW] Tajiki: an elementary textbook / Nasrullo Khojayori = Zaboni Tojikī: kitobi darsī (davrai muqaddamotī) / Nasrullo Khojaēri. Washington, D.C.: Georgetown University Press; Bristol: University Presses Marketing [distributor], 2009-. v.: col. ill., col. maps; 28 cm. + DVD-R. DVD-R contains audio-visual material accessible via computer using Adobe Flash player. Appendix 1: Tajik-English glossary, pp. [281]-299, Appendix 2: English-Tajik glossary, pp. [301]-318. Includes bibliographical references and index.

[TALINGA-BWISI] Talinga or Bwisi is a language spoken in the Uganda–Congo border region. It is called Talinga (Kitalinga) in DRC and Bwisi (Lubwisi, Olubwisi) in Uganda (WikP).

Ethnologue: tlj. Alternate Names: Bwisi, Bwissi, Kitalinga, Lubwisi, Lubwissi, Mawissi, Olubwisi.

An online dictionary of Lubwisi [Talinga-Bwisi] may be found at www.webonary.org.

2011: [IUW] Ntotoli ya Lubwisi = Lubwisi dictionary, compiled and edited by Charles Musunguzi, Martin Diprose, Waller C. Tabb Jr. First edition. Bundibugyo, Uganda: Kwamba Lubwisi Development Association in conjunction with SIL International, 2011. 155 pages; 21 cm "September 2011." In English and Lubwisi.

[TALISE] Talise is a Southeast Solomonic language of Guadalcanal (WikP).

Ethnologue: tlr. Alternate Names: Talisi, Tolo.

1986: [LILLYbm] Tolo dictionary / by Susan Smith Crowley. Canberra, A.C.T., Australia: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1986. xi, 107 p.; 25 cm. Pacific linguistics. Series C, 0078-7558; no. 91.

[TAKWANE] WikP redirects Takwane to Makhuwa, listing it as a subdialect of that language. Ethnologue considers Takwane a separate language.

Ethnologue: tke. Alternate Names: Thakwani.

1846: see 13) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

[TALODI] Talodi or Jomang (Ajomang, Gajomang), is a Niger–Congo language in the Talodi family spoken in South Kordofan, Sudan. Talodi is spoken in Tasomi and Tata villages (Ethnologue, 22nd edition).

Ethnologue: tlo. Alternate Names: Ajomang, Gajomang, Jomang.

1910-1911 [1965]: see under NUBIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TALOKI] Taloki is an Austronesian language (one of the Celebic languages) of Southeast Sulawesi, Indonesia.

Ethnologue: tlk. Alternate Names: Talloki, Taluki.

1999: see under BUNGKU-TOLAKI LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TALYSH] The Talysh language (Talışi / Толыши / تالشه زُون) is a Northwestern Iranian language spoken in the northern regions of the Iranian provinces of Gilan and Ardabil and the southern regions of the Republic of Azerbaijan by around 200,000 people. Talysh language is closely related to the Tati language. Historically, the language and its people can be traced through the middle Iranian period back to the ancient Medes. It includes many dialects usually divided into three main clusters: Northern (in Azerbaijan and Iran), Central (Iran) and Southern (Iran). Talyshi is partially, but not fully, intelligible with respect to Persian. Talysh is classified as "vulnerable" by UNESCO's Atlas of the World's Languages in Danger (WikP).

Ethnologue: tly. Alternate Names: Talesh, Talish, Talyshi, Tolışə zıvon, Tolish. Autonym: Tolışi.

1976: [IUW] Talyshsko-russkii slovar': 6 600 slov / L. A. Pireiko. Moskva: Russkii ĭazyk, 1976. 352 p.; 18 cm. Added t.p. in Talysh. Talysh-Russian dictionary, with Russian-Talysh index, pp. [265]-320. Russian in Cyrillic script.

1984: [IUW] Farhang-i Tātī va Tālāshī, [‘Alī ‘Abdulī] Chāp-i 1. Tihṛān: Intishārāt-i Dihkhudā, 1363 [1984] 12, [162] p.; 24 cm. Title on added t.p.: Tālešy and Tāty Dictionary. Includes bibliographical references. Tat language--Dictionaries--Persian. Talysh language--Dictionaries--Persian.

2009: [IUW] نقل‌های تالشی: تلش نقل با گویش کرگانه‌رودی / تالف و گردآورنده عباد (حسن). زینلی. Naql'hā-yi Tālīshī: Tulasha naql bā gūyish-i Kargānah'rūdī / tālīf va gird'āvarandah 'Ibād (Ḥasan) Zaynalī. چاپ 1. Chāp-i 1. First edition. تهران: جامع‌نگر، 1388- [2009-]. Tihṛān: Jāmi'ah'nigar, 1388- [2009-] v.: ill.; 22 cm. Persian-Talysh glossary. In Persian.

2012a: [IUW] English-Talyshi dictionary, A-Z: 250 000 words and word combinations / Farmoni Fakhraddin Aboszoda = Ingilisi-tolyshā lughāt: (250 000 sykhan ijān ifodā. Munich: Lincom Europa, 2012. 561 pages; 25 cm. Original red and light green paper over boards, lettered in white, black and red, with color photos on the front cover. Languages of the world. Dictionaries; 45. English-Talysh, pp. 11-558.

"The present dictionary is mainly based on V.K. Muller's English-Russian Dictionary (2009) and consists of 250000 words and phrases. At the same time, other English language sources were used during the work. It is mainly a translation dictionary. In some cases definitions of scientific and other terms are given. The dictionary has as its purpose to introduce main global centers of Iranian studies to the Talyshi language" (from the rear cover).

2012b: [IUW] Русско-талышский словарь, А-Я: 60 000 слов и словосочетаний / Фармони Фахраддин Абосзода = Urusă-tolyshă lughăt: (60 000 sykhan ijăn ifodă) / Fărmoni Fărăddin Āboszodă. Russko-talyshskii slovar', A-ĪA: 60 000 slov i slovosochetaniĭ / Farmoni Fakhraddin Aboszoda = Urusă-tolyshă lughăt: (60 000 sykhan ijăn ifodă) / Fărmoni Fărăddin Āboszodă. München: Lincom Europa, 2012. 607 pages; 25 cm. Languages of the world. Dictionaries; 46. Russian-Talysh dictionary.

[TAMA (Chad)] Tama, or Damut, is the primary language spoken by the Tama people in eastern Chad and in western Sudan. It is a member of the Taman language family. Miisiirii is often considered a dialect, though it is not particularly close (WikP). Tama is also the name of a language of Columbia.

Ethnologue: tma. Alternate Names: Miisiirii, Tamok, Tamongobo, Tamot.

1989: [IUW] A Masalit grammar: with notes on other languages of Darfur and Wadai / John Edgar. Berlin: D. Reimer, 1989. 121 p.: ill., 1 map; 25 cm. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Sprache und Oralität in Afrika; Bd. 3. Vocabulary: Miisiirii [Tama]-Erenga [dialect of Tama]-Tama [also the name of a dialect of Tama], pp. 106-110. Includes bibliographical references (p. 119-120). Contents: Masalit grammar; Oral traditions of the Masalit; Notes on the Miisiirii language; Notes on the terms Maba, Borgu, Wadai and Salih.

"In view of the scarcity of any accessible data on the Tama group I give here a short and very patchy comparative list of Miisiirii/Mileri, Erenga and Tama. The Miisiirii and Erenga material is first-hand..." (p. 106).

[TAMAHQAQ, TARAGGART] Tamahaq is the only known Northern Tuareg language spoken in Algeria, western Libya, and northern Niger. It varies little from the southern languages of Ayr, Azawagh and Adagh. The differences mostly being substitution of sounds, such as Tamahaq instead of Tamajaq or Tamasheq (WikP).

Ethnologue: thv. Alternate Names: Tamachek, Tamahaq, Tamashekin, Tomachek, Touareg, Tourage, Tuareg.

1862: [LILLY] A grammatical sketch of the Temahuq or Towarek language, by Henry Stanhope Freeman. London: Harrison, 1862. Original blue cloth decorated in blind and lettered in gold. 47 pp. + adverts. Libraries Worldwide: 6 (only 2 in US: NYPL and South Carolina). Includes Tamahaq-English vocabulary, pp. 39-47, double column. "First attempt to reduce to any sort of rule this important language" from the Preface.

1894: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire Français-Tamâheq (langue des Touareg), contenant: 1° tous les mots de la langue française traduisibles en Tamâheq soit directement, soit par des phrases, 2° la traduction en Tamâheq de tous ces mots avec la prononciation figurée en caractères français et en caractères tifinar; 3° les différentes acceptions des mots avec de nombreux exemples, dictons, proverbes, traits de mœurs des imouhar', etc., etc., by S. Cid Kaoui. Alger: Adolphe Jourdan, 1894. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [6] I-VII VIII-XI XII-XVI, 1 2-894, 1-3. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 30. Hendrix 345. Lithographed throughout in the author's hand, reproducing the rare Tifinagh script along with the roman script of the French. Includes a table of the Tifinagh script. With the bookplate of W. Marçais. William Marçais was a noted Arabic philologist born in 1872 and author of Le Dialect arabe parlé a Tlemcen (Paris, 1902), Textes arabes de Tanger (Paris, 1911), and Textes arabes de Takrouna: contribution à l'étude du vocabulaire arabe, 8 vols. (Paris: CNRS, 1961), among others. S. Cid Kaoui, himself a Berber by birth, was a military interpreter for the French, posted to Ouargla, Algeria in 1887. He worked first on a French-Kayble dictionary, then on the French-Tamahaq dictionary, for which he developed his own transcription system.

"Up to the present, there exists no complete French-Tamahaq dictionary, and at a time when the trans-Saharan question exercises such a lively hold on the public mind, and at a time of colonial expansion projects, an exact and precise knowledge of the language of the people one is dealing with is clearly mandatory. The Tuaregs, who inhabit an area which extends into the southern parts of our Algerian possessions, remain isolated and avoid contact with us; we have need of them to carry out the grandiose plans of our civilization; they must therefore be the constant object of our studies and considerations. Only by means of a thorough knowledge of their language, their customs and their aspirations will we be able to make ourselves known to them, will we be able to remove the horror they have of our mores and our institutions and thus make our way among them" (tr: BM).

1900: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire pratique Tamâheq-Français (langue des Touareg) contenant 1° plus de six mille mots de la langue Tamâheq; la traduction en français de tous ces mots avec la prononciation figurée en caractères français et en caractères tfinar'; leurs différentes acceptions, avec de nombreux exemples, dictons, proverbes, traits de mœurs des Imouhar', etc.; 2° l'indication du genre, du nombre des noms; les formes verbales, etc., by S. Cid Kaoui (see notes for previous entry). Alger: Adolphe Jourdan, 1900. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. I-VII VIII, I-IV, 1-2 3-441, I II III. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 30. Hendrix 344. With the book plate of William Marçais (see notes for previous entry). Includes, pp. I-IV, a table of the Tifinagh script. Together with the French-Tamahaq dictionary of 1894, this constitutes the first complete dictionary of the language. A Tamahaq-English vocabulary was appended to a grammar in 1862 (see above).

"The Tamahaq-French dictionary published today is the indispensable complement to the French-Tamahaq dictionary edited in 1894, of which it is, unfortunately, merely an extract. Obligated for reasons of health to distance myself from the Saharan regions, deprived of any means of information or cross-checking, I have not been able to enlarge the present work as I had wished...The Tamashaq language is still little known; it was therefore necessary to place in the hands of those who study the language a practical dictionary that would allow them to find the word they were searching for" (tr: BM).

1909: [LILLY] Etude sur le dialecte de Ghat, by Mohammad Nehlil. Paris: Erneest Leroux, 1909. xii, 215, 3 p.; 26 cm. Series: Algiers. Ecole des lettres. Publications. Bulletin de correspondance africaine, 38. Original red cloth, lettered in gold. Not in Hendrix. With bookplate of Kensington Public Library. Includes as "Troisième Partie," French-"Berbère" [Ghat dialect], pp. 122-215.

1918-1929: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire abrégé touareg-français (dialecte de l'Ahaggar), 2 vols., by [Charles] de Foucauld [1858-1916], ed. by René [Marie Joseph] Basset [1855-1924]. Alger: Bastide-Jourdan, 1918-1920. Original red wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [Vol. I] I-V VI-VII VIII, 1 2-652 653-654; [Vol. II] [6] 1 2-791 792. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 30. Hendrix 358. Includes Tamahaq-French, pp. [Vol. I] 13-649, with additions, pp. [651]-652; [Vol. II] [1]-736. This set with the ink stamp of the "Commune Mixte de Fort National, Dept. d'Alger". The full, four-volume dictionary appeared in 1951-1952.

"On his last voyage to French (1913) Father Foucauld passed on to me the manuscript of the Hoggar-French dictionary that appears today. The publication of the work was delayed by the outbreak of the war in 1914... it should be noted that the dictionary published here is only a small part of the manuscripts Father Foucauld passed on to me... A volume uniting an essay on the grammar and a French-Tamahaq vocabulary appeared in 1908, under the auspices of the governor-general of Algeria" (Preface, tr: BM). Father Foucauld's manuscripts included prose texts, poetry, dialogues, grammatical notes, and a 2,000 page encyclopedic dictionary of Hoggar, published in 1951-52 (see below).

1951-1952: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire touareg-français, dialecte de l'Ahaggar, by Charles de Foucauld [1858-1916]. 4 vols. [Paris]: Imprimerie nationale de France, 1951-1952. Original natural linen over boards, spines lettered in red, all four volumes uniformly bound. Pp. [Vol. I] I-X XI-XII XIII-XIV, [2] 1 2-495 [1] + large folding map in pocket; [Vol. II] [13] 496-971 [3]; [Vol. III] [9] 972 973-1547 [3]; [Vol. IV] [9] 1548 1549-2028 [2]. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 30. Hendrix 356. Dalby 198: "The largest available dictionary of any Berber language." Entire text reproduced from Foucauld's manuscript. Includes Tamahaq-French, pp. 13-2028, paged continuously through four volumes. Monumental dictionary of the language.

1967: [LILLYbm] Lexique français-touareg dialecte de l'Ahaggar, by Jean Marie Cortade with the collaboration of Mouloud Mammeri. Paris: arts et métiers graphiques, 1967. Original light brown cloth over boards, lettered in red. Pp. [4] 1-4 5-511 512-516. First edition. Series: Travaux du Centre de recherches anthropologiques, préhistoriques et ethnographiques, Alger. Hendrix 347. Includes French-Tamahaq, pp. 5-511 (manuscript text reproduced in facsimile). This copy with the ink stamp: "Bibliothèque Claude Lévi-Strauss."

"Father Foucauld didn't have time to produce a French-Tamahaq dictionary. He only left us a Tamahaq-French dictionary. A first abridged two-volume edition was published by René Basset [see above], and the complete four-volume edition was published by the Imprimerie nationale de France in 1951 [see above]. It was in order to make use of that dictionary that we have produced the present French-Tamahaq dictionary.... We thought it would be worthwhile to include certain words not in the Father's dictionary that appeared in the small lexicon of Motylinski in 1908. We have also picked up, or others have brought to our attention, several present-day Touareg words that do not appear in the Father's dictionary, or appear there in a different sense" (Foreword, tr: BM).

1998: [IUW] Asăggălalaf tămažeq-tăfrānsist / Karl-G. Prasse, Ghubăyd ägg-Ālăwželi, Ghăbdewan eg-Muxămmăd = Lexique touareg-français / Karl-G. Prasse, Ghoubēid Alojaly, Ghabdouane Mohamed. nAseggmed wann eššin, yetiwăšăggārān, yeṭiwāsāgāt = 2ème. éd., revue et aug. Kopenhagen: Carsten Niebuhr Institute of Near Eastern Studies: Museum Tusculanum Press, University of Copenhagen, 1998. xx, 467 p.; 26 cm. CNI publications, 24. Dalby 197. Second edition, revised and enlarged. The first edition was published in 1980 under the title Áwgǎlel temajeq-tefrensist. Includes bibliographical references (p. 466). Touareg [Taraggart Tamahaq]-Frensch dictionary.

[TAMANAKU] Tamanaku (Tamañkú) is an extinct Cariban language of Venezuela (WikP).

Ethnologue: tmz.

1893: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1943-1944: see under PEMON.

[TAMANG] Tamang (Devanagari: तामाङ; tāmāṅg) is a term used to collectively refer to a dialect cluster spoken mainly in Nepal, Sikkim, West Bengal (Mainly Darjeeling Districts - पश्चिम बङ्गाल राज्यको दार्जीलिङ जिल्लाको बिभिन्न भूभाग), some parts of Assam and North East Region. It comprises Eastern Tamang, Northwestern Tamang, Southwestern Tamang, Eastern Gorkha Tamang, and Western Tamang. Lexical similarity between Eastern Tamang (which is regarded as the most prominent) and other Tamang languages varies between 81% to 63%. For comparison, lexical similarity between Spanish and Portuguese, is estimated at 89%. Tamang likely split from the Tibetan languages some time before the 7th century (WikP).

Ethnologue lists 4 separate languages in the Tamang family: Eastern Tamang (taj), Northwestern Tamang (tmk), Eastern Gorkha Tamang (tge), and Western Tamang (tdg). Ethnologue considers Southwestern Tamang a dialect of Eastern Tamang. Murmi is listed as an alternate name for both Northwestern Tamang and Western Tamang, and as a dialect of Eastern Tamang.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903-1927: see Vol. III, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1982: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1997: [LILLY] Tāmāña śabdakośa. Tamang Dictionary / Nepāla Tāmāña Gumbā Sevā Kendra. Saṃskaraṇa 1. First edition. Kāthamāḍaṃ: Nepāla Tāmāña Gumbā Sevā Kendra, 2054 [1997]. 6 p., 189 p.; 21.5 cm. Advertising matter included in paging. Original white wrappers, lettered in red, blue and black, with heraldic color illustration on the front cover. Tamang-Nepali, pp. 1-158, Nepali-Tamang index, pp. 159-189. Except for English title on front cover and title page, volume is entirely in Nepali and Tamang.

2017: [LILLY] Prajñā Tamang-Nepali-English Dictionary, by Agitman Tamang. Kathmandu: Nepal Academy, 2017. First edition. 444 p. 24 cm. Original pale blue and dark violet wrappers, lettered in black, dark violet, white and yellow. Tamang-Nepali-English, pp. 53-252, Nepali-Tamang, pp. 255-346, English-Tamang, pp. 349-444. Except for English title on front cover and title page, volume is entirely in Nepali and Tamang.

[TAMASHEQ] Tamasheq is a variety of the Tuareg languages. It is spoken by the Tuareg people, principally in the Timbuktu area. There are two divergent dialects: Timbuktu (Tombouctou, Tanaslamt) and Tadghaq (Kidal) in Mali. Tamasheq as spoken in northeastern Burkina Faso is similar. The name Tamasheq is sometimes applied to the Tuareg languages in general (WikP).

Ethnologue: taq. Alternate Names: Kidal, Kidal Tamasheq, Tamachen, Tamashekin, Timbuktu, Tomacheck, "Tuareg" (pej.).

1826: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1890: see under BERBER LANGUAGES.

2001: [IUW] The Tamasheq of North-East Burkina Faso: notes on grammar and syntax including a key vocabulary, by David Sudlow. Köln: Köppe, c2001. 358 p.: map; 24 cm. Berber studies, v. 1 Includes bibliographical references (p. 358). Library binding preserving original orange and red wrappers, lettered in black. "Key Vocabulary", English-Tamasheq, thematically arranged, pp. 257-348.

"This book is based on several years living and working among Tamasheq people in N.E. Burkina Faso (Oudalan province)" (Introduction). With extensive information on the Tamasheq people and language.

[TAMAZIGHT, CENTRAL ATLAS] Central Atlas Tamazight language (also known as Central Morocco Tamazight, Middle Atlas Tamazight, Tamazight, Central Shilha, and, rarely, Braber; native name: Tamazight [tæmæ'zɪt], [θæmæ'zɪθ]) is a Berber language of the Afro-Asiatic language family, spoken by 3 to 5 million people in the Atlas mountains of Central Morocco, as well as by smaller emigrant communities in France and elsewhere. Central Atlas Tamazight is one of the most-spoken Berber languages, along with Kabyle, Shilha, Riff, and Shawiya, and in Morocco it rivals Shilha as the most-spoken. All five languages may be referred to as 'Tamazight', but Central Atlas speakers are the only ones who use the term exclusively.

Central Atlas Tamazight (unlike neighbouring Tashelhit) had no known significant writing tradition until the 20th century. It is now officially written in the Tifinagh script for instruction in Moroccan schools, while descriptive linguistic literature commonly uses the Latin alphabet, and the Arabic alphabet has also been used (WikP)..

Ethnologue: tzm. Alternate Names: Central Shilha, Middle Atlas Berber, Moroccan Amazigh, Shilha, Tachelhit.

1907: see under TACHELHIT.

1971: [LILLYbm] Computerized Lexicon of Tamazight, Berber Dialect of Ayt Seghrouchen, by Ernest T. Abdel-Massih. Ann Arbor: Center for Near Eastern and North African Studies, University of Michigan, 1971. Original tan and yellow wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [2] i-iv v-lxviii lxix-lxx, 1-2 3-398 399-400. First edition. Hendrix 332. Includes Tamazight-English, pp. 3-153, English-Tamazight, pp. 157-234, as well as cultural and linguistic lexica. Second copy: IUW.

"The language of this book is Tamazight, a dialect of Berber spoken in the middle Atlas Mountains of Morocco. Berber is spoken mainly in North Africa (Libya, Tunisia, Algeria and Morocco) and in Siwa (UAR). It is also spoken by the Tuareg groups in Mauritania and the countries of the Sahara (Mali, Niger and Chad). Berber, a branch of the Afro-Asiatic family of languages is an unwritten language. It is divided into some three hundred or more local dialects. The number of speakers of Berber has been estimated between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000...the speakers of Tamazight ... number approximately 2,000,000...The Ayt Seghrouchen live by farming and sheep herding. They live either in tents or in mud-brick houses" (Introduction). This appears to be the first English language dictionary of Tamazight. In 1907 S. Cid Kaoui published a French dictionary that included Tamazight. A French Tamazight lexicon was also published by Taifi in Paris in 1992.

1980: [IUW] Amawal = lexique: tamazi-gc-st-tafransist (berbère-français) - tafransist-tamazi-gc-st (français-berbère). Paris: Imedyazen, 1980. 31 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original white front and rear wrappers, lettered in purple. Tamazight-French, pp. 8-65, French-Tamazight, pp. 66-131.

"This volume is a response to a practical problem" (Preface: tr: BM). The author goes on to explain that the Berber language is in danger of simply borrowing or adapting foreign terms, thus losing its own nature. In this dictionary, the author offers a Berber term as a translation for the French whenever one is possible; where no Berber term exists, he offers a neologism based on a Berber root meaning.

1991: [IUW] Dictionnaire tamazight-français: (parlers du Maroc central) / Miloud Taïfi; [préface de Lionel Galand]. Paris: L'Harmattan-Awal, c1991. xxii, 879 p.: ill.; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original white front and rear wrappers, lettered in black and red. Dalby 200. Tamazight-French dictionary, pp. [1]-870. Dialects of Central Morocco.

1996: [IUW] Amawal n tsenselkimt: Tafransist-Tagliit-Tamaziyt = Lexique d'informatique: français-anglais-berbère / Samiya Saad-Buzefran. Paris: L'Harmattan, c1996. 120 p.: ill.; 24 cm. Dictionary of computer terms, French-English-Tamazight, pp. 11-120.

2007: [IUW] Lexique de la linguistique français-anglais-berbère: précédé d'un essai de typologie des procédés néologiques / A-Aziz Berkai. Paris: Harmattan, 2007. 193 p.; 24 cm. Original pale brown wrappers, lettered in white. Vocabulary of linguistic terms, French-English-Berbère [Tamazight], pp. 51-159. Includes bibliographical references (p. [191]-193). The introduction makes clear that the Berber source language is Tamazight.

2009a: [IUW] معجم الإعلام: عربي-مازيغي-انجليزي-فرنسي / وحدة المعجم، مركز التهيئة اللغوية [et al.]; بمساهمة خالد عنسار، محمد المدلاوي [et al.]; ... المؤلفون، مفتاحة اعمر؛ Mu'jam al-i'lām: 'Arabī-Amāzīghī- Injlīzī-Faransī / Wiḥdat al-Mu'jam, Markaz al-Tahiy'ah al-Lughawīyah; [al-mu'allifūn, Miftāḥah A'mar ... [et al.]; bi-musāhamat Khālid 'Ansār, Muḥammad al-Madlāwī]. 2009. رباط: المعهد الملكي للثقافة الامازيغية، 2009. 259 p.; 25 cm. Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Centre de l'aménagement linguistique. Publications de l'Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Série lexiques; no 4. Includes bibliographical references (p. 258-259). In Arabic with Berber, English and French. Arabic edition of 2009b below.

2009b: [IUW] Vocabulaire des médias: Français-Amazighe-Anglais-Arabe, [auteurs, Meftaha Ameur ... [et al.]; avec la collaboration de Khalid Ansar, Mohamed Elmedlaoui; editeur by Institut royal de la culture amazighe]. Rabat: Institut royal de la culture amazighe, c2009. 255 p.; 22 cm. Series: Publications de l'Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Série: lexiques; no 3. "UER-Lexique; Centre de l'aménagement linguistique." Includes bibliographical references (p. 254-255). In French with Berber, English and Arabic. "Dans le champ de la terminologie amazighe, le Vocabulaire des médias fait suite au Vocabulaire de la langue amazighe 1 (2006) et répond à un besoin de dénomination de réalités nouvelles par les professionnels des médias marocains (presse, radio et télévision)"--P. 7.

2009c: [IUW] Vocabulaire grammatical amazighe / [auteurs, Meftaha Ameer ... [et al.]; éditeur, Institut royal de la culture amazighe]; coordination, Abdellah Bounfour et Kamal Naït-Zerrad. Rabat: Institut royal de la culture amazighe, c2009. 164 p.; 25 cm. Original black paper over boards, lettered in white. Publications de l'Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Série lexiques; no 5. At head of title on cover: Institut royal de la culture amazighe, Centre de l'aménagement linguistique; Institut national des langues et civilisations orientales, La-CNAD-Centre de recherche berbère. Institut Royal de la Culture Amazighe Centre de l'Aménagement Linguistique (CAL). French-English-Arabic-Tamazight vocabulary of grammatical terms, pp. 21-59, Tamazight-French-English-Arabic, pp. 63-100, Index, English-Tamazight-French-Arabic, pp. 103-130, Index, Arabic-Tamazight-French-English, pp. 133-162. Includes bibliographical references (p. 163-164). With preliminary material.

2010: [IUW] Deux mille phrases dans un parler berbère du maroc: application et évaluation de la méthode d'enquête linguistique d'Henri Frie / Lionel Galand; avec la collaboration de Mohammed Zaouch. Rabat: Institut Royal de la Culture Amazighe, 2010. xii, 121, 208 p.; 30 cm. Publications de l'Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Série Études et recherches no 20. Includes bibliographical references.

2011a: [IUW] Dictionnaire berbère-français / Driss Azdoud; préface de Tassadit Yacine. Paris: Maison des sciences de l'homme, 2011. 596 p.; 21 cm. Original black, red, gray and white wrappers, lettered in orange and black. Uniform series: Méditerranée-Sud. Berbère [Tamazight]-French, pp.15-596. The definitions include explanations and sample usage in phrases. The introduction indicates that the primary research was centered on the Tamazight of the Aïr Hadiddou tribe in the Central Atlas.

2011b: [IUW] Dictionnaire français-tamazight, 40.000 mots = Amawal tamazight-français: CCIX-IW mon maître: le grand dictionnaire berbère / Brahim Ben Taleb. [Algiers?]: Éditions Aït Mouloud, [2012?]. 481 p.; 22 cm. Original Multicolored wrappers, lettered in white, black, red and green. French-Tamazight, pp. 7-226, Tamazight-French, pp. 228-477. Includes bibliographical references (p. 479-480).

2016: Third edition [IUW] Le grand dictionnaire: français-tamazight, tamazight-français: ccix-iw mon maître / Brahim Ben Taleb. 3ème édition corrigée améliorée. [Algiers?]: al-Amal; Tizi Ouzou: Éditions Richa Elsam, 2016. 601 pages; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references (pages 599-600). French-Tamazight, Tamazight-French dictionary.

2011c: [IUW] Les termes géographiques amazighes / coordonné par Hassan Ramou. Rabat: Institut royal de la culture amazighe, centre des études historiques et environnementales, 2011-. volumes: color illustrations, color maps; 24 cm. Original ochre and brown wrappers, lettered in ochre, black and white. Silsilat al-nadawāt wa-al-munāzarāt (Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Centre des études historiques et environnementales); raqm 27. Includes bibliographical references. With geographical terms in Tamazight, Arabic and French.

2011d: [IUW] Vocabulaire grammatical de l'amazighe: application phraséologique / [auteurs, Meftaha Ameer ... [et al.]; éditeur, Institut royal de la culture amazighe]. Rabat: Institut royal de la culture amazighe, Centre de l'aménagement linguistique, 2011.101 p.; 25 cm. Original light and dark purple paper over boards, lettered in white. Publications de l'Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Série lexiques; no 7. Includes bibliographical references. Includes some text in Tamazight (Tifnagh script). Phrases polyglot: Tamazight, Arabic, English and French, pp. 9-101, including indexes.

2012a: [IUW] Dictionnaire des verbes de l'amazighe: dérivation et conjugaison: parler du Haut Atlas Central / Ali Barakate. Agadir: Université Ibn Zohr, 2012. 215 pages; 24 cm. Original blue and yellow wrappers, lettered in black and white. Includes bibliographical references.

2012b: [IUW] مصطلحية الاتصال السمعي البصري / المؤلفون مفتاحه اممر، نورة الازرق، عائشة بو حجر، خالد عنسر. Muṣṭalaḥīyat al-ittiṣāl al-sama'ī al-baṣarī = Terminologie amazighe de l'audiovisuel, al-mu'allifūn Miftāḥah A'mar, Nūrah al-Azraq, 'Ā'ishah Bū Ḥajar, Khālīd 'Anṣar. 2012. الرباط: مركز التهيئة اللغوية، سلسلة المعاجم؛ رقم 9. al-Rabāt: Markaz al-Tahī'ah al-Lughawīyah, 2012. 120 pages; 25 cm. Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Series: منشورات المعهد الملكي للثقافة الامازيغية، مركز التهيئة اللغوية، سلسلة المعاجم؛ رقم 9. Manshūrāt al-Ma'had al-Malakī lil-Thaqāfah al-Amāzīghīyah, Markaz al-Tahī'ah al-Lughawīyah, Silsilat al-ma'ājim; raqm 9. Text in Arabic, French, English and Tamazight (Tighinagh script). Arabic-French-English-Tamazight dictionary of audiovisual terms. Includes bibliographical references (pages 118-120).

2013: [IUW] Dictionnaire amazighe - français: Le parler des Ayt Wirra, Moyen Atlas - Maroc / Bennasser Oussikoum. Rabat, Maroc: Institut royal de la culture amazighe, [2013]. 1021 pages; 25 cm. Original gray paper over boards, lettered in blue. Publications de l'Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Série lexiques et dictionnaires; no. 10. Amazighe [Tamazight]-French, pp. 153-969. Includes bibliographical references. Includes extensive preliminary material on the language.

2016: [IUW] Dictionnaire raisonné berbère-français: parlers du Maroc = Amawal unẓiẓ tamaziġt-tafransist: alsawn n lmeġrib / Miloud Taïfi, Patrice Pognan, Lionel Galan [préface]. Rabat: Institut Royal de la Culture Amazighe, 2016. Rabat: Imprimerie El Maarif Al Jadida xxv, 1208, 166, 315 pages; 25 cm. Cf. Dalby 200. Publications de l'Institut royal de la culture amazighe. Série lexiques et dictionnaires; 12. Includes bibliographical references and index. Tamazight-French, French-Tamazight dictionary.

[TAMBORA] Tambora is the poorly attested non-Austronesian (Papuan) language of the Tambora culture of central Sumbawa, in what is now Indonesia, which was wiped out by the 1815 eruption of Mount Tambora. This was the westernmost known Papuan language, and was relatively unusual among such languages in being the language of a maritime trading state, though contemporary Papuan trading states were also found off Halmahera in Ternate and Tidore. One word list was collected prior to the eruption, published as Raffles (1817, 1830). It is clear from this that the language is not Austronesian; indeed, there are only a few Austronesian loans (WikP).

Ethnologue: xxt.

1817: see under MALAYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TAMIL] Tamil (English pronunciation: /'tæmɪl/; Tamil: [t̪ɐmɪɻ]) is a Dravidian language predominantly spoken by the Tamil people of India and Sri Lanka, and also by the Tamil diaspora, Sri Lankan Moors, Burghers, Douglas, and Chindians. Tamil is an official language of two countries, Singapore and Sri Lanka. It has official status in the Indian state of Tamil Nadu and the Indian Union Territory of Puducherry. It is one of the 22 scheduled languages of India. Tamil is one of the longest-surviving classical languages in the world. It has been described as "the only language of contemporary India which is recognizably continuous with a classical past." The variety and quality of classical Tamil literature has led to it being described as "one of the great classical traditions and literatures of the world". In 1578, Portuguese Christian missionaries published a Tamil prayer book in old Tamil script named 'Thambiraan Vanakkam,' thus making Tamil the first Indian language to be printed and published. The Tamil Lexicon, published by the University of Madras, was one of the earliest dictionaries published in the Indian languages (Wikip).

Ethnologue: tam. Alternate Names: Damulian, Tamal, Tamalsan, Tambul, Tamili.

1679 [1966]: [LILLY] Antaõ de Proença's Tamil-Portuguese dictionary, A.D. 1679. Prepared for publication by Xavier S. Thani Nayagam. Kuala Lumpur, Dept. of Indian Studies, University of Malaya, 1966. 20 p., [9], 247 [i.e. 254] leaves; 25 cm. Bound in green cloth, lettered in gilt. Facsim. of the Vatican Library copy. Original t.p. reads: Vocabvlario tamvlico com a significaçam portvgveza. Composto pello P. Antam de Proença ... Na Imprensa Tamulica da Prouincia do Malabar, por Ignacio Archamani impressor della, Ambalacatta em 30. de Lulho 1679 annos. "Preface to the Tamil-Portuguese Dictionary, 1679 / translated by Edgar C. Knowlton Jr. and Xavier S. Thani Nayagam" -- p. [11]-20. Facsim. contains errors in foliation. From the library of C.R. Boxer, with his signature and annotations. English preface by Nayagam includes bibliographical references. Autographed on t.p. by Nayagam. NUC 1963-1967, 44:195. Second copy: [IUW].

1716: [LILLY] Grammatica damulica, quae per varia paradigmata, regulas & necessarium vocabulorum apparatus, viam brevissimam monstrat, qua lingua damulica seu malabarica, quae inter Indos Orientales in usu est, & hucusque in Europa incognita fuit, facile disci possit: in usum eorum qui hoc tempore gentes illas ab idololatria ad cultum veri Dei, salutemque aeternam evangelio Christi perducere cupiunt, by Bartholomaeus Ziegenbalg [1683-1719]. Halae Saxonum: litteria & impensis Orphanotrophei, 1716. Pp. [16] 1 2-128. Nineteenth-century black quarter-leather and black marbled paper over boards. This copy with the bookplate of Cornelius Hauck on the front paste-down, and the stamp of the Evang. Missions-Gesellschaft in Basel on the title page. Includes several Tamil-Latin word lists under the various grammatical categories. One of the earliest bilingual sources of lexical material for Tamil. According to Shanmuganar, Ziegenbalg compiled a Tamil-Tamil dictionary in 1712 that was never published. The first bilingual Tamil dictionary (with Portuguese) was compiled by A. de Provenza and published in 1679.

Second copy: LILLY: nineteenth-century black quarter-leather, lettered in gold, and blue marbled paper over boards. Third copy: LILLY: rebound in modern quarter-vellum and marbled paper over boards.

"The German missionary B. Ziegenbalg was the first to make the study of Tamil possible in Europe by the publication of his Grammatica Damulica, which appeared at Halle in 1716" (Encyclopedia Britannica, 13th ed.).

1809: [LILLY] [Title in Tamil followed by English title] A Malabar and English dictionary | composed by the Rev: Messrs: Fabricius and Breithaupt, English

Missionaries at Madras and published in the year 1779. The second edition | revised and corrected by the Rev: Mr: Poezold, Mr: William Simpson, and the Malabar catechists. Printed at Vepery [Madras: s.n.], 1809. [2], 185, [1] p.; 24 cm. (4to). Bound in contemporary calf, modern rebacking; fore-edges cut to form thumb index. Malabar [Tamil]-English, pp. [1]-185. No preliminary material. Lilly Library copy with the book label of John Lawson. NUC pre-1956 165:326 (NF 0006740). BM 70:290.

1834-1841: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary, of the Tamil and English Languages, by J.P. Rottler. In four parts. Madras: Printed at the Vepery Mission Press, 1834-1841. Late-19th century brown half-leather and green paper over boards, lettered in blind. "Vol. I Part I" (1834): 300 pp.; "Vol. I. Part II" (1836-7), 410 pp. + x pp.; "Part III" (1839, "Revised by Rev. W[illiam] Taylor, and T. Vencatachala Moodelly"): 456 pp.; "Part IV" (1841, "Revised by Rev. W[illiam] Taylor, and T. Vencatachala Moodelly"): 248 pp. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 374. Shanmuganar 16.

Note from Part II: "The revision, conducted by the Author, up to the period of his lamented decease, comes down to page 204. Of this part the further revision, with the same native assistance, was confided to the Reverend William Taylor in May 1836...the copy right by the Author's will, having been bequested to the Vepery Mission Press."

Note from Part III: "To any one unacquainted with the extent, and re-iteration, of labor connected with the revisal and publication of this dictionary, the issue may appear to be slow. The revisal, and printing, of the first part, containing 298 pages, occupied six years; the second part...engaged [the original compiler's] attention for nearly two years...and ...in the hands of the present reviser, [was] completed in one [further] year. The revisal of the entire third part, of 455 pages, has been finished in two years; the arrears of printing requiring another half year...The object of this brief notice is to shew, that cause of delay exists rather in the subject-matter, than in the mode of operation."

Prefatory remarks to Part IV: "It was once the intention of the writer of this notice...to have devoted some attention and labor to the production of a preface to the whole work. But the rich and full experience of unforeseen peculiarities, consequent to the task a little incautiously commenced, rather took off the keen edge of literary appetite; and induces him now to offer little other than the results of disgust and satiety... [Be that as it may] the deficiency which [Humboldt] a few years since expressly lamented, that is, the want of a good Tamil and English Dictionary, is by the present one very adequately supplied.... The Tamil language [is] one of the most copious, refined, and languages spoken by man." Shanmuganar lists Fabricus's Tamil-English dictionary of 1779, published in Madras, and including Malayalam as the only prior Tamil-English dictionary.

1835-1836: [LILLY] First Lessons in English and Tamul: Designed to assist Tamul Youth in the study of the English Language. I. Press of the American Mission, Manepy: 1835. Pp. 1-3 4-64. Separate title page: First Lessons in English and Tamul: Designed to assist Tamul Youth in the study of the English Language. II. [Price—Four Pence.] Press of the American Mission, Manepy: 1836. Pp. 1-3 4-76. Bound in modern brown patterned paper over boards. With brief English-Tamil vocabulary lists throughout. With the bookplate of John Lawson.

1839: [IUW] A compilation of papers in the Tamil language, including several on public business, to which is added a glossary in Tamil and English, of many words used chiefly in the business of the courts and public cutcherries ... by Andrew Robertson, of the Madras Civil Service. Madras, Thorpe, 1839. 53 numb. folios, [i.e. 112 p.]. 27 cm. Library binding. [Glossary "of many words used chiefly in the business of the courts and public chutcheries"]: Tamil-English, final 6 folios [i.e. 12 p.]. Other than the bilingual title page, the entire volume is in Tamil only.

1846: [LILLY] Dictionarium Latino-Gallico-Tamulicum. Dictionnaire Latin-Français-Tamoul. [title in Tamil script]. Auctoribus duobus Missionariis Apostolicis Congregationis Missionum ad Exteros. Pudicherii, e typographio Missionariorum vi-Episcopo Drusiparensi V. A. concessâ. Pp. iii-v vi-x xi xi-xviii 1 2-1427 1428-1429 1430. Bound in leather with red spine label; housed in a brown slipcase, lettered in gold. Includes Latin-French-Tamil dictionary, pp. [1]-1427, with addendum and errata, pp. [1428]-1430. The Latin preface states that there has long been a need for a Latin-Tamil dictionary in order to facilitate religious instruction, and that the present volume fulfills that need. French is included to make the dictionary even more useful (see 1875, 1911 and 1938 below for later editions of the French-Tamil dictionary).

1852: [LILLYbm] English and Tamil Dictionary; containing all the more important words in Dr. Webster's Dictionary of the English language. Second edition, enlarged and revised. Jaffna: American Mission Press, 1852. Contemporary brown half-leather and brown cloth over boards, with black leather label on spine, lettered in gold. Pp. [8] 1-970 971-972. Second edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Revision of Shanmuganar 19. This copy with the bookplate and withdrawal stamp of the Theological Library of the Luther Theological Seminar at Gettysburg, Pa. With the pencil ownership signature of Rev. G. Maltby, dated 21 October 1862 [possibly the brother of T. J. Maltby, author of A practical handbook of the Uriya or Odiya language (1874)]. Revision of an earlier work [1844] by Joseph Knight and Levi Spaulding. Preface signed: L. S. [i.e. Levi Spaulding]. Includes English-Tamil, pp. 1-970.

"In preparing this second edition of the English and Tamil Dictionary, all the words in Dr. Webster's complete work, which are thought to be of practical utility to missionaries or civilians among the Tamil people, or to Tamil youth who are studying the English language, have been most carefully added to the old edition... This edition contains thirty-six thousand seven hundred and thirty-seven English words, being an enlargement of eight thousand nine hundred and eighty-four over the first edition.... Not only as to enlargement, but in respect to accuracy of definition, division, and arrangement of the different significations, this edition is believed to be a great improvement upon the previous one" (Preface).

1862: [LILLYbm] A comprehensive Tamil and English dictionary of high and low Tamil assisted by competent native scholars in part from manuscript materials of the late Rev. Joseph Knight and others, by Miron Winslow. Madras: P.R. Hunt, 1862. Twentieth-century unlettered red floral quarter cloth and brown marbled paper over boards. Pp. i-v vi-ix x-xiv 1-976. First edition. Zaunmüller col. 374. Shanmuganar 27 (indicating Tamil-English-Tamil). Includes Tamil-English, pp. 1-976. Second copy: [IUW].

"In one respect the Tamil has an advantage over the other vernaculars of India. It has a greater amount of Christian literature... It will be seen... that a Lexicon which will enable a student to read their books in poetry, as well as prose, is very necessary. Hitherto the Dictionary of Dr. Rottler has been the only one professing to give any aid to the student in reading Native books... and that, though very valuable, was too limited in its vocabulary, and deficient in Astrological, Mythological and Scientific terms, fully to answer the purpose. It is very much confined to the Tamil of the Continent, not embracing much that is in good use in Ceylon" (Preface). With history of the long-delayed publication of this work, including the story of the two earlier English-Tamil editions prepared by Knight and Spaulding from the same materials. This dictionary is thus a companion to the English-Tamil dictionary of 1852 (second edition) and with it forms a complete two-way dictionary superceding Rottler's. A list of subscribers and donors is given on pp. [xiii-xiv]. "This dictionary contains more than 67,000 words, and Rottler's nearly 37,000" (note on final page of dictionary).

1872: [LILLY] The planters' colloquial Tamil guide in Tamil and Roman characters, or, The art of speaking, reading and writing Tamil without a teacher, by A. Joseph. Madras, printed at the Scottish Press, by Graves, Cookson, and Co., 1872. xii, 223, xcv p.; 21 cm. Original gray half-cloth and blue paper over boards, with original printed paper label on spine. First edition. Appendix III consists of an English-Tamil "glossary," arranged thematically, pp. xxiv-xcv. Lilly copy lacks free endpaper.

1875: [LILLY] Dictionnaire français-tamoul = Pirañcu tamil akaratī. Pondichéry: Imprimerie des Missionnaires Apostoliques de la dite congrégation, 1875. 6, 1250 pp. 22 cm. Contemporary full leather with gold lettering on spine (top of spine damaged). "Composé par 2 missionnaires apostoliques de la Congrégation des Missions-Etrangères." Zaunmüller, col. 374, cites the first edition, including Tamil-French, as 1855-1862. French-Tamil, pp. [1]-1250.

"We have long desired to procure a French-Tamil dictionary for evangelists working for the good of the souls of this country" (Preface, tr: BM). This same opening line appeared in the Latin preface to the trilingual Latin-French-Tamil dictionary of 1846.

1911: Second edition [LILLY] Dictionnaire Français-Tamoul, par Mm. Mousset et Dupuis de la Société des Missions-Étrangères de Paris. Seconde Edition. Pirañcu tamil akaratī... Pondichéry: Imprimerie de la Mission, 1911. Superiorum permissu. x, 1253 p., 6 p. 21.8 cm. Contemporary brown quarter-leather and dark green cloth over boards, spine letter in gold, with raised bands. French-Tamil, pp. [1]-1253, "Mots tamoul généralement employés dans les catcheries," pp. [1]-6. The "catcheries" were tribunals in India to prevent mistreatment of Christians and their priests. This second edition reprints the French preface from the 1875 edition.

1938-1942: Third edition, with Tamil-French, [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire tamoul-français. Dictionnaire français-tamoul. Troisième édition., two vols., by [Louis Marie] Mousset & [Louis Savinien] Dupuis. Pondichery: Imprimerie de la Mission, 1938/1942 (two vols. in one, with two separate title pages) and 1942. [Vol. 1] Contemporary green half-leather and green cloth over boards, lettered in gold with raised bands. Pp. 1-5 6-592, ²1-2 3-809 810. [Vol. 2] Contemporary tan half-leather and green cloth over boards, lettered in black, with raised bands. Pp. 1-5 6-864, ²1 2-5 6. Third edition. Zaunmüller, col. 374 (citing first edition as 1855-1862). Dalby 1516. Includes Tamil-French, [Vol. 1] [part 1] pp. [31]-592, [part 2] pp. 3-809; [Vol. 2] pp. [9]-964.

19--: [IUW] Tamil self-taught. (In roman characters.) With English phonetic pronunciation. By Don M. de Silva Wickremasinghe ... 2d ed., rev. ... London, E.

Marlborough & Co., ltd. [19--]. 96 p. 19 cm. Marlborough's self-taught series. "Fourth impression." "A supplementary and companion volume to Tamil grammar self-taught (Marlborough's self-taught series, no. 19)."-p. [3].

1904-1906: [IUW] A handbook of the ordinary dialect of the Tamil language, by the Rev. G. U. Pope. 7th ed. Oxford, Clarendon press, 1904-06. 5 v. fold. tables. 22 cm. [pt. I] First lessons in Tamil. pt. II. Key to the exercises, with notes on analysis. pt. III. A compendious Tamil-English dictionary. pt. IV. An English-Tamil dictionary. pt. V. A Tamil prose reader, adapted to the handbook. IUW holds only pt. IV. Oxford, Clarendon Press, 1906. "Seventh Edition" on title page. 108 p. 22 cm. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. English-Tamil, pp. [1]-108.

"Nearly all the words introduced here are in common use. Those in small type are less useful words, or derivatives, or technical terms. No attempt has been made to distinguish minute shades of meaning; every word should therefor be talked over with a Tamil man" (p. [1]).

1908 [2004]: [IUW] A Tamil-English dictionary = Tamil-Āṅkila akarāṭi / V. Visvanatha Pillai. AES 4th rept. New Delhi: Asian Educational Services, 2004. 731 p.; 23 cm. Originally published: 3rd rev. & enl. ed. Madras, 1908.

1915: [LILLYbm] Cooly Tamil as understood by labourers on tea & rubber estates, specially arranged for planters and planting students, by W.G.B. Wells. Colombo: The Ceylon Observer, 1915. Original gray cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. 174 pp. + v index. First edition. Includes English-[Cooly] Tamil vocabulary, pp. [89]-130, and [Cooly]Tamil-English vocabulary, pp. [131]-167. Includes introduction. Not in Zaunmüller, who lists the same author's Tamil-English and English-Tamil pronouncing dictionary of 1932. The book has continued to be reprinted. Post-1950 editions are entitled "Colloquial Tamil."

1920: Second edition [LILLYbm] Cooly Tamil as understood by labourers on tea & rubber estates, specially arranged for planters and planting students, by W.G.B. Wells. Second edition. Colombo: The Ceylon Observer, 1920. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. 200 pp. + iv index. Not in Zaunmüller, who lists the same author's Tamil-English and English-Tamil pronouncing dictionary of 1932.

1921: Third edition [LILLYbm] Cooly Tamil as understood by labourers on tea & rubber estates, specially arranged for planters and planting students, by W.G.B. Wells. Third edition. Colombo: The Ceylon Observer, 1921. Original reddish-brown cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. 194 pp. + v index. Not in Zaunmüller, who lists the same author's Tamil-English and English-Tamil pronouncing dictionary of 1932.

1927: Fourth edition [LILLYbm] Cooly Tamil as understood by labourers on tea & rubber estates, specially arranged for planters and planting students, by W.G.B. Wells. Fourth edition. Colombo: The Ceylon Observer, 1927. Original smooth gray cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. 208 pp. + v index + 7 pp. "memorandum." Includes English-[Cooly] Tamil vocabulary, pp. [97]-152, and [Cooly]Tamil-English vocabulary, pp. [153]-202. Not in Zaunmüller, who lists the same author's Tamil-English and English-Tamil pronouncing dictionary of 1932. "In issuing this (4th) edition, I have endeavoured to express my gratification at the continual demand for 'Cooly Tamil,' and also my thanks to those who have written me letters of appreciation, by revising the whole work, removing ambiguities and errors as well as considerably augmenting the Vocabularies."

1919-1920-1917: [LILLYbm] English and Tamil Vocabulary. Part I, Part II. Part III (3 vols). Madras, Allahabad, Calcutta, Rangoon, Colombo: The Christian Literature Society for India, 1919-1920-1917. Pp. [Part I] 1-3 4-32 [Part II] 1 2-32 [Part III] 1-3 4-54. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Later editions. These pamphlets appear to have been reprinted many times since the 19th century. Not in Zaunmüller.

1926: [LILLY] Tamil Vocabulary, with Elementary Grammar, compiled by R. G. Manners. Madras: Methodist Publishing House, 1926. iv, 257 p., 16.5 cm. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Vocabulary, English-Tamil, pp. [65]-[176], Tamil-English, pp. [177]-257. This copy inscribed in ink "With best wishes from Gordon, 1926" [possibly R. G[ordon?] Manners?].

"The compiler of this hand-book has had many years experience in Malaya and hopes that the following pages will be of practical value to beginners. R. G. M., Tampin Linggi Estate, Rantau, N.S." (Introduction).

1933: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary Tamil and English based on Johann Philip Fabricius's 'Malabar-English Dictionary'. Third edition, revised and enlarged by Purushotma, and edited by D. Bexell. Tranquebar: Evangelical Lutheran Mission Publishing House, 1933. Original brown half-leather and pebbled green cloth over boards; spine with original paper label printed in black. Pp. [2] I-III IV-VII VIII, 1 2-910. Third edition. Zaunmüller, col. 374. This copy with Library of Congress duplicate stamps. Includes Tamil-English, pp. [1]-910 [4]. Second copy: [IUW].

"The first Tamil and English Lexicon was published in 1779 and reprinted in 1809 under the title "A Malabar and English Dictionary".... [It was] enlarged and much improved [by H. Beisenherz in 1897]" (Preface to the First Edition). The second edition appeared in 1910. "This new and enlarged edition of the "Tranquebar Dictionary" has been prepared and completed during periodic intervals of ordinary missionary work.... This third edition has been slightly revised as regards English rendering of Tamil words. The volume has been largely increased by adding new words and phrases from Winslow's Dictionary, from the Madras University Lexicon, as far as it was published up to the year 1932, and from recent text-books and other literature" (Preface to the Third Edition, dated 24 August, 1933).

1938: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary of English and Tamil, revised edition, compiled by P[eter] Percival. Madras: The Madras School Book and Literature Society, 1938. Original blue cloth over boards, with white paper label on spine, lettered in black. Pp. 1-3 4-441 442. Revised edition, reprinted several times in the twentieth century without indication of printing, sometimes with slight variations in title. OCLC lists an edition as early as 1905. Zaunmüller, col. 374, lists only the 1935 Madras edition, without any indication of earlier printings. Includes English-Tamil only, pp. [3]-441.

1951: [IUW] A dictionary, Tamil and English: with an appendix of modern scientific terms, rev. and enl. / by V. Visvanatha Pillai. 6th ed. Madras, India: Published by The Madras School Book and Literature Society, 1951. 706 p.; 22 cm. "Authorized by the director of public instruction."

1954: [IUW] The school dictionary: English-English-Tamil / by T.A. Swaminatha Aiyar. 11th ed. reprinted. Madras: C. Coomarasawmy Naidu & Sons, 1954. 1211, xxvi p.; 19 cm.

1960: [LILLYbm] Tamilsko-russkii slovar, okolo 38000 slov, by A[leksandr] M[oiseevich] Piatigorskii & S[emen] G[esselovich] Rudin. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsionalnykh slovarei, 1960. Additional title page in Tamil. Original orange cloth over boards, decorated in black and blind and lettered in black and orange. Pp. 1-7 8-1384. First edition. Includes Tamil-Russian, pp. [13]-1287. First Russian dictionary of Tamil. This copy with the ink ownership stamps of Egon Fouquet (and date July 1961) and Prof. Dr. John. Schröpfer. Fouquet was author of the Russian textbook Übersicht über die russische Sprache, Berlin, 1958, and Wortbetonung und Verbalaspekt, zwei Hauptprobleme des modernen Russisch, Munich, n.d. A Festschrift for the noted linguist Johann Schröpfer was published in Munich in 1991, along with a complete bibliography of his writings, including his Wörterbuch der vergleichenden Bezeichnungslehre: Onomasiologie, Heidelberg, 1979. Second copy: [IUW].

1965a: [LILLYbm] Descriptive Grammar of Cilappatikaaram, by S. V. Subramanian. Madras: Paari Nilayam, [1965]. Original pale blue wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [12] i ii-vi, 1-3 4-88, [4] 1 2-308, 1 2-8. First edition. Includes Tamil-English dictionary, based on the Ciliappatikaaram, pp. [1]-308. This copy inscribed by the author to the noted linguist Carl Voegelin: "With kind regards to Prof. Voegelin, | Indiana University | S. V. Subramanian.' From the library of Carleton T. Hodge.

"Cilappatikaaram is one of the two ancient epics in Tamil...It is considered by many to belong to the second century A.D...This date has been questioned seriously by Sri S. Vaiyapuri Pillai, who has assigned this epic to the 8th century A. D. on internal evidence" (Introduction).

1965b: [IUW] Russko-tamil'skiĭ slovar': okolo 24 000 slov / Sost.: kand. filol. nauk M.S. Andronov, A.Sh. Ibragimov, N.N. Īuganova. Pod red. P. Somasundarama. Moskva: "Sovetskaia Ėntsiklopediia," 1965. 1175 p.; 21 cm. Original light gray cloth over boards, lettered in red and white. Russian-Tamil, pp. [25]-1108.

1971: [IUW] A Tamil prose reader; selections from contemporary Tamil prose with notes and glossary by R. E. Asher and R. Radhakrishnan. Cambridge [Eng.] University Press, 1971. x, 237 p. 23 cm. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Glossary, Tamil-English, pp. [138]-237.

1972: [IUW] A grammar of Tirukkural [by] A. Dhamotharan. [New Delhi] South Asia Institute, University of Heidelberg, Delhi Branch, 1972. x, 257 p. 27 cm. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Revision of the author's thesis, Kerala University. South Asian studies, no. 5. Label mounted on t. p.: Exclusively distributed by Munshiram Manoharlal, Delhi. Bibliography: p. [255]-257. Glossary: Tamil (in phonetic transcription, according to the Tamil alphabet)-Tim-English, pp. [201]-[252]. The glossary serves as a concise lexicon of the Tirukkural.

"Tirukkural, the 'Bible' of the Tamil people... is now widely recognized as a gospel of mankind and an inimitable masterpiece of eternal validity" (p. 10).

1989: [IUW] Russko-tamil'skiĭ slovar': okolo 25,000 slov / M.S. Andronov ... [et al.]; pod redaktsiei P. Somasundarama i E.I. Konovalova; s prilozheniem kratkogo ocherka grammatiki russkogo ĭazyka M.S. Andronova. Izd. 2., ispr. i dop. Moskva:

"Russkii ĭazyk", 1989. 606 p.; 25 cm. Original dark gray paper over boards, lettered in white. Russian-Tamil, pp. [29]-563.

1992: [IUW] Kriyāvin tarkālat Tamīl akarāti: Tamīl-Tamīl-Āṅkilam / [chief editor, P.R. Subramanian]. 1st ed. Madras: Kriyā, 1992. xxxvi, 979 p.: ill.; 23 cm. Tamil-Tamil-English dictionary.

2005a: [IUW] Milet picture dictionary: English-Tamil / Sedat Turhan; illustrated by Sally Hagin. London: Milet, 2005. 48 p.: ill.; 25 cm. Original illustrated multi-colored paper over boards, lettered in black. English-Tamil. Thematically arranged, [48 p., unpaginated]. No preliminary material.

2005b: [IUW] Urtū Tamīl akarāti: Irupatāyirattukku mēṛpaṭṭa Urtū corṇalukku Tamīl viḷakkam, by Mukṭār Patri [Mukḥtār Badrī]. 1st ed. Cennai: Mullai Patippakam, 2005. 306 p.; 23 cm. Title on t.p. verso: Urdu-Tamil dictionary.

2015: [IUW] तमिल-हिंदी व्यावहारिक लघु कोश. Tamīl-Hinti valakkuccol akarāti = Tamila-Hindī vyāvahārika laghu kośa. Mutal patippu. Pututilli: Mattiya Hinti Iyakkakam, 2015. xi, 674 pages; 23 cm. Tamil-Hindi dictionary.

2016: [IUW] Moliyin Tarkalat Tamīl corcērkkai akarāti: Tamīl-Āṅkilam / uruvākkam, Moḷi. Cennai: Pārati Puttakālayam, 2016. xxxiv, 583 pages; 23 cm. Title on title page verso: Contemporary Tamil collocations dictionary (Tamil-English). Cover title: Mozhi's contemporary Tamil collocations dictionary (Tamil-English). Includes bibliographical references (page [xxxvi]). Tamil-English dictionary of collocations.

[TAMPULMA] The Tamprusi language, Tampulma, is a Gur language of Ghana (WikP).

Ethnologue: tpm. Alternate Names: Tampele, Tamplima, Tampole, Tampolem, Tampolense, Tamprusi.

1932: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TANAHMERAH] Tanah Merah (Tanahmerah) may refer to either of two Papuan languages: Sumuri language (Trans–New Guinea) or Tabla language (Sentani) (WikP). Ethnologue calls these same two languages Tanahmerah and Tabla. Speakers of Tanahmerah: 500 (1978 SIL).

Ethnologue: tcm. Alternate Names: Sumeri, Sumerine.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TANAINA] Dena'ina /dɪˈnaɪnə/, also Tanaina, is the Athabaskan language of the region surrounding Cook Inlet. It is geographically unique in Alaska as the only Alaska Athabaskan language to include territory which borders salt water. Four dialects are usually distinguished: [1] Upper Inlet, spoken in Eklutna, Knik, Susitna, Tyonek; [2] Outer Inlet, spoken in Kenai, Kustatan, Seldovia; [3] Iliamna, spoken in Pedro Bay, Old Iliamna, Lake Iliamna area; [4] Inland, spoken in Nondalton, Lime Village. Of the total Dena'ina population of about 900 people, only 75–95 members still speak Dena'ina. James Kari has done extensive work on the language since 1972, including his edition with Alan Boraas of the collected writings of Peter Kalifornsky in 1991. Joan M. Tenenbaum also conducted extensive field research on the language in the 1970s (WikP).

Ethnologue: tfn. Alternate Names: Dena'ina, Kinayskiy.

1874: [LILLYbm] Leopold Radloff's Wörterbuch der Kinai-Sprache, ed. by A[nton] Schiefner [1817-1879]. St. Petersburg: Académie Impériale des Sciences, 1874. Series: Mémoires de l'Académie Impériale des Sciences de St.-Petersbourg, VIIe serie, Tome XXI, No. 8. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black (lacking rear wrapper). Pp. [2] I II-X, 1 2-33 34. First edition. Not in Zaubmüller. Includes German-Kinai, pp. [1]-33. First dictionary of this language, identified as an Athapaskan language spoken in Alaska, almost certainly present-day Tanaina, as spoken in Kenai, Alaska. It is discussed here along with references to Ahtna around Copper River in South Central Alaska, which is known today by only a few native speakers (see AHTENA).

"The city of Kenai is named after the local Dena'ina (Tanaina) word 'ken' or 'kena', which means 'flat, meadow, open area with few trees; base, low ridge', according to the Dena'ina Topical Dictionary by James Kari, Ph.D., published in 2007. This describes the area along the mouth and portion of the Kenai River near the City of Kenai. Before the arrival of the Russians, Kenai was a Dena'ina village called Shk'ituk't, meaning "where we slide down." When Russian fur traders first arrived in 1741, about 1,000 Dena'ina lived in the village. The traders called the people "Kenaitze", which is a Russian term for "people of the flats", or "Kenai people". This name was later adopted when they were incorporated as the Kenaitze Indian Tribe in the early 1970s" (WikP).

The original manuscript material for the Kinai [Tanaina] dictionary was gathered by Leopold Radloff, who died before it could be published. Schiefner eventually took over the task of editing the material, including word lists from other sources, as discussed in the preface. This copy with the ink ownership stamp of Wilhelm Grube, author of the Goldisch-Deutsches Wörterverzeichnis, St. Petersburg, 1900, the first dictionary of Nanai.

"Vocabularies such as one finds at the end of travel books are often quite extensive,--but what guarantee do we have of their accuracy? The linguist should accept such lists with thanks since they open new paths, but also with caution, for the paths they open are often slippery'. Although we share these sentiments, and find them supported even in the material offered here, we still must hope, in the interest of linguistic research and ethnography, that future travelers do not tire of assembling wherever possible extensive and comprehensive vocabularies that reflect when possible the entire life and activities, the whole world of ideas, of individual tribes, even if they are not granted the opportunity to devote themselves to a truly thorough study of the languages" (Foreword, tr: BM).

1977: [LILLYbm] Dena'ina noun dictionary, by James [M.] Kari. Fairbanks: Alaska Native Language Center, University of Alaska, 1977. Original black plastic spiral binding and brown wrappers lettered in black. Pp. [4] 1-355 (with the number 220 omitted in the pagination). First edition. 400 copies. Includes English-Tanaina vocabulary, thematically arranged, pp. 23-285, with Tanaina-English index, pp. 286-353. Second copy: [IUW].

"The name 'Tanaina' is the anglicized version of 'Dena'ina', which means 'the people'. The spelling and pronunciation 'Dena'ina' is strongly preferred by the people, especially those who read and write their language" (note to Preface).

"This is a dictionary of nouns for the Dena'ina...language of Alaska's Cook Inlet Basin... The dictionary contains...about 5,500 Dena'ina entries. It has been cross-checked in all four Dena'ina language areas... Many of the sections are considerably more detailed than are similar wordlists for other Athabaskan languages. The bird list, with 122 bird names, and the plant list with 259 items, are particularly noteworthy. Dena'ina vocabulary is very colorful and distinctive. Many Dena'ina words are found nowhere else in Athabaskan.... The dictionary also contains many obscure and fascinating items of Dena'ina life that have not been noted before for an Athabaskan people" (Preface).

2007: [IUW] Dena'ina topical dictionary / James Kari. Fairbanks, AK: Alaska Native Language Center, University of Alaska Fairbanks, 2007. xxxix, 366 p.: ill., maps; 28 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. A dictionary of the Dena'ina Athabaskan language of southcentral Alaska. Vocabulary is English-to-Dena'ina, organized by topic.

2013: Revised edition [IUW] Dena'ina topical dictionary / James Kari. Rev. ed. Fairbanks, AK: Alaska Native Language Center, University of Alaska Fairbanks, 2013. xxix, 370 pages: illustrations, maps; 28 cm. Includes bibliographical references (pages 365-368) and indexes. A dictionary of the Dena'ina Athabaskan language of southcentral Alaska. Vocabulary is English-to-Dena'ina, organized by topic.

"This is a dictionary of the Dena'ina Athabaskan language of Cook Inlet Basin and the Southern Alaska Range. Vocabulary lists arranged by topic provide a panoramic view of the central cultural and ecological concepts of the Dena'ina. In terms of breadth of subjects, technical specificity, dialect coverage, and illustrations, this is the most refined topical lexicon in existence for an Alaska Native language and for any language in the Athabaskan family. More than one hundred Dena'ina speakers contributed words, and many chapters were reviewed by experts in natural history and ethnology. This work positions Dena'ina topical materials at the intersection of ethnology and linguistics."--Back cover.

[TANDIA] Tandia is a nearly extinct Austronesian language in the putative Cenderawasih (Geelvink Bay) family of Indonesian Papua. Most speakers have shifted to Wandamen. There are only two speakers of Tandia in the world and they both live just south of the Wohsimi River on the Wandamen Peninsula, Irian Jaya Province, Indonesia (WikP). Population: No known L1 speakers. Last known speaker survived into the 1990s (1991 SIL) (Ethnologue).

Ethnologue: tni.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT

[TANGALE] Tangale (Tangle) is a West Chadic language spoken in Northern region of Nigeria. The vast majority of the native speakers are found across Akko, Billiri, Kaltungo and Shongom Local Government Area of Gombe State Nigeria (WikP).

Ethnologue: tan. Alternate Names: Tangle.

1991: [LILLYbm] A dictionary of the Tangale language: (Kaltungo, Northern Nigeria), by Hermann Jungraithmayr. Berlin: Dietrich Reimer, 1991. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-7 8-218 219-220 with linguistic map. First edition. Series: Sprache und Oralität in Afrika, vol. 12. Includes Tangale-English, pp. 65-171, and English-Tangale, pp. 175-217, double columns. First dictionary of Tangale.

The author wrote his doctoral dissertation on the Tangale language in 1956 with Johannes Lukas at Hamburg University. Second copy: [LILLYbm], in wrappers: original green wrappers lettered in green. Second copy: [IUW].

"Tangale country lies some 30-40 miles south of Gombe...in a hilly landscape the outstanding landmark of which is the Tangale Peak (ca. 1300 m). It forms part of the former Tangale-Waja District in Bauchi State, North-eastern Nigeria... The main division linguistically as well as politically within the Tangale speaking area, which comprises some 30 villages with a total population of approximately 70,000 people, is between Billiri (Biliri) in the northwest and Kaltungo in the southeast."

2004: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2012: [IUW] Wunthu sab Tangale: Po Tangle-English dictionary and vocabulary / editors, Nereus Yerima Tadi, Malata Andrew Zakayo. First edition. Zaria, Kaduna State, Nigeria: Ahmadu Bello University Press Limited, [2012]. ©2012. First edition. xvii, 271 pages; 24 cm. Original pale blue, blue, white and red wrappers, lettered in black, red, and white." A publication of the Po-Tangle Committee." Tangle [Tangale]-English, pp. 1-140, English-Tangle [Tangale], pp. 141-246. Includes bibliographical references (page 271).

"[This dictionary] has been written with the understanding that it will be read by people who are largely not very literate in the language even when they are Tangle speakers.... We are ... mindful of the fact that Tangle language is an endangered specie.... The need is therefore urgent for the present Tangle speakers to reduce Po Tangle into writing (a more durable form of expression) if some measure of continuity is to be ensured.... It is our hope that with the dictionary in place all kinds of writings will emerge in the language: from the normative to the creative. This is long overdue!" (Introduction).

[TANZANIAN SIGN LANGUAGE] Seven or so Tanzanian sign languages were developed independently among deaf students in separate Tanzanian schools for the Deaf starting in 1963, though use of several is forbidden by their schools. In 1984, a standardized Tanzanian Sign Language was proposed by the Tanzania Association for the Deaf, using common or similar signs where these exist in the schools which allowed research, but it has not been officially implemented, and there remains little influence between the languages. A dictionary has been produced [see below]. The common Swahili name in Tanzania for these languages is Lugha ya Alama. (The name Lugha ya Bubu is also used, but is reported by Ethnologue to be pejorative) (WikP).

Ethnologue: tza. Alternate Names: Lugha ya Alama ya Tanzania.

2004: [IUW] Kamusi ya Lugha ya Alama ya Tanzania (LAT) = Tanzanian Sign Language (TSL) dictionary: Kiswahili-TSL-English, edited by H.R.T. Muzale. Toleo la pili = 2nd ed. Dar es Salaam: Languages of Tanzania Project, University of Dar es Salaam, 2004. xxii, 249 p.: chiefly ill.; 24 cm. LOT publications. Lexicon series; no. 2. Includes index. In Swahili and English.

[TARAHUMARA] The Tarahumara language (native name Rarámuri/Ralámuli ra'ícha "people language") is a Mexican indigenous language of the Uto-Aztecan language family spoken by around 70,000 Tarahumara (Rarámuri/Ralámuli) people in the state of Chihuahua, according to an estimate by the government of Mexico. There is no consensus among specialists on the number of dialects: competing proposals include two (Western and Eastern); four (Western, Northern, Southern, Eastern); and five, according to field surveys conducted in the 1990s by linguists working for the Mexican government and Ethnologue. Mexican researchers emphasize that the knowledge of Rarámuri dialects is still patchy, and they say there is a possibility that there are many more than five dialects. The five divisions tentatively recognized by the Mexican government are not the same ones proposed by Ethnologue (WikP).

Ethnologue lists five separate languages under the heading Tarahumara: 1) Central Tarahumara [tar]; 2) Northern Tarahumara [thh]; 3) Southeastern Tarahumara [tcu]; 4) Southwestern Tarahumara [twr]; and 5) Western Tarahumara [tac].

1920: [IUW] Pequeña gramática y diccionario de la lengua tarahumara, por el H. Jose Ferrero. Mexico: Imprenta dirigida por J. Aguilar Vera, 1920. 228 p.; 17 cm. "Edición costada por las alumnas del Colegio del Sagrado Corazón de esta ciudad."

1955: [LILLYbm] Tarahumara-English English Tarahumara Dictionary and an Introduction to Tarahumara Grammar, by I. Thord-Gray. Coral Gables, Florida: University of Miami Press, 1955. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-14 15-1170 1171-172. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 375. Bartholomew B.4.2. Includes: Tarahumara-English, pp. 59-501, and English-Tarahumara, pp. 505-1144. This copy inscribed in ink on the free endpaper: "To Mrs. Marjory Stoneman Douglas / With my compliments / I. Thord-Gray." Douglas was author of novels, short stories and other works including The Everglades: river of grass (1947), Alligator crossing (1959), and Nine Florida stories (1990). This is the first English dictionary of the language and by far the most complete. Second copy: [IUW].

"This lexicon is an attempt to provide an approach to an understanding of the Tarahumara, one of the more important North American tribal groups that have, to an extent, survived the civilizing of their conquerors.... Rapid changes are taking place among these people. In a few years it may be difficult to distinguish the old from the new... The Tarahumara is apparently not very closely related linguistically to any other culture, except perhaps, to the Varohio..., but lexically the language belongs to the Uto-Aztec group, which consists of widely scattered tribes and languages" (Preface). "The Indians known as the Tarahumara... live in the most mountainous region of the Sierra Madre, in the West and Southwest area of the State of Chihuahua, Mexico.... Barring the Nahuatl... the Tarahumara appear to be the largest tribe North of Mexico City. Their total population is now only about forty to forty-five thousand. But at one time... they must have been in vast numbers, perhaps somewhere near a million. Their legends say that they were more numerous than the grass on the mesa" (Introduction).

"It is readily evident that this dictionary is much more than a vocabulary but a compilation of anthropological and linguistic data as well" (Bartholomew).

1959: [IUW] Tarahumara y español, compilado por K. Simon Hilton con colaboración de Ramón López B. y Emiliano Carrasco T. Mexico, Instituto Lingüístico de Verano en cooperación con la Dirección General de Asuntos Indígenas de la Secretaría de Educación Pública, 1959. Cover title: Vocabulario tarahumara. xvi, 216 p. illus. 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream and light green wrapper, lettered in black. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves; no. 1. Tarahumara-Spanish, pp. 3-126, Spanish-Tarahumara, pp. 129-213, with line drawings. Preface includes information on prior Tarahumara vocabularies.

1993: Revised edition [IUW] Diccionario tarahumara de Samachique, Chihuahua, México, por K. Simón Hilton. Ed. especial corr. y actual. Tucson, AZ: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1993. viii, 146 p.; 22 cm. Library binding preserving original blue and black front and rear wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indígenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves" núm. 101. Tarahumara-Spanish, pp. 3-77, Spanish-Tarahumara, pp. 81-130. Includes bibliographical references (p. 144-146).

"The present vocabulary is a revision of the first edition published in 1959. All of the Tarahumara words have been newly revised with the aid of Señores Martín Reyes Ch. and Dionisio Pérez V., who speak the Tarahumara of Samachique" (Advertencias: tr: BM).

1972: [IUW] Los elementos de la lengua tarahumara, by Andrés' Lionnet. [1. ed.]. México, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Instituto de Investigaciones Históricas, 1972. 104 p. map. 23 cm. Serie antropologica (Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México. Sección de Antropología); no. 13. Bibliography: p. 32-33.

2005: [IUW] Traductor rarámuri al español = Español al tarahumara, by Germán Palma Holguín. 1a. ed. Chihuahua.: Autor, 2005. 552 p.; 22 cm. Original title: Traductor tatamuri-español, español-inverso.

2010: Reprinted [IUW] Traductor: rarámuri = español, by Germán Palma Holguín. Chihuahua, Chih., Mexico: Universidad Autonoma de Chihuahua, 2010. 552 p.; 21 cm.

[TARANGAN] Tarangan is one of the Aru languages, spoken by inhabitants of the Aru Islands. East and West Tarangan are divergent, perhaps no closer than they are to Manombai, also spoken in the Arus. West Tarangan is a trade language of the southern islands (WikP).

Ethnologue lists East and West Tarangan as separate languages. East Tarangan: tre. Alternate Names: East Trangan, Tarangan Timur; West Tarangan: txn. Alternate Names: Tarangan Barat, West Trangan.

1867: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TARIFIT] Riffian, Rif Berber, or Riffian Berber (native name: Tarifit) is a Northern Zenata variety of the Berber language spoken by about 2.5 million Moroccans, mainly in the Rif provinces Al Hoceima, Nador, Driouch, Berkane, a minority language in Tangier, Oujda, Tetouan, and among Riffian migrant communities in western Europe (WikP).

Ethnologue: rif. Alternate Names: Arrif, Northern Shilha, Rif, Rif Berber, Rifeño, Riff, Rifía, Rifiya, Ruafa, Shilha, Tamazight, Tamazight n Arrif, Tarifiyt, Tarifyt Berber.

1898: [LILLY] Notice sur le dialecte berbère des Bini Iznacen, by René Basset. Florence: Stabilimento Tipografico Fiorentino, 1898. 14 pp. Original printed gray wrappers. Presentation copy from the author to Gustav Mercier, author of several important scholarly works on Algeria. Includes pp. French-Bini Izancen [Iznasen (alternate name: Beni Snassen), a dialect of Tarifit], pp. 5-13.

1926 [2013]: [IUW] Manuel de berbère marocain (dialecte rifain) / Leopold Victor Justinard. Munich: LINCOM Europa, 2013. viii, 168 pages: 1 folded map; 21 cm.

Original yellow and red wrappers, lettered in yellow, black and red. LINCOM orientalia; 80. Part 4: Vocabulary, French-Berber [Tarifit], pp. [110]-163. Facsimile / reprint. Originally published: Paris: Paul Geuthner, 1926.

"The present work, dedicated to the Berber dialect of the Rifains, is a compilation of notes taken over the course of three months spent at l'État Major du 193 Corps d'Armée, during operations in the summer of 1925 north of Taza [Morocco], notes taken rapidly to study the language. It is intended for those who wish to do the same. That is, it has no scholarly pretensions, but represents instead a practical result" (from the rear cover: tr: BM).

1944: [LILLYbm] Diccionario español-rifeño, by Esteban Ibáñez. Madrid: [Imprenta de la viuda de E. Maestre], 1944. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in red and black. Pp. III-IX X-XXXI XXXII, 1 2---440 441-442 + four-color folding linguistic map. First edition. 1,000 copies. Zaunmüller, col. 29. Hendrx 363. Series: Ediciones de la revista "Verdad y vida." Sección VI: Filología, num. 1. Includes Spanish-Rif [Tarifit], pp. [1]-440. This copy with the pencil ownership signature "Cortes," dated Beirut, 1962, possibly Julio Cortes, author of Diccionario de arabe culto moderno: arabe-espanol (Madrid, 1996).

1949: [LILLYbm] Diccionario rifeño-español (etimologico), by Esteban Ibáñez. Madrid: Instituto de Estudios Africanos, 1949. Original cream wrappers, lettered and decorated in black and red. Pp. I-IX X-LXXIII LXXIV-LXXVI, 1 2-336 337-338. First edition. 1,200 copies. Zaunmüller, col. 29. Hendrix 364. Dalby 199. Includes Rif-Spanish, pp. [1]-331, with a detailed bibliography of works on the Berber language, pp. [LV]-LXXIII. This copy with the blind ex-libris stamp of David Alexander Griffin on the front wrapper and title page. Griffin was the author of Los mozarabismos del "Vocabulista" atribuido a Ramon Marti (Madrid, 1961). Together with the previous volume, this constitutes the first complete dictionary of Tarifit.

"There are two major goals in publishing this Rif-Spanish dictionary. First to provide for the studios a new means of learning the Rif Berber dialect... Secondly to offer to the native speakers a vehicle that will allow them to gain a complete command of the Spanish language.... [The present dictionary] is a complement to our previously published Diccionario Español-Rifeño [see above]... With the publication of this first Rif-Spanish dictionary, we believe we have brought to fruition a project begun with such hopes for the future by Father Pedro Hilarión Sarrionandia" (Introduction, tr: BM)

Rif is one of three major dialects of the Berber language, spoken in the mountainous Rif region of Morocco. "Whatever these dialects be called, the Kabyle, the Shilha, the Zenati, the Tuareg or Tamashak, the Berber language is still essentially one, and the similarity between the forms current in Morocco, Algeria, the Sahara and the far-distant oasis of Siwa is much more marked than between the Norse and English in the sub-Aryan Teutonic group" (Encyclopedia Britannica, 13th ed.).

2004: [IUW] A Tarifit Berber-English dictionary: documenting an endangered language / Clive W. McClelland, III. Lewiston, N.Y.: Edwin Mellen Press, c2004. xxii, 349 p.: ill., maps; 24 cm. Original light brown and cream cloth over boards, lettered in black, with Berber lettering on front cover, color photo of author on back cover. Tarifit-English, pp. [46]-337. Includes bibliographical references (p. [339]-343) and index. First English bilingual dictionary of Tarifit.

"Tarifit Berber is a little-researched language with only one other dictionary as far as I know, produced by a Spanish Catholic in the middle of the last century (i.e., Ibanez, Esteban, 1944 [see above])... and (same author) 1949 [see above]). Since then the language has changed dramatically due to the dominance of French, Spanish, Arabic languages and European mass media" (Foreword).

[TAROK] Tarok is a regionally important Plateau language of Nigeria (WikP).

Ethnologue: yer. Alternate Names: Appa, Yergam, Yergum.

1982: [LILLYbm] "Tarok-Erzählungen," by Leo Sibomana, in: Afrika und Übersee: Sprachen. Kulturen, Vol. 64, no.2 (15 November 1982), pp. 249-279. Original cream wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown. Includes Tarok-German vocabulary, pp. 262-271, and German-Tarok, pp. 271-279.

1998: [IUW] Kang wa kong ka acu itarok kat: keeping Tarok language alive / Adamu Labut Mamfa. [Nigeria?]: A.L. Mamfa, c1998. ix, 59 p.: ill.; 24 cm. Original pink white and blue wrappers, lettered in blue and white, with a drawing of a tribal family on the front cover. Thematically arranged Tarok-English, pp. 2-39.

"Extinction seems to be the fate of several languages in competition with so called major or trade or languages of wider communication. In the case of Tarok, the obvious signs of demise is what experts may call 'code mixing and code switching.' Young people hardly make pure Tarok utterances any longer. This short title aims at filling the gap of a dearth of post literacy material in the language.... A further aim of this book is to satisfy my literary urge" (Preface).

[TASMANIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT] The Tasmanian or Palawa languages were the languages indigenous to the island of Tasmania. The languages were last used for daily communication in the 1830s. The last full-blooded Tasmanian died on Flinders Island in 1888, but a Tasmanian lingua franca continued to be used until 1905, with the death of the last known speaker, Fanny Cochrane Smith. Tasmanian Aborigines today speak English. Tasmanian languages are attested by three dozen word lists, the most extensive being those of Joseph Milligan [see below 1857 and 1866] and George Augustus Robinson. All these show a poor grasp of the sounds of Tasmanian, which appear to have been fairly typical of Australian languages in this parameter. Plomley (1976) [see below] presents all the lexical data available to him in 1976. Crowley and Dixon (1981) summarise what little is known of Tasmanian phonology and grammar. Bown (2012) teases apart the mixture of languages in many of the lists and attempts to classify them into language families (WikP).

Ethnologue includes 19 Tasmanian languages, all extinct.

1857: [LILLY] Vocabulary of Dialects of Aboriginal Tribes of Tasmania, by Joseph Milligan. Tasmania: James Barnard, Government Printer, 1857. Original self-wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. [Cover title] 1856. Tasmania. Vocabulary of the Aborigines of Tasmania. Return to address to His Excellency the Governor; and ordered by the Council to be printed, 23 February, 1857. 20 pp. One of a series of reports (this No. 7) by Joseph Milligan to the Tasmanian parliament. May be earliest printed vocabulary of Tasmanian aboriginal dialects.

1866: [LILLY] Vocabulary of the dialects of some of the aboriginal tribes of Tasmania, by Joseph Milligan. Hobart Town, Tasmania: J. Barnard, Government Printer, 1866. 36. pp. Later half-leather binding by Bayntun. This vocabulary was first published in 1859 in the Papers and Proceedings of the Royal Society of Tasmania, Vol. 3, Pt. 2. It was then issued by the Government Printer in Tasmania in this separate edition in 1866 of 36 pages. Includes English-Tasmanian (3 different groups of tribes identified by geographical area), pp. 16-52, with "short sentences in the native language, pp. 53-55, place names, pp. 56-57, names of aborigines, pp. 58-59, and an appendix of a list of words used by natives of the Oyster Bay tribe copies from the 1826 manuscript of Thomas Scott, p. 60. This copy belonged to E.M. Curr and has his pencilled annotations and a note on p. 35. The memoirs of Edward Micklethwaite Curr [1820-1889], Recollections of squatting in Victoria, then called the Port Phillip District, from 1841 to 1851, were reprinted by Cambridge University Press in 1965.

"The day is not far distant when, according to the ordinary course of nature, the last of the surviving remnant of the aboriginal inhabitants of Tasmania, now maintained at a Government establishment, and little more than a dozen in number, must be removed by death, and a distinct people cease to exist.... [U]nder such circumstances, every scrap of authentic information regarding the aborigines of Van Diemen's Land may be regarded as of some value" (pp. [5], 7).

1890: Second separate edition [LILLYbm] Vocabulary of the dialects of some of the aboriginal tribes of Tasmania, by Joseph Milligan. Hobart, Tasmania: William Thomas Strutt, Government Printer, 1890. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. [Second separate edition]. Zaunmüller, col. 375 (listing first printing of 1859 in the Journals of the Royal Society). It was reprinted as well in H. Ling Roth's The Aborigines of Tasmania (1890), see below.

1890: [LILLYbm] The Aborigines of Tasmania, by H. Ling Roth. Assisted by Marion E. Butler, with a Chapter on the Osteology by J. G. Garson, M.D., Vice-President Anthropological Institute, and Lecturer on Comparative Anatomy at Charing Cross Hospital; and a Preface by Edward B. Tylor, Esq. D.C.I., F. R.S. [etc.]. With Numerous Autotype Plates, from Original Drawings made by Edith May Roth. London: Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., 1890. Original red cloth over boards (damp and mold damage on front cover), lettered in gold, and decorated in blind. Pp. i-v vi-xxvii xxviii, 1 2-224, 2i ii-cx. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 375 (listing only the second edition of 1899). Includes English-Tasmanian vocabularies, pp. 2[i]-lxvi.

This copy with ink presentation inscription: "To the Editor | The Academy | From the Author". Edition limited to 200 numbered copies, initialed by the editor, for subscribers only. Ferguson 15111; Greenway 8121. "Henry Ling Roth (1855-1925) was the brother of Walter Edmund Roth (1861-1933), both distinguished anthropologists who contributed substantially to Australian anthropology. Henry Ling Roth also wrote several other books of note including Great Benin (1903), The Yorkshire Coiners (1906), Oriental Silverwork (1910), all of which are much sought after" (Gaston Renard bookseller's description).

"In the present work, the recorded knowledge as to the extinct native race of Tasmania has been brought together with, I think, an approach to absolute completeness" (Preface).

"The disappearance of the Tasmanian race is a unique instance of the pathos and the mystery of human destiny. Everybody, we suppose, has read that the Tasmanians were exterminated, not only in regular warfare, but also in the sport of civilized Europeans out for a day's shooting. And it is quite true that, between 1825, when the war against the blacks began, to 1834, when the last starved remnants of the race were removed to Flinders Island, parties of Christian whites would go larking forth into the forest on the chance of bagging niggers... But the story has its humane side, although, as shown by Mr. Roth, the humanity was fatally misdirected" (from a review of 1899 in the Daily News, loosely inserted in the book).

1952: [IUW] Die tasmanischen Sprachen: Quellen, Gruppierungen, Grammatik, Wörterbücher / von Wilhelm Schmidt. Utrecht: Spectrum, 1952. 521 p.; 24 cm. Uniform series: Publications (Permanent International Committee of Linguists. Committee for Linguistic Inquiry) 5. Dalby 1524. Bibliography: p. 16-26; bibliographical footnotes.

1976: [LILLYbm] A Word-List of the Tasmanian Aboriginal Languages, by N.J.B. Plomley. [Launceton: Australia]: The Author in association with the Government of Tasmania, 1976. Gray cloth over boards, lettered in brown: d.j. shades of brown and tan, illustrated, and lettered in white and dark brown. 486 pp. Dalby 1523. First edition, one of 1000 numbered and signed copies [no. 412, not signed]. This first, full-scale word list of Tasmanian is compiled from both published and unpublished previous vocabularies.

[TARUMA] Taruma (Taruamá) is a divergent language of northeastern South America. It has been reported to be extinct several times since as far back as 1770, but Eithne Carlin discovered the last three speakers living in Maruranau among the Wapishana, and is documenting the language. The people and language are known as Saluma in Suriname. Taruma is unclassified. It has been proposed to be distantly related to Katembri (Kaufman 1990), but this relationship has not been repeated in recent surveys of South American languages (Campbell 2012).

Taruma was spoken around the mouth of the Rio Negro during the late 1600s, but the speakers later moved to southern Guyana. In the 1940s, the Taruma tribe were reported to no longer exist as a distinct group. However, their presence has recently been confirmed in the Wapishana village of Marunarau, where they are recognized as a distinct tribe. (WikP).

Ethnologue: tdm. Alternate Names: Aroaqui, Charuma, Saloema, Saluma, Taruamá.

1848: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TAT, MUSLIM] The Tat language or Tat/Tati Persian or Tati (Tat: zuhun tati) is a Southwestern Iranian language related to, but mutually unintelligible with Persian and spoken by the Tats in Azerbaijan and Russia. Its written form is related to Middle Persian Pahlavi. There is also an Iranian language called Judeo-Tat spoken by Jews of Caucasus. The Tats are an indigenous Iranian people in the Caucasus who trace their origin to the Sassanid-period migrants from Iran (ca. fifth century AD). Tat is endangered, classified as "severely endangered" by UNESCO's Atlas of the World's Languages in Danger. Most scholars divide Tat into two general varieties: Jewish and Muslim, with religious differences correlating with linguistics differences. Another, almost extinct variety of Tat is spoken by Christians of Armenian origin, who are called Armeno-Tats. According to the 1989 Soviet census, 30,000 Tats lived in the Soviet Union, of which 10,000 were in Azerbaijan. The adults in most of the mountain and foothill communities reported they use Tat as their main language of interaction. They speak Tat with each other, but speak Azerbaijani with their children so that they will learn the language before beginning school. If the wife in the family is non-Tat speaking, however, the family is most likely to use Azerbaijani in the home. In the villages of Lahıc and Zəyvə, women who marry in are reported to learn Tat (WikP).

Ethnologue: tt. Alternate Names: Muslim Tat, Mussulman Tati, Tati.

1984: see under TALYSH.

2011-2012: [IUW] فرهنگ تاتی تاکستان: تات، تاتی / مؤلف، رضا رحمانی. Farhang-i Tātī-i Tākistān: Tākistān, Tāt, Tātī / mu'allif, Rizā Raḥmānī. 1 چاپ. Chāp-i 1. First edition. 1390 [2011 or 2012]. Qazvīn: Intishārāt-i Sāl, 1390 [2011 or 2012] 3, 235 p.; 22 cm. Title on p. [4] of cover: Dictionary of Tati language of Takestan Includes bibliographical references (p. 231-235). In Persian, dialect words given in roman form. Dictionary of Tat language, dialects from Tākistān (Iran) in Persian language. Tat language--Dictionaries--Persian. Persian language--Dialects--Iran--Tākistān--Dictionaries. Persian-Tat dictionary.

2012-2013: [IUW] فرهنگ واژگان تاتی (شالی) / نصر الله پور محمدی املشی، حسن غلامی. Farhang-i vāzhagān-i Tātī (Shālī) / Naṣr Allāh Pūr'muḥammadī Amlashī, Ḥusayn Ghulāmī. 1 چاپ. Chāp-i avval. 1391 [2012 or 2013]. Tih-rān: Rasānīsh, 1391 [2012 or 2013]. ©1390 [2011 or 2012]. 376 pages: illustrations, maps; 22 cm. Tātī-Persian dictionary. Includes bibliographical references (pages 375-376). In Tātī (Arabic script and roman) and Persian.

[TATAR] The Tatar language (Tatar: татар теле; татарча, tatar tele, tatarça; or تاتار تلی or [3] طاطر تیلی) is a Turkic language spoken by Volga Tatars mainly located in modern Tatarstan, Bashkortostan and Nizhny Novgorod Oblast. It should not be confused with the Crimean Tatar language, to which it is remotely related but with which it is not mutually intelligible (WikP).

Ethnologue: tat. Alternate Names: Kazan Tatar, Tartar.

1836: [LILLY] Versuch über die tatarischen sprachen, by Wilhelm Schott (1807-1889). Berlin: Veit & comp., 1836. 1 p. l., 81, [1] p. 27 x 21 cm. Contemporary (?) unprinted blue-gray wrappers. This is the author's copy, heavily annotated and revised throughout for what would appear to be a later edition. There is no evidence this later edition ever appeared. A grammar with no formal vocabulary as such, but included here for its intrinsic interest.

1894: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiĭ slovar': s predislovīem o proizneshenīi i ètimologicheskikh izmīenenīiakh tatarskikh slov / A Voskresenskii. Kazan: Tip-lit. univ., 1894. 110+74 p. Title also in Tatar. Russian-Tatar dictionary.

1955-1959: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiĭ slovar'. Kazan': Tatknigoizdat, 1955-1959. 4 v.; 27 cm. Added title pages in Tatar. Vol. 1 edited by N.K. Dmitriev; 2-4 by R.S. Gazizov. In cyrillic characters. Errata slips inserted. Russian-Tatar dictionary.

1963: [IUW] Tatar manual: descriptive grammar and texts with a Tatar-English glossary / by Nicholas Poppe. Bloomington: Indiana University, 1963. xi, 271 p.; 23 cm.

Uralic and Altaic series; v. 25. Research and studies in Uralic and Altaic languages (Series); project no. 43.

1968: Second edition [IUW] Tatar manual; descriptive grammar and texts with a Tatar-English glossary, by Nicholas Poppe. [2d rev. ed.]

Bloomington, Indiana University, 1968. xi, 271 p. 23 cm. Uralic and Altaic series, v. 25. Research and studies in Uralic and Altaic languages (Series); project no. 43.

1966: [IUW] Татарча-русча сүзлек: 38000 чамасы сүзне эченә ала = Татарско-русский словарь: около 38000 слов / зав. редакцией, Головкина, О.В. Tatarcha-ruscha süzlek: 38000 chamasy süzne échenä ala = Tatarsko-russkiï slovar': okolo 38000 slov / zav. redaktsiei, Golovkina, O.V. Мәскәү: "Советская энциклопедия" нәшрияты, 1966. Мәскәү: "Sovetskaïa éntsiklopediia" năshriiaty, 1966. 863 pages; 27 cm. Alby 1526. DIncludes bibliographical references (pages 7-8). Tatar-Russian dictionary.

1968: [IUW] Kazan Türkçesinde atasözleri ve deyimler; açıklamalar, düşünceler, sözlük, örnekler, bir ek. [Ankara] Ankara Üniversitesi Basımevi, 1968. 151 p. 20 cm. Uniform series: Türk Dil Kurumu yayınlarından; 275. Dictionary of proverbs: Turkish-Tatar.

1971: [IUW] Ruscha-tatarcha süzlek: 50 000 chamasy süz. By R.S. Gazıaov and others. Kazan': Tatknigoizdat, 1971. 803 p. 27 cm. Added t.p.: Russko-tatarskiï slovar'. Bibliography: p. [7]. Russian-Tatar dictionary.

1980: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiï frazeologicheskiï slovar' iazyka V.I. Lenina: (bole 2800 frazeologicheskikh edinitı) / L.K. Baıramova. Kazan': Izd-vo Kazanskogo universiteta, 1980. 232 p.; 27 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Russian-Tatar dictionary of terms and phrases.

1984: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiï slovar': okolo 47000 slov / pod redaktsiei F.A. Ganieva; [avtory È.M. Akhunziānov ... et al.]. Moskva: "Russkiï iazyk", 1984. 733 p.; 27 cm. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Title on added t.p.: Ruscha-tatarcha süzlek. Bibliography: p. 7-[8]. Dalby 1525. Russian-Tatar, pp.15-[725].

1991: Third edition [IUW] Russko-tatarskiï slovar': okolo 47,000 slov / pod redaktsiei F.A. Ganieva; [avtory È.M. Akhunziānov ... et al.]. 3. izd., isprav. Third edition. Moskva: "Russkiï iazyk", 1991. 733 p.; 27 cm. Title on added t.p.: Ruscha-tatarcha süzlek. Includes bibliographical references (p. 7-[8]). Russian-Tatar dictionary.

1992: [IUW] Tatarcha-ruscha uku-ukytu süzlege: 10,000 süz chamasında / F.A. Ganiev ... [et al.]; F.Ä. Ganiev redaktsiiasendä. Mäskäü: "Rus tele", 1992. 416 p.; 20 cm. Added title page: Tatarsko-russkiï uchebnyi slovar'. Tatar-Russian training dictionary.

1993a: [IUW] Garäpçä-tatarcha-ruscha alynmalar süzlege: tatar ädäbiätında kullanylgan garäp häm farsy süzläre / M.I. Mäkhmutov, K.Z. Khämzin, G.Sh. Säifullin; M.I. Mäkhmutov tözegän garäp tele grammatikasy beleshmäse kushymta itep birelde. Kazan: Iman, 1993. 2 v.; 20 cm. Vol. 2 has added t.p.: Arabsko-tatarsko-russkiï slovar'. IUW has only v. 1. A-NIK. Arab-Tatar-Russian dictionary.

1993b: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiï meditsinskiï razgovornik / [sostaviteli: L.M. Mukhariānova, L.I. Fidaeva]. Kazan': [Izd-va [sic!]] "Knizhnyi Dom", 1993. 63 p.; 10 x 15 cm. Russian-Tatar medical dictionary.

1994: [LILLYbm] Tatar-English English-Tatar Dictionary, by Sergey Shakhmayev. New York: Hippocrene Books, [1994]. Original pale pink wrappers, lettered in white, blue, and black. Pp. [8] 1-197 198-200. First edition. Tatar-English, pp. 1-91, and English-Tatar, pp. 84-194.

"Over 8,000 entries...Tatar, also called Tartar, is a Turkic tongue spoken by 6 million people throughout the former Soviet Union. Many speakers of Tatar can be found in European Russia as well as Siberia" (from the rear cover).

1996: see under TURKIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1997: [IUW] Ruscha-tatarcha ijtimagyř-săiası sızlek = Russko-tatarskiř obshchestvenno-politicheskiř slovar' / [tözüchelăr F.Ā. Ganiev ... et al.]. Kazan: Tatarstan kitap năshriiaty, 1997. 125 p.; 20 cm. Parallel title: Russko-tatarskiř obshchestvenno-politicheskiř slovar'. Russian-Tatar social sciences-political dictionary.

1998a: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiř slovar' dlăa rabotnikov bibliotek, izdatel'stv i informatsionnykh sluzhb / [sostaviteli G.G. Gabdel'ganeeva ... et al.; otvetstvennyř redaktor R.I. Valeev]. Kazan': Izd-vo "Magarif"; Izd-vo "Milli kitap", 1998. 169 p.; 21 cm. Added title page: Kitapkhanelăr, năshriiatlar hăm măg'lumat oeshmalary khezmatkărlăre ôchen rûscha-tatarcha sızlek. Russian-Tatar information sciences dictionary.

1998b: [IUW] Tatarcha-ruscha sızlek: 25 000 chamasy sızne êchenă ala / F.A. Ganiev, redaktsiiasendă. 3. Basma. Third edition. Kazan: Tatarstan kitap năshriiaty, 1998. 461 p.; 23 cm. Added title page: Tatarsko-russkiř slovar'. Tatar-Russian dictionary.

2004: Fourth edition [IUW] Tatarsko-russkiř slovar': okolo 25000 slov / pod redaktsiei F.A. Ganieva; [avtory, I.A. Abdullin ... et al.]. Izd. 4., ispr. i dop. Fourth edition, revised and enlarged. Kazan': Tatarskoe knizhnoe izd-vo, 2004. 486 p.; 22 cm. Added title page: Tatarcha-ruscha sızlek: 25000 chamasy sızne êchenă ala. Tatar-Russian dictionary.

2009: Fifth edition [IUW] Татарча-русча сүзлек: якынча 25,000 сүз / Ф.А. Ганиев редакциясендă; [авторы, И.А. Абдуллин ... (et al.)]. Tatarcha-ruscha sızlek: iăkyncha 25,000 sız / F.A. Ganiev redaktsiiasendă; [avtory, I.A. Abdullin ... (et al.)]. 5-е басма. 5-е basma. Fifth edition. Казань: Татарское книжное изд-во, 2009. Kazan': Tatarskoe knizhnoe izd-vo, 2009. 523 p.; 22 cm. Added title page: Татарско-русский словарь. Tatarsko-russkiř slovar'. Tatar-Russian dictionary.

1999a: [IUW] Kasantatarisches Wörterverzeichnis: Aufgrund der Sammlung von Ignác Kúnos / zusammengestellt von Zsuzsa Kakuk, unter Mitwirkung von Imre Baski. Ankara: Türk Dil Kurumu, 1999. vii, 134 p.; 24 cm. Series: Türk Dil Kurumu yayınları; 698. Includes bibliographical references. Tatar-German dictionary.

1999b: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiř slovar' êkonomicheskikh terminov = Rusca-tatarca iqtisadi atamalar sızlege = Ruscha tatarcha ik'tisadi atamalar sızlege / F. M. Gazizova. Kazan': Rannur, 1999. 448 p.; 21 cm. Parallel title: Ruscha-tatarcha ik'tisadi atamalar sızlege. Russian-Tatar dictionary of economics.

1999c: [IUW] Tatarcha-ruscha kesă sızlege / R.A. ĪUnaleeva; Ganiev, F.A. redaktsiiasendă. Kazan: "Rannur" năshriiaty, 1999. 272 p.; 18 cm. Added title page: Татарско-русский карманный словарь. Tatarsko-russkiř karmannyř slovar'. Uniform series: "ĪUldash" kitapkhanăse. Tatar-Russian dictionary.

2000a: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiĭ slovar' voennykh terminov / [avtor-sostavitel', R. A. Muginov]. Kazan': Tatarskoe knizhnoe izd-vo, 2000. 150 p.: ill.; 21 cm.

Added title page: Ruscha-tatarcha khärbi terminnar süzlege. Includes bibliographical references (p. 7). In Russian, definitions in Tatar; pref. in Russian and Tatar. Military dictionary.

2000b: [IUW] Russko-tatarskiĭ, Tatarsko-russkiĭ slovar': dliä nachal'nogo obucheniiä russkomu i tatarskomu iazykami / R.A. ĪUnaleeva, R.R. Abdullina; pod red. F.A. Ganieva. 3. izd. Third edition. Kazan': Izd-vo "Magarif", 2000. 221 pages; 22 cm Variant title: Russko-tatarskiĭ i tatarsko-russkiĭ slovar'. Russian-Tatar, Tatar-Russian dictionary.

2001: [IUW] Карманный татарско-русский и русско-татарский словарь / Ф.С. Сафиуллина. Karmannyĭ tatarsko-russkiĭ i russko-tatarskiĭ slovar' / F.S. Safiullina. Инд. второе, стереотипное. Ind. vtore, stereotipnoe. Казань: ТаРИХ, 2001. Kazan': TaRIKH, 2001. 576 p.; 15 cm. Title on verso t.p.: Tatarcha-ruscha häm ruscha-tatarcha kesä süzlege. Summary in Tatar. Tatar-Russian, Russian-Tatar dictionary.

2005a: [IUW] Русско-татарский словарь = Русча-татарча сүзлек / Ф.А. Ганиев, Ф.Ф. Гаффарова; под редакцией Ф.А. Ганиева. Russko-tatarskiĭ slovar' = Ruscha-tatarcha süzlek / F.A. Ganiev, F.F. Gaffarova; pod redaksiĕ F.A. Ganieva. Казань: Издательство "Раннур", 2005. Kazan': Izdatel'stvo "Rannur", 2005. 368 pages; 17 cm. Added title page: Русча-татарча сүзлек. Ruscha-tatarcha süzlek/ Uniform series: "Юлдаш" газетасы китапханәсе. "ĪUldash" gazetasy kitapkhanäse. Russian-Tatar dictionary.

2005b: [IUW] Tatar telenēng kyskartylmalar süzlege / F.G. Mingnullin. Kazan: Alma-Lit, 2005. 155 p.; 20 cm. Parallel title in colophon: Slovar' sokrashcheniĭ tatarskogo iazyka. Includes bibliographical references (p. 13-16). Tatar-Russian dictionary of acronyms.

2006: [IUW] Ruscha-tatarcha tarikh terminnarynyng ānglatmaly süzlege: iäkyncha 6000 süz / tözüche-avtor R.F. Gallāmov, fänni redaktory R.U. Āmirkhan. Kazan: "Māgarif", 2006. 224 p.; 23 cm. Added title page: Russko-tatarskiĭ tolkovyi slovar' istoricheskikh terminov. Includes bibliographical references. Russian-Tatar dictionary of historical terms.

2007: [IUW] Tatarcha-ruscha süzlek: 56 000 chamasy süz, 7400 frazeologik berämlek: ike tomda / [redkollegiä, Sh.N. Asylgaraev ... (et al.)]. Kazan: "Māgarif" nāshriäty, 2007. 2 v.; 27 cm. Added title page: Татарско-русский словарь. Tatarsko-russkiĭ slovar'. Includes bibliographical references (v. 1, p. [13]-[17]). Contents: 1. А-Л. 2. М-Я. 1. A-L. 2. M-ĪA. Tatar-Russian dictionary.

2012a: [IUW] Счастье и несчастье как ценность и антиценность во фразеологической парадигме: русского, татарского, английского, немецкого, французского языков: монография: аксиологический фразеологический словарь / Л.К. Байрамова. Schast'e i neschast'e kak tsennost' i antitsennost' vo frazeologicheskoi paradigme: russkogo, tatarskogo, angliĭskogo, nemetskogo, frantsuzskogo iazykov: monografiä: aksiologicheskii frazeologicheskii slovar' / L.K. Baiĕramova. Казань: Центр инновационных технологий, 2012. Kazan': TŠentr innovatsionnykh tekhnologii, 2012. 495 pages; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references (pages 479-492) Polyglot Tatar dictionary of Russian, English, French, German, and Tatar terms of happiness and values.

2012b: [IUW] Славяно-русско-нагайбакский ведический словарь / Пётр Минеев. Slaviano-russko-nagaibakskii vedicheskii slovar' / Pëtr Mineev. Челябинск: Цицеро, 2012. Cheliabinsk: Tŝitsero, 2012. 119 pages: illustrations; 21 cm. Tatar [?]-Russian- Nağaybäk dictionary. "Nağaybäk (pronounced in Tatar language [nɒɢaɪbæk]; Tatar plural: Nağaybäklär; plural in Russian: Нарайбаки) indigenous Turkic people of Russia. According to Russian legislation recognized as a separate people. They speak a sub-dialect of Tatar language's Middle dialect" (WikP).

2013: see under UDMURT.

2014a: see under INDO-EUROPEAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2014b: [IUW] Русско-татарский словарь актуальной лексики: Около 5500 слов = Русча-татарча актуаль лексика сузлеге: Якынча 5500 суз / Авторы-составители: Р.Р. Абдуллина, [and eight others]. Russko-tatarskii slovar' aktual'noi leksiki: Okolo 5500 slov = Ruscha-tatarcha aktual' leksika suzlege: ĪAkyncha 5500 suz / Avtory-sostaviteli: R.R. Abdullina, [and eight others]. Казань: Татарское книжное издательство, 2014. Kazan': Tatarskoe knizhnoe izdatel'stvo, 2014. 551 pages; 22 cm

2014 or 2015: see under INDO-IRANIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2016: see under BASHKIR.

[TATAR, SIBERIAN] Siberian Tatar (Siberian Tatar: Сыбырца) is a Turkic language spoken in Western Siberia region of Russia. Siberian Tatar consists of three dialects: Tobol-Irtysh, Baraba, and Tomsk. Siberian Tatar consists of three dialects: Tobol-Irtysh, Baraba, and Tomsk (WikP).

Ethnologue: sty. Alternate Names: Eastern Tatar.

1961: [IUW] ĪAzyk zapadnosibirskikh Tatar; grammaticheskii ocherk i slovar', by D. G. Tumasheva. [Kazan] Izd-vo Kazanskogo universiteta, 1961. 239 p. Added t.p. in Tatar; text in Tatar. Summary in Russian. Errata slip inserted. Bibliography: p. 234-235. Includes Siberian Tatar-Russian dictionary.

1992: [IUW] Slovar' dialektov sibirskikh tatar / D.G. Tumasheva. Kazan': Izd-vo Kazanskogo univ., 1992. 255 p.; 20 cm. Siberian Tatar-Russian dictionary.

2016: [IUW] Словарь народно-разговорной лексики сибирских татар / составитель и редактор кандидат исторических наук Г.Т. Бакиева. Slovar' narodno-razgovornoĭ leksiki sibirskikh tatar / sostavitel' i redaktor kandidat istoricheskikh nauk G.T. Bakieva. Тобольск: Институт проблем освоения Севера, 2016. Tobol'sk: Institut problem osvoeniia Severa, 2016. 279 pages; 21 cm Includes bibliographical references (page 279). Russian and Siberian Tatar dictionary.

[TANGUT] Tangut (Chinese: 西夏語; pinyin: Xī Xiàyǔ; lit. 'Western Xia language') is an extinct language in the Sino-Tibetan language family. Tangut was one of the official languages of the Western Xia dynasty, founded by the Tangut people in northwestern China. The Western Xia was annihilated by the Mongol Empire in 1227. The Tangut language has its own script, the Tangut script. The latest known text written in the Tangut language, the Tangut dharani pillars, dates to 1502, suggesting that the language was still in use nearly three hundred years after the collapse of Western Xia (WikP).

Ethnologue does not include Tangut.

1960: [IUW] Tangutskaiia filologiia; issledovaniia i slovar'. Tangutica. / N. A. (Nikolaĭ Aleksandrovich) Nevskii. Moskva, Izd-vo vostochnoi lit-ry, 1960. 2 v. illus., port., facsim. 27 cm.": v. 1, p. 14-[16]. Dalby 1522: "Not seen."

1969: [IUW] More pis'men. Faks. tangut. ksilografov. Per. s tangut., vstupit. stat'i i pril. K.B. Keping [i. dr.]. Moskva, "Nauka," 1969- v. with facsim. 26 cm. Series: Pamiatniki pis'mennosti Vostoka 25. Tangut language--Dictionaries. Tangut language--Dictionaries--Russian. Tangut-Russian dictionary.

1982: [IUW] The timely pearl: a 12th century Tangut-Chinese glossary / Luc Kwanten. Bloomington: Research Institute for Inner Asian Studies, Indiana University, 1982. v. <1>: facsim.; 23 cm. Dalby 1520. Uralic and Altaic series; v. 142. Facsimile of Fan Han he shi zhang zhong zhu: v. 1, p. 189-265. Bibliography: v. 1, p. 33-38. v. 1. Chinese language--Dictionaries--Tangut.

1993: [IUW] Material'naia kul'tura Si Sia: po dannym tangutskoj leksiki i ikonograficheskomu materialu [Material Culture of the Xi Xia: based on Tangut Vocabulary and Iconographic Material], by A.P. Terent'ev; [otvetstvennyi redaktor L.N. Men'shikov]. Moskva: "Nauka," Izdatel'skaia firma "Vostochnaia lit-ra," 1993. 231 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving the original yellow and white front and rear wrappers, lettered in black, with a photo of the author on the rear cover and an illustration of a royal Tangut audience on the front cover. Series: Kul'tura narodov Vostoka. Summary in English. Includes bibliographical references (p. 229-231). Tangut-Russian thematically arranged vocabulary, pp. 162-[228], consisting of 1031 numbered entries.

"This book contains an attempt to reconstruct the material culture of ancient Tangut state.... The book is supplied with the vocabulary which is composed on the basis of ancient Tangut dictionaries and encyclopaedias ... The material of the vocabulary is corroborated by the images of objects which are preserved in the Tangut drawings, by the information of the Chinese dynastic chronicles and by archaeological finds" (Summary, pp. [232-233]).

[TAUSUG] Tausug (Tausug: Bahasa Sūg, Malay: Bahasa Suluk, Filipino: Wikang Tausug) is a regional language spoken in the province of Sulu in the Philippines, in the eastern area of the state of Sabah, Malaysia, and in North Kalimantan, Indonesia by the Tausūg people. It is widely spoken in the Sulu Archipelago (Basilan, Sulu and Tawi-Tawi), Zamboanga Peninsula (Zamboanga del Norte, Zamboanga Sibugay, Zamboanga del Sur, and Zamboanga City), Southern Palawan, Malaysia (eastern Sabah) and Indonesia (North Kalimantan). Tausug and Chavacano are the only Philippine languages spoken on the island of Borneo. The Tausug language is very closely related to the Surigaonon language of the provinces Surigao del Norte, Surigao del Sur and Agusan del Sur, and to the Butuanon language of northeastern Mindanao (WikP).

Ethnologue: tsg. Alternate Names: Bahasa Sug, Jolohano, Moro Joloano, Sinug, Sinug Tausug, Sulu, Suluk, Tausog, Taw Sug.

1848: see under AUSTRONESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1893: [LILLY] English-Sulu-Malay vocabulary with useful sentences, tables, &c., by Andson Cowie, edited by Wm. Clark Cowie. London: Printed for the Editor by T. May, 1893. Original dark brown cloth, lettered in gold and decorated in blind. Pp. I-IX X-XLVIII, 1 2-288. First edition. Only ed. cited in NUC pre-56 125:494 and BM 45:209. Not in Zaunmüller. Presentation copy from the author dated 1893 to a member of parliament. Extensively annotated in black ink. Folded ms. sheet "Comparative vocabulary of the languages of British North Borneo," [3] p., pasted to back endpaper.

With the bookplate of Peter Antony Lanyon-Orgill. Appears to be first English dictionary of the language.

"The whole of the Sulu portion of this work is original. It is the result of the labour of my late brother Andson, who devoted much time to the study of several native dialects during the thirteen years he resided in the Island of Sulu and various parts of Malaya...The author's object in adding Malay, to what he originally designed as a Sulu work only, was to accelerate the further fusion of two dialects which have so much affinity and which will make the language of North Borneo the English of the farther East" (Preface). "The Sulu people are a bold, fearless race, and up to a very recent date, were most notorious pirates. In their lovely isles they lived comparatively contented until their ancient enemies the Spaniards gained a footing amongst them. Now all is changed! Spanish rule is hateful to them and many are leaving the Sulu archipelago for British North Borneo. In time they should make valuable subjects to the Chartered Company, but, whilst taming, they will require very careful treatment" (Introduction).

Second copy: [LILLYbm]. This copy with several ink stamps of former owner Francis R. Eastlake (name struck through), ownership signature and stamp of Sam Van Leer, and subsequent illegible ownership signatures.

1904: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1953: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1957: [LILLY] Taosug dictionary, by Father René Copet, OMI. Jolo, Sulu, Philippines: Notre Dame of Jolo Press, 1957. 333 pages; 28 cm . First edition. Original yellow wrappers, lettered in black. Reproduced from typescript. English-Taosug, pp. 1-251, Taosug-English, pp. 255-329, "A few common expressions," pp. 331-333.

"This present volume presents a great number of words as used today by the Moros known as Tao-Sug. The writer is not an expert in the dialect, but rather one who was given a job to do and has tried with the materials at hand to execute it to the best of his ability... We are delighted with the fact that he could do so much in such a short time for the help of our Fathers and a few others who might be interested in this dialect" (Preface, Francis J. McSorley, OMI, Apostolic Prefect of Sulu).

1971: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TÀY] Tày or Tho (a name shared with Cuoi and with various Zhuang languages of China) is the major Tai language of Vietnam, in the northeast near the Chinese border. Tày Bảo Lạc is spoken in Bảo Lạc District, western Cao Bang province. Tày Trùng Khánh is spoken in Trùng Khánh District, northeastern Cao Bang province. The Dai Zhuang varieties should perhaps be considered the same language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tyz. Alternate Names: Ngan, Phen, T'ò, Tai Tho, Thu Lao, "Thô" (pej.).

1997: [IUW] "The Sound System of the Tày Language of Cao Bang Province, Vietnam," by Hoàng Văn Ma, in: Comparative Kadai: the Tai branch / Jerold A. Edmondson and David B. Solnit, editors. Dallas, TX: Summer Institute of Linguistics; [Arlington]: University of Texas at Arlington, 1997. vi, 382 p.: ill., maps; 23 cm. Library binding, preserving original white wrappers, lettered in green with brown and green illustration of a Tai home on the front cover. Summer Institute of Linguistics and the University of Texas at Arlington publications in linguistics; publication 124. Includes Swadesh (200) word list in Tày of Cao Bang Province, Tày-English, pp. 230-231. Includes bibliographical references and indexes.

[TBOLI] Tboli (roughly /tʰboːˈli/), also Tagabili or T'boli, is an Austronesian language spoken in the southern Philippine island of Mindanao, mainly in the province of South Cotabato but also in the neighboring provinces of Sultan Kudarat and Sarangani. According to the Philippine Census from 2000, close to 100,000 Filipinos identified T'boli or Tagabili as their native language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tbl. Alternate Names: "Tagabili" (pej.), T'boli, Tiboli.

1955: [LILLYbm] Tagabili vocabulary, by Vivian Forsberg & Alice Lindquist. Manila: Published by the Summer Inst. of Linguistics in cooperation with the Bureau of Public Schools and the Institute of National Language of the Department of Education, 1955. Original green wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [4] 1-160. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Tagabili-English, pp. 1-95, and English-Tagabili-Tagalog, pp. 97-159. This copy with the ownership signature in ink on front cover of Fred Eggan. Eggan was author, among others, of Historical changes in the Choctaw kinship system, 1936, The kinship system of the Hopi Indians, 1936, Social organization of the western pueblos, 1950, and Selected bibliography of the Philippines, topically arranged and annotated, 1956. First dictionary of the language.

"Tagabili is a dialect spoken by an estimated 20,000 people living in southern Catabato, Philippines.... They are almost entirely monolingual, though a few, through contacts with the settlers, have learned some Hiligaynon.... The authors lived, during the years 1953-55, in the barrio of Sinolon, in the Alah Valley, where the material for this vocabulary has been obtained" (Introduction).

1971: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TEBI] Tebi, also known by the village name Dubu, is a Western Pauwasi language of West New Guinea. It is spoken in Affi, Dubu, and Jembatan Web villages of Keerom Regency. It is mostly used by older adults(WikP). Population: 220 (2005 SIL). Potentially endangered (2000 S. Wurm). Home only. Older adults only. Most shifted to Indonesian [ind]. Most shifted to Papuan Malay [pmy] (Ethnologue).

Ethnologue: dmu. Alternate Names: Dubu.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TEDAGA] The Teda language, also known as Tedaga, is a Nilo-Saharan language spoken by the Teda people in southern Libya, northern Chad, and eastern Niger. Along with the southern dialect of Daza, the northern Teda dialect constitutes one of the two varieties of Tebu. However, Teda is also sometimes used for Tebu in general (WikP).

Ethnologue: tuq. Alternate Names: Tebou, Tebu, Teda, Tibbu, Toda, Todaga, Todga, Toubou, Tubu, Tuda, Tudaga.

1950: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire ethnographique téda, précédé d'un lexique français-téda, by Charles Le Coeur. Paris: Librairie Larose, 1950. Original cream and orange-brown wrappers, lettered in black and orange-brown. Pp. 1-5 6-211 212-214, 2 folding maps, [3], [19], [3] p., [40] p. of plates. First edition. Memoires de l'Institut française d'Afrique noire, no. 9. Zaunmüller, col. 376 (giving Dakar as place of publication). Includes French-Teda [Tedaga] lexicon, pp. [11]-52, and a Teda [Tedaga]-French dictionary, pp. [55]-211. First dictionary of Tedaga. Second copy: [IUW].

1953: [LILLYbm] Die Sprache der Tubu in der zentralen Sahara, by Johannes Lukas, [1901-] Berlin: Akademie-Verlag, 1953. 206 p. 30 cm. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black. Series: Deutsche Akademie der Wissenschaften su Berlin. Institut für Orientforschung, Veröffentlichung,; Nr. 14; Variation: Veröffentlichung (Akademie der Wissenschaften, Berlin. Institut für Orientforschung); Nr. 14. Includes German-Tubu [Tedaga], pp. [183]-206. Second copy: [IUW].

1956: see under DAZAGA.

[TÉÉN] Lorhon, or Teen, is a Niger–Congo language of Ivory Coast and across the border in Burkina Faso. As with Doghose, there are spelling variants to accommodate the sound [ɣ]: Loghon, Lorhon, Loron. Other names are Nabe, Tegesie, Ténhé, and Tuni (WikP).

Ethnologue: lor. Alternate Names: Loghon, Lorhon, Loron, Nabe, Tegesie, Ténhé.

1921: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TEGALI] Tegali (also spelled Tagale, Tegele, Tekele, Togole) is a Kordofanian language in the Rashad family, which belongs to the larger Niger–Congo phylum. (Greenberg 1963, Schadeberg 1981, Williamson & Blench 2000). [1] It is spoken in South Kordofan state, Sudan (WikP).

Ethnologue: ras. Alternate Names: Orig, Tagale, Tegele, Tekele, Togole, Turjok.

1829: see under NUBIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TEHIT] Tehit is a Papuan language of the Bird's Head Peninsula of New Guinea. Other spellings are Tahit, Tehid, and other names Kaibus, Teminabuan. Dialects are Tehit Jit, Mbol Fle, Saifi, Imyan, Sfa Riere, Fkar, Sawiat Salmeit (WikP). Population: 10,000 (2000 R. Hesse). 500 monolinguals.

Ethnologue: kps. Alternate Names: Kaibus, Tahit, Tehid, Teminabuan. Autonym: Salo Tkoin, Tehit.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TEHUELCHÉ] Tehuelche (Aoniken, Inaquen, Gunua-Kena, Gununa-Kena) is a Chon language of Patagonia. Its speakers were nomadic hunters who occupied territory in present-day Chile, north of Tierra del Fuego and south of the Mapuche people. It is also known as Aonikenk or Aonek'o 'ajen. The decline of the language started with the Araucanization of Patagonia, when many Tehuelche tribes adopted Mapudungun as their main language. While being quite separate from each other, the Tehuelche were considerably influenced by these two other languages and cultures. This allowed the transference of morpho-syntactical elements into Tehuelche. During the 19th and 20th centuries, Spanish became the dominant language as Argentina and Chile gained independence, and Spanish-speaking settlers took possession of Patagonia (WikP).

Ethnologue: the. Alternate Names: Aonek'enk, Aoniken, Gunua-Kena, Gununa-Kena, Inaquen, Patagón, Tewelche.

1536: see under GUARNI, PARAGUAYAN.

1839: see under QAWASQAR.

1909-1911: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1915: see under ONA.

[TEKE LANGUAGES] The Teke languages are a series of Bantu languages spoken by the Teke people in the western Congo and in Gabon. They are coded Zone B.70 in Guthrie's classification. According to Nurse & Philippson (2003), the Teke languages apart from West Teke form a valid node with Tende (part of B.80) (WikP).

1999: [IUW] Parlons téké: Langue et culture / Edouard Etsio. Paris: Harmattan, ©1999. 320 pages: illustrations, maps; 22 cm. Library binding, preserving original gray-green wrappers, lettered in white and black, with a photo of the author's father on front cover. Collection "Parlons." "Lexique" (first thematically arranged, followed by alphabetized arrangement), French-Teke, pp. 269-292, Teke-French, pp. 293-312.

"A complete study of the Tekes would be tedious, given the numerous categories of this macro-ethnic group. For that reason the present work is limited to the Tekes now living on the savanna plateaux on the right bank of the Congo River. These four plateaux ... include four well-defined dialectical zones, which are: [with a description of the tribes and four plateau, listing the French form of the languages spoken there as 1) Iyuo [?], 2) Oboon or Boma [Teke-Eboo], 3) Nzi or inziziu [Teke-Nzi], and 4) Kukuya [Teke-Kukuya]] (Introduction, tr: BM).

2015: [IUW] Tiga la tegue = Parle le téké / Annie Flore Assengué Yogoulou Joly. Rungis, France: La Doxa éditeur militant, [2015] ©2015 57 pages; 18 cm. Original pink and white wrappers, lettered in black and white, with a photo of the author on the rear cover and a drawing in color on the front cover. Series: Didacticiel collection les essentielles. Teke-French, thematically arranged, pp. 19-55.

"This first edition gives a general overview of the basic expressions necessary to express oneself as easily as possible in the language. Other editions may see the light of day" (Mot de fin, p. 57, tr: BM).

[TEKE, IBALI] East Teke is a member of the Teke dialect continuum of the Congolese plateau. The dialects Mosieno and Dee (Esingee) may constitute a separate language from Tio (Teo, Tyo) also known as Bali (Ibali) (Teke proper) (WikP).

Ethnologue: tek. Alternate Names: Bali, Eastern Teke, Ibali, Kiteke, Teke-Ibali.

2015: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TEKE-EBOO] Central Teke is a member of the Teke languages dialect continuum of the Congolese plateau. Central Teke dialects are Ngungwel and Mpu (Mpumpum), Boo (Boma, Eboo – cf. Boma language), and Nzikou (Njyunjyu/Ndzindziu). They are spoken in the Malebo Pool region of the Republic of Congo, with an unknown number of Boo speakers in DRC (WikP).

Ethnologue: ebo. Alternate Names: Aboo, Bamboma, Boma, Boo, Boõ, Central Teke, Eboo Teke, Eboom, Iboo, Teke-Boma.

1999: see under TEKE LANGUAGES.

2002: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TEKE-FUUMU] Fuumu is a member of the Teke languages dialect continuum of the Congolese plateau. The two dialects, Fuumu (Ifuumu) and Wuumu (Iwuumu), are sometimes considered separate languages. They are sometimes considered part of South Teke (WikP).

Ethnologue: ifm. Alternate Names: Fumu, Fuumu, Kiteke, South Central Teke, Teke du Pool.

1911: [LILLYbm] Vocabulaire français-ifumu (batéké), précédé d'éléments de grammaire, by J. Calloc'h. Paris: Paul Geuthner, 1911. Original green wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. I-III IV, folding chart, 1-3 4-346. First edition. Not in Zauhmüller. Hendrix 1593 ("Southern Teke D.") Includes French-Teke-Fuumu, pp. [113]-346. Second copy: [IUW].

"Ifumu, Isi-bana and Itéo are three principal dialects of the language spoken by the Batékés in the French Congo, from Brazzaville to Alima. The Batékés of the Belgian Congo speak exclusively Itéo, from Leopoldville to Bolobo....The Ifumu dialect seems to hold primary sway and a practical knowledge of it leads quickly to a knowledge of the two others. Therefore it has been adopted for this first effort" (Introduction, tr: BM).

[TEKE-KUKUYA] The Kukuya language, Kikukuya [kikýkçyā], also transcribed Kukwa and known as Southern Teke, is a member of the Teke dialect continuum of the Congolese plateau. It is known for being the only language claimed to have a phonemic labiodental nasal /m/ outside Europe. The name comes from the word kuya "plateau".

Ethnologue: kkw. Alternate Names: Chikuya, Cikuya, Kikuwa, Kikuya, Koukouya, Kukua, Kukuya, Kukwa, Southern Teke.

1999: see under TEKE LANGUAGES.

[TEKE-NZIKOU] Central Teke is a member of the Teke languages dialect continuum of the Congolese plateau. Central Teke dialects are Ngungwel and Mpu (Mpumpum), Boo (Boma, Eboo – cf. Boma language), and Nzikou (Njyunjyu/Ndzindziu). They are spoken in the Malebo Pool region of the Republic of Congo, with an unknown number of Boo speakers in DRC.

Ethnologue: nzu. Alternate Names: Central Teke, Ndzindziu, Njiunjiu, Njyunjyu.

1999: see under TEKE LANGUAGES.

[TEKE-TEGE] North Teke, or Tεge (Tege, Teghe, Itege), is a member of the Teke languages dialect continuum of the Congolese plateau (WikP).

Ethnologue: teg. Alternate Names: Itege, Katege, Keteghe, Ketego, Latege, Northern Teke, Tege-Kali, Teghe, Teke.

An online dictionary of Latege [Teke-Tege] may be found at www.webonary.org.

1886: [LILLY] A vocabulary of the Kiteke as spoken by the Bateke '(Batio)' and Kindred tribes on the Upper Congo. English-Kiteke, by A. Sims. London: Hodder & Stoughton, 1886. xii, 190 pp. Original gray paper over boards, lettered in black, with unprinted brown cloth spine. First edition. A Kiteke-English volume by Sims appeared with the same publishers in 1888. Not in Zauhmüller. Hendrix 1594 ("Northern Teke D."). NUC pre-1956, 547:409. Includes Kiteke [Teke-Tege]-English, pp. [1]-190.

Lilly copy with the ink ownership stamp of "R. Glennie", his large initials in blue crayon on the front cover, and copious additions of Bissa vocabulary in pencil by him in the margins (identified as such by a contemporary ink inscription on the front cover: "(plus Bissa Vocab. In margins").) Rev. Robert Glennie served in Bolobo, Congo as a Baptist missionary in the 1890's and is listed as having received a set of meteorological instruments from the Committee on Climatological and Hydrographical Conditions in Tropical Africa in 1895. He is referred to in a letter of H.H. Johnston as one of the members of the "great Baptist Mission on the Congo" whose "accumulation of ethnographical and linguistic material has been placed in my hands" (The Geographical Journal, Vol. 31, 1908, p. 612). Glennie was the author of The Congo and Its People: a Handbook (Carey Press, 1925).

[TEKTITEKO] The Tektitek language (Tectiteco, Teco, or B'a'aj) is a member of the Quichean–Mamean branch of the Mayan language family. It is very closely related to the Mam language. Tektikek is spoken by the Tektitek people, which are primarily settled in the municipality of Tectitán, department of Huehuetenango. A number of Tektitek speakers have settled in Mexico (WikP).

Ethnologue: ttc. Alternate Names: B'a'aj, K'onti'l, Maya-Tekiteko, Qyool, Teco, Tectitán Mam, Tectitec, Tectiteco, "Teko" (pej.), Tujqyol.

2003: [IUW] Tyolb'ajil yol b'a'aj = Vocabulario tektiteko. Guatemala: Academia de Lenguas Mayas de Guatemala, Comunidad Lingüística Tektiteka, 2003. 164 p.; 22 cm. Tektiteko-Spanish, Spanish-Tektiteko.

2007: [IUW] Pujb'il yool b'a'aj = Diccionario bilingüe tektiteko-español / Erico Simón Morales, Ernesto Baltazar Gutierrez. 1. ed. Antigua, Guatemala: OKMA; Guatemala, Guatemala: CHOLSAMAJ, 2007. 651 p.; 21 cm. Tectiteco-Spanish, Spanish-Tektiteko.

2012: [IUW] Pujb'il qyol b'a'aj = Diccionario bilingüe tektiteko-español / investigadores, Cayetano Pérez, Maucelio López González, Floridelio Leonel Trigueros Morales. [Guatemala, Guatemala]: ALMG, Academia de las Lenguas Mayas de Guatemala, 2012. 316 pages; 21 cm. "K'ub'il Yol Twitz B'a'aj, Comunidad Lingüística Tektiteka"--Cover. Page numbering also in Mayan glyphs. Tectiteco-Spanish dictionary.

[TELEFOL] Telefol is a language spoken by the Telefol people in Papua New Guinea, notable for possessing a base-27 numeral system (WikP).

Ethnologue: tlf. Alternate Names: Teleefool, Telefolmin, Telefomin.

1977: [IUW] Telefol dictionary, by Phyllis and Alan Healey. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1977. xvii, 358 p.; 26 cm. Pacific linguistics: Series C; no. 46. Bibliography: p. 357-358.

[TELUGU] Telugu (English pronunciation: /ˈtelʊɡuː/) is a Dravidian language native to India. It stands alongside Hindi, English, and Bengali as one of the few languages with official status in more than one Indian state; it is the primary language in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, and in the town of Yanam, Puducherry. It is one of six languages designated a classical language of India by the Government of India. Telugu ranks third by the number of native speakers in India (74 million, 2001 census), fifteenth in the Ethnologue list of most-spoken languages worldwide and is the most widely spoken Dravidian language. It is one of the twenty-two scheduled languages of the Republic of India (WikP).

Ethnologue: tel. Alternate Names: Andhra, Gentoo, Tailangi, Telangire, Telegu, Telgi, Tengu, Terangi, Tolangan.

1821: [LILLYbm] A dictionary of the Teloogoo language, commonly termed the Gentoo, peculiar to the Hindoos of the north eastern provinces of the Indian Peninsula, by A[lexander] D[uncan] Campbell [d. 1857]. Madras: Printed at the College Press, 1821. Modern brown half-leather and marbled paper over boards; spine with raised bands, lettered in gold. Pp. [12] 1 2-601 602, i ii-v vi. First edition. Zaunmüller, col.377. Includes Telugu-English, pp. [1]-601, with errata, pp. [i]-v. "First printed dictionary of the Telugu language. 'It appears that the beginnings of printing in Kannada and Telugu languages took place in the city of Madras in the press of the College of Fort St. George' (Anant Kakba Priolkar, The Printing Press in Indian (Bombay 1958), pp. 47-48." (bookseller's description: Löwendahl).

"The following Dictionary was commenced soon after the publication of the Author's Teloogoo Grammar; and, the copyright of it having been purchased by the Madras Government, they have directed it to be printed at the College Press... Composed, as this work has been, at intervals, and often in the midst of all the bustle of a Collector and Magistrate's Office, the Author begs to crave for it some indulgence from the public"(Advertisement). Includes a detailed discussion of two manuscript Telugu dictionaries utilized by the author, as well as "the excellent Sanskrit Dictionary published by Mr. Wilson at Calcutta [1819]".

1835-1839: [LILLYbm] Dictionary, English and Teloogoo, by J.C. Morris. Two volumes. Madras: Printed at the Asylum Herald Press, 1835, 1839. Early twentieth-century quarter-leather and tan paper over boards, with hand written paper label on spine (Vol. I) and contemporary full heavily worn calf (Vol. II). 586 pp.; 532 pp. First edition. Vol. I: A-K; Vol. II: L-Z. Zaunmüller, col. 377, giving "Madras 1835" with no indication the work is in two volumes. With the ownership signature H. Figulla, dated 1910, on each title page. Heinrich Hugo Figulla was author of scholarly works on the Near East, including Altbabylonische Verträge (Leipzig, 1914) and Keilschrifttexte aus Boghazkoi (Leipzig, 1916), both published by J.C. Hinrichs. According to information from OCLC, The Madras Herald with its alternate title the Madras Male Asylum Herald was published in the 1830's by G. Calder twice weekly in Madras, beginning in 1833. First English-Telugu dictionary. The first Telugu-English dictionary was published by A.D. Campbell in Madras in 1821 (see above).

"The following dictionary was compiled under the auspices of the Board for the College and Public Instruction, and was, at their recommendation purchased by the Government of Fort St. George, on account of the East India Company, to whom the copyright has been assigned. A Dictionary English and Teloogoo, has been long required, not only for the purpose of assisting Europeans in the study of Teloogoo, but also to aid Natives of this Country in the acquirement of English... It has been intended that the Dictionary should embrace every English word of ordinary occurrence, with the exception of terms of science, or the names of trees, fruit, instruments &c. peculiar to Europe and unknown in India...It was at first contemplated to support the use of Teloogoo words of uncommon acceptance by quotations from Authors in that language and the plan was actually adopted in the first few pages of the Dictionary, as however it was feared that it would unnecessarily increase the bulk of the Work, the attempt was abandoned."

1852: [IUW] A dictionary, Telugu and English; explaining the colloquial styles used in business and the poetical dialect, with explanations in English and Telugu / Charles Philip Brown. Madras, Printed at the Christian Knowledge Society's Press, 1852. [4], xvi, 1303 p. 23,5 cm. Dalby 1530. Library binding. Bound with 1854, (see below). Telugu-English, pp. [1]-1303.

"The present dictionary was written to assist myself in learning the Telugu language. For on leaving College in the year 1820 I was sent by Sir Thomas Munro, then Governor, to a Telugu District and was obliged to learn the language of the populace ... I had intercourse with all classes, from the learned pundit or raja, to the illiterate prosecutor or prisoner. Tradesmen, doctors, hunters and sailors, poets and painter all became my instructors as they fell in my way... As I proceeded, I felt the want of explanatory commentaries: and therefore I employed learned men to frame such for me in their native Telugu ... From the information collected I prepared the statements now published. Of the authors quoted, a list is subjoined. ... This Dictionary was written at the request of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and is printed at their expense" (Preface).

1854: [IUW] A Dictionary of the Mixed Dialects and Foreign Words used in Telugu. With an Explanation of the Telugu Alphabet, by Charles Philipp Brown. Madras: Printed at the Christian Knowledge Society's Press, 1854. xxviii, 131p. 23.5 cm. Library binding. Bound with 1852 (see above). "A Dictionary of the Mixed Dialects used in Telugu: explaining Foreeign Words, Arabic, Hindustani, &c. that occur in Business, Letters, and Conversation", Telugu-English, pp. [1]-131, Supplement, p. 131. This copy with the contemporary ownership inscription of Alexander Cruickshank, Aberdeen", for whom the Cruickshank Gardens at the University of Aberdeen are named.

"The long continued dominion of the Musulmans introduced many foreign words into the various Hindu languages. Thus the modern Telugu contains a variety of Persian and Arabic expressions. In later years, some English words have crept into use. The present vocabulary of the Mixed dialects therefore forms a requisite supplement to a Dictionary of the Telugu language: and it contains only those phrases which are current among the natives" (Preface).

1862: [LILLY] Telugu-English Dictionary, with the Telugu Words printed in the Roman, as well as in the Telugu Character: intended for the use of European Officers, Soldiers and others employed in the several Executive Department under the Government of Madras, by the Rev. P. Percival. Prepared by order of His Excellency Sir Charles Trevelyan, late Governor of Madras. Madras: Public Instruction Press, 1862. Contemporary unlettered maroon half-leather and gray cloth over boards, spine decorated in gold. Ex-library copy (Theological Seminary, Bucknell Library). Pp. [4] 1 2-484. First edition.

1890: [LILLYbm] English and Telugu Grammatical Vocabulary. Useful Words and Idiomatic Sentences. Series of Vocabularies, No. III. Second Edition. Madras: The Christian Vernacular Education Society, 1890. Original orange quarter-cloth and green paper pasted to card paper, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [2] 1-3 4-80 81-82. Second edition. 2,000 copies (total copies 4,000). Includes English-Telugu phrases and sentences, pp. [3]-80. In spite of the title, this is a phrase book only.

1935: [LILLYbm] Galletti's Telugu Dictionary: a Dictionary of Current Telugu, by A. Galletti di Cadilhac. London: Oxford University Press, Humphrey Milford, 1935.

Original blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. 424 pp. + foldout map. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 376.

"Though speech may have been given to express our thoughts, writing was intended, according to the Telugu practice, to obscure them... The pedantry of 'grammatical' Telugu is tragically absurd... Now it may be a pity, but it is a fact, that...the educated Telugu learns to think and to express himself not in Telugu, but in English...the Telugu graduate write[s] dog-Telugu [like dog-Latin] because his thought was born in English and resists transmigration. When he tries to reincarnate it in a language not his own, that is in the Sanskritized and obsolescent dialect of the pundits, the infant becomes a monster...It does not follow that English is in any way likely to oust Telugu. Telugu is a living language because millions speak it in the villages, and the Telugu of the villages will go its own course in spite of the graduates...Should the period of English dominance end to-morrow and the Andhras form their own government, they must make an attempt to conduct their affairs in their own language.... The author of this dictionary has compiled words in common use from Cocanada to Bezwada. In so defining his limits and purging his language he has taken one step towards the King's Telugu...[This dictionary thus attempts to] establish...a norm and encourag[e] [Telugu] men of genius to use the tools most fitted for their work." From the library of Carleton T. Hodge, with his signature dated November, 1955, Madras, India.

1953: [IUW] A Telugu-English dictionary, by Paluri Sankaranarayana. Rev. and enl. ed. Madras: V. Ramaswamy Sastrulu, 1953. 1300 p.

1971: [LILLYbm] Merolu Telugu, by D.B. Polkam. Poona: Deccan College, 1971. Original pale blue wrappers, decorated and lettered in black. 106 pp. First edition. Linguistic Survey of India Series: 4.

"Merolu is an interesting Telugu dialect spoken by about a thousand individuals who are tailors by profession and who must have migrated to Maharashtra from the old State of Hyderabad about three hundred years ago. They have settled mainly in cities such as Poona (Kirkee), Bombay (Kamathipura), Sholapur (Sadar Bazaar) and Ahmednagar. They are all bilinguals and have their education etc. in Marathi only."

1972: [IUW] Telugu-russkii slovar': okolo 42,000 slov / sostavili S.ĪĀ. Dzenit, Z.N. Petrunicheva, N.V. Gurov; pod redaktsiei Vuppala Lakshmana Rao. Moskva: Sov. ēntsiklopediia, 1972. 744 p.; 27 cm. Added t.p. in Telugu. Telugu-Russian dictionary.

1988: [IUW] Russko-telugu slovar': 28,000 slov / S.ĪĀ. Dzenit; pod red. Nidamarti Uma Radzheshvara Rao. Moskva: "Russkii ĭazyk", 1988. 775 p.; 25 cm. Russian-Telugu dictionary.

2004: see 2004b under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2007 [2012]: [IUW] Akārādi amaranighaṇṭuvu: Saṃskṛtam - Telugu / kūrpu, Krottapalli Sundararāmayya; pradhāna sampādakulu, Jayadhīr Tirumala Rāvu; sampādakulu, Ravvā Śrīhari. 1st ed. Hadīrābādu: Āndhrapradēś Prabhutva Prācyalikhita Granthālayaṃ mariyu Pāriśōdhanālayaṃ, 2007-<2012>. v. <1-3>; 25 cm. Title on t.p. verso: Akārādi amara nighaṇṭuvu. Publication; no. 52. v. 1. A nuṇḍi Ghrā varaku. v. 2. Ca nuṇḍi Mlē varaku. v. 3. Ya nuṇḍi Hrē varaku. Sanskrit to Telugu dictionary.

2016: [IUW] संस्कृतपदचित्रकोशः = Samskritam-Telugu-English, a trilingual pictorial dictionary / compiled by A.G. Haranatha Babu. Saṃskṛtapadacitrakoṣaḥ = Samskritam-Telugu-English, a trilingual pictorial dictionary / compiled by A.G. Haranatha Babu. First edition. Guntur, A.P.: Samskrita Bharati Educational Trust, 2016.

304 pages: color illustrations; 25 cm. Sanskrit-Telugu-English, a trilingual pictorial dictionary. Sanskrit (in Devanagari and Latin scripts), Telugu and English.

[TEM] Tem (Temba), or Kotokoli (Cotocoli), is a Gur language spoken in Togo, Ghana, and Benin. It is used by neighboring peoples (WikP).

Ethnologue: kdh. Alternate Names: Cotocoli, Kotokoli, Temba, Tim, Timu.

1983a-b: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2012: [IUW] Tòm bíya kpeewú = Dictionnaire Tem-Français. 1ère édition. Togo: SIL Togo/CL Tem (Comité de Langue Tem), 2012. 584 pages; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (pages 579-580).

[TEMBÉ] Tenetehára is a Tupi–Guarani language of Brazil. Sociolinguistically, it is two languages, Guajajara (Guazazzara) and Tembe, though these are mutually intelligible. Tembe was spoken by less than a quarter of its ethnic population of 820 in 2000; Guajajara, on the other hand, is more robust, being spoken by two thirds of its 20,000 people (WikP).

Ethnologue: tqb. Alternate Names: Tenetehara.

1966: see under GUAJAJÁRA.

[TEMBO] Tembo is a Bantu language of the Democratic Republic of the Congo (WikP).

Ethnologue: tbt. Alternate Names: ChiTembo, Kitembo. Autonym: Chitembo.

1985: [IUW]. Tenbogo goishū / Kaji Shigeki = Lexique Tembo / par Shigeki Kaji. [1985-. v.: ill.; 27 cm. Asian & African lexicon 16, etc. "Tembo-Swahili du Zaïre-Japonais-Français." Vol. 1: c1985. Includes index. Bibliography: v. 1, p. xxx-xxxii.

[TEMIAR] Temiar is an Aslian language, part of Austro-Asiatic languages spoken in northwestern Malaysia by the Temiar people, mostly in Pahang, Kelantan and Perak. The Temiar are one of the larger Aslian peoples, but it is not known how many of them still speak their language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tea. Alternate Names: Northern Sakai, Pie, Seroq, Temer.

1961: [IUW] Tengleq kui Serok; a study of the Temiar language, with an ethnographical summary, by Iskandar Carey. [1st ed.] Kuala Lumpur, Dewan Bahasa dan Pustaka, 1961. 195 p. illus. 19 cm. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Siri pengetahuan bahasa dan sastra DBP, bil. 1. Includes, Part Three, Vocabulary: English-Temiark-Malay, thematically arranged, pp. 86-134.

"According to the latest figures, the total number of Temiar is now about 8,500. Almost all of them live in the deep jungle areas of Perak and Kelantan, with the exception of a small group now settled in Pahang. The Temiar practice a form of shifting agriculture that implies an only partly settled form of economic existence... In the more accessible areas, the majority of Temiar men speak Malay as a second language, but this is much less true of their women.... There can be no doubt that Temiar is not a Malay dialect, but an active and vigorous language in its own right" (Introduction).

"This word list was collected in Temiar Settlements on the Upper Nenggiri River, Kelantan, during April and May 1958. For easy comparison, Malay equivalents are given in the right hand column of each page... Stress in Temiar words is always on the second syllable" (p. 86).

[TENINO] In the WikP entry, Tenino is considered a dialect of Shapatin, a Plateau Penutian language spoken in a section of the northwestern plateau along the Columbia River and its tributaries in southern Washington, northern Oregon, and southwestern Idaho, in the United States. Ethnologue considers Tenino a separate language:

Ethnologue: tqn. Alternate Names: Celilo, Columbia River Sahaptin, Umatilla-Tenino, Warm Springs.

2009: see under SAHAPTIN.

[TEOR] Teor and Kur are two varieties of Austronesian (geographically Central–Eastern Malayo-Polynesian) spoken near Kei Island, Indonesia. They are reportedly mutually intelligible (WikP).

Ethnologue: tev. Alternate Names: Tio’or.

1903: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TERA] Tera is a Chadic dialect cluster spoken in north-eastern Nigeria in the north and eastern parts of Gombe State and Borno State. Blench (2006) believes Pidlimdi (Hinna) dialect is a separate language (WikP).

Ethnologue: ttr.

2015: [IUW] Modern Tera-English-Hausa dictionary, by Mohammed Aminu Mu’azu & Maimuna Adamu Magaji. Second edition. München: LINCOM EUROPA, 2015. xii, 160 pages; 22 cm. First edition published as: Modern Tera dictionary. English, Tera and Hausa.

[TEREI] Terei or Buin, also known as Telei, Rugara, is the most populous Papuan language spoken to the east of New Guinea. There are about 27,000 speakers in the Buin District of Bougainville Province, Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: buo. Alternate Names: Buin, Kugara, Telei. Autonym: Puuiŋ, Terei.

1910-1911 [1915]: [IUW] “A Note on the Telei speech of South Bougainville, Solomon Islands,” by Gerald Camden Wheeler, in: Zeitschrift für Kolonialsprachen, ed. Carl Meinhof, Vol. 1, 1910-1911, pp. [290]-320. Vaduz: Kraus Reprint, 1965. “Telei [Terei]-Alu [Dia]-English Word-List,” pp. 291-301.

“During the writer’s stay in the Islands of Alu (‘Shortland Island’) and Mono (‘Treasury Island’) in the Bougainville Straits, Western Solomon Islands, he obtained some information from Bitiai (son of the celebrated Gorai) about the Telei speech, spoken in part of South Bougainville. Bitiai had visited Aku in the Telei-speaking area, and seemed to have a fairly good knowledge of the tongue. In the following note is given (1) a short text in Telei.... The Text of the tale was given first to Bitiai by his toniga (slave boy), who was bought from a place in the mountains island in Bougainville, and it was dictated to the writer by Bitiai, from whom he obtained the Alu (Mono) equivalents, and the word-list” (p. [290]).

[TERIBE] Teribe is a language spoken by the Naso or Teribe Indians; it is used primarily in the Bocas del Toro Province of northwestern Panama and in the southern part of Costa Rica’s Puntarenas Province, but is almost extinct in the latter. It is part of the Chibchan language family, in the Talamanca branch. There are currently about 3,000 speakers, nearly all of whom speak Spanish as well (WikP).

Ethnologue: tfr. Alternate Names: Naso, Nortenyo, Quequexque, Terraba, Tiribi, Tirribi.

1882: see under CHIBCHAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1892a: see 1892 under MESOAMERICAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1892b: [LILLY] Ensayo lexicográfico sobre la lengua de térraba, by H[enri] Pittier [1957-1950] & C[arlos] Gagini [1865-1925]. San José de Costa Rica: Tipografía nacional, 1892. Contemporary quarter-leather. 2 p. l. 86 p. 21 cm. Includes Spanish-Teribe, pp. [21]-71, including phrases, and an appendix of further information on vocabulary, pp. [73]-86. This copy also has several blank pages of a different paper bound in at end.

2007: [IUW] La lengua de Térraba: esbozo fonológico y gramatical, y pequeño diccionario, Adolfo Constenla Umaña. San José: Editorial UCR, 2007. 283 p.: ill.; 26 cm. First edition. Includes bibliographical references (p. [141]-143). An introduction to the grammar and vocabulary of the more than 600 Terrabas living on the indigenous reserve in Puntarenas. Written by Costa Rica's leading authority on indigenous languages, this is the first book on the Terraba in over 100 years (publisher's statement).

[TERNATE] Ternate of eastern Indonesia is a language centered on the island of Ternate but also spoken in neighboring areas such as Kayoa, Bacan, Halmahera and other areas in North Maluku. It is used by Sultanate of Ternate, famous for its role in spice trade. A Papuan language, Ternate is unlike the languages spoken the most in Indonesia, which belong to the Austronesian language family. It appears to be related to languages spoken in Bird's Head peninsula in Papua. It is closely related to the Tidore language, which spoken in its southern neighboring island of the same name. This language is distinct from Ternate Malay, which is a variation of Malay language. Most inhabitants of Ternate use Ternate language as first language but will use Ternate Malay for inter-ethnic or trade communication (WikP).

Ethnologue: tft.

1817: see under MALAYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1890: [LILLY] Bijdragen tot de kennis der residentie Ternate, by F. S. A. Clercq. Met platen en schetsen. Leiden: E. J. Brill, 1890. xxi, 359 p. 23 cm. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black. 5 leaves, colored plates (four following p. x, one following p. 350), maps in text and folding. Ternate-Dutch vocabulary, pp. [245]-318. First substantial vocabulary of Ternate.

1903: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TESO] Ateso (from Teso) is an Eastern Nilotic language spoken by the Iteso people of Uganda and Kenya. It is part of the Teso–Turkana language cluster. According to the 2002 Uganda population and housing census, over 1.57 million people (6.7% of the total Uganda population) in Uganda spoke Ateso. Also an estimated 279,000 people in Kenya speak it. The Ateso language comes from an area called Teso (WikP).

Ethnologue: teo. Alternate Names: Ateso, Bakedi, Bakidi, Elgumi, Etossio, Ikumama, Iteso, Wamia.

1915: [LILLYbm] A Handbook of the Ateso Language, by A[rthur] L[eonard] Kitching. London: Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, 1915. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. i-iv v-ix x, 11-144. First edition. Not in Zaubmüller. Includes Ateso-English, pp. 53-89, and English-Ateso, pp. 90-125. This is the first dictionary of the language.

"The Ateso dialect is spoken by a tribe of some 300,000 people living between Lake Kioga and Mt. Elgon in the Eastern Province of the Uganda Protectorate. The Teso are a cheerful, industrious people, amenable to control and eminently teachable. Although now for some six years only in contact with civilization, the tribe has made phenomenally rapid progress in the arts of peace; the cultivation of cotton and labour on the construction of metalled roads has provided even the poorest peasants with abundant cash, and European articles, from cigarettes to bicycles, are in eager demand. Yet the name of this tribe does not appear, so far as the author is aware, in any of the works on the peoples of the Uganda Protectorate. The Teso appear to belong to the same Nilotic group as the Nandi, Turkana and Karamojo tribes, and the language has affinities with Masai. The dialect is given by Sir H.H. Johnson, in his work The Uganda Protectorate, as Elgumi..." (Introduction).

1958: [LILLYbm] An English-Ateso and Ateso-English Vocabulary, by J.H. Hilders & J.C.D. Lawrance. Nairobi, Kampala, Dar-es-Salaam: The Eagle Press, 1958. Original pale red cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. i-iv v-xv xvi, 1-58 59-60. First edition. Hendrix 1601. This copy with the ownership signature of the noted Australian linguist A[rthur] Capell, dated 31.8.60. Capell is the author, among many others, of The New Fijian Dictionary (1941), The Changing Status of Melasian Pidgin (1969), A Survey of New Guinea Languages (1969), Grammar and Vocabulary of the Language of Sonsorol-Tobi (1969), and the Futuna-Aniwa Dictionary (1984). Second copy: [IUW].

"Father Hilders spent many years amongst the Iteso and is now near Tororo in Bukedi District, but in an area inhabited by Iteso. Mr. Lawrance, who was for more than five years District Commissioner, Teso... is Permanent Secretary in the Ministry of Land Tenure in Entebbe" (Foreword, by T.R.F. Cox, Chairman of the Languages Board, Uganda). "We hope that this vocabulary will meet a widespread want. Bishop Kitching's vocabulary [London, 1915], which contains in two sections a total of some 4,700 words, has long been out of print. Father Kiggen has recently published the English-Ateso volume of his dictionary [Mill Hill Mission, 1953], which 'embraces a translation of 18,000 English words and over 12,000 English derivations and English expressions of common usage.' There are no other lexicographical works in Ateso, a language spoken by more than half a million people, and we believe there is a general need for a vocabulary with both English-Ateso and Ateso-English under one cover, of a size between the two works mentioned, and produced at a price which is within the pocket of most Ateso" (Preface by the Authors).

2003: [IUW] English-Ateso handbook for schools, institutions, and tourists: (all in a nutshell): the pure gender language of East Africa / by S.K. Aruo. Soroti, Uganda: Soroti Pub. House, 2003. xii, 162 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Learn Ateso series; 5.

2004: [IUW] Ateso-English dictionary for intermediate learners / Apuda Ignatius Loyola. 1st ed. [Katakwi, Uganda: A.I. Loyola, 2004 (Katakwi: Distributed by Strategic Outcomes). xxvii, 449 p.; 22 cm.

2005: [IUW] English-Ateso phrasebook / Apuda Ignatius Loyola. [Katakwi, Uganda: A.I. Loyola], 2005 (Katakwi: Printed and distributed by Strategic Outcomes). iii, 74 p.: ill., maps; 21 cm.

2008: [IUW] Ateso-English dictionary / compiled by Simon Peter Ongodia, Austin Ejiet. Kampala: Fountain Publishers, 2008. xii, 294 p.; 21 cm. Original orange, blue and gray-green wrappers, lettered in gray-green and black. Ateso [Teso]-English, pp. 1-230, English-Ateso [Teso], pp. 232-280.

"This dictionary is a guide into the lexical meanings of the day-to-day Ateso vocabulary. It is not an attempt at being exhaustive in Ateso lexicography, such an endeavor would need several times this volume. There is need for a dictionary in Ateso in this simplified version" (Introduction).

2016: [IUW] Basic Ateso guide: 4 non-Ateso speakers (armed forces, security personnel, foreign students, & travellers) / Apuda Ignatius Loyola. Katakwi, Uganda: Strategic Outcome Inc., [2016]. 65 pages; 15 cm.

[TETUN] Tetum /'tətəm/, also Tetun, is an Austronesian language spoken on the island of Timor. It is spoken in Belu Regency in Indonesian West Timor, and across the border in East Timor, where it is one of the two official languages. In East Timor a creolized form, Tetun Dili, is widely spoken fluently as a second language; without previous contact, Tetum and Tetun Dili are not mutually intelligible. Besides the grammatical simplification involved in creolization, Tetun Dili has been greatly influenced by the vocabulary of Portuguese, the other official language of East Timor (Wikip).

Ethnologue: tet. Alternate Names: Belo, Belu, Fehan, Teto, Tettum, Tetu, Tetum, Tetun Belu, Tetung.

1889: [LILLY] Diccionario de Portuguez-Tétum, by Apparicio da Silva, P. Sebastião Maria. Macau, Typographia do Seminario, 1889. (1, 1 blank l.), viii, 41 pp., (1 l. errata), 431 pp. 8, quarter cloth, original wrappers pasted on boards; worn, pp. 425-6 loose. Corner torn off blank leaf following t.p., which bears the inscription of Pe. B. [?] Silva, 23-4-98. Not in Zauhmüller. Dictionary of Portuguese and Tetum, the language spoken in Timor. The prologue includes conventions and abbreviations used in the text. The author, a Portuguese missionary at the Real Collegio das Missões Ultramarinas, was director of the seminary in Macau for two years, starting in 1875, and returned there in 1891 before taking a position at the seminary at Timor. Innocencio XIX, 355: without collation. Not in Gomes, Bibliografia macaense, which lists the author's Catecismo, Macau 1885.

1906: [LILLYbm] Tettum-Hollandsche Woordenlijst met beknopte spraakkunst, by A. Mathijssen. 's Hage; Batavia: Martin Nijhoff; Albrecht & Co., 1906. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black, laid on near-contemporary stiff paper with unlettered spine. Pp. [139]-145 (list of errata bound in this case at front) 146, [2] I II-XIV, 1 2-138 [2]. First edition. Verhandelingen van het Bataviaasch Genootschap van kunsten en wetenschappen, d. 56, 2. stuk. Not in Zauhmüller. Includes Tetun-Dutch, pp. [1]-130, with an appendix of Dutch-Tetun phrases. Mathijssen was a missionary in Fialaran in Dutch Timor. Dutch Timor historically had an area of a little over 8,000 sq. miles.

"Kupan, the chief town of the residency, contains some 8000 inhabitants, of whom 145 are Europeans living in well-built houses, 394 Chinese, and 43 Arabs.... Dutch Timor [also includes] the small adjacent islands, Rotti, Peman, &c., the Savu islands, Sumba or Sandalwood island, the Solor and Allor group of islands and the eastern half of Flores" (Encyclopedia Britannica, 13th ed.). The first dictionary of the major language of Timor appeared in 1889 (see above); a far shorter Dutch-Malay-Rotti-Timorese vocabulary had appeared in an academic periodical in 1894 (see under MALAY).

1907: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Teto-Português, by Raphael Das Dores. Lisbon: Imprensa Nacional, 1907. Original cream-colored wrappers, lettered and decorated in black; front wrapper detached. 247 p. 23.5 cm. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Teto-Portuguese, pp. 77-204; and a vocabulary "Teto, Português e Malaio", pp. 209-247. Portuguese Timor historically included the neighboring isle of Pulo Kambing and had an area of about 7450 sq. miles, with population estimates at the time varying from 300,000 to half a million. Second copy: [LILLY]. Third copy: [IUW].

"The natives, still mainly independent of their nominal Dutch and Portuguese rulers, are divided into many hostile tribes, speaking as many as forty distinct Papuan and Malayan languages or dialects. Some are addicted to headhunting, at least during war, and other barbarous practices" (Encyclopedia Britannica, 13th ed.).

1984: [LILLYbm] Tetun-English Dictionary, by Cliff Morris. Canberra: The Australian National University, 1984. Original yellow-green wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [2] i-iv v-xx, 1-194, [1]-21 22 (list of publications). First edition. Pacific Linguistics, Series C, No. 83. Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary is a welcome addition to the growing body of literature, in English, on Timor. It is also appropriate that the first substantial dictionary to English of any Timorese language should be Tetun, since Tetun has for centuries been an historically influential language throughout the island...Both historical and ethnographic evidence suggests that Tetun was already of great importance at the time of the arrival of the First Portuguese in the 16th century...the number of people who speak Tetun as the first language range from 300,000 to 400,000. The fact that Tetun was adapted as a lingua franca in east Timor means, however, that many more Timorese understand Tetun and can use it as a second language. The usefulness of a Tetun-English dictionary is thus unquestionable" (Preface, James J. Fox). "Tetun is spoken over the whole of the island of Timor in varying degrees of expertise and in a number of regional dialects. As a soldier in East Timor during the second world war I learnt Tetun-Los, and it is this dialect of Tetun which forms the basis of this dictionary...The biggest concentration of natural speakers occurs in the central south coast of Timor, from Alas in the west, to Luka in the east" (Introduction). First English dictionary of the major language of Timor.

2001: [LILLY] Manual de Língua Tétum para Timor Leste, by Geoffrey Hull. Winston Hills, NSW, Australia: Sebastião Aparício de Silva, 2001. First edition. 134 p. 20.6 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown. Phrases thematically arranged, Portuguese-Tetun, pp. 23-67, vocabulary Tetun-Portuguese, pp. 68-91, Portuguese-Tetun, pp. 92-134.

2004: [LILLY] Dicionário de Tétum-Português, by Luis Costa. Lisbon: Edições Colibri, 2000. 349 p. 24 cm. Original pink paper over boards, lettered in black, with a photo of a native dwelling on front cover. Tetun-Portuguese, pp. 29-333. Preliminary material with details of those who worked on this dictionary and its genesis.

2004: [LILLY] Tetum für Osttimor: Wort für Wort, by George Saunders. Kauderwelsch Band 173. 160 p. 14. Cm. Original white wrappers, lettered in white, red and black, with a full color photo of East Timor children on front cover. German-Tetun,

pp. 145-149, Tetun-German, pp. 150-159. Intended as a language guide for tourists, with sections devoted to different aspects of life in East Timor.

[TEWA] Tewa is a Tanoan language spoken by Pueblo people, mostly in the Rio Grande valley in New Mexico north of Santa Fe, and in Arizona. It is also known as Tano, or (archaic) Tée-wah. The 1980 census counted 1,298 speakers, almost all of whom are bilingual in English. Each pueblo or reservation where it is spoken has a dialect. As of 2012, Tewa is defined as "definitely endangered" in Arizona and "severely endangered" in New Mexico by UNESCO. The written form of the language is not as ubiquitous as in languages such as Cherokee or Navajo, because some Tewa speakers feel that the language should be passed on through the oral tradition. The Tewa language was a spoken language through the 1960s; digital language documentation efforts were underway as of 1995 (WikP).

Ethnologue: tew.

1851-1857: see Vol. 3 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 17 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1914: [LILLYbm] Ethnozoology of the Tewa Indians, by Junius Henderson & John Peabody Harrington. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1914. Original olive cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. [2] I-II III-X, 1 2-76 [4]. First edition. Bureau of American Ethnology, Bulletin 56. Includes detailed Tewa-English annotated vocabulary of animals, birds, reptiles, insects, etc., pp. 9-68.

"Much of the work hitherto done in obtaining the names of plants and animals has been worthless, because no attempt was made to discover and record with certainty the kind of plants and animals to which the names are applied... The best way certainly is to get the information in the field, so far as possible by showing the Indian informants the animal in its natural environment. Specimens thus identified and discussed should then be scientifically identified and preserved for future reference" (p. 9).

1916: [LILLYbm] Ethnobotany of the Tewa Indians, by Wilfred William Robbins, John Peabody Harrington & Barbara Freire-Marreco. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1916. Original olive cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. [2] I-II III-XII, 1-118-- + folding map. First edition. Includes detailed Tewa-English vocabulary of plants and flowers, pp. 8-118.

"Ethnobotany is virtually a new field of research... The ethnobotany of one tribe should be compared with similar studies of other tribes.... Conceptions of plant life differ among different peoples: a particular plant here does not react in the same way upon one people as it does upon another; it has a different name and probably a different usage; while different ideas are held concerning it.... Attempt should ultimately be made to investigate the causes and extent of these variations" (pp. 1-2).

1993: [IUW] Language, history, and identity: ethnolinguistic studies of the Arizona Tewa, by Paul V. Kroskrity. Tucson: University of Arizona Press, c1993. xvii, 289 p.; 24 cm. Original light tan cloth over boards, lettered in black. Appendix I: Lexical Comparison of Arizona and Rio Grande Tewa, English-Rio Grande Tewa-Arizona Tewa, pp. [229]-236 (217 words). Includes bibliographical references and index.

"The studies presented in the volume are based on about three and a half years of field research conducted between 1973 and 1989 on and around Tewa Village, First Mesa of the Hopi Reservation in northern Arizona" (Acknowledgments).

[THAI] Thai, also known as Siamese or Central Thai, is the national and official language of Thailand and the native language of the Thai people and the vast majority of Thai Chinese. Thai is a member of the Tai group of the Tai–Kadai language family. Over half of the words in Thai are borrowed from Pali, Sanskrit and Old Khmer. It is a tonal and analytic language. Thai also has a complex orthography and relational markers. Spoken Thai is mutually intelligible with Laotian (Language of Laos; the two languages are written with slightly different scripts, but are linguistically similar).

Ethnologue: tha. Alternate Names: Bangkok Thai, Central Thai, Siamese, Standard Thai, Thai Klang, Thaiklang.

1854: [LILLY] Dictionarium linguae Thai: sive Siamensis interpretatione Latina, Gallica et Anglica illustratum / auctore D.J.B. Pallegoix. Parisiis: Jussu imperatoris impressum, in typographeo imperatorio, M DCCC LIV. [8: two blank leaves followed by half-title and title page], 897 p., [2: a single blank leaf]. Original blue-green wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Dalby 1538. Thai-Phonetic-Latin-French-English dictionary in five columns, pp. [1]-897. No preliminary material. This copy from the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ownership stamps and a few notations.

Jean-Baptiste Pallegoix, 1805 – 1862, arrived in Bangkok in 1830, and was appointed vicar apostolic of Eastern Siam in 1841. He became close to King Mongkut and was influential in establishing political and commercial relations between Thailand and France. His main claim to fame was in the development of printing in Thailand. He received his first press in 1838, and published his first primer, in romanized Thai, in September that year. A number of tracts and school books were printed in the following years in Thai, Annamese, Cochinese, and Malay, but all in roman characters. Pallegoix was able to use Thai type acquired from the American Protestant missionaries in Bangkok. Winship, Michael: Early Thai Printing to 1851. (Crossroads, Volume 3, Number1).

1972: Reprinted [IUW] Dictionarium linguae Thai: sive Siamensis interpretatione Latina, Gallica et Anglica illustratum / auctore D.J.B. Pallegoix. Farnborough, Eng.: Gregg, 1972. 897 p.; 31 cm. At head of t.p. title in Thai script. Reprint. Originally published: Parisiis: Jussu imperatoris impressum in Typographeo Imperatorio, 1854.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1892: [LILLYbm] Lehr- und Lesebuch der Siamesischen Sprache und Deutsch-Siamesisches Wörterbuch. Zum Selbststudium mit phonetischer Aussprachebezeichnung, Übungsaufgaben und Lesebuch, by F[ranz] J[oseph] Wershoven. Vienna. Pest. Leipzig: A. Hartleben's Verlag, [1892]. Original red cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black, rear cover in blind. Pp. I-V VI VII-VIII, 1 2-181 182-184. No edition indicated. Die Kunst der Polyglottie 38. Zaunmüller, col. 348. This copy with the contemporary ownership signature of James Platt, Jr., possibly the son of the prolific Victorian essayist. This is the first German Thai dictionary.

"Aids to the study of the Siamese language are sparse... Of the available dictionaries, the large one by Pallegoix [Paris, 1854]...is hard to come by, Bradley's (Bangkok, 1873) is written entirely in Siamese and therefore only useful to those who know the language well; the Siamese-English dictionary of E[dward] B. Mitchell (Bangkok, 1892) is useful but incomplete... and the English-Siamese one by McFarland (Bangkok, 1886) is to be used with caution. There is no German-Siamese dictionary available... Given these circumstances, I expect a friendly reception [for this work, which includes] a German-Siamese dictionary of approximately 2500 words... It deals with the colloquial speech of everyday life; the elevated style, the speech of the court and the priests with their vocabulary borrowed from Sanskrit and Pali, requires separate study" (Foreword, tr: BM).

1900: [IUW] An English-Siamese pronouncing hand-book. 2d ed., containing vocabulary--familiar phrases--forms of address and reply on every day topics. Map of Bangkok appended. Prepared from the manuscript of the late W.H. McFarland, by the late E.H. McFarland. Rev. and enl. by Geo. B. McFarland ... Bangkok, Printed at the "American Presbyterian mission press," 1900. 1 p. 1., xx [2], [323] p. front., illus., plates, fold. map. 21 cm. English and Siamese on opposite pages; paged in part in duplicate, with Siamese characters.

1903: [LILLYbm] Essai de dictionnaire Français-Siamois, by M[arie]-J[ospeh] Çuaz. Bangkok: Imprimerie de la Mission Catholique, 1903. Later purple cloth over boards, with black paper label lettered in gold. Pp. (3)-(4) (5)-(28) (29)-(32), 1 2-1012 1013-1014. May be lacking a half-title or a preliminary blank leaf [pp. (1)-(2)]. First edition. Zaubmüller, col. 349. Pages arranged in three columns: French, Romanized Siamese, and Siamese script. Çuaz was Bishop of Hermopolis and Apostolic Vicar to Laos. First French-Thai dictionary. Edward B. Mitchell produced a Siamese-English dictionary in Bangkok in 1892. A German-Siamese dictionary was published by F. J. Wershoven in Vienna in that same year (see above).

"The goal of this work is to fill a regrettable lacuna, the absence of any French-Siamese dictionary or lexicon. It is entitled ESSAI DE DICTIONNAIRE because of its imperfections, which are however inevitable in any work that is the first of its genre. The works that have been of the greatest aid in compiling it have been, without doubt, the DICTIONNAIRE SIAMOIS-FRANÇAIS-ANGLAIS of Mr. Pallegoix..., and the DICTIONARY OF THE SIAMESE LANGUAGE by P. B. Bradley (Bangkok, 1873) [not in Zaubmüller]" (Preface, tr: BM).

1907: [LILLY] A Siamese-English dictionary, by B.O. Cartwright [1877-1928]. Bangkok: Printed at "The American Presby. mission press," 1907. 5 p. 1., 4, [2], [6]-20 [1], 731 p. 19 cm. Original red half-calf and purple cloth over boards, lettered in gold. First edition. Zaubmüller 349. With alphabet tabs. Includes Simamese-English, pp. [1]-731.

"In this volume, an attempt has been made to produce a handy Siamese English Dictionary at a moderate price. Hitherto only two Siamese English Dictionaries have been published: namely the large work of Bishop Pallegoix, and the smaller one of Mitchell, the latter having now been out of print for a considerable time. The present work differs from both of the above in the following particulars: A. The arrangement of the words...B. The scope and compass of the work...While not possessing the wealth of detail of Pallegoix; the compass of the present work is considerably greater than that of Mitchell's.... [etc.]" (Preface).

1917: [LILLYbm] English-French-Siamese word and phrase book. Petit livre de conversation anglais-français-siamois, by B[asil] O[sborn] Cartwright. Bangkok: The American Presbyterian Mission Press, 1917. Original olive-green cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. [12] (advertisements); [4] ii-iii, 1 2-239 240; [20] (advertisements). First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes thematically arranged English-French-Siamese vocabularies, pp. 33-162. This copy stamped "Complimentary copy" on the front free endpaper, and "With the author's compliments / B. O. Cartwright" in ink on the title page. Cartwright was also author of A Siamese-English Dictionary (1907) (see above).

1930: [LILLY] Siamese Self-Taught: The students' Manual of the Siamese Language. Revised edition. Bangkok: The Subh Pakya Press, 1930. Pp. [12] 1 2-355 356. 18.5 cm. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Includes brief Thai-English and English-Thai vocabularies throughout, English-Thai medical terms, pp. 307-325, English-Thai legal terms, pp. 325-336, and English-Thai technical terms, pp. 337-355. The Table of Contents [which is printed in an unfinished state] indicates that a final general vocabulary, English-Thai and Thai-English, may have been intended. The first edition appeared in 1915. This copy with the ink stamp "Bibliotheca John Stokes."

"Nine years have now elapsed since the author's publication of a previous work under the title of "An Elementary Hand-book of the Siamese Language," and with increased experience... he came to the conclusion that from the point of view of the Student, several grave objections could be raised against the said book as a rapid method for the study of the Siamese language. The author therefore decided that as soon as a demand arose for a new edition, it would be better to write an entirely new book, rather than to make a revised edition of the old. The present work is the outcome" (Author's Preface [to the First Edition]).

"Cartwright's Student Manual has proved its value as a textbook to English speaking students of the Siamese language. There is a constant demand for this work, but it has been out of print since 1928. Standardized Siamese spelling which has been introduced recently makes the book out-of-date... I have found it necessary, therefore, to extend the 3rd Part of the book, apart from bringing other Parts up to date, and correct the Siamese spelling" (Preface to the Revised Edition).

1932: [LILLYbm] "Siamesische-deutsches Wörterverzeichnis juristischer Fachausdrücke," by Walter Trittelt. Berlin: Reichsdruckerei, 1932. Original green wrappers, lettered in black. Seminars für Orientalische Sprachen zu Berlin, vol. 35, Sect. 1, Ostasiatische Studien, 1932. Includes Thai-German legal terms, pp. 136-211.

1941 [1944]: [LILLYbm] Thai-English dictionary, by George Bradley McFarland [1866-1942]. Stanford University, Calif.; London: Stanford University Press; H. Milford, Oxford University Press, 1944. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold; d.j. light gray, lettered and decorated in brown. Pp. [4] i ii-xxi xxii, 1 2-1019 1020, [2] ²1 2-39 40. Second issue of the first edition, reprinted photographically. Zaunmüller, col. 349. Includes Thai-English, pp. [1]-1019, and Latin (scientific names)-Thai lists of the names of bird, fishes, flora, shells and snakes, pp. ²7-39. Second copy: [IUW].

"The first edition of the McFarland Thai-English Dictionary came from the press in Bangkok just five months before Pearl Harbor. A few copies reached the United States before communication ceased. Since then it has been impossible to secure additional copies for use outside Thailand... To secure this specific need the present edition has been printed.... The page-size of this edition is reduced somewhat, making a handier volume than the original. Otherwise there is no change" (Preface to the Second Edition, Bertha Blount McFarland).

1947: [LILLYbm] Phonetic Dictionary of the Thai Language. Part I: Thai-English. Part II: English-Thai, by Mary R. Haas. 2 vols. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1947. Original brown wrappers, with tan (Vol. I) and red (Vol. II) quarter-linen spine, lettered in black. 387 leaves; 276 leaves. Oblong format. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 349, lists the 1945 edition prepared for army classes. Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary was originally prepared as one of the teaching aids for the Thai course of the Army Specialized Training Program, University of California, in 1943-44. At that time only enough copies were run off to meet the needs of that group of students. To supply an increasing need for a practical dictionary of Thai on the part of civilian students the dictionary is now being reprinted under the auspices of the University of California Press."

195-?: [IUW] Modern standard Thai-English dictionary / Plang Phloyphrom [Bangkok]: Prae Bhitthaya, [195-?] 1563 p.; 19 cm. Title also in Thai.

1952: [IUW] New model English-Thai dictionary, ed. So Sethaputra. Desk [2d] ed. Bangkok, Vathana Vibul [1952]. 7, 1279 p. 20 cm. Dalby 1540.

1960: Eighth edition [IUW] New model English-Thai dictionary, ed. So Sethaputra.. [8th] desk ed. [Samud Prakan, Thailand, 1960]. 1153 p. 19 cm.

1970: New edition [IUW] New model English-Thai dictionary, ed. So Sethaputra. Desk ed. [Phannakōn, Thaiwannāpānit (romanized form)] [2513 i.e. 1970]. 878 p. illus. 20 cm.

2000?: New edition [IUW] New model Thai-English dictionary / ed. So Sethaputra. Desk edition. Krung Thēp Mahā Nakhōn: Thai Watthanā Phānit, [2000?]. 1 volume; 19 cm.

1955a: [IUW] Pru's standard Thai-English dictionary, by Plang Phloyphrom and Robert Dorne Golden, with the cooperation of Brother Urbain-Gabriel. [Bangkok, Āthōn Banpraditt; agent: Pricha Co., 1955]. [12], 1774 p. 20 cm.

1955b: [IUW] Thai vocabulary, by Mary R. Haas. Washington, American Council of Learned Societies, 1955. xiv, 217-589 p. 23cm. Publication (American Council of Learned Societies. Program in Oriental Languages). Series A. Texts; no. 2.

1956: [IUW] Photchanānukrom Farangsēt-Thai: phrōm dūai kamkap kham 'ān thuk kham / Khana 'Āchhān Parinyā 'Aksōnrasātbandit = French-Thai dictionary. Thon Burī, Thailand: Samnakphim Thonburīsuksā, [2499 i.e. 1956]. 92, 1056 p.; 14 cm. Cover title: French-Thai dictionary. Caption title: Dictionnaire français-siamois.

1958a: [IUW] English-thai & Thai-english dictionary, by M.L. Manich Jumsai. Bangkok?, Chalermnit Press, 1958. 1 v.

1968: New edition [LILLYbm] English-Thai & Thai-English Dictionary, by M.L. Manich Jumsai. Chalermnit Press, 1968. Original red leather, lettered and decorated in gold. 610 pp.; 780 pp. Later edition; first appeared in pocket format in two volumes in 1954-55 (see Zaunmüller, col. 348). Uses English and Thai script.

1958b: [IUW] Phočhanānukrom chāng, by Lūang Wičhitwāthakān (Kimlāng). [S.l.: s.n., 1958]. 629 p. English-Thai dictionary of engineering.

1958c: [IUW] Phočhanānukrom Thai-Angkrit kong Manich Jumsai. Bangkok, Chalermnit Press, 2501 [1958]. 780 p. Thai-English dictionary.

1958d: [IUW] Phočhanānukrom Thai-Frangset kong phra Liem-Viraj-Phark. Bangkok, Nakorn Kasem [1958]. 765 p. Thai-French dictionary.

1958e: [IUW] Photčhanānukrom sap phāet = Medical dictionary: 'Angkrit pen Thai phrōmdūai kham 'ān / čhattham dōi Fāi Wichākān Phrāphitthayā læ Khana Phāet Phūchīeochān hāeng Wachirasān. Krung Thēp: Phrāphitthayā, 2501 [1958]. 1021 p.; 19 cm. English-Thai medical dictionary.

1962: see under PALI.

1964a: [LILLYbm] Taisko-russkii slovar, by L[ev] N[ikolaevich] Morev. Moscow: Sovetskaia Entsiklopediia, 1964. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in yellow. Pp. 1-5 6-985 986-992. First edition. Includes Thai-Russian, pp. [15]-920. Earliest Russian Thai dictionary. Second copy: [IUW].

1964b: [IUW] Thai-English student's dictionary. Compiled by Mary R. Haas, with the assistance of George V. Grekoff [and others] Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press, 1964. xxix, 638 p. 26 cm. Dalby 1535: "Clear printing from typescript, about 12,000 entries".

1968: [LILLYbm] Modern Thai Pronunciation Dictionary, by Master John. Bangkok: Woothisarn, 1968. Original dark blue cloth over stiff paper, lettered in gold. 358 pp. + 22 pp. for notes. First edition. This copy with the signature of Gwenda Lynn. This is possibly the Gwenda Lynn who published Private Diary of HRH Prince Chula, a work of fiction, in 1991.

1969: [LILLYbm] Robertson's Practical English-Thai Dictionary, by Richard G. Robertson. Bangkok: Asian Books, n.d. [c. Charles E. Tuttle 1969]. Original red plastic, lettered in gold; yellow d.j., lettered in red and blue. Pp. i-iv v-xii xiii-xiv, 1-319 320-322. No edition or printing indicated: "This edition is published by Asia Books... by arrangement with the Charles E. Tuttle Co., Inc." "Includes English-Thai, pp. 1-293. Second copy: [IUW].

"...a quick and easy reference guide containing 5,000 Thai words and phrases based on nearly 2,500 English entries. Young Americans, would you like to know the Thai words for 'love' or 'lovely'? They are listed here in clear and easily pronounced phonetics" (copy from d.j.).

197-?: [LILLYbm] English Thai / Thai English Dictionary. Chalermint. Brooklyn, N.Y.: Saphrograph Corp., [n.d.]. Hardbound without d.j. 153 pp.

1976: [IUW] Sug, the trickster who fooled the monk: a northern Thai tale with vocabulary / Viggo Brun. Lund, Sweden: Studentlitteratur, 1976. 191 p.; 23 cm. Scandinavian Institute of Asian Studies monograph series; no. 27. Bibliography: p. 191. Includes English and Thai glossary.

1978a: see 1978b under KHMER.

1978b: see under KUI.

1980a: see under BRU, WESTERN.

1980b: [IUW] Chũ phanmai hēng Prathēt Thai (chũ phruksasāt-chũ phūnmūang) / Tem Samitinan; phučhattham, Khongrit ‘Ēkawiphāt. Phim khrang thī 2. Bangkok: Krom Pāmai, 2523 [i.e. 1980]. 12, 379 p.; 27 cm. Added title page: Thai plant names: botanical names-vernacular names. English and Thai. Map on lining paper.

1983: [LILLYbm] E-Saan-Central Thai Dictionary. Revised Edition, by Sutthiya Sueppha, Karuna Kitklayan, & Chotima Juengsawat. Thailand: U.S. Peace Corps, [1983]. Original orange wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [1-64] (paginated in Thai, pp. [9]-[63]). Revised edition.

"This E-Saan to Central Thai Dictionary is a revised edition of the "Central to E-Saan Thai Dictionary" developed in 1981. The revision was based on the feedback we received from the Peace Corps Volunteers who used the first edition. Both format and content of the first edition have been changed: for one thing, the script is larger. An English column has been added and each entry starts with E-Saan Thai instead of Central Thai. So, on each page, there are four columns: the E-Saan Thai word, the Central Thai equivalent, the English equivalent, and sample usages... Since E-Saan Thai has no written script, the Central Thai alphabet and tone rules have been used to represent E-Saan Thai sounds... Our problems are further complicated by the existence of another tone - 'high falling.' It is close to falling tone but starts at a higher level. So, in E-Saan there are six addition of the English equivalents, this becomes this first English dictionary of E-Saan.

1990: [IUW] 泰汉词典 = [Photčhanānukrom Thai-Chīn / 广州外国语学院编; [主编萧少云; 编委秦森杰 ... et al.; 助编者刘瑞琪 ... et al.]. Tai Han ci dian = [Photčhanānukrom Thai-Chīn / Guangzhou wai guo yu xue yuan bian; [zhu bian Xiao Shaoyun; bian wei Qin Senjie ... et al.; zhu bian zhe Liu Ruiqi ... et al.]. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 北京: 商务印书馆: 新华书店北京发行所发行, 1990. Beijing: Shang wu yin shu guan: Xin hua shu dian Beijing fa xing suo fa xing, 1990. 838 p.; 24 cm.

1991: [IUW] Thai / compiled by Lexus with Manat Chitakasem and David Smyth. New York, N.Y.: Hippocrene Books, 1991, c1988. xi, 116 p.; 21 cm. Hippocrene handy dictionaries.

1994 [1997]: [IUW] The Oxford-Duden pictorial Thai & English dictionary / [Thai text by the Translation Department, Chulalongkorn University and edited by Narisa Chakrabongse and Ubol Pukkanasuta; first edition of English text edited by John Phelby]. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1997, c1994. 708, 55, 102 p.: ill. (some col.); 25 cm. Includes indexes. First published in Thailand by River Books.

1999: [IUW] Damnēn-Sathīanphong photčhanānukrom Thai-‘Angkrit = Domnēn-Sathienpong Thai-English dictionary / Damnēn Kāndēn, Sathīanphong Wannapok. Domnēn Garden, compiler. Chabap prapprung mai, 2nd ed. Bangkok: Amarin Print. and Pub., 2542 [1999]. 17, 725 pages; 22 cm Thai-English dictionary.

2001: [IULaw Library] Sap nitisāt ‘Angkrit-Thai: chabap Rāṭchabandittayasathān. Phim khrang thī 3. Third edition. Krung Thēp: Rāṭchabandittayasathān, 2544 [2001] 14, 672 p.; 22 cm. English-Thai law dictionary.

2002: Fourth edition [IULaw Library] Sap nitisāt ‘Angkrit-Thai: chabap Rāṭchabandittayasathān. Phim khrang thī 4. English-Thai/Thai-English legal dictionary. Krung Thēp: Rāṭchabandittayasathān, 2545 [2002]. 15, 670 p.; 22 cm. Library copy gift of Poom Moolsilpa, MCL 1999.

2002 [2005]: [IUW] Thai-English English-Thai Dictionary: [with transliteration for non-Thai speakers] / Benjawan Poomsan Becker. Fourth rev. edition. Bangkok; Berkeley, Calif.: Paiboon Pub., c2002 (2005 printing). 658 p.; 14 cm.

2003: [IUW] Thai grammar, poetry and dictionary, in a new romanised system / Kit Tiyanpan. Bangkok: Kittix, 2003. 128 p.; 22 cm.

2004: [IUW] Oxford-River Books English-Thai dictionary / translated by the Chalerm Prakiat Translation and Interpretation Centre, The Faculty of Arts, Chulalongkorn University; chief editors, Prima Mallikamas, Narisa Chakrabongse, Paisarn Piamattawat = Photchanānukrom 'Oksafōt-Riwā Buk 'Angkrit-Thai / plā dōi Sūn Kānplā Lām Chalēm Phrakīat, Khana 'Aksōnsāt, Čhulālongkōnmahāwitthayālai; bannāthikān, Parīmā Manlikamāt, Narisā Čhakkraphong, Phaisān Pīammētāwat. Bangkok: River Books Co.: Distributed in Thailand and Southeast Asia by D.K. Today Co., 2004. 1079 p.; 27 cm.

2010: Second edition [IUW] Oxford-River Books English-Thai dictionary / translated by the Chalerm Prakiat Translation and Interpretation Centre, the Faculty of Arts, Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok; chief editors, Prima Mallikamas, Narisa Chakrabongse, Paisarn Piamattawat. 2nd ed. Oxford; New York: Oxford University Press; Bangkok, Thailand: River Books, 2010. 1084 p.; 27 cm. Previous ed.: 2004.

"This English-Thai dictionary is intended primarily as a reference work and useful resource for students of the English language, but has attempted to meet the needs of varying groups of users by providing the most complete definitions of words and idioms possible" (publisher's description).

2006: see under ZHUANG LANGUAGES.

201-?: [IUW] Thai-Vietnamese-English and Vietnamese-Thai-English business dictionary / ไสภนา. Thai-Vietnamese-English and Vietnamese-Thai-English business dictionary.

2011a: [IUW] Northern Thai stone inscriptions (14th-17th centuries) / Marek Buchmann. Wiesbaden: Harrassowitz Verlag, 2011-, ©2011-. volumes; 22 cm. Abhandlungen für die Kunde des Morgenlandes; Bd. 73, etc. Part 1. Glossary. Includes bibliographical references. Part 1. Glossary.

2011b: [IUW] Sanskrit-Thai- 'Angkrit 'aphithān / Rōi 'Ēk Lūang Bōwōnbannarak (Niyom Rakthai). Phim khrang thī hā. Krung Thēp: Samnakphim Sāngdāo, 2554 [2011] 10, 1372 pages; 13 cm Sanskrit-Thai-English dictionary. Includes bibliographical references (pages 1370-1372).

2012: [IUW] Collins pocket Thai dictionary: Thai- 'Angkrit 'Angkrit-Thai. Glasgow: HarperCollins, 2012. xii, 433, 32 pages; 18 cm.

"Collins Pocket Thai Dictionary offers learners extensive and up-to-date coverage of Thai and English in a portable format, with a handy supplement of essential grammar points for each language. This Thai dictionary is designed for all levels of language learner, whether at home, at school, or at work. It is the ideal text for anyone who needs a wealth of reliable information in a portable format. * Collins Pocket Thai Dictionary contains all the everyday words and phrases used in today's Thai and English that you will need to know. * An easy-to-use and reliable dictionary. * A two-way dictionary: Thai-English and English-Thai. * A grammar supplement covers the essential grammar points for both languages. * The clear user-friendly layout ensures that you can quickly find the information you need. * All Thai words, phrases and translations are shown with their romanized transcription - ideal for beginners" (publisher's description).

2013: [IUW] Photchanānukrom khamsap nā changon sapson = Dictionary of confusing words / dōi Rōng Sātrāchhān Phayut Tīorattanakun. Phim khrang rāk. Krung Thēp: Samnakphim Niphon, 2556 [2013] 352 pages; 21 cm. Includes index. English-Thai dictionary of confusing words.

[THAKALI] Thakali is a Sino-Tibetan language of Nepal spoken by the Thakali people, mainly in the Myagdi and Mustang Districts. Its dialects have limited mutual intelligibility. Seke (Tangbe, Tetang, Chuksang) is sometimes considered a separate language. Other names and dialect names are Barhagaule, Marpha, Panchgaunle, Puntan Thakali, Syang, Tamhang Thakali, Thaksaatsaye, Thaksatsae, Thaksya, Tukuche, Yhulkasom.

Ethnologue: ths. Alternate Names: Barhagaule, Panchgaunle, Tapaang, Thaksya.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2004: [LILLY] Thakālī-Nepālī-Aṅgrejī śabdakosha = Thakali-Nepali-English dictionary / Novala Kīśora Rāī; Tejaprasāda Gaucana; Thakālī Anusandhāna Kendra.; Thakālī Sevā Samiti. Kāthamāḍaṃ: Thakālī Anusandhāna Kendra evaṃ Thakālī Sevā Samiti (Kendra), 2061 [2004]. 1. saṃskaraṇa. First edition. 230 p. 21.4 cm. Original pink wrappers, lettered in red. Thakali-Nepali-English, pp. 1-116, Nepali-Thakali index, pp. 119-174, Thakali-English index, English-Thakali, pp. 175-230. In Nepali.

[THANGMI] Thangmi, also called Thāmī, Thangmi Kham, Thangmi Wakhe, and Thani, is a Sino-Tibetan language spoken in central-eastern Nepal and northeastern India by the Thami people. The Thami refer to their language as Thangmi Kham or Thangmi Wakhe while the rest of Nepal refers to it as Thāmī. The majority of these speakers, however, live in Nepal in their traditional homeland of Dolakhā District. In India, the Thami population is concentrated mostly in Darjeeling. The Thangmi language is written using the Devanagari script (WikP).

Ethnologue: thf. Alternate Names: Thami, Thangmi Kham, Thangmi Wakhe, Thani.

1903-1927: see Volume III, Part I, 1909, under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2003: [LILLY] Thāmī-Nepālī-Aṅgrejī śabdasaṅgraha = Thami-Nepali-English glossary, by Suspā Śaikshika Vikāsa Samiti (Dolakhā, Nepal). Dolakhā: Susapā Śaikshika Vikāsa Samiti, 2060 [2003]. 108 p. 19.5 cm. Original yellow wrappers, lettered in black and red. First edition. Thami [Thangmi]-Nepali-English, pp. 1-96.

"This glossary contains about 2,500 words which are really practical and come in daily use.... It has been an urgent problem for us to preserve languages of minor ethnic people which are rapidly perishing in the world" (Cordial Congratulations, Tadayoshi Yamamoto, Representative, the Japanese Educational Volunteers) (in English).

2004: [LILLY] Nepālī-Thāmī-Aṅgrejī śabdakośa / Mārka Ṭurīn sāthamā Vīra Bahādura Thāmī. 1. saṃskaraṇa. Kāthamāḍaṃ: Sāmājika Vikāsa tathā Anusandhāna

Kendra, 2004. Cover title: Nepali-Thami-English Dictionary, by Mark Turin with Bir Bahadur Thami. 116 p.; 19 cm. First edition. 2000 copies. Original black and white wrappers, lettered in white. Series: Cautārī pustaka śṛṅkhalā; 18. Nepali-Thami [Thangmi]-English, pp. 15-116 (paginated in Nepali).

"This dictionary has been a long time in the making. I started working on the Thami language, called Thangmi by the people who speak it, in 1996... [T]he Thangmi speakers with whom I was working were naturally ... interested in having me publish a dictionary in the Nepali (Devanagari) script.... A concise dictionary, or more accurately a 'word-list' in a script which they could read would be of far greater utility to the community [than his Ph.D. thesis]. With this request in mind, I have compiled the Nepali-Thami-English Dictionary" (Introduction).

2012: [IUW] A grammar of the Thangmi language: with an ethnolinguistic introduction to the speakers and their culture / by Mark Turin. Leiden; Boston: Brill, 2012. 2 v.: ill.; 25 cm. Brill's Tibetan studies library; v. 5/6. V. 1: Ethnography and grammar. v. 2: Lexicon and texts. Thangmi-English, pp. [755]-918. Includes bibliographical references (p. [935]-945) and index.

[THAO] Thao (/θau/ thow; Thao: Thau a lalawa), also known as Sao, is the nearly extinct language of the Thao people, an indigenous people of Taiwan from the Sun Moon Lake region in central Taiwan. It is a Formosan language of the Austronesian family;[4] Barawbaw and Shtafari are dialects. The name Thao literally means "person", from Proto-Austronesian *Cau. It is therefore cognate with the name of the Tsou (WikP). Population: 4 (2021 Center for Aboriginal Studies). Also some semi-speakers (2021 E. Zeitoun). Ethnic population: 820 (2020 CIP).

Ethnologue: ssf. Alternate Names: Caw a lalawa, Chui-Huan, Chuihwan, Sao, Sau, Shao, Suihwan, Vulung. Autonym: Thaw a lalawa.

1969: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[THARU LANGUAGES] The Tharu or Tharuhat languages are any of the Indo-Aryan languages spoken by the Tharu people of the Terai region in Nepal, and neighboring regions of Uttarakhand, Uttar Pradesh and Bihar in India. Although their own precise classification within Indo-Aryan remains uncertain, Tharu languages have superficial similarities with neighbouring languages such as Awadhi, Maithili, and Bhojpuri. Moreover, the lexicon of certain Tharu households is indicative of an archaic, 'indigenous' substratum, potentially predating both Sino-Tibetan or Indo-Aryan settlement.

Chitwania Tharu is spoken by approximately 250,000 speakers east of the Gandaki River, in and around the Chitwan Valley. Chitwania, as a whole, has superficial similarities with Awadhi. Nevertheless, certain Chitwania variants appear to have considerable lexical similarities with Manchad, a Sino-Tibetan language.

Dangaura, Rana, and Buksa refer to a triumvirate of mutually-intelligible Tharu variants spoken west of the Gandaki River, spoken by approximately 1.3 million people. Furthermore, an additional variant of Tharu, known as Sonha, is largely mutually intelligible with Dangauru.

Kochila, a diverse Tharu variant, is also spoken by approximately 250,000 people, in regions of eastern Nepal. Many ethnic Kochila have adopted Maithili (WikP).

Ethnologue includes five unclassified Tharu languages: 1) Danguara Tharu (thl), 2) Kathariya Tharu (tkl), 3) Madhya Ksetriya Tharu (the), 4) Madhya-Purbiya Tharu (thq), and 5) Rana Tharu (thr). Chitwania Tharu is listed as a dialect of Madhya Ksetriya Tharu. Buksa (tkb) and Sonha (soi) are listed as separate unclassified languages.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[THEMNE] Temne (also Themne, Timne) is a language of the Mel branch of Niger–Congo, spoken in Sierra Leone by about 2 million first speakers. One of the country's most widely spoken languages, it is spoken by 30% of the country's population. It also serves as a lingua franca for an additional 1,500,000 people living in areas near the Temne people. It is closely related to the neighboring Kissi language. Temne speakers can also be found in all 12 districts of Sierra Leone. Temne people can be found in a number of other West African countries as well, including Guinea and The Gambia. Some Temnes have also migrated beyond West Africa seeking educational and professional opportunities, especially in Great Britain, the United States, and Egypt. Temnes are mostly scholars, business people, farmers, and coastal fishermen; and most are Muslims (WikP).

Ethnologue: tem. Alternate Names: Temen, Temne, Timene, Timmannee, Time.

1861: [LILLYbm] A collection of Temne traditions: fables and proverbs, with an English translation: as also some specimens of the author's own Temne compositions and translations: to which is appended a Temne-English vocabulary, by Rev. C[hristian] F[rederick] Schlenker. London: Printed for the Church Missionary Society, 1861. Original brown cloth over boards, decorated in blind, spine lettered in gold. Pp. I-III IV-XXII, 1 2-298. First edition. Not in Zaubmüller (who lists only the author's English-Temne Dictionary of 1880). Hendrix 1598. Includes Temne-English, pp. [139]-238. First substantial published vocabulary of the language. This copy with the bookplate and ink ownership signature of Rev. R. A. West, dated 22 September 1890.

"The collection of Temne Traditions, etc.... was received by the author from one of the oldest Temne men living at Port-Loke about twelve years ago, who has since died. These Traditions, etc. were of course delivered orally not in writing.... The translation of these Traditions... was made somewhat free; which the author thought himself justified to do; as there is a full Vocabulary appended for this Collection of Temne literature, by which the literal translation may be made" (Preface).

1970: Reprinted [IUW] A collection of Temne traditions, fables and proverbs, with an English translation; and also some specimens of the author's own Temne compositions and translations; to which is appended a Temne-English vocabulary, by Christian Friedrich Schlenker. Nendeln, Kraus Reprint, 1970. 298 p. 22 cm. Reprint of the 1861 ed.

1916a: [IUW] Anthropological report on Sierre Leone. By Northcote W. Thomas. London, Harrison and sons, 1916. 3 v. front. (map) XX pl., 3 fold. tab. 22 cm. Pt. I. Law and custom of the Timne and other tribes.--pt. II. Timne-English dictionary.--pt. III. Timne grammar and stories.

1970: Reprinted [IUW] Anthropological report on Sierre Leone. By Northcote W. Thomas. Westport, Conn., Negro Universities Press [1970]. 3 v. in 1; front. (map) XX pl., 3 fold. tab. 22 cm. Pt. I. Law and custom of the Timne and other tribes.--pt. II. Timne-English dictionary.--pt. III. Timne grammar and stories. Reprint of the 1916 edition.

1916b: see 1916 under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

ca. 1920: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1922: [LILLYbm] A Hand-book of the Temne language, by A. T. Sumner. Freetown: Government Printing Office, 1922. Original black quarter-leather and gray paper over boards, lettered in black. Pp. i-vii viii-xvi, 1 2-157 158-160. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Not in Hendrix. Includes Themne-English, pp. [118]-139, and English-Themne, pp. 140-157. Second copy: [IUW].

1927: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1970: [IUW] Themne language resources / by A. Stephen Disraeli; with the assistance of Ruth C. Disraeli ... [et al.] Makeni, Sierra Leone; Peace Corps Training Program, 1970. 1 v. (various pagings); 36 cm. Library binding. "Vocabulary in context" [thematically arranged]: Themne-English, ff. 1-32 (third pagination); "Word lists: Parts of Speech": Themne-English, Verbs, ff. V1-V6, Nouns, ff. N1-N14, Adjectives, ff. [ADJ1]-ADJ3, Adverbs, ff. [ADV1-ADV2], Connectives and Prepositions, [final leaf].

"This manual has been conceived as a workbook for the teacher as well as the student of the Themne language" (Introduction).

1986: [LILLYbm] Temne names and proverbs, Abou Bai-Sharka. Freetown: People's Educational Association of Sierra Leone, 1986. Original pea green wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. Pp. 1-4 5-138 (pagination continues onto inner rear wrapper). First edition. Series: PEA Stories and Songs from Sierra Leone 19. Not in Hendrix. Reproduced from typescript. Includes lists of place names in Themne with English equivalents, pp. 13-96.

"Dr. Abou Bai-Sharka is a French and Linguistic Lecturer in the...University of Sierra Leone. He is a Temne and hails from Karene, Port Loko District. During the 1984/85 academic year he conducted a research into the origin and meaning of names and proverbs in Temne" (p. [2]).

[THOMPSON] The Thompson language, properly known as Nlaka'pamuctsin a.k.a. the Nlaka'pamux ('Nthlakampx') language, is an Interior Salishan language spoken in the Fraser Canyon, Thompson Canyon, Nicola Country of the Canadian province of British Columbia, and also (historically) in the North Cascades region of Whatcom and Chelan counties of the state of Washington in the United States. A dialect distinct to the Nicola Valley is called Scw'exmx, which is the name of the subgroup of the Nlaka'pamux who live there (WikP).

Ethnologue: thp. Alternate Names: Nklapmx, Nle'kepmxcín, Ntlakapamux, Ntlakapmuk.

1880: [LILLYbm] A Vocabulary and Outlines of Grammar of the Nitlakapamuk or Thompson Tongue, (The Indian Language Spoken between Yale, Lillooet, Cache Creek and Nicola Lake.) together with a Phonetic Chinook dictionary Adapted for use in the Province of British Columbia, by J[ohn] B[ooth] Good. Victoria, [B.C.]: St. Paul's Mission Press, Collegiate School, 1880. Contemporary brown half-leather and marbled paper over boards, lettered in gold, preserving original blue wrappers, printed in black. 46 pp. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Pilling, Chinookan bibliography, p. 36 (Eames copy listed among those seen). Pilling proofsheets 1569. Lowther 575. Reinecke 113.91

("825 words in English-Chinook Jargon section; no Chinook Jargon-English section"). Includes English-Chinook vocabulary on even-numbered pages [8]-30, and English-Nitlakapamuk vocabulary on the odd-numbered pages, 9-29. With a loosely inserted 4-page autograph letter in folio from J.R. Good to Wilberforce Eames, inquiring as to his interest in this publication, and discussing his work with Indian languages. First substantial published vocabulary of this language. Second copy: [LILLY] lacking original wrappers, but remaining spine fragments indicate wrappers were pink.

1996: [LILLYbm] Thompson River Salish dictionary: nle?kepmxcin, by Laurence C. Thompson. Missoula, MT: University of Montana, 1996. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. [2] i-ii iii-xxvii xxviii, [2] 1 2-1412 1413-1416. First edition. Series: UM occasional papers in linguistics; no. 12. Includes Thompson-English, pp. [1]-482, bibliography, pp. 556-561, and English-Thompson, pp. 565-1412. First true dictionary of the language.

"The Thompson... Salish Indians of southern British Columbia in pre-White times occupied the lower part of the Thompson River Gorge (hence their English name), much of the adjoining Fraser River Canyon and the Nicola River Valley. The name Ntlakapmuk (and others spellings attempting to render n»e?képmx) has sometimes been used, but that name actually designated the people of the central part of the territory, around the present time of Lytton.... Thompson is one of 23 Salishan languages, and a member of the Northern Interior subgroup of the Interior Branch of the family. Its closest relatives are its northerly neighbors Shuswap and Lillooet.... The material in this dictionary is based on information collected over a long period of time, from a number of people many of whom are now deceased..." (Introduction).

[THULUNG] Thulung is a Kiranti language spoken in parts of Nepal and Sikkim. It is also known as Thulunge Rai, Thulu Luwa, Thulung La, Thulung Jemu, Toaku Lwa. Total population: 33,313 (WikP).

Ethnologue: tdh. Alternate Names: Tholong Lo, Thulu Luwa, Thululua, Thulung Jemu, Thulung La, Thulunge Rai, Toaku Lwa.

1903-1927: see Vol. III, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2005: see under JERUNG.

[THURAWAL] Tharawal (Thurawal, Dharawal, Wodi-Wodi) is an extinct Australian Aboriginal language of New South Wales (WikP).

Ethnologue: tbn. Alternate Names: Dharawaal, Dharawal, Turrubul.

1875: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1990: see under DHARUK.

[TIBETAN, AMDO] The Amdo language (Tibetan: Wylie: A-mdo skad, Lhasa dialect IPA: [ámtoke?]; also called Am kä) is the Tibetic language spoken by the majority of Amdo Tibetans, mainly in Qinghai and some parts of Sichuan (Ngawa Tibetan and Qiang Autonomous Prefecture) and Gansu (Gannan Tibetan Autonomous Prefecture). Amdo is one of the four main spoken Tibetic languages, the other three being Central Tibetan, Kham Tibetan, and Ladakhi. These four related languages share a common written script but their spoken pronunciations, vocabularies and grammars are different (WikP).

Ethnologue: adx. Alternate Names: Amdo, Anduo, Ngambo, Panang.

1993: [IUW] Bod Rgya śan sbyar gyi A-mdo'i kha skad tshig mdzod = Anduo

Zang yu kou yu ci dian, by Hua Kan, Long Bojia bian zhu. First edition. 兰州:

甘肃民族出版社, [1993]. Lanzhou: Gansu min zu chu ban she, [1993]. 13, 642 p.; 21 cm. In Tibetan and Chinese; synopsis in English. Tibetan-Amdo-Chinese dictionary.

2007: [IUW] A-mdo'i kha skad tshig mdzod = 安多藏语口语词典: Bod Rgya

Dbyin gsum śan sbyar, by Ken-žan-tsuñ dañ Li-cun-yiñ, Lhun-grub-rdo-rje bcas kyis rtsom sgrig byas. [Lanzhou]: Kan-su'u Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 2007. [17] p., 927 p., [1] folded sheet; 21 cm. First edition. Cover title: Amdo Tibetan spoken language dictionary. Series: 青海民族学院术系列丛书; 25. Qinghai Minzu Xueyuan shu ji lie cong shu; 25. In Tibetan, Chinese, and English.

[TIBETAN, CENTRAL] Central Tibetan, also known as Dbus a.k.a. Ü or Ü-Tsang, is the most widely spoken Tibetic language and the basis of Standard Tibetan. Dbus and Ü are forms of the same name. Dbus is a transliteration of the name in Tibetan script, whereas Ü is the pronunciation of the same in Lhasa dialect, [wyʰʔ] (or [yʰʔ]). That is, in Tibetan, the name is spelled Dbus and pronounced Ü. All of these names are frequently applied specifically to the prestige dialect of Lhasa. There are many mutually intelligible Central Tibetan dialects besides that of Lhasa, with particular diversity along the border and in Nepal: Limi (Limirong), Mugum, Dolpo (Dolkha), Mustang (Lowa, Lokä), Humla, Nubri, Lhomi, Dhrogbai Gola, Walungchung Gola (Walungge/Halungge), Tseku, Basum. Ethnologue reports that Walungge is highly intelligible with Thudam, Glottolog that Thudam is not a distinct variety. Tournadre (2013) classifies Tseku with Kham (WikP).

Ethnologue: bod. Alternate Names: Bhotia, Dbus, Dbusgtsang, Phoke, Tibetan, U, Wei, Weizang, Zang.

1773: [LILLY] Alphabetum tangutanum sive tibetanum. Cassiano,; Amaduzzi, Giovanni Cristoforo. Romae, typis Sac. congreg. .de propag. fide, 1773.

1831: see under ASIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1834: [LILLY] Essay towards a dictionary, Tibetan and English / prepared, with the assistance of Band'e Sangs-rgyas Phun-tshogs, a learned L'ama of Zangsk'ar, by Alexander Csoma de Körös, during a residence at Kanam, in the Him'alaya Mountains, on the confines of India and Tibet, 1827-1830, by Csoma de Körös. Calcutta: Printed at the Baptist Mission Press, 1834. pp. xxii, 351, [1] p.; 27 cm. Dalby 1547. First Tibetan-English dictionary.

1838 [1993?]: [IUW] Brda'yig miñ don gsal bar byed pa'i zla ba'i 'od snañ žes bya ba bzugs so = Ner-e udq-a-yi todudqağci saran-u gegen genel kemegdekü dokiyan-u bicig orosiba / [A-la-ša Lha-rams-pa Ñag-dbañ-bstan-dar]; khèvlèld bèltgèsèn B. Mîagmarsürèn, L. Tèrbish. [Ulaanbaatar: s.n., 1993?] 387 columns: facsim.; 24 cm.

Reproduction of po-thi ms. dated 1838. Tibetan and Mongolian (Mongolian script); prefatory matter in Mongolian (Cyrillic script). From the Dr. John Gombojab Hangin collection from The Mongolia Society.

1839: [LILLY] Grammatik der tibetischen Sprache, by Isaak Jakob Schmidt (1779-1847). St. Petersburg: W. Gräff; [etc., etc.] 1839. Contemporary binding. Libraries Worldwide: 25 Second copy: [IUW].

1841 [1969]: [IUW] Tibetisch-Deutsches Wörterbuch, nebst deutschem Wortregister, von I. I. Schmidt. Neudruck der Ausgabe 1841. Osnabrück, Biblio Verlag, 1969. xi, 784 p. Reprint of the original 1841 edition.

1843: [LILLYbm] Tibetsko-russkii slovar', s' prisovokupleniem' al'favitnago spiska, by Iakov Ivanovich Shmidt [1779-1847]. St. Petersburg: Izd. Imp. Akademiei nauk", 1843. Contemporary brown-half leather and brown marbled paper over boards, with black leather labels lettered in gold. Pp. I-V V-VIII, I 2-632, X-XI XII, 633 634-765 766. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller (cf. Zaunmüller, col. 378). Includes Tibetan-Russian, pp. [1]-632, and a Russian-Tibetan index, pp. [633]-765 in three columns. This copy with the ink ownership inscription of Arthur Hamilton on the front free endpaper: "Arthur de Châtellherault Hamilton | United States of America | Department of State | Mission on Agriculture to Russia | c/o American Consul | Vladistock, Siberia | May 9, 1920"., and his printed sticker and California address on the front paste-down endpaper. This appears to be a Russian parallel to Schmidt's Tibetisch-deutsches Wörterbuch, nebst deutschem Wortregister (St. Petersburg, 1841). This is the first Tibetan-Russian dictionary.

1859 [1980]: [IUW] Mahāvvyutpatti. Sanskrit, Tibetan & Mongolian. Selections. Buddhistische Triglotte (a Sanskrit-Tibetan-Mongolian glossary): a xylographic print from Mongolia preserved in the Baron Schilling Yon [sic] Canstadt collection. Delhi: Sri Satguru Publications, 1980. 79 p.: ill.; 14 x 37 cm. In Sanskrit (Tibetan script), Tibetan, and Mongolian; foreword in German. Includes a reproduction of the original t.p.: Buddhistische Triglotte, d.h., Sanskrit-tibetisch-mongolisches Wörterverzeichnis, gedruckt mit den aus dem Nachlass des Barons Schilling von Canstadt stammenden Holztafeln und mit einem kurzen Vorwort versehen von A. Schiefner. St. Petersburg, 1859.

1881: [LILLYbm] A Tibetan-English dictionary, with special reference to the prevailing dialects. To which is added an English-Tibetan vocabulary, by H[einrich] A[ugust] Jäschke [1817-1883], London: [Berlin, Printed by Unger brothers (T. Grimm)], 1881. Original brown cloth over boards, decorated in blind and lettered in gold. Pp. I-III IV-XXII, [2] I 2-671 672. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 377. Dalby 1550. Prepared and published at the charge of the secretary of state for India in council. Includes Tibetan-English, pp. [1]-608, an English-Tibetan vocabulary, pp. [611]-668, corrections, pp. [669]-671, and a detailed discussion of previous Tibetan lexicography, pp. V-VI.. This copy with an ink presentation inscription in Danish dated 1942 to the leader of the Danish Central Asiatic Expeditions of 1938-1939.

"This work represents a new and thoroughly revised edition of a Tibetan-German dictionary, which appeared in a lithographed form between the years 1871-1876. During a residence, which commenced in 1857 and extended over a number of years, on the borders of Tibet and among Tibetan tribes, I and my colleagues gathered the materials for this Dictionary. We had to take primarily into account the needs of missionaries entering upon new regions.... The chief motive of all our exertions lay always in the desire to facilitate and to hasten the spread of the Christian religion and of Christian civilization, among the millions of Buddhists, who inhabit Central Asia, and who speak and read in Tibetan dialect. A yet more definite object influenced my own personal linguistic researches, in as much as I had undertaken to make preparations for the translation of the Holy Scriptures into the Tibetan speech" (Preface).

1949: Reprinted [IUW] A Tibetan-English dictionary, with special reference to the prevailing dialects. To which is added an English-Tibetan vocabulary, by H. A. Jäschke. [London] Routledge & Paul, 1949. xxii, 671 p. 23 cm.

1968: Reprinted [IUW] A Tibetan-English dictionary, with special reference to the prevailing dialects. To which is added an English-Tibetan vocabulary, by H. A. Jäschke. London, Routledge & K. Paul, 1968. xxii, 671 p. 26 cm. Reprint; originally published 1881.

1975 [1987]: Reprinted [IUW] A Tibetan-English dictionary: with special reference to the prevailing dialects. To which is added an English-Tibetan vocabulary / by H.A. Jäschke. Delhi: Motilal Banarsidass, 1975 (1987 printing) xxii, 671 p.; 23 cm. First published in 1881.

1985: Reprinted [IUW] A Tibetan-English dictionary / Heinrich August Jäschke. Compact ed. Kyoto, Japan: Rinsen Book Co., 1985. xxii, 671 p.; 17 cm. Reprint. Originally published under the title of: A Tibetan-English dictionary, with special reference to the prevailing dialects, To which is added an English-Tibetan vocabulary: London: Berlin, Printed by Unger brothers (T. Grimm). 1881.

2003: Reprinted [IUW] A Tibetan-English dictionary to which is added an English-Tibetan vocabulary / H.A. Jäschke. Mineola, NY: Dover Publications, 2003. xxii, 671 p.; 22 cm. Dover books on language. Originally published: London: Routledge & Kegan Paul, 1881.

1902: [LILLY] A Tibetan-English dictionary with Sanskrit synonyms, by Sarat Chandra Das (1849-1917). Calcutta: Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, 1902. 1353 p.; 27 cm. Original green cloth, lettered in gold. First edition. Zaunmüller 378. Dalby 1546. Includes preface.

1970 [1976]: Reprinted [IUW] A Tibetan-English dictionary, with Sanskrit synonyms / by Sarat Chandra Das. Rev. and edited under the orders of the Government of Bengal / by Graham Sandberg and A. William Heyde. Delhi: Motilal Banarsidass, 1970, 1976 printing. xxxiv, 1353 p.; 25 cm. Added t.p. in Tibetan. Reprint of the 1902 edition.

1983: Reprinted [IUW] A Tibetan-English dictionary: with Sanskrit synonyms / by Sarat Chandra Das. Rev. and edited under the orders of the Government of Bengal / by Graham Sandbert and A. William Heyde. Delhi: Motilal Banarsidass, 1983. xxxii, 1353 p.; 25 cm. Added t.p. in Tibetan: Tshig gi gter mdzod. Reprint of the 1902 edition.

1988: Reprinted [IUW] Tibetan-English dictionary, by Sarat Chandra Das. Compact ed., 8th reprinting. Kyoto: Rinsen Book Company, 1988. xxxiv, 1353 p.; 16 cm. Reprint. Originally published as: A Tibetan-English dictionary with Sanskrit synonyms / by Sarat Chandra Das; revised and edited under the orders of the Government of Bengal by Graham Sandberg and A. William Heyde. Calcutta: Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, 1902.

1903: [LILLY] Tibetan Manual, compiled by Vincent C. Henderson, Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs. Revised by Edward Amundsen, British and Foreign Bible Society. Calcutta: Printed at the Baptist Mission Press and published by the Inspector General of Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, 1903. [6] vi 118, 129. Includes thematically-arranged English-Tibetan vocabulary lists, pp. [45]-118, and a English-Tibetan vocabulary, pp. [1]-129. This copy with ownership signature of Vincent Nesfield on the free end-paper, and two pages of loosely-inserted notes in pencil and a page of manuscript in Tibetan. The copy is annotated throughout with notes in pencil.

"Throughout my study of Tibetan, I felt greatly the want of an English-Tibetan vocabulary. I have carefully compiled this vocabulary with the object of saving the student much of the devious and laborious search after words which I experienced... My thanks are due to many Tibetans who patiently taught me under difficulties, and particularly to Wang Chug Tsering, Tibetan clerk in the Custom House, Yatung, Tibet, who assisted me greatly in my work. The whole work has been thoroughly revised by Mr. Edward Amundsen of the British and Foreign Bible Society—a gentleman of great linguistic attainments, probably the most erudite Tibetan scholar in India" (Preface, Vincent C. Henderson).

"The Vocabulary, forming Part Two, has occupied the author's attention most and gives to the book its special value" (Reviser's Preface, Edward Amundsen).

1903-1927: see Vol. III, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1909a: see 1909 under GARO.

1909b: [LILLYbm] Tibetan-English-Hindi guide, containing colloquial Tibetan, with equivalents in Hindi-Tibetan, Hindi, English-Tibetan, English and romanized Tibetan, by Tashi Wangdi. Calcutta: Printed at The Baptist Mission Press, 1909. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. i-ii iii-viii, 1 2-263 264-266. First edition. Not in Zauhmüller. With the ink ownership inscription of the anthropologist J[ames] N. Spuhler, "Calcutta, 1943." Spuhler edited Symposium on the Evolution of Man's Capacity for Culture (1965), Genetic diversity and human behavior (1967) and was author of The evolution of apes and humans: genes, molecules, chromosomes, anatomy, and behaviour (Douglas Ormonde Butler memorial lecture, 1985).

"It is hoped that [this book] may be found useful to Officers of both the Tibet and India Governments, Traders, Pilgrims, etc. It has been compiled at the instruction of His Excellency Chang Yin Tang, late High Commissioner Imperial Chinese Mission to India, and His Excellency Tsarong Sha-pe, Minister of Tibet, on the occasion of their visit to India in reference to the British-Tibet Treaty of 1908" (Preface). The author was "Holder of Button of the Fifth Rank with Peacock Feather, Chinese-Tibet Government."

1910-1916-1944: [LILLY] [Parts I and II] Sanskrit-Tibetan-English vocabulary: being an edition and translation of the Mahāvīyutpatti, by Alexander Csoma de Körös, ed. by E. Denison Ross. Calcutta: The Asiatic Society, 1910, 1916. Memoirs of the Asiatic Society of Bengal; v. 4, no. 1-2. Part I: pp. i ii-ix x, 1 2-127 128; Part II: pp. 129-251. 30 cm. Modern brown quarter-cloth and marbled paper over boards, spine lettered in gold, preserving the original wrappers for both parts. First edition. Not in Zauhmüller.

Includes Sanskrit-Tibetan-English vocabulary arranged by thematic and conceptual categories, pp. [1]-251. The editor's Introduction, pp. [i]-v, gives a detailed account of the original manuscript and its subsequent editing. This copy with the bookplate of Peter Hopkirk (1930–2014) an award-winning British journalist, author and historian who wrote six books about the British Empire, Russia and Central Asia. Second copy (Part I only): LILLYbm, contemporary decorated paper boards preserving the original wrappers.

[Part III] Sanskrit-Tibetan-English vocabulary: being an edition and translation of the Mahāvvyutpatti, by Alexander Csoma de Körös, ed. by Durga Charan Chatterjee. Calcutta: Baptist Mission Press, The Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal, 1944. Memoirs of the Royal Asiatic Society of Bengal; v. 4, no. 3. Part III: i i-vii viii, i ii-iii iv (second pagination), 253-386 387 388-390. 33 cm. First edition. Original ochre wrappers, lettered in black. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Sanskrit-Tibetan-English vocabulary arranged by thematic and conceptual categories, Sanskrit-Tibetan-English, pp. 253-365. This copy from the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ownership stamps. The work is complete in three parts.

1919: [LILLYbm] An English-Tibetan Dictionary, containing a Vocabulary of approximately 20,000 Words with their Tibetan Equivalents, by Lama Dawsamdub Kazi [Zla-ba Bsam'Grub]. Calcutta: Baptist Mission Press, published by the University, 1919. Original dark-brown cloth over boards, decorated in blind, and lettered in gold. 990 pp. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 378. This is the first substantial English-Tibetan dictionary, which draws upon previous Tibetan-English dictionaries by Csoma de Körös (1834; see above), Jäschke (1881; see above) and Das (1902). In 1920, Bell published an English-Tibetan colloquial dictionary, which has been described as the "first practical dictionary of the spoken language to appear in English" by Stuart Buck (see below), who refers to Kazi's dictionary, which preceded it by a year, as "for students of the written rather than the spoken language... In most instances the Tibetan 'definition' is an explanation in Tibetan of the English word or phrase rather than an equivalent meaning" (from Buck's Introduction to his own dictionary of 1969).

1990: Reprinted [IUW] An English-Tibetan dictionary: containing a vocabulary of approximately twenty thousand words with their Tibetan equivalents / compiled by Lama Dawasamdub Kazi. 4th ed. New Delhi: Munshiram Manoharlal, 2003, c1990. xiv, 989 p.; 23 cm. Running title: New Anglo-Tibetan dictionary. Reprint. Originally published: Calcutta: Calcutta University, 1919. Includes reproductions of the original t.p. in English and Tibetan.

1920: [LILLY] English-Tibetan Colloquial Dictionary, by C. A. Bell, C. M. G., C. I. E., Indian Civil Service, Retired; Political Officer in Sikkim; Author of "Grammar of Colloquial Tibetan." Second Edition. Calcutta: The Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, Writers' Buildings, 1920. Price Rs. 4. Pp. i-iii iv v vi-viii ix-xi xii-xiv xv xvi-xxxvi 1 2-562. 18.3 cm. Original gray-green cloth over boards, lettered and illustrated in black. "Calcutta: Baptist Mission Press, 41, Lower Circular Road. 1920." on verso of title page. Includes English-Tibetan, pp. [1]-562. Reprints Preface to the First Edition, dated 1905.

"In the first edition this dictionary was published as the second part of a 'Manual of Colloquial Tibetan,' the first part consisting of a Grammar of Colloquial Tibetan. In this second edition both parts have not only been revised, but have also been considerably enlarged... Some two thousand fresh words have been added in this edition, which now contains between eleven and twelve thousand words.... [A] second edition was called for owing to the first edition being sold out—a rare occurrence among books on Tibet" (Preface to the Second Edition).

1978: Reprinted [IUW] Manual of colloquial Tibetan / Charles Alfred Bell. Nepal: Ratna Pustak Bhandar, 1978. 2 v. in 1: maps; 23 cm. Bibliotheca Himalayica. ser. 2, v. 15. v. 1. Grammar of colloquial Tibetan. v. 2. English-Tibetan colloquial dictionary.

2000: Reprinted [IUW] Students English-Tibetan colloquial dictionary: (text preserving corrections listed in the errata) / C.A. Bell. New Delhi: D.K. Printworld, 2000. xxxii, 562 p.; 22 cm. Reprint. Originally published under title: English-Tibetan colloquial dictionary. Calcutta: Bengal Secretariat Book Depot, 1920. "In the first edition this dictionary was published as the second part of a Manual of colloquial Tibetan"--P. [iii]. English, Tibetan and romanized Tibetan.

1943: [LILLYmk] Tibetan Word Book, by Basil Gould and Hugh Edward Richardson. Oxford University Press, 1943. Printed in India. "First published May 1943." Reproduction of original text by photo-zincographic process. cf. Foreword.

1949: [IUW] Tibetan syllables, by Basil Gould and Hugh Edward Richardson. [Corrected and minor additions]. Kalimpong, India: Tibet Mirror Press, 1949. ix, 120 p.; 18 cm. From the Dr. John Gombojab Hangin collection from The Mongolia Society.

ca. 1950's: [LILLY] English-Tibetan Dictionary, by Robert Poczik and Lobsang Tenzin Rikha. Delhi: K.L. Sacheva at Skylark Printers, n.d. [ca. 1950's-60's]. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. 1-6 7-308. First edition. Drawings by Jean Anderson.

"The printing of this dictionary and its distribution free of charge to 5000 Tibetan refugee school children has been made possible entirely through a most generous grant from Swiss Aid to Tibetans of Lucerne, Switzerland" (verso of title page).

1956: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire français-tibétain. Tibet oriental, by [Pierre Philippe Giraudeau] [1850-] & Francis Goré. Paris: Adrien-Maisonneuve, 1956. Original full red leather over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. [8] 1 2-310, ²1 2-24 25-26. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 377. Includes French-Tibetan, pp. [1]-310, and a Tibetan-French glossary of historical and geographical names, pp. ²[1]-24. Second copy: [LILLYbm], bound in maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold, otherwise identical. Third copy: [IUW].

"This first French-Tibetan dictionary is the fruit of a long stay in the Chinese-Tibetan frontier and the collaboration of Monsignor Giraudeau and Father Goré. Mgr. Giraudeau apostolic vicar to the Tibet Mission, spent 63 years in the Tibetan area, and is well known for his works on the Tibetan language, ... having collaborated on the Tibetan-French dictionary...published in 1890, and ...the Latin-Tibetan dictionary. In the course of these works he collected the information published here. Father Goré spent twelve years in the Chinese region of the Tibet Mission.... He compared his linguistic notes with dictionaries, grammars and manuals that had appeared up to that time in English, French, Latin and Chinese... There was a thought of publishing his work in 1939, by circumstances prevented this. He was expelled from the area in 1952 by the Chinese communists. Gathering his papers together in Hong Kong, he returned to Europe and prepared this work, adding an index of the principal geographic, Buddhist and historical terms not found in the lexicon itself. Thanks to the collaboration of Fathers Le Corre and Pecoraro who studied Tibetan under his guidance, it has been possible to publish this first of two volumes: the French-Tibetan dictionary of 310 pages in two columns and the Method of the Tibetan language (style and language) of 200 pages, which will follow soon" (Prefatory note, tr: BM).

1957: [LILLY] Dge-bśes Chos-kyi-grags-pas brtsams pa'i Brda dag miñ tshig gsal ba bźugs so = 格西曲[吉]扎藏文辞典 . Peking: Ming Ts'u Ch'u Pan She.

Nationalities Publishing House, [1957]. First edition thus. 19, 971 p. 25.3 cm. Original black cloth over boards, lettered and ruled in silver. Loosely inserted page of errata. Tibetan-Chinese, pp. 1-970 (second pagination). For date see p. [973], which also shows 2,000 copies were printed. From the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his rubberstamps. Based on a 1949 Lha-sa xylograph edition.

1981: Third edition [IUW] Dge-bśes Chos-kyi-grags-pas brtsams pa'i Brda dag miñ tshig gsal ba bźugs so = 格西曲[吉]扎藏文辞典 / [Rgya yig tu bsgyur ba po, Blo-bzañ-chos-'phags dañ Krañ-khe Chañs]. Dge-bśes Chos-kyi-grags-pas brtsams pa'i Brda dag miñ tshig gsal ba bźugs so = Gexiqu[ji]zha Zang wen ci dian. 3. theñs pa brgyab pa [Pe-cin]: Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, [1981]. 19, 971 p.; 21 cm. Reproduced from the 1957 edition published in Beijing, which was based on a 1949 Lha-sa xylograph ed. Includes bibliographical references (1st group, p. 19). Tibetan-Chinese dictionary.

1959a: [IUW] Bod Hor gyi brda yig miñ tshig Don gsum gsal bar byed pa'i mun sel sgron me = Töbed Monggöl-un dokiyan-u bicig; ner-e üge udq-a gürban-i todurağulun qaranggüi-yi arilğagci jula / Su-ma-ti-ratna. Ulaanbaatar: Ulsyn Khèvlél, 1959. 2 v.; 30 cm. Corpus scriptorum Mongolorum Instituti Linguae et Litterarum Comiteti Scientiarum et Educationis Altae Reipublicae Populi Mongoli; tomus 6-7. In Tibetan and Mongolian scripts; pref. in French. Tibetan-Mongolian.

1959b: [IUW] Bod-skad-kyi-brdah-gsar-rñiñ-dkañ-ba Sog-skad-du-kah-li-sum-cuñi-rim-pas gtan-la-pheb-pañi-brdah-yig-mk[h]as-pa-rgya-mcho-blo-gsal-mgul-rgyan ces bya-ba-bźugs-so. Ulaanbaatar: Ulsyn khevleliin gazar, 1959. 935, 5 p.; 30 cm. Corpus scriptorum Mongolorum tomus 4. Includes index. In Tibetan and Mongolian (Tibetan script); pref. in Mongolian (Cyrillic script). Tibetan-Mongolian dictionary

1961: [LILLY] A Sino-Tibetan Glossary from Tun-huang, by Li Fang-kuei. Offprint in original tan wrappers, lettered in black, from Toung Pao, Vol. XLIX, Livr. 4-5, 1961. Pp. [233]-356, with eleven plates. Chinese-Tibetan glosses, pp. 246-325, Tibetan index, pp. 325-356. The plates reproduce the original manuscript. From the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his manuscript title on the front cover, and an inscription in ink: "compliments of the author."

"... we may assume that the glossary was written, perhaps in the middle or late ninth century, roughly two hundred years after Hsuan-tsang's translation of the Yogācāryabhūmi (647-648), and only a comparatively short time after the Tibetan translation by Ye shes sde, who is supposed to have lived about the time of the Tibetan king Khri srong lde brtsan (755-797)" (p. 237).

1962: [IUW] Legs par sbyar ba Lha-i-skad dañ Gañs-can-pa'i brda' śan sbyar ba Dri bral nor bu'i me loñ bźugs / [Padma-rnam-dag gam miñ gźan Bstan-'dzin-rgyal-mtshan ... bris]. Gangtok, Sikkim: Namgyal Institute of Tibetology, 1962. 648 p.; 12 x 53 cm. In Tibetan and Sanskrit (Tibetan script); pref. in English. P. 640-648 are errata list. Sanskrit-Tibetan dictionary.

post-1962: [LILLY] English-Tibetan dictionary, by Robert Poczik and Lobsang Tenzin Rikha; drawings by Jean Anderson. Delhi: Printed in India by K.L. Sachdeva at Skylark Printers, [after 1962]. Pp. 308, 18 cm. Pictorial dictionary for children including including some grammar and writing lessons.

1963: [LILLYbm] Kratkii tibetsko-russkii slovar, 21000 slovar, by B[oris] V[ladimirovich] Semichov, IU[rrii] M[ikhailovich] Parfionovich, & B[idiiia] D[andarovich] Dandaron. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsionalnykh slovarei, 1963. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in white and gold and decorated in white and blind. Pp. 1-3 4-581 582-584. First edition. This copy with the ownership stamp of Johannes Rahder, with some underlining in red ink in the preface. Rahder was author of Glossary of the Sanskrit, Tibetan, Mongolian and Chinese versions of the Dasabhumika-sutra (Paris, 1928), and Etymological vocabulary of Chinese, Japanese, Korean and Ainu (Louvain, 1963), among others. The first Tibetan-Russian dictionary appeared in St. Petersburg in 1843 (see above). Second copy: [IUW].

1964: [LILLYbm] Der kleine Tibeter [Deutsch-Tibetsches Wörterbuchlein], by Hans Huggenberger. Basel: printed by H. Weiss, 1964. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. [6] 1-55 56-58. First edition. Includes thematically arranged German-Tibetan vocabulary, pp. 1-38.

"The present little book is a response to the wishes of many [Swiss] parents for a language teaching aid for their adopted Tibetan children. The intention was to preserve or develop a limited vocabulary for children. This little book allows the parents to learn the correct pronunciation and how the words are written. Each German word is followed by an indication of its pronunciation in Tibetan, the printed Tibetan form, and the written Tibetan" (Foreword, tr: BM). There are estimated to be more than 200 Tibetan speakers in Switzerland.

1965: see under JANGSHUNG.

1966: [LILLYbm] Tibetisch-deutsches Wörterbuch, by Eberhardt Richter. Leipzig: Verlag Enzyklopadie, 1966. Original yellow and brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-7 8-444. First edition. Includes Tibetan-German, pp. [23]-444. This copy with the ownership signature of Ch. Hoog and annotated throughout in ink. This East German dictionary was printed in Russia and is based largely on material published in China. Second copy: [IUW].

"Both the form and the content of the Tibetan language has been substantially transformed in the new Tibet of post-1951. Its task was and remains to mobilize the entire Tibetan people for their great constructive work... Since the appearance of [the earlier classical Tibetan dictionaries] the Tibetan language has continued to develop, and its vocabulary has been substantially enriched, so that they are only of limited use in translating texts in modern languages. The present short Tibetan-German Dictionary of the modern language is intended to fill this significant gap and to offer the user an aid in reading the new Tibetan literature" (Introduction, tr: BM).

1967?: [IUW] Dbyin-ji Hin-di Bod Sam-skrita rnam's kyi tshig mdzod Rin chen spuñ pa bžugs so. [Ldi-li: s.n., 1967?]. 631 p. in various pagings; 14 cm. Gem collected English-Tibetan-Hindi-Sanskrit dictionary. In Tibetan, English, Sanskrit and Hindi.

Includes sections from Vidhushekhara Bhattacharya's Bhoṭa-prakāśa and the text of Tharchin's Dbyin Bod Hin gsum śan sbyar.

1968: [IUW] Slob dpon 'Chi-med-señges mdzad pa'i Miñ dañ rtags rjes su bstan pa'i bstan bcos 'Chi med mdzod ces bya ba'i gzuñ skad gñis śan sbyar ba bzugs so / [Gtsug-lag-chos-kyi-snañ-ba ... bsgyur] [Dehra Dun: Kathok Group, 1968] 184 p.; 24 cm. In Tibetan and Sanskrit in Tibetan script. Sanskrit-Tibetan dictionary.

1969: [LILLYbm] Tibetan-English Dictionary with Supplement, by Stuart H. Buck. Washington, D.C.: The Catholic University of America Press, 1969. Original orange cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. i-iv v-xviii, 1-833 834-846 (left blank for "Notes"). First edition. Dalby 1542. Includes a history of Tibetan lexicography, pp. x-xv. Second copy: [IUW].

"Since the Red Chinese conquest of Tibet, a flood of new political, administrative, industrial, and technical terms has appeared in Tibetan language newspapers and periodicals published by the Communist Party... The primary purpose of the present dictionary is to provide full and accurate definitions of the vocabulary used in current publications in the Tibetan language, especially those appearing in Communist China. This does not mean, however, that either the colloquial language or the special vocabulary of the Tibetan classics will be ignored.... On the other hand thousands of terms listed in the older dictionaries and glossaries have been omitted as being too obscure or impractical for our purposes" (Introduction).

1972: [IUW] Tibetan newspaper reader, by Kamil Sedláček. Leipzig, Verlag Enzyklopädie [1972]. 2 vols. 22 cm. v. 1, vol. 1: 368 p.; vol. 2: 520 p. Original light brown cloth over boards, lettered in red and white. Vol. 1 grammatical notes and texts; vol. 2, Tibetan-English Glossary, pp. [9]-520. Bibliography p. [20]-22.

"The main part of this 'Tibetan Newspaper Reader'... is a selection of 63 articles from the Tibetan text of the pictorial... known as 'China Pictorial' to our readers and published in Peking.... Part IV—'A Tibetan-English Glossary' contains about 15 000 words and phrases occurring in the texts of our Newspaper Reader" (Preface to Vol. 1).

1973a: [IUW] Bod yul gyi brda'i skad las gyur pa rnam sgtan la phab pa legs par sbyar ba'i sgra bsgyur bstan bcos Le tshan sum cu pa: a Tibetan dictionary of Sanskrit equivalents / by De'u-dmar Dge-śes Bstan-'dzin-phun-tshogs. Palampur, H. P.: Sungrab Nyamso Gyunphel Parkhang, Tibetan Craft Community, 1973. [2] leaves, 482 columns; 28 x 37 cm. Cover title: The Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary of De'u-dmar Dge-śes Bstan-'dzin-phun-tshogs. "Reproduced from the unique manuscript preserved in the library of the Eighth Khams-sprul Don-brgyud-ñi-ma." In cursive Tibetan; pref. in English.

1973b: [LILLYbm] [transliteration] Dbyin Bod san sbyar gyi tshig mdzod snan ba gsar pa. The New light English-Tibetan dictionary, by T.G. Dhongthog. Dharmasala: Library of Tibetan Works and Archives, 1973. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered in white. Pp. i-vi vii-xix xx, 1 2-523 524. First edition. Dalby 1543. English-Tibetan only.

"Thus there is the pronounced need for a comprehensive, standard English-Tibetan dictionary that would enable its readers to use correctly, in their speech and writing, the thousands of instances of modern terminology found in the English language. Unfortunately, dictionaries of such description are sadly lacking.... We find that today there is a vast difference between what is spoken and what is written in Tibetan. Moreover, standard, accepted phrases and words for newly invented and discovered objects, phenomena and services are conspicuously absent" (preface). "I am deeply indebted to H.H. the Fourteenth Dalai Lama for his peerless advice, encouragement and sacred blessings, without which this dictionary would never have seen the light of day... Concluding Prayer / Born as a Tibetan in the land of Snows, / This body and mind grew up / Cultivating the internal and external culture; In return thereof, / I give this New Light dictionary. // With the moon radiance emerging from this work, / May the desires of all me be assuaged, / And, dispelling the heat of unsatisfactoriness, ' May shade be given to all sentient beings." (T.G. Dhongthog, Acknowledgment).

1973c: Tibeto-Sanskrit lexicographical materials: the Sgra sbyor bam po gñis pa, the Dag yig Za ma tog, and the Dag yig Li śi'i gur khañ / edited with detailed indices, from manuscripts from Ladakh by Sonam Angdu. Leh: Rinchen Tondup Tongspun, 1973. 429 p. in various pagings; 22 cm. Tibeto-Sanskrit-Hindi grammars and dictionaries; v. 1. In Tibetan; pref. in English. Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary.

1975a: [IUW] Ñe bar mkho ba'i Legs sbyar gyi skad Bod kyi brda ka li'i 'phren bsgrigs no mtshar nor bu'i do śal = the Tibetan to Sanskrit lexicon of Mdo-mkhar Ābs-druñ Tshe-rin-dbañ-rgyal. Dehra Dun: D. G. Khochhen Trulku, 1975. 209 p.; 10 x 47 cm. Tibetan and Sanskrit in Tibetan cursive script; preface in English. Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary.

1975b: [LILLY] Tibetan-English dictionary of modern Tibetan / Melvyn C. Goldstein, editor. First edition. Kathmandu: Ratna Pustak Bhandar, 1975. 1234 p.; 21 cm. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Illustrated endpapers. Bibliotheca Himalayica; ser. II, v. 9. Title page printed in red and black; also in Tibetan; Deñ dus dan mthun pa'i phal skad kyi Bod Dbyin śan sbyar źes bya ba bźugs so. Dalby 1545. Tibetan-English, pp. 31-1234. Includes bibliographical references. The introduction provides a list of the various sources used in compiling the dictionary.

"Recent political events have triggered a veritable revolution in the Tibetan language. The entrance of Tibet into the world area of politics, science and technology has led to the creation of thousands upon thousands of new lexical items in a relatively short period of time... [This] has produced a new genre of written Tibetan which can be called simply 'modern literary Tibetan'" (Foreword).

1978: Second edition [IUW] Tibetan-English dictionary of modern Tibetan / Melvyn C. Goldstein, editor. 2nd ed. Kathmandu: Ratna Pustak Bhandar, 1978. 1234 p.; 21 cm. Bibliotheca Himalayica; ser. 2, v. 9. Title page also in Tibetan; Deñ dus dan mthun pa'i phal skad kyi Bod Dbyin śan sbyar źes bya ba bźugs so. Includes bibliographical references.

2001: New edition [IUW] The new Tibetan-English dictionary of modern Tibetan / Melvyn C. Goldstein, editor; T.N. Shelling and J.T. Surkhang, assistant editors; with the help of Pierre Robillard. Berkeley: University of California Press, c2001. xvi, 1195 p.; 29 cm.

"The New Tibetan-English Dictionary of Modern Tibetan surpasses existing dictionaries in both scope and comprehensiveness. Containing more than 80,000 lexical items used in political, social, economic, literary, and scientific discourse, this invaluable sourcebook includes the tens of thousands of new words that have been coined or that have come into use since Tibet was incorporated into the People's Republic of China in 1951. The dictionary lists lexical items characteristic of the special written genre that was used by Tibetan government officials up to 1959 as well as new terminology used in the Tibetan exile communities in South Asia. It contains both the core lexical terminology used in everyday life and standard modern writing and many proverbs and sayings that appear frequently in contemporary literary materials. The entries provide spoken pronunciation and thousands of illustrative sentences" (publisher's description).

1976: [IUW] Raṅ blo gsal ba'i me loṅ las mñon [sic] brjod kyi bstan bcos bsam 'phel nor bu: a detailed dictionary of Sanskrit equivalents for various Tibetan terms / by the 14th Rje Mkhän-chen of Bhutan, Bstan-'dzin-rnam-rgyal. Thimphu: Kunzang Topgey, 1976. [194] p.; 28 x 38 cm. In Tibetan; preface in English. Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary.

1979: [IUW] Skad gñis śan sbyar rab gsal nor bu'i me loṅ: a detailed dictionary of Sanskrit terms and their Tibetan renderings / by 'Jam-mgon 'Ju Mi-pham-rgya-mtsho. Leh: T.S. Tashigang, 1979. [302] p.; 15 x 39 cm. Smanrtsis shesrig spendzod; v. 92. In Tibetan; preface in English. "Reproduced from a set of tracings from a print of the Kaḥ-thog Monastery." "This dictionary ... was written in the period 1907-1910." Sanskrit-Tibetan dictionary.

1981: [IUW] 汉藏英对经常用词手册 = Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum śan sbyar gyi rgyun spyod tha sñad = A handbook of Chinese, Tibetan and English words / 张连生编著. Han Zang Ying dui zhao chang yong ci shou ce = Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum śan sbyar gyi rgyun spyod tha sñad = A handbook of Chinese, Tibetan and English words / Zhang Liansheng bian zhu. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. [Peking]:

中國社会科学出版社: 新華書店北京发行所发行, 1981. [Peking]: Zhongguo she hui ke xue chu ban she: Xin hua shu dian Beijing fa xing suo fa xing, 1981. 15, 15, 478 p.; 13 x 19 cm. Includes indexes. Chinese-Tibetan-English dictionary.

1982a: [IUW] Four Tibetan-Mongolian lexicons. New Delhi: Sharada Rani, 1982. 2 v.; 28 x 38 cm. Śata-piṭaka series v. 289-290. In Tibetan and Mongolian; pref. in English. "Reproduced by Lokesh Chandra from the collection of Prof. Raghuvira." v. 1. Dag yig chuñ ṅu gdul bya'i sñiñ mun sel byed / Kun-dga'-rgya-mtsho. Brda yig miñ don gsal bar byed pa'i Zla ba'i 'od snañ / A-lag-śa Ṇag-dbañ-bstan-dar. Brda yig miñ don gsal ba'i sgron me. v. 2. Bod Hor gyi brda yig Miñ tshig don gsum gsal byed / Kīrtivajra.

1982b: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1983a: [IUW] Tibetsko-russko-angliiskii slovar' s sanskritskimi paralleliami / IŪ.N. Rerikh; pod obshchei redaktsiei IŪ. Parfionovicha, V. Dylykovoī. Moskva: Izd-vo "Nauka," Glav. red. vostochnoi lit-ry, 1983- v.; 22 cm. Title on added t.p., v. 1-10: Tibetan-Russian-English dictionary with Sanskrit parallels.

1983b: [LILLYbm] Tsang Han tui chao La-sa kou yu tzu tien = [Bod Rgya san sbyar gyi Lha sa'i kha skad tshig mdzod], by Tao-chuan Yu & Chia-chang Fu. Pei-ching: Min tsu chu pan she: Hsin hua shu tien fa hsing, 1983. Original red cloth lettered in gold and blind. Pp. [2] 1-25 26, ²1-1077 1078. First edition. Includes Tibetan-Chinese, pp. 1-1066, with additions, pp. 1067-1072. This is a Tibetan-Chinese dictionary of the Lhasa Colloquial, published in Beijing by the People's Publishing House. Second copy: [IUW].

1984a: see under DZONGKHA.

1984b: [LILLYbm] English-Tibetan Dictionary of Modern Tibetan, compiled by Melvyn C. Goldstein with Mgawangthondup Narkyid. Berkeley: University of California Press, [1984]. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold; d.j. red and white, lettered in black, white, and red. Pp. i-v vi-xxvi, 1-485 486. First edition. Dalby 1544, Second copy: [LILLYbm], bound in brown cloth over boards, otherwise identical, except that the presence of a tipped-in corrigenda sheet at the front, which may indicate this is a second issue binding. Third copy: [IUW].

"The liberalization of political and intellectual life in China and the rise of Tibetan exile communities throughout the world have produced a resurgence of spoken and written Tibetan... The first scholarly English-Tibetan dictionary... this work specifies the Tibetan terms that correspond to the submeaning of a single English term. Containing roughly 16,000 main entries... the dictionary treats a total of 45,000 lexical items" (from the d.j. copy on inner front flap). "This dictionary was compiled during a thirty-month period beginning in the Summer of 1980.... Although we consulted older Tibetan dictionaries, including a re-alphabetized version of my own, large Tibetan-English Dictionary of Modern Tibetan (...Katmandu, 1975), in the end our decisions regarding equivalent terms were based on our own knowledge of modern Tibetan" (Introduction).

1985a: [IUW] Bod Rgya tshig mdzod chen mo / Krang-dbyi-sun-gyis rtsom sgrig byas pa = 藏漢大辭典 / 张怡荪主编. Bod Rgya tshig mdzod chen mo / Krang-dbyi-sun-gyis rtsom sgrig byas pa = Zang Han da ci dian / Zhang Yisun zhu bian. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. [Peking]: Mi-rigs-dpe-skrun-khang, 1985 (1986 printing) 3 volumes (19, 3294 pages, [16] pages of plates): color illustrations; 27 cm. Tibetan-Chinese dictionary.

1985b: [IUW] 'Bri-guñ Bka'-brgyud-pa writings on Sanskrit grammar and lexicography / by Don-grub-chos-dbañ, Rig-'dzin Chos-kyi-grags-pa, and Dkon-mchog-'phrin-las-bzañ-po (b. 1656). Bir, Distt. Kangra, H.P.: D. Tsondu Senghe, 1985. 371 p.; 9 x 38 cm. "Reproduced from a collection of manuscripts from Limi in northwestern Nepal." Includes Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary.

1985c: [IUW] Mñon brjod kyi bstan bcos Mkhas pa'i rna rgyan zes bya ba bzugs so / Rin-spuñs-pa Ñag dbañ-'jig-grags kyis brtsams pa; Las Dañ-len gyis zur bsgrigs bsgyur mchan bkod pa. [Pe-cin]: Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 1985. 10, 784 p.; 21 cm. In Tibetan. Also contains the Bod Rgya śan sbyar gyi mñon brjod = Zang Han dui zhao zao shi ci, an alphabetizing of the Mkhas pa'i rna rgyan. Includes Tibetan-Chinese index.

1985d: [LILLYbm] New English-Tibetan dictionary = Dbyin Bod san sbyar gyi tshig mdzod gsar bsgrigs, by Norbu Chophel. Dharamsala, India: Norbu Chophel, 1985. Original brown wrappers, lettered in black and white. Pp. [8] 1-206 207-208. First edition. Includes English-Tibetan, pp. 1-206. Introductory note in Tibetan. A second edition appeared in 1987, reprinted in 1993. Second copy: [IUW].

1986: [IUW] 藏漢佛學詞典 = Bod Rgya Sañs rgyas chos g'zun gi tshig mdzod / 主編王沂暖; 副主編健白平措; 編寫唐景福 ... [et al.; 西北民族學院民族研究所]. Zang Han fo xue ci dian = Bod Rgya Sañs rgyas chos g'zun gi tshig mdzod / zhu bian Wang Yinuan; fu zhu bian Jianbaipingcuo; bian xie Tang Jingfu ... [et al.; Xi bei min zu xue yuan min zi yan jiu suo]. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 西寧市: 青海民族出版社: 青海省新华书店发行, 1986. Xining Shi: Qinghai min zu chu ban she: Qinghai sheng xin hua shu dian fa xing, 1986. 2, 534 p.; 19 cm. Chinese-Tibetan dictionary of Buddhist terms.

1987a: [IUW] Bod Rgya śan sbyar gyi śes bya 'i rnam graṅs kun btus tshig mdzod / Ha'o-wun zōn dañ To'u-tshun-chi gñis kyis bsgrigs. Par theṅs 1. Zi-liñ: Mtsho-sñon mi rigs dpe skrun khañ: Mtsho-sñon Žiñ-chen Žin-hwa dpe khañ gis bkram, 1987. 4, 8, 898 p.; 19 cm. Dictionary of Tibetan-Chinese set phrases (compound expressions) arranged in the order of the numeral.

1987b: [IUW] Bod Rgya tshad ma rig pa 'i tshig mdzod = 藏汉逻辑学词典 / 《藏汉大词典》编写组. Bod Rgya tshad ma rig pa 'i tshig mdzod = Zang Han luo ji xue ci dian / "Zang Han da ci dian" bian xie zu. 成都: Si-khron Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-kha. n, 1987. Chengdu: Si-khron Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 1987. 2, 2, 340 p.; 19 cm. Entries in Tibetan, with definitions also in Chinese.

1988 [2002]: [IUW] English-Tibetan-Chinese dictionary = Dbyin Bod Rgya gsum śan sbyar gyi tshig mdzod / Bkra-śis-tshe-rin gis bsgrigs = 英藏汉对照词典 / 主编扎西次仁; 副主编刘德军. English-Tibetan-Chinese dictionary = Dbyin Bod Rgya gsum 'san sbyar gyi tshig mdzod / Bkra-śis-tshe-rin gis bsgrigs = Ying Zang Han dui zhao ci dian / zhu bian, Zhaxiciren. 4. brgyab pa. [Pe-cin]: Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, [2002]. 24, 1233 p.; 21 cm. Reprint of 1988 edition, with title slightly changed.

1990a: [IUW] Tibetan-English Buddhist historical glossary / by S.C. Das; corrected by S.K. Gupta. 1st corrected ed. Delhi, India: Sri Satguru Publications, 1990. 148 p.; 23 cm. Bibliotheca Indo-Buddhica; no. 69.

1990b: [IUW] 御制五体清文鉴. 汉藏文鉴专辑 / 摘编者古文义, 马宏武, 冯迎福. Yu zhi wu ti Qing wen jian. Han Zang wen jian zhuan ji / zhai bian zhe Gu Wenyi, Ma Hongwu, Feng Yingfu. 第1版 Di 1 ban. First edition. 西宁市: 青海民族出版社, 1990. Xining Shi: Qinghai min zu chu ban she, 1990. 2, 4, 15, 648 p.; 21 cm. Chinese-Tibetan dictionary.

1991 [1993]: [IUW] 梵藏漢對照詞典 / 安世兴编著. Fan Zang Han dui zhao ci dian / An Shixing bian zhu. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First eidtion. [北京]: 民族出版社: 新華書店经销, 1991 (1993 printing). [Beijing]: Min zu chu ban she: Xin hua shu dian jing xiao, 1991 (1993 printing). 19, 961 p.; 22 cm. Tibetan-Chinese dictionary.

1991: [IUW] 汉藏对照词典 / 《汉藏对照词典》协作编纂组 = Rgya Bod śan sbyar tshig mdzod / "Rgya Bod śan sbyar tshig mdzod" mñam sgrub rtsom sgrig rtsho chùn gis. Han Zang dui zhao ci dian / "Han Zang dui zhao ci dian" xie zuo bian zuan zu = Rgya Bod śan sbyar tshig mdzod / "Rgya Bod śan sbyar tshig mdzod" mñam sgrub rtsom sgrig rtsho chùn gis. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. [Peking]: 民族出版社: 新華書店经销, 1991. [Peking]: Min zu chu ban she: Xin hua shu dian jing xiao, 1991. 2, 2, 4, 26, 1448 p.; 27 cm. Chinese-Tibetan dictionary.

1992a: [LILLYbm] Conversational English-Tibetan dictionary, by Anil Gupta [1958-]. Delhi, India: Sri Satguru Publications, 1992. Original red, white, blue and green wrappers, lettered in blue, green, red and white. Pp. [4] 12-131 132. First edition. Series: Bibliotheca Indo Buddhica series, no. 115. Includes English-Tibetan, pp. [1]-131. No preliminary material. Second copy: [IUW].

1992b: [IUW] 佛学词典 / 主编王沂暖; 编写人员唐景福 ... [et al.].

Fo xue ci dian / zhu bian Wang Yinuan; bian xie ren yuan Tang Jingfu ... [et al.]. 第1版.

Di 1 ban. First edition. 西宁市: 青海民族出版社: 青海省新华书店发行, 1992.

Xining Shi: Qinghai min zu chu ban she: Qinghai sheng xin hua shu dian fa xing, 1992. [1], 3, 915 p.; 27 cm. Tibetan-Chinese dictionary of Buddhism.

1992c: [LILLY] Tibetan-Sanskrit-English Dictionary, formulator and editor, Jeffrey Hopkins, etc. Published [Free Union, Va.; The Institute; Charlottesville, Va.; The Program], ©1992. xxi, 511 p. 27.8 cm. Spiral bound with pink wrappers, lettered in black. Tibetan-Sanskrit-English, pp. 1-511. This preliminary dictionary appears to have also appeared in another format in two volumes at the same Institute, with the same compiler, © 1989. The compiler refers, however, to the 1992 edition as the first printing (see below).

"This is a work in progress in crude form that is being shared with students of the Tibetan language mainly in order to receive input for further development. The English translations of the entries can be said only to represent what contributors, over a span of twelve years, thought were current in the Virginia program. A small number are simply wrong; others need to be updated; and all will receive much more attention and, hence, detail.... I hope you will bear with the many inadequacies of this first printing" (Apology).

1992d: [IUW] 藏汉对照 丹珠尔佛学分类词典. Zang Han dui zhao Danzhu'er fo xue fen lei ci dian. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. [Peking]: 民族出版社, 1992. [Peking]: Min zu chu ban she, 1992. 8, 16, 382 p.; 22 cm. Tibetan-Chinese dictionary of Buddhism.

1992-1994: [IUW] Bod dañ Legs-sbyar kyi mdzod = Bhoṭa-Saṃskṛtābhīdhānam = Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary. Supplement / Lokesh Chandra. New Delhi: International Academy of Indian Culture: Aditya Prakashan, 1992-1994. 7 v.; 28 cm. Śāta-piṭaka series v. 369, etc. Cf. Dalby 1549. Tibetan and Sanskrit; prefatory matter in English. Tibetan-Sanskrit, Sanskrit-Tibetan dictionary.

1993?: see under MONGOLIAN.

1993: [IUW] Že sa'i tshig mdzod Rab gsal me loñ = 藏語敬語詞典 / Bsod-nams-rdo-rje [and others] ... bsgrigs śiñ bsgyur pa. Že sa'i tshig mdzod Rab gsal me loñ = Zang yu jing yu ci dian / Bsod-nams-rdo-rje [and others] ... bsgrigs śiñ bsgyur pa.1. par theñs. First edition. [Pe-cin]: Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 1993. 12, 2, 419 pages; 19 cm Includes indexes. Tibetan-Chinese dictionary of honorifics.

1993 [1998]: [IUW] Bod Rgya tshig mdzod chen mo / Krañ-dbyi-sun gyis gtso 'gan bžes nas rtsom sgrig byas pa = 藏漢大辭典 / 张怡荪主编. Bod Rgya tshig mdzod chen mo / Krañ-dbyi-sun gyis gtso 'gan bžes nas rtsom sgrig byas pa = Zang Han da ci dian / Zhang Yisun zhu bian. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 北京市: 民族出版社, 1993

(1998 printing). Beijing Shi: Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 1993 (1998 printing). 19, 3294 p., [16] p. of plates: col. ill.; 19 cm. Tibetan-Chinese dictionary.

1993-2005: [IUW] Bod skad dañ Legs-sbyar gyi tshig mdzod chen mo = Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary / J.S. Negi. 1st ed. Sarnath, Varanasi: Dictionary Unit, Central Institute of Higher Tibetan Studies, 1993-2005. 16 v.; 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Tibetan and Sanskrit; prefatory matter in Hindi and English.

1996a: [LILLYbm] A Tibetan-Newari Lexicon cum Phrase Book with Illustrations, by Christoph Cüppers, Kashinath Tamot & Philip Pierce. Bonn: VGH Wissenschaftsverlag, 1996. Original orange cloth over boards, lettered in black, without d.j. (as issued). Pp. 1-4 5-256. First edition. Series: Nepalica, 10. Includes thematically arranged Tibetan-Newari-English word lists and phrases, pp. 19-145, with indices to Tibetan, Newari and English, pp. 151-190, followed by a photographic facsimile of the entire manuscript, pp. 192-235, numerous photographs, pp. 238-252, and a bibliography (including dictionaries and word lists), pp. 253-256. "...an edition, translation and English translation of a Tibetan-Newari lexicon and phrase book probably dating to the end of the last of the beginning of the present century" (Preface). Second copy: [IUW].

1996b: see under MONGOLIAN.

1998: [IUW] Dictionary of Tibetan materia medica / compiled by Pasang Yontan Arya; translated from the Tibetan and edited by Yonten Gyatso. 1st ed. Delhi: Motilal Banarsidass Publishers, 1998. xv, 310 p.; 25 cm. Tibetan-English medical dictionary.

1999a: [IUW] Dpe chos tshig mdzod / Dpa'-ris Sañs-rgyas kyis rtsom sgrig byas. Par theñs 1. [Zi-liñ]: Mtsho-sñon mi rigs dpe skrun khañ: Brgyud tshoñ, Mtsho-sñon Žin-chen Žin-hwā dpe khañ, 1999. 9, 282, 37, 498 p.; 19 cm. Tibetan-Chinese dictionary of Tibetan idioms.

1999b: [IUW] A glossary of ayurveda, Tibetan, and unani medicines. 1st ed. Delhi: Sri Satguru Publications, 1999. [4], 293 p.; 23 cm. Bound in black cloth, spine stamped in gold, with dust jacket. Indian medical science series; no. 72. English and Sanskrit.

1999c: [LILLY] Mani Stones and Mantras: a Tibetan-English "Beginner's Dictionary" with selected vocabulary for the Kali Gandaki Mustang and Dolpo regions, edited by Phillip Sturgeon M.D. Zermatt, Switzerland: The Chalet Pennine & Mengis Schnell-Druck Press, 1999. Second edition. xii, 53 p.-21 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered in black, with a black and white photo on front cover. Tibetan-English, pp. 10-34.

"Though there is no attempt here to do anything more than provide the interested reader with but the most rudimentary basics of the Tibetan language, even that task... may seem hopeless.... Also the vocabulary here is restricted to words of particular interest to the traveler; they are primarily the names of geographical features, villages and families encountered in the regions of the upper Kali Gandaki, or Mustang, and of Bolpo. They are found on the Mani Stones, on the maps of the region, and include those that have been heard and written-out along the way" (Preface to the first edition).

2000a: see 2000c under MONGOLIAN.

2000b: [IUW] Buddyn shashin, soëlyn taiłbar tol' / [toliğ zokhiogchid, Sh. Choımaa ... (et al.)]. Ulaanbaatar: Mongol Ulsyn Ikh Surguul', 2000. 2 v.: ill. (1 col.); 21 cm. Dictionary of Buddhist culture. Buddyn sudlal; tsuvral 1-2. Includes bibliographical references and indexes. In Mongolian (Cyrillic script) and Tibetan; includes some romanized Sanskrit; annotations chiefly in Mongolian.

2001a: [IUW] Bod Hor gyi brda yig = Tövd Mongol tol' / Dorzhsürèngiïn Būrnèè, Dambīzhantsangiïn Ènkhtòr; khīānan tokhiolduulsan Zh. Zunduizhamts, Sh. Choīmaa. Ulaanbaatar: "ṬṢèèl Èrdènè" KhKhK, 2001. 533 p.; 25 cm. Title on t.p. verso: Tibetan-Mongolian dictionary. Includes bibliographical references (p. 5-6). Tibetan and Mongolian; Cyrillic script.

2001b: [IUW] Bod Hor gyi brda yig blo gsar mthoñ pa dga' byed me loñ = Tövd Mongol dokhiony bichig shinekhèn oīuuntan kharaad baiāsagch tol' / L. Tèrbish. Ulaanbaatar: [Mongol Ulsyn Ikh Surguul?], 2001. 2 v. (9, 825 p.); 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 821-823). From the Dr. John Gombojab Hangin collection from The Mongolia Society. Tibetan-Mongolian dictionary of Buddhism.

2001c: [IUW] Bod Sog Rgya gsum gyi śan sbyar tshig mdzod chen mo = Töbed Monggöl Kitad qaricaḡuluḡsan yeke toli = Zang Meng Han dui zhao da ci dian / [rtsom sgrig pa gtso bo, Thu-mur-chi-tur, Kang-co-rig, Kung-men-chi-meg]. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 沈阳市: 辽宁民族出版社, 2001. Shenyang Shi: Liaoning min zu chu ban she, 2001. 12, 3, 1788 p.; 27 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 1781-1788). Tibetan-Mongolian (Mongol script)-Chinese dictionary.

2002: [IUW] 汉藏法律词典 = Rgya Bod khrims lugs tshig mdzod / Bod Rañ-skyoñs-ljoñs Mi-dmañs Žib-dpyod-khañ gis brtsams; rtsom sgrig gtso bo, Tshe-riñ-don-grub = 汉藏法律词典 / 西藏自治区人民检察院编; 主编, 次仁顿珠.

Han Zang fa lü ci dian = Rgya Bod khrims lugs tshig mdzod / Bod Rañ-skyoñs-ljoñs Mi-dmañs Žib-dpyod-khañ gis brtsams; rtsom sgrig gtso bo, Tshe-riñ-don-gru = Han Zang fa lü ci dian / Xizang Zizhiqu Ren min jian cha yuan bian; zhu bian, Cirendunzhu. 1. par theñs. First edition. [Lhasa]: Bod Ljoñs Mi-dmañs Dpe-skrun-khañ, [2002] [4], 30, 681 p.; 21 cm. Chinese-Tibetan law dictionary.

2003a: [IUW] Bod Hor mñon brjod kyi brda yig = Tövd-Mongol ilt ögiülèkh nèriñ tol' / [compiled by] Dorzhsürèngiïn Būrnèè, Dambīzhantsangiïn Ènkhtòr; khīānan, T. Bulgan, G. Pürèvsürèn. Ulaanbaatar: "ṬṢèèl-Èrdènè" KhKhK, 2003. 502 p.; 25 cm. Added title page: Tibetan Mongolian dictionary of synonyms, with commentary. Includes bibliographical references (p. 8-9).

2003b: [IUW] Gendai Chibettogo dōshi jiten: Rasa hōgen = A verb dictionary of the modern spoken Tibetan of Lhasa, Tibetan-Japanese / Hoshi Izumi. Tōkyō: Tōkyō Gaikokugo Daigaku Ajia Afurika Gengo Bunka Kenkyūjo, 2003. xxiii, 495 p.; 22 cm. Asian & African lexicon 42. Dictionary entries in Tibetan script with romanization. Tibetan-Japanese dictionary.

2003c: [IUW] A Tibetan verb lexicon: verbs, classes, and syntactic frames / by Paul G. Hackett. Ithaca, NY: Snow Lion Publications, c2003. 209 p.; 23 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. Entry words in Tibetan, meanings in English and Sanskrit, includes some sentences from the Tibetan classical literature.

2004: [IUW] Ñag sgron = Vāk pradīpa: Bhoṭī-Hindī śabdakośa, mdzad pa po: tsa ba, Dpal-khañ Lo-tsa-ba; tshig gsal, Khu-nu Bla-ma Bstan-'dzin-rgyal-mtshan; anuvādaka, Rośana Lāla Negī Bishṭa. Sarnath, Varanasi: Kargyud Relief and Protection Committee, Central Institute of Higher Tibetan Studies, 2004. [21], 218, 51 p.; 23 cm. In Tibetan, with definitions in Tibetan and Hindi.

2005: [IUW] Chos tshig Bod Dbyin śan sbyar = Tibetan English religious word dictionary = 藏英佛学小词典 / bsgyur sgrig pa, Tshe-riñ-don-grub.

Chos tshig Bod Dbyin śan sbyar = Tibetan English religious word dictionary = Zang Ying fo xue xiao ci dian / bsgyur sgrig pa, Tshe-riñ-don-grub. 2. par theñs. Second edition. [Lha-sa]: Bod-ljoñs Mi-dmañs Dpe-skrun-khañ, [2005]. [4], 109 p.; 18 cm. In Tibetan.

2006: [IUW] English-Tibetan-Chinese dictionary = Dbyin Bod Rgya śan sbyar tshig mdzod = Ying Zang Han dui zhao ci dian / gtso sgrig pa, Ye-śes-lha-mo; gtso sgrig pa gzon pa, Rta-mgrin-tsho. 2. par theñs. Second edition. [Lanzhou]: Kan-su'u Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, [2006]. 4, 441 p.; 19 cm.

2007: [IUW] Sanskrit-Tibetan dictionary: being the reverse of the 19 volumes of the Tibetan-Sanskrit dictionary / Lokesh Chandra. New Delhi: International Academy of Indian Culture and Aditya Prakashan, 2007. viii, 758 p.; 28 cm. Śata-piṭaka series v. 617

2008a: see under JANGSHUNG.

2008b: [IUW] 汉藏英常用新词语图解词典 = Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum gsar byuñ rgyun bkol ris 'grel miñ mdzod = Chinese-Tibetan-English visual dictionary of new daily vocabulary / Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum gsar byuñ rgyun bkol ris 'grel miñ mdzod Rtsom-sgrig Tsho-chuñ gis [bsgrigs; gtso sgrig pa, Tshul-khrims-blo-gros].

Han Zang Ying chang yong xin ci yu tu jie ci dian = Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum gsar byuñ rgyun bkol ris 'grel miñ mdzod = Chinese-Tibetan-English visual dictionary of new daily vocabulary / Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum gsar byuñ rgyun bkol ris 'grel miñ mdzod Rtsom-sgrig Tsho-chuñ gis [bsgrigs; gtso sgrig pa, Tshul-khrims-blo-gros]. 4. par theñs. Fourth edition. [Chengdu]: Si-khron Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 2008. [5], 145 p.: col. ill.; 22 cm. Chinese-Tibetan-English visual dictionary of new daily vocabulary.

2008c: [IUW] In Bod shan sbyar gtan 'bebs brda chad: 'dzin skyong, sman rtsis, dngos khams, rdzas sbyor, rtsi shing: nges tshig mnyam sbrags = Glossary of standardised terms: administration, medicine & astrology, physics, chemistry, botany: with Tibetan definitions / spyi khyabs rtsom sgrig pa, Atsārya Karma-smon-lam. 1. par gzhi. First edition. Dharamsala: Brda-chad Gtan-bebs Las-'char, Btsan-byol Bod-gzhung Ses-rig-lhas-khung, 2008-. volumes: illustrations; 24 cm. Brda chad deb phreñ; 1. English-Tibetan dictionary.

2008d: [IUW] Tibetan / Sandup Tsering. 4th ed. Footscray, Vic.; Oakland, CA: Lonely Planet, 2008. 254 p.: ill.; 14 cm. Lonely Planet phrasebooks. Previous ed. published as: Tibetan phrasebook / Sandup Tsering, 2002. "With comprehensive dictionary"--Cover. Includes index.

2009a: see 2009 under JARONG.

2009b: [IUW] Bod kyi gso rig tshig mdzod rab gsal me loñ: Bod Rgya śan sbyar / rtsom sgrig pa gtso bo Le 'Dod-mos = 简明藏医辞典: 藏汉对照 / 主编李多美.

Bod kyi gso rig tshig mdzod rab gsal me loñ: Bod Rgya śan sbyar / rtsom sgrig pa gtso bo Le 'Dod-mos = Jian ming Zang yi ci dian: Zang Han dui zhao / zhu bian Li Duomei. Par gzi dañ po. Pe-cin: Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 2009. 2, 14, 1217 pages: illustrations; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (pages 1213-1217). Definienda in Tibetan; definiens in Tibetan and Chinese.

2009c: see 2009 under MONGOLIAN.

2009d: [IUW] 汉藏英常用新词语词典 = Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum gsar byuñ rgyun bkol miñ mdzod = Chinese-Tibetan-English dictionary of new daily vocabulary / [dpe sgrig gan khur ba, Dbyaṅs-can-lha-mo]. Han Zang Ying chang yong xin ci yu ci dian = Rgya Bod Dbyin gsum gsar byuñ rgyun bkol miñ mdzod = Chinese-Tibetan-English dictionary of new daily vocabulary / [dpe sgrig gan khur ba, Dbyaṅs-can-lha-mo]. [Chengdu]: Si-khron Dpe-skrun Tshogs pa: Si-khron Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 2009. [10], 15, 941 p.; 22 cm. Includes indexes.

2009e: see 2009 under SHERPA.

2010: see under JANGSHUNG.

2011: [IUW] 汉藏法律大词典 = Rgya Bod khrims lugs tshig mdzod chen mo / 张培中主编, 西藏自治区人民检察院组织编译. Han Zang fa lü da ci dian = Rgya Bod khrims lugs tshig mdzod chen mo / Zhang Peizhong zhu bian, Xizang Zizhiqu Ren min jian cha yuan zu zhi bian yi. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 北京市: 法律出版社, 2011. Beijing Shi: Fa lü chu ban she, 2011. 1273 p.; 27 cm. In Chinese and Tibetan. Chinese-Tibetan law dictionary.

2012: [IUW] New trilingual dictionary: English-Tibetan-Chinese: word definitions, sentence examples / chief editor, Tashi Tsering; associate editor, Lhakpa Tsering = Skad gsum tshig mdzod gsar pa: Dbyin, Bod, Rgya: tshig 'grel, dper brjod / Bkra-sis-tshe-rin = 三语新词典: 英藏汉: 词解 例句 / 主编, 扎西次仁; 副主编, 拉巴次仁. Pe-cin: Mi-rigs Dpe-skrun-khañ, 2012. 4, 1473, 14 pages, 1 unnumbered page; 21 cm

2013a: see under ASIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2013b: [IUW] Rgya Bod shan sbyar gyi skye dngos rig pa'i tshig mdzod / Yontan-rgya-mtsho dang Gu-ru-'tshos sgrig sgyur byas. Dpar thengs dang po brgyab. Pe-cin: Mi rigs dpe skrun khang, 2013. 5, 7, 237 pages; 21 cm. Chinese-Tibetan dictionary on botany.

2014a: see under NEPALI.

2014b: [IUW] Nang chos skad gsum shan sbyar tshig mdzod chen mo: Bod-Hin-Dbyin = Comprehensive Buddhist Tibetan terminology dictionary: Tibetan into Hindi and English / Dr. Sanjib Kumar Das. First edition. Cogalamasara, Leh, Ladakh: Central Institute of Buddhist Studies, 2014. xix, 1016 pages; 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references (pages 1017-1018). Tibetan (in Tibetan script and romanization), English and Hindi. Comprehensive Buddhist Tibetan terminology dictionary.

2015: [IUW] Bod rgya dbyin shan sbyar tha snyad gsar pa'i tshigs mdzod = 藏汉英对照新词术语词典 = Tibetan-Chinese-English new terminologies dictionary / gtso sgrig pa: Kro'u we, Bkra-shis-tshe-ring, Nyi-ma-sgrol-ma. Bod rgya dbyin shan sbyar tha snyad gsar pa'i tshigs mdzod = Zang Han Ying dui zhao xin ci shu yu ci dian = Tibetan-Chinese-English new terminologies dictionary / gtso sgrig pa, Kro'u we, Bkra-shis-tshe-ring, Nyi-ma-sgrol-ma. Par gzhi dang po bsgrigs. [Pe-cin]: Zhongguo Zang xue chu ban she, 2015. 471 pages; 24 cm. Tibetan, Chinese and English tri-lingual dictionary.

2020: [IUW] དམ་ཆོས་གསུང་རབ་ཏུ་ལྟོ་སྒྲིབ་བྱེད་ཆོག་མཛད་གསལ་མ། = The new Biblical English-Bodian dictionary / ཆོས་སྒྲིག་པ་ཏུ་ཁྱད་བསྟན་འཛིན། Dam chos gsung rab Bha-yi-bhel gyi Dbyin-Bod

tshig mdzod gsar ma = The new Biblical English-Bodian dictionary / rtsom sgrig pa, Dha-ud-bstan-'dzin. ཅ་མུང་བསྟན་འཛིན།, compiler. Dha-ud-bstan-'dzin, compiler. Kathmandu, Nepal: GCB Publication, [2020] ©2020 ii, 172 pages; 18 cm. Parallel title: New Biblical English-Bodian dictionary. English-Tibetan.

[TIBETO-BURMAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT] The Tibeto-Burman languages are the non-Sinitic members of the Sino-Tibetan language family, over 400 of which are spoken throughout the highlands of Southeast Asia as well as certain parts of East Asia and South Asia. The name derives from the most widely spoken of these languages, namely Burmese (over 32 million speakers) and the Tibetic languages (over 8 million). These languages also have extensive literary traditions, dating from the 12th and 7th centuries respectively. Most of the other languages are spoken by much smaller communities, and many of them have not been described in detail. Some taxonomies divide Sino-Tibetan into Sinitic and Tibeto-Burman branches (e.g. Benedict, Matisoff). However, other scholars deny that Tibeto-Burman comprises a monophyletic group. Van Driem argues that the Sino-Tibetan family should be called "Tibeto-Burman", but this usage has not been widely adopted. Others exclude a relationship with Chinese altogether (e.g. Beckwith, R. A. Miller) (Wikip).

1970: [IUW] Tone systems of Tibeto-Burman languages of Nepal, edited by F. K. Lehman. Urbana: Dept. of Linguistics, University of Illinois, 1970- v.; 29 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream front wrapper, lettered in black. Occasional papers of the Wolfenden Society on Tibeto-Burman Linguistics; v. 3. Part II. Lexical Lists and Comparative Studies: Word Lists (English, Gurung, Taman, Thakali, Chepeng, Newari, Sunwar, Sherpa), pp. 27-130. Swadesh 100-word lists, p. 27, human body parts, p. 35, animals, p. 43, plants, p. 51, time, weather, geography, p. 59, house and home, p. 67, food and clothing, p. 75, tools, instruments and metals, numbers and quantifiers, p. 83, emotions, diseases, and the supernatural, p. 91, role and social structure, p. 99, attributes: human, matter, space-dimensions-form-motion, p. 107.

1972: [IUW] Sino-Tibetan, a conspectus [by] Paul K. Benedict. Contributing editor: James A. Matisoff. Cambridge, University Press, 1972. xi, 230 p. 24 cm. Princeton-Cambridge studies in Chinese linguistics, 2. Includes index. Bibliography: p. 221-230. Dalby 1395.

“A comprehensive account of the Sino-Tibetan, a language stock comparable in size and diversification to Indo-European and comprising Chinese, Karen and over a hundred Tibetan-Burman languages. Dr Benedict presents a systematic analysis of the morphology and phonology of the main descendants of the stock, traces their family relationships and reconstructs in outline the parent language, Sino-Tibetan. There is a glossary of Tibeto-Burman index, which should prove of especial value as a working tool for scholars. Although the book was first drafted many years ago, Dr Benedict made extensive annotations on the original manuscript and Professor James A. Matisoff added many notes on bibliography and the Burmese-Lolo group of languages. The scope and original theses of the work, however, remain unaltered and the editors present it as a major and original contribution to the study of oriental linguistics” (publisher’s description).

1985: [IUW] Phases of pre-Pagán Burma: languages and history / by G.H. Luce. Oxford; New York: Oxford University Press, 1985. 2 v.: ill., maps, plans; 24 x 32 cm.

Includes bibliographical references and index. Dalby 139: "Index of English meanings to the word-lists, vol. 1 pp. 109-124. These are keyed to the lettered word-lists A to Z and to line numbers within them. The user has to letter each page of the word-lists in order to make the index usable."

[TICUNA] Ticuna, or Tikuna, is a language spoken by approximately 40,000 people in Brazil, Peru, and Colombia. It is the native language of the Ticuna people. Ticuna is generally classified as a language isolate, but may be related to the extinct Yuri language. (See Ticuna-Yuri.) It is a tonal language, and therefore the meaning of words with the same phonemes can vary greatly simply by changing the tone used to pronounce them. Ticuna is also known as Magta, Maguta, Tucuna/Tukuna, and Tukna (WikP).

Ethnologue: tca. Alternate Names: Magüta, Tikuna, Tukuna.

1958: [LILLY] Vocabulario breve del idionma Ticuna, by Lambert Anderson. Offprint from Tradicion: Revista Pewruana de Cultura, Año VIII, 1958, No. 21. 24.7 cm. Original cream and brown stapled wrappers, lettered in black. 24.7 cm. Spanish-Ticuna, pp. 4-18. This copy with the ownership stamp of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his title notes on the cover and a few scattered notes in ink.

"The Ticuna Indians live in the Peruvian border with Brazil and Columbia. Professor Lambert Anderson,, presents us with a vocabulary of their language, that he has studied for many years" (Summary).

[TIDORE] Tidore of eastern Indonesia is a language centered on the island of Tidore but also spoken in neighboring Halmahera. A Papuan language, it is unlike most languages in Indonesia which belong to the Austronesian language family. It, and the similar Ternate language, appear to be related to languages of the Bird's Head peninsula in Papua. It is closely related to Ternate (WikP).

Ethnologue: tvo.

1536: see under GUARNI, PARAGUAYAN.

[TIGRÉ] Tigre (Ge'ez: ትግረ tigre or ትግሬ tigrē), better known in Eritrea by its autonym Tigrayit ትግራይት, and also known by speakers in Sudan as Xasa (Arabic: الخصاصية ḥāṣīyah), is an Afroasiatic language spoken in Northeast Africa. It belongs to the North Ethiopic subdivision of the family's South Semitic branch and is primarily spoken by the Tigre people in Eritrea. Along with Tigrinya, it is believed to be the most closely related living language to Ge'ez language, which is still in use as the liturgical language of the Ethiopian Orthodox Tewahedo Church and Eritrean Orthodox Tewahedo Church. As of 1997, Tigre was spoken by approximately 800,000 Tigre people in Eritrea. The Tigre mainly inhabit western Eritrea, though they also reside in the northern highlands of Eritrea and its extension into the adjacent part of Sudan, as well as Eritrea's Red Sea coast north of Zula. The Tigre people are not to be confused with their neighbors to the south, the Tigrayans of Ethiopia and Biher Tigrinya in Eritrea. The northern Ethiopian province which is now named the Tigray Region is a territory of the Tigrayans. Tigrinya is also derived from the parent Ge'ez tongue, but is quite distinct from Tigre despite the similarity in name (WikP). Population: 806,000 in Eritrea (2022), increasing. Total users in all countries: 890,300.

Ethnologue: tig. Autonym: ትግራይት (Tigrayit/Tigraayit).

1814: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1865: see under GEEZ.

1868a: [LILLY] Glossar der Tigré-Sprache... bearbeitet und mit einer grammatischen Skizze und einem Lebensabriss des Sammlers, by Moritz von Beurmann [1835-1863], ed. by Adalbert Merx [1838-1909]. Leipzig: Fr. Nies'sche Buchdr. (Carl B. Lorck), 1868. p. [33]-111; 22 cm. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black. First edition. Cf. Zaunmüller, col. 378 (English language edition). Hendrix 1611. Includes English-German-Tigre, pp. [33]-72, followed by grammar, and life of Beurmann, pp. 87-111. Separately published reprint from the sixth "Jahresbericht des Vereins von Freunden der Erdkunde zu Leipzig."

1868b: [LILLY] Vocabulary of the Tigre language, written down by [Karl] Moritz von Beurmann [1835-1863], published with a grammatical sketch, by Dr. A[dalbert] Merx [1838-1909]. Halle; London: Buchhandlung des Waisenhauses, Trübner & Comp., 1868. Pp. I-V VI-VIII, 1 2-78. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 378. Wolf 494. Hendrix 1610. "Glossar der Tigresprache" (p. [33]-72) reprints the first part of his work of the same title (Leipzig, 1868—see above), English-German-Tigre, pp. [33]-72, with an English index to the German-Tigre, pp. [73]-78. Other than the glossary, the material differs substantially from the German edition above. Second copy: LILLY, later blue quarter-linen and blue paper over boards, with paper label lettered in ink.

The preface gives the history of the publication of the work in detail, pointing out that it was the first study of the Tigre language, "of which at that time nothing was known in Europe," although during the six year delay in publication, other vocabularies of the language appeared in French (Munzinger, 1865) and Latin (Dillman, 1865). The vocabulary itself was gathered by Beurmann who, before it could be published, was "finally murdered by one of those, whose gradual civilization was the primary object of all his exertions... it is uncertain whether by a direct order of the Sultan of Wadai or by the private cruelty of an avaricious Governor. His noble zeal [had] brought him a second time into the interior of Africa and here he fell, one more German sacrifice for science and civilization" (from a sketch of the Beurmann's life by Merx, p. [1]).

1887: see under BILEN

1894: [LILLYbm] Manuale tigre-italiano, con due dizionarietti italiano-tigre e tigre-italiano e cartina dimostrativa degli idiomi parlati in Eritrea, by Manfredo Camperio [1826-1899]. Milano: Ulrico Hoepli, 1894. Original red cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-7 8-177 178-180 + 32 pp. + color linguistic map. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1612. Includes Italian-Tigre, pp. [77]-124, and Tigre-Italian, pp. [127]-177. First Italian-Tigre dictionary.

1915: [IUW] Dictionnaire de la Langue Tigräi, par P. S. Coulbeaux et J. Schreiber. Wien: Alfred Hölder, 1915. 504 p. Library binding, preserving original pale orange front wrapper, lettered in black. Uniform series: Schriften (Kaiserl. Akademie der Wissenschaften in Wien. Sprachenkommission) Bd. 6. Tigré-French, pp. [1]-504. No preliminary material.

1936: see under AMHARIC.

1956-1962: [LILLYbm] Wörterbuch der Tigre-Sprache. Tigre-Deutsch-Englisch, by Enno Littmann & Maria Höfner. Wiesbaden: Franz Steiner Verlag, 1956-1962. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Issued in eight parts; loosely inserted in publisher's original black cloth over boards, lettered in gold, for later binding. Pp. [Part 1, 1956] 1 2-96 (with loosely inserted provisional list of abbreviations, pp. I II-IV); [Part 2, 1957] 97-192; [Part 3, 1958] 193-288; [Part 4, 1958] 289-384; [Part 5, 1960] 385-480; [Part 6, 1960] 481-576; [Part 7, 1962] 577-672; [Part 8, 1962] I-V VI-XVI (title page, introduction, notes on using the dictionary), 673-744. First edition. Akademie der Wissenschaften und der Literatur: Veröffentlichungen der Orientalischen Kommission, Band XI. Zaunmüller, col. 378 (while still in progress, when 10 installments had been planned). Hendrix 1613. Dalby 1552. The dictionary is tri-lingual, Tigre-German-English. First true dictionary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

"The authors' primary goal in compiling this Tigre dictionary was to fill a gap in the series of previous lexica of Semitic languages; a gap that was even more regrettable due to the fact that this language is just as important as any other African-Semitic language for general and comparative Semitic Studies... The English translations were added to the German to render the dictionary of this still-current language useful to as wide a circle as possible. The fact that the Tigre words are not transcribed, but given in Ethiopian script, however, indicates in itself that the primary purpose of the dictionary is an academic one" (tr: BM). (Preface).

1982: [IUW] A vocabulary of Beni Amer dialect of Tigré / Aki'o Nakano and Yoichi Tsuge, collaborator. Tokyo, Japan: Institute for the Study of Languages and Cultures of Asia and Africa (ILCAA), 1982. vi, 159, 10 p.; 19 cm. African languages and ethnography; 16. Includes index. Bibliography: p. iv.

[TIGRIGNA] Tigrinya (properly Tigrigna; /tɪ'ɡriːnjə/ (ትግርኛ təgrəñña) is an Afroasiatic language of the Semitic branch. It is mainly spoken in Eritrea and northern Ethiopia in the Horn of Africa, with around 6,915,000 total speakers. Tigrinya speakers in Ethiopia (known as Tigrayans; Tigrawot; feminine Tigrāweyti, male Tigraway, plural Tegarū) number around 4,320,000 individuals, and are centered in the northern Tigray Region. The Tigrinya speakers in Eritrea (Tigrinyas) total roughly 2,540,000, and are concentrated in the southern and central areas. Tigrinya is also spoken by emigrants from these regions, including some Beta Israel. Tigrinya should not be confused with the related Tigre language. The latter is spoken by the Tigre people, who inhabit the lowland regions of Eritrea to the north and west of the Tigrinya speech area.

Ethnologue: tir. Alternate Names: Beta Israel, Tigray, Tigrinya.

1887-1893: [LILLY] Manuel de la langue Tigräï parlée au centre et dans le nord de l'Abyssinie, by Jules Schreiber. Vienna: Hoelder, 1887-1893.: Bd. 1.2 VII, 227 S; 8'. [Bd.] 1 Petite grammaire systématique. [Bd.] 2 Textes et vocabulaire. Later paper over boards, with printed label on spine; bound in one volume with original wrappers of each volume preserved. Hendrix 1639. Tigrigna-French vocabulary, pp. 198-224. With ink ownership signature of noted scholar Oscar Lofgren (1898-1992), author of several works on the Ethiopic language. With bookplate of Humphrey Winterton.

1903: see under AMHARIC.

1911: [LILLY] Ne'ešatoy tergwem 'értera, by Taxasta Hogōs. 'Asmarā: Tehatma 'aba māhtam misayon sawéysé, 1903 [i.e. 1911]. [11], 2-195 p.; 16 cm. Original red cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Other titles: Tigrina-Italian and Arabic vocabulary. Date of publication given in Ge'ez numerals and according to the Ethiopian calendar. Contains word list in Tigrigna, Italian in Roman letters, Italian in Ge'ez script, and Arabic in Ge'ez script, pp. [25]-195. Lilly Library copy has former owner bookplate at front.

1915: [LILLY] Dictionnaire de la langue tigräi, by P. S. Coulbeaux and J. Schreiber. Wien: In Kommission bei A. Hölder, 1915. [2], 504 p.; 22 cm. Series: Schriften der Sprachenkommission; Bd. 6. Notes: Cover title. Issued without a title page or conclusion due to war conditions (see p. [1]); the planned conclusion was never published. In original tan printed wrappers, lettered and decorated in black, edges untrimmed. Zaunmüller 378. Hendrix 1630.

1935: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1957: [LILLYbm] Mazgaba qalat:Tegreña-Amhareña = Ethiopian dictionary: Tigrigna-Amharic, by Yohanes Gabra-Egziabher. Asmara: Bét mahetam arti grafika Éritraya, 1957. 855 p., [2] leaves of plates: facsim., port.; 24 cm. Original tan wrapped lettered and decorated in dark blue. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1643.

1963: see under AMHARIC.

1985: [IUW] Dictionary, English-Tigrigna-Arabic. 1st ed. Rome: Eritrean People's Liberation Front, 1985. 718 p.; 26 cm. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Dalby 1553. Introd. in Tigrinya; t.p. in Tigrinya, English and Arabic. English-Tigrigna-Arabice, pp. 1-718.

1987: [IUW] Concise English-Tigrinya dictionary, by Tuquabo Aressi. Asmara: Ethiopian Studies Centre, 1987. 191 p.; 20 cm. Title also in Tigrinya.

1992: [LILLYbm] English-Tigrigna Dictionary. [in Tigrigna script] 'Englizena-Tegrena Mazgaba-Qalat, compiled by Board of Scholars. New Delhi: Languages-of-the-World Publications, 1992. Original maroon imitation leather over boards, lettered in gray; d.j. red, black and white, lettered in red, black and white. Pp. 1-5 6-722. First edition. English-Tigrigna, pp. [5]-722. Tigre script. Second copy: [IUW].

"Tigrigna is a prominent language of Northern Ethiopia, and is also known as Tigri. It is spoken and written in some other parts of Africa also" (verso of title page). "We have planned to bring out a series of dictionaries compiled by prominent scholars in different languages of the world. This Dictionary is one in that series, and we hope readers will find it useful. This is our contribution in bringing various languages of the world together, and closer to English" (From the Publishers).

1993: [IUW] English-Tigrigna dictionary / Uqbamicael Habtemariam. 1st ed. [Ethiopia?]: HAGOS, 1993. vii, 263 p.; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Title proper in Tigrigna.

2003: [IUW] Mazgaba-qālāt: Tegreñā- 'Englizeñā / Hezbāwi genbār ḥārenat 'Éretrā = Dictionary: Tigrigna-English / Eritrean People's Liberation Front. 'Āsmarā: Hezbāwi genbār ḥārenat 'Éretrā, c2003. vii, 637 p.; 24 cm. Originally published: 1986. Tigrinya and English.

2003/2004: [IUW] Sābā: 'engelizeñā-tegreñā- 'amāreñā mazgaba qālāt = English-Tigrigna-Amharic dictionary / Rāḥél Yašitelā. [Ethiopia]: Aster Nega, 1996 [2003 or 2004]. 481 p.; 20 cm. "30,000 qālāt = words." English words, with pronunciation in Ethiopic script, followed by Tigrinya and Amharic equivalents. Introductory notes in Amharic.

2005?: [IUW] Pocket English-Tigrigna & Tegreñā- 'Engliz dictionary with grammar and usage / by: Rev. Isaias Haileab. [Asmara]: [publisher not identified], [between 2005 and 2018] 230 pages; 15 cm. Includes bibliographical references (page 230).

2006: [IUW] Miraf: English-Amharic-Tigrigna dictionary = Mē'eraf: 'engelizeñā- 'amāreñā-tegreñā mazgaba qālāt / prepared by Kidanemariam Gebru. 1st ed. [Ethiopia: Aster Nega, 1998 [2006]] 343 p.; 21 cm. Amharic title at head of English title, description based on English title. English words, with pronunciation in Ethiopic script, followed by Amharic and Tigrinya equivalents.

2007 or 2008: [IUW] Mirāss Tegrēñā- 'Englizeñā mazgaba-qālāt = Mirass Tigrigna-English dictionary / Dān'él Taxlu Radā. [Ethiopia]: Daniel Teklu Redda, 2000 [2007 or 2008]. 354 p.; 21 cm.

2010 or 2011: [IUW] English-Tigrigna Dictionary / prepared by Aklilu Dessalegn. [Ethiopia]: [AAUP], [2010 or 2011]. x, 541 pages: illustrations; 20 cm Text in Tigrinya and English; title in Tigrinya and English.

2015: [IUW] Mega English-Amharic-Tigrigna dictionary / Berhe Kahasy. Addis Abeba: Mega Publishing & Distribution PLC, 2015. 709 pages; 21 cm.

2017: [IUW] Русско-тиграйский тигринья-русский разговорник и словарь: (Еритрея, Ефиопия) = XXX / Я.Н. Гутгарц. Russko-tigraiskii tigrin'ia-russkii razgovornik i slovar': (Eritreia, Efiopiia) = XXX / I.A.N. Gutgarts. Москва: Наука - Восточная литература, 2017. Moskva: Nauka - Vostochnaia literatura, 2017. 455 pages; 21 cm. Russian-Tigrinya, Tigrinya-Russian dictionary.

[TII] Tii is a Central Malayo-Polynesian language of Roti Island, off Timor, Indonesia (WikP).

Ethnologue: txq. Alternate Names: Rote, Rote Barat, Roti, Rotinese, Thie, Ti, Western Rote.

1894: see 1894a under MALAY.

1906: [LILLYbm] Rottineesch-Hollandsch Woordenboek, by J[ohann] C[hristoph] G[erhard] Jonker. Leiden: E. J. Brill, 1906. Original tan paper over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. I-V VI-XII, 1 2-806 [2]. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Dalby 1286 (dated 1908). Includes Roti [Tii]-Dutch, pp. [1]-806. A Malay-Dutch-Tii-Timorese vocabulary was published in 1894 in the Tijdschrift voor Indische Taal- Land- en Volkenkunde, Vol. 37 (see entry under MALAY). This is the first dictionary of the language.

[TIKOPIA] The Tikopia language is a Polynesian Outlier language from the island of Tikopia in the Solomon Islands. It is closely related to the Anuta language of the neighboring island of Anuta. Tikopian is also spoken by the Polynesian minority on Vanikoro, who long ago migrated from Tikopia (WikP).

Ethnologue: tkp. Alternate Names: Fakatikopia.

1926: [LILLYbm] A Tikopian vocabulary, compiled mainly from materials collected by the Rev. W. J. Durrad, of the Melanesian mission, ed. by Herbert W[illiam] Williams [1860-1937]. [Wellington, N.Z.?]: [Journal of the Polynesian Society], [1926]. Original pale pink wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. 267-289 290, ²1-117 118; also separately paginated 1-63 64 at bottom of each page. First edition. "Extracts from Vols. 35 and 36, Journal of the Polynesian Society" printed on front wrapper. Includes Tikopia-English, pp. 3-63. The only previous published vocabulary of Tikopia consisted of some seven or eight hundred words published in Volume 22 of the Journal of the Polynesian Society.

"The inhabitants [of Tikopia] are Polynesians, formerly cannibals, but now very mild mannered. Murder is hardly known on the island, but sometimes a person guilty of serious offence may be cast adrift in a canoe.... The total results of [all previous vocabularies collected] are here presented in the form of a Tikopia-English vocabulary" (Introduction).

1985: [LILLYbm] Tikopia-English dictionary. Taranga fakatikopia ma taranga fakainglisi, by Raymond William Firth. [Auckland]: [S.I.]: Auckland University Press; Oxford University Press, 1985. Original powder blue wrappers, lettered and decorated in blue. Pp. [8] i-xlvi xlvi, 1-615 616. First edition. This copy with the ink ownership stamp of James N. Spuhler, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. Spuhler edited Symposium on the Evolution of Man's Capacity for Culture (1965), Genetic diversity and human behavior (1967) and was author of The evolution of apes and humans: genes, molecules, chromosomes, anatomy, and behaviour (Douglas Ormonde Butler memorial lecture, 1985). Includes Tikopia-English, pp. 1-603, appendix of loan words, pp. 604-612, and bibliography: p. xxi-xiii. Includes discussion of "Antecedents of the Dictionary," pp. iv-vi.). This is the first dictionary of the language, preceded by a brief vocabulary or two, and a 3,000-4,000 word list in the Journal of the Polynesian Society (1926-27) edited by Herbert Williams (see above). Second copy: [IUW].

"I have included in this dictionary a considerable amount of traditional material...Some of the words refer to customs which Tikopia no longer practice - such as the ritual of the kava...Not all modern Tikopia may want to know about these words and ideas from the past, but the evidence should be available to them....It may well be that in some future generation [they may] with their richness of cultural association and subtle figurative symbolic meaning...come to be prized as part of the whole Tikopia cultural achievement" (Introduction).

"This Tikopia word-book has taken more than ten years to produce, but its origins go back more than fifty years, to my first field expedition of 1928-29...At that time the culture of Tikopia had received only very fleeting study...I took part in a great range of Tikopia activities, from just sitting around in houses, talking and eating, to dancing, fishing, attending initiations, marriages, funerals and religious rites...I tried to get a selection of all kinds of utterance, from formulae recited as a religious offering was made to instructions shouted about a package of food or a canoe, or an angry expostulation when someone made a wrong move..." (Assembling the Dictionary).

[TILLAMOOK] Tillamook is an extinct Salishan language, formerly spoken by the Tillamook people in northwestern Oregon, United States. The last fluent speaker was Minnie Scovell who died in 1972. In an effort to prevent the language from being lost, a group of researchers from the University of Hawaii interviewed the few remaining Tillamook-speakers and created a 120-page dictionary (unpublished as of 2017) (WikP).

Ethnologue: til.

1844: see under CHEHALIS, UPPER.

1846: see 9) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT

[TIMBISHA] Timbisha (Tümpisa; also called Panamint or Koso) is the language of the Native American people who have inhabited the region in and around Death Valley, California and the southern Owens Valley since late prehistoric times. There are a few elderly individuals who can speak the language in California and Nevada, but none are monolingual and all use English regularly in their daily lives. Until the last decade of the twentieth century, the people called themselves and their language "Shoshone". The tribe then achieved Federal recognition under the name Death Valley Timbisha Shoshone Band of California. This is an Anglicized spelling of the native name of Death Valley, tümpisa, pronounced [timbiʃa], which means "rock paint" and refers to the rich sources of red ochre in the valley. Timbisha is also the language of the so-called "Shoshone" groups at Bishop, Big Pine, Darwin, Independence, and Lone Pine communities in California and the Beatty community in Nevada. It was also the language spoken at the former Indian Ranch reservation in Panamint Valley (WikP).

Ethnologue: par. Alternate Names: Coso, Koso, Koso Shoshone, Panamint, Panamint Shoshone, Tümpisa Shoshoni.

1989: [LILLYbm] Tümpisa (Panamint) Shoshone Dictionary, by Jon P. Dayley. Berkeley: University of California Press, [1989]. Original orange and white wrappers, lettered in black and white. 516 pp. First edition. University of California Publications, Linguistics Volume 116. Includes Tümpisa Shoshone-English dictionary, pp. 1-416, and an English-Tümpisa Shoshone Glossary, pp. 419-513. Bibliography, pp. 515-516. Second copy: [IUW].

"In aboriginal times and even well into this century, Panamint was spoken by small bands of people living in southeastern California and extreme southwestern Nevada in the valleys and mountain ranges east of the Sierra Nevada...Panamint is closely related to Shoshone proper, spoken immediately to the northeast of it, and to Comanche, spoken now in Oklahoma but formerly in the central and southern Great Plains. Together these three closely related languages comprise the Central Numic branch of the Numic family of the Uto-Aztecan stock of American Indian languages...No one really questions that Panamint and Shoshone are distinct languages...In this dictionary I have adopted the term Tümpisa Shoshone to refer to the variety of the language spoken by the people native to Death Valley, California, and vicinity. Tümpisa and [other] variants...are well-known names for Death Valley in the language... There never were many Tümpisa Shoshone, at most never more than a few hundred even in aboriginal times... When I worked in the area in the early 1970s, only some 35-40 people spoke the language fluently and used it on a day-to-day basis. Today there are fewer than half a dozen people who speak the language fluently, and they are all in their 80s...I present the lexical material in this dictionary, then, knowing that it is incomplete, but also knowing that it is the most there is, perhaps the most there will ever be in monograph form." This is the first dictionary of the language.

[TIMOTE] Timote, also known as Cuica or Timote–Cuica, is the language of the Timote–Cuica state in the Venezuelan Andes, around the present city of Mérida and south of Lake Maracaibo. The language is reported to have gone extinct in the early to mid 20th century. However, in 1977 it was reported that the indigenous village of Mutús, in the heart of the old Timote state, still spoke an indigenous language, which would presumably be Timote. The name is apparently Timote, as 'Timote' itself derives from ti-moti 'Mutú speakers', and mutú or mukú is a common toponym in the region. This lead had not been followed up as of Adelaar (2004) (WikP).

Ethnologue no longer lists this language (previously cited as Mutús: muf). It was removed between the 14th and 15th editions, since "no solid evidence can be found that the named language ever existed."

1927: [LILLYbm] "La famille linguistique Timote (Venezuela)," by P. Rivet, in: International Journal of American Linguistics, New York, 4, no. 2-4 (January 1927), pp. 137-167. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black. Includes French-Timote/Cuica vocabulary, pp. 151-167, with bibliography, p. 167. First substantial published vocabulary of this language, which is now extinct, or possibly never existed.

"It is to be hoped that a thorough and serious study of Timote-Cuica will be undertaken; there is some urgency, since the language is rapidly disappearing, and no doubt in a few years it will be too late. This would be a work of ethnographic salvaging that should impose itself upon the patriotism of learned Venezuelans. If the present work has no other result than to stimulate such a study, it will not have been in vain".

[TIMUCUA] Timucua is a language isolate formerly spoken in northern and central Florida and southern Georgia by the Timucua people. Timucua was the primary language used in the area at the time of Spanish colonization in Florida. Linguistic and archaeological studies suggest that it may have been spoken from around 2000 BC. Most of what is known of the language comes from the works of Father Francisco Pareja, a Franciscan missionary who came to St. Augustine in 1595. During his 31 years of service to the Timucua, he developed a writing system for the language, the first for an indigenous language of the Americas. He published several Spanish-Timucua catechisms, as well as a grammar of the Timucua language, from 1612-1627. His 1612 work was the first to be published in an indigenous language in the Americas. Including his six surviving works, only nine primary sources of information about the Timucua language survive, including two catechisms written in Timucua and Spanish by Father Gregorio de Movilla in 1635, and a Spanish-translated Timucuan letter to the Spanish Crown dated 1688. In 1763 the British took over Florida from Spain following the Seven Years' War, and most Spanish colonists and mission Indians, including the few remaining Timucua speakers, left for Cuba, near Havana. The language group is now extinct (WikP).

Ethnologue: tjm.

An online dictionary of Timucua may be found at www.webonary.org.

1614 [1886]: [LILLY] Adam, Lucien, & Julien Vinson. Arte vocabulario de la lengua Timuquana compuesto en 1614 por el Pe. Francisco Pareja y publicado conforme al ejemplar original unico.... Paris: Maisonneuve y cia, 1886. First edition, 8vo, pp. xxxi, [1], 132; title page printed in red and black; original pale green wrappers bound in contemporary half red morocco, spine in 6 compartments, gilt-lettered in 2, t.e.g.; front free endpaper detached, but present; joints rubbed, edges scuffed. An Ayer Linguistics duplicate, with a small Newberry bookplate on the front pastedown and a Newberry release stamp on the verso of the first flyleaf. Issued as volume XI in the publisher's Bibliothèque linguistique américaine series. The Timucua were a Native American people who lived in Northeast and North Central Florida and southeast Georgia. La Vinaza, Bibliografía Espanola de Lenguas Indigenas de America (1892), 661; (bookseller's description: Rob Rulon-Miller). This volume does not include a bilingual vocabulary as such, but extensive treatment of the grammar with Timucua-Spanish examples.

1880: [LILLYbm] The Timucua language, by Albert S[amuel] Gatschet[1832-1907]. [Philadelphia], 1880. Three parts. Caption title. With contemporary gray wrappers on Parts II and III, lettered in ink by hand. Separate publication from the Proceedings of the American philosophical society, v. 17, p. 490-504; v. 18, p. 465-502; excepting the first article, which is reprinted with new pagination from v. 16, p. 625-642. Part I "read before the American Philosophical Society, April 6, 1877"; Part II "read before the American Philosophical Society, April 5th, 1878, as a sequel to the article read April 6th, 1877"; Part III "read before the American Philosophical Society, February 20, 1880, as a third sequel to the articles on this subject read April 6, 1877, and April 5, 1878." Includes Timucua-English "words and sentences", pp. 14-17 (Part I), 503-504 (Part II), and 498-502 (Part III). This set from the Minnesota Historical Society with their blind stamp on the wrappers of Parts II and III. First published vocabulary of Timucua.

"The science of linguistics... is of very recent date....To similar researches I intend to furnish a small contribution by publishing some notices of the Timucua language, which is perhaps that idiom spoken within the present boundary of the Union in which the oldest writings of some extent have been published. As a nation, the Floridian Timucuas are now extinct, but their idiom is preserved in a shape which promises the possibility of total reconstruction" (p. [1]).

1890: [LILLYbm] Vocabulaire Timucua, by Raoul de La Grasserie [1839-1914]. [Orleans: Georges Jacob, [1890]. Contemporary unprinted gray wrappers. Pp. 1 2-16. First separate publication, reprinted from the Revue de lingusitique. Not in Zauunmüller. Two accompanying parts were published in the same periodical and separately published as well, "Textes en langue Timucua, avec traduction analytique," by Albert Gatschet and Raoul de la Grasserie, and "Esquisse d'une grammaire du timucua, langue de la Floride," by Raoul de la Grasserie (Paris: J. Maisonneuve, 1890). The Timucua-French vocabulary, published here separately, pp. [1]-16. This is the first published vocabulary of French and Timucua.

1993: [LILLYbm] A Grammar and Dictionary of the Timucua Language, by Julian Granberry. Tuscaloosa, Alabama: University of Alabama Press, 1993. Original stiff tan and white wrappers, lettered and decorated in black and white. 292 pp. 21.5 cm. Third edition. The first and second editions were published by the author in Horseshoe Beach, Florida in 1986 and 1989 respectively. This dictionary is based on earlier work by John Swanton of the Smithsonian Institution's Bureau of American Ethnology, at his request. This is the first dictionary of this extinct language. Second copy: [IUW].

"Sixty some years after its inception Swanton's Timucua dictionary is at last something of a reality... The Timucua language was spoken from an indeterminate position on the Georgia coast...south through north and central Florida to the Daytona Beach region...Timucua was the primary native language in this large area at the time of the arrival of the Spanish and French in the late 1500's...It remained so until the end of the First Spanish Period in 1763, when the remnant Timucua speakers, heavily Christianized and acculturated to European lifeways, were moved to Cuba...Ultimately these refugees merged with the general population...Some Tawasa speakers survived in the early 1770's.. but they too soon disappeared... There were eleven Timucua dialects [including Taws].... The present study deals with the Mocama dialect only, inasmuch as this was the dialect with which Pareja and Movilla [the 17th century sources of information on the language] were intimately familiar and in which they wrote their religious tracts."

[TIPPERA] The Borok language, Kók Borok (Kókborok) or Kak-Borak, also known as Tripuri, is any of the native languages of the Tripuri people of the Indian state of Tripura and neighboring areas of Bangladesh. The word Kók Borok is a compound of kók "language" and borok "people", which is used specifically for the Tripuri people. Kokborok is a Sino-Tibetan language family of East Asia and South East Asia. It is closely related to the Dimasa language of neighbouring of Assam. The Garo language is also a related language as spoken in neighboring Bangladesh and Meghalaya. Kókborok is not a single language, but a collective name for the several languages and dialects spoken in Tripura. Ethnologue lists Usoi (Kau Brung), Riang (Polong-O), and Khagrachari ("Tippera") as separate languages; Mukchak (Barbakpur), though not listed, is also distinct, and the language of many Borok clans has not been investigated. The greatest variety is within Khagrachari, though speakers of different Khagrachari varieties can "often" understand each other. Khagrachari literature is being produced in the Naitong and Dendak varieties. Kokborok is closely related to language of Dimasa Kacharies of Assam (WikP).

Ethnologue: tpe. Alternate Names: Kok Borok, Tipperah, Tippurah, Tipra, Tipura, Triperah, Tripura.

1885: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TIRA] Tiro, also Thiro or Tira, is a Niger–Congo language in the Heiban family spoken in South Kordofan, Sudan (WikP).

Ethnologue: tic. Alternate Names: Lithiro, Littiro, Thiro, Tiro. Autonym: Zittiro.

1910-1911 [1965]: see under NUBIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TIRAHĪ] Tirahi, also called Dardù, is a nearly extinct if not already extinct Dardic language of the Kohistani group spoken in the Nangarhar Province of Northeastern Afghanistan. It is spoken by older adults, who are likewise fluent in Southern Pashto (WikP).

Ethnologue: tra.

1903-1927: see Vol. I, Part I, 1927 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TĪRĪ] Tiri (Ciri, Tīrī), or Mea (Ha Mea), is an Oceanic language of New Caledonia (WikP).

Ethnologue: cir. Alternate Names: Ciiri, Ciri, Grand Couli, Hamea, Ha-Tiri, Méa, Tinrin, Tiri-Mea.

1946: see under MELANESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1976: [LILLYbm] Grand Couli Dictionary (New Caledonia), by G. W. Grace. Canberra: The Australian National University, 1976. Original wrappers. 113 pp. First edition. Grand Couli [Tiri]-English and English-Grand Couli [Tiri]. Pacific Linguistics, series C, No. 12. Grand Couli is spoken in New Caledonia. This is the only dictionary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

[TIRURAY] Tiruray is an Austronesian language of the southern Philippines. According to Ethnologue, Tiruray is spoken in: Datu Blah T. Sinsuat, Upi, and South Upi municipalities, in southwestern Maguindanao Province Lebak municipality, northwestern Sultan Kudarat Province. P. Guillermo Benassar published a Spanish-Tiruray dictionary in 1892 (see below).

Ethnologue: tiy. Alternate Names: Teduray, Tirurai.

1892; [LILLY] Diccionario Tiruray - Espanol ... Primera parte, by Guillermo Bennasar. Manila: Tipo Litografia de Chofré y Comp., 1892. 8vo, pp. [4], 201, [1]; original printed wrappers detached, but present; back wrapper with short tears and a small piece missing. An Ayer Linguistic duplicate, with a Newberry release stamp on the verso of the half-title; in a red cloth Newberry chemise. Tiruray is an Austronesian language of the southern Philippines. A second part, Diccionario español-tiruray, was published the following year and is not present here (bookseller's description: Rob Rulon-Miller). Tiruray-Spanish, pp. [5]-201.

1904: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1971: [LILLYbm] Tiruray-English Lexicon, by Stuart A. Schlegel. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1971. Original yellow wrappers, lettered in black. 294 pp. First edition. University of California Publications in Linguistics, No. 67. Includes Tiruray-English and English-Tiruray. "The Tiruray are a Philippine hill people, who inhabit ... the southwestern coast of the island of Mindanao facing the Celebes Sea... The 1960 census reported 26,344 Tiruray native speakers." A Tiruray-Spanish dictionary was published in 1892, and Spanish-Tiruray in 1893. This is the first Tiruray-English dictionary. Second copy: [IUW].

[TITAN] Titan, also known as Manus, is an East Manus language of the Austronesian language family spoken in the southeastern part of Manus Island, New Guinea, and neighboring islands by about 4,000 people (Wikip).

Ethnologue: ttv. Alternate Names: M'bunai, Manus, Moanus, Tito.

2011: [IUW] Sivisa Titan: sketch grammar, texts, vocabulary based on material collected by P. Josef Meier and Po Minis / Claire Bower. Honolulu: University of Hawai'i Press, c2011. xxi, 466 p.: map; 23 cm. Original rose wrappers, lettered in black. Oceanic linguistics special publication; no. 38. Titan-English Glossary, pp. 157-189, English-Titan Finderlist, pp. 191-209. Includes bibliographical references (p. 457-461) and index.

"This book was written in order to make more usable the valuable data compiled by Po Minis and the New Britain missionary P. Josef Meier for the 'Manus/ Moanus' language (now usually called 'Titan'). Meier published seventy-five texts in this language in the journal Anthropos between 1906 and 1909 (with an addendum in 1912). The corpus is about 25,000 words. The stories contain brief information about the speakers and are glossed word-for-word in German (and occasionally in Latin when the topic of discussion was delicate). He provided no free translations. Meier also compiled a brief wordlist of about a hundred items and a short sketch of the language. After working initially only on the Meier materials, I was able to gain access to the unpublished Manus fieldnotes of Reo Fortune (1928) and Theodore Schwartz (1953–1954); they constitute a considerable set of resources in their own right.... This book is divided into three sections. This, the first, is the sketch grammar, based entirely on the texts collected by Meier and published by him in Anthropos. Patricia Hamel's (1994) Grammar and Lexicon of Loni: Papua New Guinea has been very helpful as a guide to interpreting ambiguous data. Part Two is a wordlist compiled from the texts, with an English-Titan reversal" (Introduction).

[TIV] The Tiv language is spoken by over ten million people in Nigeria, with some speakers in Cameroon. Most Nigerian Tiv speakers are found in Benue State of Nigeria. The language is also widely spoken in the Nigerian States of Plateau, Taraba, Nasarawa, Cross River Kaduna, Lagos, Adamawa, Oyo as well as the FCT Abuja. It is part of the Southern Bantoid Tivoid family, a branch of Benue–Congo and ultimately of the Niger–Congo family. The Tiv people have a tradition that is arranged in order of chiefs: 1st class chief (Tor Tiv) 2nd class chief (Ter) which is normally in charge of each local government traditional council. They also have 3rd class chiefs (Tyoor) in charge of Districts and Kindred Heads (Mbateregh) they also have Ator a Ukpande (Tax Collectors) they can also be called village heads (WikP).

Ethnologue: tiv. Alternate Names: "Munshi" (pej.).

1940: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary of the Tiv Language, by Captain R[oy] C[live] Abraham. London: Published on behalf of the Government of Nigeria by the Crown Agents for the Colonies, 1940. Original brownish-orange cloth over boards, lettered in black. 332 pp. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 378. Dalby 1554. This copy with a pasted printed label on the inner front cover: "The poisonous insecticidal solution used in binding this book has been specially prepared in order to render the work impervious to the ravages of insects." Second copy: [IUW].

"The only work on Tiv for the European is the Reverend Malherbe's Tiv-English Dictionary of 1934 and to him I am indebted for a considerable number of words. The two works differ considerably in arrangement, and great attention is here paid to the treatment of the commoner words, pronunciation and the facts of grammar: the tone of every word is shown, a matter of paramount importance in Tiv...". This work was reprinted in 1968 by Gregg Press.

1968: [LILLYbm] English-Tiv Dictionary, by Gerard Terpstra. Ibadan, Nigeria: Institute of African Studies, University of Ibadan, 1968. Original blue and white wrappers, lettered and illustrated in white and black. 120 pp. First edition. Occasional Publication No. 13. Second copy: [IUW].

"This English-Tiv Dictionary was originally intended to be a simple copy of the word list found at the end of Mr. W. A. Malherbe's Tiv Dictionary, done at Seav in 1931, and now out of print. The subsequent decision to expand the work involved the differentiation of meanings under main entries, as well as the addition of many words as found largely in A Dictionary of the Tiv Language by R. C. Abraham, London, 1940... This edition is provisional. Please make comments, corrections, and additions as necessary, in order to make a later edition as nearly complete and free from error as possible."

1987: see 1987c under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TIVERIKOTO] Tiverikoto (Tivericoto) is an extinct and poorly attested Cariban language. Terrence Kaufman placed it with Yao in his Yao group (WikP).

Ethnologue does not include Tiverikoto.

1848: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TIWA, NORTHERN] The Taos dialect of the Northern Tiwa language is spoken in Taos Pueblo, New Mexico. In data collected in 1935 and 1937, George L. Trager (1946) notes that Taos was spoken by all members of the Taos Pueblo community. Additionally, most speakers were bilingual in either Spanish or English: speakers over 50 years of age were fluent in Spanish, adult speakers younger than 50 spoke Spanish and English, children around 5 years old could speak English but not Spanish—generally a decrease in age correlated with a decrease in Spanish fluency and an increase in English fluency. Pre-school children and a few very old women were monolingual Taos speakers. A more recent report by Gomez (2003) notes that the language "until a few years ago remained viable only in age groups of thirty and older", a sign that Taos is being affected by language endangerment pressures. Nonetheless, it is one of 46 languages in North America that are being spoken by significant numbers of children as of 1995 (Goddard 1996). The most recent estimate is from 1980 with about 800 native speakers out of 1600 ethnic population (50% of the population). Taos speakers have historically been reluctant to provide linguists with language data to work with and have preferred to keep their language secret from outsiders. G. Trager had to work with his consultants in private and keep their identities in confidence. The tendency for secrecy is a continuing general Pueblo reaction starting in the 17th century in large part due to the oppressive persecution (including public executions and torture) of Pueblo religious practices by the colonial Spanish. The Taos community has been particularly guarded about revealing their language (and culture) to outsiders when compared with other eastern pueblos in New Mexico. Due to secrecy practices, the details of language preservation are not known outside of the community (WikP).

Ethnologue: twf.

1907-1930: see Vol. 16 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1910: [LILLYbm] An Introductory Paper of the Tiwa Language, Dialect of Taos, New Mexico, by John P[eabody] Harrington. [Washington]: Archaeological Institute of America, 1910. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 11-48 [2]. First edition. Papers of the School of American Archaeology, No. 14. "Reprinted from the American Anthropologist, Vol. 12, No. 1, Jan.-Mar., 1910." Tiwa-English, pp. 42-48. This is the earliest printed vocabulary of Northern Tiwa.

"No fact better illustrates the present fragmentary condition of our knowledge of American aboriginal languages than that the tongues of the Pueblo Indians of the southwestern United States have until now remained uninvestigated.... The dialects of Sandia, Isleta, and Isleta del Sur have for three centuries been known to the Mexican population of the region by the name Tigua, obscure in origin. A more continental spelling is Tiwa.... Inasmuch as Tiwa is apparently the most archaic of the Tanoan group...an outline of the language is here presented, the dialect of Taos having been chosen. The Taos, as is usual, consider themselves superior to all other Indians. They have infinite disdain for their southern neighbors, the Tewa, who are regarded as having perverted customs and as speaking a degenerate form of the Taos language. They pride themselves especially on occupying the highest and most northerly of all the Pueblo villages, and the tradition that the Pueblo Indians migrated originally from the north... seems to them sufficient proof that they are the most pristine and uncorrupted of Pueblo villagers."

[TIWA, SOUTHERN] The Southern Tiwa language is a Tanoan language spoken at Sandia Pueblo and Isleta Pueblo in New Mexico and Ysleta del Sur in Texas. Southern Tiwa belongs to the Tiwa sub-grouping of the Kiowa-Tanoan language family. It is closely related to the more northerly Picurís (spoken at Picuris Pueblo) and Taos (spoken at Taos Pueblo). Trager stated that Southern Tiwa speakers were able to understand Taos and Picurís, although Taos and Picurís speakers could not understand Southern Tiwa very easily. Harrington (1910) observed that an Isleta person (Southern Tiwa) communicated in "Mexican jargon" with Taos speakers as Taos and Southern Tiwa were not mutually intelligible (WikP).

Ethnologue: tix.

1907-1930: see Vol. 16 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TIWI] Tiwi /'ti:wi/ is an Australian Aboriginal language spoken on the Tiwi Islands, within sight of the coast of northern Australia. It is one of about 10% of Australian languages still being learned by children. Traditional Tiwi, spoken by people over the age of fifty by 2005, is a polysynthetic language. However, this grammatical complexity has been lost among younger generations. Tiwi has around one hundred nominals that can be incorporated into verbs, most of them quite different from the corresponding free forms. Unlike other Australian languages, which were once lumped together in a single language family, Tiwi has long been recognized as a language isolate (WikP).

Ethnologue: tiw.

1974: [LILLYbm] The Tiwi Language. Grammar, myths and dictionary of the Tiwi language spoken on Melville and Bathurst Islands, northern Australia, by C. R. Osborne. Canberra: Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies, 1974. Original stiff tan wrappers, lettered in black. 170 pp. First edition. Tiwi-English, pp. 119-139; English-Tiwi, pp. 141-157. This is the first dictionary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

"Tiwi is today [1974] one of the very few Australian languages which are still in full use as the normal medium of communication for an entire tribe... Tiwi is thus in the remarkable situation of being spoken as first language by as many as 1400 people... at a time when the majority of Australian languages have been reduced to no more than a handful of speakers."

1987: [IUW] Tiwi today: a study of language change in contact situation / by Jennifer Lee. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1987. vii, 449, 27 p.: ill., map; 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow-green front and rear wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. Pacific linguistics. Series C, no. 96. Revision of the author's thesis (Australian National University, 1983). Appendix 1: [a comparative word list of] Lexical and Semantic Changes": "The word list given her is not exhaustive and [traditional Tiwi] words for which I have no [modern Tiwi] equivalent are not listed: English-Traditional Tiwi-Modern Tiwi (both formal and casual), pp. 368-392. Includes bibliographical references (p. 409-432) and indexes.

[TLAPANEC] Tlapanec /'tlæpənək/ is an indigenous Mexican language spoken by more than 98,000 Tlapanec people in the state of Guerrero. Like other Oto-Manguean languages, it is tonal and has complex inflectional morphology. The ethnic group themselves refer to their ethnic identity and language as Me'phaa [meʔpʰa:] [as does Ethnologue]. Before much information was known about it, Tlapanec (sometimes written "Tlappanec" in earlier publications) was either considered unclassified or linked to the controversial Hokan language family. It is now definitively considered part of the Oto-Manguean language family, of which it forms its own branch along with the extinct and very closely related Subtiaba language of Nicaragua. Me'phaa people temporarily move to other locations, including Mexico City, Morelos and various locations in the United States, for reasons of work.... Native speakers and the Instituto Nacional de Lenguas Indígenas of the Mexican government, identify eight or nine varieties, which have been given official status: Acatepec, Azoyú, Malinaltepec, Tlacoapa, Nancintla, Teocuitlapa, Zapotitlán Tablas (with Huitzapula sometimes considered distinct), Zilacayotitlán (WikP).

Ethnologue distinguishes four Tlapanec languages: 1) Me'phaa, Acatepec [tpx]; 2) Me'phaa, Azoyú [tpc]; 3) Me'phaa, Malinaltepec [tcf]; 4) Me'phaa, Tlacoapa [tpl].

1912: see under CHOCHOLTEC.

1933: see under ME'PHAA, AZOYÚ.

1983: [IUW] La lengua tlapaneca de Malinaltepec / Jorge A. Suárez. 1a ed. México: Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Instituto de Investigaciones Filológicas, 1983. xxiii, 641 p.; 22 cm. Library binding. Tlapanec-Spanish, pp. 377-582, Spanish-Tlapanec, pp. 583-638. Bibliography: p. 639-641.

1988: [IUW] Xó- nitháán me'phaa = Cómo se escribe el tlapaneco. Malinaltepec, Guerrero: Asociación para la Promoción de Lecto-Escritura Tlapaneca, 1988 [i.e. 1989] 147 p.: ill.; 26 cm. Original green, white, and photographic black and white wrappers, lettered in white. Vocabulary, Tlapanec-Spanish, pp. 119-143. "Libros sobre el tlapaneco": p. 9-10.

"This vocabulary is primarily a list of the Tlapanec words of the seven traditional tales published in this book" (p. 117).

[TLICHO] The Dogrib language or Tłı́chǫ Yatıı is a Northern Athabaskan language spoken by the Tłı́chǫ (Dogrib people) of the Canadian Northwest Territories. According to Statistics Canada in 2011, there were 2,080 people who speak Tłı́chǫ Yatıı. As of 2016, 1,735 people speak the language.

Tłı́chǫ Yatıı is spoken by the Dene First Nations people that reside in the Northwest Territories of Canada, the Tłı́chǫ. Tłı́chǫ Yatıı has seen a decrease in mother tongue speakers, hence placing it under the list of endangered languages (WikP).

Ethnologue: dgr. Alternate Names: Dogrib, Flanc-de-chien, Tłı́chǫ, Thlingchadine. Autonym: Tłı́chǫ Yatıı.

1851: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TLINGIT] The Tlingit language (English: /ˈkɪŋkɪt/, /-ɡɪt/; Tlingit: Lingít [lɪŋkít]) is spoken by the Tlingit people of Southeast Alaska and Western Canada. It is a branch of the Na-Dené language family. Extensive effort is being put into revitalization programs in Southeast Alaska to revive and preserve the Tlingit language and its culture. Russian Orthodox missionaries were the first to develop a written version of Tlingit, using the Cyrillic script to record and translate it, when the Russian Empire had contact with Alaska and the coast of North America down to Sonoma County, California. Later, American missionaries developed a written version of the language in the Latin alphabet (WikP).

Ethnologue: tli. Alternate Names: Kolosch, Kolosh, Łingít, Thlinget, Tlinkit.

1846: [IUW] Zamiechaniia o koloshenskom i kad'iakskom iazykakh i otchasti o prochikh rossiisko-amerikanskikh, s prisovokupleniem rossiisko-koloshenskago slovaria, sodержashchago bolíee 1000 slov, iz konkh na níekotoryia sdielany poiásneniia, Sostavil Ivan Veniaminov, v Sitkhie. Sanktpeterburg, v/ tin. Imp. Akademii Nauk, 1846. 81 p.; 20.5 cm. 19th-century black half-cloth and marbled paper over boards (possibly original), spine lettered in gold. Includes Russian-Tlingit vocabulary, pp. [39]-81. First extensive vocabulary of Tlingit, containing more than 1,000 words. Errata, pp. [I]-II.

1885: [IUW] Die Tlinkit-Indianer. Ergebnisse einer Reise nach der Nordwestküste von Amerika und der Beringstrasse, ausgeführt im Auftrage der Bremer Geographischen gesellschaft in den Jahren 1880-1881 durch die Doctoren Arthur und Aurel Krause, geschildert von Dr. Aurel Krause ... Jena, H. Costenoble, 1885. xvi, 420 p. illus., IV pl., fold. map, tables 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original front wrapper, lettered in red and black "Die sprache der Tlinkit": German-Tlinkit, pp. [345]-391. "Verzeichnis der Benutzten Litteratur": bibliography, pp. [393]-404.

1917: [LILLY] Grammatical notes on the language of the Tlingit Indians / by Franz Boas. Philadelphia: University Museum, 1917. [3], 2-179 p., [1] leaf of plates; 27 cm. Original blue wrappers, lettered in black. Anthropological publications v. 8, no. 1. "Vocabulary", Tlingit-English, pp. 123-153, English-Tlingit, pp. 153-167. Includes bibliographical references. Second copy: [IUW].

"The following notes on the Tlingit language were obtained from Mr. Louis Shotridge, who spent about six weeks in New York during the winter of 1914-1915. I had only a limited amount of time to devote to work with him, and for this reason my notes are not exhaustive. The structure of the Tlingit language is such that it would require much labor and an ample amount of accurately recorded material for a complete presentation of the structure of the language. The material obtained from Mr. Shotridge was supplemented by a study of the Tlingit text published by Dr. John R. Swanton" (Preface).

1963: [LILLYbm] English-Tlingit Dictionary: Nouns, compiled by Constance Naish & Gillian Story. Fairbanks, Alaska: Summer Institute of Linguistics, [1963]. Original green and black stapled wrappers, lettered in black and green. Pp. i ii-xvii xviii, 1-81 82-86. First edition. Includes thematically arranged English-Tlingit vocabulary, pp. 1-81. This copy with several pencilled notes revising or adding to the vocabulary.

"In this book we have put together many of the Tlingit names of things...You will find the words arranged under subject headings, because we felt the dictionary would be more interesting if the words were classified... We are including a few spare pages at the back of the book so that you can add to the meanings there. You may also like to add words that you know that we have omitted altogether."

[TO] To is an unclassified Mbum language of northern Cameroon and the Central African Republic. It is only used as a second language, as the secret male initiation language of the Gbaya (WikP).

Ethnologue: toz.

1931: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TOARIPI] Toaripi, or East Elema, is a Trans–New Guinea language of Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: tqo. Alternate Names: East Elema, Melaripi, Motumotu.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1968: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary of Toaripi with English-Toaripi Index, by H. A. Brown. Two volumes. Sydney: University of Sydney, 1968. Original printed wrappers with cloth spines. 188 pp. & 201 pp. First edition. Oceania Linguistic Monographs, No. 11. First dictionary of this language. Second copy: [IUW].

"Toaripi is one of several related dialects spoken by the Eolema people who number about 25,000, and who live in the coastal region of the Gulf of Papua, from Cape Possession to the mouth of the Purari River."

[TOBA] Toba Qom is a Guaicuruan language spoken in South America by the Toba people. The language is known by a variety of names including Toba, Qom or Kom, Chaco Sur, and Toba Sur. In Argentina it is most widely dispersed in the eastern regions of the provinces of Formosa and Chaco where the majority of the approximately 19,810 (2000 WCD) speakers reside. The language is distinct from Toba-Pilagá and Paraguayan Toba-Maskoy. There are also 146 Toba speakers in Bolivia where it is known as Qom and in Paraguay where it is also known as Qob or Toba-Qom. In 2010, the province of Chaco in Argentina declared Qom as one of four provincial official languages alongside Spanish and the indigenous Moqoit and Wichí (WikP).

Ethnologue: tob. Alternate Names: Chaco Sur, Namqom, Qom, Toba Qom, Toba Sur.

1893: [IUW] Arte de la lengua toba [by Alonso Bárcena (1528-1598)] (ms. propiedad del general B. Mitre) con vocabularios facilitados por Angel J. Carranza, Pelleschi, y otros; editados y comentados con un discurso preliminar por Samuel A. Lafone Quevedo. La Plata: Talleres de Publicaciones del Museo, 1893. 234 p.; 28 cm. Library binding. Biblioteca lingüística del Museo de La Plata. Sección del Chaco; t. 2, pt. 1. Spanish-Toba, pp. [123]-153, Toba-Spanish-English, pp. [157]-208, Appendix A: nouns, Toba-Spanish, pp. [209]-214, Appendix B: adjectives, Toba-Spanish, pp. [215]-216, Appendix C: verbs, Toba-English, pp. [217]-225, Appendix D: Spanish-Toba vocabulary received orally from the Indian Lopez in 1888, pp. [226]-231, Appendix E: Toba column from the Vocabulario Poligloto del Capitan de Fragata Don Juan Francixco Aguirre, Spanish-Toba, pp. [232]-233.

1899: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1932: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1965: see under PILAGÁ.

1969: [IUW] Vocabulario toba [por] Jehan A. Vellard. [Buenos Aires] Universidad de Bu[e]nos Aires, Centro de Estudios Lingüísticos, 1969. 45 p. 23 cm. Library binding, preserving original green front wrapper, lettered in black. Cuadernos de lingüística indígena 6. Spanish-Toba, pp. 11-45.

[TOBA-MASKOY] Maskoy, or Toba-Maskoy, is one of several languages of the Paraguayan Chaco (particularly in the northern region of Paraguay) called Toba. It is spoken on a reservation near Puerto Victoria. Toba-Maskoy is currently a threatened language at risk of becoming an extinct language, due to the low number of native speakers (WikP).

Ethnologue: tmf. Alternate Names: Cabanatit, Enenxet, Machicui, Quilyilhrayrom, Toba of Paraguay.

1981: [IUW] Etnobotánica lengua-maskoy / Pastor Arenas; [ilustración, Josefina Lacour]. Buenos Aires, República Argentina: Fundación para la Educación, la Ciencia y la Cultura, c1981. 358 p.: ill.; 23 cm. Library binding, preserving original brown front and rear wrappers, lettered in white and illustrated with black line drawings. Includes plant nomenclature and description with scientific names and Toba-Maskoy names, pp. 103-340, with line drawing illustrations.

"The Lengua-Maskoy Indians live in the Boreal Chaco, where they settled long ago. Plants play a very important role in their culture.... This paper presents a systematic classification of the data in which plants are placed in the Lengua's cultural context.... In the second part there is a list of the 268 plants studied in a reparatory like way, assigning to each one [along with extensive descriptions] the names (scientific and common [Toba-Maskoy])" English language Summary, p.343. Includes indexes. Bibliography: p. 345-347.

[TOBAGONIAN CREOLE ENGLISH] Tobagonian is an English-based creole language and the generally spoken language in Tobago. It is distinct from Trinidadian Creole and closer to other Lesser Antillean creoles (WikP).

Ethnologue: tgh. Alternate Names: Tobagonian Dialect.

1976: see under TRINIDADIAN CREOLE ENGLISH.

[TOBATI] Tobati, or Yotafa, is an Austronesian language spoken in Jayapura Bay [kone [formerly Humboldt Bay] in Papua province, Indonesia. It was once thought to be a Papuan language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tti. Alternate Names: Enggros, Humboldt Jotafa, Jayapura, Jotafa, Tobwadic, Yautefa, Yotafa.

1903: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TOBELO] Tobelo (Indonesian: Bahasa Tobelo) is a West Papuan language spoken on the eastern Indonesian island of Halmahera and on parts of several neighboring islands. The Tobelo-speaking heartland is in the district (Indonesian kecamatan) of Tobelo, located on the western shore of Kao Bay. The district capital, also known as Tobelo, serves as a regional commercial and administrative center and is the largest settlement on Halmahera (WikP).

Ethnologue: tlb.

1905: [LILLYbm] Woordenlijst der Tobelo-Bòeng-Taal, by J.L.D. van der Roest. 'S-Gravenhage: Martinus Nijhoff, 1905. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [4], 1 2-138 139-140. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Tobelo-Dutch, pp. [3]-63, and Dutch-Tobelo, pp. [64]-138. Tobelo-Boeng is one of two main dialects of Tobelo. This is the first dictionary of the language.

1908: [LILLYbm] Tobèloreesch-Hollandsch Woordenboek met Hollandsch-Tobèloreesche inhoudsopgave, by A. Huetting. 'S-Gravenhage: Martinus Nijhoff, 1908. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-3 4-516. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Dalby 1120. Includes Tobelo-Dutch, pp. [9]-400, and Dutch-Tobelo index, pp. [403]-516. Appears to include both major dialects of Tobelo. In the introduction, the author expresses his indebtedness to his friend Van Baarda, who prepared a Galela-Tobelorese word list. Van Baard had published a Galela-Dutch dictionary in 1895 (see under GALELA).

1916: see under PAGU.

[TOBIAN] Tobian (Tobian: ramarih Hatohobei, literally "the language of Tobi") is the language of Tobi, one of the Southwest Islands of Palau, and the main island of Hatohobei state. Tobian is a Micronesian language spoken by approximately 150 people. Tobian and the dialects of Sonsorol, Merir, and Pulo Anna, the other inhabited Southwest Islands, are closely related to the languages spoken in the Federated States of Micronesia outer islands of Yap and Truk Lagoon. These days most Tobian speakers live in Echang, a hamlet of Koror, the former capital of Palau. Tobian and Sonsorolese are very close, and appear to be gradually merging towards a new dialect called "Echangese" (WikP).

Ethnologue: tox. Alternate Names: Hatohobei, Tobi.

1845: [LILLYbm] Memoir of the language and inhabitants of Lord North's Island, by John Pickering. Cambridge, Mass.: Metcalf and Co., 1845. Original brown paper wrappers, badly chipped and very brittle, rear wrapper detached, ms. title on front. Pp. [2] [205]-247 248. First edition. "From the Memoirs of the American Academy." Includes English-Tobi vocabulary, pp. 235-242, and English-Tobi, pp. 242-247. This copy with the ownership signature of A[rmold] Guyot in ink in upper right-hand corner of front wrapper and again on recto of initial blank leaf. Guyot was a Swiss, later American, geographer and educator. His many works included The earth and man: lectures on comparative physical geography, in its relation to the history of mankind (Boston, 1849, reprinted throughout the nineteenth century) and Creation; or, The Biblical cosmogony in the light of modern science (Edinburgh, 1883). First published vocabulary of Tobian.

"The vocabulary accompanying this communication derives its principal value from the circumstance of its being the only one, which has been yet collected, of the inhabitants of these secluded islanders. As, however, a long time will probably elapse before we shall have the means of obtaining any addition information of this dialect, or of the wretchedly destitute and inconsiderable tribe of people who inhabit this little island, it will be of some utility... to preserve this as one of the specimens of human speech,--as one fact in the history of the human race" (p. 206).

"First separate edition of an important monograph on the ethnology and linguistics of Tobi in the Caroline Islands (south of Palau). Pickering got much of his information from Horace Holden's Narrative of the shipwreck of the American whaler, Mentor, published in 1836. There are references as well to Horsborough's India Directory and to the Narrative of the U.S. Exploring Expedition. ...John Pickering [President of the American Academy], eldest son of American statesman Timothy Pickering, was an important philologist, who did important work on American Indian and Pacific languages. See Appleton's Cyclopaedia of American Biography V. 3" (bookseller's description: Edward J. Lefkowicz).

1846: see under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1981: see under PALAUAN.

[TOCHARIAN LANGUAGES] The Tocharian (sometimes Tokharian) languages (US: /toʊˈkæəriən, -ˈkɑːr-/ toh-KAIR-ee-ən, -KAR-; UK: /təˈkɑːriən/ to-KAR-ee-ən), also known as the Arśi-Kučī, Agnean-Kuchean or Kuchean-Agnean languages, are an extinct branch of the Indo-European language family spoken by inhabitants of the Tarim Basin, the Tocharians. The languages are known from manuscripts dating from the 5th to the 8th century AD, which were found in oasis cities on the northern edge of the Tarim Basin (now part of Xinjiang in Northwest China) and the Lop Desert. The discovery of these languages in the early 20th century contradicted the formerly prevalent idea of an east–west division of the Indo-European language family as centum and satem languages, and prompted reinvigorated study of the Indo-European family. Scholars studying these manuscripts in the early 20th century identified their authors with the Tokharoi, a name used in ancient sources for people of Bactria (Tokharistan). Although this identification is now believed to be mistaken, "Tocharian" remains the usual term for these languages. The discovered manuscripts record two closely related languages, called Tocharian A (also East Tocharian or Turfanian) and Tocharian B (West Tocharian or Kuchean). The oldest extant manuscripts in Tocharian B are now dated to the fifth or even late fourth century AD, making it a language of late antiquity contemporary with Gothic, Classical Armenian, and Primitive Irish (Wikip).

Ethnologue does not include the Tocharian languages.

1941: [IUW] Lexique étymologique des dialectes tokhariens / A. J. van Windekens. Louvain, Bureaux du Musée, 1941. iv, 217 p. 27 cm. Library binding, preserving original tan rear wrapper, lettered in black. Bibliothèque du Musée v. 11. Zaunmüller 379. Dalby 1555. Bibliography: p. [v]-xii. Dictionary combining both Tocharian A and B, each clearly indicated, with French glosses, pp. [1]-173, with Index to other ancient and modern languages, p. [175]-217. Errata, p. [219].

[TODA] Toda is a Dravidian language noted for its many fricatives and trills. It is spoken by the Toda people, a population of about one thousand who live in the Nilgiri Hills of southern India. The Toda language may have originated from Old Kannada (Wikip).

Ethnologue: tcx. Alternate Names: Todi, Tuda.

1832: [LILLY] A description of a singular aboriginal race inhabiting the summit of the Neilgherry Hills, or Blue Mountains of Coimbatore, in the southern peninsula of India, by Henry Harkness. London: Smith, Elder, and Co., 1832. Original green quarter-linen and gray paper over boards, printed paper label on spine. First edition. Includes a brief vocabulary and phrases, English-Toda, pp. 173-175. First published vocabulary of Toda.

[TOFANMA] Tofanma or Tofamna is a poorly documented Papuan language of Indonesia. Wurm (1975) placed it as an independent branch of Trans–New Guinea, but Ross (2005) could not find enough evidence to classify it. It appears to be related to Namla, a neighboring language (WikP). Population: 250 (2005 SIL).

Ethnologue: tlg. Alternate Names: Tofamna.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT

[TOGO FRENCH] French is the official language of Togo. The French spoken in Togo is not sufficiently different from standard French to be considered a separate dialect by linguists, or listed separately in Ethnologue.

1975: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire des particularités du français au Togo et au Dahomey, by S[uzanne] Lafage. [Abidjan]: Université d'Abidjan, Institut de linguistique appliquée, 1975. [Original?] blue cloth over boards, lettered in white. Pp. [4] 1 2-3 4-6, I-IX X -XII, 1 2-222. First edition. Includes, pp. [1]-213, a dictionary of African terms used by French-speaking natives in Togo and Dahomey, as well as special uses of French terms, with detailed explanations and examples in sentences. Second copy: [IUW].

"The Dictionary of French in Togo constitutes one of the elements of a future Dictionary of French in Black Africa... This is not a matter of a dictionary in the conventional sense, and in particular no claims are made of its being normative or objective. What is involved is an inventory of the peculiarities of French as it is actually spoken in Togo" (Preface, Laurent Duponchel, tr: BM). "We hope that this inventory, 'breaking new ground' in a field previously somewhat unexplored... will awaken sufficient interest to elicit constructive criticism, additional notes, or supplementary information" (Introduction, tr: BM). The author remarks that the only prior lexical study of French in Togo and Dahomey known to her is that of P. LeBoul, "Africanismes en usage au Togo et au Dahomey," CELTA de Lumbumbashi Bulletin No 3 and 4, 1973.

[TOGO, LANGUAGES OF] Togo is a multilingual country. According to one count, 39 languages are spoken. Of these, the official language is French. Two spoken indigenous languages were designated politically as national languages in 1975: Ewé (Ewe: Èvègbe; French: Évè) and Kabiyé. Among the other languages in Togo, Mina (the dialect of Ewé spoken in Lomé) serves as the working language in the south of the country, Mobaa, Tem (also called Kotokoli) and Fula (Fula: Fulfulde; French: Peul). Most of the indigenous languages of the country can be divided into two groups: the Gur languages in the north, and the Kwa languages in the south (WikP).

1952: see 1952b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TOGOYO] Togoyo (Togoy) is an extinct Ubangian language of South Sudan (WikP).

Ethnologue: tgy. Alternate Names: Togoy.

1950: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1969: see 1969b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TOHONO O'ODHAM] O'odham (pronounced ['ʔəʔəðɦiam]) or Papago-Pima is a Uto-Aztecan language of southern Arizona and northern Sonora, Mexico, where the Tohono O'odham (formerly called the Papago) and Akimel O'odham (traditionally called Pima) reside. In 2000 there were estimated to be approximately 9,750 speakers in the United States and Mexico combined, although there may be more due to underreporting. It is the 10th most-spoken indigenous language in the United States, the 3rd most-spoken indigenous language in Arizona after Western Apache and Navajo. It is the third-most spoken language in Pinal County, Arizona and the fourth-most spoken language in Pima County, Arizona. Approximately 8% of O'odham speakers in the US speak English "not well" or "not at all", according to results of the 2000 Census. Approximately 13% of O'odham speakers in the US were between the ages of 5 and 17, and among the younger O'odham speakers, approximately 4% were reported as speaking English "not well" or "not at all". Native names for the language, depending on the dialect and orthography, include O'odham ha-ñe'okĩ, O'ottham ha-neoki, and O'odham ñiok (Wikipedia).

Ethnologue: ood. Alternate Names: Nebome, Nevome, O'odham, O'othham, Papago-Pima, Tohono O'otham, Upper Piman.

1851-1857: see Vol. 2 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1860: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 2 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1908: [LILLYbm] The Pima Indians, by Frank Russell [1868-1903]. Washington, [D.C.]: Government Printing Office, 1908. Original green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. [2] 1-2 3-389 390 + 47 plates. First edition. "Extract from the Twenty-Sixth Annual Report of the Bureau of American Ethnology," 1908. Includes "Linguistics. Vocabularies", p. 269-270, with list of "four short vocabularies of the Pima language in manuscript in the possession of the Bureau of American Ethnology," the first of which is published in Schoolcraft, volume III, page 461, and "forms the basis of the English-Pima vocabulary published in Die Pima-Sprache by Buschmann in 1857 (p. 367).

"Lieutenant Whipple obtained a vocabulary of 67 Pima words, which was published in his Report upon the Indian Tribes, Pacific Railroad Reports, volume III (Pt. III, p. 94). In the Journal of the Royal Geographical Society for 1841, page 248, there is a Pima vocabulary of 38 words....In his Opuscula, page 351, R. G. Latham has published a vocabulary of 27 words [see under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT] ... As example of the orthography and extent of these vocabularies, two are republished below" including English-Pima vocabularies by Coulter and Latham (app. 64 words), p. 270.

"From November, 1901, until June, 1902, the writer made his headquarters at Sacaton...on the Gila River reservation, in southern Arizona, where he was engaged in a study of the Pima tribe:" (Introduction).

1969: [LILLYBM] Dictionary. Papago / Pima-English. O'othham-Mil-gahn. English-Papago/Pima. Mil-gahn-O'othham, compiled by Dean & Lucille Saxton. Tucson, Arizona: The University of Arizona Press, 1969. Original orange, black and gray wrappers, lettered in orange and white. Pp. [10] 1-191 192 [2]. First edition.

Includes Papago-Pima-English, pp. 1-51, English-Papago-Pima, pp. 53-101, and a bibliography, pp. 190-191. This is the first dictionary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

"Papago, and its mutually intelligible neighbor to the north, Pima, constitute one of the most important Indian languages of the Southwest. Yet, by comparison with its importance, published accounts of it are meager indeed...this is the first modern work which makes available to the public a substantial body of Papago-Pima data" (Prologue, Kenneth L. Hale). "The vocabulary recorded here was compiled during field work in villages of the Papago Indian Reservation under the direction of the Summer Institute of Linguistics from 1953 to the present [1968]. Papago is the language of the desert people (Tohono O'odham), 14,000 people living in scattered villages of southern Arizona and northern Sonora, Mexico" (Introduction).

1983: Second edition [IUW] Dictionary: Papago/Pima--English, O'othham--Mil-gahn; English--Papago/Pima, Mil-gahn--O'othham / Dean Saxton, Lucille Saxton, Susie Enos; edited by R.L. Cherry. 2nd ed., rev. and expanded. Tucson, Ariz.: University of Arizona Press, c1983. xxx, 145 p.: ill.; 23 cm. Bibliography: p. 141-143.

1995: Third printing [LILLYbm] Dictionary. Papago / Pima-English. O'othham-Mil-gahn. English-Papago / Pima. Mil-gahn-O'othham, by Dean Saxton, Lucille Saxton, & Susie Enos. Tucson, Arizona: The University of Arizona Press, 1995. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in black. 145 pp. Third printing of the second revised and expanded edition of 1983.

1973-1976: [LILLYbm] A dictionary of Papago usage, by Madeleine Mathiot. Two vols. Bloomington, Indiana: Indiana University, 1973-1976. Original red and black wrappers, lettered in white and black. Pp. [Vol. 1] [16] 1-5 6-504 [2]; [Vol. 2] [10] 1-504 [2]. 23 cm. First edition. Series: Indiana University publications. Language science monographs, v. 8/1-2. Includes Papago-English, pp. 135-504 (in vol. 1) and 1-504 (in vol. 2). Second copy: [IUW].

"This is a Papago-English dictionary intended primarily for the linguistically untutored nonnative speaker of Papago who has dealings with the tribe and wishes to improve his command of the language.... The terms contained in this dictionary were collected from the Totoguañ dialect of Papago spoken in the Santa Rosa area of the Papago reservation in Arizona. Whenever available in the author's data, variant forms from other dialects—mostly Kolóodi—are cited" (Preface).

[TOJOLABAL] Tojolabal is a Mayan language spoken in Chiapas, Mexico. It is related to the Chuj language spoken in Guatemala. Tojolabal is spoken especially in the departments of the Chiapanecan Colonia of Las Margaritas by about 20,000 people. The name Tojolabal derives from the phrase [tohol a'bal], meaning "right language". Nineteenth-century documents sometimes refer to the language and its speakers as "Chaneabal" (meaning "four languages", possibly a reference to the four Mayan languages -- Tzotzil, Tzeltal, Tojolabal, and Chuj—spoken in the Chiapas highlands and nearby lowlands along the Guatemala border). Tojolab'al-language programming is carried by the CDI's radio station XEVFS, broadcasting from Las Margaritas (WikP).

Ethnologue: toj. Alternate Names: Chañabal, Comiteco, Tojol-ab'al. Autonym:

Tojolabal.

2006: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TOKELAUAN] Tokelauan /tookə'laʊən/ is a Polynesian language spoken in Tokelau and on Swains Island in American Samoa. It is closely related to Tuvaluan and distantly related to Samoan and other Polynesian languages. Tokelauan has a co-official status with English in Tokelau. There are approximately 4,260 speakers of Tokelauan, of whom 2,100 live in New Zealand, 1,400 in Tokelau, and 17 in Swains Island. Loimata Iupati, Tokelau's resident Director of Education, has stated that he is in the process of translating the Bible from English into Tokelauan (WikP).

Ethnologue: tkl. Alternate Names: Tokelau.

1846: see under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT. First published vocabulary of Tokelauan.

1969: [LILLY] A Tokelau-English vocabulary, by D. W. Boardman. Wellington: Islands Education Division, Dept. of Education for the Dept. of Maori and Island Affairs, 1969. 66 p.; 23 x 34 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. First substantial printed vocabulary of this language.

"The publication of this word-list will provide [sic] an urgent need not only for the Tokelau people themselves, but also for others interested in what is virtually, at present, a spoken language only" (Foreword, D. J. Robinson).

"As the need for some kind of Tokelau-English vocabulary seems to be felt by a growing number of people it was decided not to delay publication unduly but to bring out what is available with minimum delay" (Introduction).

1986: [LILLYbm] Tokelau dictionary, compiled by Ropati Simona. Apia, Western Samoa: Office of Tokelau Affairs, 1986. Original yellow wrappers, lettered in red. Pp. i-x xi-l [4] 1 2-503 504-506. First edition. Includes Tokelauan-English, pp. [1]-434, and an English-Tokelauan wordlist, pp. [439]-503.

"A decade or so ago, the Tokelau people recognized the need for a dictionary of their language, both as a practical resource... and as a record of their language. We are proud that this dictionary has been produced largely by Tokelauans" (Foreword, by the Faipule of Tokelau)

"This [dictionary]...has been ten years in the making. The first [precursor] was a vocabulary of 214 items ... published in 1846 by Horatio Hale on the basis of his brief visit to the atolls as a member of the United State Exploring Expedition in 1841....Over 120 years passed before the next publication-a Tokelau-English Vocabulary of some 1200 items compiled by D. W. Boardman ... published in 1969 [see above]. This was followed by the avowedly preliminary Tokelau-English Dictionary of about 3000 items by Hosea Kirifi and J. H. Webster which was produced on a school duplicating machine in Tokelau in 1975" (Introduction, Judith Huntsman and Antony Hooper.).

[TOK PISIN] Tok Pisin (English /tɒk 'pɪsɪn/ Tok Pisin [ˌtɒkpi'sɪn]) is a creole language spoken throughout Papua New Guinea. It is an official language of Papua New Guinea and the most widely used language in that country. In parts of Western, Gulf, Central, Oro Province and Milne Bay Provinces, however, the use of Tok Pisin has a shorter history, and is less universal, especially among older people. While it likely developed as a trade pidgin, Tok Pisin has become a distinct language in its own right. Non-academic Anglophones living in Papua New Guinea tend to refer to it as "Pidgin," "New Guinea Pidgin" or "Pidgin English", but it is common usage among academics, as well as people familiar with Tok Pisin, to refer to the language by its own name. Between five and six million people use Tok Pisin to some degree, although not all speak it well. Many now learn it as a first language, in particular the children of parents or grandparents who originally spoke different vernaculars (for example, a mother from Madang and a father from Rabaul). Urban families in particular, and those of police and defence force members, often communicate among themselves in Tok Pisin, either never gaining fluency in a vernacular (tok ples), or learning a vernacular as a second (or third) language, after Tok Pisin (and possibly English). Perhaps one million people now use Tok Pisin as a primary language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tpi. Alternate Names: Melanesian English, Neomelanesian, New Guinea Pidgin English, Pidgin, Pisin.

ca. 1943: [LILLYbm] Booklet on pidgin English as used in the mandated territory of New Guinea. With dictionary of nouns and phrases. This language is used in conversation with natives, Asiatics, and German white missionaries, by E[ustace] C[yril] N[orman] Helton. Brisbane: W. H. Adams, [ca.1943]. Original brown stapled wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-64. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Reinecke 87.176 (not seen by compilers: "prepared specifically for use during the war with Japan"). Includes English-New Guinea Pidgin English, pp. 23-47, and "Pidgin English-Dictionary English," pp. 48-64.

"With that restless feeling that all soldiers experience after returning from Active Service, after the Great War, the author turned his footsteps towards New Guinea in search of new adventure and as the result of twenty-odd years of experience this book has been compiled. The search for gold led him to all part[s] of New Guinea involving a close study of the natives, their customs and their language....This book is presented in the hope that it will be the means of saving many valuable lives and lightening the burden of the soldier, in his valiant efforts to regain our country for us" (Preface). Includes a list entitled "Don't do these things," including: "[Don't] be the first to walk across a stream near the coast. The natives see crocodiles very quickly. Have one of the natives walk in front of you," and "[Don't] lead the party at any stage. The tracks are narrow and should anything start it will give you a chance to get away." This appears to be the earliest published vocabulary of Pidgin English. "This booklet was produced during the Pacific War (1941-1945). Very few copies remain today and the copy that I have sent to you is in exceptionally good condition." (bookseller's description: Bill McGrath, Pacific Book House).

ca. 1945: Second edition [LILLYbm] Booklet on pidgin English as used in the mandated territory of New Guinea. With dictionary of nouns and phrases. This language is used in conversation with natives, Asiatics, and German white missionaries, by E[ustace] C[yril] N[orman] Helton. Brisbane: W. H. Adams, [ca.1945]. Original pale blue stapled wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-64. Second edition [i.e.-second printing of first edition]. Not in Zaunmüller. Reinecke 87.177. This copy differs from the first printing only in the color of the wrappers and the addition of "SECOND EDITION" on the front cover.

1943a: see 1943a under MELANESIAN PIDGIN.

1943b: see 1943b under MELANESIAN PIDGIN.

1943c: [LILLYbm] The Book of Pidgin English, Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) A Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (3) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1943. Original white (front cover) and gray (rear cover) paper pasted on boards, lettered in green and with a photograph of "Mt. Hagen Chieftain," with black linen spine, unlettered. Pp. [8] 1 2-128. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Reinecke 87.281 ("Unscientific, but a more sophisticated work than Helton (1943); thought it was written for wartime use, its usefulness is shown by repeated printings"). With eight pages of photographs of native New Guineans. Includes Pidgin English-English, pp. 23-67, and English-Pidgin English, pp. 68-128.

"No attempt has been made, up to the present, to compose or standardize Melanesian Pidgin-English, and no book of reference is available to those who desire...to have a good knowledge of [the language]" (Preface). "Melanesian Pidgin-English is a most facile language, capable of embracing any subject. It is quite as exact as any native language and more adaptable...The only argument against Pidgin-English is an unreasonable and unreasoning antipathy toward it from a number of the white population" (Apologia).

"John Murphy died a few months ago [1997] and his widow gave me this first edition. I have never seen a first edition previously. Captain John Murphy is one of New Guinea's characters. He went to New Guinea in the 1930s as a District Officer and during the Pacific War he became a Coastwatcher, Army Officer and eventually a prisoner of the Japanese at Rabaul, New Britain. He was one of 7 survivors of 67 allied prisoners that were imprisoned at Rabaul. An American fighter pilot who now lives at Westborough, Massachusetts, wrote a book about his capture and imprisonment and he attributes his survival to John Murphy" (Bill McGrath, Pacific Book House).

1947: Second edition [LILLYbm] The Book of Pidgin English, Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) A Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (3) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1947. Original white (front cover) and gray (rear cover) paper pasted on boards, lettered in green and with a photograph of "Mt. Hagen Chieftain," with black linen spine, unlettered. Pp. [8] 1 2-129 130. Second edition. Reinecke 87.282 (not seen by compilers). With eight pages of photographs of native New Guineans. Includes Pidgin English-English, pp. 22-68, and English-Pidgin English, pp. 69-129. This copy signed on the front flyleaf by the author: "Regards / John J. Murphy."

"Many adjustments and additions have been made throughout the book to make it as nearly accurate and comprehensive as possible with a subject like Pidgin English. Obviously the war in New Guinea could be expected to introduce many new words into Pidgin English....I have refrained from adding new words that the natives currently use round the battle areas - they are almost all English words covering military matters. All we can be sure of at present is that some are likely to survive" (Preface to the Second Edition (Amended)).

1949: Third edition [LILLYbm] The Book of Pidgin English, Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) An Outline of Pidgin English, (3) a Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (4) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1949. Original brown and blue-green paper over boards, lettered in blue-green. Pp. [8] 1 2-164. Third edition. Reinecke 87.283 ("reprinted as 4th to 7th editions, 1954, 1956, 1959, 1962"). With photographs.

1954: "Fourth Edition" [LILLYbm] The Book of Pidgin English, Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) An Outline of Pidgin English, (3) a Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (4) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1954. Original green paper over boards, lettered in red; d.j. white, lettered in green and black, with photo of Mt. Hagen Chieftain on front cover. Pp. [8] 1 2-164. Fourth edition as noted on title page. Reinecke 87.283 ("reprinted as 4th to 7th editions, 1954, 1956, 1959, 1962"). With photographs. This is a signed presentation copy from the author.

1956: "Fifth edition" The Book of Pidgin English, Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) An Outline of Pidgin English, (3) a Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (4) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1956. Original brown and gray paper over boards, lettered in black ("Tropic Resistant Cover"); d.j. white, lettered in green and black, with photo of Mt. Hagen Chieftain on front cover. Pp. [8] 1 2-164. "Fifth edition." Reinecke 87.283. With photographs. This copy signed by the author on the front flyleaf.

"I have noted that some little difficulty has occasionally been experienced in finding words in the Pidgin-English section of the vocabulary. This is due to the fact that some words can be spelt in more ways than one and still be right. This has been taken care of in this edition" (Preface to Fifth Edition).

1959: "Sixth edition" The Book of Pidgin English, Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) An Outline of Pidgin English, (3) a Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (4) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1959. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in brown; d.j. white, lettered in green and black, with photo of Mt. Hagen Chieftain on front cover. Pp. [8] 1 2-164. "Sixth edition." Reinecke 87.283. With photographs.

"This sixth edition of 'The Book of Pidgin English' has been printed on account of the continued wide popular demand" (from inside front flap of d.j.).

1962: "Seventh edition" [LILLYbm] The Book of Pidgin English, Being: (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) An Outline of Pidgin English, (3) a Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (4) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1962. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in brown; d.j. white, lettered in green and black, with photo of Mt. Hagen Chieftain on front cover. Pp. [8] 1 2-164. "Seventh edition." Reinecke 87.283. With photographs. This copy with the ink note on front cover and at the head of various pages: "Serovi Pltn, Popondetta, Papua."

"This seventh edition of 'The Book of Pidgin English' has been printed on account of the continued wide popular demand" (from inside front flap of d.j.).

1966: "Eighth edition" [fourth edition], revised [LILLYbm] Book of Pidgin English, Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) An Outline of Pidgin English, (3) a Pidgin English-English Dictionary, (4) An English-Pidgin English Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1966. Original limp orange cloth wrappers, lettered and decorated in black and white. Pp. [8] 1 2-164. "Eighth, revised edition" [fourth edition]. Reinecke 87.284. With photographs.

"I know now that none [of the military terms] have survived [in Pidgin English] (1965). It is possible that Pidgin English could be creolized and end up as the National language of Papua New-Guinea, just as Bazaar Malay has done in Indonesia" (Preface to the Eighth Printing (Revised Edition)).

1973: "Ninth edition" [fifth edition], revised, [LILLYbm] The Book of Pidgin English (Neo-Melanesian), Being (1) A Grammar and Notes, (2) An Outline of Neo-Melanesian, (3) Classified Vocabulary and Phrases, (4) a Neo-Melanesian-English Dictionary, (5) An English-Neo-Melanesian Dictionary, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Brisbane: W. R. Smith & Paterson, 1973. Original yellow limp cloth wrappers, lettered in black and decorated in red, black, yellow and gray-green. Pp. 1-4 5-191 192. "New revised and enlarged edition [fifth edition]." Includes new photos and colored plates of birds, Neo-Melanesian-English, pp. 73-118, and English-Neo-Melanesian, pp. 119-191.

"This book is recast in the standard orthography, as determined by the Department of Education in New Guinea after a long period of research" (Preface to Ninth Printing (Revised Edition)).

1985: Revised [sixth] edition [LILLYbm] The Book of Pidgin English, revised edition, by John J[oseph] Murphy. Bathurst, N.S.W.: Robert Brown & Associates, 1985. Original stiff bright orange wrappers, lettered in black and white, and decorated in white and yellow. Pp. 1-4 5-180. Revised [sixth] edition. Includes Neo-Melanesian-English, pp. 69-110, and English-Neo-Melanesian, pp. 111-179. This copy signed by the author on the title page and dated 1/10/85.

1945: [LILLY] Dictionary of "Bisinis-English" (Pidgin-English), by Rev. Father J. Schebesta, S.V.D., revised by Rev. Father L. Meiser, S.V.D. East New Guinea: W. Van Baar, [1945]. Original bark?-paper. Mimeographed. Pp. [4] ff. 1-3, pp. 1-26, ff 27-177. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Reinecke 87.394 ("Sechebesta produced a Pijin Lexikon before 1941, revised by Meiser in 1945. Valuable for detailed definitions and examples of usage. A number of coinages by the authors are included. The orthography is obsolete."). Includes "Bisinis-English"-English throughout. Lilly has two copies, one is partially interleaved and copiously annotated with equivalents in the Hagen language (of the Mt. Hagen area) by Rev. Ernest Brandewie, author of Contrast and context in New Guinea culture: the case of the Mbowamb of the central highlands (Anthropos Institute, 1981).

1957a: [LILLYbm] Grammar and Dictionary of Neo-Melanesian, by Francis Mihalic. Techny, Illinois: The Mission Press, S.V.D., 1957. Original limp unlettered maroon cloth with maroon linen spine. Pp. i-iv v-xxi xxii, 1 2-60, 1 2-318. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Reinecke 87.271 ("Designed for a general audience, but a careful, scholarly work"). This copy signed by the author on the title page: "Complimentary in any sense / F. Mihalic."

"Based on the earlier dictionary of the Revs. J. Schebesta and L. Meiser [Dictionary of 'Businis-English' (Pidgin English), (New Guinea, 1945)] (which was not available to the general public), it embodies both a revision of their work and the Rev. Mihalic's further findings. It is thorough, extensive, and has undergone several careful revisions before reaching its present form" (Introduction, Robert A. Hall). "So a dictionary is needed. But why in Neo-Melanesian? For the simple reason that we cannot conceivably compile one for each of the three hundred and more native languages extant in the territory. That being so, is it not logical and realistic to select one language, the one most universally used? On this score Neo-Melanesian wins hands down.. Therefore we choose it as our bridge to English not, however, implying in any way that we thereby perpetuate it indefinitely. Nor does using it mean that we propose to hinder in any way the attainment of the goal set up for us by both the department of Education and the United Nations Trusteeship Council, namely, literacy in standard English. On the contrary, the sole aim of this dictionary and grammar is to span the gap to that farther shore. For my own part, I am looking forward to the day when Neo-Melanesian and this book will be buried and forgotten, when standard English and the Oxford dictionary will completely replace both... The second aim of this dictionary is to standardize written Neo-Melanesian. This is the first book published in the officially approved standard orthography of Neo-Melanesian (Pidgin English)" (Foreword). The first standard dictionary of the language.

1957: First edition, Australian issue [LILLYbm] Grammar and Dictionary of Neo-Melanesian, by Francis Mihalic. Westmead, N.S.W.: Westmead Printing [for The Mission Press], 1957. Original an wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. i-iv v-xxi xxii, 1 2-60, 1 2-318. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Reinecke 87.271. Contents as previous entry, with only title page differing.

1957b: see under WAFFA.

1964: [LILLYbm] A Kuk Buk in Pidgin, by Laurel Levi. Rabaul, T. N. G.: Methodist Mission Press, 1964. Original light green wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. Pp. 1-4 5-111 112. First edition. Reinecke 87. 246. Includes English-Pidgin glossary for cooking, pp. 97-111, double columns. Recipes are in Pidgin English. "Once New Guinea was cut off from the rest of the world. Al the women of New Guinea knew of cooking was their own village cookery. Now the world has come to New Guinea.... So it is natural for women here...to want to know how to cook their own natural foods in new and varied ways. It is with pleasure, therefore, that I introduce Mrs. Levi's cookery book written in Pidgin. It is always interesting for a woman to try out new recipes and this little book should be a great help to those New Guineans who have not yet mastered reading English. We wish you all good cooking" (Introduction, Vera N. Foldi, President, Girl Guides Local Association).

1969: [LILLYbm] Concise Dictionary of New Guinea Pidgin (Neo-Melanesian) with translations in English and German, compiled by Friedrich Steinbauer. Madang, New Guinea: Kristin Press, 1969. Original stiff ochre wrappers, lettered in red and black and illustrated in black. Pp. [4] 5-223 224. First edition. Reinecke 87.425. Neo-Melanesian-English-German throughout, with language of origin and sample Neo-Melanesian sentence given for each word, pp. 10-223. Second copy: [IUW]. "This edition was made possible through the interest and aid of the German Missionary Council and the Bavarian Lutheran Church" (note on p. [224]). Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary contains a list of about 1900 words of the New Guinea Pidgin language, which is also called Neo-Melanesian. The dictionary is a concise one, since it does not include all the words used by every segment of the population and in every dialect area. However, it does contain all the words...that are used universally in all areas of the Territory and by all speakers of the language...Word combinations and varieties of word order in the sentence give a possible range of expression [in Neo-Melanesian] roughly equal to that of the vocabulary of the average European...As you speak it, remember that it is a valid language by itself, not a garbled form of English. Only when you remember this will you be able to learn to speak it well" (Introduction). This appears to be the first dictionary of Neo-Melanesian to include German.

1998: New edition [IUW] Neo-Melanesian-English concise dictionary: New Guinea pidgin-English / compiled by Friedrich Steinbauer. New York: Hippocrene Books, c1998. 116 p.; 22 cm. Hippocrene concise dictionary "First published 1969 by Kristen Pres, New Guinea"--T.p. verso. Extracted from: Concise dictionary of New Guinea Pidgin (Neo-Melanesian): with translations in English and German. 1969.

1971: [LILLYbm] Tok Pisin. Supplementary notes of Pidgin English Neo-Melanesian [cover title], by L. R. Healey. [Port Moresby]: [published by the author], [1971]. Original cream-colored wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black; orange plastic spiral binding. Pp. 1-219 220, I-XXXIII XXXIV. First edition. Reinecke 87.172bis (not seen by compilers). Includes "Dictionary Tokpisin to English", pp. I-XXXIII (double columns).

"'Tokpisin' or Neo Melanesian is no longer a status language imposed by whites, but the lingua franca of a large group of indigenous people who mostly speak it fluently or not at all and a smaller group of whites who speak it varying degrees of fluency, the majority poorly... It could develop into the New Guinea people's own language... A dictionary is necessary for use with these notes, although a concise alphabetical list of oft used words and their meanings can be found at page [I] to [XXXIII]. Two very well known Tokpisin texts have been written, one by Fr. Mihalic SVD., which is a most scholarly text on Tokpisin and a shorter text by J.J. Murphy, both of which are eminently suitable for use with these notes.... Some words in constant use some years ago are now, because of racial overtones, universally avoided. Some for the same reason may not be used by whites but bear little if any racial implication if spoken by native people. There are some words safe to use at the moment which assuredly will become unpopular in time when native people more universally understand their origin. [A brief discussion of words "best left out of Tokpisin conversation" follows]" (Tokpisin: An Introduction).

1971: [LILLYbm] The Jacaranda Dictionary and Grammar of Melanesian Pidgin, by Francis Mihalic. [Milton, Q.]: Jacaranda Press, 1971. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in yellow; d.j. yellow, lettered in brown. 376 pp. First edition. Reinecke 87.276 ("A revision of Mihalic (1957), taking into account the new orthography"). This copy inscribed: "To dear Barb / To celebrate your first / posting as 'Mrs F.C.' / Lots of love / Colin / Christmas 1973." The "most comprehensive [such] dictionary ever published... a completely revised and updated edition of Mihalic's original Dictionary and Grammar-long recognized as the standard work in the field... contains the most extensive bibliography on Melanesian Pidgin ever compiled [pp. 52-54]."

1986: [LILLYbm] Papua New Guinea phrasebook, by John Hunter. South Yarra, Vic., Australia; Berkeley, CA, USA: Lonely Planet, 1986.: 93 p.: ill.; 13 cm. Original white and green wrappers, lettered in white and green, with an illustration of a native head in black and white on front cover. First edition. English-Tok Pisin vocabulary, pp. 59-90.

1998: see under KALULI.

2008: [IUW] English dictionary / [writers, Susan Baing ... [et al.]; general editor, C.A. Volker]. South Melbourne, Vic: Oxford University Press; Papua New Guinea: In association with Wantok Niuspepa, 2008. 347 p.; 16 cm. Original red, brown, black, yellow and white wrappers, lettered in black and white. Tok Pisin-English, pp. 1-124, English-Tok Pisin, pp. 125-347.

"This dictionary is an attempt to [take stock of Tok Pisin and standardize spelling and usage in a format that users of the language can readily access]. It is not perfect, nor does it take into account the many regional variations that are found in Tok Pisin throughout Papua New Guinea. It is based on the Tok Pisin of the north coast of Papua New Guinea" (Foreword).

2016: see under BO-UNG.

[TOL] Tol, also known as Eastern Jicaque, Tolupan, and Torupan, is spoken by approximately 500 Tolupan people in La Montaña de la Flor reservation in Morazán Department, Honduras. It was also spoken in much of Yoro Department, but only a few speakers were reported in the Yoro Valley in 1974. Tol speakers refer to themselves as the Tolpán, but are called Jicaques or Turrupanes by ladinos. Tol used to be spoken from the Río Ulúa in the west, to modern-day Trujillo in the east, and to the Río Sulaco in the inland south. This area included the areas around modern-day El Progreso, La Ceiba, and possibly also San Pedro Sula. Most Tolupan had fled the Spanish from coastal regions by the early 1800s. The Tol speakers at La Montaña de la Flor fled the Yoro Valley in 1865 to avoid being conscripted into forced labor by the local governor (Campbell & Oltrogge 1980:206, Hagen 1943, Chapman 1978) (Wikip).

Ethnologue: jic. Alternate Names: Jicaque, Tolpan, Xicaque. [Swanton and Gatschet both list Lean y Mulia as a dialect of Xicaque [Tol]].

1892: see under MESOAMERICAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1923: [LILLYbm] "The Jicaques of Honduras," by Edward Conzemius, in: International Journal of American Linguistics, New York, Vol. 2, Nos. 3-4 (January 1923), pp. 162-170. Includes Jicaque [Tol]-English vocabulary, pp. 167-170. First substantial published vocabulary of the language.

"The Indians called Jicaques (Xicaques, Hicaques) by the Spanish-speaking inhabitants of Honduras and 'Tol' or 'Tor' by themselves, are spread over a large part of Central Honduras. They number from 1200 to 1500 and are divided into two tribes speaking two very closely related languages. The western tribe lives in the vicinity of the pueblos Chamelecon and Villanueva, Department of Cortés. It is near extinction, not exceeding a population of 100. The Eastern tribe numbers over 1000 people....Alberto Membreño gives a vocabulary of the language in the second edition of his 'Hondurñismos' published in 1897; a short text precedes it but from the statements therein it is evident that the author had never visited the villages of the Indians (fn. See also vocabularies in F. Guardia and J. F. Gerraz, Carlos Torres, Karl Sapper in Walter Lehmann, Zentral America I, Pt. 2, pp. 631-635 et seq.).... I had much difficulty getting the vocabulary given below as the Indians at first would not permit me at all to write down the words, stating that it was impossible to reduce them to writing. With small presents, mostly of tobacco I finally bought their confidence and at last was allowed to write down words in their language.... The following vocabulary was taken in various parts of the department of Yoro, but the same language is spoken by the entire Eastern branch" (pp. 163, 165-165).

[TOLAKI] Tolaki (To'olaki), or Tolakinese, is the major language of Southeast Sulawesi, Indonesia. It is an Austronesian language of the Celebic branch (WikP).

Ethnologue: lbw. Alternate Names: Laki, Lolaki, To'olaki, Tokia, Tololaki.

1999: see under BUNGKU-TOLAKI LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TOLOWA] The Tolowa language (also called Chetco-Tolowa, or Siletz Dee-ni) is a member of the Pacific Coast subgroup of the Athabaskan language family. Together with three other closely related languages (Lower Rogue River Athabaskan, Upper Rogue River Athabaskan or Galice-Applegate and Upper Umpqua or Etnemitane) it forms a distinctive Oregon Athabaskan cluster within the subgroup (WikP).

What is now known as the Siletz Dee-ni language was restricted historically to speakers in "a small area on the central Oregon coast." Linguists have concluded that Siletz is not related to Tillamook at all, but is a form of Tolowa, an Athabaskan language rather than a Salishan language. The Tolowa people were one of the 20 Native American groups whose descendants comprise the Confederated Tribes of Siletz (WikP).

Ethnologue: tol. Alternate Names: Smith River.

1851-1857: see Vol. 3 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 13 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1917: [LILLYbm] "A Siletz Vocabulary," by Leo J. Frachtenberg, in: International Journal of American Linguistics, New York, Vol. 1, No. 1 (July 1917), pp. 45-46. Includes Siletz-English numerals, terms of relationship, parts of the human body, animals, and two other nouns, pp. 45-46.

"The dialect spoken by the Indian tribe that lived on the Siletz River prior to the establishment of the Siletz Indian Reservation (1856) represents the most southern branch of the Salish linguistic family.... The following material was obtained in 1910 from Susan Fuller, an old Indian woman living on the Siletz Reservation" (p. 45).

1989: [LILLYbm] Xus We-Yó'. Tolowa (Tututni) Language Dictionary. Second Edition. Crescent City, CA: Tolowa Language Committee, 1989. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold, with illustrated red paper lettered in black pasted to front cover. Pp. i ii-xxi xxii, 1 2-488. This copy belonged to Karl van Teeter, with his dated signature and blind stamp of ownership. Teeter was author of The Wiyot language (Berkeley: University of California Press, 1964). Includes English-Tolowa, pp. [1]-411.

"The goal of this volume is to update the 1983 edition of the Tolowa dictionary and further document our language. the material in this edition of Tolowa language is a correction and expansion of the original language work" (Preface to second edition). Tolowan is a member of the Athabaskan language family. We share this language stock with the Hupa, Chetco, Tututni, Navaho, Apache, and the Athabaskans of Canada and Alaska. The domain of our Athabaskan language covered a territory that ranged from the Sixes River, Oregon, south to Wilson Creek, California" (Introduction).

1995: [LILLY] Now You're Speaking—Tolowa, by Me'laasline Loren Bommelyn. [Arcata, CA]; Loren Bommelyn, 1995. "Ist Edition" on title page. "Printed in cooperation with Center for Indian Community Development, Humboldt State University, Arcata, CA" (verso of title page). 177 p. 14 cm. Original red wrappers, lettered in white and dark red, with a color photo of tribe members on front cover. English-Tolowa, pp. 3-123, with illustrations.

"In 1969 the Tolowa language project was started in Crescent City. Elders were gathered together to start the documentation process. The project stabilized the language and extended it into present day. The original documentation was taken down in Uni-fon. In 1993 the orthography was shifted to the current linguistic format" (Introduction).

[TOMADINO] Tomadino is an Austronesian language of Central Sulawesi, Indonesia (WikP), Ethnologue: tdi.

1999: see under BUNGKU-TOLAKI LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TOMAGARIO] Tamagario is a Papuan language of Mappi Regency, South Papua, Indonesia. It is spoken in: Haju District: Arare, Kerke, Pagai Villages. Mambioman Bapai District: Tereyemu, Magabag Villages. Yogo is considered a dialect of Tamagario but may be a distinct language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tcg. Alternate Names: Buru, Tamaraw, Wagow, Wiyagar.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TONDI SONGWAY KIINI] Tondi Songway Kiini is a variety of Southern Songhai spoken in several villages in the area of Kikara, Mali, about 120 km west of Hombori. It was discovered in 1998 (WikP).

Ethnologue: tst. Alternate Names: Songway Kiini, TSK.

2005: [IUW] Tondi Songway Kiini (Songhay, Mali): reference grammar and TSK-English-French dictionary / Jeffrey Heath. Stanford, Calif.: CSLI Publications / Center for the Study of Language and Information, c2005. xviii, 440 p.; 23 cm. Library binding preserving original white wrappers, lettered in blue and decorated in gray. Stanford monographs in African languages. Tondi Songway Kiini-English-French, pp. 271-440. Includes bibliographical references (p. xviii). First dictionary of the language.

"Since learning of the existence of this well-hidden Songhay language around 1998, I have done brief fieldwork on it each summer, including one three-week stay in Kikara and some follow-up work with a Kikara-based informant in nearby cities" (Acknowledgements).

[TONGA (Mozambique)] Guitonga (sometimes spelled Gitonga, also less frequently also called Tonga) is a Bantu language spoken along the southern coast of Mozambique. Often thought to be closest to Chopi to its south, the two languages have only a 44% lexical similarity (WikP).

Ethnologue: toh. Alternate Names: Bitonga, Gitonga, Inhambane, Shengwe, Tonga-Inhambane.

1856: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1934-1938: see under AUSTRONESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1955: [LILLYbm] A study of giTonga of Inhambane, by L. W. Lanham.

Johannesburg: Witwatersrand University Press, 1955. viii, 264 l. illus, map. 33 cm. Reproduced from typescript. Original gray card lettered in black, with unprinted blue-gray linen spine. Bantu linguistic studies, 1. Includes various brief Tonga-English word lists.

[TONGA (Zambia)] The Tonga language, Chitonga, of Zambia and Zimbabwe, also known as Zambezi, is a Bantu Language primarily spoken by the Tonga people in those countries who live mainly in the Southern and Western provinces of Zambia, and in northern Zimbabwe, with a few in Mozambique. The language is also spoken by the Iwe, Toka and Leya people, perhaps by the Kafwe Twa (if that is not Ila), as well as many bilingual Zambians and Zimbabweans. It is one of the major lingua francas in Zambia, together with Bemba, Lozi and Nyanja.

The Tonga of Malawi, which is classified by Guthrie as belonging to zone N15, is not particularly close to Zambian Tonga, which is classified as zone M64, and can be considered a separate language. The Tonga-speaking inhabitants are the oldest Bantu settlers, with the Tumbuka, a small tribe in the east, in what is now known as Zambia. There are two distinctive dialects of Tonga, Valley Tonga and Plateau Tonga. Valley Tonga is mostly spoken in the Zambezi valley and southern areas of the Batonga (Tonga People) while Plateau Tonga is spoken more around Monze district and the northern areas of the Batonga. Tonga (Chitonga or iciTonga) developed as a spoken language and was not put into written form until missionaries arrived in the area. The language is not standardized, and speakers of the same dialect may have different spellings for the same words once put into written text. Maho (2009) removes Shanjo as a separate, and not very closely related, language (WikP). Population: 1,330,000 in Zambia (2010 census), increasing. 55,600 Toka-Leya, 1,270,000 Tonga (2010 census). Total users in all countries: 1,530,000.

Ethnologue: toi. Alternate Names: Batonga, Plateau Tonga, Zambezi, iciTonga. Autonym: Chitonga.

1897: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1915: [IUW] Chitonga vocabulary of the Zambesi valley, by A. W. Griffin.

London, New York [etc.] Oxford university press, H. Milford, 1915. 159, [1] p. 18 cm. Original pale brownish-orange cloth over boards, lettered and ruled in black. English-

Chitonga [Tonga], pp. [27]-99, English-Chitonga [Tonga], pp. [101]-159. This copy with the ink stamp of the School of Oriental and African Studies, Department of Africa. London.

"This Tonga vocabulary is compiled from the Batonga who live in the Zambesi valley, and differs slightly from the language as spoken on the Batoka plateau. The words have been selected mainly with a view to the requirements of settlers and District Officials, and of this reason a number will be found that are not used in general conversation, but which are likely to be needed in judicial work" (Preface).

1952: see under TUMBUKA.

[TONGAN] Tongan /'tɒŋən/ (lea fakatonga) is an Austronesian language of the Polynesian branch spoken in Tonga. It has around 200,000 speakers and is a national language of Tonga. It is a VSO (verb–subject–object) language (WikP).

Ethnologue: ton. Alternate Names: Faka Tonga, Tonga.

1818: [LILLYbm] An Account of the Natives of the Tonga Islands in the South Pacific Ocean. With an original grammar and vocabulary of their language. Compiled and arranged from the extensive communications of Mr. William Mariner, several years resident in those Islands, ed. by John Martin. 2 vols. London: John Murray, 1818.

Contemporary full calf, rebaked with leather with red and olive labels, lettered in gold. Vol. I: i-vii vii-lvi, 1 2-444 445-446; Vol. II: [4], 1 2-344 345-492. Second edition, with additions. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes: [Vol. II] "A Grammar of the Tonga Language," pp. [345-386], "A Vocabulary Tonga and English," pp. [387-428], and "A Vocabulary English and Tonga," pp. [429-492]. Vol. I frontispiece with Mariner in the costume of the Tonga Islands; Vol. II frontispiece fold-out map of the Tonga Islands.

"[Description of Mariner and Jeremiah Higgins dancing Tongan dances in London before friends] Mr. Mariner was dressed as represented in the frontispiece, and Higgin's only apparel was a sort of circular apron, made of loose strips of matting very thickly set... He also had a wreath of artificial flowers round the head, and another round the neck. He is beautifully tattooed from the hips nearly to the knees, agreeably to the custom of the Tonga people. Upon them it appears of a black colour, but upon a white man it causes the skin to resemble soft blue satin. The neatness, and I might almost say, the mathematical precision with which the pattern is executed, far surpasses the expectation of all who see it for the first time" (Preface). "The night dance called oóla is a very ancient one in Tonga... [p. 324-326, samples of words and music to 'The Oóla' which may be the first printed examples of the dance we call the Hula]" ("Songs and Music of the Tonga People"). "If we could but readily and for a time emancipate our minds from a sense of the nicer grammatical distinctions in our own languages, it is presumed the Tonga dialect... would be found very simple and easy to be attained; but as it is, the wide differences of our own habits of speech will give it the appearance of a language repeat with idioms, and abounding in circumlocutions" (A Grammar of the Tonga Language).

1827: Third edition [LILLYbm] An Account of the Natives of the Tonga Islands in the South Pacific Ocean. With an original grammar and vocabulary of their language. Compiled and arranged from the extensive communications of Mr. William Mariner, several years resident in those Islands, ed. by John Martin. 2 vols. Edinburgh: Constable & Co. and Horst, Chance & Co., 1827. Original green cloth over boards with original printed paper title-labels on spines; "a particularly fine, clean, wholly uncut and completely sound set." Vol. I: [6] i-v vi-xxxiv, 35 36-340 [4]; Vol. II; [6] i-iii iv-vii viii, 9 10-234, i-iii iv-cviii [4]. Third edition, "considerably improved." Constable Miscellany, Vols. XIII-XIV. Includes: [Vol. II] "A Grammar of the Tongan Language," pp. [iii]-lviii, and "A Vocabulary Tonga and English," pp. [xlix]-xciii. Both volumes with additional Constable's Miscellany illustrated short title pages. Vol. I frontispiece fold-out map of the Tonga Islands. "Engraved specimens of the Songs and Music of the Tonga People" facing p. 220. Includes "upwards of two thousand genuine Tonga words" (Introduction to the third edition). Although this is the edition reprinted by AMS in 1979, it does not include the English-Tonga portion of the vocabulary present in the second edition.

1845: [LILLYbm] A vocabulary of the Tonga language, arranged in alphabetical order: to which is annexed a list of idiomatical phrases, by S[tephen] Rabone. Neiafu, Vavau: The Wesleyan mission press, 1845. Later 19th-century full brown calf, spine decorated in gold with brown labels lettered in gold. Pp. [2] 1-3 4-212 (interleaved throughout)+ 2 pp. added in manuscript [of 217 pp.] "The title page is torn hand mounted, with loss of two words; 212 (of 217) pages are present with some of the missing text supplied in 2 pp. of manuscript at the back, the early leaves have defective lower margins with minor loss of text (sense generally remains clear), the book is interleaved throughout, with occasional annotations of an informed nature, one preliminary leaf with additional informed annotations. Mariner had appended a vocabulary of the Tonga language to his Account of the Natives of Tonga, 1819 ... , but this Vocabulary by Rabone appears to be the first separately published dictionary of the language. Zaunmüller, col.379, not in Vancil, not in Trübner, 4 copies in NUC" (bookseller's description: Rob Rulon-Miller).

1846: see under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1865: [LILLY] Ten Years in South-Central Polynesia: Being Reminiscences of a Personal Mission to the Friendly Islands and Their Dependencies, by the Rev. Thomas West. Illustrated with a Portrait and Maps. London: James Nisbet & Co, 21 Berners Street, M.DCCC.LXV / 1865. First edition. Large octavo. xv , 500 pp. 22 cm. Frontispiece portrait engraving of George Tubou, King of the Friendly Islands, plus folding map of the Islands. Original blindstamped purple cloth with gilt titles; spine severely faded. Glossary and language notes to rear. Presentation copy from Author dated May 1867. Many pages unopened; sporadic foxing mainly to front pages and including verso frontispiece. Appendix I: "The Tonguese Language," pp. [441]-452; "The following is a list of Malayan words occurring in the Tonguese, compiled from a careful comparison of the two languages. They number about one hundred words out of a vocabulary of nearly nine thousand": Malayan-English-Tonguese [Tongan], pp. 446-449.

"The appendix contains Preliminary Remarks on the Tonguese Language and The Tonguese Grammar. The author notes in the preface that the publication of this book was delayed for several years while he was engaged in the compilation and translation of various works, published for the benefit of the Tonguese, by the Wesleyan Missionary Society, and in the completion of a translation of the entire Bible into Tongan, under the direction of the British and Foreign Bible Society. Having received his missionary appointment, West set sail for Tonga in 1845, stopping at Sydney and Auckland on the way. West also describes Fiji, which he visited on the return home. Bagnall 5985. Hill p. 323 (mentions only 1 map)" (Bookseller's description of another copy: D & E. Lake).

1891: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1897: [LILLY] An English and Tongan vocabulary, also a Tongan and English vocabulary, with a list of idiomatic phrases; and Tongan grammar, by Shirley W. Baker. Auckland, N.Z. [Printed by Wilsons and Horton], 1897. 133p., 211p., 42 p. 21 cm. Contemporary plain green cloth. Zaunmüller 379. English-Tongan, pp. [1]-133, Tongan-English, pp. [1]-209 (second pagination), Tongan grammar, pp. [1]-42 (third pagination).

"[This is] a revised and enlarged edition of the Tongan Vocabulary, formerly published by the late Rev. Stephen Rabone [see 1845 above].... The only English [to] Tongan Vocabulary that has ever been published, as far as I am aware of, is that of Mariner's [see 1818 above], but being so brief and so full of mistakes it was of no practical use; hence the English [to] Tongan Vocabulary may be regarded as an entirely new work. In the Tongan [to] English Vocabulary upwards of fifteen hundred new words have been introduced" (Preface).

1903: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1925: [LILLYbm] "Supplementary Tongan Vocabulary," by E. E. Collocot. In: The Journal of the Polynesian Society, No. 135, Vol. XXXIV, September, 1925, pp. 193-213. "(Continued from Vol. 34, No. 2)". Complete issue. Original pink wrappers, lettered in black.

1959: [LILLYbm] Tongan dictionary: Tongan-English and English-Tongan, C[lerk] Maxwell Churchward. London: Oxford University Press, 1959. Original turquoise cloth over boards, spine (faded) lettered in gold. Pp. [2] 1-vii viii-xiv, 1 2-836. First edition. Also issued in the same year in Nukualofa by the government of Tonga. Includes Tongan-English, pp. [1]-574, and English-Tongan, pp. [576]-836. First true dictionary of the language. This copy with "Colonial Office Library" stamped in blank on front cover and stamped in ink on title page. Second copy: [IUW]. Dalby 1556.

"In the preparation of this dictionary full use has been made of the English and Tongan Vocabulary and the Tongan and English Vocabulary published in Shirley W. Baker in 1897, of the Supplementary Tongan Vocabulary, by E. E. V. Collocott, published in Volume 34 of the Journal of the Polynesian Society [see above], and of an earlier work, the Dictionnaire Toga-Français, published by the Marist Mission in 1890. None of the material in these publications, however, has been merely transferred to the present volume, but... every word and every meaning has first been carefully investigated. In addition, many other words found in the existing literature, or heard in the speech of natives, or supplied by [my principal Tongan assistant] Feleti VI and others, have been included". The result is an entirely new dictionary... which is far larger, far more detailed, and (I believe) far more accurate and reliable, than any Tongan dictionary or vocabulary hitherto published" (Introduction). "Here and there, being unable to find a suitable Tongan expression, I have left the English word untranslated, but in its correct alphabetical position, so as to facilitate the insertion of a Tongan equivalent by any user of the Dictionary who may succeed in finding or inventing one" (p. 836).

1971: [IUW] Intensive course in Tongan: with numerous supplementary materials, grammatical notes, and glossary, by Eric B. Shumway. Honolulu, University of Hawaii Press, 1971. xxi, 723 p. 23 cm. PALI language texts. Polynesia.

1988: Revised edition [IUW] Intensive course in Tongan: with numerous supplementary materials, grammatical notes, and glossary / Eric B. Shumway. Rev. ed. Laie, Hawaii: Institute for Polynesian Studies, Brigham Young University-Hawaii, c1988. xxiii, 760 p.; 23 cm.

1979: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1992: [LILLYbm] A Simplified Dictionary of Modern Tongan, by Edgar Tu'inukuafe. Aotearoa, N.Z.: Polynesian Press, 1992. Original maroon and red wrappers, lettered in white and black and white, with an illustration of the front cover. Pp. 1-6 7-278. First edition. English-Tongan, pp. 9-132, and Tongan-English, pp. 133-243, double-columned. Second copy: [IUW].

"This is the first dictionary to be compiled by a Tongan scholar... There are over 20,000 entries" (from the rear cover). "At a time when our Tongan language and culture is under threat, it is important that we nurture our heritage carefully. Likewise we must develop our English language skills if we are to take our place in the social and economic development of the world" (Foreword, HRH Princess Mele Siu'ilikutapu).

[TONKAWA] The Tonkawa language was spoken in Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico by the Tonkawa people. A language isolate, with no known related languages, Tonkawa is now extinct. Members of the Tonkawa tribe now speak English (Wikipedia).

Ethnologue: tqw.

1933?: [IUW] Tonkawa, an Indian language of Texas, by Harry Hoijer. [Glückstadt, Hamburg, J.J. Augustin, 1933?]. x, 148 p. 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original tan front wrapper, lettered in black. Thesis (PH. D.)--University of Chicago, 1931. "Reprinted from Handbook of American Indian languages, vol. III." Appendix to Chapter 2, Tonkawa-English, pp. 135-139.

1949: [LILLYbm] An analytical dictionary of the Tonkawa language, by Harry Hoijer [1904-]. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1949. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. i-ii iii iv, 1-74 75-76. First edition. Series: University of California publications in linguistics, v. 5, no. 1. Includes Tonkawa-English, pp. 4-74. First and only dictionary of Tonkawa, now extinct. This copy with the ink ownership signature "Elmendorf". William W. Elmendorf [1912--] was author of The structure of Twana culture. With comparative notes on the structure of Yurok culture, [Pullman, Washington State University], 1960, republished by Garland in 1974. Second copy: [IUW].

"The Tonkawa language, now nearly extinct, is the sole survivor of a group of languages formerly spoken in central and southern Texas. Data on the other languages of this group are scanty and unreliable, consisting for the most part of short vocabularies and brief religious texts collected by the early missionaries and travelers to this region. Swanton has published most of this material and has suggested that these languages were members of a single stock, the Coahuiltecan, to which, apparently, Tonkawa also belongs [see John R. Swanton under COAHUILTECO].... My work on the Tonkawa language began in 1927" (Introduction).

[TONOCOTÉ] Tonocoté may be the same language as Lule (see description). Both are extinct and neither is listed in Ethnologue.

1732: see under LULE.

[TONSAWANG] Tonsawang, also known as Tombatu, is an Austronesian language of the northern tip of Sulawesi, Indonesia. It belongs to the Minahasan branch of the Philippine languages. According to linguist James Sneddon, the language is "one of the most isolated languages", spoken in southeast Minahasa, while linguist Robert Blust situated it, along with the others of the Minahasan group, near Lake Tondano, "in the northern peninsula of Sulawesi".

Ethnologue: tnw. Alternate Names: Tombatu, Toundanow.

2019: [IUW] Kamus bahasa Tonsawang-Indonesia, Indonesia-Tonsawang / oleh, Mariam Pandean [and ten others]. Cetakan pertama. Manado: Fakultas Ilmu Budaya, Universitas Sam Ratulangi, 2019. ix, 250 pages; 27 cm. Tonsawang-Indonesian and Indonesian-Tonsawang dictionary.

[TONTEMBOAN] Tontemboan is an Austronesian language, of northern Sulawesi, Indonesia. It is a Minahasan language, a sub-group of the Philippine languages. Other names and dialect names are: "Makela'i-Maotow, Makelai, Matana'i-Maore', Matanai, Pakewa, Sonder, Tompakewa, Tompasso, Tountemboan" (WikP).

Ethnologue: tnt. Alternate Names: Pakewa, Tompakewa, Tountemboan.

1908: [LILLYbm] Tontemboansch-Nederlandsch Woordenboek met Nederlandsch-Tontemboansch Register, by J[ohannes] Alb[ert] T[raugott] Schwarz. Leiden: E. J. Brill, 1908. Contemporary brown half-leather, lettered in gold and decorated in gold and blind, with black marbled paper over boards. Pp. [2] I-V VI-X, / 2-690. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Dalby 1557. This copy with a note in ink on the half title indicating it was a gift from the Department van Kolonien, with the ownership signature of K. Wulff, dated April, 1909. This was almost certainly Kurt Wulff, one of the editors of a series of linguistic studies including Beroringer mellem de finske og de baltiske (litauisk-lettiske) sprog [Relationships between the Finnish and Baltic (Lithuanian-Lettish) Languages], by V. L. P. Thomsen, published in 1890. Includes Tontemboan-Dutch, pp. [1]-636, and Dutch-Tontemboan index, pp. [639]-685, with errata, pp. [687]-690. This appears to be the first dictionary of the language.

[TOORO] Tooro, or Rutooro, is a Bantu language spoken mainly by the Toro people (Batooro) from the Toro Kingdom region of western Uganda. There are three main areas where Rutooro as a language is mainly used and they are Kabarole District, Kyenjojo District and Kyegegwa District (WikP).

Ethnologue: ttj. Alternate Names: Orutoro, Rutooro, Rutoro, Toro.

2009: see under NYORO.

2013: see under NYORO.

2015: see under NYORO.

[TOTO] Toto is a Sino-Tibetan language spoken on the border of India and Bhutan, by the tribal Toto people in Totopara, West Bengal along the border with Bhutan. It is also spoken in Subhapara, Dhunchipara, and Panchayatpara hillocks on India-Bhutan border in Jalpaiguri district, West Bengal (Ethnologue) (WikP).

Ethnologue: txo.

1903-1927: see Vol. III, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TOTONAC] Totonac is a language cluster of Mexico, spoken across a number of central Mexican states by the Totonac people. It is a Mesoamerican language and shows many of the traits which define the Mesoamerican Linguistic Area. Along with some 62 other indigenous languages, it is recognised as an official language of Mexico, though as a single language (WikP).

Ethnologue includes nine separate Totonac languages.

1956: [LILLY] Vocabulario de la lengua Totonaca, compilado por Pedro Aschmann. México, D.F.: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1956. Pp. 1-3 4-14; second pagination, 1 2-52 53-54. 23.2 cm. Third edition. Original light blue and red wrappers, lettered in black. Totonaco-Spanish, pp. [1]-52. The title on the cover is: Vocabulario Totonaco. From the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ownership stamp and manuscript note on title page. At this stage Totonac is still treated as a single language. The first edition appeared in 1949, the second in 1950.

"With the completion of this third edition, the author welcomes the collaboration of persons well acquainted with the Totonac dialect, especially teachers in the rural area. This may be done in two ways: by submitting new words not included in the present work and correcting those already present. In this way the fruits to be harvested will be greater" (p. [54], tr: BM).

[TOTONAC, HIGHLAND] Sierra Totonac is a native American language complex spoken in Puebla and Veracruz, Mexico. One of the Totonacan languages, it is also known as Highland Totonac. The language is best known through the work of the late Herman "Pedro" Aschmann who produced a small dictionary and several academic articles on the language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tos. Alternate Names: Sierra Totonac, Totonaco, Totonaco de la Sierra. Autonym: Tutunakú.

1962: [IUW] Castellano-totonaco, totonaco-castellano; dialecto de la Sierra Norte de Puebla, by Herman P. Aschmann. First edition: 1000 copies (see verso of title page). México, Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1962. v, 171 p. illus. 21 cm. Library binding. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves, no. 7. Cover title: Vocabulario totonaco de la Sierra. Spanish-Totonaco [Highland Totonaco], pp. 1-66, Totonaco [Highland Totonaco]-Spanish, pp. 67-138, with line drawings.

1973: Second printing [IUW] Castellano-totonaco, totonaco-castellano; dialecto de la Sierra Norte de Puebla, by Herman P. Aschmann. México, Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1973. v, 171 p. illus. 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream and orange front and rear wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves, no. 7. Cover title: Vocabulario totonaco de la Sierra. Spanish-Totonaco [Highland Totonaco], pp. 1-66, Totonaco [Highland Totonaco]-Spanish, pp. 67-138, with line drawings. This printing of 700 copies published in 1973 (from verso of title page).

[TOTONAC, PAPANTLA] Papantla Totonac, also known as Lowland Totonac, is a native American language spoken in central Mexico, in the state of Veracruz around the city of Papantla (WikP).

Ethnologue: top. Alternate Names: Lowland Totonaca, Totonaco, Totonaco de Papantla. Autonym: Tutunakú.

1973: [IUW] Diccionario totonaco de Papantla, Veracruz: totonaco-español, español-totonaco, by Herman P. Aschmann. México: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1973. xiii, 268 p.; 23 cm. Library binding. Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indígenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves" núm. 16. Totonaco [Papantla Totonac]-Spanish, pp. [1]-138, Spanish-Totonaco [Papantla Totonac], pp. [155]-268.

1990: [IUW] Totonaco de Papantla, Veracruz / Paulette Levy. 1. ed. México, D.F.: El Colegio de México, 1990. 166 p.: map; 26 cm. First edition: 1000 copies. Original green, purple and white wrappers, lettered in white. Archivo de lenguas indígenas de México; 15. Spanish-Papantla Totonac, pp. 145-166.

[TOTONAC, XICOTEPEC DE JUÁREZ] Apapantilla Totonac, or Xicotepec Totonac (Xicotepec de Juárez), is a Totonac language of central Mexico. Zihuateutla T\otonac may be a separate language (WikP).

Ethnologue: too. Alternate Names: Northern Totonac, Totonaco de Villa Juárez.

1974: [LILLYbm] Diccionario totonaco de Xicotepec de Juarez, Puebla, totonaco-castellano, castellano-totonaco, by Aileen A. Reid & Ruth G. Bishop. Mexico, D.F.: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1974. Original gray and ochre wrappers, lettered and decorated in red. Pp. i-iv v-xiii xiv, 1-2 3-417 418. First edition. Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves, no. 17. This copy with an ink stamp: "Dept. of Linguistics | Univ. of California | Berkeley, California 94720." Includes Totonac-Spanish, pp. 7-167, and Spanish-Totonac, pp. 187-378. Second copy: [IUW].

"Totonac is one of the many languages spoken in Mexico. There are approximately 125,000 people who speak the language. This dictionary is based on Totonac as it is spoken in the northern part of the state of Puebla... by approximately 10,000 to 15,000 people" (Introduction, tr: BM).

[TOTONAC, YECUATLA] Misantra Totonac, also known as Yecuatla Totonac and Southeastern Totonac (Totonac: Laakanaachiwíin), is an indigenous language of Mexico, spoken in central Veracruz in the area between Xalapa and Misantra. It belongs to the Totonacan family and is the southernmost variety of Totonac. Misantra Totonac is highly endangered, with fewer than 133 speakers, most of whom are elderly. The language has largely been replaced by Spanish (WikP).

Ethnologue: tlc.

2005: [IUW] Totonaco de Misantra, Veracruz / Carolyn J. MacKay, Frank R. Trechsel. 1 ed. México, D.F.: El Colegio de México, 2005. 327 p.: ill., maps; 25 cm. Original blue, red and white wrappers, lettered in white. Archivo de lenguas indígenas de México; 26. Spanish-Misantra Totonaco [Yecuatla Totonac], pp. 255-324. Includes bibliographical references (p. 325-327). Discursive text in Spanish; example texts in Totonac with Spanish translations.

[TOTONACAN LANGUAGES] The Totonacan languages (a.k.a. Totonac–Tepehua languages) are a family of closely related languages spoken by approximately 290,000 Totonac (approx. 280,000) and Tepehua (approx. 10,000) people in the states of Veracruz, Puebla, and Hidalgo in Mexico. At the time of the Spanish conquest Totonacan languages were spoken all along the gulf coast of Mexico (Reid & Bishop 1974). During the colonial period Totonacan languages were occasionally written and at least one grammar was produced (Anonymous 1990). In the 20th century the number of speakers of most varieties have dwindled as indigenous identity increasingly became stigmatized encouraging speakers to adopt Spanish as their main language (Lam 2009). The Totonacan languages have only recently been compared to other families on the basis of historical-comparative linguistics, though they share numerous areal features with other languages of the Mesoamerican Linguistic Area, such as the Mayan languages and Nahuatl. Recent work suggests a possible genetic link to the Mixe–Zoque language family (Brown et al. 2011), although this has yet to be firmly established (WikP).

1752: [LILLY] [1752 Zembrano PM 4426 .Z 24 Mendel].

[TORRES STRAIT CREOLE] Torres Strait Creole (also Torres Strait Pidgin, Yumplatok, Torres Strait Brokan/Broken, Cape York Creole, Lockhart Creole, Papuan Pidgin English, Broken English, Brokan/Broken, Blaikman, Big Thap) is an English-based creole language spoken on several Torres Strait Islands (Queensland, Australia), Northern Cape York and South-Western Coastal Papua. It has approximately 25000 mother-tongue and bi/tri-lingual speakers, as well as several second/third-language speakers. It is widely used as a language of trade and commerce. It has six main dialects: Papuan, Western-Central, TI, Malay, Eastern, and Cape York (WikP).

Ethnologue: cs. Alternate Names: Ap-Ne-Ap, Blaik, Broken, Cape York Creole, Creole, Torres Strait Broken, Torres Strait Pidgin English, West Torres, Yumplatok.

1988: [IUW] Broken: an introduction to the Creole language of Torres Strait, by Anna Shnukal. Canberra, A.C.T.: Australian National University, Research School of Pacific Studies, Dept. of Linguistics, 1988. xiii, 328 p.: ill., map; 25 cm. Pacific linguistics. Series C, no. 107. Includes a Torres Strait Creole-English dictionary. First dictionary of the language.

[TORWALI] Torwali (Urdu: توروالی), or Turwali, is a Dardic language spoken in Kohistan and Swat districts of the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Province of Pakistan. The language is indigenous to the Torwali people who live in scattered hamlets in the mountainous upper reaches of the Swat valley, above the Pashto-speaking town of Madyan up to the Gawri-speaking town of Kalam. There are two main dialects of Torwali: Bahrain and Chail (WikP).

Ethnologue: trw. Alternate Names: Torwalak, Torwali Kohistani, Turwali.

1929: [LILLYbm] Torwali: An Account of a Dardic language of the Swat Kohistan, by George A[bramham] Grierson. London: Royal Asiatic Society, 1929. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. i-iv v-vii viii, 1-216. With frontispiece map. First edition. Prize Publication Fund, Vol. XI, with bookplate. Not in Zaunmüller. Schmidt, p. 30. Based on material collected in Torwal by Sir Aurel Stein. Part V: Vocabulary and Indexes: Torwali-English, pp. 134-185; indexes "of words in other languages quoted in the foregoing vocabulary," pp. 186-216.

"When Sir Aurel Stein, in the course of his inquiries regarding the track of Alexander the Great in his march to the Indus, visited the valley of Torwal, he recorded the three folktales and the list of typical words and sentences that form the basis of the present work... Very little has hitherto been known about Torwali, the language of Torwal... Torwali is one of a number of languages generally grouped together under the name of 'Kohistani,' as being spoken in the Panjkora, Swat, and Indus Kohistans lying to the north of the Peshawar and Hazara Districts of British India. Other members of the group as Garwi... and Maiya..." (Introduction, Grierson). "Torwal, where the Dardic tongue recorded in the stories ... is spoken, comprises that alpine portion of the valley of the Swat River which extends from Kalam down to the large village of Churrai. It was visited by me as the first European in April, 1926... No close estimate of the population of Torwal was obtainable, but it can scarcely exceed 2,000 households in all, including semi-nomadic Gujars and a few small settlements of Chitrali immigrants in Chihil-dara, Gurunai, and higher up" (Part I, Stein). From the library of Carleton T. Hodge. First extensive vocabulary of this language.

[TOUO] The Touo language is spoken over the southern part of Rendova Island, located in the Western Province of the Solomon Islands. Touo belongs to the Central Solomons group of the Papuan languages. All the surrounding languages to Touo belong to the Oceanic subgroup of the Austronesian language family. The Touo language is sometimes called the Baniata or Lokuru language, after the largest two villages where the language is spoken. The word Touo comes from the ethnonym that Touo speakers use to refer to themselves (WikP).

Ethnologue: tq. Alternate Names: Baniata, Lokuru, Mbaniata.

1953: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TOWI] Towe (Towe) is a Western Pauwasi language of West New Guinea. It is spoken in Towe Hitam village, Towe District, Pegunungan Bintang Regency (WikP). Population: 120 (1975 SIL).

Ethnologue: ttn. Alternate Names: Towe.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TRANSLINGUA] Translingua is one of various twentieth-century attempts to create artificial languages. It has no official standing and is not included in Ethnologue.

1961:[IUW] Translingua script, a code of interlinguistic communication, by Eric Runke. Rev. ed. Iowa City, Iowa, 1961. 2 v. 23 cm. [v. 1] General principles. Grammar. Basic vocabulary (Numerical order) v. 2. Dictionary, pt. 2 (English-Translingua).

[TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT] Trans-New Guinea (TNG) is an extensive family of Papuan languages spoken in New Guinea and neighboring islands, perhaps the third-largest language family in the world by number of languages. The core of the family is considered to be established, but its boundaries and overall membership are uncertain. Most TNG languages are spoken by only a few thousand people, with only four (Melpa, Enga, Western Dani, and Ekari) being spoken by more than 100,000. The most populous language outside of mainland New Guinea is Makasai on Timor, with 70,000.

The island of New Guinea is divided politically into roughly equal halves across a north-south line: The western portion of the island located west of 141°E longitude (except for a small section of territory to the east of the Fly River which belongs to Papua New Guinea) was formerly a Dutch colony, part of the Dutch East Indies. After the Dutch New Guinea Dispute it is now two Indonesian provinces: 1) West Papua with Manokwari as its capital; 2) Papua with the city of Jayapura as its capital. The eastern part forms the mainland of Papua New Guinea, which has been an independent country since 1975.

The languages of Papua New Guinea today number over 850. These languages are spoken by the inhabited tribal groups of Papua New Guinea making it the most linguistically diverse place on earth. Its official languages are Tok Pisin, English, Hiri Motu and Papua New Guinean Sign Language. Tok Pisin, an English-based creole, is the most widely spoken, serving as the country's lingua franca. Papua New Guinean Sign Language became the 4th official language in May 2015, as it is spoken by the deaf population all over the country (WikP).

1770-1771: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1853: [IUW] The native races of the Indian Archipelago. Papuans / George Windsor Earl. London, H. Bailliere, 1853. xiv, 239 p. illus., plates (5 col.) maps 21 cm. The ethnographical library, v. 1

1891: [LILLYbm] Deutsch-Neuguinea und meine ersteigung des Finisterre-gebirges. Eine schildering des ersten erfolgreichen vordringens zu den hochgebirgen inner-Neuguineas, der natur des landes, der sitten der eingeborenen und des gegenwartigen standes der deutschen kolonisationsthatigkeit in Kaiser-Wilhelms-land, Bismarck- und Salomoarchipel, nebst einem wortverzeichnis von 46 Papuasprachen, by Hugo Zöller. Stuttgart, Berlin, Leipzig: Union Deutsche Verlagsgesellschaft, 1891. Original black half-leather and marbled paper over boards, spine decorated in gold with raised bands, maroon leather label, lettered in gold. Pp. I-VII VIII-XXXII, 1 2-546; front. (port.) illus., plates (1 fold.) double maps, plan, facsim. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 297. Includes three appendices: 1. Geschichtliche Daten (p. [428]-442); 2. Wörtverzeichnis von 29 Sprachen aus dem Gebiet der Deutschen Neuguinea-Compagnie und 16 Sprachen aus British-Neuguinea [Wordlist of 300 German words with equivalents in 29 languages from German New Guinea and 16 languages from British New Guinea] (p. 444-529); 3. Litteratur über das Gebiet der Neuguinea-Compagnie (p. 532-534). In addition to Appendix 2, there is a Yabem-German vocabulary, pp. 401-405, Bogodjim [Anjam]-German, pp. 405-406, Hatzfeldhafen [Mala]-German, pp. 406-409, Kerewo-German, pp. 409-411.

1895: [LILLYbm] A comparative vocabulary of the dialects of British New Guinea, by Sidney H[erbert] Ray. London: Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, 1895. Original limp green linen, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. I-5 6-40 (with fold-out map of British New Guinea as frontispiece). First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 296. Includes 128 different words arranged alphabetically, with the equivalents given in 52 different dialects from twenty-five languages, pp. 11-38. This copy inscribed in ink by the author on the flyleaf: "With Sidney H Ray's / compliments & thanks / [flourish]". With the ink stamp of the British and Foreign Bible Society Library.

"As Mission work is now being actively pursued in [British New Guinea], these in the work...It is also hoped that the Vocabulary may be of some service to the philologist, as presenting ... the results of our present knowledge of the New Guinea languages. It does not seem likely that any of the Papuan languages will be used as a permanent medium of intercourse, and unless some interest is taken in them before it is too late, they will probably become, like the languages of Australia, mere philological curiosities...The accompanying map...was specially drawn to illustrate the British New Guinea languages" (Preface, Robert Needham Cust). "The fifty-two dialects here shown [1-23 Melanesian; 24-30 Melano-Papuan; 31-52 Papuan] fall practically into twenty-five languages" (Introduction).

1912-1913a [1965]: "Five Melanesian Vocabularies from British New Guinea," by C. G. Seligmann, in: Zeitschrift für Kolonialsprachen, ed. Carl Meinhof, Vol. 3, 1912-1913, pp. [182]-200. Vaduz: Kraus Reprint, 1965. Sinaugolo [Sinaugoro]-Ikoro [Koro]-Wagawaga-Tubetube [Bwanabwana]-Tokunu [dialect of Misima-Panaeati], pp. 194-200.

"The languages to which two of the following vocabularies, viz. the Sinaugolo and Ikoro, belong are spoken by tribes living in the Central District of British New Guinea and belonging to the great Papuo-Melanesian division of the inhabitants of Papua. The other vocabularies are from languages spoken in the Massim area, the inhabitants of Wagawaga (in Milne Bay) and Tubetube (one of the islands of the Engineer group) being typical Massim while Tokunu (the Alcesters) must be regarded as an ethnographical annexe of Murua (the Woodlarks)" (p. [182]).

1912-1913b [1965]: "The languages of the Papuan Gulf District Papua," by Sidney H. Ray, in: Zeitschrift für Kolonialsprachen, ed. Carl Meinhof, Vol. 4, 1913-1914, pp. [20]-67. Vaduz: Kraus Reprint, 1965. "Comparative Vocabulary of Eight Languages spoken in the Papuan Gulf District," English-Gaima-Girara [Madi]-Sisiamei [Hewa]-Buniki-Goaribari [dialect of Kerewo]-Namau [Purari]-Orokolo-Toaripi, pp. 30-54. Additional words, English-Gaima, pp. 54-56, Additional words, English- Girara [Madi], pp. 57-58, Additional words, English-Sisiamei [Hewa], p. 58. "A Comparative Vocabulary of the Elema, Uaripi, Milareipi and Lepu Dialects," English-Elema-Uaripi [Tairuma]-Milareipi [Milaripi, dialect of Toaripi]-Lepu, pp. 58-64.

1951: [IUW] Studies in the Kiwai languages: Fly Delta, Papua, New Guinea, by Stefan [Adolphe] Wurm (1922-2001. Vienna: Herold, 1951. 126 p.; 29 cm. Gray wrappers lettered in black; front wrapper only mounted on black library cloth binding. Series; Acta Ethnologica et Linguistica, No. 2. Insittut für Völkerkunde der Universität Wien. Reproduced from typescript. Includes "Hypothetical Old-Kiwai Word-list," English-Old Kiwai [including current variants in various Kiwaian languages and dialects, listed as: Mawata, Turituri/Tureture, Perem/Parama, Sui, Kiwai (proper), Domori/Doumori, Wabuda [Waboda], Hiwi, Hibaradai, Sisiamei/Sisiame [dialect of Bamu], Oropai, Maipani, Damerakaram, Dibiri, Buniki, Pirupiru, Turama River Language, Goari, Kerewa [Kerewo], Urama, Era River Language, Iwinu], pp. 24-51.

"The limited material available [vocabularies], the unreliability of much of it, especially the imperfect phonetic renderings, have made my task very difficult" (Preface).

"The Kiwaian languages form a branch of the Trans–New Guinea language family of New Guinea. They are a dialect cluster of half a dozen closely related languages. They are grammatically divergent from other Trans–New Guinea languages, and typically have singular, dual, trial, and plural pronouns" (WikP).

1953: [LILLY] "The Papuan Languages of the New Georgian Archipelago, Solomon Islands," by P. A. Lanyon-Orgill, in: Journal of Austronesian Studies, Vol. I, Part 1, 1953, pp. 122-138. 21.5 cm. Cream wrappers, lettered in black. Includes a few words identified as "Guliguli" (pp. 128, 130) and "Dororo" (p. 130). Bilua-Baniata [Touo]-Kazukuru vocabulary, pp. 131-138. This issue of the journal from the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ink ownership stamp and scattered annotations in ink.

Second copy: LILLY, presentation copy, with a letter laid in from the editor to K. J. Dover, who was 33 at the time and living in Norwich. He was later to become "a distinguished British Classical scholar and academic. He was President of Corpus Christi College, Oxford from 1976 to 1986. In addition, he was President of the British Academy from 1978 to 1981, and Chancellor of the University of St Andrews from 1981 to 2005. He was the author of Greek Homosexuality (1978), a key text on the subject" (WikP).

1961: [IUW] The linguistic situation in the islands of Yapen, Kurudu, Nau and Miosnum, New Guinea, by J. C. Anceaux.'s-Gravenhage, M. Nijhoff, 1961. 166 p. maps (1 fold.) 25 cm. Verhandeligen van het Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal-, Land-en Volkenkunde; deel 35. Comparative Word List including 259 numbered English words, followed by the equivalent word where known in the following fourteen languages: Ambai, Yava [Yawa], Ansus, Pom, Woi, Marau, Kurudu, Serui-Laut, Wabo, Papuma, Munggui, Busami, Aibonde [Abonden, dialect of Wamesa], and Wasidapi-Laut [dialect of Ambai], pp. 13-79. With detailed preliminary notes on these languages treated and the mostly unpublished sources of the word lists. Also available online.

"Relatively little is known about the languages spoken on and around the island of Yapen. The published sources contain little more than a few brief word-lists, although there is more material to be found in manuscript form.... After an account of my source materials and an explanation of the map, I shall give part of the lexicographic material, consider what conclusions there are to be drawn from it and, finally, note certain grammatical and other characteristics" (Introduction).

1963: [IUW] Drie Asmat-dialecten, by P. Drabbe. 's-Gravenhage: M. Nijhoff, 1963. viii, 236 p. fold. map. 24 cm. Library binding. Verhandeligen van het Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal-, Land- en Volkenkunde deel 42. Map in pocket. "Woordenlijst van Kawenak [dialect of Central Asmat], Keenok [North Asmat], Keenakap [dialect of Central Asmat,] Kaunak [Citak] en Kaweinag [Casuarina Coast Asmat]", pp. [212]-233. [377 numbered Dutch words]. Alphabetical index to all words, pp. [234]-236.

"In the following grammar we describe three dialects of the Asmat language, namely Kawenak, Keenok and Keenakap ... Because we had to abandon the language study on location 1 for good due to health reasons, we could no longer include two other dialects whose existence is already known, namely the dialect spoken along and behind the Casuarinan coast, and that east of the Pasüwe or Wildeman River. The first we called Kaweinag The second, which we started studying but had to abandon, we can call Kaunak. Word lists of these can be found at the end of the present grammar together with [the first three]" (p. 1: tr: BM).

1970: [IUW] Pacific linguistic studies in honour of Arthur Capell [edited] by S. A. Wurm and D. C. Laycock. [Canberra, Linguistic Circle of Canberra, 1970]. x, 1292, 6 p. diags., maps, port., tables. 26 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue-green wrappers, lettered in black. Pacific linguistics. Series C.; no. 13. Essays with vocabularies include:

1) "Notes on the Languages of the Rigo Area of the Central District of Papua," by T.E. Dutton: Appendix 3.9: "'Basic' Vocabulary lists of Rigo," [292 numbered words] Sinagoro [Sinaugoro]-Hula-Hanuabada [Motu]-Kwale [Uare]-Humene-Mulaha, pp. 926-950, Doromu [Doromu-Koki] (as spoken in three different villages)-Maria (as spoken in four different villages), pp. 951-976.

2) "Proto-Awyu-Dumut Phonology," by Alan Healey: Appendix 1: "Proto-Awyu-Dumut Vocabulary," (Proto-Awyu-Dumut)-English-Awyu-Dumut, pp. 1015-1038; Appendix 3: "Proto-Dumut Vocabulary," (Proto-Dumut)-English-Kaeti, Kwem [Mandobo Atas]-Wambon, pp. 1040-1048; Appendix 4: "Index of English Glosses," English-(Proto-Awyu)-(Proto-Dumut)-(Proto-Awyu-Dumut), pp. 1049-1058.

"The evidence suggests that during the first millennium before Christ a group of people speaking a language which may be called Proto-Awyu-Dumut (PAD) lived along the middle reaches of the Digoel River in Irian Barat in the vicinity of what is now Tanah-Merah. As the centuries passed this language spread eastward and westward until, by the early centuries of this present era, it had divided into two rather different daughter languages [Proto-Awyu and Proto-Dumut].... The people who live in the same two swamp regions of the southern swamp plains of Irian Barat today now speak at least eight distinct but genetically related languages... [Awyu, Pisa, Aghu, Airo-Sumaghage, Kotogüt, Kaeti, Wambon, and Wanggom]" (pp. 997-998).

1973: [IUW] The linguistic situation in the Gulf District and adjacent areas, Papua New Guinea / by Karl Franklin. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1973. x, 597 p.; 26 cm. Library binding. Pacific linguistics. Series C, No. 26. Appendices: English master list [Swadesh 100 word list, numbered], followed by appendices in various languages, pp. 541-592, keyed numerically to English list, as follow: Appendix A: Angan (Angaataha, Ankave, Ampale [Safeyoka], Baruya [Yipma], Ivori [Tainae], Kamasa, Kapau [Hamtai], Kawacha, Lohiki [Akoye], Menya, Simbari, Yagwoia), pp. 545-552; Appendix B: Teberan and Pawaia (Daribi [Dadibi], Boro Polopa [dialect of Falopa], Sopesa Polopa [dialect of Falopa], Suri Polopa [dialect of Falopa], Tebera [dialect of Falopa], Uraru Pawaia [dialect [Hauruha?] of Pawaia]), pp. 553-556; Appendix C: Bosavi-Kutubuan (Fasu, Foe [Foi], Kaluli, Kasua, Namumi [dialect of Fasu], Bainapi [Dibiyaso]), pp. 557-559; Appendix D: Stickland-Bosavian (Agala [Fembe], Biami [Piame], Bibo [dialect of Gobasi], Honibo [dialect of Gobasi], Onabasulu [Onobasulu], Kubo, Samo), pp. 561-564; Appendix E: Kiwaian (Arigibi Kiwai [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Bamu Kiwai [Bamu], Gibaio Kiwai [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Gope Kiwai [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Island Kiwai [dialect of Southern Kiwai], Karewo Kiwai [Kerewo], Morigi Kiwai [Morigi], Pirupiru Kiwai [dialect of Bamu], Sisiam Kiwai [dialect of Bamu], Tureture Kiwai [dialect of Southern Kiwai?], Urama Kiwai [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Wabuda Kiwai [Waboda]), pp. 565-571; Appendix F: Turama-Kikorian (Ikobi-Kairi [Ikobi], Kairi [Rumu], Mena [dialect of Ikobi], Omati [retired as a language name as of 2017; now considered two languages—Barikewa and Mouwase]), pp. 573-57; Appendix G: Inland Gulf (Ipiko, Minanibai, Tao-Sumato [Mubami]), pp. 577-578; Appendix H: Toaripi-Eleman (Aheave [Keoru-Ahia], Kaipi [dialect of Toaripi]), Keuru [Keoru-Ahia], Opao, Orokolo, Sepoe [dialect of Toaripi], Toaripi, Uaripi [Tairuma]), pp. 579-583, Supplementary (Toaripi, Sepoe [dialect of Toaripi], Kaipi [dialect of Toaripi], Uaripi [Tairuma], Opao, Keuru [Keoru-Ahia], Aheave [Keoru-Ahia], Muro [Orokolo], Orokolo, Raepa Tati [Kaki Ae]), pp. 584-585; Appendix I: Unclassified (Porome [Kibiri], Purari, Raepa Tati (Tate) [Kaki Ae]), pp. 587-588; Appendix J: Miscellaneous (Bogaya, Duna, Kewa (West) [West Kewa], Pa (Pare) [Pare], Saniyo [Saniyo-Hiyewe], Sau [dialect of Enga], Waia [Tabo], Wiru), pp. 589-592. With detailed preliminary matter on previous attempts to classify and describe these languages.

1975a: [IUW] Comparative wordlists. Ukarumpa, Papua New Guinea: Summer Institute of Linguistics, 1975- . v.; 23 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow wrappers, lettered in black. Workpapers in Papua New Guinea languages v. 14. Includes bibliographies. 1. Wordlists are based on Swadesh basic word lists.

Franklin, K. J., Z'graggen, J. "Comparative wordlists of the Gulf district and adjacent areas": includes, pp. 13-116: Angaataha, Ankave, Ampale [Safeyoka], Baruya [Yipma], Ivori [Tainae], Kamasa, Kapau [Hamtai], Kawacha, Lohiki [Akoye], Menya, Simbari, Yagwoia, Daribi [Dadibi], Boro [dialect of Falopa], Sopese [dialect of Falopa], Suri [dialect of Falopa], Tebera [dialect of Falopa], Uraru [dialect [Hauruha?] of Pawaia]), Fasu, Foe [Foi], Kaluli, Kasua, Namumi [dialect of Fasu], Bainapi [Dibiyaso], Agala [Fembe], Biami [Pieme], Bibo [dialect of Gobasi], Honibo [dialect of Gobasi], Onabasulu [Onobasulu], Kubo, Samo, Arigibi [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Bamu, Giabio [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Gope [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Island [dialect of Southern Kiwai], Karewo [Kerewo], Morigi, Pirupiru [dialect of Bamu], Sisime [dialect of Bamu], Tureture [dialect of Southern Kiwai?], Urama [dialect of Northeast Kiwai], Wabuda [Waboda], Ikobi, Kairi [Rumu], Mena, Omati [retired as a language name; now considered two languages—Barikewa and Mouwase], Ipiko, Minanibai, Tao [Mubami], Aheave [Keoru-Ahia], Kaipi [dialect of Toaripi], Keuru [Keoru-Ahia], Opao, Orokolo, Sepoe [dialect of Toaripi], Toaripi, Uaripi [Tairuma], Porome [Kibiri], Purari, Raepa [Kaki Ae], Bogaya, Duna, Kewa [West Kewa], Pa [Pare], Saniyo [Saniyo-Hiyewe], Sau [dialect of Enga], Waia [Tabo], Wiru.

Smythe, W. E., and Z'graggen, J. "Comparative wordlists of the Admiralty Island languages": includes, pp. 124-216: Awa, Ninigo [Seimat], Kaniet, Sori [Sori-Harengan], Lup [Hermit], Njada [Nyindrou], Ponam, Andra [Andra-Hus], Hus [Andra-Hus], Jiriw [Nali], Pitilu [Leipon], Bujan [Kele], Mokaren [Mokareng]. Bipi, Lebei [Khehek], Tulu [Tulu-Bohuai], Pak [Pak-Tong], Mbunai [Titan], Baluan [Baluan-Pam], Musau [Mussau-Emira].

"The wordlists [in The linguistic situation in the Gulf District and adjacent areas, Papua New Guinea, 1973. see above] are printed in numbered sequence, but separate for each language. Such an arrangement is to the advantage of a researcher or student in a particular language. The linguistic researcher, however, interested in comparative studies will find it consuming and bothersome to arrange the words in comparable tables. For this reason, the present compiler decided to re-arrange the data in comparable columns for each lexical item on one separate page. This should lessen the burden of arranging the items independently by individual researchers" (Introduction).

1975b: [IUW] Languages of Irian Jaya: checklist, preliminary classification, language maps, wordlists / by C. L. Voorhoeve. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1975. iv, 129, 13 p.: ill.; 26 cm. Original yellow-gray wrappers, lettered in black. Pacific linguistics. Series B, No. 31. Bibliography: p. 80-90. Comparative Wordlist, pp. 94-129: English [40 words] in each of the following languages, arranged in six columns with the languages numbered 1-191: Yey [Yei], Kanum, Moraori [Morori], Boazi [Kuni-Boazi], Marind, Bian [Marind, Bian], Yoqay [Yaqay], Warkay [Warkay-Bipim], Yelmek, Maklew, Kimaghama [Kimaghima], Riantana, Ndom, Tamagario, Kaygir [Kayagar], Kaugut [Atohwaim], Ngalum, Kauwol [dialect of Faiwol], Ninggirum [Ninggerum], Yonggom [Muyu], N. Kati [Muyu, North], S. Kati [Muyu, South], Wambon, Kaeti [Mandobo], Aghu, Pisa [Awyu, Asue], Siagha-Yen [Awyu, Edera / Awyu, South], Sawuy [Sawi], Mombum [Mombom], Koneraw, Asmat, Sempan, Kamoro, Iria [Kamberau], Asienara [Baruwai], Somahai [Momuna], Mairasa [Mairasi], Semimi, Tanahmerah, Iha, Baham, Mor, Barau [Kemberano], Arandai, Tarof [dialect of Kakoda], Kasuweri [dialect of Kakoda], Puragi, K. Baru [Asaro'o], Inanwatan [Suabo], Duriankere, Yahadian, Konda, Ekagi [Ekari], Wodani [Wolani], Moni, Uhunduni [Damal], W. Dani [Western Dani], Gr. V. Dani [Grand Valley Dani], S. Nglai, Kwerba (Lake-Plain, Kaowerawedj [Kauwera], Airmati [Kwerba]), Samarokena, Saberi [Isirawa], Berik, Bonerif, Mander, Itik, Kwesten, Marengi [Dineor], Turu, Baburiwa [Eritai], Kwerisa, Taori Kei [Kaiy], Aikwakai [Sitarikai], Papasena, Weretai [Waritai], Taori So [Doutai], Taworta [Taburta], Dabra [Taburta], Foau, Mawes, Uria [Orya], Nimbaoran [Nimboran], Mekwei, Kamtuk, Gresi, Kwansu [Mlap], Sentani, Nafri, Tanah Merah [Tabla], Demta [Sowari], Awyi, Taikat, Waris, Manem, Senggi [Viid], Waina [Sowanda], Dera [Dla], Dubu [Tebi], Towei, Yafi [Zorop], Emumu [Emen], Kaure, Narau, Sause, Kapori [Kapauri], Morwap [Elseng], Molof, Usku, Tofamna [Tofanma], Dem, Naltia [Nalca], Yaly [Yali, Pass Valley], Wanam [Yale, Kosarak], Korapun [Korapun-Sela], Mt Goliath [Una], Tehit, Kalabra, Seget [Moi Lemos], Moi, Moraid, Karon [Abun], Madik [dialect of Abun], Karon D. [Karon Dori], Brat [Mai Brat], Amberbaken [Mpur], Borai [Hatam], Hattam [Hatam], Meax [Meyah], Meninggo [Moskona], Manton [Sougb], Yava [Yawa], Tarunggare [Tunggare], Baropasi [Barapasi], Bauri [Bauzi], Tumawo [Skou], Sangke [Wutung], Pyu, Biksi [Yetfa], Warenbori [Warembori], Taurap [Burmese], Pauwi [Yoke], Kaiwai [Kowiai], Uruangnirin, Onin, Iramutu [Irarutu--check: is Iramutu a misprint on my part for Irarutu?], Nabi, Salawati, Biak, Wandamen [Wamesa], Ron [Roon], Dusner, Yeretuar, Tandia, Yaur, Iresim [Yeresiam], Waropen, Mor, Ansus, Woi, Pom, Marau, Munggui, Papuma, Busami, Serui-Laut, Wadapi-Laut [dialect of Ambai], Ambai, Wabo, Kurudu, Sobei, Bongo, Tarpia, Ormu, Yotafa [Tobati].

“The wordlists presented here come from twenty different sources ... using orthographics ranging from completely impressionistic to accurately phonetic, or phonemic. In this Appendix, therefore, an attempt has been made to unify the spelling by using an orthography which is neither phonemic nor accurately phonemic, but which, for comparative purposes, gives a workable approximation of the phonic shape of the words” (p. 91).

1976: [IUW] Surveys in five P.N.G. languages. Ukarumpa, Papua New Guinea: Summer Institute of Linguistics, 1976. 122 p.: maps; 23 cm. Library binding hupreserving pale green front wrapper, lettered in black. Workpapers in Papua New Guinea languages v. 16. Includes bibliographical references.

Contents:

1) Fleischmann, L. and Turpeinen, S. A dialect survey of Eastern Papua-Fly languages. Appendix A—Bine word lists: English-Kunini, Sebe, Irupi, Masingle, Täti, Drageli, Sogale, Giringarede, Boze, pp. 22-34; Appendix B—Gizra [Gizra] word lists: English-Waidoro, Kupere, Togo, pp. 35-37; Appendix C—Gidra [Wipi] word lists: English-Ume, Peawa, Abam, Wipm, Guiam, Yuta, Kapal, Gamaewe, Kuru, Iamega, Zim, Wonie, Podari, Dorogori, pp. 38-49.

2) Wilson, P. Ambulas dialect survey. "Lexical items," English-Maprik, Wosera, Wingei, pp. 56-57; Appendix B—"Comparative Word List (compiled from items found in Swadesh list.): English-Maprik, Wingei, Wosera, Kwasengen, pp. 67-70.

3) Freudenberg, A. The dialects of Boiken. No vocabularies.

4) Tonson, J. The languages in the Schraeder ranges. English-Waibuk [Haruai]-Aramo [Pinai-Hagahai], pp. 99-104.

5) McElhanon, K. and Sogum, S. English-Wasembo vocabulary. English-Wasembo, pp. 114-119.

1997: [IUW] Materials on languages in danger of disappearing in the Asia-Pacific region: Kaki Ae, Musom, and Aribwatsa, edited by S.A. Wurm. Canberra: Pacific Linguistics, Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University, 1997. vi, 183 p. 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original light yellow-green wrappers, lettered in black. Pacific linguistics. Series D 89. Includes bibliographical references. "Kaki [Kaki Ae]-English Dictionary," pp.40-46, "English-Kaki [Kaki Ae] Finder List," pp. 46-50. "The 450 entries in this dictionary come from the texts in §7, the SIL standard word list (including the Swadesh 100 word list), and miscellaneous words elicited during text analysis and general conversations." Thematically arranged English-Musom wordlist, pp. 109-142. Thematically arranged English-Aribwatsa wordlist, pp. 164-182. "Informant. Butôawê, female, aged 80+ years. Interviewed in Hengali Village, Lae, August 1985 by S. Holzkecht."

1998: [LILLYbm] "Muyuw: its relationships with its neighbors and the bilingualism of its speakers," by David Lithgow, in: Papers in Austronesian Linguistics No. 5, (1998), ed. by Darrell Tryon, pp. 1-34. Original green wrappers, lettered and decorated in green. . First edition. Series: Pacific Linguistics, Series A-92. Includes as Appendix A "Sample word lists used for vocabulary cognate counts", pp. 15-16, with 67 words in English followed by their equivalents in Muyuw and ten other dialects/languages as follows: Muyuw, Kwewata [language or dialect spoken on Kwewata Island], Iwa [dialect of Muyuw], Kitava [dialect of Kilivila], Kiriwina [Kilivila], Budibud, Misima [Misima-Paneati], Tubetube [Bwanabwana], Duau, Dobu and Gumawana.

"This article reports on a survey conducted in the period from January to March 1994 to determine the synchronic relationships among a number of languages of the Papuan Tip Cluster. Central to the study are Muyuw of Woodlark Island and several communalects closely related to it" (Introduction).

[TRAVELLER DANISH] Traveller Danish is listed in Wikipedia as one of three "sub-forms" of Scandoromani, along with Tavringer Romani, and Traveller Norwegian.

Ethnologue considers all three separate languages. Traveller Norwegian is spoken by a Romani minority community (c. 100–150 elderly speakers) in Norway. Like Angloromani in Britain and Caló in Spain, Scandoromani in its various forms draws upon a (now extinct) vocabulary of inflected Romani. Much of the original Romani grammar, however, has been lost to the users, and they now communicate in Swedish or Norwegian grammar. Ethnologue lists Traveller Danish as now extinct.

Ethnologue: rmd. Alternate Names: Rodi, Rotwelsch.

1945: [IUW] The Rodi (Rotwelsch) in Norway, by Ragnvald Iversen. Oslo: Kommisjon Hos Jacob Dybwad, 1945. 267 p. 28 cm. Part II of The Secret Languages of Norway. Library binding (includes all three parts of the series). Traveller Danish-English-Norwegian and further equivalents from various languages, pp. 18-198; English index to Traveller Danish, pp. 254-266, Addenda et corrigenda, p. 267. The Introduction, pp. 14-16, discusses in detail the distinction Iversen is making between Romany (Traveller Norwegian) and Rotwelsch (Rodi) as spoken in Norway at that time.

[TRINIDADIAN CREOLE ENGLISH] Trinidadian English Creole is a creole language commonly spoken throughout Trinidad. It is distinct from Tobagonian Creole – particularly at the basilectal level– and from other Lesser Antillean English creoles. English is the country's official language (the national standard variety is Trinidadian English), but the main spoken languages are Trinidadian English Creole and Tobagonian English Creole. Both creoles contain elements from a variety of African languages. Trinidadian English Creole is also influenced by French and French Creole (Patois) (WikP). Population; 10,000 (2020).

Ethnologue: trf.

1967: [IUW] Trini-bagian-ese: words and phrases, old and new, peculiar to the speech of Trinidadians and Tobagonians, fixed-up by C. R. Ottley. [Diego Martin, Trinidad: s.n.], 1967. 3 v.; 21 x 13.8 cm. Original wrappers: vol. 1 yellow and black, lettered in yellow and black, with cover drawing of men smoking on corner; vol. 2 black and green fading to brown, lettered green and black, with same cover drawing; vol. 3 green and white, lettered in white and green, with same cover drawing. Little books on Trinidad and Tobago; no. 1, 2, 4. Vol. 1: 3rd ed.; vol. 2: 1st ed., 1966; vol. 3: 1st ed., 1967. Vol. 1: Trinidadian Creole English-English, pp. 8-28; vol. 2, pp. 3-26; vol. 3, pp. 3-22. The first edition of vol. 1 appeared in 1965. Each volume contains new vocabulary. The edition is always clearly indicated on the front wrapper.

"This small volume I am fully aware contains not more than twenty per cent of the words and phrases common in the language" (vol. 1, p. 7).

"In presenting the second volume of words and phrases peculiar to speech in Trinidad and Tobago, I merely wish to repeat what I wrote in some detail in volume one, that we have a language of our own, rudimentary though it may be, and that English is a second language" (Introduction, vol. 2).

"These small volumes will continue to appear from time to time. I would therefore advise anyone who wishes to have a complete record to start now to obtain those which have already been published and ensure that they are placed in a binder of some sort" (Introduction, vol. 3).

1971 All-in-one Edition: [LILLYmk] Creole Talk (Trinibagianese) of Trinidad and Tobago: Words, Phrases and Sayings Peculiar to the Country, fixed up by C. R. Ottley. 96p. 21 x 13.8 cm. Original yellow wrappers, lettered in black, with same cover drawing of men smoking on corner used in 1967. Combines all four volumes originally published 1965-1967.

1976: [LILLYbm] Cote ce Cote la. Trinidad & Tobago Dictionary, compiled by John Mendes. Trinidad: B. L. C. P. Ltd, n.d. [1976?]. Original unlettered red paper over boards with orange endpapers; dust jacket black, yellow, red, and pink, lettered in white and black. Pp. [4] 1-200 [6]. Edition not indicated. Includes Trinidad/Tobago - English, pp. 1-200.

"[Trinidad's] language, while Britannic in essence, is thoroughly marinated with the elusive Spanish gold, French assaults, and a History rich from the cross-mingling of the sweat of slaves, with the vicissitudes of aristocracy. Entire villages still use the Patois, (broken French) and some Spanish-speaking territories not only still exist, but strongly flourish.... A sizeable portion of its inhabitants are of East Indian heritage. Arabic, Chinese and other exotic tongues ... are also well represented.... Much of this copious pot-pouri is derived from an interchange with Tobago, the sister isle" (Foreword).

1985: [LILLYmk] Cote ce Cote la. Trinidad & Tobago Dictionary, compiled by John Mendes. Trinidad: Syncreators, 1976. "1985 c." under "credits". Original unlettered dark brown paper over boards, red endpapers; dust jacket black, yellow, red, and pink, lettered in white and black. Pp. [4] 1-200 [6]. Includes Trinidad/Tobago - English, pp. 1-200. Second copy: [IUW] "1985 c." under "credits," original unlettered dark brown paper over boards, red endpapers, lacks d.j. Later known printings include 1986 in Trinidad by The College Press, and an apparently enlarged edition of 392 p. as a "first edition" by New Millennium, also in Trinidad.

2009: [IUW] Dictionary of the English/Creole of Trinidad & Tobago: on historical principles / edited by Lise Winer. Montreal: McGill-Queen's University Press, c2009. xxiv, 1039 p.; 29 cm. Creole of Trinidad and Tobago. Map on front and back endpapers. Includes bibliographical references (p. 1019-1039) and index.

[TRINITARIO] Moxo (aka Mojo, pronounced 'Moho') is a pair of Maipurean languages spoken by the Moxo people of Northeastern Bolivia. The two varieties of Moxo, Trinitario and Ignaciano, are as distinct from one another as they are from neighboring Maipurean languages (WikP).

Ethnologue: trn. Alternate Names: Mojos, Moxos.

1702: see under IGNACIANO.

[TRIÓ] The Tiriýó language is the everyday language of the Tiriýó people, the majority of whom are monolingual. Although Tiriýó is the preferred spelling, the Tiriýó refer to themselves as tarëno; other variations, including tarano, tirió, and trio, exist. The Tiriýó are located on both sides of the Brazil-Suriname border in Lowland South America. Because Tiriýó is spoken by the entire Tiriýó population, its level of endangerment is low. However, it may be threatened by the presence of a newly installed radar station staffed by a considerable number of non-Indigenous people close to the main village. (WikP).

Ethnologue: tri. Alternate Names: Tiriýó, Tirió. Autonym: Tarëno ijomi.

1848: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1882: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1893: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TRIQUE LANGUAGES] The Triqui /'tri:ki:/, or Trique, languages are Oto-Manguean languages of Mexico spoken by the Trique people of the state of Oaxaca and the state of Baja California (due to recent population movements). They belong to the Mixtecan branch together with the Mixtec languages and Cuicatec. Ethnologue includes three major varieties: 1) Triqui de Copala spoken by 15,000 people (1990 census) in San Juan Copala, Oaxaca (and recently due to migrations in the San Quintín valley, Baja California); 2) Triqui de San Andrés Chicahuaxtla spoken by 6,000 people in San Andrés Chicahuaxtla, Oaxaca; 3) Triqui de San Martín Itunyoso spoken by 2,000 people (1983 survey) in San Martín Itunyoso, Oaxaca (WikP).

An online dictionary of Copala Triqui may be found at www.webonary.org.

[TRIQUI, CHICAHUAXTLA] Triqui de San Andrés Chicahuaxtla [is] spoken by 6,000 people in San Andrés Chicahuaxtla, Oaxaca, [Mexico] (WikP).

Ethnologue: trs. Alternate Names: Chicahuaxtla Trique, Triqui Alto, Triqui de San Andrés Chicahuaxtla.

1978: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Triqui de Chicahuaxtla, Triqui-Castellano, Castellano-Triqui, compiled by Claude Good. Mexico, D.F.: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1978. Original white and ochre wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-10 11-104 [20]. First edition. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves, no. 20. This copy with ink stamp: "Withdrawn Dumbarton Oaks." Includes Trique-Spanish, pp. 11-50, and Spanish-Trique, pp. 55-104. 300 copies. Second copy: [IUW].

"The people who speak Trique live in the state of Oaxaca, in the region bordering on the state of Guerrero.... There are three dialects of the Trique language: those of Copala, Itunyoso and Chicahuaxtla, with a total of 15,000 speakers. This dictionary presents the dialect of Chicahuaxtla, which contains approximately 5,500 speakers" (Prologue, tr: BM).

[TRUMAI] Trumai is a language spoken by the indigenous community of the same name located in the Xingu reserve along the Upper Xingu River in central Brazil. Murphy and Quain reported that there were only 25 people remaining in the Trumai community. Fortunately, this has since increased to 94 as of 1997, of which 51 people spoke the Trumai language. In the International Encyclopedia of Linguistics, Grimes observes that there are 78 speakers as of 2003. Due to the popularity of speaking Portuguese among the local population, Trumai is considered an extremely endangered language because the children are not learning to speak it as a first language. In the preface to her thesis "A Reference Grammar of Trumai", Guirardello states that Monod-Becquelin was the first person to conduct descriptive studies on the Trumai language [see below] (WikP).

Ethnologue: tpy.

1894: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1975: [IUW] La pratique linguistique des Indiens Trumai: Haut-Xingu, Mato Grosso, Brésil, by Aurore Monod-Becquelin. Paris: SELAF, 1975- v.: ill.; 25 cm. Vol. 1: original yellows wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black; Vol. 2: library binding, preserving original yellow front wrapper, lettered in black. Langues et civilisations à tradition orale 9, etc. Vol. 2 has on cover: Les aventures de soleil et lune, et d'autres mythes trumai. Summary in French, English, German, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish. Includes bibliographies and indexes. Vol. 2: Trumai-Portuguese-Latin lists of mammals, birds, fish, lizards, toads, frogs, snakes, and plants, pp. 19-37.

"There being no previous linguistic publications concerning the Trumai, it seemed advisable to include a sketch of the information available concerning the related languages as well as Trumai. This work is therefore composed of two parts: one dealing with the prevalent multilingualism and the other concerning the Trumai language in particular" (English resume).

[TSEKU] Tseku (Tzuku) is a Tibetic language of Tibet. Tournadre (2013) classifies it with Khams Tibetan (WikP).

Ethnologue: tsk. Alternate Names: Tsuku, Tzuku.

1909: see under AUSTROASIATIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TSETSAUT] The Tsetsaut language is an extinct Athabascan language formerly spoken by the now-extinct Tsetsaut in the Behm and Portland Canal area of Southeast Alaska and northwestern British Columbia. Virtually everything known of the language comes from the limited material recorded by Franz Boas in 1894 from two Tsetsaut slaves of the Nisga'a, which is enough to establish that Tsetsaut formed its own branch of Athabascan. It is not known precisely when the language became extinct. One speaker was still alive in 1927. The Nisga'a name for the Tsetsaut people is "Jits'aawit". The Tsetsaut referred to themselves as the Wetat. The English name Tsetsaut is an anglicization of [ts'əts'əut], "those of the interior", used by the Gitksan and Nisga'a to refer to the Athabascan-speaking people to the north and east of them, including not only the Tsetsaut but some Tahltan and Sekani (WikP).

Ethnologue: txc. Alternate Names: Jits'aawit, Wetat, Wetalh.

1924: [LILLYbm] "Ts'ets'aut, an Athapascan language from Portland Canal, British Columbia," by Franz Boas & Pliny E. Goddard, in: International Journal of American Linguistics, New York, Vol. 3, No. 1 (July 1924), pp. [1]-35. Includes English-Tsetsaut vocabulary arranged by grammatical categories, pp. 4-33, with annotations comparing the language to other Athapascan languages. First published vocabulary of Tsetsaut.

"The material contained in the following pages was collected in 1894.... Unfortunately my principal informant, Levi, was exceedingly difficult to manage, and I did not succeed in making him understand that I desired to have connected sentences.... Furthermore the work was conducted through a Nass River interpreter, to whom Levi translated his words into Nass, and who in turn translated these words to me into Chinook Jargon" (p. [1]).

Also included in this issue: "Vocabulary of the Athapascan Tribe of Nicola Valley, British Columbia," by Franz Boas, pp. 36-38. Includes 30 words, Nicola Valley [Nicola]-English, reprinted from the author's report on the Northwestern Tribes of Canada, Ipswich Meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, 1895, pp. 551 et seq.

Also included in this issue: "Vocabulary of an Athapascan Dialect of the State of Washington," by Franz Boas & Pliny E. Goddard, pp. 39-45. Includes 322-word English-Kwalhiokwa [Kwalhioqua-Clatskanie] vocabulary, pp. 41-45.

"The Chinook called the Athapascan tribe on the Willapa River Tkulxiyogwa'ike which corresponds to the form Kwalhioqua given by Hale and Anderson" (p. 41).

[TSHANGLA] Tshangla (/tsʰaŋla/), also called Sharchop, is a Sino-Tibetan language of the Bodish branch closely related to the Tibetic languages and much of its vocabulary derives from Classical Tibetan. Tshangla is primarily spoken in Eastern Bhutan and acts as a lingua franca in the country particularly among Sharchop/Tshangla communities, it is also spoken in Arunachal Pradesh, India and Tibet. Tshangla is the principal pre-Tibetan (pre-Dzongkha) language of Bhutan. Tshangla dialects represent a continuum centered around the town of Trashigang, whose dialect is considered by Tshangla speakers to be the prestige dialect. Differences between dialects do not prevent mutual intelligibility, and many loanwords have come through Classical Tibetan (Chöke). In Arunachal Pradesh, Tshangla is spoken in the Dirang area of West Kameng. The dialect there, called "Central Monpa", is spoken by some 6,000 people [see 1968 below]. More speakers of Tshangla dialects live in Kathmandu, Darjeeling and Assam. In Bhutan, Tshangla is virtually identical to Cāngluò (Chinese: 仓洛) of southeastern Tibet, also called "Mòtuō (Bomê) Monpa". The Bomê County region of Tibet, formerly known as Padma-bkod or Pemako, contains remnants of these Tshangla communities separated by hundreds of miles (WikP).

Ethnologue: tsj. Alternate Names: Menba, Monpa, Sangla, Sarchapkhkha, Shachobiikha, Shachopkha, Sharchagpakha, Sharchhokpa, Tsangla, Tshalingpa.

1968: [IUW] An introduction to Central Monpa [by] K. Das Gupta. Shillong, North-East Frontier Agency, 1968 [i.e. 1971] vi, 167 p. 22 cm. Original pale yellow paper over boards, lettered in black; library copy has black unprinted cloth spine, possibly original. Part II: Vocabulary [thematically-arranged], English-Central Monpa [Tshangla], in both Roman and Monpa script, pp. [65]-133; Part III: Sentences [thematically-arranged], Central Monpa [Tshangla]-English, pp. 138-166. Comparative word lists of [the villages of] Dirang, Senge and Jang (23 words), p. 167. "DIPR. 11/800."

"The material of this book was collected in the Dirang and Sangti villages. I am indebted to the people of these villages for assisting me in the collection of materials" (Acknowledgement).

"Monpa, also spelt Monba, is the westernmost of the Bodic languages of N. E. F. A. and is the speech of about twenty-one thousand souls. It occupies the western half of the Kament district, between the allied speeches of Bhutan in the west and Miji and Sherdukpen in the east and the Himalayas in the north and the Inner Line of the south.... Central Monpa, spoken by about six thousand souls, forms the subject of this book. The area of this dialect is surrounded by Miji and Dafla in the east, Bhutanese in the west, Northern Monpa [Tawang Monpa] in the north, Sherdukpen and Southern Monpa [Kalaktang Monpa] in the south" (Introduction).

2017: [IUW] Tshangl-lha'i tshig mdzod: Bod skad shan sbyar = Tshanglha dictionary / Lopon P. Ogyan Tanzin. Sarnath, Varanasi: O-rgyan Chos-'khor-gling, 2015. xxiii, v, ii, 713 pages, 23 unnumbered pages; 21 cm + 1 CD-ROM (4 3/4 in.) Pemako book series; 1. In Tibetan (Tibetan in roman also); foreword in English. Dictionary of local Tibetan dialect, called Tshangla, spoken in east Bhutan, west Arunachal, and Pemako in Tibet.

[TSHUWAU] Tsoa, Tshwa or Tshuwau, also known as Kua and Hiechware, is an East Kalahari Khoe dialect cluster spoken by several thousand people in Botswana and Zimbabwe. One of the dialects is Tjwao (formerly spelled 'Tshwao'), the only Khoisan language in Zimbabwe, where "Koisian" is a language officially recognised in the constitution (WikP).

Ethnologue: hio. Alternate Names: Chirechire, Chuwau, Chware, Gabake-Ntshori, Glabake, Haitshuari, Hietshware, Hiochuwau, Hiotshuwau, Kalahari Khoe, Kwe, Kwe-Etshori Kwee, Kwe-Tshori, Masarwa, Sesarwa, Tati, Tati Bushman, Tshwa, Tshwao, Tsoa, Tsua, "Sarwa" (pej.)

1982: see under KHWEDAM.

[TSIMANÉ] Chimané (Tsimané) is a South American language. Some dialects are known as Masetén (Masetén of Santa Ana, Masetén of Covendo). Chimane is a language of the western Bolivian lowlands spoken by the Tsimane peoples along the Beni River and the region around San Borja in the Department of Beni (Bolivia). Sakel (2004) [3] classifies them as two languages for a number of reasons, yet some of the variants of the language are mutually intelligible and they reportedly have no trouble communicating (Ethnologue 16) and were evidently a single language separated recently through cultural contact (Campbell 2000) (WikP).

Ethnologue: cas. Alternate Names: Chimané, Masetén, Maseteno.

1917: [LILLYbm] Moseteno Vocabulary and Treatises, by Benigno Bibolotti. Evanston and Chicago: Northwestern University, 1917. Original brown half-cloth and tan cloth over boards, lettered in gold ("Northwestern University Library" at base of spine). 142 pp. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. "From an Unpublished Manuscript in possession of Northwestern University Library." Includes several thematically-arranged Moseteno-English vocabularies, as well as reproducing, pp. 3-102, the extensive Spanish-Moseteno vocabulary of Bibolotti. Second copy: [IUW].

"Dr. Schuler had supplied an English translation of the whole vocabulary, but it did not seem to me that such a translation added anything of value [sic]. I have, therefore, omitted it... Dr. Schuler had undertaken to correct many of Bibolotti's errors and supply omissions...[C]hanges were made to the printed proof needed to make the reproduction of the manuscript correspond to the original" (Walter Lichtenstein). The vocabulary is of "a relatively little studied Bolivian aboriginal idiom spoken by Indians who have almost vanished [1917]" (Rudolf Schuler). The manuscript is dated Covendo, May 20, 1868.

[TSIMSHIAN] The Tsimshianic languages are a family of languages spoken in northwestern British Columbia and in Southeast Alaska on Annette Island and Ketchikan. About 2,170 people of the ethnic Tsimshian /'simʃiən/ population in Canada still speak a Tsimshian language; about 50 of the 1,300 Tsimshian people living in Alaska still speak Coast Tsimshian. Tsimshianic languages are considered by most linguists to be an isolate group of languages, with four main languages or lects: Coast Tsimshian, Southern Tsimshian, Nisga'a, and Gitksan. Nisga'a and Gitksan are very closely related and are usually considered dialects of the same language by linguists. However, speakers from both groups consider themselves ethnically separate from each other and from the Tsimshian and thus consider Nisga'a and Gitksan to be separate languages. Coast and Southern Tsimshian are also often regarded as dialects of the same language. As of 2013, Tsimshian courses are available at the University of Alaska Southeast (WikP).

Ethnologue includes 3 languages under the Tsimshian family: 1) Tsimshian: tsi. Alternate names: Chimmezyan, Maritime Tsimshianic, Sm'algyax, Tsimpshean, Zimshian; 2) Gitksan [git]; and 3) Nisga'a [ncg]. Ethnologue considers Southern Tsimshian (Old Klemtu, Sguxs, Skiixs), and Coast Tsimshian (Sm'algyax), as dialects of Tsimshian (tsi).

1862: see under CHINOOK WAWA.

1894 [1972]: [IUW] Die Sprache der Zimshian-Indianer in Nordwest-America, von A. C. Graf von der Schulenburg. [Walluf bei Wiesbaden] M. Sändig [1972]. 16, viii, 372 p. 29cm. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Tsimshian-German, pp. [199]-318, German-Tsimshian, pp. 321-369. Reprint of the Brunswick, 1894 ed.

1978: [LILLYbm] A practical dictionary of the Coast Tsimshian language, by John Asher Dunn. Ottawa: National Museums of Canada, 1978. Original white wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. Pp. [I] i-x xi, 1-155 156. First edition. Series: National Museum of Man Mercury Series. Canadian Ethnology Service Paper No. 42. Includes Tsimshian-English, pp. 1-118, with English index, pp. 119-144. Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary represents a contemporary complement to the Tsimshian work of Franz Boas (1912) and Amelia Susman (1940) since it was compiled in the period from 1968 to 1977. Likewise it represents a geographic complement to the Tsimshian materials because it contains data from the Katkatla and Hartley Bay. The earlier research had been conducted in Metlakatla and Port Simpson" (Abstract).

1995: [LILLYbm] Sm'algyax: A Reference Dictionary and Grammar for the Coast Tsimshian Language, compiled and edited by John Asher Dunn. Seattle: University of Washington Press, 1995. Original stiff black and white wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. 145, 79. New combined edition of two volumes first published in 1978 and 1979. Includes Coast Tsimshian [a dialect of Tsimshian]-English and an English index. Second copy: [IUW].

[TSONGA] Tsonga (Xitsonga) is a southern African Bantu language spoken by the Tsonga people. It was officially created in 1875 at the Valdezia Mission Station and Elim/Waterval/ Shirley Mission Stations by two Swiss missionaries, Reverend Paul Berthoud and Reverend Ernest Creux. Prior to the arrival of the Missionaries at Valdezia, the Tsonga people in that region that includes, Bungeni, Chavani, Mbhokota, Shirley, Riverplaats, Elim, Waterval, Nwaxinyamani and adjacent areas did not speak one language, but rather, they spoke a diverse of east coast dialects all related to modern Tsonga language. The Swiss Missionaries combined all these east coast dialects, such as Xigwamba, XiNkuna, Xihlengwe, XiTembe, XiValoyi, XiNyembani, Xitswa, XiRonga, and XiChopi to form a new unified superlanguage which they called 'Thonga', but they later modified it and renamed Xitsonga or simply Tsonga. The Swiss Missionaries refused to recognise Tswa and Ronga as independent languages from Xitsonga because, according to them, Tswa and Ronga are 99% related to Xitsonga. At Valdezia Mission Station and the Elim Mission Station, Tswa and Ronga were swallowed, incorporated and disappeared into Xitsonga. But in Mozambique, Tswa, Ronga and Xitsonga continue to exist as independent languages. The only differences between Tswa, Ronga and Xitsonga in Mozambique is that Ronga and Tswa are highly influenced by the Portuguese language as Maputo and Matola are the homelands of the Ronga and Tswa people. While the homelands of Xitsonga speakers in Mozambique starts 75 km north of Maputo, Xitsonga, Tswa and Ronga are 99% similar to one another, and it is difficult for a non-Xitsonga speaker to see a difference between the three dialects (WikP).

Ethnologue: tso. Alternate Names: Shangaan, Shangana, Shitsonga, Thonga, Tonga, Xitsonga.

1909: [LILLY] Pocket dictionary: Thonga (Shangaan)-English, English-Thonga (Shangaan). Ch.W. Chatelain. Lausanne, G. Bridel, 1909. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in white. Libraries Worldwide: 11 Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1662. Tsonga-English, English-Tsonga. Withdrawn from the War Office, London.

1923: Second edition? [LILLYbm] Pocket dictionary: Thonga (Shangaan)-English, English-Thonga (Shangaan), compiled by Rev. Ch. W. Chatelain, of the Swiss Mission. Lausanne: Imprimeries Reunies, 1923. 190 p. Cf. Hendrix 1662 (this edition not listed; there was a fifth edition in 1960, Hendrix 1663).

1974: Sixth edition [IUW] English-Tsonga, Tsonga-English pocket dictionary / Swiss Mission in South Africa. 6th ed. [Johannesburg]: The Mission, 1974. 214 p.; 16 cm.

1924: see 1924b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1931: [LILLYbm] An English-vernacular dictionary of the Bantu-Botatwe dialects of Northern Rhodesia, by J. Torrend. Natal, South Africa: London: P.O. Mission Siding, Northern Rhodesia: Chikuni Bookstall: Mariannhill; Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., 1931. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. I-V VI-VIII, [4] I 2-649 650-654. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1667. Republished by Gregg in 1967 under an altered title. Includes English-Tsonga, pp. [1]-649. The first English dictionary of the language was published by Chatelain in 1909 (see above).

"The speech described in this work is thought to be the most archaic of the Bantu languages.... It comprises a number of homogeneous dialects easily recognized at the first hearing by the fact that all of them, and they alone in the world, use the typical expression bantu botatwe for 'three people.' For this reason it may be called the Bantu Botatwe Language" (Foreword).

1962: [LILLYbm] Tsonga. Terminologie en Spalreëls No. 2. Terminology and Orthography No. 2 [= Second Edition], by the Tsonga Language Committee, Department of Bantu Education. Pretoria: The Government Printer, 1962. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1 2-153 154 [2]. Second edition. No indication of date of first edition. Includes English-Afrikaans-Tsonga vocabulary, pp. 22-153.

"The terms included in the lists are intended in the first place for use in the primary classes and the majority have been taken from the syllabuses concerned. Further, the list is supplemented with terms taken from the school handbooks and also terms which teachers would normally be expected to know and to use, though not necessarily to teach to their pupils.... [This is an extensive vocabulary which excludes] words in common usage which can be found in the dictionaries.... Some words...have...been included because a comprehensive dictionary for the language does not, as yet, exist" (Foreword).

1976: [IUW] Tsonga / Department van Bantoe-Onderwys. Pretoria: Government Press, 1976. 219 p.; 21 cm. "Terminologie en spelreëls no. 3". English and Afrikaans on opposite pages. "Wordlist" in English, Afrikaans, and Tsonga.

1984: [IUW] Dictionary of basic English / K.B. Hartshorne, assisted by J.H.A. Swart and E. Posselt. 1st ed. Johannesburg: Educum Publishers, [1984], c1983. 642 p.; 22 cm. Cover title: Dictionary of basic English-Tsonga. "Tsonga appendix to Varia's dictionary of basic English": p. 523-642.

1996: [IUW] Dicionário Changana-Português / Bento Siteo. Maputo: Instituto Nacional do Desenvolvimento da Educação, 1996. xix, 356 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 352). Tsonga-Portuguese dictionary.

1998: see under BOKO.

2016: [IUW] Dicionário gramatical Changana (Tsonga) / Pe. Armando Ribeiro, C.M. 2a. edição. Second edition. Maputo, Moçambique: Paulinas Editora, 2016. 249 pages; 21 cm. Portuguese-Tsonga grammatical dictionary.

[TSOTSITAAL LANGUAGES] Tsotsitaals are a variety of mixed languages mainly spoken in the townships of Gauteng province, such as Soweto, but also in other agglomerations all over South Africa. Tsotsi is a Sesotho slang word for a "thug" or "robber" (possibly from the verb "ho tsotsa" "to sharpen" — whose meaning has been modified in modern times to include "to con"; or from the tsetse fly, as the language was first known as Flytaal, although "flaai" also means cool or street smart) and taal is the Afrikaans word for "language". A tsotsitaal is built over the grammar of one or several languages, in which terms from other languages or specific terms created by the community of speakers are added. It is a permanent work of language-mix, language-switch, and terms-coining. From the original Tsotsitaal, the noun tsotsitaal came to refer to any gang or street language in South Africa. However, the specific variety behind the term would depend on the languages actually present in the specific urban environment where one tsotsitaal appears. The most important tsotsitaal nowadays in South Africa is the one from the township of Soweto, the largest township and the place which shows the most diverse linguistic setting in the country (WikP).

Ethnologue lists Tsotsitaal as an alternate name for Flaaitaal (an early manifestation) and present-day Camtho: cmt. Alternate Names: Iscamtho, Isicamtho, Tsotsitaal.

2003: see under CAMTHO.

[TSOU] Tsou is a divergent Austronesian language spoken by the Tsou people of Taiwan. Tsou is a threatened language; however, this status is uncertain. The speakers are located in the west central mountains southeast of Chiayi, Alishan area in Taiwan. The language is not written, so it can only be passed by folk songs and folk tales (WikP). Population: 4,000 (Zeitoun 2005). Ethnic population: 6,700 (2020 CIP).

Ethnologue: tsu. Alternate Names: Cou, Namakaban, Niitaka, Tibola, Tibolah, Tibolak, Tibolal, Tso, Tsoo, Tsu-U, Tsu-Wo, Tsuou, Tzo.

1935 [1981]: [IUW] Materialy po govoram iazyka tsou: Slovar' dialekta severnykh tsou / N.A. Nevskii; [Predisloviia L. Gromkovskoi, M. Chigrinskogo]. Moskva: Izd-vo "Nauka," Glav. red. Vostochnoi lit-ry, 1981. 291 p.; 21 cm. Reprint. Originally published: Moscow, Izd-vo Akademii nauk SSSR, 1935. (Trudy Instituta vostokovedeniia; 11). Includes bibliographical references. Tsou-Russian dictionary.

1941: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1961: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1966: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1969: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TSWA] Tswa (Xitswa) is a South-Eastern Bantu language in Southern Mozambique. Its closest relatives are Ronga and Tsonga, the three forming the Tswa–Ronga family of languages. Tswa is mainly spoken in the rural areas west of Inhambane. Its largest dialect, Hlengwe, extends westwards to Southern Zimbabwe; Maho (2009) considers this to be a distinct language. The other principal dialects are Dzibi (Dzivi) and Dzonga. According to some estimates, there are just over one million BaTswa, but not all can speak the Tswa language. Many Mozambicans, including census officials, often consider it a dialect of Tsonga (Shangaan) (WikP), Ethnologue: tsc. Alternate Names: Kitshwa, Sheetshwa, Shitshwa, Tshwa, Xitshwa, Xitswa.

1924: see 1924b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1928: [LILLY] An English-Tswa dictionary, by J.A. Persson. Cleveland, Transvaal: Inhambane Mission Press, 1928. 250 p.; 19 cm. Original gray cloth, lettered in black. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1671. Includes English-Tswa, pp. [9]-249. Presentation copy from the author to Professor Gerhardt Lindblom, author of The Akamba in British East Africa and other ethnological monographs.

[TSWANA] The Tswana language, Setswana or Sichuan, is a language spoken in southern Africa by about five million people. It is a Bantu language belonging to the Niger–Congo language family within the Sotho languages branch of Zone S (S.30), and is closely related to the Northern- and Southern Sotho languages, as well as the Kgalagadi language and the Lozi language. Tswana is an official language and lingua franca of Botswana. The majority of Tswana speakers are found in the north of South Africa, where four million people speak the language, and where an urbanised variety known as Pretoria Sotho is the principal language of that city. Although Tswana language is significantly spoken in South Africa and Botswana, a small number of speakers are also found in Zimbabwe and Namibia, where respectively an unknown number of people and about 10,000 people speak the language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tsn. Alternate Names: Beetjuans, Chuana, Coana, Cuana, Sechuana, Setswana.

1837: [LILLY] A grammar of the Bechuana language, by James Archbell. Graham's Town, Cape of Good Hope: Meurant and Godlonton, 1837 [1838]. xxii, 82 p., [1] folded leaf; 23 cm. Original gray cloth, lettered in black on spine. Includes half title: A sechuana grammar. Errata leaf at end of volume. Colophon at end of p.82: Graham's Town: Printed by Aldum and Harvey, Bathurst-Street. 1838. Folded leaf entitled "Specimens of Languages of South Africa resembling the Kafir and Sechuana." Includes English-Kafir-Sechuana-Delagoa Bay-Makoha-Monjou-Sowanli or Sowaiel. English-Sechuana vocabulary throughout as examples. First grammar of the Tswana language.

"The principal dialects of Sichuana [sic] at present known to us, are the Sirolong... Sitlapi... Sisutu... Sitlokua... Sioanketsi. The two latter dialects are of minor importance, and the leading peculiarities of the others have been noticed in the Grammer [sic]. In a Dictionary, the compilation of which is now in progress, the difference of the dialects will be particularly noticed" (pp. 81-82). The dictionary referred to appears never to have been published. The first known dictionary of Tswana appeared in 1876 (see below).

1846: see 13) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1857: see under HERERO.

1876: [LILLY] Lokwalo loa mahuku. A secwana le seeñeles. Kabo ea nteha. Mahuku a secwana a hetolecwe mo puoñ ea seeñeles, by John [Tom] Brown [d.1925]. London: printed for the London Missionary Society by Yates and Alexander Chancery Buildings, 1876. Original black cloth, decorated in blind and lettered in gold on spine. Pp. i-iii iv, ²i-iii iv-viii, 1 2-279 280-284. 21.4 cm. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 410 (listing only the 1895 edition). Hendrix 1673 (erroneously described as Tswana to English only). Cf. Dalby 1560. Includes Tswana-English, pp. [1]-130, and English-Tswana, pp. [135]-279, with a table of "Secwana Relationships", pp. [280-283]. This is the first dictionary of Tswana in any language. Second copy: in later brown polished calf and brown cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold.

"This little work was compiled with a view to my own use alone. Being unable to learn words from merely hearing them spoken, and in the absence of a Secwana dictionary, it was necessary for me to begin making a vocabulary upon my introduction to the language. The idea of publishing never occurred to me till some of my brethren who joined the mission after I did, and to whom the vocabularies in their manuscript form had been useful, requested me to print them.... This is but a humble commencement of a work rendered increasingly important by the opening up of Becwana Land to European enterprise, and that commingling of the white and black races which will, in all probability, take place in the near future. My hope is that this work will be useful both in enabling Europeans to obtain a better knowledge of their coloured neighbours, and in helping the Becwana to profit by the superior knowledge of the white man" (Preface).

"The Secwana language is that used by the Becwana people. The Secwana nation is divided into several tribes, whose language is the same, with the exception of slight tribal variations. The dialect used in the vocabulary is for the most part that of the Setihapiñ tribe in South Becwana Land" (p. [²iii]).

1895: Second edition [LILLY] Secwana dictionary: Secwana-English and English-Secwana, by John Brown. Frome [Eng.]: printed for the London Missionary Society by Butler & Tanner, 1895. 466 p. Original black cloth lettered in gold. Includes Tswana-English, pp. [21]-245 and English-

Tswana, pp. 249-466, with a separate title page in Tswana for the second portion.

“After a lapse of nearly twenty years, a new edition of the Secwana vocabulary ought to be larger and more correct than the first edition. It will, I think, be found that this is the case, though there will still be defects.... As the book is bulky, and the demand for it will be limited, I fear the price will be comparatively high. No more than bare cost, however, will be charged. The Missionary Society will be satisfied if the outlay is refunded by sales some day. The compiler has done the work as part of his duties” (from the Preface, signed John Brown, and dated Taungs, March, 1895). The Lilly copy bears scattered contemporary annotations in ink, including the names of the months on the rear leaf.

[1923]: Third edition, revised, enlarged and rearranged [LILLYbm] Secwana dictionary: Secwana-English and English-Secwana (Revised, enlarged and re-arranged), by J[ohn] Tom Brown [d. 1925]. Lobatsi: South Africa District Committee of the London Missionary Society, n.d. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. i-ii iii-v vi, 7-593 594-596. Zaunmüller, col. 410 (listing only the 1895 second edition). Hendrix 1675. Includes Secwana-English, pp. 7-337, and English-Secwana, pp. 338-593. Second copy: [LILLY], in original dark blue cloth, from the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ink ownership stamp and notes on title page, including 1923 date.

"A quarter of a century has passed since the Second Edition of a Secwana Dictionary was published [1895].... The present compiler has completed their work by further additions, but the responsibility for the changes in the arrangement of the book is entirely his own" (Preface).

1993: Fourth edition [IUW] Setswana English, English Setswana dictionary / compiled by Z.I. Matumo. 4th ed. Gaborone, Botswana: Macmillan Botswana: Botswana Book Centre, 1993. xxiii, 647 p.; 23 cm. Brown and yellow paper over boards, lettered in yellow, red, and white. Dalby 1560. Setswana-English, pp. 3-453, English-Setswana, pp. 457-647.

“The Setswana-English-Setswana dictionary, fourth edition, stands in a tradition which goes right back to the days when an orthography was first devised for the language. In 1830 Robert Moffat published a Setswana version of the Gospel of St Luke, and at the back offered two pages of explanations of the more ‘difficult’ words. Is it fanciful to regard this as the first small germ of a dictionary?... The co-publishers present the new edition in the hope that it will prove a worthy successor to the previous editions, and at the same time a significant contribution to Setswana lexicography” (Preface).

1901: [LILLY] Secwana and English phrases, with short introduction to grammar and a vocabulary, by A[lfred] J[ohn] Wookey (1847-1917). Cape Town: Townshend & Son, 1901. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. First edition. This copy withdrawn from the War Office, London, in 1925, with withdrawal stamps. Only this copy located in America as of 2014. There was a second edition in 1902, and a third in 1904. It has been reprinted from the third edition several times over the years.

1963 [1972]: Thirteenth edition [IUW] Puisanyo ya sekgowa le Setswana: with a short introduction to grammar and a vocabulary / by A.J. Wookey. 13th ed. Gaberones: Botswana Book Centre, 1972, [c1963]. 80 p.; 20 cm. Cover title: Tswana-English phrase-book.

1979: Reprinted [IUW] Setswana-English phrasebook = Puisanyo ya sekgowa le Setswana / with a vocabulary and short introduction to grammar by A.J. Wookey. [Johannesburg. S.A.?]: Pula Press, 1979. 80 p.; 19 cm. Cover title: Phrasebook Setswana-English = Puisanyo ya sekgowa le Setswana.

1962: [LILLYbm] Tswana. Terminologie en Spelreëls No.2. Terminology and Orthography No. 2 [= Second Edition], by the Sotho Language Committee, Department of Bantu Education. Pretoria: The Government Printer, 1962. Original ochre wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1 2-162 [2]. Second edition. No copy of first edition located. Includes English-Afrikaans-Tswana vocabulary, pp. 34-162, triple-columned. "The terms included in the lists are intended in the first place for use in the primary classes and the majority have been taken from the syllabuses concerned. Further, the list is supplemented with terms taken from the school handbooks and also terms which teachers would normally be expected to know and to use, though not necessarily to teach to their pupils.... [This is an extensive vocabulary which excludes] words in common usage which can be found in the dictionaries.... Some words...have...been included because a comprehensive dictionary for the language does not, as yet exist" (Foreword).

1983: see 1983a under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1985: [IUW] Dictionary of basic English--Tswana / K.B. Hartshorne, assisted by J.H.A. Swart and E. Posselt. 1st ed. Johannesburg: Educum Publishers, 1985, c1984. 647 p.; 22 cm. Uniform series: Across the curriculum.

1986: [IUW] Learner's English-Tswana dictionary: illustrated in colour. Johannesburg, Republic of South Africa: Librarius, c1986. 156 p.; col. ill.; 19 cm.

1987: [IUW] 'n Woordeboek van tematologiesverwante woorde: Afrikaans/Setswana/English = A dictionary of thematically related words: English/Setswana/Afrikaans, by W.J. Wright. Johannesburg: Educum Publishers, 1987, c1986. 406 p.; 21 cm. First edition.

1990: [IUW] Dikišinare ya Setswana, English, Afrikaans: dictionary, Woordeboek, by J.W. Snyman, editor; J.S. Shole, J.C. Le Roux, subeditors. Pretoria: Via Afrika Ltd., 1990. 527 p.; 25 cm. First edition.

1991a: [IUW] The concise trilingual pocket dictionary: English, Tswana, Afrikaans = Die kort drietalige sakwoordeboek: Afrikaans, Tswana, English, by J.C. Le Roux. Johannesburg: Ad Donker Publisher, 1991. 118, 117 p.; 18 cm. Printed dos-a-dos.

1991b: see 1991c under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1992: [IUW] English-Setswana medical phrasebook and dictionary = Puisanyo ya bongaka ka sekgoa le Setswana / A.M. Merriweather. 2nd rev. and enl. ed. Gaborone, Botswana: Pula Press, 1992. xi, 116 p.; 21 cm. English-Tswana medical phrasebook and dictionary.

1994: [IUW] Kompakte Setswana woordeboek: Afrikaans–Setswana, Setswana–Afrikaans, compiled by G.R. Dent. Pietermaritzburg: Shuter & Shooter, 1994. 207 p.; 15 cm. First edition. Afrikaans and Tswana two-way dictionary.

1995a: see 1995 under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT;

1995b: [IUW] Setswana--animals and plants = (Setswana--ditshedi le ditlhare) / Desmond T. Cole; illustrations by Sara Glendinning; map by Alec Campbell. Prelim. ed. Gaborone, Botswana: Botswana Society, 1995.mxii, 337 p.: ill., map; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 32-35). Names of animals are given Tswana-English and English-Tswana, names of plants are given Tswana-Latin-English and Latin-English-Tswana.

2000: [IUW] Dictionnaire français-setswana: suivi de index tswana-français = Thanodi Sefora-Setswana: e latelwa ke tshupane ya Setswana-Sefora / J. Creissels, M.A. Chebanne. Mogoditshane, Botswana: Tasalls Pub., 2000. [ii], 375 p.: ill.; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical reference (p. [ii]) and index. French-Tswana dictionary.

2006: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2008a: see 2008b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2008b: see 2008c under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

201-?: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2011: [IUW] Thanodi ya thaego ya puo: Setswana/English / R Ramagoshi. Gaborone, Botswana: Pearson Education (Longman Botswana), 2011. vi, 105 p.: col. ill.; 28 cm. "Re-edited and standardised for Botswana pupils by Dr A Chebanne." Tswana-English dictionary.

2012: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[TU] A language in China, known most commonly as Monguor. Classification: Mongolic, Eastern, Mongour. Population 152,000 (2000 census), decreasing. Very few monolinguals. Ethnic population: 290,000 (2010 census). Location: Gansu province; Qinghai province: Hui, Huzhu Tu, and Minhe Tu autonomous counties. Dialects reported not inherently mutually intelligible. Monggul (Huzhu) and Mangghuer (Minhe) may be two separate languages. Dongren Huzhu considered standard. (Ethnologue)

Ethnologue: mjc. Alternate Names: Hu-tsu, Mihe Tu, Mongghul, Mongor, Mongour, Monguor, Qighaan Mongghul.

1933: [IUW] Le dialecte monguor parlé par les mongols du Kansou occidental, by A. de Smedt. Pei-p'ing, Imprimerie de l'Université catholique, 1933. 1 p.l., xiv, 521 p. 26 cm. Library binding. Zaunmüller, col. 274. Dalby 1082. "Dictionnaire Monguor-Français," Monguor [Tu]-French, pp. [1]-497, additions, pp. 498-500, errata, p. 501, Written Mongolian and Old Mongolian Index, pp. 502-519.

"To our knowledge, until now, only a few dictionaries or vocabularies of Mongolian dialects have been published. Our work ... thus provides in short, a useful contribution to Mongolian dialectology" (Introduction).

[TUAMOTUAN] Tuamotuan, Pa'umotu or Paumotu (Paumotu: Re'o Pa'umotu or Reko Pa'umotu) is a Polynesian language spoken by 4,000 people in the Tuamotu archipelago, with an additional 2,000 speakers in Tahiti. (WikP).

Ethnologue: pmt. Alternate Names: Paumotu, Pa'umotu.

1846: see under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1895: [LILLY] A Paumotuan dictionary with Polynesian comparatives, by Edward Tregear [1846-1931]. Wellington, N.Z.: Whitcombe & Tombs Ltd.: R. Coupland Harding, 1895. 56, 73-88, 157-160 p.; 25 cm. Original brown cloth, lettered in gold and decorated in blind; spine unprinted, title and author on front cover. First edition? Reprinted from the Journal of the Polynesian Society, Volume 2 et seq., (see running title). First substantial vocabulary of the language. The Lilly's copy carries a presentation inscription from the author to Sir James Hector (16 March 1834 – 6 November 1907) "a Scottish geologist, naturalist, and surgeon who accompanied the Palliser Expedition as a surgeon and geologist. He went on to have a lengthy career as a government employed man of science in New Zealand, and during this period he dominated the Colony's scientific institutions in a way that no single man has since" (WikP). From 1885 on he was also Chancellor of the University of New Zealand.

1964: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary of some Tuamotuan Dialects of the Polynesian Language, by J. Frank Stimson & Donald Stanley Marshall. The Hague: Martinus Nijhoff, 1964. Original dark green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. 1-7 8-623 624. First edition. This is the first true dictionary of the language.

"The untimely death of my friend and colleague Frank Stimson occurred shortly before the final draft of this Dictionary was completed... There may be some who question the value of this unique and tremendous effort. Of what use are the often debatable facts relating to the dying language of a subjected people? If one is a humanist, it may be sufficient to say that here were a people who loved life and Freudian enough to seek for unknown lands through uncharted seas in crowded ships. They developed a richly satisfying way of life such as the world may never see again. Surely it is little enough for us, the descendants of the destroyers of their civilization, to record a part of their heritage for posterity! ... This truly ethno-linguistic dictionary contains a great store of data which will aid in elucidating the original Polynesian way of life... In all the Polynesian area, the Tuamotus stand in greatest need of ethno-linguistic study" (Preface).

"The only extensive list of Tuamotuan words published prior to the present compilation appeared in the Journal of the Polynesian Society, Volume 2 et seq., with an introduction by Edward Tregear, but without any acknowledgment of source or authorship [cf. above].. Unfortunately, I find this vocabulary unreliable - particularly in respect of definitions; and errors of orthography are numerous. Nevertheless, the list has usefulness in comparative studies for those who have a working knowledge of some other Polynesian dialect, provided they are alert to the danger of unduly relying upon it... In preparation for work in the field I began studying Tuamotuan in 1929... Perhaps this dictionary, in its dry and pedagogic way, may preserve a little of the life and outlook, if not of the proud songs and home-told tales, of these immemorial wanderers - bold sea-kings seeking the rising sun - over the wakeless Pacific toward unguessed horizons. I hope so" (Introduction, Frank Stimson).

1975: [LILLYbm] Material Culture in the Tuamotu Archipelago, by Kenneth P. Emory. Honolulu: Department. of Anthropology, Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum, 1975. Original tan cloth over boards, lettered and illustrated in brown. Pp. i-v vi-xvi, 1 2-253 254. First edition. Series: Pacific anthropological records, no. 22. Includes a Tuamotu-English-Latin glossary of plant and animal names. Second copy: [IUW].

"The aim of this work is to describe native Tuamotuan material culture insofar as it can be known from the limited resources available" (Preface).

1979: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TUCANO] Tucano, also Tukano or Tucana, endonym Dahseyé (Dasea), is a Tucanoan language spoken in Amazonas, Brazil and Colombia. Many speakers of the endangered Tariana language are switching to Tucano (WikP).

Ethnologue: tuo. Alternate Names: Daxsea, Takuna, Tukána, Tukano.

1925: see under NADĒB.

1939?: [LILLYbm] Pequena gramatica e dicionario da lingua tucana. Missao salesiana do Rio Negro-Amazonas, by Antonio Giacone. Manaus, Amazonas, Brazil: Papelaria Velho Lino de Lino Aguiar, [1939?]. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black (rear wrapper badly chipped). Pp. 1-7 8-61 62. First edition? Not in Zaunmüller. This copy is undated, but appears to be from the 1930's by binding and age of paper. Includes Portuguese-Tucano "practical dictionary", pp. [37]-61.

1972: [IUW] Diccionario tucano-castellano; [grupo linguistico de la amazonia colombo-brasileña, por] Carlos I. Gallo M. Mitú, Prefectura Apostólica [1972]. 100 p. map. 17cm. Cover title. Tucano-Spanish dictionary.

[TULEHU] Tulehu (also known as Souw Aman Teru) is an Austronesian spoken on Ambon Island in eastern Indonesia, part of a dialect chain of Seram Island. Tulehu is also the name of a village; each of the villages, Tulehu, Liang, Tengah-Tengah, and Tial, is said to have its own dialect (WikP).

Ethnologue: tlu. Alternate Names: Northeast Ambon, Sou Amana Teru.

1902: see under MALAYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903: see under MALAYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TULU] Tulu (Tulu: ತುಳು ಭಾಷೆ Tulu bāse ['tulu 'bɔ:sæ]) is a language [of India], one among the five major Dravidian languages spoken by around 2 million native speakers mainly in the south west part of the Indian state of Karnataka and in the Kasaragod district of Kerala which is collectively known as Tulu Nadu. It belongs to the Dravidian family of languages. Robert Caldwell, in his pioneering work A Comparative Grammar of the Dravidian or South-Indian family of languages, called this language "peculiar and very interesting". According to him, "Tulu is one of the most highly developed languages of the Dravidian family. It looks as if it had been cultivated for its own sake." Non-native speakers such as the Konkani-speaking Mangalorean Catholics, Goud Saraswath Brahmins, Karhade Brahmins, Havyaka Brahmins and Daivajnas, as well as the Beary people in Tulu Nadu are generally well-versed in the language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tcy. Alternate Names: Tal, Tallu, Thalu, Thulu, Tilu, Tullu, Tuluva Bhasa.

1888 [1987]: [LILLYbm] English-Tulu Dictionary, by Rev. A. Männer. New Delhi: Asian Educational Service, 1987. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. [2] i-iii iv-v vi, 1 2-653. First AES reprint of the original edition published in 1888.

[TULU-BOHUAI] The Tulu-Bohuai language is a West Manus language spoken by approximately 1400 people on central Manus Island and on Peli Island, Manus Province, Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: rak. Alternate Names: Bohuai, Bohuai-Tulu, Bowai, Pahavai, Pelipowai, Pohuai.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TUMBUKA] The Tumbuka language is a Bantu language which is spoken in the Northern Region of Malawi and also in the Lundazi district of Zambia. It is also known as Chitumbuka or Citumbuka — the chi- prefix in front of Tumbuka means "the language of", and is understood in this case to mean "the language of (the Tumbuka people)". Tumbuka belongs to the same language group (Guthrie Zone N) as Chewa and Sena. The World Almanac (1998) estimates that there are approximately 2,000,000 Tumbuka speakers, though other sources estimate a much smaller number. The majority of Tumbuka speakers are said to live in Malawi. Tumbuka is the most widely spoken of the languages of Northern Malawi, especially in the Rumphi, Mzuzu, and Mzimba districts. The Tumbuka language suffered during the rule of President Hastings Kamuzu Banda, since in 1968 as a result of his one-nation, one-language policy it lost its status as an official language in Malawi. As a result, Tumbuka was removed from the school curriculum, the national radio, and the print media. With the advent of multi-party democracy in 1994, Tumbuka programmes were started again on the radio, but the number of books and other publications in Tumbuka remains low (WikP). Population: 1,950,000 in Malawi (2020 World Factbook), based on ethnicity. Total users in all countries: 2,316,000.

Ethnologue: tum. Alternate Names: Citumbuka, Tamboka, Tambuka, Timbuka, Tombucas, Tumboka. Autonym: Chitumbuka.

1897: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1952: [LILLYbm] Tumbuka-Tonga-English Dictionary, by Rev. Wm. Y. Turner. Blantyre, Nyasaland: Church of Scotland Mission, 1952. Hardbound without d.j. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1658/1696 (giving The Hetherwick Press as publisher). The dictionary includes an English-Tumbuka-Tonga section. Arranged in three columns, the Tonga word is only given if it differs from Tumbuka, which here is less than 10% of the time. Second copy: [IUW].

2006: [IUW] Parlons citumbuka: langue et culture du Malawi et de la Zambie / Pascal J. Kishindo et Allan L. Lipenga. Paris: L'Harmattan, c2006. 138 p.: maps; 22 cm. Collection "Parlons".

2015: [IUW] Expression and literature: common Tumbuka ideophones and their usage / William Edward Songiso Mvalo. Mzuzu, Malawi: Mzuni Press, 2015. ©2015. 169 pages; 23 cm. Mzuni books; no. 19. Tumbuka-English, pp. 7-168. Includes bibliographical references.

"Tumbuka is the dominant language in the Northern Region of Malawi. It is, however, also spoken in large pockets of Kasungu District in the Central Region and also in the Eastern Province of Zambia, and in Lundazi District in particular. Tonga, spoken in Nkhatabay and Nkhotakota, is like a cousin to Tumbuka with a close resemblance in their phonetics. Like other Bantu languages, Tumbuka is very expressive, but can also be very economic in communication or use of words, and yet clearly delivering the desired message. This can be done through the use of idioms, proverbs, or ideophones. This collection is on commonly used Tumbuka ideophones, where an ideophone shall mean "a word describing a situation, or a state of affairs, or a set of actions - all in one word." It is the intention of this collection to provoke both interest in the use of ideophones as a form of expression in literature and to expound on the richness of Bantu languages" (publisher's description).

[TUMLEO] Tumleo is an Austronesian language of coastal Sandaun Province, Papua New Guinea, on Tumleo Island and the Aitape coast (WikP).

Ethnologue: tmq.

1911: [LILLYbm] Zur Kenntnis der melanesischen Sprache von der Insel Tumleo, by Leonhard Schultze. Jena: Gustav Fischer, 1911. Original orange wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [4] 1 2-96. First edition. Not in Zauhmüller. Includes Tumleo-German vocabulary, pp. [82]-96, double-columned. This appears to be the only published vocabulary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

"Isolation from the world and their life in deep forests has kept the indigenous peoples of New Guinea at the lowest level of the village and even individual families.... The finest distillate of all cultures, language, has only passed beyond the lowest level of the individual hearths here and there, and only in the weakest of forms.... On an expedition [in 1910 as part of the German contingent of the German-Dutch expedition in Kaiser-Wilhelm Land], on which a rapid progress toward the interior was required, forbidding any but the briefest periods of necessary rest, the constant variation in language in the areas passed through proved an insurmountable barrier to linguistic research. At first I believed I could overcome this by means of personal contact with willing natives. A young Papuan from Monumbo and a Melanesian from Tumleo, former pupils at the Catholic Mission of the Holy Ghost labored in vain, however, to teach me related words to their own languages in those of the tribes of the areas we passed through; we never progressed beyond the crudest communications based on gestures and facial expressions. But the openness of the young Melanesian tempted me to learn his own language better, which I had come to know in part through out mutual attempts at interpreting. This served as a spice to my hours of rest over the next eight months of my travels through the forests and along the rivers. What I learned that's new, or saw in a perspective differing from that of my precursors, is given here" (Introduction, tr: BM).

[TUMTUM] Tumtum is a Nilo-Saharan language of the Kadu branch spoken in South Kordofan, Sudan. Dialects are Karondi (Kurondi, Korindi), Talassa, and Tumtum proper (WikP).

Ethnologue: tbr.

1910-1911 [1965]: see under NUBIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TUMZABT] Mozabite, or Tunzabt, is a dialect of the Berber language spoken by the Mozabites, an Ibadi group inhabiting the seven cities of the M'zab natural region in the northern Saharan Algeria. It is also spoken by small numbers of Mozabite emigrants in other local cities and elsewhere. Mozabite is one of the Mzab–Wargla languages, a dialect cluster of the Zenati languages. It is very closely related to the nearby Berber dialects of Ouargla and Oued Righ, as well as the more distant Gourara (WikP).

Ethnologue: mzb. Alternate Names: Ghardaia, Mozabite, Mzab, Mzabi.

1892: [IUW] Étude sur la Zenatia du Mzab, de Ouargla et de l'Oued-Rir', par René Basset. Paris, E. Leroux, 1892. xv, 274 p. 26 cm. Library binding, preserving the original gray front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. Publications de l'Ecole des lettres d'Alger. Bulletin de correspondance africaine 12. Date on cover: 1893. French-Berber [Tumzabt], pp. [35]-99, Berber [Tumzabt]-French, pp. [[189]-240. Bibliography: p. [xi]-xv.

1924: [IUW] Notes d'ethnographie et de linguistique nord-africaines; publiées par L. Brunot et E. Laoust. Paris, E. Leroux, 1924. 272 p. Library binding. Publications de l'Institut des hautes études marocaines; t. 12. Second Part: "Les dattiers dans l'oasis de Berrian [Berriane]". "Dialecte berbère mzabi de Berrian" [Tumzabt]-French, root glossary, pp. [205]-265.

1984: [IUW] Ağraw n Yiwalen Tumzabt T-Tfransist = Dictionnaire Mozabite-Français / J. Delheure. Paris: SELAF, 1984. xxvi, 319 p.: maps; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original pale yellow front wrapper, lettered and decorated in brown and red. Etudes ethno-linguistiques Maghreb-Sahara. At head of title: Université de Provence Aix-Marseille I. Laboratoire d'anthropologie et de préhistoire des pays de la Méditerranée occidentale (L.A. 164 du C.N.R.S.) Mozabite [Tumzabt]-French, pp. [1]-280, French-Mozabite [Tumzabt] index, pp. 281-319. Bibliography: p. [xxv]-xxvi. Abstracts in English, French, German, Spanish and Arabic.

"This dictionary has no pretensions to be exhaustive but it does comprise the words included in an immense corpus to be published under the title 'Berber texts of the Mzab'. It is intended first of all for the peoples of the Mzab and also for other Berber-speaking peoples of the Maghreb, as well as for specialists of the Berber language" (English abstract).

[TUNEN] The Nen language, Tunen (Banen), is a Southern Bantoid language of Cameroon. Maho (2009) considers Aling'a to be a distinct language (WikP).

Ethnologue: tvu. Alternate Names: Banen, Banend, Nen, Penin, Penyin.

1967: [LILLYBM] Lexique de la langue Tunen (parler des Banen du Sud-Ouest du Cameroun), by Idelette Dugast (1898-). Paris: C. Klincksieck, 1967. Original brown and white wrappers, lettered in black and white. Pp. I-VII VIII-XXII, 1 2-235 236-238. First edition. Hendrix 289. Series: Langues et littératures de l'Afrique noire, 2. Includes Tunen-French, pp. [1]-203, French-Tunen, pp. [205]-232, double columns, with addenda, pp. [233]-235. First dictionary of Tunen. Second copy: [IUW].

"The Banen make up a small population in south-western Cameroun. They occupy a land in turmoil, one of mountains and vast forests, around 4,900 km in size... Living as agriculturalists in a disinherited land, the Banen are not numerous: about 25,000 people, perhaps as many as 30,000 including some neighboring groups" (p. VII, tr: BM).

[TUNGARE] Tungare (also called Tarungare, Tarunggareh, Turungare) is a language spoken in Papua, Indonesia (WikP). Population: 500 (1993 R. Doriot).

Ethnologue: trt. Alternate Names: Tarungare, Turungare.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TUNICA] The Tunica (or Tonica, or less common form Yuron) language was a language isolate spoken in the Central and Lower Mississippi Valley in the United States by Native American Tunica peoples. There are no known speakers of the Tunica language remaining. When the last known fluent speaker Sesostrie Youchigant died in the mid-20th century, the language became extinct. Linguist Mary Haas worked with Youchigant to describe what she remembered of the language, and the description was published in A Grammar of the Tunica Language in 1941. This was followed by Tunica Texts in 1950 and Tunica Dictionary in 1953 [see below]. By the 17th century, the people had suffered a high rate of fatalities due to Eurasian infectious diseases, warfare and social disruption. The reduced Tunica tribe lived close to the Ofo and Avoyelles tribes in present-day Louisiana. They communicated by the Mobilian Jargon or French. Due to this circumstance of small population and use of a jargon, the linguist Haas noted that the eventual deterioration of the Tunica language was inevitable.

Ethnologue: tun.

1919: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1953: [LILLYbm] Tunica Dictionary, by Mary R. Haas. Berkeley and Los Angeles: University of California Press, 1953. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [6] 175-332 333-336. First edition. University of California Publications in Linguistics, Vol. 6, No. 2. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Tunica-English, pp. 201-295, and English-Tunica, pp. 307-332. This is the first dictionary of Tunica. Second copy: [IUW].

"At the present time there is only one individual, Sesostrie Youchigant (born c. 1870), who speaks Tunica with any degree of fluency....The work of recording Tunica was begun in the summer of 1933....The present study... contains not only all the lexical items know to Youchigant but also material collected by earlier recorders of the Tunica language" (Preface). "The first recorder of the Tunica language was the late Dr. Albert S. Gatschet of the Bureau of American Ethnology [see John R. Swanton, The Tunica Language, International Journal of American Linguistics, vol. 2 (1921), 1]" (The Gatschet-Swanton Vocabulary).

[TUNNI] Tunni (also known as Af-Tunni) is an Afro-Asiatic language spoken by the Tunni sub-group of the Rahanweyn Somali clan, who reside in the Lower Shebelle and Middle Juba regions in southern Somalia. The language is typically classified among the Digil group of Cushitic languages. Tunni is distinct from Somali, with a different phonology and sentence structure (WikP).

Ethnologue: tqq. Alternate Names: Af-Tunni.

1997: [IUW] Af Tunni: grammar, texts, and glossary of a southern Somali dialect / Mauro Tosco. Köln: R. Köppe, c1997. x, 304 p.; 24 cm. Kuschitische Sprachstudien Bd. 13. Includes bibliographical references (p. [300]-304).

[TUPIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT] The Tupi or Tupian language family comprises some 70 languages spoken in South America, of which the best known are Tupi proper and Guarani (WikP).

1896: [LILLYbm] Matériaux pour servir à l'établissement d'une grammaire comparée des dialectes de la famille tupi, by Lucien Adam. Paris: J. Maisonneuve, 1896. 136 p.; 25 cm. Series: Bibliothèque linguistique américaine; t. 18. Later full dark green cloth, lettered in gold. Includes Tupi family-French vocabulary, pp. [82]-136. This copy with the bookplate of Peter Antony Lanyon-Orgill. Lanyon-Orgill was for some years the editor of the Journal of Austronesian Studies, and published dictionaries of such languages as Raluana and Mailu. Second copy: [IUW].

1987: [IUW] O tupi na geografia nacional / Teodoro Sampaio; introdução e notas, Frederico G. Edelweiss; assessoramento técnico, Consuelo Pondé de Sena. 5a. ed., comemorativa do cinquentenário de falecimento do autor. São Paulo, SP-Brasil: Cia. Editora Nacional, 1987. 359 p.: ports.; 21 cm. Brasileira; v. 380 "Com o apoio técnico e financeiro do MinC/Pró-Memória, Instituto Nacional do Livro." "Vocabulário geográfico brasileiro": p. 187-353. Includes bibliographies.

[TUPI] Old Tupi or Classical Tupi is an extinct Tupian language which was spoken by the native Tupi people of Brazil, mostly those who lived close to the sea. It belongs to the Tupi–Guarani language family, and has a written history spanning the 16th, 17th and early 18th centuries. In the early colonial period Tupi was used as a lingua franca throughout Brazil by Europeans as well as Amerindians and had literary usage, but it was later suppressed almost to extinction, leaving only one modern descendant with an appreciable number of speakers, Nheengatu. The names Old Tupi or Classical Tupi are used for the language in English and by modern scholars (it is referred to as tupi antigo in Portuguese), but native speakers called it variously ñeengatú "the good language", ñeendyba "common language", abáñeenga "human language", in Old Tupi, or língua geral "general language", língua geral amazônica "Amazonian general language", língua brasílica "Brazilian language", in Portuguese (WikP).

Ethnologue lists 51 separate languages under the Tupi-Guarani language family.

1594: [LILLY] Historia navigationis in Brasiliam quae et America dicitur: quae describitur avthoris nauigatio, quaeque in mari vidit memoriae prodenda: Villagagnonis in America gesta: Brasiliensium victus & mores, à nostris admodum alieni, cum eorum linguae dialogo: animalia eriam, arbores, atque herbae, reliquaque singularia & nobis penitus incognita / a Joanne Lerio [Jean de Léry, 1534-161] Burgundo Gallicé scripta; nunc verò primùm Latinatate donata, & varijs figuris illustrate. 2nd ed. Genevae: Apud haeredes Eustathij Vignon, 1594. [56], 340 (i.e. 358), [15] pages: illustrations; 18 cm. In later full vellum. Includes dialogues in Tupi with translations, pp. 271-288. A reprint of the edition of 1586, with some slight alteration. Paging irregular: p. 231-358 incorrectly numbered 213-340. Translation of: "Histoire d'un voyage fait en la terre du Bresil". The Latin version contains passages that were suppressed in the French. Bound with: [2] Benzoni, Girolamo. Novae Novi orbis historiae. [Genevæ]: apud haeredes Eustathij Vignon, 1600. Sabin, J. Dictionary of books relating to America from its discovery to the present time, 40154.

"The first accounts of the Old Tupi language date back from the early 16th century, but the first written documents containing actual information about it were produced from 1575 onwards – when Jesuits André Thévet and José de Anchieta began to translate Catholic prayers and biblical stories into the language. Another foreigner, Jean de Lery, wrote the first (and possibly only) Tupi "phrasebook", in which he transcribed entire dialogues (pp. 271-288). Lery's work is the best available record of how Tupi was actually spoken" (WikP).

1648: [LILLY] Historia naturalis Brasiliae: auspicio et beneficio illustriss. I. Mauriti Com. Nassau illius provinciae et maris summi praefecti adornata: in qua non tantum plantae et animalia, sed et indigenarum morbi, ingenia et mores describuntur et iconibus supra quingentas illustrantur, by Willem Piso, 1611-1678. Lugdun. Batavorum: Apud Franciscum Hackium, et Amstelodami, apud Lud. Elzevirium, 1648. [12], 122, [10], 293, [7] p.: ill. (woodcuts); 38 cm. (fol.) Signatures: *⁶ A-P⁴ Q² [dagger]⁴ ²A-2O⁴ ²2P². Bound in full mottled calf with speckled edges. Added t.p. (leaf 2) reads: Guilielmi Pisonis: De medicina Brasiliensi libri quatuor: I. De aëre, aquis, & locis. II. De morbis endemis. III. De venenatis & antidotis. IV. De facultatibus simplicium. Et Georgi Marcgravi de Leibstad. Historiae rerum naturalium Brasiliae libri octo: Quorum tres priores aguni de plantis. Quartus de piscibus. Quintus de avibus. Sextus de quadrupedibus & serpentibus. Septimus de insectis. Octavus de ipsa regione, & illius incolis. cum appendice de tapuyis, et Chilensibus Ioannes de Laet. Marggraf's works have special half-title and separate pagination and signatures. Engraved t.p., with a signature of Johan Mauritis. Includes index. From the library of C.R. Boxer. References: Hunt botanical cat., 244. Moraes, R.B. de. Bib. Brasiliana, p. 152-153. Nissen, C. Die botanische Buchillustration, 1533. Pritzel, G.A. Thesaurus lit. botanicae, 7157. Sabin 63028. Sowerby, E.M. Cat. of the lib. of Thomas Jefferson, 1025. Palau 227441. Borba de Moraes, Bibl. Bras., II, p.152-3.

"First edition... Extremely important for a number of reasons. It is the earliest illustrated work on Brazilian natural history and the most notable scientific work completed in Brazil during the seventeenth century. Until the results of the nineteenth-century expeditions were published, it remained the only illustrated work on Brazilian natural history. The Historia contains records of the first astronomical observations made in Brazil plus valuable ethnographic and linguistic information about northeastern Brazil and its inhabitants. Finally, it is one of the most finely printed and beautiful works of Braziliana published by the Dutch... Laet includes a description of the Tapuia Indians taken from Jacob Rabbi, a Tupi vocabulary taken from Father Anchieta, and a description of the route of the expedition under André de Leão in 1601" (bookseller's description of another copy: Richard C. Ramer).

1820 [1942]: [IUW] Notas sobre o Rio-de-Janeiro e partes meridionais do Brasil, tomadas durante uma estada de dez anos nesse país, de 1808 a 1818. Tradução de Milton da Silva Rodrigues. São Paulo, Livraria Martins, [1942]. xii, 435 p., 1 leaf, incl. tables. plates, maps, plan. 25 cm. Biblioteca histórica brasileira; 10. "Glossário das palavras tupis": p. [426]-435. Tupi-Portuguese vocabulary. Portuguese translation of Notes on Rio de Janeiro, and the southern parts of Brazil taken during a residence of ten years in that country, from 1808 to 1818, by John Luccock. London: Printed for Samuel Leigh, 1820.

1858 [1965]: [IUW] Dicionário da língua tupi, chamada língua geral dos indígenas do Brasil: tupi-português / Gonçalves Dias. Rio de Janeiro: Livraria São José, 1965. 72 p. Photographic reprint of the Tupi-Portuguese section of the Leipzig, 1858 ed.

1998: Sixth edition [IUW] Vocabulário tupi-guarani, português / Francisco da Silveira Bueno. 6a. ed. rev. e aum. São Paulo: Éfeta Editora, 1998. 688 p.; 22 cm. Pages [417]-548 are a reprint of: Dicionário da língua tupi, chamada língua geral dos indígenas do Brasil / A. Gonçalves Dias. Lipsia: Brockhaus, 1858. Includes bibliographical references (p. 687-688).

1889: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1914: [IUW] The lower Amazon; a narrative of explorations in the little known regions of the state of Pará, on the lower Amazon, with a record of archæological excavations on Marajó Island at the mouth of the Amazon River, and observations on the general resources of the county, by Algot Lange ... with an introduction by Frederick S. Dellenbaugh; with 109 illustrations and 6 maps. New York, London, G.P. Putnam's Sons, 1914. xxv, 468 p. front., plates, maps (1 fold.) 21 cm. "Vocabulary of the Ararandeúaras of the Moju River": p. 445-456. "The dialect is that of Tupi, with occasional deviation from this linguistic stock."

1937: [IUW] Os "Nomes das partes do corpo humano pella lingua do Brasil" de Pero de Castilho; Texto tupi-português e português-tupi do século XVII. São Paulo, Empresa gráfica da "Revista dos tribunais", 1937. 129 p., 2 l. facsim. 24 cm. Coleção do Departamento de Cultura v. 14. Editor's name, Plínio Ayrosa, at head of title. The manuscript from which this is printed is now in the collection of the Divisão de bibliotecas do município de São Paulo. cf. p. 7-8. Tupi-Portuguese parts of the human body.

1952-1953: [IUW] Vocabulário na língua brasílica. 1, A-H, 2, I-Z / por Carlos Drumond. 2a edição / revista e confrontada com o Ms. fig., 3144 da Bibl. Nacional de Lisboa. Second edition, revised and compared with the manuscript. São Paulo: Universidade de São Paulo, Faculdade de Filosofia, Ciências e Letras, 1952-1953. Vol. 1: 154 pages, 1 unnumbered leaves of plates: illustrations; 23 cm. Vol. 2: 147 p. + 2 p. Original light brown wrappers. Etnografia e língua tupí-guaraní; nos. 23, 26. Boletins da Faculdade de Filosofia, Ciências e Letras; nos. 137, 164. From the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ink ownership stamp.

1957: [IUW] Vocabulário dos termos tupis de "O selvagem" de Couto de Magalhães / Humberto Mauro. [Rio de Janeiro]: Ministério da Educação e Cultura, Serviço de Documentação, 1957. 56 p.; 24 cm. Includes Tupi-Portuguese vocabulary from O Selvagem (1876).

"Magalhães spoke French, English, German, Italian, Tupi and numerous indigenous dialects. He was the one who started folklore studies in Brazil, publishing O Selvagem (The Wild) (1876) and Testes de antropologia (Anthropology testing) (1894), among others" (Wikip).

1971: [IUW] Contribuição indígena à fala norte-rio-grandense / Protásio Pinheiro de Melo. Natal: Impr. Universitária, 1971. 68 p.; 24 cm. Arquivos do Instituto de Antropologia "Câmara Cascudo." Série especial, Lingüística; n. 1. Includes Tupi vocabulary.

1984: see under NHENGATU. Includes sketch of grammar of Old Tupi.

[TUPURI] Tupuri (or Toupouri) is a language mostly spoken in the Mayo-Kebbi Est Region of southern Chad but there are small pats in northern Cameroon. It is an Mbum language spoken by the Tupuri people with approximately 300,000 speakers (Wikip).

Ethnologue: tui. Alternate Names: Dema, Honya, Mata, Ndoore, Ndoore, Tongoyna, Toubouri, Toupouri, Tuburi, Wina.

1988: [IUW] Dictionnaire tupuri-français-anglais: région de Mindaoré- Tchad / Suzanne Ruelland. [Paris]: Peeters: Selaf, 1988. 342 p.: ill., map; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving ordinal green, black, white and red front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. Langues et cultures africaines, 10. Société d'études linguistiques et anthropologiques de France (Series): 213. Summary in Spanish. Tupuri-French-English,

pp. [29]-291, with illustrations; French-Tupuri index, pp. [307]-340. Includes bibliographical references (p. [341]-342).

2010: [IUW] Parlons tupuri: [Cameroun et Tchad], by Kolyang Dina Taiwé. Paris: Harmattan, c2010. 310 p.: ill., maps; 22 cm. Collection "Parlons". Includes French-Tupuri, Tupuri-French lexicons of over 5,000 words. Includes bibliographical references (p. [307]-310).

[TURKANA] Turkana /tʃ:r'kɑ:nə/ is the language of the Turkana people of Kenya, numbering about 340,000. It is one of the Eastern Nilotic languages, and is closely related to Karamojong, Jie and Teso of Uganda, to Toposa spoken in the extreme southeast of Sudan, and to Nyangatom in the Sudan/Ethiopia Omo valley borderland; these languages together form the cluster of Teso–Turkana languages. The collective group name for these related peoples is Ateker (WikP).

Ethnologue: tuv. Alternate Names: Buma, Bume, Turkwana.

1902: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1911: see under PÖKOOT.

1983: [IUW] Culture and language of the Turkana, NW Kenya, by Günter Best. Heidelberg: C. Winter, 1983. 176, [1] p.: map; 24 cm. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. English-Turkana, pp. [96]-151, Turkana-English, pp. 153-176. Includes index. Bibliography: p. [177].

"There exists an insufficient and obsolete contribution to the Turkana language written by Barton ["Turkana Grammatical Notes and Vocabulary," in: Bulletin of the School of Oriental and African Studies 2: 42-73], however, most of the words listed there are not understood by the Turkana, and the grammar differs considerably from the one given here" (Introduction).

1988: [LILLYbm] English-Turkana Dictionary, by A[nthony J.] Barrett. Nairobi: Macmillan Kenya, 1988. Original blue and white wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown, black and light brown. Pp. i-ii iii-xxx, 1-225 226. First edition. Second copy: [IUW].

"The Turkana inhabit the dry tropical plains of northwestern Kenya and spread into the neighbouring countries of Ethiopia, Sudan and Uganda. They are a pastoral people who herd goats, sheep, camels, donkeys and cattle...The Turkana belong to what is called the Eastern Nilotes and speak a language closely associated with Karimojong, Jie, Jiye, Dodoth, Teso, Toposa and Nyangatom...The language these people speak is a most complicated verb-initial multi-tonal language, the enormous tense structure of which allows one to express the most intricate concepts" (The Turkana).

1989: [IUW] A classified vocabulary of the Turkana in northwestern Kenya / Itaru Ohta. Kyoto: Center for African Area Studies, Kyoto University, 1989. 104 p.: ill.; 24 cm. African study monographs. Supplementary issue; no. 10. Title from contents page. Includes bibliographical references (pages 3-4).

1990: [LILLYbm] Turkana-English Dictionary, by A[nthony J.] Barrett. London: Macmillan Education, 1990. Original red and cream wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown, cream and light brown. Pp. i-ii iii-xxx, 1-120 121-122. First edition. This copy stamped "PRISON CLASSES."

"The Turkana language has not previously been written down and published so these dictionaries [including Barrett's English-Turkana dictionary of 1988] are the first and only definitive works on Turkana...Father Barrett...is a member of St Patrick's Missionary Society. He has worked in Turkana for sixteen years" (from the rear cover).

[TURKIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT] The Turkic languages are a language family of at least thirty-five languages, spoken by Turkic peoples from Southeastern Europe and the Mediterranean to Siberia and Western China. The Turkic languages originated in a region spanning Western China to Mongolia from where it expanded to Central Asia and farther west. Turkic languages are spoken as a native language by some 170 million people, and the total number of Turkic speakers, including second-language speakers, is over 200 million. The Turkic language with the greatest number of speakers is Turkish, spoken mainly in Anatolia and the Balkans, the native speakers of which account for about 40% of all Turkic speakers (WikP).

1893-1911 [1960]: Versuch eines Wörterbuches der Türk-Dialecte = Opyt slovarîa tiürskikh nariēchī = Versuch eines Wörterbuches der Türk-Dialecte von W. Radloff; mit einem Vorwort von Omeljan Pritsak. 's-Gravenhage: Mouton, 1960. 4 v.; 25 cm. Library binding, four vols. in one. Dalby 1564. Photomechanical reprint of the 1893 Saint Petersburg edition. [Siberian] Turkic languages-Russian-German, cols. [1]-1914. Index of Turkic words in Arabic script, pp. [1]-66.

1963: Russian edition [IUW] Opyt slovarîa tiürskikh nariēchī / V.V. Radlova = Versuch eines Wörterbuches der Türk-Dialecte von W. Radloff.. Moskva: Izd-vo vostochnoï lit-ry, 1963. 4 v. in 8; 27 cm. Cf. Dalby 1564. Russian, German and Turko-Tataric. Reprint. Originally published: Sanktpeterburg: Tip. Imp. Akademîi Nauk, 1893-1911. Includes index of Turkic words in Arabic script.

1969-1971: [IUW] Versuch eines etymologischen Wörterbuchs der Türkischen Sprachen / Martti Räsänen. Helsinki: Suomalais-ugrilainen seura, 1969- 2 v.; 26 cm. Dalby 1565. Lexica Societatis Fenno-Ugricae; 17,1-2. Includes index. [1]. [without special title]. [2]. Wortregister. IUW holds only vol. 1.

1974 [2003]: [IUW] Ėtimologičeskii slovar' tiürskikh iazykov / Ė.V. Sevortian. Moskva: Nauka, 1974- <2003>. <6> v.; 27 cm. Volumes include bibliographical references (v. 1, p. 5-22) and indexes. [t. 1] Obshchetiürskie i mezhtiürskie osnovy na glasnye. [t. 2] "B". [t. 3] "V"; "G"; "D". [t. 4] "J"; "Zh"; "Ĭ". [t. 5] "K"; "Q". [t. 6] "L"; "M"; "N"; "P"; "S". Dalby 1566: "A very full etymological dictionary... Entries include all variant forms that are recorded, in Turkic and other related and adjacent languages, either in Arabic or Latin script as recorded or in the phonetic script, with citations of textual sources. Then meanings are given in detail."

1994: [IUW] Polyglot list of birds in Turki, Manchu and Chinese. Turkish Title: Kuş isimlerinin doğu Türkçesi, Mançuca ve Çince sözlüğü, by E. Denison Ross; İngilizceden çeviren: Emine Gürsoy-Naskali. Ankara: Yükseköğretim Kurulu Matbaası'nda basılmıştır, 1994. xix, 129 p.; 24 cm. Series: Türk Dil Kurumu yayınları; 605. Includes indexes.

1996: [IUW] Dictionary of the Turkic languages: English, Azerbaijani, Kazakh, Kyrgyz, Tatar, Turkish, Turkmen, Uighur, Uzbek, by Kurtuluş Öztopçu ... [et al.]. London; New York: Routledge, 1996. xvi, 361 p.; 26 cm. Includes indexes.

2005: [IUW] Диван Лүгāt ат-Турк / Махмұд ал-Кāшғарй; перевод и предисловие З.-А.М. Ауэзовой; индексы Р. Эрмерса = Diwan lughat at-Turk /

Mahmud al-Kashgari; translated with introduction by Z.-A. Auezova; index by R. Ermers. Dīwān Lugāt at-Turk / Makhmūd al-Kāshgarī; perevod i predislovie Z.-A.M. Auëzovoï; indeksy R. Ėrmersa = Diwan lughat at-Turk / Mahmud al-Kashgari; translated with introduction by Z.-A. Auezova; index by R. Ermers. Алматы: "Дайк-Пресс", 2005. Almaty: "Daïk-Press", 2005. 1281 pages, 1 folded leaf of plates: color illustration; 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Arabic (Cyrillic and Arabic script), with Russian translation; summary in Kazakh and English. Turkic languages--Dictionaries--Russian. Turkic languages--Dictionaries--Arabic--Early works to 1800.

[TURKISH—pre-1900] Turkish (About this sound Türkçe (help·info)), also referred to as Istanbul Turkish, is the most widely spoken of the Turkic languages, with around 10–15 million native speakers in Southeast Europe (mostly in East and Western Thrace) and 60–65 million native speakers in Western Asia (mostly in Anatolia). Outside of Turkey, significant smaller groups of speakers exist in Germany, Bulgaria, Macedonia, Northern Cyprus (only recognized by Turkey), Greece, the Caucasus, and other parts of Europe and Central Asia. To the west, the influence of Ottoman Turkish—the variety of the Turkish language that was used as the administrative and literary language of the Ottoman Empire—spread as the Ottoman Empire expanded. In 1928, as one of Atatürk's Reforms in the early years of the Republic of Turkey, the Ottoman Turkish alphabet was replaced with a Latin alphabet (WikP).

Ethnologue: tur. Alternate Names: Anatolian, Türkçe, Türkisch.

1641: [LILLY] Dittionario della lingua italiana, tvrchesca, raccolto da Giovanni Molino interprete; con l'indice delli vocabuli Turcheschi, e breui rudimenti di detta lingua ... Molino, Giovanni, 17th cent. In Roma: Appresso Antonio Maria Gioiosi, 1641. [8] p., 494 columns, [88] p.; 19 cm. (8vo). Signatures A-Q⁸ 2A-E⁸ 2F⁴. Dictionary is in 494 double columns, Turkish to Italian index is in 3 columns per page (2A-E⁸), "Brevi rudimenti del parlar tvrchesco" is in double columns, (2F⁴). With the bookplate of the Chatsworth library. Bound in tan calf, green leather label on spine, edges sprinkled red. References: Zenker, J.T. Bib. orientalis, no. 84; BM, 162:270; NUC pre-1956, 390:137. Italian-Turkish dictionary.

1677: [LILLY] Vocabolario toscano, e turchesco: arricchito di molte voci arabe, persiane, tartare, e greche, necessarie alla perfetta cognizione della stessa lingua turchesca. Con la giunta di alcuni rudimente grammaticali utili per impossessarsi del vero idioma turchesco / composto da Antonio Mascis; napoletano interprete del Cosimo III. Gran Duca di Toscana, e dedicato alla medesima altezza. Firenze: Niccolò Nauesi, 1677. 32 unnumbered pages, 290, 38 pages: frontispiece; 17 cm. Bound in contemporary vellum, with manuscript title on spine. "Rudimenti gramaticali [sic]": pages 1-38 at end. Portrait frontispiece, headpieces, tailpieces, initial. Italian-Turkish, pp. 1-284.

1680: [LILLY] Linguarum orientalium Turcicae, Arabicae, Persicae institutiones seu Grammatica Turcica in qua orthographia, etymologia, syntaxis, prosodia, [et] reliqua eo spectantia exacte tranctantur, exemplisque perspicuis illustrantur [et] cujus singulis captibus praecepta linguarum Arabicae et Persicae ... / Opera, typis [et] sumptibus Francisci a Mesnien Meninski. Viennae Austriae: [publisher not identified] 1680. [10], 216 pages; (fol.) Bound in full vellum. First edition, see Brunet, J.-C. Manuel du libraire et de l'amateur de livres, III, 1633. Grammatical appendix to his Thesaurus linguarum orientalium. Turkish-Persian-Arabic numerals, p. 42. No trilingual vocabulary as such.

1729-1756: [LILLY] لغت وان قولي / [قولوفون: تم الجلد الاول (الثاني) ... من كتاب الفاضل محمد ...]. [بن مصطفى ؛ الواني المترجم لصحاح الجوهرى ...].

Lugat-i Vankolu ... / [Qūlūfūn: tam al-jalad al-āwal (al-thānī) ... min kitāb al-fāḍil Muḥammad bin Muṣṭafā; al-wānī al-mutarjīm li-ṣiḥāḥ al-Jawharī ...]. قسطنطينية: دار الطباعة [١٧٥٦-١٧٢٩] Qusṭanṭanīyah: Dār al-Ṭibā‘ah al-Ma‘mūrah, [1729-1756] 2 volumes; 32-33 cm. Allen, W. E. D. (William Edward David), 1901-1973 former owner. A mixed set, v. 2 being of the first edition (the first book issued by the Ottoman imperial press), and v. 1 being of the second edition. Arabic-Turkish dictionary, being a translation, by Mehmet Vankolu (Muḥammad ibn Muṣṭafā al-Wānī), of his Arabic dictionary entitled al-Ṣiḥāḥ. The first leaf of vol. 1 bears the date A.H. 1170.

This was the 1st book printed by the Müteferrika Press, see Gerçek cited below.

This item was listed as item #1 on p. 185 in "The Islamic Manuscript Tradition: Ten Centuries of Book Arts in Indiana University Collections" (Z6611.I84 I85 2009).

Bound in full calf over boards, damaged and repaired with red morocco.

References: Gerçek. Türk Matbaacılığı, p. 84

1756-1757: [LILLY] Lugat-i Vankulu / [Ebû Nasr İsmail ibn Hammâd el-Cevherî; el-mütercim Muḥammad bin Mustafâ el-Vânî] Kostantiniya [Istanbul]: Dar üt-Tıbaat ül-Mâmure, 1169-1170 [1756-1757]. 2 v.; 29 cm. Also known as: Tercümet-i Sihah el-Cevherî and Vankulu lûgati. This item was listed as item #1 on p.186 in "The Islamic Manuscript Tradition: Ten Centuries of Book Arts in Indiana University Collections" (Z6611.I84 I85 2009). Turkish in Arabic script. Both volumes bound in patterned boards with black spines. References: Özege, M. S. Eski harflerle, 22504. Arabic-Turkish dictionary.

1835-1837: [IUW] Dictionnaire turc-français: a l'usage des agents diplomatiques et consulaires, des commerçants, des navigateurs, et autres voyageurs dans le Levant / par J. D. Kieffer et T. X. Bianchi. Paris: Impr. royale, 1835-1837. 2 v.: Vol. 1, xxvi [2] 784 p.; Vol. 2, [2] 1304 p.; 22 cm. Contemporary brown leather over boards, decorated in blind, with title in ink on spines. Turkish-French, Vol. 1, pp. [1]-784 (with corrections and additions, pp. [785]-788); Vol. 2, pp. [1]-1300 (with additions and corrections, pp. [1301]-1304).

Includes a detailed introduction outlining the genesis of this Turkish-French dictionary, which is meant to complement the author's 1831 French-Turkish dictionary, which also appeared in Paris. The author pays tribute to Meninski's "immense" five volume Turkish-Arabic-Persian dictionary [see 1680 above], which however is too large and expensive to meet the needs to the more moderate reading public of diplomatic agents, businessmen and travelers in the Ottoman area.

1857: [IUW] An English and Turkish dictionary in two parts, English and Turkish, and Turkish and English / by J.W. Redhouse. London: Bernard Quaritch, 1857. xxvi, 1149 p.; 20 cm.

1950: New edition [LILLY] Yeni Redhouse lûgati İngilizce-Türkçe = Revised Redhouse dictionary, English-Turkish, James W. Redhouse. Edited by J.K. Birge, S. Huri, C.T. Riggs and A. Tietze. İstanbul: Amerikan Bord Neşriyat-Dairesi, 1950. [4], xx, 1196 pages; 23 cm. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold and blind. English-Turkish, pp. [1]-1193.

Bibliography: pages viii-xvi. Second copy: LILLY, library binding.

1953: Second edition [IUW] Yeni Redhouse lûgati, ingilizce-türkçe. Rev. Redhouse dictionary, English-Turkish. Tashihli, ilvêli 2. basılış. [Editors: J.K. Birge and others] Istanbul, Amerikan Bord Neşriyat Dairesi, 1953. xxii, 1214 p. 25 cm. Bibliography: p. x-xviii.

1866-1876: [IUW] Türkisch-arabisch-persisches Handwörterbuch, by Julius Zenker. Leipzig, W. Enkelmann, 1866-76. 2 v. in 1. (ix, 980 p.) 31 cm. Added t.p. in French: Dictionnaire turc-arabe-persan. Meanings of words also given in French and German.

1967: Reprinted [IUW] Türkisch-arabisch-persisches Handwörterbuch, by Julius Zenker. Hildesheim, G. Olms, 1967. 2 v. in 1. (ix, 980 p.) 24 cm. Added t.p.: Dictionnaire turc-arabe-persan. Preface in French. Reprint of the edition published in Leipzig by W. Enkelmann, 1866-76.

1881-1886 [1971]: [IUW] Dictionnaire turc-français. Kitāb al-durar al-'ummānīyah fī lughat al-'Uthmānīyah. Supplément au[x] dictionnaires publiés jusqu'à ce jour renfermant les mots d'origine turque et les mots arabes et persans employés en osmanli avec leur signification particulière, et aussi un grand nombre de proverbes et de locutions populaires, et un vocabulaire géographique de l'empire ottoman, by C. Barbier de Meynard. Amsterdam, Philo Press, 1971. 2 v. 23 cm. Publications de l'École des langues orientales vivantes t.4-5. Reprint of the Paris, 1881-86 ed.

1890: [LILLY] A Turkish and English lexicon, shewing in English the significations of the Turkish terms, by Sir James W. Redhouse. Constantinople, Printed for the American mission by A. H. Boyajian, 1890. [2], viii, 2224 p. 25 cm. Contemporary black cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Turkish-English, pp. [1]-2224. Includes an extensive preface on the genesis of the dictionary and its relationship to earlier Turkish/English dictionaries. This copy is from the library of the British Legation in Beirut, with their ink stamp on the free front endpaper.

1921: Reprinted [IUW] A Turkish and English lexicon, by Sir James W. Redhouse. New impression. Constantinople, Printed for the American Board of Missions by H. Matteosian, 1921. 2 v. (viii, 2224 p.) 25 cm.

1968: New edition [LILLY] Redhouse yeni Türkçe-İngilizce sözlük = New Redhouse Turkish-English dictionary. 1. baskı. İstanbul: Redhouse Yayınevi, 1968. ©1968. xxxii, 1292 pages; 24 cm. Bound in maroon cloth. "A new dictionary based largely on the Turkish-English lexicon prepared by Sir James Redhouse and published in 1890." Includes bibliographical references. Second copy: [IUW].

1974: Reprint of original edition [IUW] A Turkish and English lexicon, shewing in English the significations of the Turkish terms; by Sir James W. Redhouse. Beirut, Librairie du Liban [1974] xvi, 2224 p. 25 cm. Added t.-p. in Turkish: [Kitab-i maani-yi lehçe]. Reprint of the Constantinople, 1890 edition.

1975: Combined edition [IUW] Redhouse elsözlüğü: İngilizce-Türkçe, Türkçe-İngilizce = Redhouse portable dictionary: English-Turkish, Turkish-English. İstanbul: Redhouse Yayınevi, c1975. 503 p.; 18 cm. Redhouse portable dictionary. "Based on the Türkçe-İngilizce Redhouse sözlüğünün 1968, and 1974 publications."

1983: New edition of Turkish-English [IUW] Redhouse çağdaş Türkçe-İngilizce sözlüğü = Redhouse contemporary Turkish-English dictionary. İstanbul, Türkiye: Redhouse Yayınevi, c1983. xxii, 455 p.; 25 cm.

Bibliography: p. [xix]-xxii.

1984: Seventh printing of 1968 Turkish-English edition [IUW] Redhouse yeni Türkçe-İngilizce sözlük = New Redhouse Turkish-English dictionary. 7. baskı. Seventh impression. İstanbul: Redhouse Yayınevi, 1984. xxxii, 1292 p.; 25 cm. "A new dictionary based largely on the Turkish-English lexicon prepared by Sir James Redhouse and published in 1890."

Bibliography: p. xiv-xviii.

1894: [IUW] Ein türkisch-arabisches Glossar, nach der Leidener Handschrift hrsg. und erläutert von M. Th. Houtsma. Leiden, E.J. Brill, 1894. 114 p.; 57 p. 24 cm. Added t.p. in Arabic. Turkish-Arabic glossary, based on an earlier manuscript in Leiden.

[TURKMEN] Turkmen (Türkmençe, türkmen dili, түркменче, түркмен дили, تورکمن تیلی) is a Turkic language spoken by 3½ million people in Turkmenistan where it is the official state language, as well as by around 2 million people in northeastern Iran and 1½ million people in northwestern Afghanistan (WikP).

Ethnologue: tuk. Alternate Names: Trukhmen, Trukhmeny, Turkmani, Turkmanian, Turkmenler, Turkomans.

1956: [IUW] Russko-turkmenskii slovar'. 50 000 slov. Pod obshchei red. N.A.Baskakova i M.ĪĀ. Khamzaeva. Moskva, Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsional'nykh slovarei, 1956. 880 p. 27 cm. Added t.p. in Turkoman. Errata slip inserted. Russian-Turkmen dictionary.

1968: [IUW] Türkmenche-Ruscha sözlük: takmynan 40 000 söz / N. A. Baskakovyng, B. A. Garryevyng, M. ĪĀ. Khamzaevyng umumy redaksiiasy bilen. Moskva: "Sovetskaia Ėnsiklopediia" Neshriaty, 1968. 832 p.; 27 cm. Added title-page in Russian: Turkmensko-russkii slovar'. Dalby 1577. Turkmen-Russian dictionary.

1982a: Russko-turkmenskii uchebnyi slovar': 5000 slov / K. Ataev, V. Meskutov; pod redaksiiei V. Meskutova. Moskva: "Russkii iazyk," 1982. 288 p.: ill.; 22 cm. Title on added t.p.: Ruscha-türkmenche okuv sözlügi. Russian-Turkmen training dictionary.

1982b: [IUW] Türkmen dilining khinärmentchilik leksikasynyng sözlügi / G. Ataev. Ashgabat: Ylym, 1982. 123 p.: ill.; 20 cm. Title on added t.p.: Slovar' professional'noi leksiki turkmenskogo iazyka--obrabotka dereva i metallov. "Turkmensko-russkii slovar' professional'noi leksiki": p. [99]-119. Bibliography: p. [120]-123. Turkmen-Russian dictionary of wood and metal working.

1984: [IUW] Русско-туркменский словарь для II-IV классов / Р. Бердиев, И.В. Шикина. Russko-turkmenskii slovar' dlia II-IV klassov / R. Berdiev, I.V. Shikina. Ashgabat: "Magaryf", 1984. 92 p.; 21 cm. Added title page: Ruscha-türkmenche sözlük. Russian-Turkmen school dictionary.

1986-1987: [IUW] Bol'shoi russko-turkmenskii slovar': v dvukh tomakh, okolo 77,000 slov / pod redaksiiei B. Charyiarova, S. Altaeva. Moskva: "Russkii iazyk", 1986-1987. 2 v.; 28 cm. Title on added t.p.: Uly ruscha-turkmenche sözlük. Dalby 1576. Bibliography: v. 1, p. 24-[25]. t. 1. A-O. t. 2. P-ĪĀ.

1988: [IUW] Türkmenche-ruscha okuv sözlügi: 9,000 söz / V. Mesgudov; P. Azymovnyň redaktsiiasy bilen. Moskva: "Russkiĭ ĭazyk", 1988. 447 p.; 23 cm. Title on added t.p.: Turkmensko-russkiĭ uchebnyĭ slovar'. Turkmen-Russian dictionary.

1989: [IUW] Inglische-türkmenche sözlük: takmynan 10 000 söz / A. Almämmedov, R. Nazarov. Ashgabat: "Magaryf", 1989. 128 p.; 21 cm. Title on added t.p.: English-Turkmen dictionary.

1991a: Kratkiĭ russko-turkmenskiĭ slovar' dlĭa prĭzyvnoĭ molodezhi / V. Meskutov, K.I. Gutov; pod redaktsiei D. Berdyeva. Ashkhabad: Turkmenistan, 1991. 100 p.; 17 cm. Added title page: Goshunchylyga chagyrylian ĭashlar uchin gysgacha ruscha-türkmenche sözlük. Russian-Turkmen dictionary of military science.

1991b: [IUW] Pedagogicheskaĭa terminologĭia turkmenskogo ĭazyka / M.D. Redzhepova; pod redaktsiei B. Charyiarova. Ashkhabad: Ylym, 1991. 180 p.; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 106-129). Turkmen-Russian dictionary of pedagogy.

1994a: [IUW] Kratkiĭ russko-turkmenskiĭ meditsinskiĭ slovar-razgovornik / Kh. Redzhepov. Ashgabat: Ylym, 1994. 121 p.; 21 cm. Terms in Russian, synonyms in Turkmen (roman script). Russian-Turkmen dictionary of medical terms.

1994b: [IUW] Kratkiĭ russko-turkmenskiĭ slovar' ėkonomicheskikh terminov = Ykdysady terminlering gysgacha ruscha-türkmenche sözlügi / B. Arbabov, A. Garaev. Ashgabat: Ylym, 1994. 38 p.; 20 cm. Russian-Turkmen dictionary of economic terms.

1994c: [IUW] Türkmenche-ruscha gysgacha tematik sözlügi = Краткий туркменско-русский тематический словарь / B. Jumageldieva, Gözel Sopyeva. Türkmenche-ruscha gysgacha tematik sözlügi = Kratkiĭ turkmensko-russkiĭ tematicheskiĭ slovar' / B. Jumageldieva, Gözel Sopyeva. Ashgabat: "Ylkham" RNPB, 1994. 79 p.; 20 cm. Turkmen-Russian thematic dictionary.

1996: see under TURKIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1998: [IUW] English-Turkmen political dictionary = Иңлисче-Түркменче сыясы сөздүк / P. K. Xatamova. English-Turkmen political dictionary = Inglische-Türkmenche syiäsý sözlük / R. K. Khatamova. Ashgabat: "Türkmenistan", 1998. 199 pages; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (page 199). English-Turkmen political dictionary.

2005a: [IUW] Turkmen: Turkmen-English, English-Turkmen dictionary & phrasebook / Nicholas Awde, William Dirks & Amandurdy Amandurdyev. New York: Hippocrene Books, c2005. 207 p.: map; 18 cm.

2005b: [IUW] Turkmen diline nepis sowgat = Al-Tuhfān al-zakīyahfī al-lughah al-Turkīyah / arap dilinden terjime eden we çapa taýýarlan Guwanç Çaryýew; [redaktor R. Geldiýew]. Aşgabat: "Miras", 2005. 294 p.; 21 cm. Arabic-Turkmen dictionary.

2016: [IUW] فرهنگ ترکمنی گمیش تپه (تپه نقره‌ای): ترکمنی - فارسی: به همراه اشاره به ریشه = برخی کلمات در زبان‌های دیگر (به صورت حروف اختصاری) = مرشدی سؤزلوک: تۆرکمنجه - فارسیجه Dictionary Turkmen: Gomish Tapeh: Turkmen, Persian / دکتور سیاوش مرشدی / Farhang-i Turkamanī-i Gamish Tappah (Tappah-i Nuqrahī): Turkamanī - Fārsī: bih hamrāh-i ishārah bih rīshah-i barkhī kalamāt dar zabān'hā-yi dīgar (bih şūrat-i hurūf-i ikhtisārī) = Murshidī Su'zlu'k: Tu'rkamanjah - Fārsīnjah = Dictionary Turkmen: Gomish Tapeh: Turkmen, Persian / Duktur Siyāvash Murshidī. چاپ اول. Chāp-i avval. First edition. قم: انتشارات سلسله، 2016. 211 pages, 5 unnumbered pages: illustrations; 24 cm. Turkmen-Persian dictionary.

2016: [IUW] فرهنگ ترکمنی گمیش تپه (تپه نقره‌ای): ترکمنی - فارسی: به همراه اشاره به ریشه [IUW] = برخی کلمات در زبان‌های دیگر (به صورت حروف اختصاری) = مرشدی سوزلؤک: تۆرکمنجه - فارسینجه Farhang-i Turkmen: Gomish Tapeh: Turkmen, Persian / دکتور سیاوش مرشدی / Dictionary Turkmen: Gomish Tapeh: Turkmen, Persian / Turkamanī-i Gamīsh Tappah (Tappah-i Nuqrahī): Turkamanī - Fārsī: bih hamrāh-i ishārah bih rīshah-i barkhī kalamāt dar zabān'hā-yi dīgar (bih šūrat-i hurūf-i ikhtišārī) = Murshidī Su'zlu'k: Tu'rkamanjah - Fārsīnjah = Dictionary Turkmen: Gomish Tapeh: Turkmen, Persian / دکتور سیاوش مرشدی. چاپ اول. Chāp-i avval. قم: انتشارات سلسله، 2016. Qum: Intishārāt-i Silsilah, 2016. 211 pages, 5 unnumbered pages: illustrations; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references. In Turkmen (Arabic script) and Persian. Turkmen-Persian dictionary.

[TURU] Iau (Iaw, Yau) or Turu is a Lakes Plain language of West Papua, Indonesia, spoken by about 2,100 people, native speakers of this language are the Turu people (Iau). Most speakers are monolingual, and their number is growing. Other peoples in the western Lakes Plain area speak basic Iau. Iau is heavily tonal, with 11 tones on nouns and 19 simple and compound tones on verbs. Dialects are Foi (Poi), Turu, Edopi (Elopi), and Iau proper; these may be distinct enough to be considered separate languages (WikP).

Ethnologue lists Turu only as an alternate name for the following separate languages: Iau (tmu), Edopi (dbf), and Foi (foi).

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TURUNG] The Turung language (Tailung, Tairong, Thai: (pasa tai turung) is an extinct Tai language formerly spoken in Assam. The Turung people who spoke this language now speak Assamese or Singpho languages. The total population of the ethnic group is over 30,000 and primarily live in Jorhat, Golaghat and Karbi Anglong districts of Assam (WikP).

Ethnologue: try. Alternate Names: Tai Turung, Tailung, Tairong.

1903-1927: see Vol. II, 1904 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[TUSCARORA] Tuscarora, sometimes called Skarò·rə́', is an Iroquoian language of the Tuscarora people, spoken in southern Ontario, Canada, North Carolina and northwestern New York around Niagara Falls, in the United States. The historic homeland of the Tuscarora was in eastern North Carolina, in and around the Goldsboro, Kinston, and Smithfield areas. Some Tuscaroras still live in that region after they had migrated to what is now Robeson County, North Carolina. The name Tuscarora (/ˌtʌskəˈrɔːrə/ tus-kə-ROHR-ə) means "hemp people," after the Indian hemp or milkweed, which they use in many aspects of their society. Skarureh refers to the long shirt worn as part of the men's regalia, and so the name literally means "long shirt people."

Tuscarora is a severely endangered language. As of the mid-1970s, only about 52 people spoke it on the Tuscarora Reservation (Lewiston, New York) and the Six Nations of the Grand River First Nation (near Brantford, Ontario). The Tuscarora School in Lewiston has strived to keep the language alive by teaching children from pre-kindergarten to sixth grade. However, the language's only native speakers are older adults (WikP).

Ethnologue: tus. Alternate Names: Skarohreh. Autonym: Ska:rù:rə́'.

1709: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1851-1857: see Vol. 5 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1860: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1989: [IUW] Tuscarora-English/English-Tuscarora dictionary, Blair A. Rudes. Toronto: University of Toronto Press, c1999. xliii, 700 p.; 27 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. Preface includes detailed history of the origins and development of this dictionary.

1998: [IUW] A vocabulary of Tuscarora, compiled by John Lawson. Southampton, Pa.: Evolution Publishing, c1998. 33 p.; 18 cm. American language reprints; vol. 6. English and Tuscarora. Originally published in 1709 in the author's A new voyage to Carolina. Includes bibliographical references.

[TUTUTNI] Tututni (Dotodəni, alternatively "Tutudin"), also known as Coquille and (Lower) Rogue River, is an extinct Athabaskan language once spoken by 3 Tututni (Lower Rogue River Athabaskan) tribes: Tututni tribe (including Euchre Creek band), Coquille tribe, and Chasta Costa tribe who are part of the Rogue River Indian peoples of southwestern Oregon. Ten speakers remained in 1961; the last fluent speaker died in 1983. In 2006 students at Linfield College participated in a project to "revitalize the language." It is one of the four languages belonging to the Oregon Athabaskan cluster of the Pacific Coast Athabaskan languages. Dialects were Coquille (Upper Coquille, Mishikhwutmetunee), spoken along the upper Coquille River;[1] Tututni (Tututunne, Naltunnetunne, Mikonotunne, Kwatami, Chemetunne, Chetleshin, Khwaishtunnetunne); Euchre Creek, and Chasta Costa (Illinois River, Šista Q'wásta) (WikP).

Ethnologue: tuu.

1907-1930: see Vol. 13 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TUVALUAN] Tuvaluan /tu:və'lu:ən/, often called Tuvalu, is a Polynesian language of or closely related to the Ellicean group spoken in Tuvalu. It is more or less distantly related to all other Polynesian languages, such as Hawaiian, Maori, Tahitian, Samoan, and Tongan, and most closely related to the languages spoken on the Polynesian Outliers in Micronesia and Northern and Central Melanesia. Tuvaluan has borrowed considerably from Samoan, the language of Christian missionaries in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The population of Tuvalu is approximately 10,837 people (2012 Population & Housing Census Preliminary Analytical Report). There are estimated to be more than 13,000 Tuvaluan speakers worldwide. In 2015 it was estimated that more than 3,500 Tuvaluans live in New Zealand, with about half that number born in New Zealand and 65 percent of the Tuvaluan community in New Zealand is able to speak Tuvaluan.

Ethnologue: tvl. Alternate Names: Ellice, Ellicean, Tuvalu

1944: [LILLY] One Hundred and Forty-Four Words of the Ellice Language [cover title], by N.K. Hatch. Ellice Islands, South Pacific: [N.K. Hatch], 1944. "First edition / Issue No. Five" on verso of title page. 16 pp. 12.7 x 10 cm. Typed on lined card stock, folded and stapled, with accents added by hand in ink. English-Tuvaluan, pp. 1-14. An early, hand-produced list.

1980: [IUW] A Nanumea lexicon, by Peter Ranby. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1980. x, 243 p.: ill.; 25 cm. Pacific linguistics. Series C; no. 65. Ethnologue lists Nanumea as a dialect of Tuvaluan.

1981: [IUW] A Tuvalu dictionary, by Jay S. Noricks. New Haven, Conn. (P.O. Box 2015, Y.S., New Haven 06520): Human Relations Area Files, 1981. 2 v. (iv, 329 leaves); 23 cm. Original stiff maroon card and maroon cloth spine, with printed paper label on front cover. HRAFlex books; OU5-001. Bibliography: v. 1, p. 9. v. 1. Tuvalu-English, pp. 11-198; v. 2. English-Tuvalu, pp. 200-322 (continuous pagination from vol. 1). First dictionary of the language.

"Most of these data were collected between July of 1969 and September of 1970. I have added a substantial number of other entries as a result of correspondence during the eleven years from 1971 to 1981.... My major purpose in putting this work together is to provide a dictionary that will be of some use to Tuvalu islanders, for whom there is as yet no other dictionary available. A second purpose is to provide Oceanic scholars with a Tuvalu source for comparative research" (Preface).

2000: [IUW] Tuvaluan: a Polynesian language of the Central Pacific / Niko Besnier. London; New York: Routledge, 2000. xxvi, 662 p.; 24 cm. Original black cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in silver. Basic 297-word vocabulary, English-Tuvaluan, pp. 642-646.

[TUVAN] Tuvan (Tuvan: тыва дыл, tıwa dıl; /tʰɯwa tɯl/), also known as Tuvinian, Tyvan or Tuvin, is a Turkic language spoken in the Republic of Tuva in south-central Siberia in Russia. The language has borrowed a great number of roots from the Mongolian language, Tibetan and more recently from the Russian language. There are small diaspora groups of Tuvan people that speak distinct dialects of Tuvan in the People's Republic of China and in Mongolia (WikP).

Ethnologue: tyv. Alternate Names: Diba, Kōk Mungak, Soyod, Soyon, Soyot, Tannu-Tuva, Tofa, Tokha, Tuba, Tuva, Tuvia, Tuvin, Tuvinian, Uriankhai, Uriankhai-Monchak, Uryankhai. Autonym: тыва (tyva), тыва дыл (tyva dyl).

1953: [LILLYbm] Russko-tuvinskii slovar: 22 000 slov, by A[leksandr] A[dolfovich] Palmbakh [1897-1963]. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsionalnykh slovarei, 1953. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in gold and decorated in gold and blind. Pp. 1-5 6-708. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 391. Includes Russian-Tuvin, pp. [17]-703. First dictionary of the language.

1955: [IUW] Tuvinsko-russkii slovar, by A[leksandr] A[dolfovich] Palmbakh [1897-1963]. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsionalnykh slovarei, 1955. 723 p.; 18 cm. Tuvan-Russian dictionary.

1980: [IUW] Russko-tuvinskii slovar': 32 000 slov / pod red. D.A. Mongusha; [avtory slovaria, M.D. Biche-ool ... et al.] Moskva: Russkii iazyk, 1980. 560 p.; 27 cm. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Title on added t.p.: Orus-tyva slovar'. Russian-Tuvan, pp. 25-560.

1988: [IUW] Orus-tyva ööredilge slovary: 5,000 sös / D.A. Mongush.

Moskva: "Russkiĭ iazyk", 1988. 310 p.; 23 cm. Title on added t.p.: Russko-tuvinskiĭ uchebnyiĭ slovar'. Russian-Tuvan dictionary.

2000: [IUW] Ėtimologicheskiĭ slovar' tuvinskogo iazyka / B.I. Tatarintsev; otvetstvennyiĭ redaktor, D.A. Mongush. Novosibirsk: "Nauka", 2000-. v.; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references. t. 1. A-B. t. 2. D, Ė, I, Ĭ. Tuvan-Russian etymological dictionary.

2003a: [IUW] Tuvan dictionary / Gregory D.S. Anderson & K. David Harrison. Munich: Lincom Europa, 2003. 176 p.; 21 cm. Languages of the world. Dictionaries; 28. Original green, yellow, red and white wrappers, lettered in white, red and black. Tuvan-English, pp. 39-106, English-Tuvan, pp. 107-176. Includes bibliographical references (p. 32-35).

"This dictionary consist of approximately 6,000 basic vocabulary items of Tuvan" (from the rear cover).

2003b: [IUW] Soĭyt-byraat-orys slovar' = Hoĭod-buriĭaad-orod toli = Соѳотско-бурѳатско-руссѳий сѳоваръ / В.И. Рассадѳн. Soĭyt-byraat-orys slovar' = Hoĭod-buriĭaad-orod toli = Soĭotsko-buriĭatsko-russkiĭ slovar' / V.I. Rassadin. Улан-Удѳ; Изд-во ОАО "Республиканская типография", 2003. Ulan-Udѳ; Izd-vo ОАО "Respublikanskaĭa tipografiĭa", 2003. 178 p.; 21 cm. Tuvan-Buriat-Russian dictionary. From the Dr. John Gombojab Hangin collection from The Mongolia Society.

[TWANA] The Twana language, also known as Skokomish from one of the tribes that spoke it, belongs to the Salishan family of Native American languages. It is believed by some elders within the Skokomish community (such as Bruce Subiyay Miller) that the language branched off from Lushootseed (dxwəlšucid) because of the region-wide tradition of not speaking the name of someone who died for a year after their death. Substitute words were found in their place and often became normalizing in the community, generating differences from one community to the next. Subiyay speculated that this process increased the drift rate between languages and separated Twana firmly from xwəlšucid (Lushootseed). The last fluent speaker died in 1980. The name "Skokomish" comes from the Twana sqʷuqʷóʔbəš, also spelled sqWuqWu'b3sH, and meaning "river people" or "people of the river" (WikP).

Ethnologue: twa. Alternate Names: Skokomish.

1907-1930: see Vol. 9 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TZELTAL] Tzeltal or Ts'eltal /'tʰɛltɑ:l/ is a Mayan language spoken in the Mexican state of Chiapas, mostly in the municipalities of Ocosingo, Altamirano, Huixtán, Tenejapa, Yajalón, Chanal, Sitalá, Amatenango del Valle, Socoltenango, Villa las Rosas, Chilón, San Juan Cancun, San Cristóbal de las Casas and Oxchuc. Tzeltal is one of many Mayan languages spoken near this eastern region of Chiapas, including Tzotzil, Ch'ol, and Tojolab'al, among others. There is also a small Tzeltal diaspora in other parts of Mexico and the United States, primarily as a result of unfavorable economic conditions in Chiapas. It is a living language with some 371,730 speakers as of 2005, including approximately 50,000 monolinguals (WikP).

Ethnologue: tzh. Alternate Names: Bats'il k'op, Cancuc, Chanal, Highland Tzeltal, Oxchuc Tzeltal, Tenango, Tenejapa, Tseltal.

1888: [LILLY] Historia de las sublevaciones indígenas habidas en el Estado de Chiapas; Gramática de la lengua tzel-tal que habla la generalidad de los habitantes de los pueblos que quedan al oriente y al noreste del Estado; y, Diccionario de la misma. Chiapas: Tip. del Gobierno, 1888. 340 p., 143 p., III, 20.3 cm. First edition.

Contemporary brown quarter-leather and black cloth over boards, spine with four raised bands and lettered and decorated in gold. This copy from the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ink stamp and manuscript annotations on and opposite the title page. Tzeltal-Spanish, pp. [1]-143. On pages [I]-III prior to the dictionary, the author explains how these three titles came to be published together in 1888.

1892: see under MESOAMERICAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1965: [IUW] Vocabulario tzeltal de Bachajón: castellano-tzeltal, tzeltal-castellano / compilado por Marianna C. Slocum y Florencia L. Gerdel. México: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1965. 215 p.: ill., map.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream front wrapper, lettered and decorated in red. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves; no. 13. Spanish-Tzeltal, pp. 9-112, Tzeltal-Spanish, pp. 115-207.

1999: Second edition [IUW] Diccionario tzeltal de Bachajón, Chiapas / compilado por Marianna C. Slocum, Florencia L. Gerdel y Manuel Cruz Aguilar. 2. ed. Coyoacán, D.F.: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1999. xxii, 336 p.: ill., maps; 23 cm. Library binding, preserving original light blue wrappers, lettered in blue. Tzeltal-Spanish, pp. 3-158, Spanish-Tzeltal, pp. 161-275. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves; núm. 40. Includes bibliographical references (p. 335-336).

1976: [IUW] Tzeltal folk zoology: the classification of discontinuities in nature / Eugene S. Hunn. New York: Academic Press, 1976. xlv, 367 p.: ill., maps; 26 cm. Language, thought, and culture series. Includes bibliographical references and Tzeltal-English glossary of folk zoology terms.

2006: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TZOTZIL] Tzotzil /'tsoutsil/ (native name: Bats'i k'op [bats'i k'op^h]) is a Maya language spoken by the indigenous Tzotzil Maya people in the Mexican state of Chiapas. Most speakers are bilingual in Spanish as a second language. In Central Chiapas, some primary schools and a secondary school are taught in Tzotzil. Tzeltal is the most closely related language to Tzotzil and together they form a Tzeltalan sub-branch of the Mayan language family. Tzeltal, Tzotzil and Ch'ol are the most widely spoken languages in Chiapas. In 1975, the Smithsonian Institution produced a dictionary of Tzotzil, containing some 30,000 Tzotzil-English entries, and half that number of English-Tzotzil entries, the most comprehensive resource on Tzotzil vocabulary to that date [see below]. Tzotzil word-lists and grammars date back to the late 19th century, most notably in Otto Stoll's Zur Ethnographie der Republik Guatemala (1884) [see below] (WkP).

Ethnologue: tzo. Alternate Names: Bats'i k'op, San Bartolomé Venustiano Carranza Tzotzil, Tsotsil.

1884: see under GUATEMALAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1885: [LILLY] Vocabulaire de la langue tzotzil, by Hyacinthe, comte de Charencey [1832-1916], ed. Caen: Impr. F. Le Blanc-Hardel, 1885. 41 p. 23 cm.

Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Spanish-Tzotzil, pp. 4-41. Edited from two manuscript sources in the 1870's, as noted in the brief introduction, both of which may derive from an earlier manuscript.

1890: [LILLY] Vocabulario Tzotzil-Español dialecto de los Indios de la parte oriental del estado de Chiapas (Mexico), by Hyacinthe, comte de Charencey. Orleans: Georges Jacob, 1890. 8vo, pp. 27, [1]; original drab wrappers bound in, the front wrapper loosening, but with the ownership stamp of the American ethnographer and linguist James C. Pilling, and inside the wrapper a French mailing label addressed to Pilling at the Bureau of Ethnology in Washington, D.C.; contemporary cloth-backed boards, gilt-lettered spine. An Ayer Linguistic duplicate, with the bookplate of Edward Everett Ayer, an Ayer accession label inside the back cover, and a Newberry release stamp on the verso of the front free flyleaf. Includes Tzotzil-Spanish, pp. [1]-27. Cf. 1885 above.

1892: see under MESOAMERICAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1895: [LILLY] La lengua Tzotzil en Chiapas. Explicaciones gramaticales, dogmáticas é instruc'icas para los sacerdotes católicos y toda clase de personas. Mandado â imprimir por el Sr. P bro. Josê Maria Sánchez. San Cristóbal Las-Casas.—Chiapas. Tip y Encuadernación "El Trabajo." 1895. Pp. [2] I 2-3 4-6 I II-IV 1-95 96. 19.8 cm. Contemporary black leather spine and black cloth over boards, unlettered. Includes "Vocabulario breve de algunos verbos y nombres para el uso de la lengua, con cuyo ejercicio se extiende la inteligencia de ella y su fecundidad de voces y terminaciones," Spanish-Tzotzil vocabulary, pp. 13-50. Bound with the same author's Gramatica de la lengua Zoque, Chiapas, 1877, which contains no vocabulary lists.

1925: see under NADĒB.

1964: [IUW] Vocabulario tzotzil de San Andrés, Chiapas, compilado por Colin C. Delgaty. [1. ed.]. México, Instituto Lingüístico de Verano en cooperación con la Dirección General de Asuntos Indígenas de la Secretaría de Educación Pública, 1964. ix, 81 p. illus. 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream front wrapper, lettered and decorated in black and green. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves, no. 10. Tzotzil-Spanish, pp. 1-60, and Spanish-Tzotzil, pp. 61-81.

1972: [IUW] Los elementos del tzotzil colonial y moderno. [1. ed.]. México, UNAM, Coordinación de Humanidades, 1971 [i.e. 1972]. 107 p. map. 21 cm. Cuaderno (Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México. Centro de Estudios Mayas); 7. Bibliography: p. 105-107. Tzotzil language--Grammar. Tzotzil language--Glossaries, vocabularies, etc.

1975: [LILLYbm] The Great Tzotzil Dictionary of San Lorenzo Zinacantán, by Robert M. Laughlin. Washington, D.C.: Smithsonian Institution Press, 1975. Original printed blue and dark blue wrappers. 586 pp. plus folding maps. First edition. Series: Smithsonian Contributions to Anthropology, No. 19. Tzotzil is one of 30 Mayan languages spoken today; its roots can be traced "tentatively to the heartland of northwestern Guatemala, where proto-Mayan began to diversify around 2200 B.C." "The Tzotzil or 'people of the bat' now [1975] number upwards of 120,000 corn-farming peasants living in 24 communities in the heart of Chiapas, the southernmost state of Mexico." This is the first dictionary of the language.

1978: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Tzotzil de San Andrés con variaciones dialectales. Tzotzil-Español, Español-Tzotzil, by Alfa Hurley viuda de Delgaty & Agustín Ruíz Sánchez. Mexico City: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1978. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in green. Pp. i-iv v-xvii xviii, 1-2 3-481 482. First edition. Series: Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indígenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves," no. 22. This is a review copy, with a loosely inserted typed letter from the Instituto Lingüístico de Verano to the Journal of Anthropological Research. Includes Tzotzil-Spanish, pp. 13-235, and Spanish-Tzotzil, pp. 247-380, followed by a grammar of Tzotzil, and bibliography, pp. 479-481. Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary is based on the Tzotzil of San Andrés that is spoken in the towns of Larráinzar, Bochil, Soyaló, Jitotol, Pueblo Nuevo Solistahuacán and San Juan del Bosque, in the state of Chiapas. There are around 35,000 speakers of San Andrés Tzotzil.... This dictionary includes 10,000 entries, 4,000 in the Spanish part and 6,000 in Tzotzil" (Introduction, tr: BM).

1988: [LILLYbm] The great Tzotzil dictionary of Santo Domingo Zinacantán, with grammatical analysis and historical commentary, by Robert M. Laughlin, with John B. Haviland. Three Vols. Washington, D.C.: Smithsonian Institution Press, 1988. Original rose and orange wrappers, lettered and decorated in white and orange. Pp. [Vol. I: Tzotzil-English] i-ii iii-xiii xiv, 1-356 [2]; [Vol. II: English-Tzotzil] i-ii iii iv-vi, 357-654; [Vol. III: Spanish-Tzotzil] i-ii iii iv-vi, 655-1119 1120. First edition. Smithsonian Contributions to Anthropology, 31. Includes a photographic reproduction of the 1906 copy of the original manuscript in Volume III, pp. 767-1119.

"This dictionary of Tzotzil (Mayan) vocabulary from the town of Zinacantán, Chiapas, Mexico, was edited by the author over a period of nine years. The original manuscript, compiled by an anonymous Dominican friar, probably at the close of the 16th century, disappeared during the Mexican Revolution, but a manuscript copy of 351 pages survives. It was made around 1906 at the Behest of the Bishop of Chiapas... The approximately 11,000 Spanish-Tzotzil entries have been translated into English" (Abstract).

2006: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[TZ'UTUJIL] Tz'utujil /'tsu:təhi:l/ is a Mayan language spoken by the Tz'utujil people in the region to the south of Lake Atitlán in Guatemala. Tz'utujil is closely related to its larger neighbors, Kaqchikel and K'iche'. The 2002 census found 60,000 people speak Tz'utujil as their mother tongue. The two Tz'utujil dialects are Eastern and Western. The majority of the Tz'utujil people have Spanish as their second language, although many of the older people, or those in more remote locations do not. Many children also do not learn Spanish until they go to school around the age of five although more importance is now being placed upon it due to the influx of tourism into the region. As of 2012, the Community Library Rija'tzuul Na'ooj in San Juan La Laguna features story telling for children in Tz'utujil; bilingual children's books are also available. Spanish is used in written communication (WikP), Ethnologue: tzj. Alternate Names: Eastern Tzutujil, Santiago Atitlán Tzutujil, Tzutuhil, Tzutujil Oriental.

1892: see under MESOAMERICAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1996: [LILLYbm] Diccionario tz'utujil, by Francisco Perez Mendoza & Miguel Hernandez Mendoza. La Antigua Guatemala: Proyecto Lingüístico Francisco Marroquin, 1996. Original pale tan wrappers, lettered in brown, black and white, with color illustrations on front and rear covers. Pp. [2] 1-2 3-127/128, ²1-703 704-706. 20.8 cm. First edition. 500 copies. Includes Tzutujil-Spanish, pp. ²1-581, and Spanish-Tzutujil index, pp. 583-698. First dictionary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

"Tzutujil is a Mayan language spoken by around 100,000 people in the districts of Solalá and Suchitepéquez in the midwestern region of Guatemala to the south of Lake Atitlán.... The work on the preparation of this dictionary started more than twenty years ago, in 1973" (Introduction, tr: BM).

2007: [IUW] Popol vuh. Tzutuhil. Pojp wuuj pa tz'utujil. [Guatemala]: ALMG-Academia de lenguas Mayas de Guatemala: Tz'utujil Tinaamitaal, Comunidad Lingüística Tz'utujil, 2007. 171 p.; 21 cm. Academia de las Lenguas Mayas de Guatemala. Subtitle on cover: Pojp Wuuj version Tz'utujil. Includes Tzutuhil-Spanish glossary.

U

[UAB METO] Uab Meto is an Austronesian language spoken by Atoni people of West Timor. The language has a variant spoken in the East Timorese exclave of Oecussi-Ambeno, called Baikenu. Baikenu uses words derived from Portuguese, for example, obrigadu for "thank you", instead of the Indonesian terima kasih. A wordlist of 200 basic vocabulary items is available at the Austronesian Basic Vocabulary Database (WikP).

Ethnologue: aoz. Alternate Names: Atoni, "Dawan" (pej.), Meto, Orang Gunung, "Rawan" (pej.), Timol, Timor, "Timor Dawan" (pej.), Timoreesch, Timoreezen, Timorese, Uab Atoni Pah Meto, Uab Pah Meto.

1894: see 1894a under MALAY.

[UARE] Uare, or Kwale, is a language of Papua New Guinea. Dialects are Garihe (Garia) and Uare proper (Kwale, Kware) (WikP).

Ethnologue: ks. Alternate Names: Kwale, Kware.

1970: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[UBYKH] Ubykh or Ubyx is an extinct Northwest Caucasian language once spoken by the Ubykh people (who originally lived along the eastern coast of the Black Sea before migrating en masse to Turkey in the 1860s). The language's last native speaker, Tevfik Esenç, died in 1992. The Ubykh language is ergative and agglutinative, with polypersonal verbal agreement and a very large number of distinct consonants, but only two phonemically distinct vowels. With around eighty consonants it has one of the largest inventories of consonants in the world, the largest number for any language without clicks. The name Ubykh is derived from /wəbəx/, its name in the Abdzakh Adyghe language. It is known in linguistic literature by many names: variants of Ubykh, such as Ubikh, Ubih (Turkish) and Oubykh (French); and Pekhi (from Ubykh /tʰaxə/) and its Germanised variant Päkhy (WikP).

Ethnologue: uby. Alternate Names: Oubykh, Pekhi, Ubyx.

1928: [LILLYbm] Die Sprache der Ubychen. Grammatische Skizze. Texte, Ubychisches Glossar nebst deutschem Index, by Adolf Dirr. Leipzig: Verlag der Asia Major, 1928. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. [4] 1 2-134 135-136. First edition. "Sonderdruck aus Caucasica, Fasc. 4 und 5." Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Ubychish [Ubykh]-German glossary, pp. 61-117, and German-Ubychish [Ubykh] index, pp. [118]-134. This is the first substantial vocabulary of the language.

"Ubykh belongs to the northwest-Caucasian languages... There are no longer any Ubykhi on Caucasian soil; in 1864 following the conquest of their homeland by the Russians, they all emigrated to Turkey, primarily to Anatolia. They live there scattered among the Turkic... population. Of their present-day circumstances little can be said, given the events and aftermath of the world war... With the exception of the brief wordlists of [James] Bell already mentioned [Journal of a residence in Circassia during the years 1837, 1838, and 1839 (London: E. Moxon, 1840)], our knowledge of Ubykh is limited to one printed and one manuscript source. [The printed source has no vocabulary; the manuscript includes brief wordlists] ... I call [my work] a sketch. I doubt if it will ever be possible to complete it fully. What Benediktsen already noted in 1898 I found fully confirmed in 1913; Ubykh is dying out as a language" (Foreword, tr: BM).

1934: [IUW] Die Päkhy-Sprache, by Julius von Mészáros. Chicago, Ill., The University of Chicago Press, 1934. viii, 402 p. incl. map. 25 cm. Library binding. Studies in ancient oriental civilization; no. 9. Päkhy [Ubykh]-German dictionary, pp. [157]-402. Bibliographical foot-notes.

As the author explains, the dictionary is arranged analytically: "Many of the root words do not normally appear in the form in which they are shown here. Numerous compound words are separated into their component parts.... Since our goal is not practical, but scholarly, new foreign words have been left out entirely" (p. 158).

1963: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire de la langue oubykh avec introduction phonologique, index français-oubykh, textes oubykhs, by Hans Vogt [1903--]. [Oslo]: Universitetsforlaget, 1963. Original blue-green cloth over boards, lettered in gold and decorated in blind. Pp. [2] 1-7 8-264 265-266. First edition. Series: Instituttet for sammenlignende kulturforskning. Serie B: Skrifter, 52. Includes Ubykh-French, pp. [83]-236, and index of non-Caucasian lexical elements, pp. [237]-241, and a French-Ubykh index, pp. [243]-256. This is the first dictionary of this language.

"The present situation of Ubykh is hopeless. At the time of our two visits to Meszaros, Ubykh was still spoken in many of the villages in the Manyas region; today, the language is not known by more than twenty people.... The majority of these are over seventy years old" (Preface, tr: BM).

1965: [IUW] Documents anatoliens sur les langues et les traditions du Caucase. Vol. III: Nouvelles études oubykh: Notes pour un centenaire. Textes. Révision du Dictionnaire de H. Vogt. . Paris: Institut d'éthnologie, 1965. 269 p. 25 cm. Library binding. Travaux et mémoires de l'institut d'ethnologie, LXXI. Part 3: Révision du Dictionnaire de H. Vogt, pp. [197]-269. Part III. "Dictionnaire (p. 83-234)", pp. 216-259. Revisions of 1963 [see above]/

[UDI] The Udi language, spoken by the Udi people, is a member of the Lezgian branch of the Northeast Caucasian language family. It is believed an earlier form of it was the main language of Caucasian Albania, which stretched from south Dagestan to current day Azerbaijan. The Old Udi language is also called the Caucasian Albanian language and possibly corresponds to the "Gargarian" language identified by medieval Armenian historians. Modern Udi is known simply as Udi. The language is spoken by about 4,000 people in the Azerbaijani village of Nij in Qabala rayon, in Oghuz rayon, as well as in parts of the North Caucasus in Russia. It is also spoken by ethnic Udis living in the villages of Debetavan, Bagratashen, Ptghavan, and Haghtanak in Tavush Province of northeastern Armenia and in the village of Zinobiani (Oktomberi) in the Kvareli District of the Kakheti province of Georgia (WikP).

Ethnologue: udi. Alternate Names: Udin, Uti.

1974: [IUW] Udinjā-azārbaġjanja-rusja lighāt / Voroshil Gukasġan. Бакы: ЕЛМ, 1974. Baky: Elm, 1974. 296 p.; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Also available in online version. In Azerbaijani, Russian, and Udi; introd. and explanatory matter also in Russian. Udi-Azerbaijani-Russian dictionary.

1982: [IUW] Die Sprache der Uden in Nord-Azerbajdžan: Studien zur Synchronie und Diachronie einer süd-ostkaukasischen Sprache / Wolfgang Schulze. Wiesbaden: Harrassowitz, 1982. xviii, 313 p.: ill., map; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue front and rear wrappers, lettered in white. Expanded version of the author's thesis (Universität Bonn, 1981) Includes "Wörterverzeichnis" (Vocabulary/index), pp. [295]-299, of Udi words (with German equivalents) found on the corresponding page or pages in the main text, followed by index to a few words in other related languages. Bibliography: p. [303]-313.

[UDMURT] Udmurt (удмурт кыл, udmurt kyl) is a Uralic language, part of the Permic subgroup, spoken by the Udmurt natives of the Russian constituent republic of Udmurtia, where it is co-official with Russian. It is written using a Cyrillic alphabet, including five characters not used in the Russian alphabet: Ж/ж, Ѕ/ѕ, Ў/ў, Ъ/ъ, and Ы/ы. Together with Komi and Komi-Permyak languages, it constitutes the Permic grouping. Among outsiders, it has traditionally been referred to by its Russian exonym, Votyak. Udmurt has borrowed vocabulary from the neighboring languages Tatar and Russian. Ethnologue estimates 550,000 native speakers (77%) in an ethnic population of 750,000 in the former USSR (1989 census) (WikP).

Ethnologue: udm. Alternate Names: Votiak, Votyak.

1730: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1738: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1880: see under KOMI-ZYRIAN.

1896: [IUW] A votják nyelv szótára. Lexicon linguae Votiacorum, by Bernát Munkácsi. Budapest, 1896. xvi, 836 p. Dalby 1579: "Glosses in Hungarian and German. German index, pp. 759-836."

1901: [IUW] Wotjakische Chrestomathie: mit Glossar / von Yrjö Wichmann. Helsingfors: Druckerei der Finnischen Litteraturgesellschaft, 1901. v, 134 p.; 23 cm. Apuneuvoja suomalais-ugrilaisten kielten opintoja varten; 2.

1954: Second edition [IUW] Wotjakische Chrestomathie mit Glossar / Yrjö Wichmann. Anhang: Grammatikalischer Abriss, von D.R. Fuchs. 2. Aufl. Helsinki, Suomalais-Ugrilainen Seura [1954]. 166 p. Series: Apuneuvoja suomalais-ugrilaisten kielten opintoja varten II,

1955: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1956: [IUW] Russko-udmurtskiĭ slovar': okolo 40 000 slov. S prilozheniem kratkogo ocherka grammatiki udmurtskogo iazyka / [V. M. Vakhrushev, glavnyi redaktor]. Moskva: Gosudarstvennoe izdatel'stvo inostrannykh i natsional'nykh slovarëi, 1956. 1360 p.; 21 cm. Russian-Udmurt dictionary.

1967: [IUW] Kratkiĭ udmurtsko-russkiĭ frazeologicheskiĭ slovar' / K. N. Dziūina; redaktor P. Pozdeev. Izhevsk: Udmurtiia, 1967. 130 p.; 17 cm. In Cyrillic characters. Includes bibliography. Udmurt-Russian dictionary of idioms.

1983: [IUW] Udmurt-dzuch slovar': 35,000 ëros kyl"ës / redaktsiez V.M. Vakhrushevlën. Moskva: "Russkiĭ iazyk", 1983. 590, [1] p.; 27 cm. Title an added t.p.: Udmurtsko-russkiĭ slovar'. "Kratkiĭ grammaticheskii ocherk udmurtskogo iazyka": p. 563-[591]. Dalby 1681. Includes indexes. Udmurt-Russian dictionary.

1987: [IUW] Wotjakischer Wortschatz / aufgezeichnet von Yrjö Wichmann; bearbeitet von T.E. Uotila und Mikko Korhonen; herausgegeben von Mikko Korhonen. Helsinki: Suomalais-ugrilainen Seura, 1987. xxiii, 421 p.; 26 cm. Library binding, preserving original front and rear cream wrappers, lettered in black. Lexica Societatis Fenno-Ugricae, 21. Udmurt-German, pp. [1]-334, German index, pp. 335-421. Includes detailed information on Wichmann (1868-1947), and his method and sources in compiling the dictionary, and its subsequent editing by others.

1991: [IUW] Udmurt kylliukam / T.K. Borisov. Izhevsk: UNIĀAL UrO AN SSSR, 1991. 383 p.; 22 cm. Title in colophon: Udmurtsko-russkiĭ tolkovyi slovar'. Udmurt-Russian dictionary.

1995a: [IUW] Kratkiĭ udmurtsko-russkiĭ, russko-udmurtskiĭ slovar' / sostaviteli, R.Sh. Nasibullin, S.A. Maksimov. Izhevsk: Izd-vo Udmurtskogo universiteta, 1995. 366 p.; 18 cm. Added title page: Udmurt-dzuch, dzuch-udmurt vakchiĭak kylsuz'et. Rumurt-Russian, Russian-Udmurt dictionary.

1995b: [IUW] Udmurt-English-Finnish dictionary: with a basic grammar of Udmurt / compiled and edited by Pirkko Suihkonen, chief editor; Bibinur Zagulyayeva and Galina Tronina, co-editors. Helsinki: Suomalais-Ugrilainen Seura, 1995. 326 p.: map; 26 cm. Original cream wrappers, lettered in black. Lexica Societatis Fenno-Ugricae, 24. Dalby 1580. Udmurt-English-Finnish, pp. 17-264, grammar, pp. [265]-324. Bibliographical references (p. 325-326).

1996: [IUW] Sredstva obraznogo vyrazheniia v udmurtskom iazyke / sostavlenie, perevod K.N. Dziūinoi. Izhevsk: Udmurtiia, 1996. 143 p.; 21 cm. Udmurt-Russian dictionary of idioms.

2003: [IUW] Russko-udmurtskiĭ slovar' geograficheskikh terminov: bolee 1700 slov / [Tuganaev V.V., Vorontsov P.I., Perevoshchikov A.P.]. Izhevsk: Udmurtskiĭ in-t istorii, iazyka i literatury UrO RAN, 2003. 182, [1] p.; 21 cm. Title from colophon: Geografi nimkyl"ësyn žuch-udurt kylliukam. Includes bibliographical references (p. 182-[183]). Russian-Udmurt dictionary of geographical terms.

2006: [IUW] Sured"ësyn kylsuz'et, udmurt, žuch, angli kyl"ësyn: 600 pala kyl"ës: dyshetskis'ësy posobie = Udmurtsko-russko-angliĭskiĭ kartinnyi slovar' = Pictorial Udmurt-Russian-English dictionary / A.N. Zhuravleva. 2-ti izdanie. Second edition. Izhevsk: "Udmurtiia", 2006. 159 p.: col. ill.; 23 cm.

2008: [IUW] Udmurtsko-russkiĭ slovar': okolo 50,000 slov / otvetstvennyi redaktor, L. E. Kirillova. Izhevsk: Udmurtskiĭ in-t istorii, iazyka i literatury UrO RAN,

2008. 922 p.; 27 cm. Added title page: Udmurt-ḏzuch kylliūkam. Udmurt-Russian dictionary.

2013a: [IUW] Русско-удмуртско-татарский словарь: около 13 000 слов / Р.Ш. Насибуллин. Russko-udmurtsko-tatarskii slovar': okolo 13 000 slov / R.Sh. Nasibullin. Казань: Татарское книжное издательство, 2013. Kazan': Tatarskoe knizhnoe izdatel'stvo, 2013. 527 pages; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. Russian-Udmurt-Tatar dictionary.

2013b: [IUW] Системно-тематический русско-удмуртский словарь: учебное пособие / Р.Ш. Насибуллин, В.Г. Семёнов, В.Г. Sistemno-tematicheskii russko-udmurtskii slovar': uchebnoe posobie / R.Sh. Nasibullin, V.G. Semënov, V.G. Ижевск: Ассоциация "Научная книга", 2013. Izhevsk: Assotsiatsiia "Nauchnaia kniga", 2013. 378 pages; 21 cm. Thematic Russian-Udmurt dictionary.

[UGARITIC] Ugaritic (/ˌuːɡəˈrɪtɪk, ˌjuː-/) is an extinct Amorite language known through the Ugaritic texts discovered by French archaeologists in 1929. It is known almost only in the Ugarit texts found in the ruined city of Ugarit (modern Ras Shamra, Syria) It has been used by scholars of the Hebrew Bible to clarify Biblical Hebrew texts and has revealed ways in which the cultures of ancient Israel and Judah found parallels in the neighboring cultures. Ugaritic has been called "the greatest literary discovery from antiquity since the deciphering of the Egyptian hieroglyphs and Mesopotamian cuneiform" (WikP).

This extinct language is not listed in Ethnologue.

1947: [LILLY] Ugaritic Handbook: Revised Grammar, Paradigms, Texts in Transliteration, Comprehensive Glossary, by Cyrus H. Gordon. Rom: Pontificum Institutum Biblicum, 1947. vii, 283 p. First edition thus. Contemporary black cloth spine, unlettered, and marbled paper over boards, bound in three vols, interleaved. "For the convenience of scholars who may wish to use the grammar, text, and glossary simultaneously, the three parts of this handbook have been produced so that they may be separated for individual binding" (Foreword). Part I: Grammar, pp. 1-128; Part II: The Ugaritic Texts, pp. 129-204; Part III: Comprehensive Glossary: Ugaritic-English, pp. 205-383. The Lilly copy is interleaved and annotated in ink with what may be the author's notes for future editions, including two leaves of loosely inserted notes. Gordon's Ugaritic Grammar was first published in 1940.

1955: Second edition [IUW] Ugaritic manual; newly revised grammar, texts in transliteration, cuneiform selections, paradigms, glossary, indices, by Cyrus H. Gordon. Roma, Pontificum Institutum Biblicum, 1955. xv, 361 p. 29 cm. Analecta orientalia 35. Issued in 3 pts. in portfolio. Pts. 1 and 3 are an extensive revision of pts. 1 and 3 of the authors's Ugaritic Handbook [1947]; pt. 2 is unchanged. Bibliography: p. 359-361. Includes Ugaritic-English glossary.

1965: Third edition [IUW] Ugaritic textbook; grammar, texts in transliteration, cuneiform selections, glossary, indices [by] Cyrus H. Gordon. Rome, Pontifical Biblical Institute, 1965. xvi, 547 p. 30 cm. Analecta orientalia 38. Issued in 3 pts. in portfolio. All three parts mark an extensive revision of their counterparts in the author's Ugaritic manual, published in 1955. Bibliography: p. 545-547.

1963: [IUW] Wörterbuch der ugaritischen Sprache / Joseph Aistleitner; hrsg. von Otto Eissfeldt. Berlin; Akademie-Verlag, 1963. vi, 362 p.; 22 cm. Sitzungsberichte der Sächsischen Akademie der Wissenschaften zu Leipzig, Philologisch-Historische Klasse; Bd. 106, Heft 3. Dalby 1582. Ugaritic-German dictionary. Errata sheet inserted.

1984: [IUW] A basic grammar of the Ugaritic language; with selected texts and glossary, by Stanislav Segert. Berkeley; University of California Press, c1984. xxvi, 213 p.; ill.; 29 cm. Bibliography: p. xviii-xxvi. Ugaritic-English glossary.

1987: [IUW] Ugaritic vocabulary in syllabic transcription, by John Huehnergard. Atlanta, Ga.; Scholars Press, c1987. xviii, 371 p.; 24 cm. Harvard Semitic studies; no. 32. Dalby 1583. Includes indexes. Bibliography: p. [372]-342. Ugaritic-English vocabulary.

2003: [IUW] A dictionary of the Ugaritic language in the alphabetic tradition / by Gregorio del Olmo Lete and Joaquín Sanmartín; translated by Wilfred G.E. Watson. Leiden; Boston; Brill, 2003. 2 v. (xliv, 1006 p.); 25 cm. Handbuch der Orientalistik. Erste Abteilung, Nahe und der Mittlere Osten; 67. Bd. Cf, Dakby 1584. A translation of Diccionario de la lengua uragítica published in Barcelona in 1996. Includes bibliographical references.

2015: Third edition [IUW] A dictionary of the Ugaritic language in the alphabetic tradition / By Gregorio del Olmo Lete, Joaquin Sanmartin; Translated and Edited by Wilfred G.E. Watson. Third Revised Edition. Leiden; Boston; Brill, [2015]. 2 volumes; 25 cm/ Handbuch der Orientalistik. Erste Abteilung, Nahe und der Mittlere Osten; 112. Includes bibliographical references. V. 1. A/I/U-K; v. 2. L-Z.

"As with any dictionary of a newly discovered dead language, the aim of this Dictionary of the Ugaritic alphabetic texts is to indicate the stage reached in its lexical description and to serve as a reference work for further study. In this connection, the main interpretative opinions have been included, since to a large extent Ugaritic lexicography remains uncertain. Also the most relevant comparative Semitic material has been provided in order to corroborate the lexical choices adopted by the authors and help readers to verify their own. The new material discovered since 1992 and recently published has also been included, along with all the personal and topographical names as in the two previous editions" (Publisher's description).

2008: [IUW] Kleines Wörterbuch des Ugaritischen, by Josef Tropper. Wiesbaden; Harrassowitz, 2008. xv, 193 p.; 24 cm. Elementa linguarum orientis, 4. Includes bibliographical references. Ugaritic-German dictionary.

2009: [IUW] A manual of Ugaritic / Pierre Bordreuil and Dennis Pardee. [English ed. Original edition in French]. Winona Lake, Ind.; Eisenbrauns, 2009. xii, 355 p.; ill.; 24 cm. + 1 CD-ROM (4 3/4 in.). Linguistic studies in ancient West Semitic; 3. Includes Ugaritic-English glossary.

"On the CD, in addition to the PDF [of entire book], color photos of all the texts are provided. The hyperlinks to the PDF enable the reader to move easily from the discussion in the grammar to a copy of a text to a color photo of the text and back again, making the material much more accessible and usable for students and researchers."-- Cover p. 4. Includes bibliographical references (p. 84-96).

[UKRAINIAN] The Ukrainian language (українська мова, ukrainska mova, IPA: [ʊkrɐˈjinʲsʲkə ˈmɔvə]) is an East Slavic language of the Indo-European language family spoken primarily in Ukraine. It is the native language of a majority of Ukrainians. Written Ukrainian uses the Ukrainian alphabet, a variant of the Cyrillic script. The standard language is studied by the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine and Potebnia Institute of Linguistics. Comparisons are often made between Ukrainian and Russian, another East Slavic language, yet there is more mutual intelligibility with Belarusian, and a closer lexical distance to West Slavic Polish and South Slavic Bulgarian. Russification saw the Ukrainian language banned as a subject from schools and as a language of instruction in the Russian Empire, and continued in various ways in the Soviet Union. Even so, the language continued to see use throughout the country, and remained particularly strong in Western Ukraine (WikP). Ethnologue indicates that 25 million people speak Ukrainian as their first language.

Ethnologue: ukr. Autonym: українська мова (Ukrayins'ka mova).

[IN PROGRESS]

1985: see 1985b under SLOVAK.

1988: see 1998a under BULGARIAN.

1994: see 1994b under RUSYN.

2001: see under RUSYN.

[UKWUANI-ABOH-NDONI] Ukwuani, Aboh, and Ndoni are a cluster of Igboid languages of Nigeria (WikP).

Ethnologue: ukw.

1967: see 1967a under IGBO.

1968: [IUW] An Introduction to Ìka and Úkwuàní. Edited by Kay Williamson from material by G.D. Chikogu, I.O. Ekugum [and] A.C. Nkechika. [Ibadan] Institute of African Studies, University of Ibadan, 1968. ii, 55 p. 33 cm. Library binding, preserving original pale green front wrapper, lettered in black. Occasional publication (University of Ibadan. Institute of African Studies); no. 14. Ukwuani wordlist, English-Ukwuani[-Aboh-Ndoni], pp. 31=47.

"This wordlist confirms or in some cases corrects the one in Armstrong (1967)" (p. 31).

[ULWA] Sumo (also known as Sumu) is the collective name for a group of Misumalpan languages spoken in Nicaragua and Honduras. Hale & Salamanca (2001) classify the Sumu languages into a northern Mayangna, composed of the Tawahka and Panamahka dialects, and southern Ulwa. Sumu specialist Ken Hale considers the differences between Ulwa and Mayangna in both vocabulary and morphology to be so considerable that he prefers to speak of Ulwa as a language distinct from the northern Sumu varieties (WikP).

Ethnologue: ulw. Alternate Names: Ulúa, Woolwa.

1870: see under MISKITO. First published vocabulary of Ulwa.

1988: [LILLYbm] Vocabulario preliminar del ulwa (sumu meridional).

[Managua, Nicaragua]: [Cambridge, Mass.]: Centro de Investigaciones y Documentacion de la Costa Atlantica; Centro de Ciencia Cognitiva, Instituto Tecnológico de Massachusetts, 1988. Original red wrappers, spiral bound, lettered and decorated in red. Pp. [2] i-ix x, 1-113 114. First edition. Includes Ulwa-Spanish-Mosquito-English, pp. 1-

46, Spanish-Ulva, pp. 47-66, Misquito-Ulva, pp. 67-81, and English-Ulva, pp. 83-101. Preliminary version of first dictionary of this language.

"This preliminary vocabulary of Ulva (sumu meridional) was compiled based on materials gathered by Ken Hale and Abanel Lacayo Blanco during the month of January in 1988. This work represents the first step in the study of Ulva, which was solicited for the members of the Karawala region [of Nicaragua] under the auspices of the Autonomy Project.... Since this preliminary vocabulary is merely a first step in the preparation of an Ulva dictionary, it will naturally contain many errors.... We hope that it will be possible to assemble a group of native speakers to work on the task of documenting their language" (Preface, tr: BM).

1989: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Elemental del Ulwa (sumu meridional) Karawala, Región Autónoma Atlántico Sur, Nicaragua; [Bluefields]; [Cambridge, MA]: CODIUL / UYUTMUBAL; Centro de Inverstigaciones y Documentación de la Costa Atlántica; Centro de Ciencia Cognitiva, Instituto Tecnológico de Massachusetts, 1989. Original powder blue wrappers, lettered and illustrated in black. 166 pp. + 9 pp. loosely inserted as "Suplemento" for the letters m-n-o, which had been omitted. First edition. Includes, pp. 1-90 + 9 supplement, an Ulva-Spanish-Mosquito-English dictionary, with a Spanish-Ulva index, pp. 91-114, a Mosquito-Ulva index, pp. 115-133, and an English-Ulva index, pp. 135-157. First dictionary of this language.

"This volume represents the second stage in the compilation of a dictionary of the Ulva dialect (Sumu meridional) which is spoken in the Karawala region...of Nicaragua. The first stage was represented by a Preliminary Vocabulary of Ulva [see above]...it was to serve as a base upon which a joint project with native speakers could be produced" (tr: BM). The compilers of the dictionary were: Clementina Abraham, Loonzo Knight, Abanel Lacayo, Francisco Santiago, and Kiandler Santiago. They utilized previous Mosquito dictionaries, including that published by CIDCA in 1986 [see above].

[UMA] Uma (known natively as Pipikoro) is a language spoken in Central and South Sulawesi, Indonesia (WikP).

Ethnologue: ppk. Alternate Names: Koro, Oema, Pipikoro.

1964: [LILLYbm] De Uma-taal (West Midden-Celebes): spraakkunstige schets en teksten. Uitg. en van een woordenlijst voorzien, by S[amuel] J[onathan] Esser [1900-1044]. 's-Gravenhage: Martin Nijhoff, 1964. Original pale green wrappers, lettered in black and decorated in blue. Pp. I-V VI-XIV XV-XVI, 1 2-144. First edition. Series: Verhandeligen van het Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal-, Land- en Volkenkunde, deel 43. Includes Uma-Dutch, pp. 103-128, and a Dutch-Uma index, pp. 129-144. This appears to be the only printed vocabulary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

[UMATILLA] Umatilla (Tamalúut) is a variety of Southern Sahaptin, part of the Sahaptian subfamily of the Plateau Penutian group. It was spoken during late aboriginal times along the Columbia River and is therefore also called Columbia River Sahaptin. It is currently spoken as a first language by a few dozen elders and some adults in the Umatilla Reservation in Oregon. Some sources say that Umatilla is derived from imatílám-hlama: hlama means 'those living at' or 'people of' and there is an ongoing debate about the meaning of imatílám, but it is said to be an island in the Columbia River (WikP).

Ethnologue: uma. Alternate Names: Columbia River Sahaptin, Ichishkfin.

2009: see under SAHAPTIN.

2014: [IUW] Umatilla dictionary: a project of the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation and Noel Rude. Seattle; London: Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation in association with University of Washington Press, [2014]. xi, 622 pages: illustrations, map; 27 cm. Original blue, red, yellow and white paper over boards, lettered in white and yellow. Umatilla-English, pp. 52-463, English-Umatilla, pp. 465-616. Includes bibliographical references.

"The dictionary includes a grammar and comparative information that place the Umatilla language in its linguistic and historical contexts, and it compiles all of the language's known words, phrases, and constructions.... It adds to the growing body of linguistic work being done by tribes and scholars on endangered languages" (from the rear cover).

[UNA] Una, better known as Goliath, is a Papuan language spoken in Yahukimo Regency, Highland Papua. Dialects are (Western) Una, Bomela, Tanime, Eastern Sela, Kinome. Eastern Una is closer to Ketengban (and often considered a dialect of) (Wikip). Population: 5,600 (2006 SIL), increasing.

Ethnologue: mtg. Alternate Names: Goliath, Langda, Mount Goliath, Oranje-Gebergte.

Autonym: Una.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[UNAMI] Unami is an Algonquian language spoken by Lenape people in what was then the lower Hudson Valley area and New York Harbor area, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, but later in Ontario and Oklahoma. It is one of the two Delaware languages, the other being Munsee. The last fluent speaker in the United States, Edward Thompson, of the Delaware Tribe of Indians, died on 31 August 2002. His sister Nora Thompson Dean (1907–1984) provided valuable information about the language to linguists and other scholars. Lenape is from /lɔna:pɛ/, a word in the Unami dialect whose most literal translation into English would be "common person". The Lenape names for the areas they inhabited were Scheyichbi (i.e. New Jersey), which means "water's edge", and Lenapehoking, meaning "in the land of the Delaware Indians", although the latter is a term coined by the Unami speaker Nora Thompson Dean in 1984, to describe the ancient homeland of all Delaware Indians, both Unami and Munsee. The English named the river running through much of the traditional range of the Lenape after the first governor of the Jamestown Colony, Lord De La Warr, and consequently referred to the people who lived around the river as "Delaware Indians" (Wikip).

Ethnologue: unm. Alternate Names: Delaware, Lenape, Lenni-Lenape.

1633: [LILLY] Novvs orbis, seu Descriptionis Indiae Occidentalis libri XVIII. Autore Ioanne de Laet Antverp. Novis tabulis geographicis et variis animantium, plantarum, fructuumque iconibus illustrati. Lvgd. Batav., Apud Elzevirios, 1633. [32], 690, [18] p. illus., 14 maps. (double) 35 cm. (fol.) Half-title: Joannis de Laet Americae utriusque descriptio. From the library of Bernardo Mendel. Bound in contemporary vellum. Sabin 38557. Palau y Dulcet (2. ed.) 129560n. Moraes, R.B. de Bib. brasileira, I:384. Willems Les Elzevier, 382. First printed vocabulary of Sanhican [a dialect of Delaware, possibly Northeastern Delaware] in Latin (see below 1999, for additional information).

1819: [LILLYbm] "Words, Phrases, and Short Dialogues, in the Language of the Lenni Lenape, or Delaware Indians," by Rev. John Heckewelder [Section III, with separate title page], in: Transactions of the Historical & Literary Committee of the American Philosophical Society, held at Philadelphia, for Promoting Useful Knowledge. Vol. I. Philadelphia: Abraham Small, 1819. Contemporary brown calf (very worn, front cover hanging by a thread), with red leather label (chipped) lettered in red. Pp. [4] i-iv v-1, [2] ²i-iii iv, 3 4-464 465-468. First edition. Includes Delaware-English words and phrases, pp. [453]-464. This first volume of the transactions of the Society also includes, with separate title pages, "No. I. An Account of the History, Manners, and Customs, of the Indian Nations, who once inhabited Pennsylvania and the Neighbouring States," by the Rev. John Heckewelder, pp. [3]-347, and "No. II. A Correspondence between the Rev. John Heckewelder of Bethlehem, and Peter S. Duponceau, Esq. Corresponding Secretary of the Historical and Literary Committee of the American Philosophical Society, respecting the Languages of the American Indians," pp. [355]-448, including several short Delaware-English wordlists by way of illustration of points being made. This copy with the contemporary ownership signature and printed label of D. Macferron.

1851-1857: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1860: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1887: [LILLYbm] Zeisberger's Indian Dictionary. English, German, Iroquois-the Onondaga and Algonquin-the Delaware, printed from the Original Manuscript in Harvard College Library. Cambridge: John Wilson and Son, 1887. Original brown pebbled cloth decorated in blind over boards, lettered in gold. 236 pp. First edition. Large paper copy, with a slightly altered title (as noted in Pilling, Algonquin, pp. 546-47). Sabin 106301. Zaunmüller, col. 8. Arranged in four columns: English, German, Onondaga, Delaware. The manuscript was published lightly edited by Eben Norton Horsford, who wrote the preface. This is the first dictionary of both Onondaga and Delaware. A Lenape [Delaware]-English dictionary was published by Brinton in Philadelphia in 1888 (see below). John Pickering compiled a comparative vocabulary of various dialects of Delaware around 1840. Second copy [LILLYmk], in original binding. Third copy [IUW].

"David Zeisberger [1721-1808] labored as a Moravian missionary chiefly among the Delaware Indians in the Ohio region for better than sixty years, from 1740 until his death.... In 1745 he took part in arranging the treaty that allied the Six Nations with the English, and in 1791 he established a Delaware settlement in Airfield on the banks of the Thames River in Upper Canada" (Rulon-Miller).

1983: Reprinted [IUW] Zeisberger's Indian dictionary. New York: AMS Press, [1983] v, 236 p.; 27 cm. Edited by: Eben Norton Horsford. Reprint. Originally published: Cambridge, Mass.: J. Wilson, 1887. In Delaware, English, German, and Onondaga, with pref. in English.

1888: [LILLYbm] A Lenâpé-English dictionary. From an anonymous ms. in the archives of the Moravian Church at Bethlehem, Pa., ed. with additions by Daniel G[arrison]: Brinton (1837-1899) & Albert Seqaqkind Anthony . Philadelphia: The Historical Society of Pennsylvania, 1888. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold, t.e.g. Pp. [12] i-ii iii-vii [1] 9-236 237-240. First edition. Issued here with separate title page as The Pennsylvania Students' Series, Vol. 1, 1889, with frontispiece portrait of David Zeisberger. Includes Lenape [Delaware]-English, pp. 9-178, and English word-index, pp. 179-236. This copy with the bookplate of Frank T. Siebert. Second copy: [LILLYbm], spine faded.

"Zeisberger's Grammar of the language of the Lenni Lenape, ed. in the Transactions of the American Philosophical Society 1827, and his English-German-Onondaga-Delaware dictionary, edited by Prof. E.N. Horsford under title "Zeisberger's Indian Dictionary" [etc.] Cambridge, Mass., 1887, together with his printed "Delaware spelling book," Philadelphia, 1806, were the chief sources from which the later missionaries drew their knowledge of the Lenape dialect." (Preface)

"Alphabetically arranged by Delaware words. The index is an alphabetic cross-reference list to the English words occurring in the dictionary."-Pilling, Bibliography of the Algonquian languages, p. 58-60, 111-112.

1955: [LILLYbm] The original Strachey vocabulary of the Virginia Indian language, by John P. Harrington. Washington, D.C.: United States Government Printing Office, 1955. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [6] 193-202 + [17] leaves of plates. First separate publication. Series: Anthropological papers / Smithsonian Institution, Bureau of American Ethnology; no. 46. From Bureau of American Ethnology Bulletin 157 (1955). Contains facsimile plates of the Strachey vocabulary, with an introduction by John P. Harrington. Bibliography: p. 202.

"[T]he original manuscript by William Strachey, written probably about 1612, entitled "Historie of Travaile into Virginia Britannia...", terminated by the large vocabulary of the Virginia Indian language, the tongue spoken by Powhatan and Pocahontas, has lain at the Bodleian Library, Oxford, all these years and has never been published in full and correct form.... While in the capacity of Secretary of the Jamestown Colony, Strachey evidently interviewed one or more Indians and from them produced a vocabulary of some 800 words" (Introduction).

1995: [IUW] A Delaware-English lexicon of words and phrases: vocabulary / compiled by David Zeisberger and other missionaries of the United Brethren; now edited, alphabetized, annotated, and indexed by Raymond Whritenour. Butler, N.J.: Lenape Texts & Studies, c1995. xi, 300 p.; 24 cm. Includes index. In English and Delaware.

1997: [IUW] A vocabulary of the Unami jargon / by Thomas Campanius Holm; translated by Peter Stephen Duponceau; with a Word-list of the Pennsylvania Indians by William Penn. Southampton, Pa.: Evolution Pub., c1997. 67 p.; 18 cm. American language reprints; vol. 3. A composite edition principally comprised of material extracted and reorganized from the author's Kort beskription om provincien Nya Swerige uti America as translated and published 1834 under the title, Description of the province of New Sweden. The present edition includes a new English-Unami section. Includes bibliographical references (p. 5-6). English and Unami .

1999: [IUW] A vocabulary of New Jersey Delaware / from the papers of James Madison; with a vocabulary of Sanhican by Johannes De Laet. Southampton, Pa.: Evolution Pub., 1999. 51 p.; 18 cm Original dark green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. American language reprints; vol. 10. Delaware vocabulary, gathered by James Madison in 1792, reprinted from Henry Schoolcraft, ...Indian Tribes of the United States, 1853: Delaware [Unami]-English, pp. 13-22, English-Delaware [Unami], pp. 25-35. Sanhican vocabulary, gathered by Johannes de Laet in 1633, trans. by C. Salvucci: Sanhican [Northeastern Unami?]-English, pp. 39-42, English-Sanhican [Northeastern Unami?], pp. 45-49.

"The short [Sanhican] vocabulary... was first published in 1633 in Johannes de Laet's Novus Orbis... and is the first known recording of any Delaware dialect.... Some scholars believe that De Laet's Sahican vocabulary may represent the otherwise unrecorded Unalachtigo (or Northeastern Unami) dialect of Delaware, which some evidence indicates may have been spoken in central New Jersey, particularly in the Trenton area.... De Laet's original word-list appeared in Latin and [he] organized the terms by subject categories: parts of the human body, the sexes, the elements, animals, birds, fish and 'qualities.' For this edition, the Latin definitions have been translated into Egnlsih and the entire list alphabetized. A numerical table follows the vocabulary" (Preface to the 1999 edition). The Preface also information on the disputed authorship of the Delaware vocabulary list, and the editorial steps that have been taken to improve and correct the list in this edition.

2011: [IUW] Delaware Indian language of 1824: by C.C. Trowbridge / edited by James A. Rementer. Merchantville, NJ: Evolution Pub., c2011. 314 p.: map; 26 cm. ALR supplement series; v. 3. Includes bibliographical references and index.

[UPPER UMPQUA] Upper Umpqua is an extinct Athabaskan language formerly spoken along the south fork of the Umpqua River in west-central Oregon by Upper Umpqua (Etnemitane) people in the vicinity of modern Roseburg. It has been extinct for at least fifty years and little is known about it other than it belongs to the same Oregon Athabaskan cluster of Pacific Coast Athabaskan languages as the Lower Rogue River language, Upper Rogue River language and Chetco-Tolowa. The most important documentation of Upper Umpqua is the extensive vocabulary obtained by Horatio Hale in 1841 (published in Hale 1846) [see below]. Melville Jacobs and John P. Harrington were able to collect fragmentary data from the last speakers as late as the 1940s (Golla 2011:70-72). Although known to early explorers and settlers as Umpqua, the language is now usually called Upper Umpqua to distinguish it from the unrelated Oregon Coast Penutian language Lower Umpqua (Kuitsh or Siuslaw) that was spoken closer to the coast in the same area (WikP).

Not included in Ethnologue.

1846: see 9) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

[URA (Vanuatu)] Ura is a moribund language that is found in the Republic of Vanuatu, an archipelago of about 80 islands off of New Caledonia. The first inhabitants settled there around 4,000 years ago, and the population has grown about 2.3% per year according to a 1999-2009 census. Specifically, Ura is found on the southern island of Erromango, home to 1950 people (Daniel, 2010). The language originated just north of Elisabeth Bay and as far as Potnuma, eventually moving to other inland areas including the large caldera (Crowley, 1999). According to Terry Crowley's count in the 1990s it is spoken fluently by 6 people and semi-fluently by a couple dozen others. All the speakers of the Ura language are multilingual. They speak Sye, which is the main language in the island, as well as Bislama, which is their pidgin English. Ura itself may have once been referred to as Aryau or Arau, words that are based on the first person singular possessive pronoun of the language. This naming system is characteristic of other Erromangan languages (Crowley, 1999) (WikP).

Ethnologue: uur.

1982: [IUW] "The Ura Language, Erromango," by John Lynch, pp. 215-236 in: GAVA ' studies in Austronesian languages and cultures dedicated to Hans Kähler = Studien zu austronesischen Sprachen und Kulturen Hans Kähler gewidmet / edited by, herausgegeben von Rainer Carle ... [et al.]. Berlin: Reimer, 1982. xviii, 707 p., [1] leaf of plates: ill.; 21 cm. Veröffentlichungen des Seminars für Indonesische und Südseesprachen der Universität Hamburg Bd. 17. English and German. Lynch's essay includes Ura-English wordlist, pp. 222-234. Includes bibliographical references. First substantial vocabulary of the language.

"... an Ura vocabulary of some 350 words, culled from various sources, this being all the Ura lexicon that is at present available" (p. 221).

1999: [IUW] Ura: a disappearing language of southern Vanuatu, by Terry Crowley. Canberra: Pacific Linguistics, Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University, 1999. xviii, 225, [1] p.: maps; 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue-gray and white wrappers, lettered and decorated in white and black. Pacific linguistics. Series C; no. 156. Dictionary, Ura-English, pp. 12-48, English-Ura finderlist, pp. 49-69. Includes bibliographical references (p. [226]).

"This volume presents as much as is likely to be known about the now moribund language that is spoken fluently by about half a dozen elderly people living in the area of Unpogkor (Dillons Bay) in the northern part of the island of Erromango, southern Vanuatu... in the south-western part of the Pacific. The major language of Erromango today is Sye" (Introduction).

[URADHI] Urradhi is a Paman language of the Cape York Peninsula of Queensland, Australia, and is apparently extinct. It was spoken by the Urradhi people. Urradhi proper is the south-western dialect of the language. The name is composed of urra "this" and the proprietive dhi "having". The south-eastern dialect of the same language, Wudhadhi, is made of the same elements, wudha being "this". These are part of a group of closely related and highly mutually intelligible dialects, these being Angkamuthi to the north of Urradhi, Atampaya inland from these, Utudhanamu inland north from Atampaya, Yantaykenu further north, being the language of the Bamaga area, Yadhaykenu on the east coast north of Wudhadhi, and Yaraytyana further north again. (Adyinuri/Itinadyana may have been another.) This group has no common language name, though Urradhi is commonly used as a cover name. It is unknown when it became extinct. The Urradhi dialects are closely related to the Gudang language (Pantynamu/ Yatay/ Gudang/ Kartalaiga and other clan names), formerly spoken on the tip of Cape York (WikP). WikP redirects "Otati" to this language.

Ethnologue: urf.

1979: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[URAK LAWOI'] Urak Lawoi' is an Aboriginal Malay language of southern Thailand.

The Orang (Suku) Laut who live between Sumatra and the Malay Peninsula speak divergent Malayic lects, which bear some intriguing connections to various Sumatran Malay varieties (WikP).

Ethnologue: urk. Alternate Names: Chaw Talay, Chawnam, Lawoi, Lawta, Orak Lawoi'.

1988: [IUW] Urak Lawoi': basic structures and a dictionary, by David W. Hogan; in collaboration with Stephen W. Pattemore. Canberra, A.C.T., Australia: Australian National University, Research School of Pacific Studies, Dept. of Linguistics, 1988. vii, 211 p.: ill., map; 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original front and rear pea green wrappers, lettered in black. Urak Lawoi'-English, pp. 103-160, English-Urak Lawoi', pp. 161-208.

"There is no standard form of Urak Lawoi' and pronunciation and usage vary from village to village.... This study concentrates on the Phuket Old People's dialect as it has the most phonological contrasts, and many of the forms of the other dialects can be derived from it. Reference is made to the other dialects where it is appropriate" (Introduction).

[URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT] The Uralic languages (/jʊə'rælɪk/; sometimes called Uralian languages /jʊə'reɪliən/) form a language family of 38 languages spoken by approximately 25 million people, predominantly in Northern Eurasia and in the European Union. The Uralic languages with the most native speakers are Hungarian, Finnish, and Estonian, which are official languages in Hungary, Finland, and Estonia, respectively. Other Uralic languages with significant numbers of speakers are Erzya, Moksha, Mari, Udmurt, and Komi, which are officially recognized languages in various regions of Russia. The name "Uralic" derives from the fact that the areas where the languages are spoken are found on both sides of the Ural Mountains.

Finno-Ugric is sometimes used as a synonym for Uralic, though Finno-Ugric is widely understood to exclude the Samoyedic languages. Scholars who do not accept the traditional notion that Samoyedic split first from the rest of the Uralic family may treat the terms as synonymous (WikP).

1730: [LILLY] Das nord- und ostliche Theil von Europa und Asia, in so weit solches das gantze Russische Reich mit Siberien und der grossen Tatarey in sich begreiffet, in einer historisch-geographischen Beschreibung der alten und neuern Zeiten, vorgestellt; nebst einer noch niemahls ans Licht gegebenen Tabula polyglotta von zwey und dreyssigerley Arten tatarischer völcker Sprachen und einem kalmuckischen Vocabulario. Zusammen gebracht und ausgefertiget von Philipp Johann von Strahlenberg. Stockholm: In Verlegung des Autoris, 1730. [26], 438, [16] p. illus.; 23 cm. Contemporary vellum, with hand-lettered spine. Notes: Includes 21 tables, illustrations and the first published vocabulary of Kalmyk (with German), pp. 137-156, double column, as well as the folding polyglot table of thirty-two languages and dialects in the region, bound following the Errata page [p. 454]: German-Hungarian-Finnish-Wogulwitz [Mansi]-Morduin [Erzya]-Szeremissi [Mari]-Permecki [Komi-Permyak]-Wotiaki [Udmurt]-Ostiaki (calling themselves Chonti) [Khanty]-Siberisch-Mohumed Tatars-Yakuti [Yakut]-Czuwajsch [Chuvash]-Samojedes (living between Archangel and Pitzoria)-Ostiaki (living in Siberia, near the river Oby)-Ostiaki (living on the river Czulim near the city of Tomskoi) [Selkup]-Samoyedi-Tawji [Nganasan]-

Samojedi-Manzela-Kanskoi (who all themselves Khotawa)-Kalmucks [Kalmyk-Oriat]-Mantijcheou [Manchu]-Tanguhti (who belong to the Dalai-Lama)-Kamacintzi [Kamas]-Arintzi (who live on the River Jensei) [Enets]-Tangusi-Konni (who live in Dauria) [Daur]-Tungusi-Oleni-Tungsi-Sabatschi (alias Lamuti) [Even]-Koræiki (who live in West and Northern Kamchata)-Kurili (who live in East and Southern Kamchata)-Avari or Akari [Avar]-Comuchi (alias Kaitak) (who live in Dagestan) [Kaytak, a dialect of Dargwa], Kubatschin (who live near Derbent and are thought to be of Jewish extraction) [Kubachin, a dialect of Dargwa]-Tzerkæsi (alias Gurschi-Cirkæssi) [Circassian]-Curali (who live on Mount Causcasus).

The separately issued map was once mounted on a stub between pages 136 and 137 in the Lilly copy, but was torn out roughly at one point, leaving only a portion of the upper left-hand corner. The Lilly copy with numerous early annotations in ink. Castrén lists this as the second appearance of a ("very small") Samoyed wordlist (see 1855 under SAMOYED LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT).

"In the middle of his book... occurs his famous Vocabularium calmuco-mungalicum, a sort of small dictionary of around 1500 words in Kalmyk-Mongolian, with definitions. This is the largest Mongolian vocabulary for about 300 years... and as such gives information about the status of Mongolian in the early 1700's.... Last but not least, is the great Tabula Polyglotta, in my view the really great accomplishment of Strahlenberg. This is nothing more than a huge chart, listing 10 to 50 words in columns, each devoted to a language. There are 32 languages given, grouped into 5 or 6 categories..... The compiler... has logically grouped together the languages that go together, and consequently clearly shows that he understood and that he implied the relationships existing. In other words, Finnic languages are together, Turkic languages are together, and so on" (see introduction by John Krüger to 1975 reprint below).

1738: English translation [LILLY] An historico-geographical description of the north and eastern parts of Europe and Asia, but more particularly of Russia, Siberia, and Great Tartary; both in their ancient and modern state: together with an entire new polyglot-table of the dialects of 32 Tartarian nations, and a vocabulary of the Kalmuck-Mungalian tongue, by Philipp Johann von Strahlenberg. London: W. Innys and R. Manby, 1738.

Contemporary brown leather over boards, with gilt tooled spine and leather label lettered in gold. Pp. [4] i ii-ix x-xii, 1 2-463 464 + 10 plates, some folding, and a large folding polyglot table. First edition in English, this the re-issue with a new title page in 1738 (first issue of first edition appeared in 1736). Translated from the German, which first appeared in 1730 in Stockholm (see above). Not in Zaunmüller. Includes the first published vocabulary of Kalmyk in English, pp. 142-163, double column, as well as the final folding polyglot table of various languages and dialects in the region, with English rather German base words (see German edition 1730 above for detailed list). This copy with the ink ownership signature of John Ranking on the title page. Ranking was author of Historical researches on the wars and sports of the Mongols and Romans, in which elephants and wild beasts were employed or slain, and the remarkable local agreement of history with the remains of such animals found in Europe and Siberia ... With a map and ten plates (London, 1826), and Historical researches on the conquest of Peru, Mexico, Bogota, Natchez, and Talomeco, in the thirteenth century, by the Mongols, accompanied with elephants; and the local agreement of history and tradition, with the remains of elephants and mastodontes, found in the New world (London, 1827). Second copy: IUW, library binding.

1757: French translation [LILLY] Description historique de l'Empire russe, traduite de l'ouvrage allemand de M. le baron Strahlenberg, trans. by Jean Louis Barbeau de la Bruyère [1710-1781]. A Amsterdam: Chez Desaint & Saillant, 1757. 2 v.; [vol. 1] xx, 384; [vol.2] xi, 406; 17 cm. Contemporary mottled calf with gilt spines. Includes [vol. 2] pp. 323-363. A translation by B. de la Bruyère of the author's Der nord- und östliche Theil von Europa und Asia. Cf. Graesse and Brunet, cited below. Actual imprint: A Amsterdam & se trouve à Paris Vol. 2 includes a "Vocabulaire calmuque et mungale," Kalmyk-French, pp. 323-363, and "Grammaire de la language des tartares mungales," p. 364-368. Includes index. Vol. 1: Cancel leaf L1 bound between p. 334-35. Graesse, VI, 508. Brunet, V, 558. This French translation does not include the folding polyglot table.

1975: Reprint of original German edition [IUW] Das nord- und ostliche Theil von Europa und Asia / Ph. Johann von Strahlenberg; with an introd. by J.R. Krueger; [editionis curam agit Judit Papp]. Szeged; [Universitas Szegediensis de Attila József nominata; Amsterdam; distributed by J. Benjamins], 1975. [13], 438 p.; ill. (1 fold.); 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original light orange front and rear wrappers, lettered in white and black. Studia Uralo-Altaica; 8. Text in German with introd. in English. Reprint of the 1730 ed. [reproduced photographically, including folding polyglot table] published in Stockholm by the author. Includes indexes. Bibliography: p. [10]-[13].

1874-1888: [IUW] Vergleichendes Wörterbuch der finnisch-ugrischen Sprachen, von Dr. O. Donner ... Helsingfors, Frenckell & Sons Bokhandel; [etc., etc.] 1874-88. 3 v. in 1. 23 cm. Dalby 1596. Added t.-p. in Finnish.

1955: [IUW] Fenno-Ugric vocabulary; an etymological dictionary of the Uralic languages, by Björn Collinder. Stockholm, Almqvist & Wiksell [1955]. xxii, 211, [1] p. 23 cm. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Dalby 1595. Uralic languages-English, pp. 1-69, Fenno-Ugric languages-English, pp. 71-127, Indo-European loan words, pp. 129-141, Uralo-Altaica correspondences-English, pp. 143-149, with word indexes for the following languages, pp. 151-202: Finnish, Karelian, Dalby 1595. Olonets [Livvi-Karelian], Lude [Ludian], Veps, Vote [Vod], Estonian, Livonian [Liv], Lappish [Sami languages], Mordvin [Erzya], Cheremis [Mari], Votyak [Udmurt], Ziryene [Komi-Zyrian], Vogul [Mansi], Ostyak [Khanty], Hungarian, Yurak [Nenets], Tavgi [Nganasan], Yenisei Samoyed [Enets], Selkup, Kamasian [Kamas], Koibal [dialect of Khakas], Motor [Mator], Taigi [Taygi, dialect of Mator], Karagas [dialect of Mator], Samoyed, not specified, Yukagir, Chuvash, Yakute [Yakut], Other Turkish languages (not specified here), Mongol [Mongolian], Mandju [Manchu], Tunguz [Evenki], Korean, Sanskrit, Pali, Pakrit, Avestan, [and the following languages for which only a very few words are given] Old Persian, Pehlevi (Middle Persian), Modern Persian, Sogdian, Khotanese, Kurd, Baluchi, Wakhi, Shugni, Sarikoli, Ossete, Armenian, Kuci (Tokharian B), Greek, Albanian, Latin, Irish, Welsh, Gothic, Norse, Old Swedish, Old English, Old Saxonian, Dutch Old High German, Lituianian, Latvaian, Old Bulgarian, Russian, Gilyak, Kabard, Chinese; "Nomina Animalium et Plantarum", [Latin names only] pp. 202-204.

Bibliography: p. 205-[212].

"This book might equally well have been named 'Uralic Vocabulary'. It was planned as Part I of a 'Survey of the Uralic Languages', and only the iron law of economy has forced the author to publish it as a handbook in its own right.... When I started this work I did not aim at writing an etymological dictionary. I only planned a comparative grammar of the Uralic languages for the profit of my students.... I realized that a vocabulary was indispensable as a basis of the comparative phonology of the Uralic languages. [With further details on the genesis of the dictionary]" (Introduction).

1986-1991: [IUW] Uralisches etymologisches Wörterbuch / Károly Rédei, unter Mitarbeit von Marianne Bakró-Nagy ... [et al.]. Budapest: Akadémiai Kiadó, 1986-1991. 3 v.; 25 cm. Cover title. Issued in parts. Vol. 3 compiled by Attila Dobó and Éva Fancsaly. Dallby 1597. Includes bibliographical references (v. 1, p. xxv-xlii) and index (v. 3).

[URARTIAN] The Urartian, Vannic, language was spoken by the inhabitants of the ancient kingdom of Urartu, located in the region of Lake Van, with its capital near the site of the modern town of Van, in the Armenian Highland, modern-day Eastern Anatolia region of Turkey. It was probably dominant around Lake Van and in the areas along the upper Zab valley. First attested in the 9th century BCE, Urartian ceased to be written after the fall of the Urartian state in 585 BCE, and presumably it became extinct due to the fall of Urartu. It must have been replaced by an early form of Armenian; perhaps during the period of Achaemenid Persian rule, although it is only in the fifth century CE that the first written examples of Armenian appear (Wikipedia).

Ethnologue does not include Urartian.

1976: [IUW] Annotirovannyĭ slovar' urartskogo (biaĭnskogo) ĭazyka / I. I. Meshchaninov; [otv. redaktor B. B. Piotrovskĭ]. Leningrad: Nauka, 1978. 388 p., [1] leaf of plates: port.; 22 cm. Russian in Cyrillic script. At head of title: Akademiĭa nauk SSSR. Otdelenie literatury i ĭazyka. Urartian-Russian dictionary.

[URDU, MODERN STANDARD: post-1947] Urdu (/ˈʊərduː/; Urdu: اُردُو ALA-LC: Urdū; IPA: [ˈʊr̩d̪uː], or Modern Standard Urdu) is a standardised register of the Hindustani language. It is the national language and lingua franca of Pakistan, and an official language of six states of India. It is also one of the 22 official languages recognized in the Constitution of India. Urdu is historically associated with the Muslims of the region of Hindustan. Apart from specialized vocabulary, Urdu is mutually intelligible with Standard Hindi, which is associated with the Hindu community (Wikipedia).

The basis of both Hindi and Urdu is Hindustani, the colloquial form of speech that served as the lingua franca of much of India for more than four centuries. "Hindi was originally a variety of Hindustani spoken in the area of New Delhi. Its development into a national language had its beginnings in the colonial period, when the British began to cultivate it as a standard among government officials.... Urdu by origin is a dialect of Hindi spoken for centuries in the neighborhood of Delhi.... In time it came to be called

1958: [LILLYbm] Karmannyi urdu-russkii slovar. 6000 slov, by L[idia]

1958: [LILLYbm] Karmannyi russko-urdu slovar. 8000 slov, by A[ntonina]

196-?: [IUW] Fīrūz al-lughāt: Urdū / masnafah va mu'allif-i Fīrūz al-Dīn

Lāhūr, Fīrūzsanaz [196-?]. 696 + 638 p. 21 cm. Arabic-Urdu dictionary.

1964: [LILYbm] Urdu-russkii slovar: 30 000 slov, S. V. Biriulev, et al.

Moscow: Sovetskaia Entsiklopediia, 1964. Original tan cloth, lettered and decorated in green and tan. Pp. 1-5 6-890 891-892. First edition. Includes Urdu-Russian, pp. [13]-887. V. M. Berkrovnyi published an Urdu-Russian dictionary in Moscow in 1951.

1968: [IUW] An Urdu newspaper reader, by Muhammad Abd-Al-Rahman

Barker, Shafiqur Rahman [and] Hasan Jahangir Hamdani. Montreal, Institute of Islamic Studies, McGill University, 1968. xii, 404 p. facsim. 28 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue and white front wrapper, lettered in black, and original gray wrappers, lettered in black of the Key to an Urdu Newspaper Reader bound in at rear of volume. Added t.p. in Urdu: Urdū akhbārī zabān. Includes Urdu-English vocabulary.

1973: [IUW] Ferozsons English to English and Urdu dictionary. New ed. Lahore, Ferozsons [1973]. 1123 p. 26 cm.

1983a: see under HINDI, MODERN STANDARD.

1983b: [IUW] Ferozsons concise dictionary: English to Urdu / A. Hameed Khan, editor. Lahore: Ferozsons, c1983. 647 p.; 23 cm.

1985: [IUW] Farhang-i mukhtasar-i Urdū-Fārsī: shāmil-i dastūrnāmah-i mukhtaṣar dar ʕarf va naḥv-i Urdū va lughāt va iʃtilāḥāt-i Urdū bih Fārsī / tahīyah va tanzīm az Shahīndukht Kāmran Muqaddam (Şafiyārī). Chāp-i 1. First edition. [Tehran]: Rūzbihān, 1364 [1985]. 357 p.; 22 cm. Urdu-Persian dictionary.

1990: [IUW] Fistilāhāt va lughat-i ‘āmiyānah / ta’līf-i Fīrūz al-Dīn Rāzī. 3rd ed.

Ni'ī Dilī: Kitāb-i Bhavan, 1990. 240, 7 p.; 25 cm. Added t.p. in English: The modern Persian dictionary (Persian-Urdu-English).

1991: see under HINDI, MODERN STANDARD.

1994: [IUW] Oxford elementary learner's English Urdu dictionary = Waé sîkhe vālo-n ke li'e Oksfard ibtidā'ī Angrezī Urdū lughat / tartīb o tadvīn, Anjelā Krālī (Angela Crawley); Urdū tarjumah o tartīb, Sārah Naqvī; naẓar-i -sānī Salīmurrāhān. Oxford: Oxford University Press, c1994. 442 p.: ill.; 24 cm.

1995: [IUW] Oxford English Urdu dictionary = Auksfard Inḡlish Urdū dīkshanarī / murattib va mutarjam, Shānulḥaq Haqqī. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1995. 2099 pages; 25 cm.

2003: Reprinted [IUW] Oxford English, Urdu dictionary = Auksfard Inḡlish, Urdū dīkshnarī / Haqqī, Shānulḥaq. Karācī: Auksfard Yūnīvarsitī Pres, 2003. xxiv, 2099 p.; 25 cm.

2000: see under HINDI, MODERN STANDARD.

2003: [IUW] Sukhanadām / majamuānigāra, Savitā Malhotrā. 1. saṃskaraṇa. First edition. Candīgarḥa: Abhisheka Pablikeśanza: Candīgarḥa Sāhitya Akādamī, 2003. 230 p.; 23 cm. Cover title: Urdu-Hindi glossary. Urdu (in Urdu and Nagari) and Hindi; foreword in English.

2004: [IUW] Qāmūs alfāz va iṣṭilāḥat-i Qur'ān / ifādāt, Amīn Aḥsan Iṣlāḥī; tartīb va taḥqīq, Aurangzeb A'ẓmī. 1st ed. Na'ī Dihlī: Islāmīk Buk Sainṭar, 2004. 499 p.; 23 cm. Arabic-Urdu dictionary of the Koran. Includes bibliographical references (p. 494-499). In Urdu; words and terms in Arabic.

2005a: [IUW] Choṭī Auksfard Angrezī Urdū dīkshanarī = The little Oxford English-Urdu dictionary / tartīb va tarvīn, Ibrāhīm Sa'id. 1. ishā'at. First edition. Karācī: Auksfard Yūnīvarsitī Pres, 2005. viii, 728 p.; 19 cm.

2005b: see under TAMIL.

2006a: see under HINDI, MODERN STANDARD.

2006b: [IUW] Educational's practical concise 21st century dictionary: Urdu to English / M. Zaman, Naved Akhtar. 3rd ed. Delhi: Educational Publishing House, 2006. 703 p.; 22 cm. Urdu-English, English-Urdu dictionary.

2007: Revised edition [IUW] Practical concise 21st century dictionary: English into English and Urdu / compiled by M. Raza-ul-Haq Badakhshani, M. Saqlain Bhatti. Rev. and improved ed. / Educational's 21st century ed. Delhi: Educational Publishing House, 2007. 735 p.: ill.; 23 cm.

2006c: [IUW] Mu'jam-i muṣṭaliḥāt-i ḥadīṣ / Sayyid Aḥmad Zakariyā Ghaurī Nadvī Mazāhirī. 1. aiḍīshan. First edition. Lakhna'ū: Idārah-yi Iḥyā'e 'Ilm o Da'vat: Taqṣīmkār, Maktabah al-Shabāb al-Jadīdah, 2006. 204 p.; 23 cm. Series: Silsilah-yi maṭbū'āt; 6. Includes bibliographical references (p. 201-204). Arabic-Urdu dictionary for Ḥadīth ("the record of the words, actions, and the silent approval, of the Islamic prophet Muhammad. Within Islam the authority of Ḥadīth as a source for religious law and moral guidance ranks second only to that of the Qur'an")(WikP).

2006d: [IUW] Turkī aur Urdū zubān ke mushtarak alfāz = Türkçe ve Urduca'daki ortak kelimeler / Aṣḡhar Ḥamīd. Ḥasanpūr: Aṣḡhar Ḥamīd; Delhi: Naya Safar Publications, 2006. xiv, 538 p.; 26 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 537-538). Turkish-Urdu, Urdu-Turkish dictionary.

2007: [IUW] Urdū-Angrezī lughat-i Mujtahidī / [mu'allif], Ya'qūb Mīrān Mujtahidī = Mujtahedi's Urdu-English dictionary: the new age dictionary / compiled and edited by Yakoob Miran Mujtahedi. Hyderabad: Dictionary House, 2007. 3 v.; 29 cm.

2008: [IUW] Dakinī lughat / murattabah, Sayyidah Ja'far. Na'ī Dihlī: Qaumī Kaunsil barā'e Furogh-i Urdū Zabān, 2008. xvi, 521 p.; 25 cm. In Urdu. Dakhini [dialect of Modern Standard Hindi]-Urdu dictionary.

2009a: [IUW] Glossary of administrative and legal terms for all departments: from English to Urdu / compiled by Syed Mushtaq Hussain. Hyderabad: Urdu Academy Andhra Pradesh: [Distributor], Huda Book Distributors, 2009. 922 p.; 25 cm. Added title page: Farhang-i iṣṭilāḥāt intizāmī va qānūnī tamām mahkamaun ke lī'e.

2009b: see under BENGALI.

2009c: [IUW] Urdu-Hindi student's dictionary = Urdū-Hindī vidyārthī kośa / Lalita Handoo. Mysore: Central Institute of Indian Languages, 2009. v, [6], 272 p.; 24 cm. Central Institute of Indian Languages publication; no. 587. Urdu (in Arabic script and Devanagari) and Hindi; prefatory matter in English.

2010: [IUW] English-Urdu, Urdu-English: with transliteration = Angrezī-Urdū, Urdū-Angrezī dīkshnarī / compiled by S. A. Rahman. 1st edition. New Delhi: Star Publications, 2010. 506 pages; 23 cm. Title on t.p. verso: Dictionary: English-Urdu, Urdu-English. Star learners' dictionary.

2013a: [IUW] Glossary of technical terms (English-Urdu) law = فرهنگ اصطلاحات (انگریزی-اردو) قانون. Glossary of technical terms (English-Urdu): law = Farhang-i iṣṭilāḥāt (Angrezī-Urdū): qānūn. First edition. 2013. Na'ī Dihlī: Qaumī Kaunsil barā'e Furogh-i Urdū Zabān, 2013. vi, 440 pages; 22 cm.

2013b: [IUW] لغات القرآن = الافادات النعمانية في حل اللغات القرآنية / عبدالوحيد النوري. Lughātulqur'ān = al-Ifādāt al-nu'māniyah fī ḥal al-lughāt al-Qur'āniyah / 'Abdulvaḥīd al-Nūrī. 2013. دیوبند: کتب خانہ نعیمیہ، Devband: Kutub Khānah Na'imīyah, 2013. 3 volumes; 23 cm. In Urdu; words and terms in Arabic. Summary Dictionary of words and terms used in Koran.

2014a: [IUW] اردو-ہندی لغت = Urdu-Hindi dictionary. Urdū-Hindī lughat = Urdu-Hindi dictionary. 2014. Na'ī Dihlī: Qaumī Kaunsil barā'e Furogh-i Urdū Zabān, 2014. xv, 416 pages; 23 cm. In Urdu.

2014b: [IUW] القاموس العصری: عربی، انگریزی، اردو / یاسر ندیم الواجدی؛ ایڈیٹر، ولی اللہ بٹلر. al-Qāmūs al-'aṣarī: 'Arabī, Angrezī, Urdū / Yāsir Nadīm al-Vājidi; aiḍīṭar, Valīullāh Baṭṭar; mu'āvin aiḍīṭar, Sārah Salīm, Sayyid 'Aqīl Iqbāl. 2014. دیوبند: دارالکتاب: معهد الفكر الاسلامی دیوبند، Devband: Dārulkitāb: Ma'had al-Fikr al-Islāmī Devband, 2014. 1296 pages; 25 cm. Series: سلسلہ مطبوعات معهد الفكر الاسلامی 2014/003؛ Silsilah-yi maṭbū'āt Ma'had al-Fikr al-Islāmī Devband; 2014/003. Modern Arabic, English and Urdu dictionary.

2014c: [IUW] القاموس الازھر ایڈوانس: اردو-عربی / مولف: ڈاکٹر محمد زکریا ژری. al-Qāmūs al-Azhar aiḍvāns: Urdū-'Arabī / mū'allif: Ḍāktar Muḥammad Zakariyā Azharī. اشاعت اول. Ishā'at avval. 2014. مؤناتھ بہنجن: مکتبہ الفہیم، Ma'ū Nath Bhanjan: Maktabah al-Fahīm, 2014. 1168 pages; 23 cm. "70,000 qadīm va jadīd Urdū alfāz va iṣṭilāḥāt kī jāmi'."--Title page. "70,000 qadīm va jadīd Urdū alfāz va iṣṭilāḥāt kī jāmi'."--Title page. Includes bibliographical references (page 1168). Urdu-Arabic dictionary.

2014d: see 2014 under KANNADA.

2014e: [IUW] اردو-ہندی لغت = Urdu-Hindi dictionary. Urdū-Hindī lughat = Urdu-Hindi dictionary. 2014. Na'ī Dihlī: Qaumī Kaunsil barā'e Furogh-i Urdū Zabān, 2014. xv, 416 pages; 23 cm. In Urdu.

2014f: see 2014 under PUNJABI.

2015a: see under PUNJABI.

2015b: [IUW] القاموس الموضوعي: تین زبانوں میں موضوعاتی ڈکشنری / ندیم الواجدی al-Qāmūs al-mauzū 'ī: tīn zabānaun men mauzū 'ātī dīkshnarī / Nadīm al-Vājidī. دیوبند: دار الكتاب، 2015. Devband: Dārulkitāb, 2015. 207 pages; 22 cm. Topical dictionary of Arabic, Urdu, and English.

2015xc: [IUW] التّعابير المختاره = منتخب تعبيرات / نديم الواجدي
al-Ta 'bīrāt al-mukhtārah = Muntakhab ta 'bīrāt / Nadīm al-Vājidī. 2015. ديوبند: دار الكتاب، Devband: Dārulkitāb, 2015. 344 pages; 22 cm. Dictionary of Arabic idioms with meanings given in Urdu.

2016a: see 2016 under MARATHI.

2016b: [IUW] देवनागरी और फ़ार्सी लिपी में निखार: सहीह उर्दू तलफ़्फ़ुज़ से व्यक्तित्व का विकास: साथ में लुग़ते दिलनशी: उर्दू हिन्दी शब्दकोश / लेखक एवं संकलनकर्ता, अल्हाज अज़हर बख़्श अज़हर. Devanāgarī aura Fārsī lipī meṃ nikhāra: sahīha Urdū talaffuza se vyaktitva kā vikāsa: sātha meṃ Lughate dilanaśīḥ: Urdū Hindī śabdakośa / lekhaka evaṃ saṅkalanakartā, Alhāja Azhara Bakhśa Azhara. Prathama saṃskaraṇa. Nagpur: Dattsons, 2016. 306 pages: illustrations; 24 cm. In Urdu (Devanagari and Arabic) and Hindi; includes some material in English. Urdu-Hindi dictionary; includes guide to correct pronunciation in Urdu.

2017: [IUW] خواجہ عبدالمتنم / Glossary of legal, commercial, and financial terms (banking, budgetary, parliamentary, human rights, Muslim law/waqf terms etc.): English-Urdu / by Khawaka Abdul Muntaqim. Farhang-i qānūnī, tijāratī va māliyātī iṣṭilāḥāt / Khvājah ‘Abdalmuntaqim = Glossary of legal, commercial, and financila terms (banking, budgetary, parliamentary, human rights, Muslim law/waqf terms etc.): English-Urdu / by Khawaka Abdul Muntaqim. نئی دہلی: قومی کونسل برائے فروغ اردو زبان، 2017. Na’ī Dihlī: Qaumī Kaunsil barā’e Furogh-i Urdū, 2017.xiv, 713 pages; 22 cm. English-Urdu dictionary of law and commerce.

فراہی اصلاحی لغات القرآن: قرآن مجید کے منتخب الفاظ کی تحقیق و توضیح / امام [IUW]: 2021۔
 = محمد الدین فراہی، مولانا امین احسن اصلاحی، مولانا اختر احسن اصلاحی؛ مرتب، راشد انوب اصلاحی
 Farāhī islāhī lughātul Qurʾān / compiled by Rāshid Ayyub Islāhī. Farāhī islāhī lughātulqurʾān: Qurʾān Majīd ke muntakhab alfāz kī taḥqīq va tauzīḥ / Imām Ḥamīduddīn
 Farāhī, Maulānā Amīn Aḥsan Islāhī, Maulānā Akhtar Aḥsan Islāhī; murattib, Rāshid
 Ayyūb Islāhī = Farāhī islāhī lughātul Qurʾān / compiled by Rāshid Ayyub Islāhī.: نئی ۲۰۲۱، البلاغ پبلیکیشنز، دہلی، Naʿī Dihlī: al-Balāgh Pablikeshanz, 2021. 781 pages; 26 cm. In Urdu and Arabic. Dictionary of selected Arabic words and terms used in Qurʾan, with explanations in Urdu.

[URU] The Uru language, more specifically known as Iru-Itu, and Uchumataqu, is an extinct language formerly spoken by the Uru people. In 2004, it had 2 remaining native speakers out of an ethnic group of 140 people in the La Paz Department, Bolivia near Lake Titicaca, the rest having shifted to Aymara and Spanish. The language is close enough to the Chipaya language to sometimes be considered a dialect of that language. Olson (1964) mentions a variety of Uru, Uru of Ch'imu, spoken on the Isla del Sol in Lake Titicaca. It is not clear if this was a dialect of Iru Itu or a separate Uru language.

Due to one of the Uru's name for their language, "Pukina", some linguists have grouped Uru with the Arawakan languages or have accidentally mistaken Uchumataqu with Puquina (WikP).

Ethnologue: ure. Alternate Names: Iru-Itu, Morato, Muratu, Uchumataqu. No known L1 speakers (Crevels 2011). Last speaker died in 2004 (Crevels 2011). Ethnic population: 230 (Crevels 2011).

1967: [IUW] Contribución al estudio de la lengua uru [por] Jehan A. Vellard. [Buenos Aires] Centro de Estudios Lingüísticos, Facultad de Filosofía y Letras, Universidad de Buenos Aires [1967]. 37 p. 22 cm. Library binding preserving original blue front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. Cuadernos de lingüística indígena 4. Includes a diverse series of Uru-Spanish words and phrases, pp. 1-37.

[URUANGNIRIN] Uruangnirin is an Austronesian language spoken on the islands of Tarak and Faor in the Sebakor Bay, West Papua. Some Kalamang people from the neighboring island of Karas speak it as a second language, The languages most closely related to Uruangnirin are Onin and Sekar of the Bomberai Peninsula. Uruangnirin is an endangered language as the younger generations of its speakers are shifting to Papuan Malay, the local lingua franca, as well as Indonesian, the standard national language (WikP). Population: 400 (1983 SIL)

Ethnologue: urn. Alternate Names: Faur, Tubiruasa.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[URUM] Urum is a Turkic language spoken by several thousand ethnic Greeks who inhabit a few villages in Georgia and Southeastern Ukraine. Over the past few generations, there has been a deviation from teaching children Urum to the more common languages of the region, leaving a fairly limited amount of new speakers. The Urum language is often considered a variant of Crimean Tatar. The name Urum is derived from Rûm ("Rome"), the term for the Byzantine Empire in the Muslim world. The Ottoman Empire used it to describe non-Muslims within the empire. The common use of the term Urum appears to have led to some confusion, as most Turkish-speaking Greeks were called Urum. The Turkish-speaking population in Georgia is often confused with the distinct community in Ukraine. Very little has been published on the Urum language. There exists a very small lexicon [see 1985 below] and a small description of the language (WikP).

Ethnologue: uum.

1985: [IUW] A Greek Tatar-English Glossary, by Baruch Podolsky. Wiesbaden: O. Harrassowitz, 1985. viii, 51 p.: map; 24 cm. First edition. Library binding, preserving original green front wrappers, lettered in white. Mediterranean language and culture monographs series; v. 1. Urum-English, pp. 1-34, English-Urum index, pp. 37-51.

"Greek Tatar (henceforth referred to as Urum, its native designation) is a Turkic language spoken by a few thousand Greeks living mainly in a dozen or so villages in the Donetsk region of the Ukraine, to the north of the Azov sea..... Urum is not a literary language, though in older times it was sporadically written in Greek letters.... In the late 1920s there was an attempt to create a literary form of Urum written in the so-called 'New Turkic Alphabet' but in about 1936 this activity was discontinued, the schools switched to Russian and the few books in print were destroyed.... This glossary is based on the word lists and texts collected by us in 1969 in the village of Ulakly (Urum Ulaxil) to which a few items in other dialects have been added" (Introduction).

[USKU] Usku, or Afra, is a nearly extinct and poorly documented Papuan language spoken by 20 or more people, mostly adults, in Usku village, Senggi District, Keerom Regency, Papua, Indonesia. Wurm (1975) placed it as an independent branch of Trans–New Guinea, but Ross (2005) could not find enough evidence to classify it. Usher (2020) found that it was one of the West Pauwasi languages, though divergent from the other two branches of that family. Foley (2018) classifies Usku as a language isolate (WikP). Population: 110 (2004 SIL). Population estimates range from 20 to 160 (Wurm 2007). Few monolinguals.

Ethnologue: ulf. Alternate Names: Afra.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[UTE-SOUTHERN PAIUTE] Colorado River Numic (also called Ute /'ju:t/, Southern Paiute /'paiju:t/, Ute–Southern Paiute, or Ute-Chemehuevi /tʃəmɪ'wɛvi/), of the Numic branch of the Uto-Aztecan language family, is a dialect chain that stretches from southeastern California to Colorado. Individual dialects are Chemehuevi, which is in danger of extinction, Southern Paiute (Moapa, Cedar City, Kaibab, and San Juan subdialects), and Ute (Central Utah, Northern, White Mesa, Southern subdialects). According to the Ethnologue, there were a little less than two thousand speakers of Colorado River Numic Language in 1990, or ca. 40% out of an ethnic population of 5,000. The Southern Paiute dialect has played a significant role in linguistics, as the background for a famous article by linguist Edward Sapir and his collaborator Tony Tillohash on the nature of the phoneme (WikP).

Ethnologue: ute. Alternate Names: Southern Paiute, Ute-Chemehuevi.

1872: [LILLY] Vocabulary of the Utah and Sho-sho-ne or Snake dialects, with Indian legends and traditions, including a brief account of the life and death of Wah-ker, the Indian land pirate. Third edition-Revised and Enlarged, by D[imick] B[aker] Huntington [1808-1879]. Salt Lake City, Utah: Printed at the Salt Lake Herald Office, 1872. Original white self-wrappers, lettered in black. Preserved in a slipcase with leather label, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-5 6-32. Third edition, revised and enlarged. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Utah, pp. [5]-16, and English-Shoshone, pp. 17-23. Second copy: LILLY, lacking title page.

"Very rare. Only one copy is known of the second edition of 1854, and no copy is known of the first, apparently of the same year. Huntington was an Indian interpreter for twenty years and a member of the Mormon Battalion. Along with Joseph Gebow he served as an Indian interpreter on the 1856 treaty between the United States and the Shoshone-Goship Bands of Indians. One section of the present work is headed, 'The Tradition of the Utah Indians in Relation to the Creation of the World,' which attempts to validate THE BOOK OF MORMON through a comparison between the Christian and Utah Indian religions. Also includes a brief account of Wah-ker, 'through which many whites lost their lives; and which cost Utah Territory over a million of dollars.' Flake 4146, Howes H821 ("aa"), Ayer, Indian Linguistics (Shoshone): 4, Jones 1554" (bookseller's description: William Reese).

1877: [LILLY] Comparative vocabulary of Utah dialects [drop title], by Edwin A. Barber. Washington, D.C.: Department of the Interior, 1877. "Author's Edition," 8vo, pp. [533]-545, [1] (i.e. 16 pages); original printed green wrappers; front wrapper loose (but present); a few spots and stains. James C. Pilling's copy, with his ownership signature at the top of the front wrapper. An Ayer linguistic duplicate with a Newberry release stamp on the verso of the front wrapper. Offprint of the U. S. Geological and Geographical Survey, Volume III, no. 3, under the charge of F. V. Hayden. "Comparative Vocabulary of Yampa and Weminuche Words," English-Yampa-Weminuche, pp. 536-537, English-Yampa, pp. 538-540, English-Weminuche, pp. 542-543, English-Yampa-Uinta-Weminuche, p. 543-544, with three words Moqui (Tequa)-English, and five words Seminole (Indian Terr.)-English, p. 545.

Second copy: [LILLYbm], "Comparative Vocabulary of Utah Dialects," by Edwin A. Barber, pp. 533-545 in: Bulletin of the United States Geological and Geographical Survey of the Territories, Vol. III, Number 3. Washington: Government Printing Office, May 15, 1877. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black (front cover detached). This essay includes vocabularies of "Yampa" and "Weminuche", said, along with "Unita" to be the principle dialects of the Ute language.

ca. 1880: [LILLYbm] Dictionary of Ute Indian language, by Mormon V. Selman. Provo, Utah: M.H. Graham printing co., n.d. [ca. 1880]. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Preserved in a clam-shell box with leather label, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-20. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Not in Ayer Indian Linguistics or Flake. Graff 3725. Includes English-Ute, pp. 1-20. This copy with several contemporary corrections in ink and additional words on final page. Selman was "For 22 years a Missionary and Teacher Among the Ute Indians." The Siebert copy: provenance Herbert S. Auerbach; acquisition Goodspeed's 1947.

"Had a school of twenty-five Indians and a number of white children, boys and girls, in the same classes. They learned to read, write and spell and add columns of figures without difficulty. Those Indians were some of the Sanpitch branch of the Ute Indians who were in the Indian wars of Utah viz.: Walker, Tintic and Black Hawk."

1925: [LILLY] "Ute Indian Counting." Original hand-written letter from James Branch Taylor, M.D. to G. W. Soliday, both of Seattle, June 27, 1925. One page. Taylor was a member of John Wesley Powell's 1868 expedition to Colorado, where they spent the winter on the White River among the Ute Indians. Taylor's letter recalls this experience and lists Ute words for counting he learned directly from a member of the tribe at that time.

1931: [IUW] The Southern Paiute language, by Edward Sapir. [Boston: American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 1931]. 730 p., [2] leaves of plates: music, ports.; 24 cm. Uniform series: Daedalus (Boston, Mass.); v. 65, no. 1-3. Contents: Southern Paiute, a Shoshonean language. Texts of the Kaibab Paiutes and Uintah Utes. Vol. 3 consists of the Southern Paiute dictionary, Southern Paiute-English, pp. 543-730. The IUW copy is a Xerox copy of the original edition.

1979: [LILLYbm] Chemehuevi: A Grammar and Lexicon, by Margaret L. Press. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1979. Original yellow and white wrappers, lettered in black and white. Pp. i-v vi-vii viii, 1 2-203 204. First edition. University of California Publications in Linguistics, Vol. 92. Includes Chemehuevi-English, pp. 146-158, and English-Chemehuevi, pp. 159-174, double-columned.

"The Chemehuevi Indians currently number somewhat over three hundred. They reside primarily in the eastern portions of San Bernardino and Riverside Counties in California, and on the Arizona bank of the Colorado River near Parker. Their current homeland is considered to be Chemehuevi Valley, at the eastern edge of the Mohave Desert in Southern California.... The Chemehuevi language is part of the branch of Southern Numic languages, consisting additionally of Southern Paiute, Ute and Kawaiisu. The Numic languages as a whole comprise what was formerly termed the Plateau Shoshonean branch of Uto-Aztecan.... Very little has been published on the Chemehuevi language to date.... Recently Carobeth Laird has written an exhaustive ethnographic description of the Chemehuevis which includes numerous detailed glossaries" (Introduction).

2016: [IUW] Ute dictionary, by T. Givón, University of Oregon; with Pear Casias, Vida Peabody and Mary Inez Cloud. [Revised and expanded edition]. Amsterdam; Philadelphia: John Benjamins Publishing Company, [2016]. xiv, 372 pages; 24 cm. Original gray, light orange, blue, black and light gray wrappers, lettered in white, black and red. Culture and language use v. 15. Ute-English, pp. [87]-245, English-Ute, pp. [249]-351, vocabulary of special semantic fields (such as kinship terms, tools, colors, etc.), Ute-English, pp. [355]-372. Includes bibliographical references and index.

[UYGHUR] The Uyghur or Uighur (/ˈwiːgər/) language (Uyghur: ئۇيغۇر تىلى, Уйғур тили, Uyghur tili, Uyoƣur tili or ئۇيغۇرچە, Уйғурчә, Uygurche, Uyoƣurqә), formerly known as Eastern Turki, is a Turkic language with 10 to 25 million speakers, spoken primarily by the Uyghur people in the Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region of Western China. Significant communities of Uyghur-speakers are located in Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan, and various other countries have Uyghur-speaking expatriate communities. Uyghur is an official language of the Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region, and is widely used in both social and official spheres, as well as in print, radio, and television. An Arabic-derived writing system is the most common and the only standard in China, although other writing systems are used for auxiliary and historical purposes. Unlike most Arabic-derived scripts, the Uyghur Arabic alphabet has mandatory marking of all vowels due to modifications to the original Perso-Arabic script made in the 20th century. Two Latin and one Cyrillic alphabet are also used, though to a much lesser extent. The Arabic and Latin alphabets both have 32 characters (WikP).

Ethnologue: uig. Alternate Names: Uighuir, Uighur, Uiguir, Uigur, Uygur, Weiwu'er, Wiga.

1880: [IUW] Sketch of the Turki language as spoken in eastern Turkistan (Kàshgar and Yarkand) part II: vocabulary, Turki-English, by Robert Shaw. With list of names of birds and plants by J. Scully. Calcutta, Baptist mission press, 1880. [4], 226 p. Reprinted from the Journal, Asiatic society of Bengal" v.47, pt.1.

1909: [LILLY] Eastern Turki (as spoken in Turkestan) Grammar, Turki-English vocabulary, English-Turki vocabulary, with English phonetic pronunciation. By H. Whitaker. [Chaubattia, U.P.] Regtl. Printing Press, 2nd Bn. Rifle Brigade, [1909?] [4], 22, [4], 22, [1], 15 p.; 21 cm. In green printed wrappers. Errata slip inserted. Place and date of publication from the preface. Contents: Part I. Grammar. Part II. Turki-English Vocabulary. Part III. English-Turki Vocabulary.

1927: [IUW] English-Turki dictionary, based on the dialects of Kashgar and Yarkand, by G. Raquette. Lund, C.W.K. Gleerup; [etc., etc., 1927]. [2], ii, 139 p. 25 cm. Original (?) black half-leather and black paper over boards, lettered in gold on the spine. OverLunds universitets årsskrift; n.f., afd. 1, bd. 23, nr. 4. English-Turki [Uyghur], pp. [1]-139. Ethnologue lists Kashgar-Yarkand as a dialect of Uyghur.

"When the Vocabulary following as Part III off my Eastern Turki Grammar was published in 1914 it was my intention to complete the set by an English-Turki Dictionary the next year, but circumstances which it was not in my power to control have caused this long delay in the fulfillment of my first plan... The present volume gives under rather more than 3500 headings about 13000 Turki words and expressions, a considerable part of which have never been in print before" (Preface).

1934: [LILLY] [Title in Eastern Turki [Uyghur] = English-Turki vocabulary for the English linguaphone lessons]. Kashghar: Swedish Mission Press, 1934. 112 p.; 16 cm. This bilingual vocabulary, translated by Georg Roberntz, was printed in 200 copies only. See Jarring cited below. In original tan wrappers, lettered in black. English-Turki [Uyghur] vocabulary arranged to accompany 30 lessons, pp. [1]-112. This small booklet contains only the bilingual vocabularies, not the lessons themselves.

"I have throughout my book used the term Eastern Turki instead of New or Modern Uighur, which was introduced into the Eastern Turki vocabulary only in 1921 and which was not used in the southern parts of Sinkiang until the revolution of the 1930's. Uighur appears in connection with the increasing soviet influence in southern Sinkiang around 1934. ... From 1935 onwards it seems to be in common use....I alternately use Sinkiang, instead of modern Xinjiang, as the former term was in contemporary use." (Jarring, G. Prints from Kashghar, General Remarks) Jarring: 1934:3.

1934-1938: [IUW] Uygur sözlüğü, by A. (Ahmet) Caferoğlu. İstanbul, Burhaneddin Matbaası, 1934-38. 240 p. 36 cm. Issued in 3 parts. Uyghur-Turkish dictionary.

1968: New edition [IUW] Eski Uygur Türkçesi sözlüğü / A. Caferoğlu. Ankara: Türk Dil Kurumu, 1968. xv, 320 p.; 24 cm. Türk Dil Kurumu yayınlarından; sayı 260. First edition published 1934-38 under title: Üygur sözlüğü. Bibliography: p. [xii]-xv.

1953: [IUW] Üighurcha-khansūcha-rūscha lügāt / [ta'lif-i] Burhan Shahidi. Beijing: Millatlar Nashriyati, [1953]. 829 p. Added title in Chinese and Russian. Dalby 1588. Uyghur-Chinese-Russian dictionary.

1956: [IUW] Russko-uïgurskiï slovar' / sostavili A. Iliev [et al.]; pod red. T.R. Rakhimova. Moskva: Gos. izd-vo inostr. i nats. slovareï, 1956. 1473 p.; 21 cm. Library binding. Dalby 1585. Russian-Uyghur. Pp. [9]-1473.

1967: [IUW] Wörterverzeichnis zu G. Raquettes Ausg. von Täji bilä Zohra (Lund 1930), by Gunnar Jarring. Lund, Gleerup, 1967. 64 p. 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream front wrapper, lettered in black. Acta Universitatis Lundensis. Sectio I, Theologica, juridica, humaniora 4. Uyghur-German, pp. [8]-61 Bibliography: p. [62]-64.

"In 1930, when Gustav Raquette (1871-43) published an East Turkic variant of the Legend of Tahir and Zehra ... he had intended to provide a vocabulary for the tale, but as he wrote, 'due to certain technical difficulties' he was unable to do so.... It is clear from the vocabulary I publish here, how strongly the language has been influenced by Arabic and Persian loan words" (Vorwort: tr: BM).

1968: [IUW] Uġursko-russkiġ slovar': okolo 33 000 slov / sost. È.N. Nadzhipovich; pod red. T.R. Rakhimova. Moskva: "Sov. èntsiklopediia," 1968. 828 p.; 27 cm. Added t.p. in Uyghur. Uyghur-Russian dictionary.

1976: [LILLY][Xinjiang Wei Wu Er Zi Zhi Qu Wen Zi Gai Ge Wei Yuan Hui]. 新疆维吾尔自治区文字改革委员会 编. 维语正字词汇. [Wei yu zheng zi ci hui]. [A Uyghur - Chinese Dictionary]. Xinjiang. [新疆人民出版社]. [Xinjiang ren min chu ban she]. 1976. 1st Edition. 561pp, 13 x 9.4cm. Mao's quotation and minor discolouration front free endpaper, original card covers in green plastic covers, lettered in blind. Uyghur-Chinese, pp. 9-561. This copy with scattered manuscript corrections in ink.

1981-1984: [IUW] Turki dillär divani = Divanu lughatit Turk / Mähmut Qāshqāri. Urumchi: Shinjang Khālq Nāshriyati, 1981-1984. 3 v.: facsim.; 22 cm. In Uyghur (Arabic script); colophon title in Chinese: Tuchueh yu da ci dian. Added t.p. in Arabic. Includes bibliographical references. Arabic Uyghur dictionary.

1982: [IUW] Uighurchä turaqliq ibarilär lughiti / tuzguchilär, Vang Jenben, Eli Abit; täkshurup bekirkuchi, Abdusalam Abbas = Weiwu'er cheng yu ci dia. Urumchi: Shinjang Khālq Nāshriyati, 1982. 3, 3, 2, 186 p.; 14 cm. In Chinese and Uyghur (Arabic script). Uyghur-Chinese dictionary of idioms.

1984: [IUW] 《欽定西域同文志》校註. 新疆回語部分 / 劉義棠校註. "Qin ding Xi yu tong wen zhi" jiao zhu. Xinjiang Hui yu bu fen / Liu Yitang jiao zhu. 初版. Chu ban. 臺北市: 臺灣商務印書館, 民國73 [1984]. Taipei Shi: Taiwan shang wu yin shu guan, min guo 73 [1984]. 22, 133 p.; 21 cm. Uyghur-Chinese dictionary.

1988: [LILLYbm] Inglizcha-ughurcha lughat. English-Uighur Dictionary. Urumchi: Shinjang Khalq Nashriyati, 1988. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. 558 pp. First edition. Title in colophon: Ying Wei tzu tien. With loosely inserted errata slip. English-Uyghur (Arabic script) only. This appears to be the first English-Uyghur Dictionary. An Eastern-Turki-English dictionary was published by the author, H.D. Hayward, in New York in 1930, but only the Library of Congress copy is on OCLC, and it may never have been issued. Henry Schwarz published a Uighur-English dictionary in 1992. Earlier dictionaries of Uyghur were published in Russian (1939, 1953, and later) and German (1823, 1870).

1990: [IUW] Uġurskiġ dialektnyġ slovar' / È.R. Tenishev; otvetstvennyġ redaktor K.M. Musaev. Moskva: "Nauka", 1990. 198 p.; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 195-[196]). Uyghur-Russian dictionary.

1991a: [IUW] Russko-uġurskiġ shkol'nyġ slovar' / A.I. Iliev, È.N. Del'tsova; pod redaktsiē R.I. Ismailova. Alma-Ata: "Rauan", 1991. 264 p.; 21 cm. Russian-Uyghur dictionary.

1991b: [IUW] Qisqichä tilshunasliq lughiti / tüzgüchilär, Mirsultan Osmanov, Muhämmätrehim Sayit. Ürümchi: Shinjang Khālq Nāshriyati, 1991. 3, 467 p.; 21 cm. In Uyghur (Arabic script); includes index of Chinese linguistic terms. Uyghur-Chinese.

1992a: [IUW] An Uyghur-English dictionary, by Henry G. Schwarz. Bellingham, Wash.: Western Washington, c1992. xxiv, 1083 p.: ill., maps; 25 cm. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. East Asian research aids & translations; v. 3. On p. preceding t.p.: Center for East Asian Studies. Western Washington University. Dalby

1587. Uyghur-English, pp. 1-947, Terminological Lists, Uyghur-English, pp. 948-1059. Includes bibliographical references (p. 1081-1082).

"I began work on this dictionary in the winter of 1984-85 within the cold and dank confines of a Tokyo apartment and finished it seven years later at home.... This dictionary is essentially the result of one man's labors. All research, collating, and typing was one entirely by me..." (Preface).

1992b: [IUW] Garments from top to toe: eastern Turki texts relating to articles of clothing edited with translation, notes and glossary / Gunnar Jarring. Stockholm, Sweden: Almqvist & Wiksell, c1992. 93 p.: ill.; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original front and rear light gray wrappers, lettered in black, with publisher's logo in maroon. Scripta minora Regiae Societatis Humaniorum Litterarum Lundensis 1991-1992: 2. Glossary, Uyghur-English, pp. [78]-89. Includes bibliographical references (p. [90]-93).

1993a: [IUW] 汉维成语词典: 维吾尔文 / 新疆社会科学院语言研究所编. Han Wei cheng yu ci dian: Weiwu'er wen / Xinjiang she hui ke xue yuan yu yan yan jiu suo bian. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. [Peking]: 民族出版社, 1993. [Peking]: Min zu chu ban she, 1993. 3, 14, 12, 717 p.; 21 cm. Cover title also in Uyghur. Includes index. Chinese-Uyghur dictionary of idioms.

1993b: [IUW] Uighurchă-inglizchă lughât = A Uyghur-English dictionary / [Daniel St. John, Gülbahar Hushur]. 1- năshri. First edition. Ürümqi: Shinjang Khālq năshriyati, 1993. 671 p.; 27 cm. In Uyghur; Arabic script.

1994: [IUW] Han Wei La dong wu ming cheng ci dian = Khănzuchă-Uighurchă Latinchă haivanat namliri lughiti / tüzgüchi, Nurmuhămmăt Tursun. Ürümqi: Shinjang Khālq Năshriyati, 1994. 3, 9, 932 p.; 20 cm. In Uyghur (Arabic script), Chinese, and Latin. Chinese-Uyghur-Latin dictionary of zoology.

1995a: [IUW] Āmālii qollinilidighan Uighurchă-Khanzuchă lughât. Ürümqi: Shinjang Dashösi Năshriyati, 1995. 8, 1606 p.: ill.; 22 cm. In Uyghur (Arabic script) and Chinese. Uyghur-Chinese dictionary.

1995b: [IUW] Yeni Uygur Türkçesi sözlüğü / Emir Necipoviç Necip; Rusçadan çeviren İklil Kurban. Ankara: Türk Dil Kurumu yayınları, 1995. 480 p.; 24 cm. Türk Dil Kurumu yayınları; 615. Includes bibliographical references. In Uyghur (roman) and Turkish; translated from Russian. Uyghur-Turkish dictionary.

1996: see under TURKIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1998: [IUW] Agriculture and horticulture in central Asia in the early years of the twentieth century with an excursus on fishing: Eastern Turki texts with transcription, translation, notes and glossary / by Gunnar Jarring. Stockholm: Almqvist & Wiksell International, 1998. 79 pages: facsimiles; 24 cm. Scripta minora Regiae Societatis Humaniorum Litterarum Lundensis; 1997-1998: 2. Includes bibliographical references (pages 77-79).

2001a: [IUW] Āmālii qollinilidighan Uyğurchă-Khănzuchă lughât = 实用维汉词典: tüzitilgän nuskha / bash tüzgüchilär, Chen Shiming, Liav Zieü. Āmālii qollinilidighan Uyğurchă-Khănzuchă lughât = Shi yong Wei Han ci dian: tüzitilgän nuskha / bash tüzgüchilär, Chen Shiming, Liav Zieü. 1 năshri. First edition. Ürümqi: Shinjang Üniversitesi Năshriyati, 2001. 3, 2, 1060 pages; 21 cm. In Uyghur Arabic and Chinese. Uyghur-Chinese dictionary.

2001b: [IUW] 汉维-维汉词典 = Khānzuchă-Uighurchă Uighurchă-Khānzuchă lughāt / 塔西普拉提·艾拜都拉, 吾買尔·阿皮孜; 编者吾買尔·阿皮孜 ... [等]. Han Wei-Wei Han ci dian = Khānzuchă-Uighurchă Uighurchă-Khānzuchă lughāt / zhu bian Taxipulati Aibaidula, Wumai'er Apizi; bian zhe Wumai'er Apizi ... [deng]. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 乌鲁木齐市: 新疆大学出版社, 2001. Wulumuqi Shi: Xinjiang da xue chu ban she, 2001. 5, 2, 29, 777, 568, 2 p.; 21 cm. In Chinese and Uyghur. Chinese-Uyghur, Uyghur-Chinese dictionary.

2002: [IUW] 汉土维分类词典 = Çince-Türkçe-Uyğurca seri kelimler sözlüğü = Khānzuchă-Türkchă-Uighurchă tüzküüm sözlär lughiti / tüzgüchi, Mömin Abdulla. Han Tu Wei fen lei ci dian = Çince-Türkçe-Uyğurca seri kelimler sözlüğü = Khānzuchă-Türkchă-Uighurchă tüzküüm sözlär lughiti / tüzgüchi, Mömin Abdulla. 1-nāshr. First edition. Ürümchi: Shinjang Khālq Nāshrıyati, 2002. 310 pages, 11 variously numbered pages; 20 cm. Chinese-Turkish-Uyghur dictionary.

2006: [IUW] 维汉维吾尔民间俗谚词典 / 阿力木编. Wei Han Weiwu'er min jian su yan ci dian / Alimu bian. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 北京市: 民族出版社, 2006. Beijing Shi: Min zu chu ban she, 2006. 5, 2, 346 p.; 21 cm. Cover title in Uyghur. Includes bibliographical references (p. 344-346). Uyghur-Chinese dictionary of proverbs.

2009: [IUW] 汉语-维吾尔语惯用语词典 = Khānzuchă-Uighurchă adāt sözlär lughiti / [王振本编著]. Han yu - Weiwuer yu guan yong yu ci dian = Khānzuchă-Uighurchă adāt sözlär lughiti / [Wang Zhenben bian zhu]. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 北京市: 民族出版社, 2009. Beijing Shi: Min zu chu ban she, 2009. 25, 335 p.; 21 cm. Includes index. Chinese-Uyghur dictionary of terms and phrases.

2014: [IUW] Uyghur dictionary & phrasebook. New York, NY: Hippocrene Books, Inc., 2014. viii, 340 pages; 19 cm. Original red and white wrappers, lettered in red and white, with a color photo of camels and building on the front cover. Uyghur dictionary & phrasebook: Uyghur-English, pp. 12-75, English-Uyghur, pp. 78-150; phrasebook, English-Uyghur, thematically arranged, pp. 152-340.

"This unique, two-part resource provides travelers to western China and Central Asia with the tools they need to communicate in Uyghur and fully experience the culture" (from rear cover).

2016: [IUW] Uyghur: an intermediate textbook = Uyghur tili: ottura säviyä / Gulnisa Nazarova, Kurban Niyaz. Washington, DC: Georgetown University Press, 2016. xxviii, 544 pages; illustrations; 28 cm+ 1 CD-ROM (4 3/4 in.). Includes bibliographical references (page xxviii). Appendix C. Uyghur-English.

"This textbook is for students who have completed elementary level coursework in Uyghur. Topics covered include family, work, school, places of interest, occupations, current events, health problems, and social issues faced by the Uyghur society today. The book includes Uyghur-English and English-Uyghur glossaries. An accompanying CD-ROM provides recorded dialogues and authentic video segments filmed throughout central Asia" (publisher's statement).

[UZBEK] Uzbek is a Turkic language and the official language of Uzbekistan. It has 27 million native speakers and is spoken by the Uzbeks in Uzbekistan and elsewhere in Central Asia. Uzbek belongs to the Eastern Turkic, or Karluk, branch of the Turkic language family. External influences include Persian, Arabic and Russian (Wikipedia).

Ethnologue considers Uzbek a macrolanguage that includes: 1) Northern Uzbek (uzn): alternate Names: Özbek; and 2) Southern Uzbek (uzs): alternate Names: O'zbek, Usbeki, Uzbak, Uzbeki. Northern Uzbek spoken by approximately 22 million people in Uzbekistan, while Southern Uzbek is spoken by approximately 3 million people in Afghanistan.

192-: [IUW] Karmannyi' uzbeksko-russkii slovar' / M. Bogdanova. 2-e izd. Second edition. [Tashkent: s.n., 192- .] xvii, 268 p.; 13 cm. Copy defective; t.p. damaged. In Uzbek (roman script) and Russian. Uzbek-Russian dictionary.

1926: [IUW] Краткий русско-узбекский словарь = Qisqäcä rüsi-üzbäki lügäti / E.Д. Поливанов. Kratkii russko-uzbekskii slovar' = Qisqäcä rüsi-üzbäki lügäti / E.D. Polivanov. Ташкент: Москва: Акц. О-ва "Туркпетчат", 1926. Tashkent: Moskva: Akts. O-va "Turkpetchat", 1926. xii, 218 p.; 17 cm. In Russian and Uzbek (Cyrillic and Arabic script). Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

1934: [IUW] Rusca-özbekcä bagc'l'q terminläri. Taşkent: Özdävnäşr, 1934. 48 p.; 15 cm. Q'slaq-khoçal'q terminologijäsi; 3. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of agricultural terms.

1937: [LILLYbm] The Uzbek Dialect of Qilich (Russian Turkestan) with Texts and Glossary, by Gunnar Jarring. Lund; Leipzig: C.W.K. Gleerup; Otto Harrassowitz, 1937. Original powder blue wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. 1-5 6-56 57-58. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 399. Uzbek-English, pp. [46]-54, double-columned.

"The Uzbek dialects, spoken in Russian and Afghan Turkestan, are to a considerable extent unknown...The literary Uzbek language of Russian Turkestan is now normalized and possesses a flourishing literature in Latin script. For the use of the linguist there are also some good dictionaries. The conditions of the innumerable dialects spoken in the vast territories of Central Asia are however rather unknown....The texts given here were taken down by me in September 1935 in Srinagar, Kashmir, from an Uzbek...from the village... of Qilich, not far from the little town of Kasan, some 40 kilometres to the north of Namangan in Russian Turkestan...According to the classification of the Uzbek dialects spoken in Russian Turkestan made by Polivanov, this dialect of Qilich no doubt belongs to the intermediate dialects of Ferghana."

1938: [IUW] Uzbek texts from Afghan Turkestan, with glossary, by Gunnar Jarring. Lund, C. W. K. Gleerup; [etc., etc., 1938] v, 246 p. 25 cm. Lunds universitets årsskrift; n.f., avd. 1, bd. 34, nr. 2. "List of works quoted": p. [241]-243.

1945: [LILLYbm] Özbekische Grammatik, mit Bibliographie, Lesestücken und Wörterverzeichnis, by A[nnemarie] von Gabain. Leipzig and Vienna: Otto Harrassowitz, 1945. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. I-V VI-XVI, 1 2-278 + fold-out map. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 399. Includes Uzbek-German, pp. [234]-272.

"The war, the teacher of many things, offers those interested in Turkic studies a special opportunity and confronts them with a pressing task: never have there been so many members of the Turkish tribes in Germany as today. Hundreds of thousands of young Turkistanis, Volga Tartars...and others have come within the reach of German scholars as prisoners of war...So we have the opportunity to study their dialects...The knowledge of Russian-Turkish tribes in Germany is still unfortunately slight, just as one generally sees only negative connotations in the words "nomads" and "steppes" (Foreword, tr: BM).

1953-1955: [IUW] Ruscha-uzbekcha lughat / Bosh muharrirlar M. T. O'zbek va, A. K. Borovkov ... [et al.]. Toshkent: ŪzSSR fanlar akademiiasi nashrieti, 1953-55. 5 v.; 23 cm. Added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii slovar'. Contents: t. 1, A-ZH. t. 2, Z-L. t. 3, M-O. t. 4, P-R. t. 5, S-ŪA. Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

1954: [LILLYbm] Russko-uzbekskii slovar. 50 000 slov, edited by R. Abdurakhmanov. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsionalnykh slovarei, 1954. Original black cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold and blind. Pp. 1-7 8-1046 1047-1048, with errata slip inserted following p. 1046. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 399. Includes Russian-Uzbek, pp. [15]-986. At head of title: Akademiia nauk Uzbekskei SSR. Institut iazyka i literatury imeni A. S. Pushkina. Added title page in Uzbek; preface also in Uzbek. In Cyrillic characters. Second copy: [IUW].

1959: [IUW] Uzbeksko-russkii slovar': svyshe 40 000 slov / pod redaktsiei S.F. Akabirova, Z.M. Magrueva, A.T. Khodzhaqanova; glavnyi redaktor, A.K. Borovkov. Moskva: Gos. idz-vo inostrannykh i natsional'nykh slovarei, 1959. 839 p.; 27 cm. Title on added t.p.: Ūzbekcha-ruscha lughat. Dalby 1601. "Kratkii ocherk grammatiki uzbekskogo iazyka / A.K. Borovkov": p. [677]-727. Errata slip inserted. Uzbek-Russian dictionary.

1962: [IUW] Uzbek newspaper reader (with glossary), by N. N. Poppe. Bloomington, Indiana University, 1962. x, 247 p. 23 cm. Library binding. Uralic and Altaic series; v. 10. "American Council of Learned Societies. Research and studies in Uralic and Altic languages. Project no. 38 ... developed pursuant to a contract between the United States Office of Education and the American Council of Learned Societies." Bibliography: p. 247. Uzbek-English vocabulary, pp. 178-246.

"The Uzbek Newspaper Reader has been compiled at the specification of the American Council of Learned Societies, and contains a grammatical sketch of present-day written Uzbek.... based on the dialect of Tashkent.... The texts have been excerpted from newspapers currently appearing in Soviet Central Asia (Turkestan). The compiler of this manual emphasizes that inclusion of such texts in this manual does not mean an approval of their content"(Preface).

1965: [IUW] Ūzbek tilidagi ruscha-internatsional ūzlashtirma sūzlar izohli lughati / Olim Usmon, Renat Doniërov. Toshkent: Ūzbekiston SSR "Fan" nashrieti, 1965. 577 p.; 21 cm. Title on added t.p.: Tolkovyĭ slovar' russko-internatsional'nykh zaimstvovaniĭ v uzbekskom iazyke. Uzbek dictionary of foreign words and phrases.

1967: [IUW] Chastotnyiĭ russko-uzbekskii slovar'-minimum / R.I. Bigaev ... (et al.) Tashkent: Izd-vo "Ūqituvchi", 1967. 259 p.; 13 cm. Spine title: Chastotnyiĭ slovar' Includes index. Concise Russian-Uzbek frequency dictionary.

1969: [IUW] Uzbek-English school dictionary / compiled by Buronov J.B., Aloev Yu., Rahmonberdiyev K.R. Toshkent: "Uqituvchi", 1969. 200 p.; 17 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [5]-6).

1993: Second edition [IUW] Ūzbekcha-inglizcha lughat: ūrta maktablar uchun / tuzuvchilar: Būronov Zh.B., A'loev Ū., Rahmonberdiyev K.R. 2.

nashri. Second edition. Toshkent: Ūqituvchi, 1993. 223 p.; 17 cm. Added title page: Uzbek-English school dictionary. First edition appeared in 1969.

1971: [IUW] Qisqacha ruscha-ūzbekcha iqtisodī terminlar lughati / O. Aminov, Zh. Dūsmuḥamedov, A. Usmonov. Toshkent: "Ūqituvchi" nashriēti, 1971. 163 p.; 20 cm. Title in colophon: Kratkiĭ rusko-uzbekskii slovar' ekonomicheskikh terminov. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of economics.

1972a: [IUW] Atmosfera fizikasidan ruscha-ūzbekcha terminlar lughati / A.A. A"zamov, Ė.N. Nazirov. Toshkent: "Ūqituvchi", 1972. 135, [1] p.; 18 cm. Title in colophon: Rusko-uzbekskii slovar' terminov po fizike atmosfery. Includes bibliographical references (p. 136). Russian-Uzbek dictionary of atmospheric physics.

1972b: [IUW] Ruscha-ūzbekcha frazeologik lughat / Maqsuda Sodiqova. Toshkent: Fan, 1972. 192 p. 23 cm. Title on added t.p.: Rusko-uzbekskii frazeologicheskii slovar'. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of idioms.

1972c: [IUW] Slovar' naibolee upotrebitel'nykh slov sovremennogo uzbekskogo literaturnogo iazyka: vysokochastotnaia leksika pod "iazyka khudozhestvennoi prozy: posobie dlia uchitelei uzbekskogo iazyka / I.A. Kissen. Tashkent: "Ukituvchi", 1972. 112 p.; 21 cm. Bibliography: p. 8-[9]. Uzbek-Russian word frequency dictionary.

1973: [IUW] Matematikadan ruscha-ūzbekcha lughat: ūrta maktab, olii va makhsus ūrta ūquv iurtlari uchun / M.A. Sobirov. Qaita ishlangan, tildirilgan va tuzatilgan 2- nashri. Second edition. Toshkent: "Ūqituvchi", 1973. 344 p.; 23 cm. Title in colophon: Rusko-uzbekskii slovar' po matematike. "Dunē matematiklari haqida qisqacha ma"lumot": p. [313]-338. Includes bibliographical references (p. 339-344). Russian-Uzbek dictionary of mathematics.

1974: [IUW] Qisqacha ūzbekcha-ruscha lughat: olii maktab studentlari va ūrta maktab ūquvchilari uchun / O. Azizov ... [et al.] 2-chi nashri. Second edition. Toshkent: "Ūqituvchi", 1974. 264 p.; 18 cm. Title on added t.p.: Kratkiĭ uzbeksko-russkii slovar'. Concise Uzbek-Russian dictionary.

1975a: [IUW] Inglizcha lughat-minimum: ūzbek maktablari uchun / Zh.Zh. Zhalolov, O. Oblaev. Toshkent: Ūqituvchi, 1975. 98 p.; 21 cm. Russian title in colophon: Slovar'-minimum po angliiskomu iazyku. Small English-Uzbek dictionary.

1975b: [IUW] Rusko-uzbekskii tematicheskii slovar' / A.N. Tikhonov, N.T. Khatamov, S.A. Emel'ianova, M.ĪU. Tikhonova; Pod red. akad., d-ra filol. nauk, prof. Shanskogo, N.M. Tashkent: Ukituvchi, 1975. 519 p.; 22 cm. Russian-Uzbek thematic dictionary.

1979: Second edition [IUW] Rusko-uzbekskii tematicheskii slovar' / A.N. Tikhonov ... [et al.]; pod redaktsiei ... Shanskogo, N.M. Izd. 2-e. Second edition. Toshkent: Izd-vo "Ūqituvchi", 1979. 516 p.; 23 cm. Russian-Uzbek thematic dictionary.

1976: [IUW] Uzbeksko-russkii slovar' aforizmov = Ūzbekcha-ruscha aforizmlar lughati / M. Abdurakhimov. Tashkent: Ūqituvchi, 1976. 216 p.; 21 cm. Bibliography: p. [216]. Uzbek-Russian dictionary of aphorisms.

1979: [IUW] Adabiētshunoslik terminlarining ruscha-ūzbekcha izohli lughati: ūrta maktab ūquvchilari, til va adabiēt ūqituvchilari hamda filolog studentlar uchun / N. Ĥotamov, B. Sarimsoqov. Toshkent: Ūqituvchi, 1979. 364 p.; 22 cm. Added t.p.: Rusko-uzbekskii tolkovyi slovar' literaturovedcheskikh terminov. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of literary terminology.

1983: Second edition [IUW] Adabiётshunoslik terminlarining ruscha-ўzbekcha izohli lughati: ўrta maktab ўquvchilari, til va adabiёт ўqituvchilari hamda filolog studentlar uchun / N. Ёotamov, B. Sarimsoqov. Tўldirilgan 2-chi nashri. Second edition. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1983. 376 p.; 23 cm. Text in Russian and Uzbek; prefatory matter in Uzbek. Title on added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii tolkovyi slovar' literaturovedcheskikh terminov. Includes bibliographical references. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of literary terminology.

1980a:[IUW] Kratkii uzbeksko-russkii frazeologicheskii slovar' = Qisqacha ўzbekcha-ruscha frazeologik lughat / M. Abdurakhimov. Tashkent: "Ўqituvchi," 1980. 183 p.; 17 cm. Includes index. Bibliography: p. [174]. Concise Uzbek-Russian dictionary of terms and phrases.

1980b: [IUW] Russko-uzbekskii uchebnyi slovar': 4000 naibolee upotrebitel'nykh slov russkogo iazyka / [N.M. Shanskiĭ, Z.P. Daunene, N.Z. Bakeeva ... et al.]; Pod red. N.M. Shanskogo. Tashkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1980. 302 p.; 17 cm. Title on added t.p.: Ruscha-ўzbekcha ўquv lughati. Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

1980c: [LILLYbm] Uzbek-English Dictionary, by Natalie Waterson. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1980. Original orange cloth over boards, lettered in gold; d.j. brownish-orange and white, lettered in white and brown. Pp. i-vi vii-xx, 1-190 191-192. First edition. The first Uzbek to English dictionary. Second copy: [IUW].

"In recent years there has been a steadily growing interest in the Turkic languages of Central Asia, especially in Uzbek which is one of the major languages of the USSR and has a long literary tradition. The appearance of this Uzbek-English dictionary, the first of its kind, is thus an important contribution for the advancement of Uzbek studies in the English-speaking world... There are between 9,000 and 10,000 head words, but the number of words covered is considerably more..." (from inner flap of d.j.). "A great deal of work has been done on [Uzbek] in the USSR; this includes dictionaries and grammars, but these are available solely to those who know Russian and Uzbek... There was thus a need for an Uzbek-English dictionary, and the present one aims to fill the gap... In the absence of other Uzbek-English dictionaries, a number of literary forms and technical terms were added" (Introduction).

1981a: [IUW] Ruscha-ўzbekcha harbiĭ terminlar lughati / ĀA. Shermuĥamedov, A. Umarov. Toshkent: Ўzbekiston SSR "Fan" nashriёti, 1981. 292 p.; 21 cm. Title on added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii slovar' voennykh terminov. Includes bibliographical references (p. [293]). Russian-Uzbek dictionary of military terminology.

1981b: [IUW] Ўzbekcha-ruscha, ruscha-ўzbekcha maktab lughati: rus maktablarining 3-10 sinflari uchun / Kh. Asalov, R. Ёўldoshev. Toshkent: Ўqituvchi, 1981. 208 p.; 18 cm. Title on added t.p.: Uzbeksko-russkii, russko-uzbekskii shkol'nyi slovar'. Uzbek-Russian school dictionary, levels 3-10.

1992: Enlarged second edition [IUW] Ўzbekcha-ruscha, ruscha-ўzbekcha maktab lughati: rus maktablarining 3-11 sinflari uchun / Kh. Asalov, R. Ёўldoshev. Tўldirilgan, tuzatilgan 2-nashri. Second enlarged edition. Toshkent: Ўqituvchi, 1992. 269 p.; 17 cm. Title on added t.p.: Uzbeksko-russkii, russko-uzbekskii shkol'nyi slovar'. Uzbek-Russian school dictionary, levels 3-11.

1982: [IUW] Ruscha-ўzbekcha ўquv lughati: 5,000 sўz / T. Aliqulov. Moskva: "Rus tili" nashriēti, 1982. 286 p.; ill.; 22 cm. Title on added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii uchebnyi slovar'. Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

1993: New edition [IUW] Ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat: 5,000 sўz / T. Aliqulov. Toshkent: Qomuslar bosh tahririati, c1993. 301 p.; 21 cm. Title on added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii slovar'. Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

1983: [IUW] Forscha-ўzbekcha ўquv lughati: universitetlar va pedagogika institutlarining studentlari uchun qўllanma / tuzuvchilar A. Rustamov, Q. Karimov, Z. Umarov. 2. nashri. Second edition. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1983. 229 p.; 23 cm. Title in colophon: Persidsko-uzbekskii uchebnyi slovar'. Persian-Uzbek dictionary.

1983-1984: [IUW] Ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat: ikki tomli / redaksiya kollegiia, Qūshzhonov, M.Q. (rais) ... [et al.]. Toshkent: Ўzbek Sov. Ёnsiklopediiasi Bosh Redaksiiasi, 1983-1984. 2 v.; 27 cm. Title on added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii slovar'. Dalby 1600. Russian-Uzbek, Uzbek-Russian dictionary.

1984a: [IUW] Russko-uzbekskii uchebnyi slovar': dlia vuzov estestvenno-tekhnicheskogo profilia / S.M. Khaldarova, R. Daniyarov, A.A. Usmanova. Tashkent: Ўqituvchi, 1984. 325 p.; 17 cm. Added t.p. title: Ruscha-ўzbekcha ўquv lughati. Russian-Uzbek dictionary for technical universities.

1984b: [IUW] Ўzbekcha-frantsuzcha lughat: ўrta maktablar uchun / tuzuvchi T. Aliqulov. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1984. 240 p.; 17 cm. Added title on cover: Dictionnaire Ouzbek-Français. Title in colophon: Uzbeksko-frantsuzskii slovar'. Uzbek-French dictionary for secondary schools.

1988a: [IUW] Ruscha-ўzbekcha izohli lughat-spravochnik: agrosanoat kompleksining ekonomikasi, tashkil etish va boshqarish / Q.Ĥ. Ĥotamov. Toshkent: "Meĥnat", 1988. 249 p.; 23 cm. Title in colophon: Russko-uzbekskii tolkovyi slovar-spravochnik. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of agricultural economy.

1988b: [IUW] Ўзбекско-русский словарь: около 50,000 слов и выражений / под редакцией С.Ф. Аюбировой и Г.Н. Михайловой. Uzbeksko-russkii slovar': okolo 50,000 slov i vyrazhenii / pod redaktsiei S.F. Akobirova i G.N. Mikhaïlova. Tashkent: Глав. ред. Узбекской сов. энциклопедии, 1988. 726 p.; 27 cm. Title on added t.p.: Ўzbekcha-ruscha lughat. Includes bibliographical references. Uzbek-Russian dictionary of terms and phrases.

1989a: [IUW] Kratkii uzbeksko-russkii frazeologicheskii slovar' / Maksuda Sadykova. Tashkent: Glavnaia redaksiia Uzbekskoi Sovetskoi Ёnsiklopedii, 1989. 334 p.; 22 cm. Added title page: Qisqacha ўzbekcha-ruscha frazeologik lughat. Includes bibliographical references (p. [7]). Concise Uzbek-Russian dictionary of terms and phrases.

1989b: [IUW] Ruscha-ўzbekcha va ўzbekcha-ruscha sўzlashgich / Z.M. Ma"rufov, G.N. Mikhaïlov; P.T. Turaev ishtirokida; Q.Kh. Khonazarov tahriri ostida. Toshkent: Ўzbek sovet ёnsiklopediiasi bosh redaksiiasi, 1989. 239 p.; 14 x 11 cm. Title on added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii i uzbeksko-russkii razgovornik. Russian-Uzbek colloquial dictionary.

1989c: [IUW] Russko-uzbekskii slovar' voennykh terminov / sostaviteli: Ё. D. Panasenkov, A. P. Madvaliev. Tashkent: Izd-vo "Fan" Uzbekskoi SSR, 1989. 63 p.; 11 x 15 cm. Title on added t.p.: Ruscha-ўzbekcha ĥarbiĥ terminlar lughati. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of military art and science.

1989d: [IUW] Ўsimlikshunoslikka oid ruscha-ўzbekcha izohli lughat / S. Muhamadkhonov, F. Zhongurazov. Toshkent: "Mehnat", 1989. 319 p.; ill.; 23 cm. Title in colophon: Russko-uzbekskii slovar'-spravochnik po rastenievodstvu. Includes bibliographical references (p. [318]-319). Russian-Uzbek dictionary of agriculture.

1989e: [IUW] Uzbek-rus-ingliz-nemis tillari boshqaruviga doir lughat-spravochnik / Fëdorov, V.A., Aliev, Gh. A. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1989. 286 p.; 21 cm. Title on added t.p.: Slovar'-spravochnik slovesnogo upravleniia uzbekskogo-russkogo-angliiskogo-nemetskogo iazykov. Includes index. Uzbek-Russian-English-German dictionary of terms and phrases.

1990a: [IUW] Biologiiadan qisqacha ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat / P.R. Olimkhūzhaeva, N.Sh. Sharofiddinkhūzhaev. Toshkent: Ibn Sino nomidagi nashriēt, 1990. 83 p.; 22 cm. Title from colophon: Kratkii russko-uzbekskii slovar' biologicheskikh terminov. Concise Russian-Uzbek dictionary of biological terms.

1990b: [IUW] Chorvachilik terminlariga oid ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat: ma'lumotnoma / M. Zokirov, L. Khachaturova, S. Ūsupov; [pod redaktsiei A.N. Tikhonova]. Toshkent: "Mehnat", 1990. 589 p.; 23 cm. Title on added t.p.: Russko-uzbekskii slovar' zhivotnovodcheskikh terminov. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of livestock terms.

1990c: [IUW] Elektrotekhnikadan qisqacha izohli ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat / N.A. Ahrorov. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1990. 199 p.; 21 cm. Title from t.p. verso: Kratkii russko-uzbekskii tolkovyi slovar' po elektrotekhnike. Includes bibliographical references (p. 199). Concise Russian-Uzbek dictionary of electronics.

1990d: [IUW] Madani-ma"rifii ishlar: ruscha-ўzbekcha lughati / N.M. Mahmudov ... [va boshq.]; taqrizchilar, A.atamalar M. Mukhamedov ... [va boshq.]; mas"ul muharrir, Kh. Shamsiddinov. Toshkent: Qomuslar Bosh tahririati, 1990. 155 p.; 20 cm. Title on added t.p.: Kul'turno-prosvetitel'skaia rabota: russko-uzbekskii terminologicheskii slovar'. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of cultural terms.

1990e: [IUW] Uzbeksko-russkii sinonimicheskii slovar' / A.P. Khodzhiyev, S.L. Kim. Tashkent: Fan, 1990. 112 p.; 22 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 5) and index. Uzbek-Russian dictionary of synonyms.

1991a: see under CHAGATAI.

1991b: [IUW] Fizikadan ruscha-ўzbekcha atamalar lughati: 20,000 ga iaqin sūz / R.B. Bekzhonov, Sh.M. Kamolkhūzhaev, Kh.A. Rizaev. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1991. 296 p.; 22 cm. Title on t.p. verso: Russko-uzbekskii terminologicheskii slovar' po fizike. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of physics.

1991c: [IUW] Frantsuzcha-ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat / M.Ĥ. Qoraeva. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1991. 248 p.; 22 cm. Title on t.p. verso: Frantsuzsko-russko-uzbekskii slovar'. French-Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

1991d: [IUW] Ingilizcha-ўzbekcha lughat = English-Uzbek dictionary / tuzuvchilar Zh.B. Būronov, Q.R. Raĥmonberdiev, Kh.S. Barnokhūzhaeva. Toshkent: Ўqituvchi, 1991. 206 p.; 17 cm. Title in Colophon: Anglo-uzbekskii slovar'. English-Uzbek dictionary.

1992 [1997]: [IUW] Ilmi taskhir: tūplovchi, nashrga taiērlovchi va tarzhimonlar / Mahmud Ĥasaniī, Mahmud Umar, Ĥaīdarbek Bobobekov. Toshkent: "Meros", c1997, c1992. 103 p.; ill.; 20 cm. Persian-Arabic-Uzbek dictionary of Islamic terms.

1992a: [IUW] Nemischa-ўzbekcha grammatik atamalar izohli lughati / T.Z. Mirsoatov, M. Sattorov. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1992. 149 p.; 21 cm. Title from colophon: Nemetsko-uzbekskii tolkovyi slovar' grammaticheskikh terminov. Added title page: Deutsch-usbekisches erklärungswörterbuch grammatischer termini. Includes bibliographical references (p. 148). German-Uzbek dictionary of grammatical terms.

1992b: [IUW] Ruscha-latincha-ўzbekcha dorivor ўsimliklar lughati / Ў. Kh. Kholmatov, A.I. Qosimov. Toshkent: Ibn Sino nomidagi nashriёт, 1992. 199 p.; 20 cm. Title on verso t.p.: Russko-latinsko-uzbekskii slovar' lekarstvennykh rasteni. Russian-Latin-Uzbek dictionary of medicinal plants.

1992c: [IUW] Русско-узбекский словарь существительных на мягкий знак (ь) / К. Мусаев, Г. Цибахашили, Н. Хатамов. Russko-uzbekskii slovar' sushchestvitel'nykh na miatgkii znak (') / K. Musaev, G. ṬSibakhashvili, N. Khatamov. Ташкент: "Ўқитувчи", 1992. Tashkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1992. 254 pages; 17 cm Errata slip inserted. Russian soft sign is in parentheses at end of title. Russian-Uzbek dictionary, noun/palatization.

1993a: [IUW] Inglizcha-ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat = English-Russian-Uzbek dictionary / Ё. A"loev; taqrizchilar A.A. Abduazizov. Toshkent: Qomuslar bosh tahririati, [1993]. 222 p.; 21 cm. Added title page: Anglo-russko-uzbekskii slovar'. Includes bibliographical references (p. 11). English-Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

1993b: [IUW] Qisqacha inglizcha-ўzbekcha-ruscha ўquv lughati = Shorter English-Uzbek-Russian learner's dictionary = Kratkii anglo-uzbeksko-russkii uchebnyi slovar' / K. Shadmanov, O. Ablayev. Tashkent: Izd-vo "Fan" Akademii nauk Respubliki Uzbekistan, 1993. 208 p.; 20 cm. English-Uzbek-Russian dictionary.

1993c: [IUW] Qisqacha ўzbekcha-ruscha maqol-matallar lughati = Kratkii uzbeksko-russkii slovar' posloviť i pogovorok / M. Sodiqova. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1993. 92 p.; 20 cm. Shorter Uzbek-Russian dictionary of proverbs.

1993d: [IUW] Tilshunoslik atamalarining ruscha-ўzbekcha qisqacha lughati / A.P. Hozhiev. Toshkent: "Fan", 1993. 45 p.; 14 cm. Title from colophon: Kratkii russko-uzbekskii slovar' terminov iazykoznanii. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of linguistics.

1993e: Turkcha-ўzbekcha, ўzbekcha-turkcha lughat / Nizomiddin Mahmud, Ёrtugʻrul Ёaman = Türkçe-Özbekçe, Özbekçe-Türkçe sözlük / Nizamiddin Mahmud, Ertuğrul Yaman; özel muharrir Babahan Muhammed Şerif. Toshkent: Ghafur Ghulom nomidagi Adaviёт va san"at nashriёti, 1993. 319 p.; 21 cm. Turkish-Uzbek, Uzbek-Turkish dictionary.

1993f: [IUW] Uzbek-English dictionary, by Karl A. Krippes. Prelim. ed. Kensington, Md.: Dunwoody Press, c1993. xi, 225, 43 p.; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references.

2002: Second printing [IUW] Uzbek-English dictionary, by Karl A. Krippes. 2nd impression. Kensington, Md.: Dunwoody Press, 2002. xv, 246 p.; 24 cm. First published in 1993. Includes bibliographical references (p. xii-xv).

1994a: [IUW] Binokorlikdan ruscha-ўzbekcha atamalar lughati / Ў. Rasulov tahriri ostida; [tusuvchilar, Kosimov S.M.]. Toshkent: Qomuslar Bosh tahririati, c1994. 222 p.; 20 cm. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of construction.

1994b: [IUW] Deutsch-russisch-usbekisches phraseologisches Wörterbuch = Nemischa-ruscha-ўzbekcha frazeologik lughat / M.I. Umarkhūzhaev, K. [i.e. Q] N. Nazarov. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1994. 157 p.; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 156). German-Russian-Uzbek dictionary of terms and phrases.

1994c: [IUW] Izhtimoiʻ-siësiʻ atamalarining ruscha-ўzbekcha qisqacha lughati / R. Doniërov, L. Ramazonova. Toshkent: "Fan", 1994. 48 p.; 14 cm. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of political science.

1994d: [IUW] Sözlük: Özbekistan Türkçesi - Türkiye Türkçesi, Türkiye Türkçesi - Özbekistan Türkçesi = Lughat: Ўzbekiston Türkchasi - Türkiä Türkchasi, Türkiä Türkchasi - Ўzbekiston Türkchasi / Berdak Yusuf, Mehmet Mâhur Tulum. İstanbul: Türk Dünyası Araştırmaları Vakfı, 1994. 417 p.; 20 cm. Uzbek-Turkish, Turkish-Uzbek dictionary.

1994e: [IUW] Tadbirkor ўldoshi: tadbirkor va ishbilarmonlar uchun ruscha-ўzbekcha izohli lughat / Aĥmadzhon Soliev, Abdumalik Usmonov, Nurmurod Zhūraev. Toshkent: "Universitet", 1994. 143 p.; 20 cm. Russian-Uzbek business dictionary.

1994f: [IUW] Uzbek-English, English-Uzbek dictionary, by Kamran M. Khakimov. New York: Hippocrene Books, c1994. 329 p.; 16 cm. Added title page: Ўzbekcha-inglizcha, inglizcha-ўzbekcha qisqacha lughat. Hippocrene concise dictionary.

1995a: [IUW] Qisqacha ruscha-ўzbekcha-inglizcha ish iuritish lughati = Kratkī russko-uzbeksko-angliiskī slovar' po deloproizvodstvu = Russian-Uzbek-English dictionary of office work / [otv. redaktor A. Khozhiev]. Toshkent: Uzbekiston, 1995. 115 p.; 20 cm.

1995b: [IUW] Ўzbekcha-tozhikcha-ruscha qisqa lughat: oliʻ ũquv iurtlari talabalari va ũrta maktab ũquvchilari uchun / tuzuvchilar M.M. Mirzaev, B. Ėgamberdiev. Toshkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1995. 144 p.; 13 x 20 cm. Parallel title: Uzbeksko-tadzhiksko-russkiī slovar'. Uzbek-Tajik-Russian dictionary.

1995c: [IUW] Uzbeksko-russkiī uchebnyi slovar' / A.P. Khodzhiev ... [et al.]. Tashkent: "Ўqituvchi", 1995. 383 p.; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [348]-349). Uzbek-Russian dictionary.

1996a: see under TURKIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1996b: [IUW] Ruscha-lotincha-ўzbekcha tibbiī terminlar izohli lughati / [bosh muharrir, Ė.Kh. Tūraqulov]. Toshkent: "Kamalak": "Khazina", 1996. 525 p.; 27 cm. Russian-Latin-Uzbek dictionary of medicine.

1998a: [IUW] English-Uzbek dictionary: economics, finance, bank, commerce = Inglizcha-ўzbekcha lughat: iqtisodiēt, moliia, bank, tizhorat / Q.M. Musaev, A.Ĥ. Ėrdonaev, M.Sh. Qudratov. Toshkent: Uqituvchi, 1998- v. <1-2 >; 22 cm. 1. A-C 2. D-I.

1998b: [IUW] Özbek Türkçesi - Türkiye Türkçesi ve Türkiye Türkçesi -Özbek Türkçesi karşılıklar kılavuzu / Ertuğrul Yaman, Nizamiddin Mahmud. Ankara: Atatürk Kültür, Dil ve Tarih Yüksek Kurumu, 1998. xiii, 287 p.; 24 cm. Uzbek (Cyrillic and roman) and Turkish. Uzbek-Turkish, Turkish-Uzbek dictionary.

2000: [IUW] English-Uzbek glossary for beginning learners: boshlang'ich kurs o'rganuvchilari uchun uslubiy ko'rsatmalar / Hamdam Ne'matov. Samarqand: [s.n.], 2000. 173 p.; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 171-172). In Uzbek (roman script) and English.

2001: [IUW] English-Uzbek dictionary: about 25000 entries = Inglizcha-o'zbekcha lug'at: 25000 ga yaqin so'z / J. Bo'ronov ... [et al.]. Toshkent: G'afur G'ulom nomidagi Adabiyot va san'at nashriyoti, 2001. 607 p.; 21 cm. In English and Uzbek (roman).

2001: [IUW] English-Uzbek-Russian learning dictionary = Inglizcha-o'zbekcha-ruscha o'quv lug'ati = Angliisko-uzbeksko-russkiĭ uchebnyĭ slovar': o'rta maktablar, gimnaziyalar, litseylar o'quvchilari va oliy o'quv yurtlariga kiruvchilar uchun / tuzuvchi, I. Ibrohimkho'jayev. Toshkent: Yangi asr avlodi, [2001]. 102 p.; 20 cm.

2002a: [IUW] Afganistan Özbekçesi, Türkçe sözlük / Mevlüt Gültekin, Asıf Yoldaş. 1. Baskı Ankara: Nobel Yayın Dağıtım, 2002. 247 p.; 14 cm. Başvuru sınavı hazırlık dizisi; 28. Uzbek-Turkish dictionary.

2002b: [IUW] Tilshunoslik terminlarining izohli lughati / Azim Hozhiev. Toshkent: "Ўzbekiston millii entsiklopediiasi" davlat ilmiĭ nashriĕti, 2002. 164 p.; 22 cm. Expanded edition of author's Lingvistik terminlarining izohli lughati, published in 1985. In Uzbek; includes an Uzbek-Russian vocabulary list.

2002c: [IUW] Uzbek: Uzbek-English, English-Uzbek dictionary & phrasebook / Nicholas Awde, William Dirks, & Umida Hikmatullaeva. New York: Hippocrene Books, c2002. 200 p.: map; 19 cm. In romanized Uzbek.

2004a: [IUW] English-Uzbek, Uzbek-English dictionary: 30,000 entries = Inglizcha-o'zbekcha, o'zbekcha-inglizcha lug'at: 30,000 so'z / Shavkat Butaev, Abbas Irisqulov. Toshkent: O'zbekiston davlat jahon tillari universiteti, 2004. 766 p.; 20 cm. In Uzbek (roman script) and English.

2004b: [IUW] Uzbeksko-russkiĭ i russko-uzbekskiĭ uchebnyĭ slovar' dlĭa nachal'nogo obuchenĭa / Talipova, R. T. Tashkent: Sharq, 2004. 109 p.; 22 cm. In Russian (Cyrillic). Uzbek-Russian, Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

2005a: [IUW] Qonun tili lughati: Uzbekiston Respublikasining amaldagi qonun huzhhatlarida qullanilgan normativ-huquqii atama va iboralarning qisqacha lughati / A. Kh. Saidov, A. S. Tursunov, M. M. Miralimov. Tashkent: Inson huquqlari buiicha Uzbekiston Respublikasi millii Markazi, 2005. 168 p.; 20 cm. Russian-Uzbek law dictionary.

2005b: [IUW] Русско-узбекский словарь: более 50 000 словоформ / [mas"ul muharrir Zh. Ėshonqulov]. Russko-uzbekskiĭ slovar': bolee 50 000 slovoform / [noshir M.Zh. Zhŭraev]. Qarshi: Nasaf, 2005. 549 p.; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Preface in Uzbek. Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

2008: [IUW] Comprehensive Uzbek-English dictionary / Jahangir Mamatov, Michael Horlick, Karamat Kadirova. Hyattsville, MD: Dunwoody Press, 2008-v.; 28 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Uzbek (in roman and cyrillic scripts) and English.

2009: [IUW] English-Uzbek, Uzbek-English dictionary: 70,000 words and expressions = Inglizcha-o'zbekcha, o'zbekcha-inglizcha lug'at: 70,000 so'z va ibora / Shavkat Butayev, Abbas Irisqulov. Toshkent: O'zbekiston Respublikasi Fanlar akademiyasi "Fan" nashriyoti, 2009. 847 p.; 21 cm. In Uzbek (roman script) and English.

2009: see under OLD TURKIC.

2012: [IUW] Экология: русско-узбекский толковый словарь / X.B. Салимов = Ekologiya: ruscha-o'zbekcha izohli lug'at / X.V. Salimov. Ėkologiĭa: russko-uzbekskiĭ tolkovyiĭ slovar' / Kh.V. Salimov = Ekologiya: ruscha-o'zbekcha izohli lug'at / X.V.

Salimov. 2-nashr. Second edition. Toshkent: "O'zbekiston milliy ensiklopediyasi": Davlat ilmiy nashriyoti, 2012. 461 pages; 21 cm. Russian-Uzbek dictionary of ecology.

2013: [IUW] Русско-узбекский словарь: в двух томах / ответственный редактор А. Мадвалиев = Русча-ўзбекча луғат: икки жилдли / масъул муҳаррир А. Мадвалиев. Russko-uzbekskii slovar': v dvukh tomakh / otvetstvennyi redaktor A. Madvaliev = Ruscha-ўzbekcha lughat: ikki zhildli / mas"ul muharrir A. Madvaliev. Ташкент: Государственный научное издательство "Ўзбекистон миллий энциклопедияси", 2013. Tashkent: Gosudarstvennyi nauchnoe izdatel'stvo "Ўzbekiston millii èntsiklopediiasi", 2013. 2 volumes; 27 cm. Том I. А-О. том II. П-Я. Tom I. A-O tom II. P-IA. Russian-Uzbek dictionary.

2015: [IUW] Forscha-ўzbekcha va ўzbekcha-forscha tilshunoslik terminlari lughati = فرهنگ اصطلاحات زبانشناسی فارسی به ازبکی و ازبکی به فارسی / Ahmad Quronbekov. Forscha-ўzbekcha va ўzbekcha-forscha tilshunoslik terminlari lughati = Farhang-i iştīlāḥāt-i zabān'shināsī-i fārsī bih uzbekī va uzbekī bih fārsī / Ahmad Quronbekov. Тошкент: Fan va texnologiyalar Markazining bosmaxonasi, 2015. Toshkent: Fan va texnologiyalar Markazining bosmaxonasi, 2015. 111 pages; 21 cm Includes bibliographical references (page 108). In Uzbek (Cyrillic) and Persian; foreword in Uzbek. Persian-Uzbek, Uzbek-Persian dictionary.

V

[VAGLA] Vagla is a Gurunsi (Gur) language of Ghana with some 14,000 speakers. It is spoken in the west of Ghana near Sawla, in the Northern Region in the Damongo District. Dialects are Bole and Buge (WikP).

Ethnologue: vag. Alternate Names: Konosarola, Paxala, Vagala.

1932: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2001: [IUW] Vagla-English dictionary: English-Vagla. Tamale, Ghana: Ghana Institute of Linguistics, Literacy and Bible Translation, c2001. xviii, 443 p.; 22 cm. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black, with a drawing of three tribal members on the front cover. "The actual work of putting this dictionary together was done by ... Marjorie Crouch and Patricia Herbert"--P. i. Vagla-English, pp. 3-384, English-Vagla, pp. 413-443.

"... we hope that what we have gathered here (about 4,000 words) will help all Vaglas to appreciate their language and to use it in reading and wiring" (Acknowledgments).

"The Vaglas, approximately 7,000 in number, live in Northwestern Ghana.... This dictionary is based on the Jentilpe dialect" (Introduction).

[VAI] The Vai language, alternately called Vy or Gallinas, is a Mande language, spoken by the Vai people, roughly 104,000 in Liberia and by smaller populations, some 15,500, in Sierra Leone. Vai is noteworthy for being one of the few African languages to have a writing system that is not based on the Latin or Arabic script. This Vai script is a syllabary invented by Momolu Duwalu Bukele around 1833, although dates as early as 1815 have been alleged. The existence of Vai was reported in 1834 by American missionaries in the Missionary Herald of the ABCFM and independently by Rev. Sigismund Wilhelm Koelle, a Sierra Leone agent of the Church Mission Society of London. The Vai script was used to print the New Testament in the Vai language, dedicated in 2003.

Ethnologue: vai. Alternate Names: Gallinas, Gallines, Vei, Vy.

1849: [LILLY] "Dispatch communicating the discovery of a Native Written Character at Bohmar, on the Western Coast of Africa, near Liberia, accompanied by a Vocabulary of the Vahie or Vei Tongue," by Lieut. F.E. Forbes, R.N. Communicated by the admiralty. Read April 23, 1849; pp. 89-101, followed by "Notes on the Vei Language and Alphabet," by E. Norris, pp. 101-114, in: Extracted from the complete issue of the journal, in 20th century cloth with leather label. Includes English-Vei [Vai] vocabulary, pp. 91-100, and Vei [Vai]-English-Mandingo & Bambarra [Bamanankan], pp. 110-111, with fold-out leaf and lithograph leaf of alphabet. First appearance of these vocabularies, reprinted in Dohomey and the Dohomans (1851) (see below).

1851: [LILLY] Dahomey and the Dahomans: being the journals of two missions to the king of Dahomey, and residence at his capital, in the year 1849 and 1850, by Frederick E[dwyn] Forbes. Paris: Galignani, 1851. 104 p.; 24 cm. Contemporary cream paper over boards, spine printed in gold. This may be a pirated edition of the two volume edition published the same year in Paris, same publisher. Not in Hendrix. Printed in columns. "The discovery of the Vahie language and vocabulary": p. 85-90. "Vocabulary of the Dahoman [Fon] language": p. 90-96.

ca. 1905: [LILLYbm] Outlines of a Grammar of the Vei Language together with a Vei-English Vocabulary, and an account of the discovery of the Vei mode of syllabic writing, S[igismund] W[ilhelm] Koelle. London: Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., [ca. 1905]. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold, and decorated in gold and blind. Pp. [10] i ii-vi, 3 4-256, 1 2-42. Third edition, with Trübner's Oriental Catalogue, Nos. X-XI bound in at the back, pp. [1]-42. First edition appeared in London in 1853, published by the Church Missionary House, without the appendix, pp. [229]-256 that was published the following year in the enlarged second edition. Includes Vei-English vocabulary, pp. [143]-227. The first and only dictionary of this language. The catalogue of African Languages is an excellent bibliographic source of 19th century dictionaries and vocabularies.

1906: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1916: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1926: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

19--: [IUW] A short Vai-English dictionary / compiled by Tom Wheeler.

[Place of publication not identified]: [publisher not identified], [19--?] 41 leaves; 28 cm

1990: [IUW] An annotated glossary of Vai musical language and its social contexts / Lester P. Monts. Paris: Peeters: SELAF, 1990. 144 p.: ill., map; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original front and rear cream wrappers, lettered in black, with a photo of tribal members on the front cover. Ethnomusicologie, 3. Société d'études linguistiques et anthropologiques de France (Series); 270. Vai-English glossary, including explanations, pp. [27]-111, Vai index, pp. [129]-137, English-Vai index, pp. [138]-142. Includes bibliographical references (p. [113]-115).

"This study focuses on the terms and phrases used by the Vai of Liberia to express the social and performance elements common to their music culture" (Abstract).

[VEDDAH] Vedda /væððā/ was the language of the indigenous Vedda people of Sri Lanka. Additionally, communities such as Coast Veddas and Anuradhapura Veddas, that do not strictly identify themselves as Veddas also used the Vedda language in part for communication during hunting and or for religious chants, throughout the island. When a systematic field study was conducted in 1959, the language was confined to the older generation of Veddas from Dambana. In 1990s self-identifying Veddas knew few words and phrases in Vedda, but there were individuals who knew the language comprehensively. Initially there was considerable debate amongst linguists as to whether Vedda is a dialect of Sinhalese or an independent language. Later studies indicate that Vedda language is a creole which evolved from ancient times, when the Veddas came in contact with the early Sinhalese, from whom they increasingly borrowed words and synthetic features, yielding the cumulative effect that Vedda looked like Sinhalese in many particulars, but its grammatical core was still intact (WikP).

Ethnologue: ved. Alternate Names: Beda, Bedda, Vaedda, Veda, Veddha, Weda, Weddo.

1972: [LILLYbm] Vedda Language of Ceylon: Texts and Lexicon, by M. W. Sugathapala de Silva. Munich: R. Kitzinger, 1972. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [6] i-vii viii, 1-114 115-118. First edition: Series: Münchener Studien zur Sprachwissenschaft. Beiheft, Neue Folge, 7. Includes Vedda-English lexicon, pp. 68-96. This copy with the pencil ownership signature of [Bernard] Forssman, one of the editors of the series.

"Though the Vedda community has been a favoured subject of the ethnology ... no systematic study of the Vedda language was available until the publication of the present volume.... The number of speakers of the Vedda language is steadily on the decrease with the progress of acculturation of the Vedda population to the Sinhalese civilization and language" (Preface, Heinz Sechert). "It is a known fact that the Vedda community in Ceylon is fast nearing total extinction...Sinhalese is spoken by some nine million people while the Vedda community does not exceed seven or eight hundred... My chief informant [was] Vannaku Tisaahaami, 'the chief among the hunters, the leader of the forest-dwellers, the ever-truthful descendent of the first man who ever roamed about in the jungles of Ceylon'" (Introduction).

[VENDA] Venda, also known as Tshivenda or Luvenda, is a Bantu language and an official language of South Africa. It is mainly spoken by the Venda people in the northern part of South Africa's Limpopo Province, as well as by some Lemba people in Zimbabwe. The Venda language is related to Kalanga (Western Shona, different from Shona, official language of Zimbabwe) which is spoken in Botswana and Zimbabwe. During the Apartheid era of South Africa, the bantustan of Venda was set up to cover the Venda speakers of South Africa (WikP).

Ethnologue: ven. Alternate Names: Chivenda, Tshivenda.

1919: [IUW] Wörterverzeichnis der Venda-sprache. Von Th. und P. Schweltnus. Hamburg, In Kommission O. Meissner, 1919. Extract pagination [51]-78. Series: Universität Hamburg. Seminar für Afrikanische und Südseesprachen. Mitteilungen.

Forms part of Beiheft zum Jahrbuch der hamburgischen wissenschaftlichen anstalten. XXXVI. 1918. Mitteilungen veröffentlicht vom Seminar für kolonialsprachen in Hamburg. Venda-German, pp. [53]-66, German-Venda, pp. [67]-78.

"The following small collection was created during the Schwellnus brothers stay in my house in Zizow about 20 years ago.... They had compiled the present small list [of Venda], which of course makes no claim for completeness, and may well contain some inaccuracies, since the authors are in Africa and have not been able to check what they've written. I have only now been able to prepare the list for publication. However, I think this small collection will be welcomed not only by those involved with Venda, but by all scholars of Bantu" (Vorwort: tr. BM).

1954: [LILLYbm] English-Venda Vocabulary, by L.T. Marole and F.J. de Gama. Sibasa: Marole Book Depot, 1954. Original pink wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-77 78-80. Third edition. Zaunmüller, col. 400, gives first edition as Morija, 1936, as English-Tshivenda vocabulary. No preliminary material; English-Venda only.

1958: [LILLYbm] Teo Dza Tshivenda (#39) [English-Tshivenda / Tshivenda-English Dictionary], compiled by N. J. van Warmelo. Pretoria: The Government Printer, 1958. Original wrappers.

1962: [LILLYbm] Venda. Terminologie en Spelreëls No. 2. Terminology and Spelling No. 2 [= Second Edition], compiled by the Venda Language Committee, Department of Bantu Education. Pretoria: The Government Printer, 1962. Original pink wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1 2-156. Second edition. First edition of 98 pp. was published in 1958. Includes English-Afrikaans-Venda, pp. 28-156.

"The terms included in the lists are intended in the first place for use in the primary classes and the majority have been taken from the syllabuses concerned. Further, the list is supplemented with terms taken from the school handbooks and also terms which teachers would normally be expected to know and to use, though not necessarily to teach to their pupils.... [This is an extensive vocabulary which excludes] words in common usage which can be found in the dictionaries.... Some words... have... been included because a comprehensive dictionary does not, as yet, exist" (Preface).

1976: [IUW] Drietalige elementêre woordeboek = Trilingual elementary dictionary: Venda, Afrikaans, English, compiled by P. J. Wentzel, T. W. Muloiwa. Pretoria: Universiteit van Suid-Afrika, c1976. ix, 525 p.; 21 cm. Series: Documenta - UNISA; 16.

1982: Revised edition [IUW] Venda, Afrikaans, Engels: verbeterde drietalige woordeboek = Venda, Afrikaans, English: improved trilingual dictionary, compiled by P.J. Wentzel, T.W. Muloiwa. Pretoria: Universiteit van Suid-Afrika, 1982. 189, [18] p.; 22 cm.

1986: [IUW] Learner's English-Venda dictionary, illustrated in colour. Johannesburg, Republic of South Africa: Librarius, c1986. 156 p.: col. ill.; 19 cm. Library binding, preserving original three-tone blue and white front and rear wrappers, lettered in white, with a color illustration of a bird and flowers on both covers. English-Venda, pp. 1-156.

"This across-the-curriculum learner's dictionary was designed to help Junior and Senior Primary pupils to cope with the demands of English, particularly during transition at the Standard 3 and 4 levels" (A note to parents and teachers).

1989: [LILLYbm] Venda Dictionary. Tshivenda-English, by N[icolaas] J[acobus] van Warmelo. Pretoria: J.L. van Schaik, 1989. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-4 5-96, [Tshivenda-English] 1-489. Revised and augmented edition of the original 1937 edition. Second copy: [IUW].

"The area of this language lies largely from north to east of the town of Louis Trichardt...in the Northern Transvaal, South Africa. The people call their country Venda...and their language Tshivenda or occasionally Luvenda. In English one just uses 'Venda' for all forms of the name...The present work is an augmented revision of the 'Tshivenda-English Dictionary' published in 1937 by the Government Printer, Pretoria, as No. 6 of the Ethnological Publications series. As in that first attempt, the saving from oblivion of traditional material was an important consideration. It is gratifying that since those pre-war days a number of authors have written for and about their own people, and recorded everyday speech as they heard it" (Preface).

[VENEZUELAN LANGUAGES] There are at least 40 languages around Venezuela, but Spanish is the language spoken by the majority of Venezuelans. The Constitution of Venezuela of the year 1999 declared Spanish and languages spoken by Indigenous people from Venezuela as official languages. Deaf people use Venezuelan Sign Language (lengua de señas venezolana, LSV). Chinese (400,000), Portuguese (254,000)[2] and Italian (200,000), are the most spoken language in Venezuela after the official language of Spanish. Wayuu is the most spoken indigenous language with 170,000 speakers.

2000: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[VENTUREÑO] Ventureño is a member of the extinct Chumashan languages, a group of Native American languages previously spoken by the Chumash people along the coastal areas of Southern California from as far north as San Luis Obispo to as far south as Malibu. Ventureño was spoken from as far north as present-day Ventura to as far south as present-day Malibu and the Simi Hills, California. Dialects probably also included Castac and Alliklik (Campbell 1997:126). Ventureño is, like its sister Chumashan languages, a polysynthetic language, having larger words composed of a number of morphemes (WikP).

Ethnologue: veo.

1952, 1955: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[VEPS] The Veps language (also known as Vepsian, natively as vepsän kel', vepsän keli, or vepsä), spoken by the Vepsians (also known as Veps), belongs to the Finnic group of the Uralic languages. Closely related to Finnish and Karelian, Veps is also written using Latin script. According to Soviet statistics, 12,500 people were self-designated ethnic Veps at the end of 1989. According to the location of the people, the language is divided into three main dialects: Northern Veps (at Lake Onega to the south of Petrozavodsk, to the north of the river Svir, including the former Veps National Volost), Central Veps (in the Saint Petersburg region and Vologda Oblast), and Southern Veps (in the Saint Petersburg region). The Northern dialect seems the most distinct of the three; however, it is still mutually intelligible for speakers of the other two dialects. Speakers of the Northern dialect call themselves "Ludi" (lūdīkad), or lūdilaized. In Russia, more than 350 children learn the Veps language in a total of 5 national schools (WikP).

Ethnologue: vep. Alternate Names: Vepsian, Vepsish, "Chudy" (pej.), "Chuhari" (pej.), "Chukhari" (pej.).

1955: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1972: [IUW] Slovar' vepsskogo iazyka / M. I. Zaitseva, \. Leningrad: Nauka, Leningr. otd-nie, 1972. 746 p. 27 cm. At head of title: Akademiia nauk SSSR. Karel'skii filial. Institut iazyka, literatury i istorii. M.I. Zaitseva, M.I. Mullonen. Bibliography: p. 13. Veps-Russian dictionary.

2010: [IUW] Новый вепско-русский словарь / Н.Г. Зайцева. Novyi vepssko-russkii slovar' = Uz' vepsä-venälaine vajehnik / N.G. Zaitseva. Петрозаводск: "Периодика", 2010. Petrozavodsk: "Periodika", 2010. 509 pages; 21 cm. At head of title: Rossiiskaia akademiia nauk. Karel'skii nauchnyi tsentr. Institut iazyka, literatury i istorii. New Veps-Russian Dictionary.

2014?: [IUW] Русско-чудский словарь: с некоторыми грамматическими указаниями / П. Успенский. Russko-chudskii slovar': s niekotorymi grammaticheskimi ukazaniiami / P. Uspenskii. [Place of publication not identified]: Merja Press, [2014?]. 76 pages; 21 cm. Includes: Топонимия вепско-мерянского пограничья / А.В. Кузнецов (с. Усть-Печеньга) 2004-2014. Includes: Toponimiia vepssko-merianskogo pograniich'ia / A.V. Kuznetsov. s. Ust'-Pechen'ga: [publisher not identified], 2004-2014. Includes bibliographical references. Veps-Russian dictionary. Merya language. Names, Geographical--Russia (Federation)--Vologodskaia oblast'.

2023: [IUW] Kratkii uchebnyi etimologicheskii slovar' vepsskogo iazyka / I.V. Brodskii. Sankt-Peterburg: Izdatel'stvo RGPU im. A.I. Gertsena, 2023- volumes; 21 cm Ch. 1 A-K -- Veps etymological dictionary.

[VIEMO] Vyemo (Viemo), a.k.a. Vige, Vigué, Vigye, is a language of Burkina Faso, formerly linked with the Gur languages, that is currently of uncertain affiliation (WikP).

Ethnologue: vig. Alternate Names: Vige, Vigué, Vigye.

1979: [IUW] Le viemo: langue des Vievo dits Viguié / André Prost. Dakar: Université de Dakar, 1979. 86 p.: map; 27 cm. Library binding preserving original light brown wrappers, lettered in black. "Documents linguistiques (Dakar, Senegal); no. 23. "Petit lexique," French-Viemo, pp. [73]-86.

"The Viguié are a small tribe of fewer than 4,000 people, situated south-west of Bobo-Dioulasso.... Almost nothing is known of this population and their language.... Viemo is Voltaic in its structure... but its vocabulary has little in common with other Voltaic languages of the central and eastern portions [of the country]" (Introduction, dated 1973, tr: BM).

[VIETNAMESE] Vietnamese Listeni/ ,viɛtnə'mi:z/ (Tiếng Việt) is an Austroasiatic language that originated in the north of modern-day Vietnam, where it is the national and official language. It is the native language of the Vietnamese (Kinh) people, as well as a first or second language for the many ethnic minorities of Vietnam. As the result of Vietnamese emigration and cultural influence, Vietnamese speakers are found throughout the world, notably in East and Southeast Asia, North America, Australia and Western Europe. Vietnamese has also been officially recognized as a minority language in the Czech Republic. It is part of the Austroasiatic language family of which it has by far the most speakers (several times as many as the other Austroasiatic languages combined). Vietnamese vocabulary has borrowings from Chinese, and it formerly used a modified set of Chinese characters called chữ nôm given vernacular pronunciation. The Vietnamese alphabet (quốc ngữ) in use today is a Latin alphabet with additional diacritics for tones and certain letters (WikP).

Ethnologue: vie. Alternate Names: Annamese, Ching, Gin, Jing, Kinh, Viet.

1651: [LILLY] Dictionarivm Annnamiticvm [sic], Lvsitanvm et Latinvm, by Alexandre de Rhodes [1591-1660]. Catholic Church.; Congregatio de Propaganda Fide. Romæ, Typis, & sumptibus eiusdem Sacr. congreg., 1651. Contemporary quarter-calf with green leather label lettered in gold on spine. First edition. Zaubmüller 12. First dictionary of the Vietnamese language.

1838: [LILLY] A dissertation on the nature and character of the Chinese system of writing, in a letter to John Vaughan, Esq. to which are sub-joined, a Vocabulary of the Cochinchinese language, by Joseph Morrone ..., by Peter Stephen Du Ponceau (1760-1844). Philadelphia: Published for the American Philosophical Society, by M'Carty and Davis, 1838. In brown boards, black cloth spine. xxxii, 375 p. plates. 22 cm. Not in Zaubmüller. Other contributors: Morrone, Joseph Maria. La Palun, de. Series: Transactions of the Historical & Literary Committee of the American Philosophical Society; v. 2. Notes: "Vocabulary of the Cochinchinese language," by J. Morrone, with notes by M. de La Palun: p. [125]-184. "Lexicon Cochinchin-Sinense Latinum ad usum missionum," by J. Morrone: p. [185]-375.

1861: [LILLY] Vocabulaire Français-Annamite et Annamite-Français: précédé d'un traité des particules annamites, by Louis-Gabriel Aubaret. Bangkok: Imprimerie de la Mission Catholique, 1861. Contemporary plain brown quarter-lether and brown marble paper over boards. Pp. [6] I II-XCV XCVI, 1 2-96, [4] 1² 2²-157² 158². First edition. Not in Zaubmüller. First French-Vietnamese vocabulary published. The first Catholic Press in Bangkok was established in 1849. Cordier, BI, I, col. 774.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1874: [LILLY] Dictionnaire élémentaire annamite-français, by Le Grand de La Liraye. Paris: Challamel aîné, 2. éd., 1874. 2 p. l., 262 p. 28 cm. Late 19th century cloth, lettered on spine in gold, with name of owner at base of spine. Not in Zaubmüller. The first edition appeared in 1868. Note(s): Owing to the author's death, p. 161-262 of this edition were revised by the publisher, assisted by the R.P. Pernot. "Ce dictionnaire n'est en grande partie que la traduction de celui que Mgr. Taberd a fait éditer à Calcutta, il y a trentaine d'années, lequel n'était qu'une compilation des travaux des anciens missionnaires depuis plus de deux cents ans, et, en dernier lieu, de ceux faits par Mgr. d'Adran."--p. 1. Ink ownership inscription on half-title in French and Vietnamese of Camille Sainson (b. 1868), dated December 1890. Sainson was Vice-consul de France at Ho-K'eou and author of Nan-Tchao Ye-Che, Histoire Particuliere du Nan-tchao, Traduction D'une Histoire de L'ancien Yun-nan (1904).

1894: [LILLYbm] Theoretisch-praktische Grammatik der Annamitischen Sprache. Mit analysierten Übungssätzen, eine Chrestomathie und einem annamitisch-deutschen Wörterbuch. Mit 9 Schrifttafeln, by A[dolf] Dirr. Vienna; Pest; Leipzig: A. Hartleben's Verlag, [1894]. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. I-V VI-XIV XV-XVI, 1 2-164 165-184 (9 tables). First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes a Vietnamese-German dictionary, pp. [105]-148. First published German Vietnamese vocabulary.

1898: [LILLY] Dictionnaire Annamite-Français, comprenant: 1^o tous les caractères de la langue Annamite vulgaire, avec l'indication de leurs divers sens propres ou figurés, et justifiés par de nombreux exemples. 2^o les caractères chinois nécessaires à l'étude des Tú Tho ou Quatre livres classiques chinois. 3^o la flore et la faune de l'Indo-Chine, par J.F.M. Génibrel, missionnaire apostolique. Deuxième édition, refondue et très considérablement augmentée. Saigon: Imprimerie de la mission à Tân Dinh, 1898. 987 p. 27 cm. Contemporary brown quarter-leather and brown marbled paper over boards, spine lettered and ruled in gold. Marbled endpapers. Vietnamese-French, pp. [1]-987. This is in fact the first edition of a new dictionary, based on an earlier one, as noted below.

"In 1877 the Imprimerie de la Mission de Saigon published an excellent small Dictionnaire Annamite-français without characters, the author of which, Mgt. Caspar, Bishop and vicaire apostolique of the Mission at Hué, was simply the missionary to Saigon. It is this work that has served as the canvas for the present work, which is why we have styled it a second edition. The plan and execution of the new dictionary was considered and decided upon early in 1884, and since that time, that is, for 14 years, we have worked incessantly till now to complete the project" (Au lecteur, tr: BM).

1899-1900: [IUW] Dictionnaire annamite-français (langue officielle et langue vulgaire) par Jean Bonet. Paris, Imprimerie nationale, E. Leroux, 1899-1900. 2 v. 27 cm. Library binding. Publications de l'École des langues orientales vivantes Annamese title at head of t.-p. Contents: Vol. 1. A-M.: Vietnamese-French, pp. [1]-440. Vol. 2. N-X: Vietnamese-French, pp. [1]-495. Both volumes are presentation copies from the author to the first Director of L'École Coloniale, Etienne Aymonier (linguist, explorer and archeologist).

1900: [LILLYbm] Nouveau vocabulaire français-tonkinois et tonkinois-français, by P[aul Emile Emmanuel Auguste] Crépin [Bourdier de Beauregard] [1866-]. Paris: A. Challamel, 1900. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. [4] I II, [2] 1-192 193-194. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes French-Vietnamese vocabulary, thematically arranged, pp. 1-123, and Vietnamese-French, arranged alphabetically by "phonetic analogy," pp. 125-185.

"This vocabulary...contains only the terms and words in common use in translations and conversations.... Having adopted the Tonkinese dialect, which is the clearest, for this vocabulary, all the words found in it are used and understood in Tonkin" (Preface, tr: BM).

1937: [LILLY] Dictionnaire annamite-chinois-français, by Gustave Hue [1970-1950]. (S.I.): Impr. de Trung Hoà, 1937. Contemporary dark gray cloth with red cloth label lettered in gold on spine. In-4, 4-1199-7 p. [1173]. First edition. With the ownership stamp of E. Dedreau of the Mission du Tonkin Oriental. This dictionary was reprinted in 1971 (cf. Dalby 1613).

"For some time now, the great Genibrel Dictionary [see above] has been out of print. It contained almost the entire basis of the Annamite language of its time.... But since its publication in 1898, numerous neologisms have spring from the pen of native writers. Moreover, as was inevitable, the author omitted a large number of Tonkinese words. In 1930, Cordier attempted to fill these lacunae in a rather important but still incomplete lexicographical work.... In 1932 a group of scholars undertook the compilation of a major dictionary of Annamite which is of incomparable importance to future students. It was, however, written in Annamite, so that those ignorant of the language are unable to use it.... For all these reasons, it seemed that there was room for a new work including, along with the common basis of the language which has not changed since Tabard, all the special terms of the countries of the Union, augmented by neologisms found in pedagogical works and journals. Bowing to the urging of my friends, in spite of the weight of a service of such magnitude, I decided to undertake this work. This is the Dictionnaire Annamite-Chinois-Français which I now present to the public" (Avant-Propos, tr: BM)

1953: [LILLYbm] English-Vietnamese Dictionary. Anh-Việt Từ-Dien, by Nguyen-Van-Khôn. Saigon: Khai-Trí, n.d.. Original black limp imitation leather, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. [4] 1-11 12-1741 1742. Preface dated 1953.

1987: Revised edition [IUW] English-Vietnamese dictionary = Anh-Việt từ điển / [Nguyễn-Văn-Khôn]. Rev. ed. Glendale, CA., USA (P.O. Box 4279, Glendale 91202): Dainam Pub. Co., 1987. 1741 pages; 17 cm. Revised edition of: Anh-Việt tân tự điển.

1955a: [IUW] Standard pronouncing Vietnamese-English and English-Vietnamese dictionary, by Lê-bá-Khanh. [New York, F. Ungar Pub. Co., 1955] 2 v. in 1. 20 cm. Vol. 1 by Lê-bá-Khanh and Lê-bá-Kông; v. 2 by Lê-bá-Kông. Vol. 2 also published separately under title: TỰ-diễn tiêu-chuẩn Anh-Việt. Standard pronouncing English-Vietnamese dictionary.

1955b: [LILLYbm] Vietnamese-English Dictionary with the International Phonetic System and more than 30,000 words and idiomatic expressions, by Mrs. Le Van Hung & Dr. Le Van Hung. Paris: Éditions Europe-Asie, 1955. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. [16] 1-820 821-824. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Vietnamese-English only. The authors list their English-Vietnamese as "in the press." Second copy: [IUW].

1955c: [LILLYbm] Vietnamese-English Vocabulary, by Nguyen Đình Hòa. Washington, D.C.: [Office of Training, National Security Agency?], 1955. Original gray unprinted wrappers, spiral bound with black plastic. Pp. [4] i ii-iii iv, 1 2-429 430-432. "This Vocabulary grew out of a two-year course first prepared and given at Columbia University. It is composed of approximately 8,000 entries" (Introduction). Dalby 1609, with subsequent printing history. Second copy: [IUW].

1966: Enlarged and improved edition [LILLYbm] Vietnamese-English Dictionary, by Nguyen-Dinh-Hoa. Rutland, Vermont: Charles E. Tuttle, 1966. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold; red, white and pink d.j., lettered in black and white. Pp. I-V VI-XIV, 1 2-568 [2]. First edition thus. "First printing 1966" on verso of title page. "The demand for a compact, concise, and inexpensive student's dictionary has become urgent; so many foreigners are now anxious to learn Vietnamese tht this complete basic conversation dictionary fills a real need. It is an enlarged and improved edition of the one originally published in 1955" (from the inner flap of the d.j.).

1977: New printing [IUW] Vietnamese-English dictionary, by Nguyễn, Đình Hoà. Rutland, Vt.: C.E. Tuttle, [1971, c1966] xiv, 568 p.; 22 cm.

Enlargement of the author's Vietnamese-English vocabulary, published in 1955.

1959: [IUW] Russko-v'etnamskiĭ slovar'. Sostavil Nguen nang-An; pod red. P.I. Aleshina i Khong-kha. Okolo 24 000 slov. Moskva, Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsional'nykh slovarei, 1959. 732 p. 21 cm. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Added t. p.: Từ Điển nga-Việt. Russian-Vietnamese, pp. [17]-725.

1960 [1966]: [IUW] 越汉辞典 = Từ điển Việt Hán / 何成等编. Yue Han ci dian = Từ điển Việt Hán / He Cheng deng bian. 初版. Chu ban. 北京: 商务印书馆: 新华书店北京发行所发行, 1960 (1966 printing). Beijing: Shang wu yin shu guan: Xin hua shu dian Beijing fa xing suo fa xing, 1960 (1966 printing). 6, 1372 p.; 19 cm. Vietnamese-Chinese dictionary.

1961: [LILLYbm] Vetnamsko-russkii slovar: okolo 36000 slov, by I[vetta] I[vanovna] Glebova, et al. Moscow: Gos. izd-vo inostrannykh i natsional'nykh slovarei, 1961. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-5 6-616. First edition. Additional title page in Vietnamese. Includes Vietnamese-Russian, pp. [11]-609. Second copy: [IUW].

1962a: [LILLYbm] Deutsch-vietnamesisches Wörterbuch, by Klaus Ferkinghoff. Wiesbaden: Otto Harrassowitz, 1962. Original stiff gray wrappers, lettered in gray. Pp. [6] 1 2-110 111-112. 23.8 cm. First edition. Includes German-Vietnamese, pp. [1]-110. This is the first German bilingual dictionary of Vietnamese.

"This Dictionary is the first attempt to build a linguistic bridge between the Vietnamese and the Germans. It arose with the help of my students at the University of Huế, whom I wish to thank here for their energy, as well as for the warm good will they showed toward me" (p. [5]).

1962b: [LILLYbm] Vietnamese Phrase Book [Cover title]. Washington, D.C.: Headquarters, Department of the Army, 1962. Original tan cloth over boards, lettered in black. Pp. i-ii iii-xv xvi, 1-176. First edition. Department of the Army Pamphlet, No. 20-011. "This booklet contains English-Vietnamese translations of the words and phrases most likely needed by SF personnel on a mission to this language area. For convenience and speed in using, the book is divided into nine sections plus an alphabetized vocabulary" (Introduction). Includes "Alphabetized word list. Dictionary," pp. 122-176. Vocabulary is military, including "mopping up," "encirclement," "fox-hole," "friendly fire," etc.

1964a: [IUW] Deutsch-Vietnamesisch Wörterbuch, hrsg. von Ho-gia-Huong, Do-Ngoan und Winfried Boscher. Leipzig, Verlag Enzyklopädie [1964]. 324 p. German-Vietnamese dictionary from what was then East Germany.

1964b: [IUW] Practical English, Chinese, Vietnamese handbook = Ying, Zhong, Yue yong yu shou ce = Anh, Hoa, Việt thực-dụng / edited by Trịnh-Nhơn-Mỹ & Tang-Kiến-Hoa. New ed. Saigon: J. Cheng, 1964. 216 pages; 16 cm.

1965: [LILLY] Russko-v'etnamskiĭ uchebnyi slovar'. Okolo 11,200 slov / sostavili Tolstoĭ I.V., Tolstaĭa R.A., Dao Chong Tkhyong. Pod red. Nguen Van Khanĭa. S prilozheniem morfologicheskikh tablits russkogo ĭazyko., sostavlennykh A.A. Zalizniĭa. Moskva: Sovetskaĭa entsiklopediĭa, 1965. 940 p., 16.5 cm. Original dark green cloth over boards, lettered in green and white. Russian-Vietnamese, pp. [29]-746. Russian-Vietnamese "training" dictionary.

1966a: see under CHRAU.

1966b: [LILLY] Việt-Anh Từ-Dien Loại Pho Thông. General Vietnamese-English Dictionary, by Nguyen-Van-Khôn. Saigon: Khai-Tri, [1966]. Original orange and black paper over boards, lettered in white and black. Pp. 1-17 18-1330 1331-1332. First edition.

1967: [IUW] Vietnamese-English student dictionary / by Nguyễn Đình Hòa. Rev. and enl. ed. Saigon: Vietnamese American Association, [1967]. xvi, 674 p.; 23 cm. First ed. published in 1959 under title: Vietnamese-English dictionary.

1971: Reprinted [IUW] Vietnamese-English student dictionary, by Nguyễn, Đình Hoà. Rev. and enl. ed. Carbondale, Southern Illinois University Press [1971] xii, 675 p. 22 cm. First ed. published in 1959 under title:

Vietnamese-English dictionary.

1971: see under CHAM.

1972: [IUW] Vietnamesisch-deutsches Wörterbuch. Tự-diễn Việt-Đức, by Otto Karow. Wiesbaden, O. Harrasowitz, 1972. xv, 1086 p. 25 cm. Bibliography: p. [xiv]-xv. Vietnamese-German dictionary.

1973: [IUW] Từ điển kỹ thuật tổng hợp Nga-Việt. Hà-nội: Khoa học và Kỹ thuật; Moskva: Sov. Ėntsiklopediia, 1973. 879 p.; 27 cm. Added t.p.: Russko-v'etnamskii politikhnikheskii slovar'. Russian-Vietnamese dictionary of political science.

1975a: [IUW] Standard pronouncing Vietnamese-English dictionary: with a guide to the Vietnamese pronunciation and a short outline of Vietnamese grammar = TỰ-diễn tiên-chuẩn Việt-Anh / Lê Bá-Khanh & Lê Bá Kông. Houston, Tex.: Zieles, 1975. 398 pages; 21 cm.

1975b: [LILLYbm] Tu-Dien Dictionary English-Vietnamese Anh-Viet, by Kim-ly Molling. Hayward, California: Vietnamese-American Company, 1975. Original yellow wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [2] 1-61 62; [and dos-a-dos] [2] 1-54. First edition. Cf. Dalby 1610. Includes English-Vietnamese, pp. 1-61, and, dos-a-dos, Vietnamese-English, pp. 1-54. No preliminary material.

1977: [LILLYbm] Russko-vetnamskii slovar [okolo 43,000 slov] (2 vols.: Part I A-O, Part II □-[backward R]) by K[onstantin] M[ikhailovich] Alikhanov, V[ladimir] V[ladimirovich] Ivanov, & I[nna] A[natolevna] Malkhanova. Moscow: Russkii iazyk, 1977. 27 cm. Added title page in Vietnamese. Russian-Vietnamese dictionary. Dalby 1608. Second copy: [IUW].

1979: see under PACOH.

1980: [IUW] Medical guide & glossary / authors, Christa Wagner, Janet Rullo; translation and layout, Thach-Nguyễn, Lộc-Vũ. Vietnamese ed. Portland, Or.: Indochinese Language Resource Center, Indochinese Cultural and Service Center, 1980. v, 141 p.: ill.; 28 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 149). English-Vietnamese dictionary.

1981: see under RADE.

1984: see under INDO-EUROPEAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1985: [LILLYbm] Anh-Viet tu dien y khoa gia dinh = The family medical encyclopedia, by Hoang Mai Nguyen. Glendale, California: Dai Nam, 1985. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in silver. Pp. [2] A-C D-M N, 1-264 (page D misnumbered C). First edition. Cover title: American Vietnamese medical dictionary; spine title: Anh-Viet tu dien y hoc. Includes English-Vietnamese medical vocabulary, pp. 1-261, including illustrations. Preliminary material in Vietnamese.

1986a: [IUW] Russko-v'etnamskiĭ slovar' po estestvennonauchnym distsiplinam: fizika, khimiia, matematika, nachertatel'naia geometriia, cherchenie, biologiiia / [avtory, N.S. Kuznetsov ... et al.] Moskva: "Russkiĭ iazyk"; Khanoĭ: "Nauka i tekhnika", 1986. 210 p.; 20 cm. Title on added t.p.: Từ điển các môn khoa học tự nhiên Nga-Việt. Preface in Vietnamese. "Okolo 11,000 terminov." Russian-Vietnamese dictionary of science.

1986b: [IUW] Russko-v'etnamskiĭ slovar' po tsitologii, gistologii i embriologii: okolo 9,000 terminov / Fam Fan Dik, Chyong Din' Kiet, Nguen Van Ngok; pod redaktsiei L.V. Grigor'evoi (SSSR), Duan Suan Myou (SRV). Moskva: "Russkiĭ iazyk"; Khanoĭ: "Meditsina", 1986. 244 p.; 18 cm. Title on added t.p.: Từ điển tế bào học, mô học, phôi học Nga-Việt. Published simultaneously in Vietnam. Russian-Vietnamese dictionary of biology.

1989: [IUW] Russko-v'etnamskiĭ stroitel'nyi slovar': okolo 37,000 terminov / pod redaktsiei T.N. Tsiaia ... et al.; [avtory Nguen Giu Kon ... et al.]. Moskva: "Russkiĭ iazyk"; Khanoĭ: "Nauka i tekhnika", 1989. 632 p.; 21 cm. Title on added t.p.: Từ điển xây dựng Nga-Việt. Russian-Vietnamese dictionary of civil engineering.

1990: [IUW] Vietnamese-English archaeological glossary with English index / by H.H.E. Loofs-Wissowa with the assistance of Pham Van Minh and Nguyen M. Long. Canberra: Faculty of Asian Studies, the Australian National University: Bibliotech [distributor], 1990. ix, 103 pages; 25 cm. Includes index. Also issued online.

1991: [IUW] Vietnamese-English, English-Vietnamese dictionary: with a supplement of new words English-Vietnamese / Lê-Bá-Khanh and Lê-Bá-Kông. New York: Hippocrene Books, c1991. 501 p.; 21 cm. "Hippocrene standard dictionary" -- Cover.

1992: [IUW] Anh-Việt Việt-Anh từ điển kế toán = English-Vietnamese, Vietnamese-English accounting dictionary / biên soạn, Francis M. Albin. Kent, Wash.: Paper Tiger Press, c1992. 342 p.; 20 cm. English-Vietnamese, Vietnamese-English accounting dictionary.

1994: [IUW] 汉越词典 = Từ điển Hán-Việt / 《汉越词典》编写组编. Han Yue ci dian = Từ điển Hán-Việt / "Han Yue ci dian" bian xie zi bian. 第1版. Di 1 ban. 北京: 商务印书馆, 1994. Beijing: Shang wu yin shu guan, 1994. 53, 945 p.; 27 cm. Includes indexes. Chinese-Vietnamese dictionary.

2002: see under INDO-EUROPEAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2008a: see under ASIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2008b: [IUW] Thai-Vietnamese-English and Vietnamese-Thai-English business dictionary / Sophana Srichampa, Nguyen Ngoc Binh. Photchanānukrom thurakit Thai-Wiatnām- 'Angkrit læ Wiatnām-Thai- 'Angkrit / Sōnaphā Sīchampā, Ngān Ngōk Bin = Thai-Vietnamese-English and Vietnamese-Thai-English business dictionary / Sophana Srichampa, Nguyen Ngoc Binh. Phim khurang ræk. นครปฐม: 2551 [2008]. Nakhon Pathom: Sathāban Wičhai Phāsā læ Watthanatham Phūa Chonnabot Mahāwitthayālai Mahidon, 2551 [2008]. vi, 669 pages: illustrations; 27 cm.

2008c: [IUW] 越汉军事大词典 = Đại từ điển quân sự Việt-Hán / 丛国胜主编.

Yue Han jun shi da ci dian = Đại từ điển quân sự Việt-Hán / Cong Guosheng zhu bian. 第1版. Di 1 ban. 上海: 上海外语教育出版社, 2008. Shanghai: Shanghai wai yu jiao yu chu ban she, 2008. xiii, 662 p.; 27 cm. Chinese-Vietnamese dictionary of military science.

2011: [IUW] 新越汉词典 = Từ điển Việt-Hán mới / 主编曾瑞莲;

執行主编罗文青, 蔡杰; 审订阮文康; 编写者蔡杰 ... [et al.]. Xin Yue Han ci dian = Từ điển Việt-Hán mới / zhu bian Zeng Ruilian; zhi xing zhu bian Luo Wenqing, Cai Jie; shen ding Ruan Wenkang; bian xie zhe Cai Jie ... [et al.]. 第1版. Di 1 ban. 南宁:

广西教育出版社, 2011. Nanning: Guangxi jiao yu chu ban she, 2011. 2, 2, 4, 1146 p.: ill.; 22 cm. Vietnamese-Chinese dictionary.

[VIID] Senggi, or Viid, is a Papuan language of Indonesian Papua. It is spoken in Senggi village, Senggi District, Keerom Regency (WikP). Population: 250 (2005 SIL). No monolinguals

Ethnologue: snu. Alternate Names: Senggi.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[VILI] Vili (Civili) is one of the Zone H Bantu languages, grouped with the Sira clade (historically also with the Kongo clade). The language has a few thousand native speakers in spread along the coast between southern Gabon and northern Angola, most of them in the Republic of the Congo's Kouilou, Pointe-Noire and Niari departments. The Vili people (Muvili, singular Bavili) were the population of the 17th- to 18th-century Kingdom of Loango in the same region (WikP).

Ethnologue: vif. Alternate Names: Bavili, Civili, Fiot, Fiote, Tshivili, Tsvili.

1889: [LILLY] Dictionnaire Fiot, ou, Dictionnaire de la langue du Congo, by Alexandre Visseque, Paris: Maisson-Mere, 1889. Contemporary (possibly original) black quarter-cloth with marbled boards, printed label on spine. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1686. First dictionary of this language.

1890: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire français-fiote, dialecte du Kakongo, by the Holy Ghost Fathers. Paris: Maisson-Mère, 1890. Original black quarter-cloth and blue-black marbled paper over boards, with original brown printed paper label on spine. Pp. [2] I II-III IV, 1 2-145 146. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1682. Includes French-Fiote [Vili], pp. [1]-145.

1892: [LILLY] Vocabulaire pour le chemin des caravans de Matadi à Léopoldville. Boma: Imprimerie de l'État Indépendant de Congo, 1892. Pp. [1-3] 4-14. 18.3. Original self-wrappers. "État Indépendant du Congo" at head of cover title page. Vocabulary, thematically arranged, French-[Fiote/Vili], pp. [3]-14. No preliminary material and the language is not identified. No copy located on worldcat. This appears to be the original edition of the undated pamphlet published in Brussels around 1900 with the expanded title Vocabulaire français-fiote pour le chemin des caravans de Matadi à Léopoldville (Imprimerie van Campenhout Frères & Soeur, n.d.), two copies located on worldcat, listed as 12 p.; 23 cm.; language indicated as "Kongo" (a macrolanguage of the Democratic Republic of the Congo).

1894: see 1894b/2015 under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[VIRGIN ISLANDS CREOLE ENGLISH] Virgin Islands Creole, or Virgin Islands Creole English, is an English-based creole spoken in the Virgin Islands and the nearby SSS islands of Saba, Saint Martin and Sint Eustatius, where it has been known as Netherlands Antilles Creole English. The term "Virgin Islands Creole" is formal terminology used by scholars and academics, and is rarely used in everyday speech. Informally, the creole is known by the term dialect, as the creole is often perceived by locals as a dialect variety of English instead of an English creole language. However, academic sociohistorical and linguistic research suggests that it is in fact an English creole language. Because there are various varieties of Virgin Islands Creole, it is also known by the specific island on which it is spoken: Crucian dialect, Thomian dialect, Tortolian dialect, Saint Martin dialect, Saba dialect, Statia dialect (WikP).

Ethnologue: vic.

1981: [LILLYbm] What a pistarckle!: a glossary of Virgin Islands English Creole, by Lito Valls [1927-]. St. John, U.S.V.I.: L. Valls, 1981. 139 p.: ill.; 22 cm. Original cream illustrated wrappers, printed in black. Cover title reads Dictionary instead of Glossary. This copy appears to be the first issue—no reference to Environmental Studies Program. A second printing appeared in 1982 published by the Prestige Press. A supplement was issued in 1990. Virgin Island Creole English-English vocabulary, pp. 1-139. First dictionary of this creole language.

[VOD] Votic, or Votian (vadda ceeli or maaceeli; also written vad'd'a tšeeli, maatšeeli in old orthography), is the language spoken by the Votes of Ingria, belonging to the Finnic branch of the Uralic languages. Votic is spoken only in Krakolye and Luzhitsy, two villages in Kingiseppsky District, and is close to extinction. In 1989, there were 62 speakers left, the youngest born in 1938. In its 24 December 2005 issue, The Economist wrote that there are only approximately 20 speakers left.

Dialects: Three definite dialect groups of Votic are known: 1) Western, the areas around the mouth of the Luga River; 2) Eastern, in villages around Koporye, 3) Krevinian, areas around the city of Bauska, Latvia. In 1848 it was estimated that of a total of 5,298 speakers of Votic, 3,453 (65%) spoke the western dialect, 1,695 (35%) spoke the eastern and 150 (3%) spoke the dialect of Kukkuži. Kreevin had 12-15 speakers in 1810, the last records of Kreevin speakers are from 1846. The Kreevin dialect was spoken in an enclave in Latvia by descendants of Votic prisoners of war who were brought to the Bauska area of Latvia in the 15th century by the Teutonic order. The last known speaker of the eastern dialect died in 1960, in the village of Icäpäivä (Itsipino) (WikP).

Ethnologue: vot. Alternate Names: Vodian, Vote, Votian, Votic, Votish. Ethnologue lists two dialects: East Vod and West Vod. The extinct Krevinian dialect is not listed.

1768: see under SAMOYED LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1771: see imder SAMOYED LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1871: [IUW] Über die Nationalität und die Sprache der jetzt ausgestorbenen Kreewinen in Kurland, by F.J. Wiedemann. St. Petersburg: Eggers, 1871. 119 p.; 33 cm. Library binding, bound with Grammatik der ersa-mordwinischen Sprache: nebst einem kleinen mordwinisch-deutschen und deutsch-mordwinischen Wörterbuch, by the same author [see under ERZYA]. Series: Mémoires de l'Académie impériale des sciences de St.-Pétersbourg; 7e sér., t. 17, no. 2. Vocabulary, Kreewinen [Krevinian, a dialect of Vod]-German, pp. 84-95; comparative vocabulary German-Kreewinisch [Krevinian, a dialect of Vod]-Livisch [Liv]-Ehstnisch [Estonian]-Finnisch [Finnish], pp. 99-163. The author has gathered the Krevinian vocabulary from various earlier sources.

"Krevinian, or Krevin (Latvian: krieviņu dialekts), is an extinct dialect of the Votic [Vod] language, spoken in Latvia until the 1800s. It was spoken in the city of Bauske, in Courland" (WikP).

"Livish [Liv] was spoken by the Livonian people in the Latvian province of Kurland (Latvian Kurzeme), i.e. on the peninsula that separates Riga Bay from the Baltic Sea. In former times it was spoken, as the name suggests, also in Livonia, but there the language has been extinct for a long time" (translated from German WikP).

1955: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1980: [IUW] Vatjan kielen kukkosin murteen sanakirja / ainekset kerännyt Lauri Posti. Helsinki: Suomalais-ugrilainen seura, 1980. xxvi, 631 p.: port.; 25 cm. Original cream wrappers, lettered in black. Lexica Societatis Fenno-Ugricae; 19. Kotimaisten kielten tutkimuskeskuksen julkaisuja; 8. Published on the occasion of the seventieth birthday of the author. Vod-Finnish, pp. 1-631.

1989: [IUW] Vatjan käänteissanasto / toimittanut Johanna Laakso. Helsinki: Suomalais-ugrilainen Seura, 1989. x, 103 p.; 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream front wrappers, lettered in black. Lexica Societatis Fenno-Ugricae, 22 Kotimaisten kielten tutkimuskeskuksen julkaisuja, 49 Vod language--Reverse indexes, pp.

1995: [IUW] Vatjan kielen Joenperän murteen sanasto / Dmitri Tsvetkov; 1-103.toimittanut, käänteissanaston ja hakemiston laatinut Johanna Laakso. Helsinki: Suomalais-ugrilainen seura: Kotimaisten kielten tutkimuskeskus, 1995. viii, 524 p.; 26 cm. Library binding, preserving original white wrappers, lettered in black. Lexica Societatis Fenno-Ugricae, 25 Kotimaisten kielten tutkimuskeskuksen julkaisuja, 79. "Käänteissanasto"--P. 473-524. Includes bibliographical references (p. viii) and Finnish index. Vod-Estonian-Russian-Finnish, pp. 1-422, Finnish index, pp. 423-471. Reverse vocabulary, pp. 473-524.

[VOLAPÜK] Volapük (/ˈvɒləpʊk/ in English; [volaˈpyk] in Volapük) is a constructed language, created in 1879 and 1880 by Johann Martin Schleyer, a Roman Catholic priest in Baden, Germany. Schleyer felt that God had told him in a dream to create an international language. Volapük conventions took place in 1884 (Friedrichshafen), 1887 (Munich) and 1889 (Paris). The first two conventions used German, and the last conference used only Volapük. In 1889, there were an estimated 283 clubs, 25 periodicals in or about Volapük, and 316 textbooks in 25 languages; at that time the language claimed nearly a million adherents. Volapük was largely displaced in the late 19th and early 20th centuries by Esperanto (WikP).

Ethnologue does not include constructed languages.

1888a: [LILLYmk] A dictionary of the English and Volapük languages, by John Relye. Chicago: L. Schick, 1888. 199 p. 17.5 cm. Does not include a preface. English-Volapük, pp. [1]-199. With advertisements for Max Nordau's The Lies of Civilization.

1888b: [IUW] Grosses Wörterbuch der Universalsprache Volapük, by Johann Martin Schleyer. 4. sehr verm. Aufl. 4th, greatly enlarged edition. Konstanz am Bodensee, Schleyers Zentralbüro der Weltsprache, 1888. 648 p. 16 cm. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. German-Volapük, pp. 3-316, corrigenda, p. 317, Volapük-German, pp. 321-646. The first edition appeared in 1880.

1888c: [IUW] Volapük; easy method of acquiring the universal language constructed by Johann Martin Schleyer, prepared for the English-speaking public on the basis of Alfred Kirchhoff's Hilfsbuch; with the addition of a key to the exercises and a Volapük-English and English-Volapük vocabulary, by Klas August Linderfelt ... Milwaukee; C. N. Caspar; H. H. Zahn, 1888. Second edition. 130 p.; 17 cm. Original dark blue limp cloth, lettered in black (spine repaired with blue tape). Volapük-English, pp. [91]-111, English-Volapük, p. 112-130. The first edition appeared earlier that same year.

"It is estimated that over one million people are now studying this language.... The present book has been prepared on the basis of the second edition of the Volapük-Hilfsbuch by Prof Kirchhoff of the University of Halle, but with constant reference to all the principal published works of other authors.... The vocabulary contains upwards of 1200 of the most frequently recurring words, including all those used in the exercises" (Introduction [to the first edition], dated December 1887).

"That the first edition of this manual was exhausted within ten days of its publication, is sufficient evidence that the need of an international language is felt as much on this side of the Atlantic as it is in the Old World... No change has been made in the book for this new edition, except correcting a few typographical errors" (Preface to the Second Edition, dated January 1888).

1889: [LILLY] Dictionary of Volapük; Volapük-English, English-Volapük, by M. W. [Marshall William] Wood, Captain and Assistant Surgeon United States Army. The New York; C.E. Sprague; London; Trübner, 1889. viii, 398 p.; 20 cm. Original light tan cloth over boards, lettered and ruled in black. Volapük-English alternating with English-Volapük, pp. 1-386. The Preface includes a fairly detailed discussion of the genesis of the artificial language and this dictionary.

"In the following pages will be found an exposition of the now considerable vocabulary of Volapük, which will aid the English-speaking people in acquiring a practical familiarity with this international language, even though they may be unacquainted with any foreign languages in which dictionaries of Volapük have previously been published" (Preface).

[VUTE] Vute is a Mambiloid language of Cameroon, with a thousand speakers in Nigeria (WikP).

Ethnologue: vut. Alternate Names: 'Abotee, 'Abwetee, Baboute, Bamboute, Boute, Bubure, Bule, Bute, Foute, Luvure, Nbule, Pute, Voute, Voutere, Woute, Wute.

1978: [IUW] Études vouté, langue bantoïde du Cameroun: phonologie et alphabet pratique, synthématique, lexique vouté-français, by Gladys Guarisma. Paris: SELAF, 1978. 150 p.: map; 24 cm. Original green, black and brown wrappers, lettered in black Société d'études linguistiques et anthropologiques de France (Series); 66-67. "Publié avec le concours du Centre national de la recherche scientifique." Includes summaries in English, French, German, Russian and Spanish. "Lexique vouté [Vute]-français": p. [87]-145. Bibliography: p. [147].

W

[WA, VO] Wa (Va) is the language of the Wa people of Burma and China. There are three distinct varieties, sometimes considered separate languages; their names in Ethnologue are Parauk, the majority and standard form; Vo (Zhenkang Wa, 40,000 speakers), and Awa (100,000 speakers), though all may be called Wa, Awa, Va, Vo. David Bradley (1994) estimates there are total of 820,000 Wa speakers (WikP).

Ethnologue: wbm. Alternate Names: Ban, Kawa, K'awa, La, Pan, Pinyin, Pun, Va, Vo, Wa Pwi, Wakut.

1907: [LILLYbm] A few notes on Wa, by G[odfrey] Drage [1868-]. Rangoon: Superintendent, Government Printer, Burma, 1907. Original dark blue cloth, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-5 6-104. First edition. Includes English-Wa [Vo Wa] word lists, arranged thematically, pp. 9-60. This appears to be the first published vocabulary of the language.

This is the author's copy, with his name and address in Wales in ink on the free front endpaper, and the note: "Received 15 July 1907 together with 5 other copies for my own use with Secretary's of the Govt. of Burma, Genl. Dept. No. 429613-5 17 June 1907". With a 4 p. a.l.s. to the author from Mildred Drage laid in. Extensive informed pencil annotations throughout, some of these revisions, others seeming preparation for similar word lists in another language. These annotations appear to be in the author's hand, although this is not certain.

"The Was are not cannibals, but they eat dogs, which no Shan, or self-respecting hillman of other races, would dream of doing... There is evidence outside nearly every village in the wild Wa Country that the Was are head-hunters; the skulls in the avenues in the thick primeval groves being regarded as a protection against, and a propitiation of the spirits of evil. Legitimate head-hunting opens in March and lasts through April... [notes of Sir George Scott, condensed by Drage]... There is a large and comparatively virgin field yet open in the country for the student of languages and customs, such as can hardly anywhere else be found—found too within a distance of less than 100 miles from the headquarters of a settled part of His Majesty's dominions and the terminus of the Kunlong Railway" (Notes on the Was and their Country, p. 6).

2013: [LILLY] Dictionary of Wa: with translations into English, Burmese and Chinese = Phuk lai toe: dee bleeh lox Vax lox Hawx - lox Man - lox Enggalang = Pug lai doui: ndee nbleeih loux Vax loux Hox - loux Man - loux Eing Ga Lang / by Justin Watkins. Leiden; Boston: Brill, 2013. First edition. 2 volumes; Vol. I (A-M): xiii, 590 p.; Vol. 2 (N-Z): vii, [591]-1187 (continuous pagination from first volume); 25 cm. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in ochre and white, with color photos of tribal subjects on both front covers. Handbook of Oriental studies. Section three, Southeast Asia; volume 21. Volume 1: A-M, Wa-English-Burmese-Chinese, pp. [27]-590. Volume 2: N-Z, Wa-English-Burmese-Chinese, pp. [591]-1122. Includes bibliographical references.

"The northern Mon-Khmer language Wa is a group of dialects spoken by about a million people on the China-Burma border. The Dictionary of Wa documents the lexicon of a digitised corpus comprising the majority of extant printed resources in the two closely related de facto standard Wa dialects. Approximately 12,000 headwords and compounds are translated and explained in Burmese, Chinese and English, with some 7,000 example sentences, similarly translated. The dictionary is alphabetised in the Wa orthography officially adopted by the authorities in the Wa Special Region in Burma, a revised and improved version of the spelling first devised for translations of the Bible in the 1930s; headwords are given also in the spelling devised for Wa publications in China"-- Provided by publisher.

[WAAMA] Waama, or Yoabu, is a Gur language of Benin (WikP).

Ethnologue: wwa. Alternate Names: Yoabou, Yoabu.

1983a-b: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[WAATA] Waata (Waat, Watha), or Sanye, is an Oromo language spoken by former hunter-gatherers in Kenya. It shares the name Sanye with neighboring Dahalo. Waata may be a dialect of Orma or otherwise Southern Oromo (WikP). Ethnologue considers Waata a separate language under the macrolanguage Oromo.

Ethnologue: ssn. Alternate Names: Ariangulu, Langulo, Sanya, Sanye, Waat, Wasanye.

1981: [IUW] The Waata dialect of Oromo: grammatical sketch and vocabulary / by Bernd Heine. Berlin: Dietrich Reimer Verlag, 1981. 72 p.: maps; 27 cm. Original brown cloth over boards, spine lettered in gold. Language and dialect atlas of Kenya; v. 4. English-Waata, pp. 57-64. Comparative Oromo wordlist, English-"Northern dialects, Gabra [ethnic group], Borana, Ajuran [a Somali clan; Garreh-Ajuran [ggh] was removed from Ethnologue in 2008 as a language (actually Borana and Somali)], Sakuye [dialect of Borana-Arsi-Guji Oromo], Garreh [Garreh-Ajuran [ggh] was removed from Ethnologue in 2008 (actually Borana and Somali)], Munyo [dialect of Orma], Waata," pp. 65-71.

"To our knowledge, the only published evidence available on Waata is a short article entitled "Sanye and Boni," by A. N. Tucker (1969 [in: Wort und Religion. Kalima na dini. Festschrift Dammann. Stuttgart, pp. 6-81]). In the present paper an attempt is made to outline some of the main characteristics of Waata grammar. The paper is based on field research carried out in July, 1979" (Introduction, p. 10).

[WABO] Wabo is a Malayo-Polynesian language of Papua, Indonesia (WikP).

Population: 1,500 (1987 SIL).

Ethnologue: wbb. Alternate Names: Berbai, Nusari, Woriasi.

1961: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WABODA] Waboda is a Papuan language of southern Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: kmx. Alternate Names: Wabuda.

1951: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WOCCON] Woccon was one of two Catawban (also known as Eastern Siouan) languages of what is now the Eastern United States. Together with the Western Siouan languages, they formed the Siouan language family. It is attested only in a vocabulary of 143 words, printed in a 1709 compilation by English colonist John Lawson of Carolina. The Woccon people that Lawson encountered have been considered by scholars to have been a late subdivision of the Waccamaw.

The Woccon are believed to have been decimated as a people during the Tuscarora War in the Carolinas with English colonists in 1713. Survivors were likely absorbed into the Tuscarora, an Iroquoian-speaking people. Most of the Tuscarora migrated north to New York, settling with the five nations of the Iroquois Confederacy by 1722 being accepted as the sixth. Under these pressures, the Woccon language is believed to have become extinct in the eighteenth century. Some descendants of partial Woccon ancestry survive in the Southeast as well as Canada, where the Six Nations of the Iroquois migrated after the American Revolutionary War (WikP).

Ethnologue: xwc. Alternate Names: Waccamaw, Waccon, Wacon.

1709: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1851-1857: see Vol. 5 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WADI WADI] Wadi-Wadi is an extinct Indigenous Australian language once spoken in New South Wales (WikP), Ethnologue: xwd. Alternate Names: Biangil, Dacournditch, Wathiwathi, Wattewatte, Watthiwatthi, Watty-watty, Withaija, Woani, Wohdi Wohdi, Woonyi, Wottiwotti.

1875: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAFFA] Waffa is a Kainantu language of Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: waj.

1979: [IUW] Waffa, Tok Pisin, English / compiled by M.D. Stringer and J. M. Hotz; Tok Pisin additions by Sibaamo Punuqo. Ukarumpa, Papua New Guinea: Summer Institute of Linguistics, 1979. 500 p.; 21 cm. Other titles: Dictionary of Waffa, Tok Pisin, English. Dictionaries of Papua New Guinea; v. 3.

[WAGAWAGA] Wagawaga is an Oceanic language spoken on the southeastern tip of Papua New Guinea. The Gamadoudou, Soma'a, and Sileba dialects may be a separate language, Yaleba (WikP). 600 (2000 census). 60 monolinguals. Milne Bay province: Upper and Lower Dawadawa wards, along Tawala river and east of Wagawaga village, in the middle of Tawala [tbo] language area (Ethnologue).

Ethnologue: wgb. Alternate Names: Baeaula, Beauli, Ealeba, Gamadoudou, Gibara, Kilikilana..

1912-1913 [1965]: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAHGI] Wahgi is a Trans–New Guinea language of the Chimbu–Wahgi branch spoken by approximately 100,000 people in the highlands of Papua New Guinea. Like other Chimbu languages, Wahgi has some unusual lateral consonants (WikP).

Ethnologue: wgi. Alternate Names: Mid Wahgi.

1975: [LILLY] Middle Wahgi dictionary, by Evelyn M. Ramsey. Mount Hagen, Papua New Guinea: Church of the Nazarene, 1975. xvi, 460 p.; 21 cm. Original dark red wrappers, lettered in white. First edition. First true dictionary of this language.

[WAIGALI] Waigali is a language spoken by about 10,000 Kalasha people of the Waigal Valley in Afghanistan's Nuristan Province. The native name is Kalaša-alâ 'Kalasha-language'. "Waigali" refers to the dialect of the Väy people of the upper part of the Waigal Valley, centered on the town of Waigal, which is distinct from the dialect of the Čima-Nišei people who inhabit the lower valley. The word 'Kalasha' is the native ethnonym for all the speakers of the southern Nuristani languages. Kalaša-alâ belongs to the Indo-European language family, and is in the southern Nuristani group of the Indo-Iranian branch. It is closely related to Zemiaki and to Tregami, the lexical similarity with the latter being approximately 76% to 80%. It shares its name with Kalaša-mun, spoken in Pakistan's southern Chitral District, but the two languages belong to different branches of Indo-Iranian. Waigali speakers are sometimes called "Red Kalasha," while the speakers of the language in Pakistan are called "Black Kalasha." According to linguist Richard Strand the Kalasha of Chitral apparently adopted the name of the Nuristani Kalasha, who at some unknown time had extended their influence into the region of southern Chitral (WikP).

Ethnologue: wbk. Alternate Names: Kalasha ala, Suki, Wai, Wai-Ala, Waigala, Waigalii, Waigeli, Zhonjigali.

1903-1927: see Vol. I, Part I, 1927 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAILAKI] Wailaki, also known as Eel River, is an extinct Athabaskan language once spoken by the people of the Round Valley Reservation of northern California, one of four languages belonging to the California Athabaskan cluster of the Pacific Coast Athabaskan languages. Dialect clusters reflect the four Wailaki-speaking peoples, the Sinkiyone, Wailaki, Nongatl, and Lassik, of the Eel River confederation (WikP).

Ethnologue: wlk.

1907-1930: see Vol. 14 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WAIWAI] Waiwai /'warwai/ (Uaiuai, Uaieue, Ouayeone) is a Cariban language of northern Brazil, with a couple hundred speakers across the border in southern Guyana (WikP).

Ethnologue: waw. Alternate Names: Ouayeone, Uaieue, Uaiuai.

1893: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WAKAWAKA] Waga, or Wakawaka or Wakka Wakka, is an extinct language of Queensland in Australia. Kaiabara/Gayabara, Nguwera/Ngoera, and Buyibara may be varieties or alternative names (WikP).

Ethnologue: wkw. Alternate Names: Enibura, Nukunukubara, Waga, Wagawaga, Waga-Waga, Wakka.

1958: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WALING] Waling is an extinct language of Nepal. According to Ethnologue, it shifted to Bantawa in the late 1800s, and has no known native speakers as of 2011. Grierson included a vocabulary of Waling in 1909 (see below).

Ethnologue: wly. Alternate Names: Walung, Walüing.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903-1927: see Vol. III, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WALLA WALLA] In the WikP entry, Walla Walla is considered a dialect of Shapatin, a Plateau Penutian language spoken in a section of the northwestern plateau along the Columbia River and its tributaries in southern Washington, northern Oregon, and southwestern Idaho, in the United States. Ethnologue considers Walla Walla a separate language:

Ethnologue: waa.

1846: see 9) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

2000: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

2009: see under SAHAPTIN.

[WALLISIAN] Wallisian or 'Uvean (Wallisian: Faka'uvea) is the Polynesian language spoken on Wallis (also known as 'Uvea). The language is also known as East Uvean to distinguish it from the related West Uvean language spoken on the outlier island of Ouvéa near New Caledonia. Wallisian tradition holds that the latter island was colonised from Wallis Island in ancient times. Wallisian may be most closely related to Rennellese. It is also closely related to Tongan, though part of the Samoic branch, and has borrowed extensively from Tongan due to the Tongan invasion of the island in the 15th and 16th centuries (WikP).

Ethnologue: wls. Alternate Names: East Uvean, Uvean, Wallisien.

1984: [IUW] Tikisionalio fakauvea-fakafalani = Dictionnaire wallisien-français / by Karl H. Rensch. Canberra, A.C.T., Australia: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, The Australian National University, 1984. xiii, 439, 21 p., [1] leaf of plates: ill.; 23 cm. Pacific linguistics. Series C; no. 86.

[WALLOON] Walloon (/wɒˈluːn/; natively wallon; French: wallon) is a Romance language that is spoken in much of Wallonia and, to a very small extent, in Brussels, Belgium; some villages near Givet, northern France; and a clutch of communities in northeastern Wisconsin, United States. It belongs to the langues d'oïl language family, the most prominent member of which is French. The historical background of its formation was the territorial extension since 980 of the Principality of Liège to the south and west. Walloon is classified as "definitely endangered" by the UNESCO Atlas of the World's Languages in Danger.

Despite its rich literature, beginning anonymously in the 16th century and with well-known authors since 1756, the use of Walloon has decreased markedly since

France's annexation of Wallonia in 1794. This period definitively established French as the language of social promotion, far more than it was before. After World War I, public schools provided French-speaking education to all children, inducing a denigration of Walloon, especially when accompanied by official orders in 1952 to punish its use in schools. Subsequently, since the middle of the 20th century, generational transmission of the language has decreased, resulting in Walloon almost becoming a dead language. Today it is scarcely spoken among younger people, with the vast majority of its native speakers being the elderly (aged 65 and over). In 2007, the number of people with knowledge of the language was estimated at 600,000 (WikP).

Ethnologue: wln. Alternate Names: Wallon. Autonym: Walon.

1845-1880: [IUW] Dictionnaire etymologique de la langue wallonne / par Ch. Grandgagnage. Liège, F. Oudart, 1845-80. 2 v. 21.5 cm. Vol. II has imprint: Bruxelles et Leipsick, Mayer et Flatau; [etc., etc.] 1850. Dalby 474. Etymological dictionary of Walloon.

1867: [IUW] Dictionnaire du patois de la Flandre française ou Wallonne; précédé d'une Notice sur l'auteur, suivie d'une Préface, et de la liste des auteurs et des ouvrages cités dans le dictionnaire / Louis Vermesse (1837-1865). Douai, L. Crépin, 1867. xxix, 508 p. Walloon-French dictionary.

1891-1892: [IUW] Dictionnaire des spots ou proverbes wallons, par Joseph Dejardin ... précédé d'une étude sur les proverbes par J. Stecher ... 2. éd., coordonnée et considérablement augmentée avec la collaboration de Joseph Defrecheux ... [Liège, Impr. H. Vaillant-Carmanne, 1891-92]. 2 v. 24 cm. Société liégeoise de littérature wallonne. Bulletin. Liège, 1891-92. 2. sér., t. 17-18 [t. 30-31 des publications]. The 1st edition was published in 1861 in v. 4 of the society's Bulletin (p. [161]-726) t. 1. A-J. t. 2. L-Z.

1967: [IUW] Documents lexicaux extraits des archives de Roanne (La Gleize) 1492-1794 / Louis Remacle. Paris, Société d'édition les belles lettres, 1967. 439 p. plates. 26 cm. Bibliothèque de la Faculté de philosophie et lettres de l'Université de Liège;vfasc. 177. Bibliography: p. [37]-42. Walloon-French dictionary.

1969: [IUW] Lexique namurois; dictionnaire idéologique, d'après le dialecte d'Annevoie D³, Bioul D², et Warnant D¹⁹ [par] Lucien Léonard, avec la collaboration de Jean Guillaume. Liège, Société de langue et de littérature wallonnes, 1969. 961 p. illus., map, music, plates. 24 cm. Bibliothèque de philologie et de littérature wallonnes; 3. Uniform series: Bibliothèque de la Faculté de philosophie et lettres (Facultés universitaires Notre-Dame de la Paix, Namur. Faculté de philosophie et lettres); fasc. 46. Walloon-French.

1972: [IUW] Documents lexicaux extraits des archives de Stoumont, Rahier et Francorchamps / Louis Remacle. Paris, Société d'édition Les Belles lettres, 1972. 155 p. 24 cm. Bibliothèque de la Faculté de philosophie et lettres de l'Université de Liège fasc. 205. Includes bibliographical references. Walloon-French dictionary.

1977: [IUW] Notaires de Malmedy, Spa et Verviers; documents lexicaux / Louis Remacle. Paris: Société d'Édition "Les Belles Lettres", 1977. 293 p.; 25 cm. Bibliothèque de la Faculté de philosophie et lettres de l'Université de Liège fasc. 218. Includes index. Bibliography: p. [22]-27. Walloon-French dictionary.

1987: [IUW] Dictionnaire de belgicismes / François Massion. Frankfurt am Main; New York: P. Lang, c1987. 2 v. (xvii, 946 p.): maps; 21 cm. Eqlby 476. Bibliography: v. 2, p. 924-945. Walloon-French dictionary of Belgium regional words.

1994a: [IUW] Belgicisms: inventaire des particularités lexicales du français en Belgique / Willy Bal ... [et al.]. Louvain-la-Neuve: Duculot; [Paris]: Conseil international de la langue française, c1994. 143 p.: map; 23 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Walloon-French dictionary.

1994b: [IUW] Dictionnaire des parlers wallons du pays de Bastogne / Michel Francard; illustrations de Benoît Vermeesch. Bruxelles: De Boeck Université; [s.l.]: Musée de la parole au pays de Bastogne, c1994. 1069 p.: ill., maps; 25 cm. Walloon-French dictionary.

[WALU] Walu has not been identified as a language, except as that once spoken by the Walu people, “an indigenous Australian people of the Gulf of Carpentaria in the Northern Territory” (WikP).

1893: [LILLY] "Customs, rites and superstitions of the aboriginal tribes of the Gulf of Carpentaria," by W. G. Stretton in: Journal of the Royal Geographical Society of Australia (Adelaide Branch). 17 (1893): 227–253. Extracted from the journal and stapled. Includes the only known vocabulary of the language, [Walu]-English, pp. 250-253.

“The Walu were the native inhabitants of Vanderlin Island, covering an area which, in Norman Tindale's estimate, was about 100 square miles. Little is known of the Walu, since the only report Tindale could find was an article by W. G. Stretton dating back to 1893. Stretton, a long-time special magistrate at Borroloola writes of them in lurid terms. Recent research has begun to question both Stretton's paper, and Tindale's use of it in order to claim that the Vanderlin people were an independent tribe, as opposed to being a branch of the Yanyuwa. The modern Yanyuwa do not recognize this term [Walu] in European ethnography as either a language name or ethnonym, and have suggested that it may be a distortion of a Yanyuwa term allu, signifying 'them/those others'.” (WikP).

[WALUWARRA] Warluwarra is an extinct Australian Aboriginal language of Queensland. The Warluwara had a developed signed form of their language (WikP).

Ethnologue: wrb. Alternate Names: Kapula, Maula, Mauula, Mawula, Parnkarra, Walookera, Walugera, Waluwara, Warluwara, Warluwarra, Wollegara, Yunnalinka.

1897: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAMBAYA] Wambaya is a Non-Pama-Nyungan West Barkly Australian language of the Mirndi language group that is spoken in the Barkly Tableland of the Northern Territory, Australia. Wambaya and the other members of the West Barkly languages are somewhat unusual in that they are suffixing languages, unlike most Non-Pama-Nyungan languages which are prefixing. The language was reported to have 12 speakers in 1981, and some reports indicate that the language went extinct as a first language. However, in the 2011 Australian census 56 people stated that they speak Wambaya at home. That number increased to 61 in the 2016 Census. Rachel Nordlinger notes that the speech of the Wambaya, Gudanji and Binbinka people "are clearly dialects" of a single language, which she calls "McArthur", while Ngarnga is closely related but is "probably best considered a language of its own" (WikP).

Ethnologue: wmb. Alternate Names: Umbaia, Wambaia, Wambaja, Wom-By-A, Wombya, Yumpia.

1998: [IUW] A grammar of Wambaya, Northern Territory (Australia), by Rachel Nordlinger. Canberra; Pacific Linguistics, 1998. xvi, 320 p. 25 cm. Library binding incorporating original gray-green wrappers, lettered in black. Pacific linguistics. Series C; 140. Wambaya-English wordlist, pp. 268-295, English-Wambaya finderlist, pp. 296-316. Includes bibliographical references.

"The research for this grammar was conducted during six field trips, totally over seven months, from February 1991 to August 1994.... This grammar is a revised version of my Melbourne University MA thesis" (Preface).

[WAMBON] Wambon is a Papuan language of Papua, Indonesia (WikP). Speakers, 3,000 (1987 SIL).

Ethnologue: wms.

1959: see under INDONESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1970: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAMBULE] Wambule (/ˈwa:mbuːleɪ/; Nepali: वाम्बुले, translit. Vāmbule) is the language of the Wambule Rai, one of the Kiranti (किरान्ती) tribes of eastern Nepal. Wambule is spoken by more than 5000 people living around the confluence of the Sunkosi (सुनकोसी) and Dudhkosi (दूधकोसी) rivers near Kui-Bhir Hill. The Wambule-speaking area comprises the southernmost part of Okhaldhunga district, the westernmost part of Khotang district, the northernmost part of Udayapur district, and the northeasternmost part of Sindhuli district (WikP).

Ethnologue: wme. Alternate Names: Ambule, Caurasia, Chaurasia, Chaurasya, Chourase, Chourasia, Ombule, Radu Yor, Tsaurasya, Umbule, Vambucauras Raduyor, Vambule, Vambule Radu Yor, Vambule Yor. Autonym: वाम्बुले (Vāmbule).

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903-1927: see Vol. III, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2004: [IUW] A Grammar of Wambule: grammar, lexicon, texts and cultural survey of a Kiranti tribe of eastern Nepal / by Jean Robert Opgenort. Boston: Brill, 2004. xxix, 900 p., [16] p. of plates: ill., map; 25 cm. Original mustard yellow cloth over boards, lettered in black, with a color photo of a Wambule tribesman on the front cover. Brill's Tibetan studies library; v. 5/2. Appendix Two: Wambule-English lexicon, pp. 544-742; Appendix Three: pp. [743]-860. Includes bibliographical references and index.

"The Wambule lexicon combines both native and loan words from non-literary and literary sources" (p. [543])."

"This wonderful description [of the language] at once catapults the Wambule language from the state of being one of the least known languages of the Himalayas to the tongue that now vies for the title of being perhaps the best documented language of the Himalayas" (Editorial Foreword, George van Driem).

"The present book is a revised and enlarged version of my doctoral dissertation The Wambule Language, which I defended on the 6th of June 2002. This book is the result of more than seven years of work on the language, which by that time was still very poorly understood.... The only published source available on Wambule was the 'Chouras'ya' word list of about three hundred words compiled by Brian Houghton Hodgson (1857), on the basis of which Sten Konow compiled his short 'Chouraśya' word list and grammatical note in the Linguistic Survey of India, which was edited by George A. Grierson (1909)" (Introduction).

[WAMESA] Wamesa is an Austronesian language of Indonesian New Guinea, spoken across the neck of the Doberai Peninsula or Bird's Head. There are currently 5,000–8,000 speakers. While it was historically used as a lingua franca, it is currently considered an under-documented, endangered language. This means that fewer and fewer children have an active command of Wamesa. Instead, Papuan Malay has become increasingly dominant in the area. The language is often called Wandamen in the literature; however, several speakers of the Windesi dialect have stated that Wandamen and Wondama refer to a dialect spoken around the Wondama Bay, studied by early missionaries and linguists from SIL. They affirm that the language as a whole is called Wamesa, the dialects of which are Windesi, Bintuni, and Wandamen. While Wamesa is spoken in West Papua, Wamesa is not a Papuan language but rather a South Halmahera–West New Guinea (SHWNG) language (WikP). Population 5,000 (1993 R. Doriot).

Ethnologue: wad. Alternate Names: Wandamen, Wandamen-Windesi. Autonym: Wamesa, Wondama.

1961: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAMEY] Wamey (Meyny), or Konyagi (Conhague, Coniagui, Koniagui), is a Senegambian language of Senegal and Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: cou. Alternate Names: Conhague, Coniagui, Koniagui, Konyagi, Wamay, Wamei.

1991: see 1991a under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[WAMPANOAG] The Massachusetts language is an Algonquian language of the Algic language family, formerly spoken by several peoples of eastern coastal and south-eastern Massachusetts and currently, in its revived form, in four communities of Wampanoag people. The language is also known as Natick or Wôpanâak (Wampanoag) and historically as Pokanoket, Indian or Nonantum. The language is most notable for creating a community of literate Indians and for the number of translations of religious texts into the language. John Eliot's translation of the Christian Bible in 1663 using the Natick dialect, known as Mamusse Wunneetupanatamwe Up-Biblum God, was the first printed in the Americas, the first Bible translated by a non-native speaker and one of the earliest example of a Bible translation into a previously unwritten language. [The Lilly Library holds a copy of the first edition of the Eliot Indian Bible in its original binding, and a copy of the second edition with a presentation inscription from Increase Mather]. Literacy spread quickly as Indian ministers and teachers, who were literate, spread literacy to the elites and other members of their communities. This is attested in the numerous court petitions, church records, Praying town administrative records, notes on book margins, personal letters and widespread distribution of other translations of religious tracts throughout the colonial period. The dialects of the language were formerly spoken by several peoples of southern New England, including all the coastal and insular areas of eastern Massachusetts, as well as south-eastern New Hampshire, the southernmost tip of Maine and eastern Rhode Island, but was also a common second or third language across most of New England and portions of Long Island. The use of the language in the mixed-band communities of Christian converts—Praying towns—also spread the language to some groups of Nipmuc and Pennacook. The revitalization of the language began in 1993 when Jessie Little Doe Baird (at the time with the last name Fermino) began the Wôpanâak Language Reclamation Project (WLRP), which has successfully re-introduced the revived Wampanoag dialect to the Aquinnah, Mashpee, Assonet and Herring Pond tribes of the Wampanoag of Cape Cod and the Islands, with a handful of children who are growing up as the first native speakers in more than a century. The Massachusett people continue to inhabit the area around Boston and other Wampanoag tribes are found throughout Cape Cod and Rhode Island. Other descendants of Massachusett-language speakers include many of the current Abenaki people and the locals of Saint David's Island, Bermuda, both of whom absorbed large numbers of Indians of southern New England in the aftermath of King Philip's War (WikP).

Ethnologue: wam. Alternate Names: Massachusett, Massachusetts, Natick, Wôpanâak.

1829: [LILLYbm] [Cover title] Vocabulary of the Massachusetts (or Natick) Indian Language, by Josiah Cotton. Cambridge: Metcalf and Company, 1829. Contemporary red half-leather and marbled paper over boards, lettered and decorated in gold, preserving original wrappers. Pp. 1-3 4-113 114-116 [p. 113 misnumbered 112]. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 276. Includes thematically arranged English-Natick, pp. [11]-99, including phrases and sentences. Separate issue of the vocabulary edited for the first time by J. Pickering from a manuscript compiled by the Hon. Josiah Cotton (bearing dates 1707 and 1708) and published in the "Collections of the Massachusetts historical society." 3d ser., vol. II (1830) p. [147]-257. Some copies retain the original pagination. Josiah Cotton's father John aided Eliot in his Indian Bible. Second copy: [LILLYbm], in original wrappers, chipped and stained, but without lost of text; resewn.

"The following Vocabulary of the Indian Language, in the Natick or Massachusetts dialect, is faithfully copied from a manuscript compiled by the Hon. Josiah Cotton, a respectable inhabitant of Plymouth, who died in 1756, aged 77." (J[ohn] D[avis]), from the "Advertisement."

1851-1857: see Vols.1 and 5 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1903: [LILLYbm] Natick Dictionary, by James Hammond Trumbull. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1903. Hardbound without d.j. 349 pp. First edition. Smithsonian Institution, Bureau of Ethnology, Bulletin 35. Zaunmüller, col. 276. Includes Natick-English and English-Natick dictionary. "It is hoped that this book will form the first volume is a series of vocabularies of the native languages."

[WAMPIS] Huambisa, Huambiza, or Wambisa is the language of the native Huambisas of Perú. It is closely related to the Achuar-Shiwiari and Aguaruna languages. It has official standing in the area it is spoken (WikP).

Ethnologue: hub. Alternate Names: Huambisa, Huambiza, Wambisa.

1957: see under AWAJÙN.

[WANDA] Wanda (also, known as Ichiwanda, Iciwanda, Kiwanda, Vanda, Wandia [4]) is a Bantu language of Tanzania. It is considered a vulnerable language with less than 43,000 native speakers worldwide. At least half of Wanda people speak limited Swahili, one of the official languages of Tanzania. Speakers are particularly concentrated in Kamsamba ward in Momba District Council and Kipeta ward in Sumbawanga District (WikP). Population: 180 (Mradi wa Lugha za Tanzania 2009).

Ethnologue: wbh. Alternate Names: Ichiwanda, Iciwanda, Kiwanda, Vanda, Wandia.

1897: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[WANDALA] Wandala, also Mandara or Mura', is an Afro-Asiatic language of Cameroon and Nigeria. Malgwa dialect is distinct (WikP). Ethnologue considers Malgwa a dialect of Wandala.

Ethnologue: mfi. Alternate Names: Mandara, Mandara Montagnard, Ndara.

1826: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1862-1866: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2002: [IUW] Die Sprache der Malgwa (Nárá Málgwa): grammatische Erstbeschreibung einer zentralschadischen Sprache Nordost-Nigerias / Doris Löhr. Frankfurt: P. Lang, 2002. 336 p.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original black wrappers, lettered in white and yellow. Schriften zur Afrikanistik; Bd. 6. Vocabulary, Malgwa [dialect of Wandala]-German, pp. 288-311, German-Malgwa [dialect of Wandala], pp. [313]-336. Includes bibliographical references (p. [271]-279). Originally presented as the author's thesis (doctoral)-- Universität Frankfurt, 1999. Includes bibliographical references (pages 271-279).

"The following vocabulary includes approximately 1600 entries.... It is the basis for a Malgwa-English, English-Malgwa Dictionary, currently in progress, and consisting presently of over 3000 computerized entries" (p. [287], tr: BM).

[WANGAAYBUWAN-NGIYAMBAA] The Ngiyambaa language is a Pama–Nyungan language of the Wiradhuric subgroup. It was the traditional language of the Wangaaybuwan and Wayilwan peoples of New South Wales, Australia, but is now moribund; according to Donaldson by the 1970s there were only about ten people fluent in Wangaaybuwan, whilst there were only a couple of Wayilwan speakers left. Ngiyambaa (meaning language), or Ngiyambaambuwal, was also used by the Waangaybuwan and Wayilwan to describe themselves, whilst 'Waangaybuwan' and 'Wayilwan' (meaning 'With Waangay/Wayil' (for 'no')) were used to distinguish both the language and the speakers from others who did not have wangaay/wayil for no. Other names for Ngiyambaa are: Giamba, Narran, Noongaburrah, Ngampah, Ngemba, Ngeumba, Ngiamba, Ngjamba, Ngiyampaa, Ngumbarr; Wangaaybuwan is also called Wongaibon, and Wayilwan is also called Wailwan, Weilwan or Wailwun (WikP).

Ethnologue: wyb.

1875: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: SPECIMENS and POLYGLOT.

1903: [LILLY] "Le Langage Wailwan", par M. R. H. Mathews, traduit par M. Oscar Schmidt. In: Bulletins et mémoires de la société d'anthropologie de Paris, vol. IV, 1903, pp. [69]-81. 25 cm. Offprint. Original blue wrappers, lettered in black. Third of six articles, offprints, etc. in a binding with binder's title: Mathews. Languages of Australia. With the bookplate of James Edge Partington. "Partington (1854–1930) was a British anthropologist, acknowledged as an authority on Pacific ethnology. He collected materials of the peoples of the Pacific and Australasian regions, but also took an interest in the peasant culture of Europe, especially in the area of the Chiltern Hills" (WikP). Bound in half brown morocco-grained cloth and grey boards. Original wrappers for this piece retained. Vocabulary: French-Wailwan [a dialect of Wangaaybuwan-Ngiyambaa], pp. 78-81.

"The vocabulary contains around two hundred words in the Wailwan language collected by me in the camps of the natives. Words of the same type are grouped under different headings: the family, the human body, natural surroundings, animals, adjectives, verbs. We thought that this arrangement might be more convenient if they were placed in alphabetical order" (p. 78, tr: BM).

[WANGKAYUTYURU] Wanggamala, also known as Wangka-Yutjuru, is an extinct Australian Aboriginal language of the Pama–Nyungan family, previously spoken in the Northern Territory, around Hay River and to the south of the Andegerebinha-speaking area. As of 2003, there was one speaker remaining. Lanima, Yurlayurlanya (Ulaolinya), and Rangwa (Runga-Rungawa) are not dialects, but clans speaking the Wangkamanha dialect (WikP).

Ethnologue: wky. Alternate Names: Wanggadjara, Wanggadyara, Wanggamanha, Wanggayudyuru, Wangka-Yutjuru, Wangka-Yutjuru, Wangka-jutjuru, Wangkatjera, Wangkayutjuru, Wongga-Jitjeru, Wongga-itjeru, Wonggadjara, Wongka-itjeru, Wongka-itjuru, Wongkadjera, Wongkatjera, Wonkajera, Wonkajera, Wonkatyeri, Wonkoyara.

1897: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAPAN] Wapan or Jukun Wapan, also known as Wukari after the local town, is a major Jukunoid language of Nigeria (WikP).

Ethnologue: juk. Alternate Names: Jinkum, Jukon, Juku, Juku Junkun, Jukum, Jukun Wapan, Jukun Wukari, Wakari, Wapã, Wukari.

1968: see under JUKUN TAKUM.

[WAPISHANA] Wapishana (Wapixana) is an Arawakan language of Guyana and Brazil. Kaufman (1994) considered Wapishana, Atorada, and Mapidian to be dialects. Aikhenvald (1999) separates Mawayana/Mapidian/Mawakwa (considered as a single language) from Wapishana, and she includes them in a Rio Branco branch. Ethnologue notes that Atorada has 50% lexical similarity with Wapishana and 20% with Mapidian, and that Wapishana and Mapidian share 10% (WikP).

Ethnologue: wap. Alternate Names: Uapixana, Vapidiana, Wapichan, Wapichana, Wapisana, Wapishshiana, Wapisiana, Wapitxana, Wapixana.

1848: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WAPPO] Wappo is an extinct language that was spoken in the Alexander Valley north of San Francisco by the Wappo Native Americans. The last fluent speaker, Laura Fish Somersal, died in 1990. Wappo's language death is attributed to the use of English in schools and economic situations such as the workplace. According to Somersal, the name for the people and language is derived from the Spanish word guapo, meaning "handsome" or "brave". The name for the people was originally Ashochimi. Wappo is generally believed to be distantly related to the Yuki language, and is distinct largely due to Pomoan influence. Paul Radin published the first texts on Wappo grammar in the 1920s. Jesse O. Sawyer published the "English-Wappo Vocabulary" in 1965 and continued to study Wappo grammar throughout his life (WikP).

Ethnologue: wao.

1907-1930: see Vol. 14 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1929: [IUW] A grammar of the Wappo language, by Paul Radin. Berkeley, Calif., University of California Press, 1929. viii, 194 p. 28 cm. Library binding. University of California publications. American archaeology and ethnology vol.xxvii, 1929. "Part II. Dictionary," pp. 161-194, arranged by parts of speech: English-Wappo, pp.161-181, Wappo-English, pp. 181-194.

"I have tried to show Wappo in all its variety, have attempted to indicate all the meanings, vague, indefinite, or clear-cut, that a given element may have. Throughout I have sought to exhibit the language in all its multiplicity and fluidity; to show how some of the elements are fixed and petrified, others utterly unanchored" (Introduction).

1965: [LILLYbm] English-Wappo Vocabulary, by Jesse O. Sawyer. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1965. Original wrappers. 128 pp. First edition. University of California Publications in Linguistics, Vol. 43. Includes English-Wappo and a brief list of Wappo-English affixes. "Wappo is a California Indian Language which was once spoken in a small area of central coastal California just north of San Francisco. It has usually been classified as a Yukian language.... If Wappo is Yukian, it belongs to the small family which includes Yuki proper, Huchnom, and Coast Yuki." There were not more than five speakers of Wappo in 1965. First dictionary of this language.

[WARAO] Warao (also known as Guarauno, Guarao, Warrau) is the native language of the Warao people. A language isolate, it is spoken by about 28,000 people primarily in northern Venezuela, Guyana and Suriname. It is notable for its unusual object–subject–verb word order. The Warao people live chiefly in the Orinoco Delta region of northeastern Venezuela, with smaller communities in western Guyana and Suriname (WikP).

Ethnologue: wba. Alternate Names: Guarao, Guarauno, Warrau.

1848: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1882: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1943-1944: see under PEMON.

1957: [IUW] Diccionario guarao-español, español-guarao por Basilio M.a de Barral, Prólogo: Johannes Wilbert. Caracas: Editorial Sucre, 1957. 275 p.; 24 cm. Library binding. Monografía (Sociedad de Ciencias Naturales La Salle); no. 3. Guaraó [Warao]-Spanish, pp. [21]-214, Spanish-Guarao [Warao], pp. [217]-[276]. With detailed preliminary material. Bibliographical footnotes.

1958: [LILLYbm] "Vocabulario Teurigico-Magico de los Indios Guaraos," by Basilio Maria de Barral, in: Antropológica, No. 4, 1958, pp. [27]-36. Includes Warao-Spanish vocabulary, pp. 30-36. A Short dictionary of the Warau language of Guyana was published in 1980, and a Spanish Warao dictionary in Caracas in 1979 (second edition).

2000a: [IUW] Vocabularios incunables del idioma warao: recesión histórica y literaria / Antonio E. Vaquero Rojo. Caracas: Universidad Católica Andrés Bello, 2000. 93 p.; 22 cm. Spanish and Warao.

2000b: see 2000 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WARAY] Warray (Waray) was an Australian language spoken in the Adelaide River area of the Northern Territory. Wulwulam may have been a dialect (WikP).

Ethnologue: wrz. Alternate Names: Arwur, Awarai, Awarra, Warrai, Warray.

1895: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WARAY-WARAY] Waray is the fifth-most-spoken native regional language of the Philippines, specific to the provinces of Samar, Northern Samar, Eastern Samar, Biliran, and the north-east of Leyte island (surrounding Tacloban). It is the third most spoken language among the Visayan languages after Hiligaynon (Ilonggo) and Cebuano. The language name comes from the word often heard by non-speakers, "waray" (meaning "none" or "nothing" in Waray); similarly, Cebuanos are known in Leyte as "mga Kana" and their language as "Kana" (after the oft-heard word "kana", meaning "that" in the Cebuano language) (WikP).

Ethnologue: war. Alternate Names: Binisaya, Samaran, Samareño, Samarenyo, Samar-Leyte, Waray.

1953: see under PHILIPPINE LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1979: [LILLY] Binisaya-English, English-Binisaya Dictionary, by Eduardo A. Makabenta. Quezon City: Emandsonz, 1979.: xi, 518 p.; 21 cm. Original black wrappers, lettered in white, yellow and gray. First edition. First full dictionary of the language.

"This valuable reference work is the first comprehensive dictionary of the Binisaya language, which is spoken in Leyte and Samar, and several smaller islands in the Visayas. Colloquially known as Waray or Waray-Waray, Binisaya is the mother tongue of some two million Filipinos. The terms Binisaya is the traditional term which native Leyteños and Samareños use to refer to their language" (rear cover).

"Finally, a note on the colloquial and informal Waray-Waray. Waray means nothing, nil, none in the vernacular, and the compounded waray, in the augmentive sense, means double nothing; in the diminutive, it means little nothing. Used with the term Visayan, you have Double Nothing Visayan, or Little Nothing Visayan. As a term for a people and their language, it certainly is not music to the ears" (Preface).

[WAREMBORI] Warembori (native name Warembuivoro) is a moribund language spoken by about 600 people in Warembori village, Mamberamo Hilir District, Mamberamo Raya Regency, located around river mouths (including the mouth of the Warembari River) on the north coast of Papua, Indonesia (WikP). Population: 620, all users. L1 users: 600 (1998 SIL). L2 users: 20.

Ethnologue: wsa. Alternate Names: Warembuivoro, Warenbori.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WARIS] Waris or Walsa is a Papuan language of northern New Guinea. There are about 2,500 native speakers. It uses the Latin writing system. The language features monophthong, diphthong, and triphthong vowels (WikP). Population: 2,500 in Papua New Guinea (2008 SIL), increasing. Total users in all countries: 3,000.

Ethnologue: wrs. Autonym: Walsa.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1985: see under IMONDA.

[WARKAY-BIPIM] Bipim, or Warkay-Bipim, is a Papuan language spoken in Assue District, Mappi Regency, South Papua Province of Indonesia (WikP). 300 speakers in 1993.

Ethnologue: bgv. Alternate Names: Bipim, Bipim As-So.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WARLPIRI] The Warlpiri (/ˈwɑːrlbri/ or /ˈwɔːlpəri/) language is spoken by about 3,000 of the Warlpiri people in Australia's Northern Territory. It is one of the Ngarrkic languages of the large Pama–Nyungan family, and is one of the largest aboriginal languages in Australia in terms of number of speakers (WikP).

Ethnologue: wbp. Alternate Names: Elpira, Ipara, Ngaliya, Ngardilpa, Wailbri, Walbiri, Walmama, Walpiri.

1975-1979: [IUW] Dictionary of the Wailbri (Walpiri) language of Central Australia, by Laurie Reece. Sydney: University of Sydney, 1975-1979. 2 v.: ill.; 26 cm. Vol. 1: xvii, 152 p. Library binding, preserving original pale blue front wrapper, lettered in black. Vol. 2, Original pale blue wrappers, lettered in black, with black quarter-cloth spine. Oceania linguistic monographs no. 19, 22. Vol. 1. Wailbri – English, pp. [1]-152. Vol. 2. English – Wailbri, pp. [1]-292. First dictionary of the language. Second copy Vol. 2: LILLYbm: in original wrappers.

"When I was doing an exploratory trip on Camels through the Warlpiri area [Central Australia] in 1944, I had to rely on the Aboriginal guides to interpret for me. I began to feel that I was being misinterpreted...[U]nless we get a working knowledge of the local language, we are at the mercy of being misunderstood. The things that amazes me now is that we have been able to get so far with the Aboriginal people without knowing their language, and it gives me great satisfaction to see the interest being taken in the languages now" (Communicating).

[WARITAI] Waritai is a Lakes Plain language of Irian Jaya, Indonesia. It is spoken in Taiyeve (WikP). Population: 150 (Wurm 2000).

Ethnologue: wbe. Alternate Names: Wari, Weretai.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT

[WARNDARANG] Warndarang (also spelled Wandarang, Wandaran) is an extinct Aboriginal Australian language in the Arnhem family, formerly spoken in southern Arnhem Land, along the Gulf of Carpentaria. The last speaker was Isaac Joshua, who died in 1974, while working with the linguist Jeffrey Heath. Warndarang is closely related to Mara, which was traditionally spoken to the south of Warndarang and today has a handful of speakers. The languages Alawa and Yugul, spoken to the west of Warndarang and both apparently extinct, are also related. Heath's Warndarang grammar contains a 100-page grammatical description, a handful of texts, and a brief wordlist (WikP).

Ethnologue: wnd. Alternate Names: Wandaran, Warndarang, Wuyarrawala.

1980: [LILLYbm] Basic materials in Warndarang: grammar, texts and dictionary, by Jeffrey Heath. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1980. xii, 174 p.: map; 25 cm. Original yellow-gray wrappers, lettered in black. Pacific linguistics: Series B; no. 72. Warndarang-English, pp. 125-162, English-Warndarang index, pp. 165-172. Bibliography, pp. 173-174. Second copy: IUW, in original wrappers.

[WAROPEN] Waropen is an Austronesian language spoken at the Geelvink Bay of Indonesian Papua. It is fairly closely related to the Yapen languages. Dialects are Waropen Kai, Napan, and Ambumi (WikP). Population: 6,000 (1987 SIL).

Ethnologue: wrp. Alternate Names: Aropen, Wonti, Worpen.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WARU] Waru is an Austronesian language of Southeast Sulawesi, Indonesia (WikP).

Ethnologue: wru. Alternate Names: Mapute, Mopute.

1999: see under BUNGKU-TOLAKI LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WASCO-WISRAM] Upper Chinook, also known as Kiksht, Columbia Chinook, and Wasco-Wishram after its last surviving dialect, is a recently extinct language of the US Pacific Northwest. It had 69 speakers in 1990, of whom 7 were monolingual: five Wasco and two Wishram. In 2001, there were five remaining speakers of Wasco. The last fully fluent speaker of Kiksht, Gladys Thompson, died in July 2012. She had been honored for her work by the Oregon Legislature in 2007. Two new speakers were teaching Kiksht at the Warm Springs Indian Reservation in 2006. The Northwest Indian Language Institute of the University of Oregon formed a partnership to teach Kiksht and Numu in the Warm Springs schools. Audio and video files of Kiksht are available at the Endangered Languages Archive. The last fluent speaker of the Wasco-Wishram dialect was Madeline Brunoe McInturff, and she died on 11 July 2006 at the age of 91 (WikP).

Ethnologue: wac. Alternate Names: Columbia Chinook, Kiksht, Upper Chinook, Wasco, Wishram.

1846: see 9) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

[WASEMBO] Wasembo, also known as Biapim, Gusap, Yankowan, is a Rai Coast language spoken in Madang Province, Papua New Guinea (WikP).

Ethnologue: gsp. Alternate Names: Biapim, Gusap, Yankowan.

1976: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WASHO] Washo /'wɒʃou/ (or Washoe; endonym wá:šiw ʔítlu) is an endangered Native American language isolate spoken by the Washo on the California–Nevada border in the drainages of the Truckee and Carson Rivers, especially around Lake Tahoe. While there are only 20 elderly native speakers of Washo, since 1994 there has been a small immersion school that has produced a number of moderately fluent younger speakers. The immersion school has since closed its doors and the language program now operates through the Cultural Resource Department for the Washoe Tribe. The language is still very much endangered; however, there has been a renaissance in the language revitalization movement as many of the students who attended the original immersion school have become teachers. Ethnographic Washo speakers belonged to the Great Basin culture area and they were the only non-Numic group of that area. The language has borrowed from the neighboring Uto-Aztecan, Maiduan and Miwokan languages and is connected to both the Great Basin and California sprachbunds (WikP).

Ethnologue: was. Alternate Names: Washoe.

1907-1930: see Vol. 15 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1995: [IUW] Beginning Washo / by William H. Jacobsen, Jr.; Donald R. Tuohy, editor. Carson City, Nev.: Nevada State Museum, c1996. iv, 58 p.; 28 cm. Original silver and blue wrappers, lettered in blue. Occasional papers (Nevada State Museum); no. 5. Includes bibliographical references (p. 53-58). "Vocabulary of the Lessons," Washo-English, pp. 46-52.

"This brief introduction to the Washo language is intended to address the lack of reliable information that is readily available to the public... Two spellings have persisted for the name of this people and language: Washo and Washoe. They both have good pedigree, and it is inappropriate to think of one as more correct than the other.... I am acutely aware of the fact that these few lessons... offer a mere toehold in this rich and complex language" (Foreword).

[WASKIA] Waskia (Vaskia, Woskia) is a Papuan language of Papua New Guinea. It is spoken on half of Karkar Island, and a small part of the shore on the mainland, by 20,000 people; language use is vigorous. The Waskia share their island with speakers of Takia, an Oceanic language which has been restructured under the influence of Waskia, which is the inter-community language (WikP).

Ethnologue: wsk. Alternate Names: Vaskia, Woskia.

1978: [IUW] A Waskia grammar sketch and vocabulary, by Malcolm Ross with John Natu Paol. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1978. v, 119 p.; 25 cm. Original pale gray-green wrappers, lettered in black. Pacific linguistics. Series B no. 56. Waskia-English vocabulary, pp. 80-115, notes, pp. 116-117. Bibliography: p. 118-119.

"The vocabulary ... was compiled in the main by John Natu Paol, who also classified the verb-roots. Grammatical data and examples were added by the writer [Malcom Ross]. The list contains approximately 800 items, excluding cross-references and sub-entries" (p. 80).

[WATHAWURRUNG] Wathawurrung (Wathaurong, Wada wurrung; obsolete Barrabool) is the extinct Indigenous Australian language spoken by the Wathaurong people of the Kulin Nation of Central Victoria. It was spoken by 15 clans south of the Werribee River and the Bellarine Peninsula to Streatham (WikP).

Ethnologue: wth. Alternate Names: Wada wurrung, Wadawio, Waddorow, Wadhaurung, Wadjawuru, Wadourer, Wadthaurung, Waitowrung, Warra, Wathaurong, Wathaurung, Wathawurung, Wathurung, Watorrong, Wiityahuurong, Wioura, Witaoro, Witawurong, Witoura, Witouro, Witowro, Witowurong, Witowurrung, Witowurrung, Witowurung, Wittyawhuurong, Woddowro, Woddowrong, Wod-dowrong, Wollowurong, Woeeewoorong, Wothowurong, Wuddyawurra, Wuddyawurru, Wudjawuru, Wudjawurung, Wudja-wurung, Wudthaurung.

1998: [LILLYbm] Wathawurrung and the Colac language of southern Victoria, ed. By Barry J. Blake. Canberra: Pacific linguistics, Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University, 1998. Original gray-green wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [2] i-iv v-x, 1-177 178-180. First edition. Series: Pacific linguistics, Series C, 149. Includes "Wathawurrung: the Language of the Geelong-Ballarat Area," by Barry J. Blake, Ian Clark & Sharnthi H. Krishna-Pillay, pp. 59-153, with English-Wathawurrung vocabulary, compiled from historical sources, pp. 92-153, with language map. Includes bibliographical references. Second copy: [IUW].

"There are 135 spellings of the name to be found in the literature.... Wathawurrung is a Kulin language in the terminology of Schmidt (1919); that is, it is related to the Central Victorian language, the Western Victorian language and the Colac language.... The last competent speaker of Wathawurrung is believed to have been Ellen Richards.... She was interviewed by R. H. Mathews around the turn of the century" (pp. 59-64).

The volume also includes "The Colac Language," by Barry J. Blake, Ian Clark & Julie Reid, pp. 155-177, with English-Colac glossary, taken from historical sources, pp. 164-176, with language map.

"We shall refer to the people as Gulidjan and their language as the Colac language. It appears that the Gulidjan were a small tribe inhabiting an area around Lake Colac.... In 1858 the Gulidjan numbered 19 people. In 1912 six Gulidjan were residing at Elliminyt: the Sharp and Crow families.... Descendants of the Crow family were still resident in Colac in 1966" (pp. 155-157).

[WATUBELA] Watubela is a language of the Molucca Islands, Indonesia (WikP).

Ethnologue: wah. Alternate Names: Esiriun, Kasiui, Kasui, Kesui, Matabello, Snabi Watubela, Wesi.

1867: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAURÁ] Waurá (Wauja) is an Arawakan language spoken in Brazil. It is "partially intelligible" with Mehináku. The entire population speaks the language (WikP).

Ethnologue: wau. Alternate Names: Aura, Uaura, Wauja.

1894: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WAWONII] Wawonii is an Austronesian language (one of the Celebic languages) of the Wawonii (Konawe Kepulauan Regency, Southeast Sulawesi) and Menui (in Morowali Regency, Central Sulawesi) islands of Indonesia. The language is quite close to the Bungku language (WikP).

Ethnologue: wow. Alternate Names: Wowonii.

1999: see under BUNGKU-TOLAKI LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAYAMPI] Wayampi (Guayapi, Oiampí) is a Tupi–Guarani language spoken by the Wayampi people. It is spoken in French Guiana and Brazil (WikP).

Ethnologue: oym. Alternate Names: Guaiapi, Guayapi, Oiampí, Oyampí, Oyampík, Oyanpík, Waiampi, Waiãpi, Wajapae, Wajapuku, Wayapae, Wayãpi, “Oiampipucu” (pej.), “Oyampipuku” (pej.).

1892: see under WAYANA.

1978: [IUW] Dicionário por tópicos nas línguas oiampí (wajapĩ)-português / por Roberta Olson. Brasília: Summer Institute of Linguistics, 1978. 49 p.; 22 cm. Library binding, preserving original front and rear brownish-orange wrappers, lettered in black and brownish-orange. Ensaios lingüísticos; 2. Thematically arranged vocabulary, Wajapĩ-Portuguese, pp. 1-49.

[WAYANA] Wayana (also referenced as Ojana, Ajana, Aiana, Ouyana, Uajana, Upurui, Oepoeroei, Roucouyen, Oreocoyana, Orkokoyana, Urucuiana, Urukuyana, and Alucuyana in the literature) is language of the Cariban family, spoken by the Wayana people, who live mostly in the borderlands of French Guiana, Brazil, and Suriname. The exact number of Wayana is unclear. The issue is complicated due to the fact that counts are done on a per-country basis. SIL Ethnologue lists 850 users of the language and 1950 ethnic Wayana in all countries, using counts from 2006 and 2007. Instituto Socioambiental, a Brazilian NGO, lists 1629 ethnic Wayana, using counts from 2002 and 2014. The count of ethnic Wayana individuals is further complicated due to the close ties that the Wayana share with other ethnic groups in the region, especially the Aparai in Brazil, to the extent that they are sometimes considered one group, the Wayana-Aparai (WikP).

Ethnologue: way. Alternate Names: Alukuyana, Oayana, Oiana, Oyana, Roucouyenne, Uaiana, Upurui, Wajana.

1882: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1892: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1893: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1909-1911: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1909-1946: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WAYU] Vayu (वायु), Wayu or Hayu (हायु) is a Sino-Tibetan language spoken in Nepal by about 1740 people in the Janakpur Zone. Dialects include Sindhuli and Marin Khola (WikP).

Ethnologue: vay. Alternate Names: Bayu, Hayu, Vayu, Wayo.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1880: see 1880b under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WAYUU] The Wayuu language, or Goajiro (Wayuu: Wayuunaiki), is spoken by 305,000 indigenous Wayuu people in northwestern Venezuela and northeastern Colombia on the Guajira Peninsula. Wayuu is one of the major Arawakan languages. There are minimal differences depending on the region of La Guajira in which speakers live. Most of the younger generations speak Spanish fluently. The extinct Guanebucan language may actually have been a dialect of Wayuu. To promote cultural integration and bilingual education among Wayuu and other Colombians, the Kamusuchiwo'u Ethno-educative Center or Centro Etnoeducativo Kamusuchiwo'u came up with the initiative of creating the first illustrated Wayuunaiki-Spanish, Spanish-Wayuunaiki dictionary. Less than 1% of Wayuu speakers are literate in Wayuu while 5 to 15% are literate in Spanish. There are 200,000 speakers in Venezuela and 120,000 in Colombia. Smith (1995) reports that a mixed Guajiro-Spanish language is replacing Wayuu in both countries. However, Campbell (1997) could find no information on this. (WikP)

Ethnologue: guc. Alternate Names: Goajiro, Guajira, Guajiro, Uáira, Wahiho, Waiu, Wayu, Wayúu, Wayuunaiki.

1878: [IUW] Gramática, catecismo i vocabulario de la lengua goajira, por Rafael Celedon; con una introduccion i un apéndice por E. Uricoechea. Paris, Maisonneuve i cia, 1878. 179 p. fold. map. 25 cm. Library binding. Collection linguistique américaine, t. V. Collection linguistique américaine, t. III. Goajiro [Wayuu]-Spanish, pp. [89]-123, Spanish-Goajiro [Wayuu], pp. [125]-156, appendix, Spanish-Goajiro [Wayaa], pp. [157]-168, phrases, Spanish-Wayuu, pp. [169]-171, addition to cardinal numbers, in Wayuu, p. 172, "Palabras de la Lengua Guamaca que se habla en el pueblo del Rosario i en Marocasa", Spanish-Guamaca [Malayo], pp. [173]-170.

1958?: [IUW] Wayúunaikí. Cartilla guajira, by Martha Hildebrandt. Caracas, Ministerio de Justicia, Comisión Indigenista [1958?-]. v. illus. 21 cm.

1963: [IUW] Diccionario guajiro-español, by Martha Hildebrandt. Caracas: República de Venezuela, Ministerio de Justicia, Comisión Indigenista, 1963. 273 p.; 24 cm. Serie "Lenguas indígenas de Venezuela"; 2. "Mayo de 1963."

1969: [IUW] Aprenda el guajiro: gramática y vocabularios / Camilo Múgica. [Barranquilla, Colombia: Gráficas Mora-Escofet, 1969]. 352 p.: ill., port.; 23 cm. Library binding. Guajiro [Wayuu]-Spanish vocabulary (printed on pink paper), pp. 225-289, Spanish-Guajiro [Wayuu] (printed on green paper), pp. 291-352.

1977-1981: [LILLYbm] Diccionario de la lengua guajira, [Vol. I] guajira-castellano, by Miguel Angel Jusayú [1934-], II castellano-guajira, by Miguel Angel Jusayú & Jesús Olza Zubiri. Caracas: Maracaibo: Universidad Catolica Andres Bello, Centro de Lenguas Indigenas; Biblioteca Corpozulia, 1977, 1981. Original white wrappers, lettered in black, with colored illustrations on front covers. Pp. [Vol. I] 1-5 6-

588 589-592 (with fold-out table); [Vol. II] 1-5 6-228 229-232. 23 cm. First edition. Series: vol. 1: Serie Lenguas indigenas de Venezuela 18. Includes [Vol. I] Guajira-Spanish, pp. [17]-588, and [Vol. II] Spanish-Guajira, pp. [17]-[223], with appendix of Guajira names of plants, birds and animals, pp. [225-228]. Second copy: [IUW].

1988: [IUW] Diccionario sistemático de la lengua guajira / Miguel Angel Jusayú, Jesús Olza Zubiri. Caracas: Universidad Católica Andrés Bello, Centro de Lenguas Indígenas, 1988. xxi, 199 p.; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original orange front and rear wrappers, lettered in black, with black, white and orange drawing of three birds on front cover. Guajira [Wayuu]-Spanish, pp. [1]-199. Includes bibliographical references, including detailed history of earlier works of lexicography.

2000: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WELSH] Welsh (Cymraeg or y Gymraeg, pronounced Welsh pronunciation: [kəm'raig, ə gəm'raig]) is a member of the Brittonic branch of the Celtic languages. It is spoken natively in Wales, by few in England, and in Y Wladfa (the Welsh colony in Chubut Province, Argentina). Historically, it has also been known in English as "Cambrian", "Cambric" and "Cymric". The Welsh Language (Wales) Measure 2011 gave the Welsh language official status in Wales, making it the only language that is de jure official in any part of the United Kingdom, with English being de facto official. Thus, official documents and procedures require Welsh and English to be given equality in the conduct of the proceedings of the National Assembly for Wales (WikP).

1547 [1969]: [IUW] A dictionary in English and Welsh, 1547, by William Salesbury. Menston, (Yorks.) Scholar P., 1969. 166 p. 24 cm. Series: English linguistics, 1500-1800--a collection of facsimile reprints no. 180. "A Scholar Press facsimile." Facsimile reprint of 1st ed, London, Imprinted by John Waley, 1547.

1632: [LILLY] Antiquæ linguæ Britannicæ, nunc vulgò dictæ Cambro-Britannicæ, a suis Cymraecæ vel Cambricae, ab aliis Wallicæ, et linguæ Latinæ, dictionarium duplex: Prius, Britannico-Latinum, plurimis venerandæ antiquitatis Britannicæ monumentis respersum. Posterius, Latino-Britannicum. Accesserunt adagia Britannica, & plura & emendatiora quàm antehàc edita. Londini: Impress. in ædibus R. Young, impensis Joan. Davies SS. Th. D., An. Dom. 1632. [296] p. 4°. Oikkard & Redgrve. Short title catalogue: 6347. Edited; and the first part compiled by John Davies; the second part compiled by Thomas Williams. Half-bound in calf, marbled boards; spine lettered in gilt. [PB 2193 . L3 D25].

1688 [1972]: [IUW] The British language in its lustre, 1688, by Thomas Jones. Menston, Scholar Press, 1972. [349] p. 20 cm. Series: English linguistics, 1500-1800--a collection of facsimile reprints no. 348. "A Scholar Press facsimile." Facsimile of 1st ed., London, Baskerville, J. Marsh, 1688. Welsh-English dictionary.

1753: [IUW] Antiquæ linguæ britannicæ thesaurus: being a British, or Welsh-English dictionary ... To which is prefix'd a compendious Welsh grammar, with all the rules in English ... And there is likewise added, a large collection of British proverbs, by Thomas Richards. Bristol, Printed and sold by F. Farley [etc.] 1753. 1 v. (various pagings) 20 cm. Head- and tailpieces.

1798: [IUW] Geiriadur saesneg a chymraeg. An English and Welsh dictionary, in which the English words, and sometimes the English idioms and phraseology are accompanied by those which synonymise or correspond with them in the Welsh language. The whole carefully comp. from the best sources and materials ... By William Richards. Carmarthen, Printed and sold by J. Daniel; [etc., etc.] 1798. 407 p. 19 cm. Second copy: [LILLYmk].

1804: [LILLY] An English and Welch Vocabulary; or, an Easy Guide to the Antient British Language, by Thomas Evans, To which is Prefixed a Grammar of the Welch Language, by Thomas Richards. Merthyr: Printed and Sold by W. Williams; sold likewise by T. Ostell, Ava Maria Lane, London; J. Bird, Cardiff; T. Jenkins, Swansea; J. Daniel, Carmarthen; and J. Heminway, Chester., [1804]. Pp. 1-3 4-102, 1-3 4-87, Contemporary dark brown half-leather and tan marbled paper over boards, spine lettered in gold. Errata on p. [1] of second pagination. English-Welsh vocabulary, pp. [3]-86 (second pagination). Although undated, this is the earliest (1804) issue, bound in the correct order as indicated on the title page.. Bookplate of Henry Blackwell, dated 1893.

1930-1932: [IUW] Geiriadur saesneg a chymraeg = Spurrell's English-Welsh dictionary / Edited by J. Bodvan Anwyl, aided by Sir Edward Anwyl. 10th ed., cor. and augm. Carmarthen: W. Spurrell, 1930-1932. 2 v.; 19 cm. In two parts: English-Welsh and Welsh-English. Second edition has special t.p.: Geiriadur cymraeg a saesneg: Spurrell's Welsh-English dictionary. 1930.

1967: [IUW] Geiriadur Prifysgol Cymru. A dictionary of the Welsh language. Golygydd: R.J. Thomas. Cyhoeddwyd ar ran Bwrdd Gwybodau Celtaidd, Prifysgol Cymru. Caerdydd, Gwasg Prifysgol Cymru, 1967-]. 4 vols. v. 29 cm. Cf. Dalby 1620. Welsh-English dictionary.

1969: [IUW] Welsh-English, English-Welsh dictionary, by H. Meurig Evans, W. O. Thomas; (consulting editor) Yr Athro Stephen J. Williams. New York: Saphrograph, 1969. xxix, 476, 340 p.: ill., map; 19 cm.

1972a: [IULaw] Termau cyfraith, Welsh legal terms [gan] Robyn Lewis; gyda rhagair gan Arglwydd Morris o Borth-y-Gest. Llandysul, Gwasg Gomer, 1972. xxxiii, 226 p. 22 cm. Bibliography: p. 219-226. Welsh-English legal dictionary.

1972b: [IUW] Termau iaith a llên [gan] Morgan D. Jones. Llandysul, Gwasg Gomer, 1972. 115 p. 17 cm. Bibliography: p. 6. Welsh-English philology dictionary.

1973c: [IUW] Geiriadur termau: Dictionary of terms; editor Jac L. Williams. Caerdydd [Cardiff]: Gwasg Prifysgol Cymru ar ran Ysgol Addysg Prifysgol Cymru, 1973. xv, 544 p. 23 cm. English-Welsh and Welsh-English dictionary of terms and phrases.

1976: [IUW] Y geiriadur mawr: the complete Welsh-English, English-Welsh dictionary / H. Meurig Evans, W. O. Thomas; golygydd ymgynghorol (consulting editor) Stephen J. Williams. 7th ed. Abertawe: C. Davies (Cyhoeddwyd); Llandysul: Gwasg Gomer, 1976. [xv], 367 p.; 22 cm.

1995: [IUW] The Welsh Academy English-Welsh dictionary = Geiriadur yr Academi / [edited by] Bruce Griffiths, Dafydd Glyn Jones. Cardiff: University of Wales Press, 1995. lxxxi, 1710 p.; 29 cm. Dalby 1621: "A major bilingual dictionary, far better than anything that has gone before." Includes bibliographical references (p. lxxx-lxxxi).

1998: [IUW] The Welsh learner's dictionary, by Heini Gruffudd. Talybont, Ceredigion [Wales]: Y Lolfa, c1998. 256 p.; 19 cm. Welsh-English dictionary.

2000: [IUW] The pocket modern Welsh dictionary: a guide to the living language / edited by Gareth King. Oxford [England]; New York: Oxford University Press, 2000. xxviii, 529 p.; 20 cm. Welsh-English, English-Welsh dictionary.

2007: [IUW] Modern Welsh dictionary: a guide to the living language / edited by Gareth King. Oxford; New York: Oxford University Press, 2007. xxiv, 536 p.; 20 cm.

" This superb edition of Oxford's Modern Welsh Dictionary has been thoroughly updated with new words in both English and Welsh. It contains hundreds of example phrases of spoken and written Welsh, so that readers can see the language in context. Excellent grammar notes on tricky words and important topics mean that help is always at hand, whether users are working in Welsh or in English. Also included is a new section on vocabulary relating to the Welsh Assembly, to complement the vocabulary lists of countries, regions, languages, and cities that are already present in the dictionary. The handy paperback format and superior coverage of vocabulary make the dictionary the ideal first-choice for those who want a quick-reference dictionary that can be carried easily" (publisher's description).

[WEMBA WEMBA] Wemba-Wemba is an extinct Indigenous Australian language once spoken along the tributaries of the Murrumbidgee River. Jardwadjali (with dialects Jagwadjali, Nundadjali, Mardidjali) may be Wemba-Wemba, or may be closer to the Madhi-Ladji-Wadi varieties (WikP).

Ethnologue: xww. Alternate Names: Gormmjanyuk, Gourrmjanyuk, Jambajamba, Jupa-galk-wournditch, Mallenjerrick, Waamba, Waimbiwaimbi, Wamba, Wamba Wamba, Wambawamba, Wembawemba, Weumba, Womba, Yamba, Yambayamba, Yowewnillurn, Yuppila.

1992: [LILLY] Wembawemba dictionary, by Luise Hercus. Canberra: L.A. Hercus, 1992. 116 p.: ill.; 30 cm. Original green wrappers, lettered in black, with a black and white photo of tribal members on front cover. Wembawemba [Wemba Wemba]-English, pp. 20-72, English-Wembawemba [Wemba Wemba], pp.76-115. Includes bibliographical references (p. 116). First dictionary of the language. The only earlier published vocabulary was that of A.C. Stone in 1911, "The Aborigines of Lake Boga", Royal Society of Victoria, Proceedings 23, 433-468.

[WESTERN DESERT LANGUAGE] Western Desert Language is an Australian aboriginal dialect continuum. Linguists consider many of the dialects as separate languages.

Ethnologue lists Western Desert Language only as an alternate name for Ngaanyatjarra.

1957: [IUW] An introduction to the Western desert language: a pedagogical description of the Western desert language, based on the dialect spoken at Warburton Ranges, Western Australia / by W. H. Douglas. [Sydney]: University of Sydney, Australia, 1957, cover 1959. viii, 124 p.; 25 cm. Library binding, preserving original pale yellow front wrappers, lettered in black. Oceania linguistic monographs; no. 4. Notes Cover title: An introduction to the Western desert language of Australia. Includes a "Comparative Word-list in the dialects of the Western Desert language spoken at Warburton Ranges, Ooldea, Mt. Margaret, Jiggalong and Norseman," "English-W. R.-Ooldea-Mt. Mgt.-Jigalong [sic]-Norseman," pp. 120-121 (38 words), and "Fitzroy Crossing Vocabulary list: Supplied by Mrs. N. Rowley, U. A. Mission, Fitzroy Crossing," English-Fitzroy Crossing, p. 121 (30 words).

"Below are given some of the 'nicknames' given to these dialects by neighbouring groups and based on their special idiosyncrasies. Warbuton Ranges: nga:nyatjara, yungaratjara; Ooldea: nyangatjatjara, kulpantjatjara; Mt. Margaret: nyanganyatjara, puntutjara; Jiggalong: matutjara, piniritjara; Norseman: mgatjil, malpa; Fitzroy Crossing: walmatjiri, ngapatjara" (p. 120).

"How little is truly known of the culture of the Western Desert people. How much has yet to be learned about the feelings and aspirations of these children of the desert.... I have prepared this Grammar as a contribution towards the speeding-up of the translation of the Book of books into the mother tongue of the Aborigines" (p. V).

1959: [LILLY] Illustrated Topical dictionary of the Western Desert Language Warburton Ranges Dialect, Western Australia, by W. H. Douglas. Perth: W. Australia: United Aborigines Mission—Language Department, 1959. [4] 22 p. Original gray-blue wrappers, lettered in black. Illustrated vocabulary, Western Desert [Ngaanyatjarra]-English, pp. 1-22. With the ink stamp of the author on the rear cover.

"This work is designed to bridge the gap, for the student of the Western Desert Language, between the Grammar and a complete alphabetical dictionary. It should supply vocabulary in an interesting and easily assimilable form" (Introduction).

1977: [LILLYbm] Illustrated topical dictionary of the Western Desert language: Warburton Ranges dialect, Western Australia, by Wilfrid Henry Douglas. Canberra: Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies, 1977. vi, 25 p.: ill.; 25 cm. Research and regional studies;; no. 11. Original brown and yellow-brown wrappers, lettered in brown and yellow-brown. Revised edition.

"In its original form this dictionary was published by the UAM Language Department for the use of missionaries and government officials working in the Western Desert Area. It was designed to bridge the gap between the grammar and a complete alphabetical dictionary, to supply vocabulary in an easily assimilable form and to stimulate interest in Aboriginal language and culture.... In this second edition a greater attempt has been made to reflect the Aboriginal view of nature and to suggest indigenous methods of categorization" (Preface).

[WICHITA] Wichita is an extinct Caddoan language once spoken in Oklahoma by the Wichita and Affiliated Tribes. The last fluent heritage speaker, Doris Lamar-McLemore, died in 2016, although in 2007 there were three first-language speakers alive. This has rendered Wichita functionally extinct; however, the tribe offers classes to revitalize the language and works in partnership with Wichita Documentation Project of the University of Colorado, Boulder. When the Europeans began to settle North America, Wichita separated into three dialects; Waco, Tawakoni, and Kirikirʔi:s (aka, Wichita Proper). However, when the language was threatened and the number of speakers decreased, dialect differences largely disappeared (WikP).

Ethnologue: wic.

1851-1857: see Vol. 5 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1860: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 19 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[WIK-NGATHAN] Wik-Ngathan, or Wik-Iinj-tjenj (Wik-Iiny-chanya), is a Paman language spoken on the Cape York Peninsula of Queensland, Australia, by the Wik-Ngathan people. It is closely related to the other Wik-Ngathan language, Wik-Ngatharr and more distantly to the other Wik languages. In 1981 there were 130 speakers. A dictionary of Wik-Ngathan has been compiled by Peter Sutton. (WikP)

Ethnologue: wig.

1995: [LILLYbm] Wik-Ngathan dictionary, by Peter [John] Sutton [1946-]. Prospect, South Australia: Caitlin Press, 1995. Original pink wrappers, lettered in maroon, with a full-page photo of an aboriginal on the front cover. Pp. [4] i-xii, [18 (31 photographic plates)] [2] 1-182. First edition. Three hundred copies. This copy signed by the author on the title page. This is the first dictionary of the language.

"This dictionary of the Wik-Ngathan language of western Cape York Peninsula, Queensland, is a by-product of anthropological and linguistic research I have carried out in the area of Cape Keerweer and Aurukun since 1976.... As it happens, there is probably enough here to justify the appearance of a Wik-Ngathan dictionary at this time, even though it only scratches the surface of the language.... Although Wik-Mungkan [cf. Kilham, Pamulkan, et al. Dictionary and source-book of the Wik-Mungkan language, 1986] are related and are structurally very similar, their differences are also considerable and they are not dialects of a single languages.... All speakers of Wik-Ngathan are fluent in Wik-Mungkan" (Preface). "Wik-Ngathan is a language belonging to several hundred people who live mainly at or near Aurukun in western Cape York Peninsula.... Those who speak it well would now number perhaps a hundred, possibly fewer" (Introduction).

[WINTU] Wintu /wɪn'tu:/ is a critically endangered Wintuan language spoken by the Wintu people of Northern California. It is the northernmost member of the Wintun family of languages. The Wintuan family of languages was spoken in the Sacramento River Valley and in adjacent areas up to the Carquinez Strait of San Francisco Bay. Wintun is a branch of the hypothetical Penutian language phylum or stock of languages of western North America, more closely related to four other families of Penutian languages spoken in California: Maiduan, Miwokan, Yokuts, and Costanoan. The Wintu were in contact also with adjacent speakers of Hokan languages such as Southeastern, Eastern, and Northeastern Pomo; Athabaskan languages such as Wailaki and Hupa; Yukian languages such as Yuki and Wappo; and other Penutian languages such as Miwok, Maidu, Yokuts, and Saclan. Besides these contiguous languages surrounding the Wintun area wider contacts with speakers of Russian, Spanish, and English. As of 2011, Headman Marc Franco of the Winnemem Wintu has been working with the Indigenous Language Institute on revitalization of the Winnemem Wintu language (WikP).

Ethnologue: wnw. Alternate Names: Northern Wintun, Wintun.

1846: see 10) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 14 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1977: [LILLYbm] The Wintun Indians of California and their neighbors, by Peter Knudtson. Happy Camp, Calif.: Naturegraph Publishers, 1977. Original stiff gray and white wrappers, with photograph on front cover. Pp. 1-11 12-96 + 1 folded map in pocket. First edition. Series: American Indian map-book series, v. 3. Includes Wintu-English vocabulary, pp. 78-80, Wintu place names, pp.81-84. There was also a hardbound issue.

"This brief list of words is derived from Du Bois(1935), Goldschmidt (1951), Hogue (1948), Kroeber (1932) and from my own conversations with living Wintus" (p. 78).

1981: [LILLYbm] Wintu Dictionary, by Alice Schlichter. Berkeley: Department of Linguistics, 1981. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-2 3-388 [4]. First edition. Report #2, Survey of California and Other Indian Languages. Includes Wintu-English, pp. 13-324, and an English-Wintu index, pp. 326-388. This is the first dictionary of Wintu.

"Wintu, the northernmost member of the Wintun family of languages, is now remembered by five or six speakers living in and around Redding, California... A grammar and another dictionary prepared by Harvey Pitkin who worked with different informants early in the 1960's, also supported by the Survey, will be published by University of California Press [see below]" (Introduction).

1985: [LILLYbm] Wintu Dictionary, by Harvey Pitkin. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1985. Original orange and white wrappers, lettered in black and white. Pp. i-viii ix-xix xx, 1-922. First edition. University of California Publications, Linguistics, Vol. 95. Includes Wintu-English, pp. 1-820, and English-Wintu, pp. 821-920, with bibliography, pp. 921-922. Second copy: [IUW].

"It ... seems remarkable that from so few surviving native speakers of a virtually extinct language evidence of such rich semantic discrimination should have still been preserved" (Preface).

[WIPI] Wipi, also known as Gidra, Jibu or Oriomo,[2] is a Papuan language of New Guinea. It is a member of the Eastern Trans Fly family, the other languages of this family being Gizrra, Meriam Mir and Bine. The family has influenced the neighbouring Kiwai language as well as Kalau Lagau Ya (WikP).

Ethnologue: gdr. Alternate Names: Gidra, Jibu, Oriomo.

1976: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WIRADHURI] Wiradjuri (/wə'rædzəri/; many other spellings) is a Pama–Nyungan language of the Wiradhuric subgroup. It is the traditional language of the Wiradjuri people of Australia. A progressive revival is underway, with the language being taught in schools. Wiraiari and Jeithi may have been dialects.

Ethnologue: wrh. Alternate Names: Berrembeel, Warandgeri, Werogery, Wiiratheri, Wira-Athoree, Wiradhurri, Wiradjuri, Wiraduri, Wiraidyuri, Wirajeree, Wirashuri, Wiratheri, Wirracharee, Wirrai'yarra, Wooragurie, Wordjerg.

1846: see 8) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1875: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1892: see under AWABAKAL.

1904: [LILLY] "The Wiradyuri and other Languages of New South Wales," by R. H. Mathews. Reprinted from: The Journal of the Anthropological Institute, vol. XXXIV, July-December, 1904, pp. 284-305. Offprint in original green wrappers, lettered in black.

Sixth of six articles, offprints, etc. in a binding with binder's title: Mathews. Languages of Australia. With the bookplate of James Edge Partington. Bound in half brown morocco-grained cloth and grey boards. Original wrappers for this piece retained. Vocabulary: English-Wiradyuri [Wiradhuri], pp. 299-305.

"The vocabulary contains about 430 words collected personally among the Wiradyuri natives on the Lachlan, Macquarie, and Murrumbidgee rivers. Instead of arranging the words alphabetically they are placed together under separate headings" (p. 299).

[WIRANGU] The Wirangu language is a moribund Australian Aboriginal language traditionally spoken by the Wirangu people, living on the west coast of South Australia across a region encompassing modern Ceduna and Streaky Bay, stretching west approximately to the head of the Great Australian Bight and east to Lake Gairdner. Because of the intensive culture contacts in the southern half of South Australia, which brought dislocation and culture change, traditional lifeways and traditional ways of speaking declined during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. In the case of Wirangu, the establishment of the Koonibba mission in 1898 brought intense contact with other languages, in particular Kokatha. As all languages spoken in South Australia are ultimately derived from the same ancestor, they share a common inheritance of grammar, lexicon and pronunciation. A Wirangu language revitalization program has been underway at Ceduna and surrounding areas since 2004. In 2005 the Far West Languages Centre was established in Ceduna. The Centre supports and promotes the use of the Wirangu language as well as other extremely endangered local languages, such as Gugada/Kokatha and Mirning (WikP).

Ethnologue: wgu. Alternate Names: Jilbara, Naljara, Ngoleiadjara, Nhawu, Njangga, Nonga, Nyangga, Tidni, Tidnie, Titnie, Wanbiri, Wangon, Warrangoo, Willeuroo, Windakan, Wirangga, Wirongu, Wironguwongga, Wirrongu, Wirrung, Wirrunnga, Yilrea.

1917: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1918: [LILLYbm] "Aborigines of the West Coast of South Australia. Vocabularies and Ethnographical Notes," by Daisy M. Bates, pp. 152-167, in: Transaction and Proceedings of the Royal Society of South Australia, Vol. XLII. Adelaide: Published by the Society, December 24, 1918. Original gray wrappers and dark gray paper spine, lettered in black. Pp. iv-v vi-vii viii, 1-333 334 + 32 plates. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Wirongu [Wirangu]-English vocabulary, pp. 153-160.

1999: [IUW] A grammar of the Wirangu language from the west coast of South Australia / L.A. Hercus. Canberra: Pacific Linguistics, 1999. xxii, 217 p.: ill.; 25 cm. Library binding, preserving the original gray-green, black and white wrappers, lettered in white and black. Pacific linguistics. Series C; 150. Wirangu-English vocabulary, pp. 153-190, English-Wirangu finder list, pp. 1911-213. Includes bibliographical references.

"Until 1993 I had no familiarity with Wirangu, although I had frequently thought about this language while working on the two neighboring languages: Kuyani and Mirniny. I went to Ceduna ... and found that people there were particularly anxious to see work done on Wirangu.... We first went through the vocabulary lists compiled by Daisy Bates [see 1918 above] ... This was a matter of special personal satisfaction for Doreen Miller and Gladys Miller: it was their grandmother, Lucy Washington Mindiyi of Euria Rockhole who had given Daisy Bates much of her material" [with further details on the genesis of the vocabulary] (Preface).

[WIRU] Wiru or Witu is the language spoken by the Wiru people of Ialibu-Pangia District of the Southern Highlands Province of Papua New Guinea. It may be a language isolate within the family of Trans–New Guinea languages (WikP).

Ethnologue: ISO 639-3 wiu. Alternate Names: Witu.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WITOTO, MUINANI] is an indigenous American language spoken in western South America (WikP).

Ethnologue: hux. Alternate Names: Muinane Huitoto, Nipode Witoto, Nüpode Huitoto.

1921-1923: [IUW] Religion und Mythologie der Uitoto, Textaufnahmen und Beobachtungen bei einem Indianerstamm in Kolumbien, Südamerika, von Professor Dr. Konrad Theodor Preuss. Göttingen, Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht; Leipzig, J. C. Hinrichs, 1921-23. 2 v. plates. 27 cm. Quellen der Religionsgeschichte. [Gruppe 11: Amerikanische Religionen] "In der Reihenfolge des Erscheinens Band 10[-11]". Paged continuously.

1994: Spanish translation [IUW] Religión y mitología de los Uitotos: recopilación de textos y observaciones efectuadas en una tribu indígena de Colombia, Suramérica / Konrad Theodor Preuss. 1. ed. corr. y aum. Santafé de Bogotá: Instituto Colombiano de Cultura: Corporación Colombiana para la Amazonia Araracuara: Editorial Universidad Nacional, 1994. 2 v.; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original front and rear gray-green and blue wrappers, lettered in white, with color photos of stone decorations on front and rear covers. Rev. translation of: Religion und Mythologie der Uitoto. 1. pt. Introducción a los textos. 2. pt. Textos y diccionario. Uitoto [Muinani Witoto]-Spanish, pp. [797]-912. Includes bibliographical references. The introductory remarks (pp. [791]-793) to this Spanish translation of Preuss's dictionary explain that the Spanish version has been revised and corrected, since there were several faults in the treatment of Witoto in the German original.

1971: [LILLYbm] Vocabulario Huitoto Muinane, compiled by Eugene E. Minor & Dorothy Hendrich de Minor. [Yarinachocha, Peru]: Instituto Linguístico de Verano, 1971. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in green. Pp. i-vi vii-xi xii, 1-2 3-141 142-144. First edition. Serie Lingüística Peruana, No. 5. Huitoto Muinane-Spanish, pp. 3-74, and Spanish-Huitoto Muinane, pp. 77-131. Second copy: IUW, library binding, incorporating original pale yellow wrappers, lettered and decorated in green. "Primera edición" on verso of title page. First dictionary of Huitoto Muinane.

"Witoto is the name of a linguistic family including Bora, Ocaina, Murui, Minica, and Muinane... There now exist around 15 Muinane families in Columbia and around 80 families in Peru. The total number of Muinane probably doesn't exceed 3,000" (Prologue, tr: BM).

[WIYOT] Wiyot (also Wishosk) is an extinct Algic language, formerly spoken by the Wiyot people of Humboldt Bay, California. The language's last native speaker, Della Prince, died in 1962. Wiyot, along with its geographical neighbor Yurok, were first identified as relatives of the Algonquin languages by Edward Sapir in 1913, though this classification was disputed for decades in what came to be known as the "Ritwan controversy". Due to the enormous geographical separation of Wiyot and Yurok from all other Algonquin languages, the validity of their genetic link was hotly contested by leading Americanist linguists; as Ives Goddard put it, the issue "has profound implications for the prehistory of North America". However, by the 1950s, the genetic relationship between the Algonquin languages and Wiyot and Yurok had been established to the satisfaction of most, if not all, researchers, giving rise to the term "Algic" to refer to the Algonquin languages together with Wiyot and Yurok. Some Wiyots are attempting a revival of the language (WikP).

Ethnologue: wiy. Alternate Names: Kowilth, Sulátēlūk, Weott, Weyot, Wishosk, Wiyoshk. Autonym: Soulátluk.

1851-1857: see Vol. 3 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 13 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1973: see under COMANCHE.

1993a: [IUW] Wiyot handbook I: glossary and concordance, by Karl V. Teeter & John D. Nichols. Winnipeg, Manitoba: Algonquian and Iroquoian Linguistics, 1993. vii, 423 p.; 28 cm. Memoir (Algonquian and Iroquoian Linguistics); 10. Includes bibliographical references: p. vi.

1993b: [IUW] Wiyot handbook II: interlinear translation and English index, by Karl V. Teeter & John D. Nichols. Winnipeg: Algonquian and Iroquoian Linguistics, 1993. vii, 315 p.; 28 cm. Memoir (Algonquian and Iroquoian Linguistics); 11. Includes bibliographical references and index.

[WOI] Woi (Wooi) is a Malayo-Polynesian language of Papua, Indonesia mainly spoken in the villages of Wooi and Woinap on Yapen Island and the village of Yenuari on Moismun Island (WikP). Population 1,800 (2012 Y. Sawaki).

Ethnologue: wbw. Alternate Names: Wo'oi.

1961: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WOIWURRUNG] Woiwurrung (sometimes spelt Woiwurrong, Woiworung, Wuywurrung) and Daungwurrung (Taungurong, Dhagung-wurrung, Thagungwurrung) are an Aboriginal language of the Kulin Nation of Central Victoria. Woiwurrung was spoken by the Woiwurrung and related peoples in the Yarra River (Birrarung) basin, and Daungwurrung by the Taungurung people north of the Great Dividing Range in the Goulburn River Valley around Mansfield, Benalla and Heathcote. They are often portrayed as distinct languages, but they were mutually intelligible. Ngurai-illamwurrung (Ngurrailam) may have been a clan name, a dialect, or a closely related language (WikP).

Ethnologue: wyi. Alternate Names: Gungung-willam, Mort Noular, Ngarukwillam, Oorongie, Urunjeri, Waarengbadawa, Wainworra, Wairwaioo, Warerong, Warorong, Warwaroo, Waverong, Wavoo-rong, Wawoo-rong, Wawoorong, Wawurong, Wawurrong, Woewo-rung, Woi-wurrong, Woiworung, Woiwurong, Woiwurru, Woiwurung, Woeeewoorong, Wowerong, Wurrundyirra-baluk, Wurrunjeri, Wurundjeri, Wurunjeri, Wurunjjerri-baluk, Wuywurrung, Yarra Yarra.

1879: [LILLY] On the Yarra Dialect and the Languages of Australia in connexion with those of the Mozambique and Portuguese Africa, by Hyde Clarke. [Melbourne: Mason, Firth and M'cutscheon, 1879]. 6 p. 21.5 x 13.5 cm. Original wrappers, lettered and ruled in black. A paper read before the Royal Society of Victoria, Nov. 18, 1879. Includes brief comparative vocabulary of Yarra [Woiwurrung] and "Africa" [various languages of Mozambique], pp. 1-2, and "Australian" [various other aboriginal languages from the general area of Woiwurrung]-"Kirmandi, Africa" [various languages of Mozambique], p. 3.

"A comparative study of vocabulary purporting to show a close connection between Australian language and Eastern African language. Clarke goes on to speculate that on whether or not Australians had come under ancient 'white' influence, and asserts that Australia was known to the Greeks" (bookseller's description: Rob Rulon-Miller).

[WOJENAKA] WikP redirects Woenaka, a language of the Côte d'Ivoire, to Maninka. Ethnologue lists Woenaka as a separate language.

Ethnologue: jod. Alternate Names: Malinké, Odiennekakan, Odienné Jula.

1904: see 1904a under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[WOLANE] The Wolane people are an ethnic group in southern Ethiopia. Wolane people speak a Semitic language [Wolane] which is closely related to Sil'te, Zay and Harari languages (WikP). Ethnologue reports the language is spoken by approximately 70,000 people (Meyer 2006).

1931: see under GURAGE LANGUAGES.

1979: see under GURAGE LANGUAGES.

[WOLANI] Wolani (Wodani) is a Papuan language spoken by about 5,000 people in the Paniai lakes region of the Indonesian province of Central Papua. It is related to the Moni, Ekari, Auye, and Dao languages and may be related to the Dani languages. Documentation is quite limited (WikP). Speakers, 5,000 (1992 UBS).

Ethnologue: wod. Alternate Names: Woda, Woda-Mo, Wodani.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WOLAYTTA] The Omoto languages of Ethiopia are a dialect cluster of the Omotic family, generally accepted as part of the Afro-Asiatic language family. They include the most populous Omotic language, Wolaytta, with two million speakers (WikP).

Ethnologue: wal. Alternate Names: Borodda, Omoto, Uba, Welaita, Wolaita, Wolaitta, Wolataita, Wolayta, "Ualamo" (pej.), "Uollamo" (pej.), "Walamo" (pej.), “Wallamo” (pej.), “Welamo” (pej.), “Wellamo” (pej.), “Wollamo” (pej.). Autonym: Wolaytta.

1938: see under OMETO LANGUAGES.

1997: [IUW] The Wolaytta language, by Marcello Lamberti and Roberto Sottile. Köln: R. Köppe, 1997. 664 p.; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving the original mustard yellow front wrapper, lettered in black. Studia linguarum Africae orientalis; Bd. 6. Wolaytta word list, Wolaytta-English, pp. 272-563, terms of relationship, English-Wolaytta, pp. [565]-566, names of useful plants, English common names, Latin-Wolaytta, pp. [567]-568, denomination of social classes, English-Wolaytta, P. 568. English-Wolaytta index, pp. [641]-657. Includes bibliographical references (p. [659]-664).

"While there are several, more or less short descriptions of different Ometo dialects, the data published until now on Wolaytta is quite poor ... The data published in this volume, has been collected by Professor Marcello Lamberti during six months field work in Ethiopia... The fourth part [of this work] consists of a list of approximately eleven hundred Wolaytta lexemes alphabetically ordered and accompanied by some etymological notes" (Introduction).

[WOLEAIAN] Woleaian is the main language of the island of Woleai and surrounding smaller islands in the state of Yap of the Federated States of Micronesia. Woleaian is a Trukic language. Within that family, its closest relative is Satawalese, with which it is largely mutually intelligible. Woleaian is divided into two dialects: Woleaian proper and Lamotrek, and is spoken by approximately 1700 people. Woleai has a writing system of its own, a syllabary based on the Latin alphabet (WikP).

Ethnologue: woe.

1821: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1976: [IUW] Woleaian-English dictionary, by Ho-min Sohn, Anthony F. Tawerilmang. Honolulu: University Press of Hawaii, c1976. xix, 363 p.; 23 cm. Library binding, preserving original front and rear white wrappers, lettered in black, with drawing of a tribal craft on front cover. Series: PALI language texts: Micronesia. Woleaian-English, pp. 3-177, English-Woleaian finder list, pp. 181-363.

"The Woleaian-English Dictionary is the first compiled of this language. It is designed as a reference work for native speakers in the Caroline Islands, for nonnative speakers who want to learn the language, and for linguists who are interested in the language for practical or theoretical purposes. The dictionary contains some 6,200 Woleaian entries" (from the rear cover).

[WOLIO] Wolio is an Austronesian language spoken in Bau-Bau on Buton Island, Southeast Sulawesi, Indonesia. Also known as Buton, it is a trade language and the former court language of the Sultan at Baubau. Today it is an official regional language; street signs are written in Wolio using the Arabic script (WikP).

Ethnologue: wlo. Alternate Names: Baubau.

1987: [LILLYbm] Wolio dictionary (Wolio-English-Indonesian) = Kamus Bahasa Wolio (Wolio-Inggeris-Indonesia), by J[ohannes] C[ornelis] Anceaux [1920-]. Dordrecht, Holland; Providence, R.I., U.S.A.: Foris Publications Holland, 1987. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold and decorated in blind. Pp. I-XI XII-

XVII XVIII-XX, 1 2-193 194-196. First edition. Includes Wolio-English-Indonesian, pp. [1]-[195]. This is the first dictionary of Wolio to include English. A Wolio-Indonesian dictionary was published in 1985.

"This dictionary is intended as a guide to the Wolio language, once the official language and vehicle of literature in the sultanate of Buton, South-East Sulawesi. Its main purpose is to open the door to the Wolio language and its traditional literature. Although Wolio poetry is still alive, the older literature, written in an adapted form of the Arabic script, is becoming more and more inaccessible to younger Wolio speakers, who have learned to read and write in the national language, Indonesian. It is especially for this younger generation that this dictionary is intended, in the hope that it may provide a key to their cultural heritage" (Preface).

[WOLOF] Wolof (/ˈwɒləf/) is a language of Senegal, the Gambia, and Mauritania, and the native language of the Wolof people. Like the neighbouring languages Serer and Fula, it belongs to the Senegambian branch of the Niger–Congo language family. Unlike most other languages of Sub-Saharan Africa, Wolof is not a tonal language. Wolof originated as the language of the Lebu people. It is the most widely spoken language in Senegal, spoken natively by the Wolof people (40% of the population) but also by most other Senegalese as a second language. "Wolof" is the standard spelling and may refer to the Wolof people or to Wolof culture. Variants include the older French Ouolof and the principally Gambian "Wollof". "Jolof", "jollof", etc., now typically refers either to the Jolof Empire or to jollof rice, a common West African rice dish. Now-archaic forms include "Volof" and "Olof" (WikP).

Ethnologue: wol. Alternate Names: Ouolof, Volof, Walaf, Waro-Waro, Yallof.

1802: [LILLY] Travels in Africa: performed during the years 1785, 1786, and 1787, in the western countries of that continent. Comprized between Cape Blanco of Barbary, 20 47 and Cape Palmas, 4 and 30' north latitude. Embellished with a general map of Africa, corrected from the most authentic discoveries, by Sylvain Meinrad Xavier de Golbéry (1742-1822). London: Printed for James Ridgeway, 1802. 2 vols. Contemporary calf. Includes Wolof-English vocabulary, pp. 121-128. This is the English translation by Francis Blagdon of the French original: Fragmens d'un Voyage en Afrique, fait pendant les années 1785, 1786 et 1787... published in 1802 [Gamble 4, p. i; "his vocabulary was published without acknowledgement by J. Corry (1807)"].

1816: [LILLYbm] Das Westliche Afrika, oder Sitten, Gebräuche und Gewohnheiten der Afrikaner zwischen dem Senegal und Gaambia und der Mohrenstämme in der grossen Wüste; nebst naturhistorischen Bemerkungen und der Geschichte der afrikanschen Colonien. Aus dem französischen des R. G. V. mit 44 Kupfern, zwey Landkarten und einem Musikblatte. Pesth: Konr. Ad. Hartleben, 1816. 4 vols. in two. Contemporary green cloth over boards; spines with double orange leather labels, lettered in gold. Pp. [Vol. 1-2] I-V VI-VIII, 9 10-153 154, ²I-5 6-123 124; [Vol. 3-4] I-5 6-155 156, ²I-5 6-154. First edition of German translation. Not in Zaunmüller. The French original appeared in four parts, of which the first was Le Senegal (Paris, 1814) by R. Geoffroy (and R. G. V.) in the series "L'Afrique; ou, Histoire, moeurs, usages et coutumes des africains," with "vocabulaire de langue ouolofe": 25 p. at end [Gamble 3, p. i; "his vocabulary was also reproduced in Walckenaer's Voyages... (1842)]. The German translation appeared as Vols. 9-12 (in two vols) in the series

"Miniaturgemälde aus der aus der Länder- und Völkerkunden von den Sitten, Gebräuchen der Lebensart und den Kostümen der verschiedenen Völkerschaften aller Welttheile." Includes German-Wolof vocabulary, pp. 130-153. First published German-Wolof vocabulary.

"Wolof is spoken up to thirty miles from the coast. A few Arabic and Portuguese words have entered the language, but very few. The language is charming and soft, easy to learn, and richer than many other languages of the savages. The blacks can write neither their words nor their numbers. The Wolofs count by fives, presumably because of the special preference they have for the right hand, which leads them to arrange everything they consider noble and respectable with to this hand" (Part I, p. 130, tr: BM)

1820a: [LILLY] Ta-re wa-loof, ta-re boo juk-à. First lessons in Jaloof, [by Hannah Kilham [1774-1832]]. Tottenham: Printed by George Stockwell Coventry, 1820. iv, [5]-24 p. 21 cm. Lilly copy removed from earlier binding. Includes "a short vocabulary" of Wolof-English, pp. 18-24. First separate publication on the Wolof language.

1820b: [LILLY] Travels in Africa, to the sources of the Senegal and Gambia, in 1818, by Gaspard Théodore Mollien, Comte de, 1796-1872. London: Sir R. Phillips, and co., 1820. ix, 128 p., 15 leaves of plates (1 fold.) ill., front., map 22 cm (8vo 8 in half-sheets). Modern quarter calf; map repaired. Translation of Voyage dans l'intérieur de l'Afrique, aux sources du Sénégal et de la Gambie [Gamble 5, p. I; "His vocabulary was also reproduced in Walcknaer's Voyages (1842)]. Probable first English ed.; first French ed. same year. Includes as appendix, "Vocabulary" English-Ioloff [Wolof]-Poula [Pulaar], pp. 124-127, Vocabulary of the Serrere Language, English-Serrere [Serer-Sine], p. 127. Second copy: IUW, contemporary binding, lacks map.

1967: Reprinted [IUW] Travels in the interior of Africa to the sources of the Senegal and Gambia performed by command of the French Government in the year 1818, by G. Mollien; edited by T.E. Bowdich. [1st ed. reprinted]. [London] Cass, 1967. [4] xi, 378 p. 8 plates (incl. map), tables. Original red cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold, with black stamped panel on spine, lettered in gold. Cass library of African studies. Travels and narratives, no. 27. Originally published, London, Colburn, 1820. Translation of Voyage dans l'intérieur de l'Afrique. Appendix: Vocabulary, English-Joloff [Wolof]-Poula [Pulaar], pp. 373-378, Vocabulary of the Serrere Language, English-Serrere [Serer-Sine], p. [379]. Bibliographical footnotes.

1823: [LILLY] African lessons: Wolof and English, in three parts, [by Hannah Kilham (1774-1832)]. London: Committee of Friends for Promoting African Instruction, 1823. "Part First," v, 55 pp.; "Part Second," 64 pp; "Part Third," 53 pp. + one page "Table of [Biblical] References". Separate title page for each Part. 18cm. Contemporary calf, rebaked. Includes "Words in English and Wolof," p. 9, in Part one, and "A short vocabulary of words in common use," Wolof-English, pp. [47]-64 in Part two. This copy a presentation copy from the author, inscribed in ink on the flyleaf: "For the library of the / British and Foreign School / Society. / From Hannah Kilham / Nov. 14, 1823".

1829: [LILLY] Recherches philosophiques sur la langue ouolofe: suivies d'un vocabulaire abrégé français-ouolof / par M. le Baron Roger. Paris: Librairie orientale de Dondey-Dupré père et fils, 1829. 175 p.; 23 cm. Former owner's bookplate at front (Jul.

Krone). Bound in brown boards, spine with mounted black leather label stamped in gold. Vocabulary in three columns: French-Ouolof [Wolof] "avec explications"-Ouolof [Wolof] "orthographe vulgaire", pp. 157-173. The second column appears in the orthography proposed in this study, the third column shows a more common orthography based on French (see p. 157). NUC pre-1956, 501:70 (NS 0372575).

1887: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1890: [LILLY] Dictionnaire français-volof, by V. J. Guy-Grand. Saint-Joseph de Ngasobil: Impr. de la Mission, 1890. 3. éd., rev. et considérablement augm. 784 p.; 18 cm. Original red and dark brown marbled paper over boards, with green cloth spine, lettered and decorated in black. With the bookplate of John Lawson. Not in Zaunmüller (lists only Guy-Grand's 1923 dictionary). Hendrix 1733. French-Volof [Wolof], pp. [1]-784.

1907 [1987]: [IUW] Guide de conversation français-wolof / préface de Mar Fall. Paris: Editions L'Harmattan, c1987. xx, 167 p.; 22 cm. "Ce texte est le reprint du 'Guide de la conversation français- volof' édité en 1907 par la mission catholique de Saint Joseph de Ngazobil." French-Wolof conversational dictionary.

1923: [IUW] Dictionnaire volof-français, by Aloïse Kobès [d. 1872].Dakar: Mission catholique [sic], 1923. Nouv. éd. rev. et considérablement augmentée par O. Abiven. viii, 383 p. 18 cm. Zaunmüller 404. Hendrix 1732.

1926: [LILLY] Grammaire wolofe, ou, Méthode pour étudier la langue des noirs qui habitent les royaumes de Bourba-Yolof, de Walo, de Damel, de Bour-sine, de Saloume, de Baole, en Sénégal; suivie d'un appendice où sont établies les particularités les plus essentielles des principales langues de l'Afrique septentrionale, by Jean Dard. [Paris]: Imprimerie royale, 1826. Contemporary green half-leather and green and black marbled paper over boards. Libraries Worldwide: 8. First edition. Includes several French-Wolof word lists, the longest of which are on pp. 152-183. Not in Gamble.

ca. 1940: [LILLYbm] Manuel français-ouolof, by Armand-Pierre Angrand. Dakar: Librairie Maurice Viale, n.d. [ca. 1940]. Original black quarter-cloth and gray paper lettered and decorated in black and green, over boards. Pp. 1-7 8-102 103-104. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1723 (giving date as 1940). Part I includes French-Wolof classified vocabulary, pp. [27]-71. Bibliography, pp. [101]102. J. Dard published a French-Wolof dictionary in Paris in 1825, A. Kobes in 1873, Guy-Grand in 1890.

1952: Second edition Manuel Français-Ouolof, by A[rm]and-P[ierre] Angrand. Dakar, Senegal: Maison du livre, 1952. Original dark green leather over boards, lettered in gold. 112 pp. New edition, revised and enlarged. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1724. Original edition appeared in Dakar, n.d. [ca. 1940] (see above). Part I is a French-Wolof classified vocabulary, pp. 22-77. Bibliography, pp. 110-111.

"Mr. Armand-Pierre Angrand's work is not the first dedicated to Wolof, which has already been the subject of several studies. However, it is unique in its genre in being compiled by a African author whose native language in Wolof, an incontestable advantage in many respects."

1966a: [IUW] Test d'audiometrie vocale en wolof / listes établies par Aram Diop; dessins de G. Niang; avec la collaboration de J. Reynaud et de M. Calvet. [Dakar]:

Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, [1966]. 65 leaves: ill.; 22 x 27 cm. Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar (Series); 20. Wolof-French vocabulary of audiometry.

1966b: [LILLY] Introductory course in Dakar Wolof, by William A. Stewart, Cheikj Babou, Dorothy Pedtke and others. Washington: Produced under Peace Corps contract by the Center for Applied Linguistics, 1966. v, [395] p.; 29 cm. Spiral bound in light blue printed wrappers. "Additions and corrections" as well as stapled packets on "Speaking Wolof," "Eating," "Fishing," and "Directions" laid in. Includes Wolof-French-English vocabulary.

Wolof dialects vary geographically and between rural and urban areas. "Dakar-Wolof", for instance, is an urban mixture of Wolof, French, and Arabic (Wikip).

1971: [IUW] Les cent et les quinze cents mots les plus fréquents de la langue wolof / par Aram Diop, Maurice Calvet, Oumar Ben Khatab Dia. [Dakar]: Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, 1971.xi, 51 leaves; 27 cm. Wolof-French frequency dictionary.

1976a: [IUW] Lexique wolof-français / [Oumar Ben Khatab Dia ... et al.] [Dakar?]: Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, 1976- v.; 27 cm. Les Langues nationales au Sénégal. At head of title: C.L.A.D. / I.F.A.N. "No. 42". Includes bibliographical references. t. 1. A-K. t. 2. L-R. t. 3. S-U.

1976b: [IUW] Un vocabulaire wolof de la faune au Sénégal / par Abdoul Aziz Diaw. [Dakar?]: Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, 1976. 30 p.; 27 cm. Langues nationales au Sénégal. "No. 67." Bibliography: p. 29. Wolof-French animal vocabulary.

1981: [IUW] Un vocabulaire wolof de la flore au Sénégal / par Abdoul Aziz Diaw. [Dakar]: Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, 1981. 85 p.; 27 cm. Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar (Series); no 16. Langues nationales au Sénégal. Bibliography: p. 85. Wolof-French vocabulary of plants.

1982: [IUW] Terminologie grammaticale wolof = Baatalub róófoo-gi-baat ci wolof / par Amadou Dialo ... [et al.]. [Dakar]: Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, 1982. 46 leaves; 30 cm. Langues nationales au Sénégal. W; 19. French-Wolof vocabulary of grammatical terms.

1987: [IUW] Éléments de terminologie Wolof en histoire et géographie. Publ. provisoire. [S.l.]: République Islamique de Mauritanie, Ministère de l'Éducation Nationale, Institut des Langues Nationales, Département de la Recherche, 1987. 16 p.; 30 cm. French-Wolof vocabulary of history and geography.

1988a: [IUW] Éléments de terminologie Wolof en enseignement. [S.l.]: République Islamique de Mauritanie, Ministère de l'Éducation Nationale, Institut des Langues Nationales, Département de la Recherche, Division [sic] Wolof, [1988]. 17 p.; 30 cm. French-Wolof vocabulary of pedagogical terms.

1988b: [IUW] Éléments de terminologie Wolof en grammaire et linguistique. [S.l.]: République Islamique de Mauritanie, Ministère de l'Éducation Nationale, Institut des Langues Nationales, Département de la Recherche, Division [sic] Wolof, [1988] 20 p.; 30 cm. Cover title. French-Wolof vocabulary of grammar and linguistics.

1988c: [IUW] Éléments de terminologie Wolof en mathématique. [S.l.]: République Islamique de Mauritanie, Ministère de l'Éducation Nationale, Institut des Langues Nationales, Département de la Recherche, Division [sic] Wolof, [1988]. 22 p.; 30 cm. Cover title. French-Wolof mathematical vocabulary.

1988d: [IUW] Nouvelles recherches sur l'égyptien ancien et les langues négro-africaines modernes / Cheikh Anta Diop. Paris: Présence africaine, c1988. 221 p.; 22 cm. Bibliography: p. 207-209. Egyptian-Wolof dictionary.

1990a: [IUW] Dictionnaire wolof-français: suivi d'un index français-wolof / Arame Fal, Rosine Santos, Jean Léonce Doneux. Paris: Editions Karthala, c1990. 342 p.: map; 25 cm. Wolof-French, French-Wolof dictionary.

1990b: [IUW] Lexique vétérinaire et zootechnique. Français-wolof, wolof-français = Baati witirneer ak xamxami jur. Farañse-wolof, wolof-farañse / [Mamadou Souleymane Diallo]. Dakar, Sénégal: MASDIAL, 1990. 334 p.: ill.; 21 cm. French-Wolof veterinary and zoological vocabulary.

1991: [IUW] Ay baati Wolof: a Wolof dictionary / Pamela Munro and Dieynaba Gaye. Los Angeles: Dept. of Linguistics, University of California, Los Angeles, 1991. xiv, 248 p.; 28 cm. UCLA occasional papers in linguistics; no. 9. Wolof-English with an English-Wolof index. Includes bibliographical references (p. xiv).

1992a: [IUW] Early published vocabularies of the Wolof language / David P. Gamble. Brisbane, Calif.: [D.P. Gamble, 1992] ii, 136 p.; 28 cm. Gambian studies no. 26. Includes bibliographical references.

1992b: [IUW] Essential Wolof for English-speaking travelers, by Mouhamadou Ouattara and Eddie Osborne. Miami: Osborne Communications, 1992. xii, 86 p.; 22 cm. Includes short basic English-Wolof vocabulary with pronunciation guide.

1995: [IUW] Education pour la santé: vocabulaire de base français-wolof / Arame Fal. Dakar: Publifan, 1995. 80 p.; 22 cm. Cover title. French-Wolof vocabulary for medical care.

1997: [IUW] Vocabulaire des élections, wolof-français: suivi d'un index français-wolof / par Amadou Dialo ... [et al.]; sous la direction de Chérif Mbodj. Dakar: Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, 1997. 33 p.; 22 cm. French-Wolof vocabulary related to elections.

1998: [IUW] Dictionnaire français-wolof / Mamadou Cissé. Paris: Langues & mondes/L'Asiathèque, 1998. 381 p.; 16 cm. Uniform series: Dictionnaires des langues'O. French-Wolof dictionary.

2001: [IUW] Le wolof de poche / d'après Michael Franke; adaptation française de Jean Léopold Diouf et Konstantin Pozdniakov; illustrations de J.-L. Goussé. Chennevières-sur-Marne: Assimil, c2001. x, 165 p.: ill.; 15 cm. "La version originale de cet ouvrage est parue en allemand sous le titre: Wolof - Wort für Wort, aux éditions Reise Know-How, Verlag Peter Rump GmbH Bielefeld." Includes bibliographical references (p. 139). Wolof French dictionary of terms and phrases.

2002: [IUW] Lexique informatique = Baatukaayu x@mtéef: français--anglais--wolof, wolof--français--anglais / Arame Fal. Dakar: A. Fal, c2002. 64 p.; 21 cm. French-English-Wolof, Wolof-French-English dictionary.

2003a: [IUW] Dictionnaire wolof-français et français-wolof / Jean-Léopold Diouf. Paris: Karthala, c2003. 591 p.; 25 cm. Series: Dictionnaires et langues Includes bibliographical references (p. 591). Wolof-French, French-Wolof dictionary.

2003b: [IUW] Dictionnaire wolof-français/français-wolof: mots et expressions usuels, simples et courants / par Pap Abdoulaye Dial. 1. éd. Saint-Louis du Sénégal: Xamal, 2003. 192 p.; 21 cm. Various useful lists (e.g. days of the week, months, seasons, numbers and currency units) at end of text. Wolof-French, French-Wolof dictionary.

2006: [IUW] Wolof lexicon and grammar / by Sana Camara. Madison, WI: NALRC Press, c2006. xv, 387 p.; 23 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 387). Wolof-English, English-Wolof dictionary.

2007a: [IUW] Gan gi = The visitor: with a glossary of Wolof at the end of the book: a beginning self-study Wolof course for tourists and foreigners / Abdoulaye Dial; translated by Sarah Nehrling. New ed. Saint-Louis, Senegal: [s.n.], 2007. 100 p.; 21 cm. "This version has been reviewed and improved." Wolof-English glossary.

2007b: [IUW] Na nga def? = How are you?: for tourists and foreigners: a manual / Abdoulaye Dial; translated by Sarah Nehrling. New ed. Saint-Louis, Senegal: [s.n.], 2007. 88 p.; 15 cm. Wolof-English glossary.

2009: [IUW] Dictionnaire wolof-français / par Pap Abdoulaye Dial. 2. éd. Dakar, Sénégal: Éénas, 2009. 156 p.; 21 cm. Wolof-French dictionary.

2011?: [IUW] Learn Wolof: a practical course in Wolof for Gambians and our foreign visitors / Alagie Joof. [Gambia?]: Alagie Joof, [2011?]. 111 pages: illustrations; 21 cm + 1 audio disc (CD audio; 4 3/4 in.) Wolof-English glossary.

2013a: [IUW] Dictionary Wolof-English / English-Wolof / [translated by Emma Nesper; Pap Abdoulaye Dial]. New edition, revised and updated. Nord-Saint-Louis [Senegal]: Impr. Serigne Fallou Mbacké, 2013. 249 pages; 20 cm. Cover title: Basic dictionnaire Wolof-English / English-Wolof. "Simple, common, everyday words and expressions (with the addition of over 700 new words)"--Cover.

2013b: [IUW] Lexique scientifique bilingue: français-wolof/wolof-français = Baatukaayu ñaari làmmiñ ñeel xam-xam: frāse-wolof/wolof-frāse / Cheikh Anta Diop, Seex Anta Joob. Dakar: OSAD, [2013] 72 pages; 21 cm. "Tiré de Comment enraciner la science en Afrique; tibbees na ko ci Tijji xelum sàkk." French-Wolof, Wolof-French dictionary of scientific terms.

2014a: [IUW] Pour une terminologie de la santé en wolof / par Cherif Mbodj. Dakar: Presses universitaires de Dakar, 2014. 156 pages; 21 cm Includes bibliographical references (pages 155-156). French-Wolof dictionary of medical terms.

2014b: [IUW] A short Wolof-English dictionary / CLAD. Dakar, Senegal: Presses Universitaires de Dakar, 2014. 233 pages; 29 cm. Centre de linguistique appliquée de Dakar, author. "The National Languages of Senegal"--Cover.

2014c: [IUW] Wolof-Deutsch Konversationswörterbuch: das richtige Wort mit Beispieltexen und einem Überblick über die Lautlehre / Saliou Mbaye. Munich: LINCOM Europa, 2014. 131 pages; 24 cm. LINCOM language coursebooks. Includes bibliographical references. Wolof-German conversational dictionary.

2016: [IUW] The impact of the French language on the Wolof spoken in the Greater Banjul Area / Sheikh Tijan M.D. Salla. Kanifing: Fullada Publishers, 2016. 143 pages; 21 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered in black, with color photo of boardwalk in landscape on the front cover, and color photo of the author on the rear cover. Includes glossary of 260 Wolof words derived from the French, Wolof-French-English, pp. 111-143.

[WOLOF, GAMBIA] Senegalese/Mauritanian Wolof and Gambian Wolof are distinct national standards: they use different orthographies and use different languages (French vs English) as their source for technical loanwords. However, both the spoken and written languages are mutually intelligible. Lebu Wolof, on the other hand, is unintelligible with standard Wolof, a distinction that has been obscured because all Lebu speakers are bilingual in standard Wolof (WikP). Ethnologue considers Gambian Wolof a separate language.

Ethnologue: wof. Autonym: Wolof.

1990 [1991]: [IUW] Gambian Wolof-English dictionary, by David P. Gamble. Brisbane, Calif.: [D.P. Gamble], 1990, rev. 1991. viii, 192 leaves; 28 cm. Library binding. Series: Gambian studies; no. 23. Gambian Wolof-English, ff. 1-192.

"Preparing a Wolof-English dictionary for The Gambia is not a simple task.... In 1958 I had produced a 29 page Wolof-English Dictionary, mimeographed copies of which are still to be found in use [with detailed information on the further genesis of the present dictionary]" Introduction).

[WONGO] Wongo is a Bantu language in Kasai-Occidental Province, Democratic Republic of the Congo (WikP).

Ethnologue: won. Alternate Names: Bakong, Gongo, Ndjembe, Tukkongo, Tukongo, Tukung

2015: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[WORIMI] Worimi is a small family of two to five extinct Australian Aboriginal languages of New South Wales. Awabakal, spoken around Lake Macquarie in New South Wales. Awabakal was studied by Reverend Lancelot Edward Threlkeld from 1825 until his death in 1859, assisted by Biraban, the tribal leader, and parts of the Bible were translated into the language. For example, the Gospel of Mark begins: "Kurrikuri ta unni Evanelia Jesu úmba Krist koba, Yenai ta noa Eloí úmba." [2] The language is currently in early stages of revival. Gadjang (Worimi), an extinct language spoken by the Worimi people, from the eastern Port Stephens and Great Lakes regions of coastal New South Wales. The languages are close enough to be accepted as related in the conservative classification of Dixon (2002). Bown (2011) considers Gadjang, Worimi, and Birrpai to be separate languages.

Ethnologue: kda. Alternate Names: Birbay, Gadang, Gadhang, Gadjang, Kattang, Warimi.

1967: [LILLYbm] An Attempt Towards a Comparative Grammar of Two Australian Languages. Part II. Indices and Vocabularies of Kattang and Thangatti, by Nils M. Holmer. Canberra: Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies, 1967. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown, with brown cloth spine. 73 pp. First edition. Occasional Papers in Aboriginal Studies, No. 5; Linguistic Series, No. 3, Part II. Kattang [Worimi]-English, pp. 1-24; Thangatti [Dyangadi]-English, pp. 25-71. First dictionary of these languages.

[WOUN MEU] The Wounaan language, a.k.a. Noanamá and Woun Meu, is a Chocoan language, with some 10,000 speakers on the border between Panama and Colombia (WikP).

Ethnologue: noa. Alternate Names: Chocó, Noanama, Waumeo, Waun Meo, Waunana, Waunméu, Waunán, Woun Meo, Wounaan, Wounaan Meu. Autonym: Woun Meu.

1957: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1963: [IUW] Estudios chocoes; Etnohistoria chocoana y cinco cuentos waunana apuntados en 1955, por S. Henry Wassén. Gramática comparada de un dialecto del choco, con textos, índice y vocabulario, por Nils M. Holmer. Göteborg [Etnografiska Museet] 1963. 248 p. illus., maps. 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original cream front wrapper, lettered in red and black. Etnologiska studier; 26. Includes bibliographies. 1. Etnohistoria chocoana y cinco cuentos waunana apuntados en 1955 / por S. Henry Wassén. 2. Gramática comparada de un dialecto del Choco (con textos, índice y vocabulario) / por Nils M. Holmer. Woun Meu-Spanish vocabulary, pp. [194]-240. Extensive preliminary material.

[WULNA] Wulna (Wuna) is a presumably extinct indigenous language of Australia. It had one speaker left in 1981. It is poorly attested and only tentatively classified as being related to Limilngan.

Ethnologue: wux.

1895: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WUNUMARA] Wunumara is an extinct Mayi language formerly spoken on the Cape York Peninsula of Queensland, Australia.

Ethnologue: wnn. Alternate Names: Oonoomurra, Quippen-bura, Unamara, Woonamurra, Woonomurra, Wunamara.

1897: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1981: see under MAYABIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WUTUNG] Wutung (Udung) and Sangke (Nyao) are a Skou language or pair of languages of Papua New Guinea. It is spoken in the villages of Wutung and Sangke in Bewani/Wutung Onei Rural LLG of Sandaun Province. The two varieties are sometimes considered separate languages. Tok Pisin and English are widely spoken in the area, and many Wutung people speak Indonesian too. Wutung village is in Sandaun Province, on the northern coast and adjacent to the border with Indonesia. There are about 500 living in Wutung village, most of whom speak Wutung (WikP). Population: 580 (Marmion 2010).

Ethnologue: wut. Alternate Names: Udung.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[WUZLAM] Wuzlam, also called Uldeme (Ouldémé), is an Afro-Asiatic language of the Chadic branch. It is spoken in northern Cameroon (WikP).

Ethnologue: udl. Alternate Names: Mizlime, Ouldeme, Udlam, Uldeme, Uzam, Uzlam.

1996: [IUW] La langue ouldémé: Nord-Cameroun: précis de grammaire, texte, lexique / Véronique de Colombel. Paris: Association linguistique africaine, 1996. 338 p.: maps; 21 cm. Documents de linguistique africaine; 4. Includes bibliographical references (p. 331-334) and French-Uldeme index.

2005: Revised edition [IUW] La langue ouldémé (Nord-Cameroun): grammaire, texte, dictionnaire, by Véronique de Colombel. Paris: Peeters, 2005. 242 p.: ill., maps; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving original brown and blue wrappers, lettered in violet and black. Langues et cultures africaines, 34. Sela; no 416. Ouldémé [Wuzlam]-French, pp. 91-189, French-Ouldémé [Wuzlam], pp. [191]-234. Includes bibliographical references (p. [235]-237).

"The present work is the revised and correction version of the first edition... (Avant-Propos, tr: BM).

[WYANDOT] Wyandot is the Iroquoian language traditionally spoken by the people known variously as Wyandot or Wyandotte, descended from the Wendat (Huron). It was last spoken by members located primarily in Oklahoma, United States and Quebec, Canada. Linguists have traditionally considered Wyandot as a dialect or modern form of Wendat. Wyandot essentially "died out" as a spoken language nearly a century ago, though there are now attempts at revitalization. The Wyandotte Nation of Oklahoma is offering Wyandot language classes in the Wyandotte Public Schools, grades K–4, and also at the Wyandotte Nation's preschool "Turtle-Tots" program. The Wendat Community of Quebec is offering adult and children's classes in the Wendat language at its village school in Wendake (WikP).

Ethnologue: way. Alternate Names: Wendat, Wyandotte, Wyendat. Huron is listed as a dialect of Wyandot.

1632: [LILLY] Dictionnaire de la langue huronne: nécessaire à ceux qui n'ont l'intelligence d'icelle, & ont à traiter avec les sauvages du pays, by Gabriel Sagard. Paris: Chez Denys Moreau, rue S. Jacques, à la Salamandre d'argent, M.DC.XXXII [1632]. 12, [132] p.; 18 cm (8vo). Moreau, Denys, printer. Stanley, Thomas, 1749-1818, former owner. Phillipps, Thomas, Sir, 1792-1872, former owner. Variant title: Dictionnaire de la langve hvronne. Title vignette. Dictionary entries printed two cols. per unnumbered page, last unnumbered printed page contains approbation. Signatures: a-i* k* (-k8, blank). The Stanley/Phillipps copy; from the library of J.K. Lilly, Jr. With Sagard, G. Grand voyage du pays des Hurons. Paris: D. Moreau, 1632. Issued together. Sabin notes Dictionary also found separately. First edition. First printed Huron vocabulary. Sabin 74881, 74883. Church, D.E. Discovery 421. Alden, J.E. European Americana 632/86. JCB Lib. cat., pre-1675 243-244. Harris, H. Nouvelle France 52, 53. Zaunmüller 182.

1865a: "new edition" [LILLY] Dictionnaire de la langue huronne: nécessaire à ceux qui n'ont l'intelligence d'icelle, & ont à traiter avec les sauvages du pays, by Gabriel Sagard, Paris: Chez Denys Moreau [Paris: Librairie Tross, 1865]. Reprint of edition of 1632 (see above). The present unbound copy consists of nine original gatherings for the 1865 edition, often bound with Le grand voyage du pays des Hurons. French-Huron, 144 unnumbered pages, double-columned. Cf. Zaunmüller, col. 182.

1865b: "new edition" [IUW] Le grand voyage du pays des Hurons: situé en l'Amérique vers la Mer douce, ès derniers confins de la Nouvelle France dite Canada avec un dictionnaire de la langue huronne par F. Gabriel Sagard Theodat... Nouv. ed. (two vols), published by Emile Chevalier.

Paris: Librairie Tross, 1865. Original brown wrappers, lettered in black. New edition. Reprint of edition of 1632 (see above), with facsimile of engraved and printed title pages and original paging in margin. Zaunmüller, col. 182. The second part (p. 207-268) in this edition has separate title page. The appended "Dictionnaire" has special t.-p. French-Huron, 144 unnumbered pages, double-columned.

1636 [1866]: [LILLY] Histoire du Canada: et voyages que les Frères mineurs recollects y ont faicts pour la conversion des infidèles depuis l'an 1615 / par Gabriel Sagard Théodat; avec un dictionnaire de la Langue Huronne. Nouv. éd. pub. par M. Edwin Tross. Paris: Librairie Tross, 1866. 4 v.; 21 cm. Collation: v. 1: 272 p.--v. 2: 1 p. l., 273-542 p.- At end of v. 4: ("Musique pour l'Histoire du Canada", 5 p.; "Notice sur F. Gabriel Sagard Théodat et son œuvre par H. É. Chevalier, servant d'introduction à la nouvelle édition de l'Histoire du Canada ... Paris, Librairie Tross, 1866." lxiv p.)--v. 3: 1 p. l., 543-825 p.--v. 4: 3 p. l., 827-922 p.; Table, [45] p.; "Dictionnaire de la langue huronne ... A Paris, Chez Denys Moreau, 1632." 12, [132] p. Title in red and black.

Reprint of edition of 1636, with facsimile of t.-p., original paging (xxviii, 1005 p.) indicated in the margin. Half titles and title pages of vols 1-3 bound at end of vol. 4.

1703: see under ALGONQUIN.

1851-1857: see Vol. 2 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1920: [LILLY] Fifteenth report of the Bureau of Archives for the province of Ontario 1918-1919. [Potier, Pierre.] Fraser, Alexander, Provincial Archivist. Toronto: Legislative Assembly of Ontario, 1920. 8vo, pp. 782, 2 full page illustrations, tipped in presentation slip "with the compliments of Alexander Fraser"; original blue paper wrappers bound in contemporary black cloth, title gilt direct on spine, edges lightly soiled. An Ayer Linguistic duplicate, with an Ayer accession label on rear pastedown and a Newberry release stamp on upper pastedown, and numbers in pen on verso of title page.

This volume prints the texts of four manuscripts, the first three in facsimile and the fourth translated into English and reprinted. All were written at Lorette by the Rev. Pierre Potier during the period 1743-1744, and concern the Huron [Wyandot] language and people. The first two are a grammar and glossary, the third a collection of sermons, homilies, and other religious material in Huron, and the last is "An account book of the Huron Mission, Detroit"; (bookseller's description: Rob Ruon-Miller).

2007: [IUW] A Huron-English/English-Huron dictionary (listing both words and noun and verb roots) / John Steckley; with a foreword by Bryan Cummins. Lewiston, N.Y.: Edwin Mellen Press, c2007. ii, 392 p.; 24 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 391-392).

X

[XAKRIABÁ] Xakriabá (also written Chakriaba, Chikriaba, Shacriaba) is an extinct Ge language formerly spoken in Minas Gerais, Brazil by the Xakriabá people, who today speak Portuguese. The last confirmed native speaker of the language died in 1864 (WikP).

Ethnologue: xkr. Alternate Names: Chakriaba, Chikriaba, Shacriaba, Xacriabá, Xikriabá.

1964: see 1964c under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[XAMTANGA] Xamtanga (also Agawinya, Khamtanga, Simt'anga, Xamir, Xamta) is a Central Cushitic language spoken in Ethiopia by the Xamir people (WikP).

Ethnologue: xan. Alternate Names: Agaw, Agawinya, Khamtanga, Simt'anga, Xamir, Xamta.

2006: see under AGAW LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[XÂRÂCÛÛ] Xârâcùù, or Kanala, is an Oceanic language spoken in New Caledonia. It has about 5,000 speakers. Xârâcùù is most commonly spoken in the south Central area of New Caledonia in and around the city of Canala and the municipalities of Canala, Thio, and Boulouparis. Xârâcùù is a strict SVO sentence structure with few exceptions. Efforts to determine how the language evolved to the present has been met with difficulty due to Xârâcùù's lack of reflexive markers in established Proto-Oceanic forms. Xârâcùù has been taught since 1980 at the primary level in the popular Kanak school (EPK or Ecole Populaire Kanak) Canala, only establishment of its kind still existing in 2013, the students can then join public education. The language is also offered at the private Catholic college Francis Rouge-Thio and public college Canala.

Ethnologue: ane. Alternate Names: Anesu, Canala, Haraneu, Kanala, Naa Xaracuu, Xaracii.

1899: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1946: see under MELANESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: [IUW] Canala dictionary (New Caledonia) / by George W. Grace. Canberra Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1975. viii, 128 p.; 26 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow-gray front wrapper, lettered in black. Pacific linguistics: Series C; no. 2. Canala [Xârâcùù]-English, pp. 1-73, English-Canala [Xârâcùù], pp. 77-128.

"The data contained herein were obtained in New Caledonia in the summers of 1971-1972.... Most of the information was provided by Kasovimoin Césaire and Méouaïnon Arsenes of Nanon Kénérrou and by Nédenon Lucien of Méhoué (Canala). Whatever value this dictionary has is due to the efforts they made and the skill they displayed in dredging up information from their memories and in analysing it and formulating it in a manner understandable to me" (Acknowledgements).

1986: [LILLYbm] Dictionnaire Xârâcùù-Français (Nouvelle-Calédonie), by Claire Moyse-Faurie & Marie-Adèle Néchérö-Jorédié. [Nouméa, New Caledonia]: Les Editions Populaires, 1986. Original stiff white wrappers, lettered in black, and decorated in gray-green. 288 pp. 24 cm. First edition. Includes Xârâcùù-French and a French-Xârâcùù index. Bibliography, pp. [25]-26. The first extensive French language vocabulary was published by Leenhardt in 1946. An English-Canala dictionary was published by Grace in 1975 (see above).

"Xârâcùù is one of the twenty-eight languages spoken in New Caledonia, with 4,000 speakers in 1986, principally on the east coast, in the region of Canala, Nakety and Thio" (tr: BM).

[XÂRÂGURÈ] Xârâgurè ('Aragure, Haragure) is an Oceanic language of New Caledonia (WikP).

Ethnologue: axx. Alternate Names: 'Aragure, Aragure, Borendy, Borindi, Haragure, Naa Xaragure, Thio, Xaragure.

1946: see under MELANESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[XAVÁNTE] The Xavante language is a Ge language spoken by the Xavante people in about 170 villages in the area surrounding Eastern Mato Grosso, Brazil. The Xavante language is unusual in its phonology, its ergative object-agent-verb word order, and its use of honorary and endearment terms in its morphology (WikP).

Ethnologue: xav. Alternate Names: Akuên, Akwen, A'uwe Uptabi, A'we, Chavante, Crisca, Pusciti, Shavante, Tapacua.

1964: see 1964c under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1987: [IUW] Pequeno dicionário xavante-português, português-xavante, by Joan Hall, Ruth Alice McLeod, Valerie Mitchell. Brasília-DF: Summer Institute of Linguistics, 1987. 491 p.; 22 cm.

[XERÉNTE] The Xerente language (Sherenté) is one of the Ge languages of Brazil. It is spoken by the Xerente people in the Tocantins region between Rio do Sono and Rio Tocantins (WikP).

Ethnologue: xer. Alternate Names: Acuen, Akwen, Akwẽ-Xerente, Sherenté. Autonym: Akwẽ.

1964: see 1964c under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[XHOSA] The Xhosa language (English /'kɔ:sə/ or /'kousə/; Xhosa: isiXhosa [isiklʰó:sa]) is a Bantu language with click consonants ("Xhosa" begins with a click) and one of the official languages of South Africa. It is spoken by approximately 7.6 million people, or about 18% of the South African population. Like most other Bantu languages, Xhosa is a tonal language; the same sequence of consonants and vowels can have different meanings, depending on intonation. Xhosa has two tones: high and low. Xhosa is written with the Latin alphabet.

Ethnologue: xho. Alternate Names: "Cauzuh" (pej.), Isixhosa, Koosa, Xosa.

1834: [LILLY] A grammar of the Kafir language, by William B[innington] Boyce (1803-1889). Graham's Town: Printed at the Wesleyan Mission Press, 1834. [8], 54 p.; 28 cm. Original maroon cloth, spine lettered in gold, hinges cracking and chipping. BM, 25:173. NUC pre-56, 70:601.

"Dear Brother, My respected brethren in the Ministry, as well as myself feel, that to no one could this, the first Kafir Grammar ever printed, be inscribed with more propriety than to the first Wesleyan Missionary in Kaffraria" [printed dedication to Rev. William Shaw from the compiler].

“As the circulation of the following pages will probably be confined to Missionaries, whose duties and necessities oblige them to acquire the language of the people among whom they labour, and to a few literary characters who feel interested in tracing the analogies and dissimilarities of the various Languages spoken in southern Africa, it will be unnecessary for me to apologize for the errors and omissions they may discover, as such individuals are well aware of the difficulties which attend the composition of the first Grammar of any language. I would recommend my Missionary Brethren to make use of an interleaved Copy, requesting them carefully to note such corrections and additions as in the course of their daily speaking and translating they may deem necessary” (W. B. Boyce: Preface, dated February 5th, 1834).

1844: second edition [LILLY] A grammar of the Kaffir language, by William B. Boyce. 2nd ed., augmented and improved with vocabulary and exercises, by William J. Davis. London: Printed for the Wesleyan Missionary Society ... sold also by John Mason ..., 1844. xxviii, 228 p.; 22 cm. Bound in black half calf and marbled boards, gilt spine title, edges marbled. A newly added unsigned and undated Introduction, pp. [v]-xviii, includes “Specimens of the Languages of South Africa resembling the Kaffir and Sechuana” (English-Kaffir-Sechuana-Delagoa-Bay-Makoha-Monjou-Sowauli or Sowaiel) “taken from Botelar’s ‘Voyage on the East Coast,’ and Salt’s work on Abyssinia and East Africa” (p. xiii). “A Short English and Kaffir Vocabulary and Phrase Book” has also been added, Vocabulary, pp. [134]-175, and Phrase Book, pp. [176]-197. This appears to be the earliest substantial printed vocabulary of Xhosa. The list of “Specimens of the Languages of South Africa” had appeared earlier in James Archbell’s Grammar of the Bechuana language (1837 [1838]) (see under TSWANA).

“When the Rev. William J. Davis was about to visit England in the year 1839, he was requested to superintend the printing and publication of a new edition of the Rev. William Boyce’s Kaffir Grammar” (Advertisement to the Second Edition).

1863: Third edition [LILLY] A grammar of the Kaffir language, by William B. Boyce (1803-1889). Third ed., augmented and improved with exercises by William J. Davis. London: Wesleyan Missionary Society, 1863. xi, [1], 164 p.; 19 cm. Original purple pebbled cloth, decorated in blind and lettered in gold. . Includes “Kaffir” [Xhosa]-English list of adverbs, conjunctions and prepositions, pp. 128-130. The “Vocabulary and Phrase Book” of the second edition has been dropped, probably in light of the second edition of John Ayliff’s A vocabulary of the Kafir Language, published that same year by the same press. This copy with the book plate of I & F.W. Hosken (cf. Catalogue of their library, 1981).

1846: [LILLY] A vocabulary of the Kafir language, by John Ayliff, Wesleyan Missionary in Kaffraria. London: The Wesleyan Mission House, 1846. Original black half-leather and marbled paper over boards. Pp. [4] i-iii iv-viii 1 2-218 219-224. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1742. Includes English-“Kafir”, pp. [1]-218. This copy with the book plate of I & F.W. Hosken (cf. Catalogue of their library, 1981).

"Few persons, but those actually engaged in the Mission work, can form any idea of the difficulties presenting themselves to a Missionary on his entering his field of labour; the principal of which is his being unacquainted with the language of the people among whom he dwells. This difficulty is considerably heightened with a people who possess no books, as was the case with the Kaffir nation previous to their intercourse with Missionaries.... One great peculiarity in the language is, that the women speak a dialect, or rather numerous words, widely different to those used by the men. This arises from a custom called uku hlonipa, whereby the women are prohibited using their male relatives' names" (Introduction).

1863: Second edition [LILLYbm] A vocabulary of the Kaffir language. Second edition., by John Ayliff. London: The Wesleyan Mission House, 1863. Original maroon cloth over boards, decorated in blind, spine lettered in gold (covers loose but present, with original endpapers). Pp. [2] i-iii iv-viii, 1 2-218 219-220. Second edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Not in Hendrix (cf. Hendrix 1742). Includes English-Kaffir, pp. [1]-218. This copy with the ownership signature of M. A. Wolfs, dated 1868 and with a bookplate from "The Waterhouse Collection 1902". With ink stamp on title page.

1850: [LILLY] The Kafir language: comprising a sketch of its history; which includes a general classification of South African dialects, ethnographical and geographical: remarks upon its nature: and a grammar, by the Rev. John W[hittle] Appleyard (1814-1874). King William's Town: Printed for the Wesleyan Missionary Society, 1850. Original cloth with original worn printed paper label. This copy with the book plate of I & F.W. Hosken (cf. Catalogue of their library, 1981). This grammar includes a contemporary loosely inserted manuscript page of "Kafir idioms", and various brief word lists arranged by grammatical parts. Pp. 4-5 is a Comparative Table of North African Dialects, including English and 14 languages.

1872a: [LILLY] A Dictionary of the Kaffir Language: including the Xosa and Zulu Dialects, by Rev. William J[affer] Davis. London: The Wesleyan Mission House, 1872. Contemporary worn black half-leather and brown cloth over boards, spine lettered in gold. Pp. i-v vi-vii viii, 1 2-260. Zaunmüller, col. 410. Hendrix 1743. Interleaved throughout, with three leaves of manuscript annotation at end. First edition. This copy bears a presentation inscription: 'O. Padel | In aufrichtiger Dankbarkeit | und dankbarer Liebe zum An | denken an die schöne Zeit | unsers gemeinschaftlichen | Arbeitens im Hlubi-Werk | 1. Kor. 10, 16-17 | Bethesda, Dezember | 1888. | L. Marse". Also with ownership inscription of W[erner] Bourquin, author of various publications on the Xhosa and Zulu language in the early 1950's. This interleaved copy copiously annotated in German throughout, with numerous additions; the final three leaves contain "Isiteto Sprichwörter" [sayings]. These annotations seemed to have been incorporated in detail in the manuscript dictionary of C. Liebich (see below).

1872b: [LILLY] A Grammar of the Kaffir Language, by William J[affer] Davis. London: Printed for the Wesleyan Missionary Society, 1872. viii, 183, [1] p. incl. tables. 22 cm. Original dark brown pebbled cloth, lettered in gold and decorated in blind. With the stamp of the British and Foreign Bible Society Library in blind on the title page. Includes "Kaffir" [Xhosa]-English list of adverbs, conjunctions and prepositions, pp. 129-130.

1877: [LILLYbm] An English and Kaffir Dictionary. Principally of the Xosa-Kaffir, but including also many words of the Zulu-Kaffir dialect, by W[illiam] J[afferd] Davis. London: Printed for the Wesleyan Missionary Society, 1877. Later brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold, and with the coat of arms of the Guildhall Library London. Pp. i-iii iv-xiv xv-xvi, 1 2-232 [final page misnumbered 332]. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 410. Hendrix 1744. Includes English-Xhosa/Zulu, pp. [1]-232. This copy with the bookplate of the Guildhall Library London, and with ink withdrawal stamps on preliminary and final pages.

"The English-Kaffir Dictionary now published is the companion volume to the Kaffir-English Dictionary published by the Author when in England in the year 1872.... It is... hoped that the delay in its publication has given time and opportunity for such revision and emendations as will make the work more valuable than it would have otherwise been. The Kaffir and the cognate languages of the continent of Africa are distinguished by a peculiarity which is not found in other languages. This has been designated as the Euphonic or Alliteral Concord; as by this principle of the language a uniform system of alliteration is sustained throughout its grammatical formation, which greatly promotes its euphonious utterance. The Euphony is consequent upon the repetition of the same letter or syllable in many of the words of the same sentence" (Introduction).

1903: Revised and enlarged edition; [LILLY] An English-Kaffir dictionary, principally of the Xosa-Kaffir but including also many words of the Zulu-Kaffir dialect, by William Jafferd Davis. Cape Town, S.A.: Methodist Pub. Office and Book-Room, 1903. Revised and enlarged by William Hunter. vi, 499 p., [1] p. 16 cm. Contemporary dark brown half leather, lettered in gold, with marbled endpapers. English-Kaffir [Xhosa and some Zulu], pp. [1]-499. Zaunmüller, col 410. (This edition not in Hendrix (cf. Hendrix 1745). Second copy: [LILLYmk].

"Many years ago I contemplated compiling an English-Kaffir Dictionary, and for that purpose accumulated a large number of words; but, through failure of health, I had to abandon the thought and return to England. When, therefore, I was invited to revise and enlarge Mr. Davis's work, and supplied with a copy of the venerable Dr. Kropf's excellent Kaffir-English Dictionary to assist me, I complied with great pleasure. Debarred from the advantage of conference with those conversant with the Kaffir tongue, I have not only checked most of my words by Dr. Kropf, but also added from his pages a considerable number of terms I had forgotten, and some I never knew. The work is now twice its former size; and I trust it will prove acceptable and useful to both Europeans and Natives" (Preface by William Hunter, dated 1903).

1903 edition reprinted 1917: [LILLY] An English-Kaffir Dictionary. Principally of the Xosa-Kaffir, but including also many words of the Zulu-Kaffir dialect, by W[illiam] J[afferd] Davis. Cape Town, S.A.: Methodist Publishing Office, 1917. "Revised and enlarged by the Rev. William Hunter" on title page. pp. [4] 1 2-499 500. 15 cm. Original black cloth, lettered in gold and decorated in blind. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1745.

Preface dated 1903, when the first printing of this new edition in fact appeared.

1880: [LILLY] Kaffirisches Wörterbuch. Ownership inscription of C. Liebich. An unpublished 836 p. manuscript dictionary in German, possibly compiled by Liebich, c. 1880. Seems to be based on Davis's Kaffir-English dictionary of 1872 (see annotated copy above) with numerous additions.

1899 [1915]: [LILLYbm] A Kafir-English dictionary by Albert Kropf. Second Edition, ed by Robert Godfrey. [Stutterheim] South Africa: Lovedale Mission Press, 1915. Second edition. Original green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black (spine faded). Zaunmüller, col. 409. Dalby 1624. Pp. i-v vi-xxxi xxxii, 1 2-525 526-528. Includes Kafir [Xhosa]-English, pp. [1]-525. First edition was 1899.

"On 10th March, 1911, Principal Henderson handed over the work of editing a new edition of Kropf's 'Kaffir-English Dictionary' to my care, leaving me with an absolutely free hand; on that same day he gave into my keeping Dr. Kropf's annotated copy of the dictionary which had been bequeathed to Lovedale by its owner.... I have [also] sought help from every quarter and under all circumstances.... Mr. McLaren, whose researches in Kafir have become through his Kafir Grammar (1906) part of the inheritance of all Kafir scholars, tore up his own well-annotated copy of the first edition of the dictionary and sent it on by installments... The printing has taken over two years.... The native compositors have taken a keen interest in the progress of the work and latterly rendered great assistance in the definitions of words. On 14 July, 1915, when the dictionary had been printed off as far as page 368, our joint labours were nearly consumed in smoke by a fire breaking out in the engine-room immediately beneath the place where the printed sheets were stored. The presence of mind of one of the native boys enabled him to deal effectively with the cause of the outbreak and Mr. Atkinson at great personal risk fought the fire, being badly burned but saving the dictionary!" (Preface to the Second Edition, Robert Godfrey).

1901: [LILLYbm] Kaffir Phrase Book and Vocabulary, by James Stewart [1831-1905]. [Lovedale, South Africa]: Lovedale Mission Press, 1901. Original gray wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. 1-4 5-158 159-160. "Third Edition—Copyright" on title page. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 2246 (noting only 64 pp. and giving title as Kaffir Phrase Book and Vocabulary). Includes English-Xhosa, pp. [65]-158.

"In this Third Edition, or fifth Thousand, of the Kaffir Phrase Book, very little change has been made on the Phrases. The chief difference will be found in the Vocabulary. Several words with doubtful meanings have been removed, though possibly some still remain to be removed later. Additional words...are given" (Preface to the Third Edition).

"Sources of information: Dr. Kropf's Kafir-English Dictionary; Davis's English-Kafir and other Vocabularies and Native assistance" (p. [2]).

1916: Eighth edition [LILLYbm] Kafir phrase book [and Vocabulary]. Eighth edition, fortieth thousand, by James Stewart [1831-1905].

[Lovedale, South Africa]: Lovedale Mission Press, 1916. Maroon cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-7 8-64, ²1-2 3-94.

"Eighth edition". The first edition was published in 1899, the third in 1901, the sixth in 1906. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 2246 (noting only 64 pp. and giving title as Kaffir Phrase Book and Vocabulary). Includes English-Xhosa, pp. 3-94.

1915a: [LILLY] Concise Kaffir-English dictionary, by J. McLaren. London: Longmans, Green and Co., 1915. First edition. Original gray-green cloth, lettered in black. Cf. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing only a later 1952 printing revised by W. G. Bennie). Hendrix 1750. Revised in 1936 in the new orthography and reprinted several times. First edition. Xhosa-English, pp. [1]-[194].

1948: Reprinted [IUW] A concise Xhosa-English dictionary, by James McLaren. Rev. in the new orthography by W. G. Bennie. London, New York, Longmans, Green [1948]. xix, 196 p. 19 cm. Cf. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing only a later 1952 printing).

1963: Reprinted [IUW] A new concise Xhosa-English dictionary, by James McLaren. First rev. by W. G. Bennie and put into standard orthography by J. J. R. Jolobe. Cape Town] Longmans [1963]. xviii, 194 p. 19 cm. "First published under the title: A concise Kaffir-English dictionary."

1962: [LILLYbm] Xhosa. Terminologie en Spelreëls No. 2. Terminology and Orthography No. 2 [= Second Edition], compiled by the Xhosa Language Committee, Department of Bantu Education. Pretoria: The Government Printer, 1962. Original pale blue wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1 2-163 164. Second edition. First edition of 58 pp. appeared in 1957 Includes English-Afrikaans-Xhosa, pp. 30-163.

"The terms included in the lists are intended in the first place for use in the primary classes and the majority have been taken from the syllabuses concerned. Further, the list is supplemented with terms taken from the school handbooks and also terms which teachers would normally be expected to know and to use, though not necessarily to teach to their pupils.... [This is an extensive vocabulary which excludes] words in common usage which can be found in the dictionaries.... Some words...have...been included because a comprehensive dictionary for the language does not, as yet, exist" (Foreword).

1969: [IUW] Dictionary; English-Xhosa, Xhosa-English. [2nd imp.] [Cape Town] Via Afrika [1969]. [iv], 81 p. 26 cm.

1979: [IUW] Macmillan new basic English dictionary for Xhosa speakers / H.L. Nabe, N.B. Potelwa, A.T. Yiba. London: Macmillan Press, 1979. viii, 246 p.: ill.; 19 cm. "Licensed edition of the work New basic dictionary by Frederich Pollmann with the assistance of Christopher Scott"--Verso t.p.

1980: [IUW] Xhosa: terminologie en spelreëls no. 3 = terminology and orthography no. 3. Departement van Onderwys en Opleiding, Republiek van Suid-Afrika. Pretoria: Die Staatsdrukker, 1980. 240 p.; 21 cm.

1983: see 1983a under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1985a: [IUW] Dictionary of basic English Xhosa, by K.B. Hartshorne; assisted by J.H.A. Swart and E. Posselt. 1st ed. Johannesburg: Educum Publishers, 1985, c1983.644 p.; 22 cm. Uniform series; Across the curriculum.

1985b: [LILLYbm] English-Xhosa dictionary, by A[rnold] Fischer [1926-]. Cape Town; New York: Oxford University Press, 1985. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in white; dust jacket orange and white, lettered in black and decorated in white. Pp. [10], 1-738. First edition. Dalby 1625. Includes English-Xhosa, pp. 1-738. Second copy: [IUW].

"The idea for this English-Xhosa Dictionary was conceived during many years of studying and teaching Xhosa, and being confronted with the lack of an appropriate English-Xhosa Dictionary.... If this English-Xhosa Dictionary can be a step forward to better communication between the two language groups it has fulfilled its aim" (Preface). "...containing 15 000 main entries and many more thousands of derivations" (front flap).

1988: [IUW] The concise trilingual pocket dictionary: English, Xhosa, Afrikaans. Craighall: AD. Donker, 1988. 122, 116 p.; 18 cm.

1989: [IUW] The greater dictionary of Xhosa, editor-in-chief, H.W. Pahl; senior editors, A.M. Pienaar, T.A. Ndungane. Alice: University of Fort Hare; [Johannesburg: Thorold's Africana Books, distributor], c1989- . v.; 31 cm. Notes: English, Afrikaans, and Xhosa. Title of v. 2: Greater dictionary of Isixhosa.

1991: see 1991c under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1992: [IUW] The Xhosa language: an elementary introduction for everyday use. Cape Province: [s.n.], [1992]. [16] p.; 15 cm. Title on cover: Quick Xhosa, an elementary introduction to the Xhosa language for everyday use. Xhosa-English, English-Xhosa vocabulary.

1993: [IUW] Thornbird english-xhosa dictionary. Melville: Thornbird Publishers International, c1993. 69 p.; 21 cm.

1995: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1996: [IUW] New Xhosa phrase book and vocabulary / H. Tsolwana. 1st ed. Pretoria: J.L. Van Schaik, 1996. 120 p.; 21 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 120).

2001: [IUW] Kliek met Xhosa: 'n Xhosa-fraseboek, by Beverley Kirsch & Silvia Skorge met Sindiwe Magona. Kaapstad: David Philip, 2001. 218 p.: ill.; 18 cm.

2002: see 2002b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2006: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2008: see 2008c under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2011: [IUW] Parlons Xhosa: Afrique du sud / Zamantuli Scaraffiotti. Paris: L'Harmattan, 2011. 155 p.; 22 cm. Collection "Parlons". Includes bibliographical references (p. [151]). Xhosa-French, French-Xhosa vocabulary.

2012: [IUW] English-Xhosa dictionary / Arnold Fischer ... [et al.]. Cape Town: Oxford University Press, 2012. 738 p.; 21 cm.

"Answering a long-felt need for a comprehensive English-Xhosa dictionary, this work has been compiled to meet the needs of both Xhosa-speakers learning English, and English-speakers learning Xhosa. Plus: a guide to Xhosa noun classes in the front of the dictionary helps you understand a vital part of Xhosa grammar and how to use your dictionary effectively. Around 15,000 entries comprehensively cover everyday, technical and subject-specific English. The class system of Xhosa nouns is clearly shown to help you avoid making grammar mistakes." (publisher's statement).

[XIBE] The Xibe language (sibe gisun, also Sibo, Sibe, Xibo language) is the most widely spoken of the Tungusic languages spoken by members of the ethnic group in Xinjiang, in the northwest of the People's Republic of China. Xibe is conventionally viewed as a separate language within the southern group of Tungusic languages, alongside the more well-known Manchu language, having undergone more than 200 years of development separated from the Tungusic-speaking heartland since Xibe troops were dispatched to the Xinjiang frontiers in 1764. Some researchers such as Jerry Norman hold that Xibe is a dialect of Manchu, whereas other Xibologists, such as An Jun, argue that Xibe should be considered the "successor" to Manchu. Ethnohistorically, the Xibe people are not considered Manchu people, because they were excluded from chieftain Nurhaci's 17th-century tribal confederation to which the name "Manchu" was later applied (WikP).

Ethnologue: sjo. Alternate Names: Sibe, Sibin, Sibon, Xibo.

1977: [IUW] Die Sprache des mandschurischen Stammes Sibe aus der Gegend von Kuldscha, by Stanisław Kałużyński. Warszawa: Państwowe Wydawn. Naukowe, 1977. 1 v.: facsimis; 24 cm. Uniform series: Prace orientalistyczne; t. 25. At head of title: Polska Akademia Nauk. Komitet Nauk Orientalistycznych. Added t.p. in Polish: Język mandżurskiego plemienia Sibe z okolic Kuldży. Texts in Manchu. Includes bibliographical references. Bd. 1. 1. F. Muromskis Sibenische Texte. 2. Wörterverzeichnis. Volume Two is Xibe-German dictionary.

2010: [IUW] 锡伯语通论 = Sibe gisun-i hebu hafu leolen / 萨蒙 ... [et al.] 著.

Xibo yu tong lun = Sibe gisun-i hebu hafu leolen / Sameng ... [et al.] zhu. 第1版. Di 1 ban. First edition. 乌鲁木齐市: 新疆人民出版社, 2010. Wulumuqi Shi: Xinjiang ren min chu ban she, 2010. ii, vi, 468 p.; 27 cm. Xibe-Chinese dictionary. Includes bibliographical references (p. 465-468). Summary:

"锡伯语通论"在深入研究锡伯口语语言规律的基础上,

创造性提出了全套察布查尔锡伯话的拼音方案,

对锡伯口语的语音,词汇,词法,句型,句法以及锡伯文字的识读等方面进行了全面的研究与探讨.书中涉及锡伯口语词汇近万个/条,日常会话例句四千余条.

书中用词通俗易懂,所举例句均为日常用语,对于初次接触锡伯口语的读者,

通过本书的帮助,可以达到与锡伯族人士熟悉沟通的程度;

对于接触过锡伯口语的读者或者锡伯口语操持者,也将会从中受益颇大.

"Xibo yu tong lun" zai shen ru yan jiu Xibo kou yu yu yan gui lü de ji chu shang, chuang zao xing ti chu le quan tao Chabuchaer Xibo hua de pin yin fang an, dui Xibo kou yu de yu yin, ci hui, ci fa, ju xing, ju fa yi ji Xibo wen zi de shi du deng fang mian jin xing le quan mian de yan jiu yu tan tao. Shu zhong she ji Xibo kou yu ci hui jin wan ge/tiao, ri chang hui hua li ju si qian yu tiao. Shu zhong yong ci tong su yi dong, suo ju li ju jun wei ri chang yong yu, dui yu chu ci jie chu Xibo kou yu de du zhe, tong guo ben shu de bang zhu, ke yi da dao yu Xibo zu ren shi shu xi gou tong de cheng du; dui yu jie chu guo Xibo kou yu de du zhe huo zhe Xibo kou yu cao chi zhe, ye jiang hui cong zhong shou yi po da. (publisher's statement).

"On the basis of in-depth study of the laws of Xibo's spoken language, the author puts forward a set of Pinyin scripts in Chabuchael, and the pronunciation, vocabulary, lexical, sentence pattern, syntax and Xibo script of Xibo's spoken language. He has conducted comprehensive research and discussion on the other aspects. The book involves nearly 10,000 words in Sibon, and more than 4,000 articles in daily conversation. The words used in the book are easy to understand. The examples are everyday language. For the first time, contact with Xibo. Speaking readers, through the help of this book, can reach the level of familiar communication with Xibo people; for readers who have contacted Xibo oral or Xibo oral practitioners, they will also benefit greatly" (google translation).

2013: [IUW] Spoken Sibe: morphology of the inflected parts of speech / Veronika Zikmundová. Prague: Charles University in Prague, Karolinum Press, 2013. ©2013. 231 pages; 23 cm. Original green and white wrappers, lettered in white and black. Vocabulary, Xibe-English, pp. 204-226. Includes bibliographical references (pages 227-229).

"The intention of this work is to offer the reader a more comprehensive image of the Sibe language as it is used at present on its historical and cultural territory" (from the rear cover).

[!XOO] Taa /'ta:/, also known as !Xóǝ (!Khong, !Xoon – pronounced /!χǝ:/, English /'kou/), is a Khoisan language notable for its large number of phonemes, perhaps the largest in the world. Most speakers live in Botswana, but a few hundred live in Namibia. The people call themselves !Xoon (pl. !Xoonǎke) or 'Nlohan (pl. Nlumde), depending on the dialect they speak. Taa is the word for 'human being'; the local name of the language is Taa ǎan, from ǎan 'language'. !Xoon (!Xóǝ) is an ethnonym used at opposite ends of the Taa-speaking area, but not by Taa speakers in between. Most living Taa speakers are ethnic !Xoon (plural !Xoonǎke) or 'Nlohan (plural Nlumde). Taa shares a number of characteristic features with West ǀ'Amkoe and Glui, which together are considered part of the Kalahari Basin sprachbund (WikP).

Ethnologue: nm. Alternate Names: Ngǀamani, Tsasi.

1975: [LILLYbm] Zu/hoasi fonologie & woordeboek, by J[annie] W[inston] Snyman. Kaapstad & Rotterdam: A. A. Balkema, 1975. Original two-tone brown wrappers, lettered in white. Pp. I-IV V-VII VIII, i-ii iii-xi xii, I 2-196 [2] i ii-xviii xviii, ²1 2-166. First edition. Hendrix 430 (but incorrectly indicating Afrikaans-!xǃ also). Series: Communication of the University of Cape Town, School of African Studies, no. 37. Includes !xoo-Afrikaans, pp. ²[1]-138, a list of proper names, pp. ²139-141, and a list of bird and plant names with Afrikaans and/or Latin equivalents, pp. ²142-166.

"Dr. Snyman has written this study in Afrikaans...as it was his wish that the book should serve the people concerned. The !xǃ are in an Afrikaans-speaking area where English is very rarely heard. We plan to make part of this issue available to !xǃ schools at cost price so that they may benefit from it....Though [Dr. Snyman's] achievement may not be final, we now at last have a serviceable spelling that Bushman speakers can read and write. The dictionary or 'woordeboek' may be regarded as the first true and serviceable monographic dictionary of any of the Bushman languages of Southern Africa. Dorothea Bleek's posthumous work is comparative, and is, in any case, a pronunciation rather than a conceptual dictionary... Vedder's word-list contains perhaps as many entries as Dorothea Bleek's comparative entries for !xǃ...but is worth mentioning in this context as equal to a dictionary, for it has much to recommend it. The Hottentot dictionaries are not covered in this survey, but would include Dorman's Hiechware list..., Kronlein's Nama dictionary, and Meinhof's Koranna word-list. Dr. Snyman's dictionary contains some 3300 entries, though he says that this represents a small percentage only of the words in general use in the languages.... I do not think that many authorities will be able to correct Snyman's dictionary for quite a number of years and I believe it will remain the standard and authoritative reference work for a long time" (Editor's Foreword, E.O.J. Westphal).

1994: [IUW] A !Xóõ dictionary / Anthony Traill. Köln: R. Köppe, 1994. 292 p.; 24 cm. Quellen zur Khoisan-Forschung; Bd. 9. !Xoo-English, English-!Xoo.

Y

[YABEM] Yabem or Jabêm is an Austronesian language spoken natively (in 1978) by about 2000 people at the southern tip of the Huon Peninsula in Morobe Province, Papua New Guinea. However, Yabem was adopted as local lingua franca for evangelical and educational purposes by the German Lutheran missionaries who first arrived at Simbang, a Yabem-speaking village, in 1886. By 1939, it was spoken by as many as 15,000 people, and understood by as many as 100,000 (Zahn 1940). In the decade after World War II, the mission's network of schools managed to educate 30,000 students using Yabem as the medium of instruction (Streicher 1982). Although the usage of Yabem as a local lingua franca has now been replaced by Tok Pisin, Yabem remains one of the best documented Austronesian languages, with extensive instructional and liturgical materials (including many original compositions, not just translations from German or English) as well as grammars and dictionaries (Wikip).

Ethnologue: jae. Alternate Names: Jabem, Jabim, Laulabu, Yabim.

1891: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1982: [LILLYbm] Jabêm-Deutsch Wörterbuch. English, revised by J.F. Streicher; [translation from German into English by D.C. Laycock]. Canberra, A.C.T., Australia: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1982. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold; dust jacket yellow-green, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [2] i-ii iii-xii, 1-674 + 1 2-19 (advertisements). First edition. Pacific Linguistics, Series C, No. 68. Includes Yabem-English, pp. 1-628. P. 658 lists several mimeographed dictionaries of Jabêm. It appears from the preface that Zahn's German Jabêm dictionary of 1917 was also only mimeographed and never published as a book. This appears to be the first publication of the dictionary in book form, and certainly the first Yabem-English dictionary. Second copy: [IUW].

"This present dictionary of the Jabêm language is the largest dictionary of an Austronesian language of Papua New Guinea. The language, originally spoken by only about 900 people in an area 30 km south of Finschhafen on the coast of the Huan Peninsula, was adopted as a church language by the Lutheran Mission in the mid-1880's.... About 25,000 people have an active knowledge of it today. The dictionary gives a wealth of information on aspects of the old culture and traditions of the Jabêm people which are no longer known to the present generation" (from the front flap of the dust jacket). "J.F. Streicher ...served the Lutheran Mission New Guinea at Kaiapit...at Hopio...and at Logaweng. After internment at Tatura, Victoria (1940-1948) he returned to PNG in 1949" (from the back flap of the dust jacket).

[YAGARA] Turrubal (Turubul), also known as Yagara (Jagara), is an extinct language of Australia. Other spellings of Turrubal are Turrbul, Turrabal, Toorbal, Tarabul; other names of Yagara are Ugarapul, Yuggarabul, Yuggera, Yuggarapul, Yackarabul; a third name is Jinibara. The four dialects listed in Dixon (2002) are sometimes seen as separate Durubalic languages, especially Jandai and Nukunul; Yagara and Turubul proper are more likely to be considered dialects.

Ethnologue: yxg. Alternate Names: Biriin, Cateebil, Jagara, Jagarabal, Jagera, Jergarbal, Jinibara, Ninghi, Terabul, Tor-bul, Turibul, Turrbal, Turrubal, Turrubul, Turubul, Yackarabul, Yaggara, Yerongban, Yeronghan, Yerongpan, Yuggara, Yugg-ari.

1958: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES:
POLYGLOT.

[YAGARIA] Yagaria is a Papuan language spoken in the Goroka District of Eastern Highlands Province, Papua New Guinea. Named dialects are Kami-Kulaka, Move, Ologuti, Dagenava, Kamate, Hira, Hua (Huva), Kotom (WikP).

Ethnologue: ygr.

1977: [IUW] Yagaria dictionary, with English index / by G. L. Renck. Canberra: Dept. of Linguistics, Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University, 1977. xxvii, 327 p. 16 p.: map; 26 cm. Pacific linguistics: Series C; no. 37.

[YAGNOBI] The Yaghnobi language is a living Eastern Iranian language (the other living members being Pashto, Ossetic and the Pamir languages). Yaghnobi is spoken in the upper valley of the Yaghnob River in the Zarafshan area of Tajikistan by the Yaghnobi people. It is considered to be a direct descendant of Sogdian and has often been called Neo-Sogdian in academic literature. There are some 12,500 Yaghnobi speakers. Most Yaghnobi speakers are bilingual in the West Iranian Tajik. Yaghnobi is mostly used for daily family communication, and Tajik is used by Yaghnobi-speakers for business and formal transactions. A single Russian ethnographer was told by nearby Tajiks, long hostile to the Yaghnobis, who were late to adopt Islam, that the Yaghnobis used their language as a "secret" mode of communication to confuse the Tajiks. The account led to the belief by some, especially those reliant solely on Russian sources, that Yaghnobi or some derivative of it was used as a code for nefarious purposes (WikP).

Ethnologue: yai. Alternate Names: Soghdi, Yaghnabi, Yaghnobi, Yaghnubi, Yagnabi, Yagnob, Yagnubi.

1957: [LILLYbm] Iagnobskie teksty. S prilozeniem iagnobsko-russkogo slovaria, by M[ikhail] S[tepanovich] Andreev & E.M. Peshchereva. Moscow: Izd-vo Akademii nauk SSSR, 1957. 390 p. + errata slip. 27 cm. Original brown cloth over boards, decorated in blind and lettered and decorated in gold. First edition. Yagnobi-Russian, pp. 223-[370]. Russian-Yagnobi index, pp. 371-[391]. From the library of Carleton T. Hodge. Second copy: [IUW].

1972: [IUW] Ġagnobskii ġazyk / Khromov, Al'bert Leonidovich. Moskva, "Nauka," 1972. 208 p. 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original front brown and white wrappers, lettered in black. In Cyrillic characters. Yagnobi-Russian vocabulary, pp. 163-187. Includes bibliographical references.

[YAGWOIA] Yagwoia (Yeghuye), or Kokwaiyakwa, is an Angan language of Papua New Guinea. Dialects are named after the five ethnicities, Iwalaqamalje, Hiqwaye, Hiqwase, Gwase, Heqwangilye (Yeqwangilje dialect) (WikP).

Ethnologue: ygw. Alternate Names: Kokwaiyakwa, Yeghuye.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YAHADIAN] Yahadian is a Papuan language of the Bird's Head Peninsula of Southwest Papua. It is spoken in Yahadian village, Kais District, South Sorong Regency; Yahadian is closest to Konda, with which it is 60% similar lexically (WikP). Speakers, 500 (1991 SIL).

Ethnologue: ner. Alternate Names: Jahadian, Nerigo, Yabin Yahadian.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YAKA] Aka, also known as Yaka or Beka, is a Bantu language spoken in the Central African Republic and Republic of Congo, along the Ubangi River dividing the two countries. Aka is spoken by the Aka people, Pygmies closely related to the Ubangian-speaking Baka of Cameroon, Congo, and Gabon. Together, these peoples are known as the Mbenga (Bambenga) or Binga (Babinga), the latter derogatory. Famously, Aka shares vocabulary with the Baka languages, mostly concerning a specialized forest economy, such as words for edible plants, medicinal plants, and honey collecting. This is among the 30% of Aka which is not Bantu, and the 30% of Baka which is not Ubangian, and has been posited as the remnant of an ancestral Western Pygmy (Mbenga or "Baaka") language which has otherwise vanished. However, it is entirely possible that the Aka shifted to Bantu from a Ubangian language related to Baka, in which case the situation reduces to a single ethnic group adapted to the forest with correspondingly specialized vocabulary. There is no evidence for a wider linguistic affiliation with any of the other Pygmy peoples. The Aka people call themselves Mraka in the singular and Beka in the plural. The people and their language go by various alternate spellings: Mò-Áka, Moyaka, Bayaka, Yaga, Bayaga, Gbayaka, Biaka, Beká, Yakwa, Yakpa, Yakpwa, Nyoyaka. The western Aka are known as the Benzele (Mbenzélé, Babenzélé, Bambenzele, Ba-Benjelle), and the eastern Aka as the Sese (Basele). These might be distinct dialects; Nzari might be another. Pygmies of northern Gabon called the Mikaya and Luma are evidently either Aka or speak a language closely related to Aka (WikP).

Ethnologue: axk. Alternate Names: Aka, "Babinga" (pej.), "Bambenga" (pej.), Beká, Nyoyaka, Pygmée de la Lobaye, Pygmée de Mongoumba, Pygmées de la Sanghas.

1980: [IUW] Les plantes chez les pygmées Aka et les Monzombo de la Lobaye (Centrafrique): contribution à une étude ethnobotanique comparative chez des chasseurs-cueilleurs et des pêcheurs-cultivateurs vivant dans un même milieu végétal / Elisabeth Motte. Paris: SELAF, 1980. 573 p., [1] p. of plates: ill., maps; 24 cm. Library binding. Société d'études linguistiques et anthropologiques de France (Series); 80-82. Etudes pygmées 5. Dictionary of plant names: Latin-French-Aka-Monzombo, pp. 68-427. Includes Lexique des termes Aka, Aka-French, pp. [479]-539. Bibliography: p. 453-460.

1981: [IUW] Encyclopédie des pygmées Aka: techniques, langage et société des chasseurs-cueilleurs de la forêt centrafricaine (Sud-Centrafricaine et Nord-Congo) / Jacqueline M.C. Thomas et Serge Bahuchet, éditeurs de Simha Arom ... [et al.]; avec des documents de Lucien Demesse. Paris: Société d'études linguistiques et anthropologiques de France, 1981- <v. 1, fasc. 1-4; v. 2, fasc. 1-4, 7; in 9 >: ill., maps (some col.); 24 cm. Etudes pygmées 4. Langues et civilisations à tradition orale 50 Vol. 2, fasc. 2-<4, 7 >: Selaf; no 339, 343, 366, 418. Vol. 2, fasc. 2-<4, 7 > have imprint: Paris: Peeters. Vol. 2, fasc 7 has title: Dictionnaire ethnographique aka-français (langue bantu C 10); Z-NZ-NY-Y. Discography: v. 1, pt. 1, p. 134. Filmography: v. 1, pt. 1, p. [135]. Includes bibliographical references and indexes. Summaries in English, French, German, Russian, and Spanish.

2003: Second edition [IUW] Encyclopédie des Pygmées Aka: techniques, langage et société des chasseurs-cueilleurs de la forêt centrafricaine (Sud-Centrafrrique et Nord-Congo). II, dictionnaire ethnographique aka-français: langue bantu C 10, fascicule 1, P / Jacqueline M.C. Thomas ... [et al.]. 2. éd. revue et augmentée. Louvain: Peeters, 2003. 183 p.: ill., map; 24 cm. Langues et civilisations à tradition orale 50. Études pygmées 4. Société d'études linguistiques et anthropologiques de France (Series); no 406. Includes index. Text in French; summaries in English, French, and German.

2000: [IUW] Lexique Yaka-Francais, Francais-Yaka / P. Ruttenberg S.J. München: LINCOM Europa, 2000. 343 pages; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original yellow wrappers, lettered in black. Languages of the world. Dictionaries; 27. Yaka-French, pp. 23-190, French-Yaka, pp. 191-343. Includes bibliographical references.

2003: [IUW] Mbindili a makuumbu ma mu iyaa = Mystère du nom yaka / Martial De-Poul Ikounga. 1e éd. Dolisie, Congo: NZO Editions, c2003. 56; 21 cm. Original pale orange wrappers, lettered in black. Lexicon of Yala proper names, with meanings in French, including explanations, pp. 6-39 (male names), and 41-56 (female names).

[YAKAMA] Yakama is one of four languages listed by Ethnologue under Sahaptin, " a Plateau Penutian language of the Sahaptian branch spoken in a section of the northwestern plateau along the Columbia River and its tributaries in southern Washington, northern Oregon, and southwestern Idaho, in the United States. Many of the tribes that surrounded the land were skilled with horses and trading with one another. The Yakama tribal cultural resources program has been promoting the use of the traditional name of the language, Ichishkíin Sínwit, instead of Sahaptin, which means "stranger in the land" (Wikip).

Ethnologue: yak. Alternate Names: Ichishkíin, Waptailmim, Yakima. Klikitat is listed as a dialect of Yakama.

1838: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1862: [LILLYbm] Grammar and Dictionary of the Yakama Language, by Marie Charles Pandosy, trans. by George Gibbs & J[ohn] G[ilmary] Shea. New York: Cramoisy Press, 1862. Original cream wrappers, lettered in black. 2 p.l. [vii]-viii, [9]-59 pp. First edition. Shea's Library of American Linguistics VI (not indicated here). Zaunmüller, col. 405. 100 copies printed (cf. Sabin). English-Yakama, pp. 37-69. This copy with an ink inscription "Philological Society / 3 Nov. 1865" at upper right corner of front wrapper. Small ink stamp inside front cover indicates it was withdrawn from the library of King's College, London. This is the first dictionary of the language. The first published vocabulary may have been in Palmer's Tour, 1838 (see under Nez Perce). A Yakima Language Practical Dictionary was published in 1975 in Toppensih, Washington.

1907-1930: see Vol. 7 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

2009: see under SAHAPTIN.

[YAKKHA] Yakkha (also erroneously spelled as Yakha) is a language spoken in parts of Nepal, Darjeeling district and Sikkim. The Yakkha-speaking villages are located to the East of the Arun river, in the southern part of the Sankhuwasabha district and in the northern part of the Dhankuta district of Nepal. About 14,000 people still speak the language, out of 17,003 ethnic Yakkha in Nepal. Genealogically, Yakkha belongs to the Eastern Kiranti languages and is in one subgroup with several Limbu languages, e.g. Belhare, Athpare, Chintang and Chulung. Ethnically however, the Yakkha people perceive themselves as distinct from the other Kiranti groups such as Limbu (WikP).

Ethnologue: ybh. Alternate Names: Dewansala, Yakha, Yakkha Ceya, Yakkhaba, Yakkhaba Cea, Yakkhaba Sala, Yakhthomba.

1868: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1903-1927: see Vol. III, Part I, 1909 under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YAKUT] Yakut, also known as Sakha, is a Turkic language with around 450,000 native speakers spoken in the Sakha Republic in the Russian Federation by the Yakuts. Like most Turkic languages and their ancestral Proto-Turkic, Yakut is an agglutinative language and employs vowel harmony (WikP), Ethnologue: sah. Alternate Names: Sakha, Yakut-Sakha.

1705 [1785]: see under INDO-EUROPEAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1730: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1738: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1847: [LILLYbm] [cover title] Dr. A. Th. v. Middendorff's Sibirische Reise. Band II. Theil 2. Über die Sprache der Jakuten. Erste Lieferung: Jakutisch-deutsches Wörterbuch. An installment of the first edition of Reise in den äussersten Norden und Osten Sibiriens, während der Jahre 1843 und 1844, by Alexander Theodor von Middendorff [1815-1894.] St. Petersburg: Buchdr. der K. Akademie der Wissenschaften: Zu haben bei Eggers, 1847. Original blue wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [2] 1 2-178. Half-title: "Dr. A. Th. v. Middendorff's Sibirische Reise. Band III. Theil 2. Ethnographie." Includes Yakut-German, pp. [1]-174, with Nachträge, pp. [175]-178. First dictionary of the Yakut language. This installment appears to bear the signature of Middendorff on the half-title.

1851: Special separate printing [LILLYbm] Über die Sprache der Jakuten. Grammatik, Text und Wörterbuch, by Otto Böhtlingk. St. Peterburg: Buchdruckerei der Kaiserlichen Akademie der Wissenschaften, 1851. Modern brown half-leather and brown marbled paper over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. [2] I II-LVIII, 1 2-300, ²1-3 4-97 98, [2] ³1 2-184. First edition. Besonderer Abdruck des dritten Bandes von Dr. A. Th. v. Middendorff's Reise in den äussersten Norden und Osten Sibiriens [Special printing of the third volume of Dr. A. Th. v. Middendorff's Travels in the Extreme North and East of Siberia. Zaunmüller, col. 210. Dalby 1626. Includes Yakut-German dictionary, pp. [31]-3174, with Nachträge, pp. [3175]-3184. First dictionary of the Yakut language. The Nachträge for this special printing has been enlarged from that in the initial printing in Middendorff's Reise.

1964: Reprinted [IUW] Über die Sprache der Jakuten / Otto von Böhtlingk. The Hague, Mouton, 1964. 7, liv, 397, 184 p. 24 cm. Uralic and Altaic series; v. 35. Reproduced, with added new foreword in English, from the original ed. published in 1851 in St. Peterburg as v. 3. of A. T. von Middendorff's Reise in den äussersten Norden und Osten Sibiriens.

Includes bibliographical references. Includes Yakut-German dictionary..

1989: Russian translation [IUW] O iazyke iakutov / O.N. Bëtlingk; perevel s nemetskogo V.I. Rassadin. Novosibirsk: "Nauka," Sibirskoe otd-nie, 1989. 644 p.; 23 cm. "Nauchnoe izdanie"--Colophon. Title on added t.p.: Über die Sprache der Jakuten. Last third of publication is a Yakut--Russian dictionary. Includes bibliographical references.

1945: [IUW] Yakut dili sözlüğü / Ė. K. Pekarskiĭ; D.D. Popov ve V.M. İonov'un en yakın iştirakiyle tertip edilmiştir. İstanbul, Ebüzziya Matbaası, 1945-/ v. 35 cm. Uniform series: Türk Dil Kurumu yayınları; sayı 99.. Series no. supplied from Türk Dil Kurumu yayınları sıra listesi, 1932-1957. 1. cilt. A-M. Under the auspices of the Turkish Linguistics Society, this dictionary which originally was from the Yakut language to Russian, has been rewritten to be a dictionary from Yakut to Turkish.

1955: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1958-1959: [IUW] Slovar' iakutskogo iazyka / Ė.K. Pekarskiĭ. [2. izd.]. Second edition. [Moskva: s.n.], 1958-1959. 3 v. (xviii, 3858 columns, viii p.); 27 cm. At head of title: Akademiia nauk SSSR. "Napechatano foto-mekhanicheskim sposobom s I-go izdaniia." Dalby 1628. Includes bibliographies. Yakut-Russian dictionary.

1962: [IUW] Yakut manual; area handbook, grammar, graded reader and glossary, by John Richard Krueger. Bloomington: Indiana University, 1962. xiv, 389 p.: maps (1 fold.); 23 cm. Library binding. Uralic and Altaic series; v. 21. "American Council of Learned Societies. Research and studies in Uralic and Altaic languages, project no. 63." Dalby 1627. Yakut-English glossary, pp. [231]-279; Von Strahlenberg's Yukut Vocabulary of 1730, pp. [305]-310, edited and annotated. Errata sheet inserted. Bibliographic: p. [381]-389.

1968: [LILLYbm] Russko-iakutskii slovar: okolo 28 500 slov, by P[etr] S[avvich] Afanasev & L[uka] N[ikiforovich] Kharitonov. Moscow: Sovetskaia entsiklopediia, 1968. Original green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in silver and black.

1972: [IUW] Īakutsko-russkii slovar'. 25300 slov. Pod red. P.A. Sleptsova. Moskva, "Sov. entsiklopediia," 1972. 606 p. 25 cm. Added t. p.: Sakhalyy-nuuchchalyy tyld'yt. By E.I. Korkina and others. Bibliography: p. [606]. Yakut-Russian dictionary.

1976: [IUW] Dialektologicheskii slovar' iakutskogo iazyka / sostavili P.S. Afanas'ev, M.S. Voronkin, M.P. Alekseev. Moskva: Izd-vo "Nauka", 1976. 390 p., [1] folded leaf: map; 22 cm. Title on added t.p.: Sakha tylyn dialektologicheskaĭ tyld'yta. "Soderzhit svyshe 8500 slov"--T.p. Bibliography: p. 387-[391]. Yakut and Russian dialectological dictionary.

1992a: [IUW] Poniātiino-terminologičeskii russko-īakutskii slovar' po psikhologii: razdel "Fiziologičeskie osnovy psikhologii" / [russkii tekst A.V. Likhanovoi; perevod L.A. Afanas'eva]. ĪAkutsk: ĪAkutskii gos. universitet, 1992. 30 p.; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Russian-Yakut vocabulary of psychology.

1992b: [IUW] Poniātiino-terminologičeskii russko-īakutskii slovar' po psikhologii: razdel "Psikhologiia vospitaniia" / [sostavitel' M.D. Germogenova]. ĪAkutsk: ĪAkutskii gos. universitet, 1992. 40 p.; 20 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. [39]). Russian-Yakut vocabulary of educational psychology.

1992c: see under EVEN.

1993a: [IUW] Poniātiino-terminologičeskii russko-īakutskii slovar' po psikhologii: razdel "Psikhologiia sporta" / [V.N. Sleptsov, I.P. Chabyev]. ĪAkutsk: ĪAkutskii gos. universitet, 1993. 18 p.; 20 cm. Russian-Yakut vocabulary of sports psychology.

1993b: [IUW] Poniātiino-terminologičeskii russko-īakutskii slovar' po psikhologii: razdel "Psikhologiia truda" / [V.N. Sleptsov]. ĪAkutsk: ĪAkutskii gos. universitet, 1993. 14 p.; 20 cm. Russian-Yakut vocabulary of labor psychology.

1995a: [LILLYbm] Dialektologičeskii slovar iazyka sakha: dopolnitelnyi tom: sodержit okolo 5,000 slov, by M[ikhail] S[piridonovich] Voronkin, M[ikhail] P[etrovich] Alekseev, and IU[rrii] I[vanovich] Vasilev. Novosibirsk: VO "Nauka", 1995. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. 1-5 6-294 295-296. First edition. 1,300 copies printed. Supplementary vol. to Dialektologičeskii slovar iakutskogo iazyka, published in Moscow in 1976. Includes Yakut-Russian, pp. [34]-253, a list of dialectical synonyms, pp. [254]-286, and bibliographical references. pp. [292]-294.

1995b: [IUW] Türkçe-Sahaca (Yakutça) sözlük / Yuriy Vasiliev (Cargistay) Ankara: Atatürk Kültür, Dil ve Tarih Yüksek Kurumu, 1995. vii, 312 p.; 20 cm. Türk Dil Kurumu yayınları; 621. Yakut in Cyrillic and roman characters. Turkish-Yakut dictionary.

2004-2016: [IUW] Саха тылын быһаарыылаах тылдыта / П.А. Слепцов уопсай эрдээксийэтинэн. Sakha tylyn byhaaryylaakh tyld'yta / P.A. Sleptsov uopsai èrèdèèksiïetinen. Новосибирск: Наука, 2004-2016. Novosibirsk: Nauka, 2004 <2016>. volumes <1-13>; 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references. Yakut-Russian dictionary.

2007: [IUW] サハ語会話帳 / ナチエーシダ・ポポーヴァ, 藤代節 = Sakhalyy saṅgaryakh! = Sakha language: grammar, conversation, glossary / Nadezhda Popova, Setsu Fujishiro. Sahago kaiwachō / Najējida Popōva, Fujishiro Setsu = Sakhalyy saṅgaryakh! = Sakha language: grammar, conversation, glossary / Nadezhda Popova, Setsu Fujishiro. 福岡市: 九州大学大学院人文科学研究院言語学研究室, 2007. Fukuoka-shi: Kyūshū Daigaku Daigakuin Jinbun Kagaku Kenkyūin Gengogaku Kenkyūshitsu, 2007. 252 p., [2] p. of plates: col. ill., map; 21 cm. Contribution to the studies of Eurasian languages series. Errata slip tipped-in. In Japanese and Yakut. Includes Yakut-Japanese glossary.

2008a: [IUW] Краткий русско-якутский словарь: учебный словарь / [составитель Т.И. Петрова]. Kratkii russko-īakutskii slovar': uchebnyi slovar' /

[sostavitel' T.I. Petrova]. Якутск: Бичик, 2008. Īakutsk: Bichik, 2008. 366 p.; 21 cm. Russian-Yakut dictionary.

2008b: [IUW] Словарь якутского языка в трех томах / Э.К. Пекарский. Slovar' ĭakutskogo ĭazyka v trekh tomakh / Ė.K. Pekarskiĭ. 3-е изд., испр. и доп. 3-е izd., ispr. i dop. Third edition revised and enlarged. Санкт-Петербург: "Наука", 2008. Sankt-Peterburg: "Nauka", 2008. 3 v. (xci p., 3858 columns); 25 cm. T. 1, vyp. 1-4. A-Kŷdŷölät. t. 2, vyp. 5-9. Kŷdŷörŷi-Sychchŷr. t. 3., vyp. 10-13. Ta-Ychŷny. Yakut-Russian dictionary. IUW hold vol. 1.

[YALARNNGA] Yalarnnga (also Jalarnnga, Yalarnnga, or Yalanga) is an extinct Australian Aboriginal language of the Pama–Nyungan family, that may be related to the Kalkatungu language. It was formerly spoken in areas near the town of Dajarra, in far northwestern Queensland. The last native speaker died in 1980 (WikP).

1971: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YALE, KOSAREK] Kosarek (or Kosarek Yale, Mek Kosarek) is a Papuan language used in Kosarek District, Yahukimo Regency, Highland Papua (WikP). Population: 2,300 (1993 R. Doriot). 2,300 monolinguals. Nearly 100% are monolingual. Ethnic population: 2,300.

Ethnologue: kkl. Alternate Names: In-lom, Kosarek, Wanam, Yale, Yale yubu, Yale yupu, Yale-Kosarek, Yali, Yali Kosarek. Autonym: Mek Kosarek.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YALI, PASS VALLEY] Yali (Yaly, Jalè, Jaly) is a Papuan language of Indonesian New Guinea. The Yali people live east of the Baliem Valley, in the Western Highlands. Dialectical differentiation is great enough that Ethnologue assigns separate codes to three varieties:

Pass Valley, also known as Abenaho, North Ngalik, and Western Yali; subdialects are Pass Valley, Landikma, Apahapsili.

Ninia, also known as North Ngalik and Southern Yali (Yali Selatan).

Angguruk, also known as Northern Yali.

However, almost nothing is known of this language. Not even the pronouns were attested for Ross (2005) to base a classification on. Siegfried Zoellner, a German missionary, has between 1960 and 1973 translated the bible into the Yali language (WikP). Population: 5,000 (1988 SIL).

Ethnologue: yac. Alternate Names: Abendago, North Ngalik, Western Yali, Yali, Yaly.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YALUNKA] Yalunka (or Jallonka) is the language of the Yalunka people of Guinea, Mali, Senegal, and Sierra Leone in West Africa. It is in the Mande language family. Yalunka is closely related to the Susu language (WikP).

Ethnologue: yal. Alternate Names: Dialonke, Djallonke, Dyalonke, Jalonke, Jalunga, Jalungas, Yalunke.

1916: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1971: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[YÁMANA] Yagán (originally Yahgan, but also now spelled Yaghan, Jagan, Iakan), also known as Yámana and Háusi Kúta, is one of the indigenous languages of Tierra del Fuego, spoken by the Yagán people. It is regarded as a language isolate, although some linguists have attempted to relate it to Kawésqar and Chon. Along with other Fuegian languages, it was among the first South American languages to be recorded by European explorers and missionaries. Yahgan was also spoken briefly on Keppel Island in the Falkland Islands at a missionary settlement. Following the death of 84-year-old Emelinda Acuña (1921 – October 12, 2005), only one native speaker remains, Cristina Calderón of Villa Ukika on Navarino Island, Chile. Calderón (often referred to as simply Abuela) is the sister-in-law of Acuña.

Ethnologue: yag. Alternate Names: Háusi Kúta, Tequenica, Yagán, Yaghan, Yahgan.

1839: see under QAWASQAR.

1882: [IUW] Glossar der feuerländischen Sprache von Julius Platzmann. Leipzig, B.G. Teubner, 1882. lvi, [2], 266 p., 1 . 3 port., fold. map. 16 cm. In two parts: "Feuerländisch-deutsch", and "Deutsch-feuerländisch". Based upon Thomas Bridges' translation of St. Luke's Gospel into the Yahgan-dialect, London, 1881. "Allgemeines über Feuerland zusammengestellt von Dr. Karl Whistling. I. Feuerland in den berichten der Seefahrer und ersten Erforscher--Darwin, Virchow, Peschel. II. Der 'Sunbeam' 1876 in den gewässern von Feuerland. III. Die Missionsstation Ushuwia. IV. Ueberseeische Dampfbootlinien nach Punta Arenas und Feuerland": p. [viii]-lvi. Yámana-German and German-Yámana glossary.

1928: [IUW] The Indians of Tierra del Fuego, by Samuel Kirkland Lothrop ... New York, Museum of the American Indian, Heye foundation, 1928. 244 p. illus., XIX pl. (1 col.: incl. map) 26 cm. Contributions from the Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation vol. X. "Ona vocabulary": p. 215-216 "Yahgan vocabulary": p. 217-218. Bibliography: p. 219-225.

1933: [LILLY] Yamana-English. A dictionary of the speech of Tierra del Fuego..., by Thomas Bridges. Edited by Dr. Ferdinand Hestermann and Dr. Martin Gusinde. [Mödling, Austria]: printed for private circulation only [at the Missionsdruckerei St. Gabriel, 1933]. Edition limited to 300 copies, 8vo, pp. xxiv, 664, [2]; portrait frontispiece and photo-reproductive plate of a Yamana hunter; original upper wrapper bound in, red library cloth binding, gilt title and call number direct on spine, t.e.g., textblock cocked, pages slightly toned. An Ayer Linguistics duplicate, with a gift label from Thomas' son Lucas Bridges, himself a lexicographer of Hausa, to the Newberry Library, and release stamp, on upper front endpaper. Bridges completed his Yamana grammar and dictionary in 1879, but it was only with the posthumous and private publication of this edition, edited by Drs. Hestermann and Gusinde, that it saw any distribution (bookseller's description: Rob Rulon-Miller). Yamana with English explanations, pp. [1]-664.

"For oral acquisition of an aboriginal language, the only possible method, it is necessary to have not only the full confidence of the native tribe, but many years of daily contact with different members. Thus the dictionary compiled by the Rev. Thomas bridges of the Yaghan language, comprising approximately 32,000 distinct words with many unique features; not overlaid by the speech of other tribes, even of their immediate neighbours; with evidence of slow and undisturbed growth in this most southerly portion of the inhabited world, and their speech sprung from even older roots; must stand both as a unique human exhibit and a major achievement in the science of Philology" (Preface, W. S. Barclay).

1979: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YAMDENA] Yamdena is an Austronesian language of the Maluku Islands in Indonesia (WikP).

Ethnologue: jmd, Alternate Names: Jamden, Jamdena, Tanemprar lirin.

1932: [LILLYbm] Woordenboek der Jamdeensche taal, by P[eter] Drabbe [1887-]. Bandoeng: A.C. Nix, 1932. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black (spine neatly repaired with white cloth). Pp. [4] 1 2-122 123-124. First edition. Series: Verhandelingen van het Koninklijk Bataviaasch Genootschap van Kunsten en Wetenschappen, 61, no. 3. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Yamdena-Dutch, pp. 5-122. First dictionary of Yamdena. Drabbe was a missionary to Tanimbar.

[YAMI] Yami (Chinese: 雅美), also known as Tao (Chinese: 達悟語), is a Malayo-Polynesian language. It is a member of the Ivatan dialect continuum spoken by the Yami people of Taiwan. It is spoken on Orchid Island, 46 kilometers southeast of the main island of Taiwan. Yami is known as ciriciring no Tao, or "human speech," by its native speakers. Yami is the only native language of Taiwanese aborigines that is not a member of the Formosan grouping of Austronesian; it is one of the Batanic languages found in the northern Philippines (WikP).

Ethnologue: tao. Alternate Names: Botel Tabago, Botel Tobago, Lanyu, Tao, Tawu.

1941: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1961: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1966: see under FORMOSAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1969: see under FORMOSAN LANUGAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YANA] Yana (also Yanan) is an extinct language formerly spoken by the Yana people, who lived in north-central California between the Feather and Pit rivers in what is now the Shasta and Tehama counties. The language perished in 1916 with the death of Ishi, who spoke the Yahi dialect. Yana is fairly well-documented (mostly by Edward Sapir) compared to other extinct American languages. The names Yana and Yahi are derived from the word for "people" in the respective dialects (WikP).

Ethnologue: ynn. Alternate Names: Yanan.

1960: [LILLYbm] Yana Dictionary, by Edward Sapir & Morris Swadesh. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1960. Original wrappers. 267 pp. First edition. University of California Publications in Linguistics, Vol. 22. Includes Yana-English and English-Yana. Yana is an extinct Indian language formerly spoken in Shasta and Tehama counties in the northern part of California. It is a member of the Hokan family. This is the first dictionary of the language, based on a manuscript Yana-English dictionary left by Edward Sapir on his death in 1939, and enlarged by an English-Yana section. Second copy: [IUW].

[YANO] Yano is a Tani language of India, possibly a variety of Nishi (WikP).

Neither Ethnologue nor Glottolog list this as a language, nor has it been assigned a standard language code. It is included as a dialect of Dafla [Nyishi] in Bor's article below (1939).

1939: see under NYISHI.

[YANOMAMÖ] Yanomamö (Yānomamì) is the most populous of several closely related languages spoken by the Yanomami people [living on the border between Venezuela and Brazil]. Most speakers are monolingual (WikP).

Ethnologue: guu. Alternate Names: Cobari Kobali, Cobariwa, Guaharibo, Guaica, Guajaribo, Shamatari, Yanomame, Yanomami.

1987: [IUW] Dicionário yānomamè-português: dialeto wakathautheri, [compilador] Loretta Emiri. Boa Vista, RR: Edições Comissão Pró-Índio de Roraima, 1987. 93 p.: map; 23 cm. Bibliography: p. 90-93.

[YAO] Yao is a Bantu language in Africa with approximately two million speakers in Malawi, and half a million each in Tanzania and Mozambique. There are also some speakers in Zambia. In Malawi, the main dialect is Mangoche, mostly spoken around Lake Malawi. In Mozambique, the main dialects are Makale and Massananga. In common with very many vernacular languages in Africa, it has historically enjoyed little official recognition, and literary work in the region where Yao is spoken has taken place in such languages as Arabic, English, German and Portuguese (WikP). Population: 2,800,000 in Malawi (2020 World Factbook), based on ethnicity. Total users in all countries: 3,728,000.

Ethnologue: yao. Alternate Names: Achawa, Adsawa, Adsoa, Ajawa, Ayao, Ayawa, Ayo, Chiyao, Chiyawo, Ciyaawo, Ciyao, Djao, Haiao, Hiao, Hyao, Jao, Veiao, Wajao, Yawo, chiYao, ciYao, waYao. Autonym: Ciyawo.

1850: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES ... POLYGLOT.

1871: [LILLY] Collections for a handbook of the Yao language, by Edward Steere (1828-1882). London, Society for promoting Christian knowledge, 1871. vii, 105 p. 18 cm. Original blue cloth, lettered in gold and decorated in blind. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1766. Includes several English-Yao "lists."

1889: [LILLY] Introductory handbook of the Yao language, by Alexander Hetherwick (1860-1939). London: Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, 1889. xvi, 281 p.; 16 cm. 20th-century quarter-cloth and paper over boards, with printed label on spine. Hendrix 1761. Includes Yao-English, pp. [87]-281.

1897: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1918: see 1918b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1924: see 1924b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1954: [LILLYbm] A Dictionary of the Yao Language, by G. Meredith Sanderson. Zomba: Nyasaland Government Printer, 1954. 440 p. illus. 21 cm. First edition. Original red cloth over boards, ruled in blind and lettered in gold. Not in Zaunmüller. Yao-English, pp. 23-290, English-Yao index, pp. 291-440. Foreword and Preface both dated 1954. First true dictionary in this language. Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary is a continuation of the work of Bishop Steere.... {with further details on the genesis of the dictionary}" (Preface).

1961: [LILLYbm] Dicionário de Português-Chi-Yao e Chi-Yao-Português, by Miguel José Viana. Lourenço Marques: Imprensa Nacional de Moçambique, 1961. Original (?) dark blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold, preserving original blue wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. 1 2-172. First edition. Series: Memórias do Instituto de Investigação Científica de Moçambique, Vol. 3. Includes Portuguese-Yao, pp. 47-104, and Yao-Portuguese, pp. [105]-172.

1968: [IUW] Yao-English dictionary, compiled by Sylvia J. Lombard. Edited by Herbert C. Purnell, Jr. Ithaca, N.Y., 1968. xvi, 363 p. 28 cm. Library binding, preserving original red front wrapper, lettered in black. Data paper (Cornell University. Southeast Asia Program); no. 69. Linguistics series; 2. Dalby 1629. Bibliography: p. xv-xvi. Yao-English, pp. 1-316, appendix A: numbers, pp. 317-320, appendix B: Kinship terminology, pp. 321-327, appendix C: Names, pp. 329-333, appendix D1: Proverbs and Idioms, pp. 335-339, appendix E: Classifiers, pp. 341-343, Supplement, Yao-English, pp. 345-363.

"Linguistic studies for Southeast Asia have long suffered from a paucity of reliable data, and among the numerous language families of the area Miao-Yao has been one for which data has been most notably lacking ... we are especially happy to provide this dictionary as one of the first steps in that direction" (Foreword, Robert B. Jones, Jr.).

"This dictionary consists largely of material gathered personally through an association with the Yao people of Thailand between 1952 and 1966, under the auspices of the Overseas Missionary Fellowship" (Preface).

2017: [IUW] Chiyao: kamusi ya Kiyao-Kiingereza-Kiswahili: ikiwa na faharasa za Kiingereza na Kiswahili = Yao-English-Swahili dictionary: with English and Swahili glosses / Julius J. Taji. Dar es Salaam: Mradi wa Lugha za Tanzania (MLT): Languages of Tanzania Project, University of Dar es Salaam, 2017 xx, 118 pages; 21 cm. LOT publications. Lexicon series; no. 23.

[YAPESE] Yapese is a language spoken by the people on the island of Yap (Federated States of Micronesia). It belongs to the Austronesian languages, more specifically to the Oceanic branch of that family. It has been difficult to classify it further, but Yapese may prove to be one of the Admiralty Islands languages (WikP).

Ethnologue: yap.

1821: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1852: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1910: [LILLY] The island of stone money, Uap of the Carolines, by William Henry Furness, 3rd (1866-1920). Philadelphia, London, J.B. Lippincott Company, 1910. Original orange cloth, lettered and illustrated in black. First edition. Libraries Worldwide: 126. Includes English-Uap [Yapese] vocabulary, pp. 199-236 and Uap [Yapese]-English, pp. 237-269, and English-Yapese phrases, pp. 270-[271]. First English-Yapese vocabulary.

1977: [LILLY] Yapese-English dictionary, by John Thayer Jensen. Honolulu: University Press of Hawaii, c. 1977. xx, 182 pages; 23 cm. Original white wrappers, lettered in blue, with an illustration of stone money on the front cover. ISBN 0-8248-0517-8. Price: $6.00. Series: PALI Language Texts: Micronesia. Yapese-English, pp. 3-77, English-Yapese finder list, pp. 81-188.

"The Yapese-English Dictionary, the first to be published in this language, builds primarily upon the work of P. Sixtus, Samuel H. Elbert and Robert Hsu. ... 4000 Yapese entries..." (from the rear cover).

"This Yapese-English Dictionary is a crude first attempt at making available in published form a list of some of the words of Yapese, with some of their meanings in English' (Preface).

[YAQAY] Yaqay (Yakhai, Yaqai, Jakai, Jaqai) is a Papuan language spoken in Indonesia by over 10,000 people. It is also called Mapi or Sohur; dialects are Oba-Miwamon, Nambiomon-Mabur, Bapai. According to Ethnologue, Yaqay is spoken along the south coast of Mappi Regency, along the Obaa River north to the Gandaimu area (WikP). Speakers, 10,000 (1987 SIL).

Ethnologue: jaq. Alternate Names: Jakai, Jaqai, Mapi, Sohur, Yaqai.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1981: [IUW] Head-hunters about themselves: an ethnographic report from Irian Jaya, Indonesia / J.H.M.C. Boelaars. The Hague: Nijhoff, 1981. xv, 296 p., [20] p. of plates: ill., maps; 24 cm. Original light blue wrappers, lettered in black. Uniform series: Verhandelingen van het Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal-, Land- en Volkenkunde 92. Appendix IV, "Recurrent Jaqaj Terms", Yaqay-English, pp.[294]-296.

[YAQUI] Yaqui (or Hiaki), locally known as Yoeme or Yoem Noki, is a Native American language of the Uto-Aztecan family. It is spoken by about 20,000 Yaqui people, in the Mexican state of Sonora and across the border in Arizona in the United States (WikP).

Ethnologue: yaq. Alternate Names: Hiak-nooki, Yoeme.

1890 [1891]: [LILLY] Buelna, Eustaquio. Arte de la lengua Cahita por un padre de la compania de Jesus. Contiene las reglas gramaticales y un vocabulario de dicho idioma... by Eustaquia Buelna. Mexico: imprenta del Gobierno Federal, en el Ex-Arzobispado, 1890, [1891]. 8vo, pp. lxiii, [1], 264; half straight-grain brown morocco over marbled boards, title in gilt direct on spine, t.e.g., marbled endpapers, original front wrapper bound in. The title page date is listed 1890, although the dates on the cover and introduction are given as 1891; joints rubbed, head of spine perished. An Ayer Linguistics duplicate, with Newberry Library bookplate, and release stamp on front free endpaper. Cáhita is a group of indigenous peoples of Mexico, which include the Yaqui and Mayo who occupy the west coast of the states of Sonora and Sinaloa. The Cahitan languages, Yaqui and Mayo, form the Cáhitan branch of the Uto-Aztecan language family. Palau 36596. (bookseller's description: Rob Rulon-Miller). Spanish-Cahita vocabulary, pp. [127]-199. With introduction.

1977: [LILLY] Los elementos de la lengua cahita: yaqui-mayo, by Andrés Lionnet. México: Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, 1977. 94 p.; 23 cm. Original stiff black wrappers, lettered and illustrated in white and orange. First edition. Includes Yaqui/Mayo-Spanish vocabulary, pp. 39-81, and a brief Spanish-Cahita vocabulary, pp. 83-90.

1999: [LILLYbm] Yoeme-English English-Yoeme Standard Dictionary: a Language of the Yaqui Tribe in the American Southwest and Northern Mexico, with a comprehensive Grammar of Yoeme Language, by David L. Shaul. New York:

Hippocrene Books, 1999. Original gray illustrated wrappers, lettered in white. and black. Pp. 1-4 5-351 352. First edition. Includes Yoeme-English, pp. 17-184 and English-Yoeme, pp. 185-282. Second copy: [IUW].

"Yoeme is an expressive language traditionally spoken by the Yaqui tribe in northern Mexico and the American Southwest region. This is the first Yoeme dictionary ever published. It includes over 8,000 entries, a comprehensive grammar of Yoeme language, and informative facts about this Yaqui culture" (from rear cover). "It is hoped that this Yoeme-English English-Yoeme Standard Dictionary, which is the first lengthy dictionary of a Cahitan language, will be the start of a dictionary tradition in this field. It is also hoped that it can be translated into Spanish for use in Mexico" (Preface).

2004: [IUW] Diccionario yaqui-español y textos: obra de preservación lingüística / Zarina Estrada Fernández ... [et al.]. 1. ed. México: Universidad de Sonora: Plaza y Valdés, 2004. 405 p.: map; 27 cm. Original black paper over boards, lettered in gold. Yaqui-Spanish, pp. 47-293. Includes bibliographical references (p. 403-405).

[YAUR] Yaur or Jaur is a language in the putative Cenderawasih (Geelvink Bay) branch of the Austronesian family spoken in Papua province, Western New Guinea. It has about 300 speakers (WikP). Population: 350 (1978 SIL).

Ethnologue: jau. Alternate Names: Jaur.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YAVITERO] Yavitero or Paraene is a nearly extinct Maipurean language of Venezuela (WikP).

Ethnologue: yvt. Alternate Names: Paraene.

1882: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

2000: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[YAWA] Yawa (Yava) is the Papuan language of central Yapen Island in Geelvink (Cenderawasih) Bay, Indonesia. Alternative names are Iau (not the same as Iau language), Mantembu, Mora (not Mora language), Turu, and Yapanani (WikP). Population: 10,000 (2011 SIL).

Ethnologue: yva. Alternate Names: Mantembu, Mora, Turu, Unat, Yapanani, Yava. Autonym: Yawa Unat.

1961: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YAWALAPITÍ] Yawalapiti (Jaulapiti) is an Arawakan language of Brazil. The Agavotaguerra (Agavotoqueng) reportedly spoke the same language (WikP).

Ethnologue: yaw. Alternate Names: Jaulapiti, Yaulapiti.

1894: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF SOUTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[YAZGULYAM] The Yazgulyam language (also Yazgulyami, Iazgulem, Yazgulam; Tajik: yazgulomi) is a member of the Southeastern subgroup of the Iranian languages, spoken by ca. 4,000 native speakers in 1994 along the Yazgulyam River, Gorno-Badakhshan, Tajikistan. Together with Shugni, it is classified in a Shugni-Yazgulami subgroup, as well as a part of the areal group of Pamir languages. Virtually all speakers are bilingual in the Tajik language. The language was first recorded by Russian traveller G. Arandarenko in 1889, listing 34 Yazgulami words recorded in 1882. The language was described in greater detail by French linguist Robert Gauthiot in Notes sur le yazggoulami, dialecte iranien des Confins du Pamir (1916). The Yazgulyam people are an exception among the speakers of Pamir languages in that they do not adhere to Ismailism. In 1954 the Yazgulami living on the mountain slopes were resettled, about 20% of them forcibly, to the Vakhsh valley, where they live dispersed among the Tadjiks, Uzbeks, Russians and other ethnic groups (WikP).

Ethnologue: yah. Alternate Names: Iazgulem, Yazghulomi, Yazgulam, Yazgulyami, Yuzdomi zavég.

1920: see under INDO-IRANIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1971: [LILLYbm] IAzguliansko-russkii slovar, D[zhoi] I[osifovna] Edelman. Moscow: "Nauka", 1971. Original tan quarter linen and gray-blue and olive paper over boards, lettered in white, spine lettered in black. Pp. 1-2 3-354 355-356. First edition. Includes Yazgulyam-Russian, pp. 6-353. Second copy: [IUW].

[YEI] Yei (Yey, Jei, Je, Yei-Nan) is a Papuan language of New Guinea. The Upper and Lower Yey dialects are only mutually intelligible with difficulty. According to Evans (2018), Yei is spoken in the villages of Po, Torai, Bupul, Tanas, and Kwel in Elikobal District [id], in eastern Merauke Regency, Indonesia (WikP).

Ethnologue: jei. Alternate Names: Je, Jei, Yei-Nan, Yey.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YELMEK] Yelmek, also rendered Jelmek or Jelmik, is a language of the proposed Trans-Fly – Bulaka River family in West Papua. Yelmek is spoken west of Merauke Regency, between the Digul River and Mbian River. Petabahasa by Indonesian Ministry of Education, Culture, Research, and Technology used the name Yelmek for the variety of Mek languages used by the Yalimek people in Wanam Village in Abenaho District, Yalimo Regency, while this language is called Yabega (WikP).

Ethnologue: jel. Alternate Names: Jab, Jabsch, Jelmek, Jelmik.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YENDANG] Yendang is a member of the Leko–Nimbari group of Savanna languages. It is spoken in northeastern Nigeria. Dialects are Kuseki, Yofo, Poli (Akule, Yakule) (WikP).

Ethnologue: ynq. Alternate Names: Kuseki, Nya Korok, Nya Yendang, Nyandang, Yadang, Yandang, Yendam, Yundum.

2012: [IUW] Nyadeh gbekang noye Hausa i Nyakuruk (Yandang) = Hausa-Yandang nàssa kamus weng kuki waribi, by Aji Fori. First Edition = Bugun Farko = Nyoki Nyatontang. Yola, Nigeria: Paraclete Publishers, 2012. x, 148 pages: illustrations; 21 cm. Original blue, yellow and green wrappers, lettered in yellow. Cover title: Hausa-Yandang dictionary = Nyadeh gbekang noyei Hausa-Nyakuruk. Hausa-Yandang [Yendang], pp. 1-148.

"This dictionary was originally prepared for the Yandang Language Board and intended to assist Hausa speakers to learn Yandang. Such is still its main intention. It can, however, be used by Yandang wishing to learn Hausa, provided they do so with caution" (Introduction).

[YERESIAM] Yeresiam or Iresim is an Austronesian language in the putative Cenderawasih (Geelvink Bay) language group of Indonesian Papua. It is not closely related to other languages (WikP). Population: 70 (Wurm 2000).

Ethnologue: ire. Alternate Names: Beduba, Iresim.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YERETUAR] Yeretuar, also called Umar or Goni, is an Eastern Malayo-Polynesian language in its putative Cenderawasih languages branch, originating from Cenderawasih Bay (Geelvink Bay) in West Papua Province of Western New Guinea, northeastern Indonesia. It is not closely related to other languages (WikP). Population: 350 (2000).

Ethnologue: gop. Alternate Names: Goni, Umar, Umari.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YETFA] Yetfa and Biksi (Biaksi; Inisine) are dialects of a language spoken in Jetfa District, Pegunungan Bintang Regency, Highland Papua, Indonesia, and across the border in Papua New Guinea. It is a trade language spoken in Western New Guinea up to the PNG border. According to Hammarström (2008), it is being passed on to children and is not in immediate danger. Yetfa is not close to other languages. Ross (2005), following Laycock & Z'Graggen (1975), places Biksi in its own branch of the Sepik family, but there is little data to base a classification on. The similarities noted by Laycock are sporadic and may simply be loans; Ross based his classification on pronouns, but they are dissimilar enough for the connection to be uncertain. Usher found it to be a Southern Pauwasi language. Foley (2018) classifies it as a language isolate (WikP). Population: 1,400, all users. L1 users: 1,000 (1996). L2 users: 400 (2013 M. Donohue).

Ethnologue: yet. Alternate Names: Biaksi, Biksi, Inisine, Yetfa ma.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YEYI] Yeyi (autoethnonym Shiyeyi) is a Bantu language spoken by many of the approximately 50,000 Yeyi people along the Okavango River in Namibia and Botswana. Yeyi, influenced by Juu languages, is one of several Bantu languages along the Okavango with clicks. Indeed, it has the largest known inventory of clicks of any Bantu language, with dental, alveolar, palatal, and lateral articulations. Though most of its older speakers prefer Yeyi in normal conversation, it is being gradually phased out in Botswana by a popular move towards Tswana, with Yeyi only being learned by children in a few villages. Yeyi speakers in the Caprivi Strip of north-eastern Namibia, however, retain Yeyi in villages (including Linyanti), but may also speak the regional lingua franca, Lozi. The main dialect is called Shirwanga. A slight majority of Botswana Yeyi are monolingual in the national language, Tswana, and the majority of the rest are bilingual (WikP).

Ethnologue: yey. Alternate Names: Ciyei, Seyei, Seyeyi, Siyeyi, Wayeyi, Yeei, Yei, “Koba” (pej.), “Kuba” (pej.), “Sekoba” (pej.). Autonym: Shiyeyi.

2002: [IUW] Groundwork in Shiyeyi grammar with a Shiyeyi-English glossary / Stephen T.M. Lukusa. Frankfurt am Main; New York: Peter Lang, 2002. xxvi, 150 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue front and rear wrappers, lettered in black. Includes bibliographical references and index. Shiyeyi-English, pp. [119]-144.

“This book is special because it is, to my knowledge, the only comprehensive grammar book of a minority language of Botswana ... Apart from Setswana, which has had the lion’s share of the descriptive studies at almost all levels, the other languages of Botswana, which number over 25, have had very fragmentary and often amateurish documentation” (Foreword: H. M. Batibo).

2009: [IUW] Shiyeyi-English dictionary / Stephen T.M. Lukusa. Muenchen: Lincom Europa, 2009. xvii, 334 pages; 21 cm. Languages of the world. Dictionaries; 42. Original red, yellow and yellow-green wrappers, lettered in white, yellow, red and black. Shiyeyi-English, pp. 1-334. “The Shiyeyi-English Dictionary is the very first dictionary of its kind on the language” (from the rear cover).

“Shiyeyi is one of the rare Bantu languages that have enriched their sound systems by incorporating a wide variety of click sounds which as the main characteristics of Khoesan languages. The Khoesan people are hunter-gatherers living in Botswana, Namibia and South Africa. Regardless of this massive borrowing of clicks, the language remains fundamentally Bantu in structure” (p. xv).

[YIDDISH] Yiddish (ייִדיש, ייִדיש or אידיש, yidish or idish, pronounced ['(j)ɪdɪʃ], lit. 'Jewish'; ייִדיש-טײַטש, Yidish-Taytsh, lit. 'Judeo-German') is a West Germanic language historically spoken by Ashkenazi Jews. It originated during the 9th century in Central Europe, providing the nascent Ashkenazi community with a High German-based vernacular fused with many elements taken from Hebrew (notably Mishnaic) and to some extent Aramaic; most varieties also have substantial influence from Slavic languages, and the vocabulary contains traces of influence from Romance languages. Yiddish writing uses the Hebrew alphabet.

Prior to the Holocaust, there were 11–13 million speakers of Yiddish among 17 million Jews worldwide. 85% of the approximately 6,000,000 Jews who were murdered in the Holocaust were Yiddish speakers, leading to a massive decline in the use of the language. Assimilation following World War II and aliyah, immigration to Israel further decreased the use of Yiddish among survivors and Yiddish-speakers from other countries (such as in the Americas). However, the number of Yiddish-speakers is increasing in Hasidic communities. (Wikip).

Ethnologue lists Yiddish as a macrolanguage of Israel, including Eastern Yiddish and Western Yiddish.

[YIDDISH, EASTERN] Modern Yiddish has two major forms. Eastern Yiddish is far more common today. It includes Southeastern (Ukrainian–Romanian), Mideastern (Polish–Galician–Eastern Hungarian) and Northeastern (Lithuanian–Belarusian) dialects. Eastern Yiddish differs from Western both by its far greater size and by the extensive inclusion of words of Slavic origin. Yiddish is used in a number of Haredi Jewish communities worldwide; it is the first language of the home, school, and in many social settings among many Haredi Jews, and is used in most Hasidic yeshivas.

Ethnologue: ydd. Alternate Names: Judeo-German, Yiddish. Autonym: װײַז (Yiddish).

1891-1898: [IUW] English-Yiddish [Yiddish-English] dictionary, by Alexander Harkavy. 22nd ed. Hebrew Pub. Co. [1891-1898]. 2 v. in 1. Cf. Dalby 1632.

1925 [1928]: Second edition [IUW] Yiddish-English-Hebrew dictionary / by Alexander Harkavy. [second printing of] 2. ed., improved and enl. New York: Hebrew Pub. Co., 1928. vi, 583 p.; 26 cm. Other title: Yidish-english-hebreisher verterbukh. Dalby 1632: "A brief-entry dictionary with many short notes of historical and ethnographical interest... It includes numerous nineteenth-century loanwords from German that were then current in spoken and written Yiddish, many of them no longer familiar."

1910-1911: [IUW] Fremd-verterbukh: enthalt ale fremde verter, oysdriken, Varshe: B. Shimin, 1910-1911. 550 col. Yiddish Dictionaries--Polyglot. Terms and phrases.

1913: [IUW] Milon male ye-shalem Zargoni- 'Ivri / hugah bi-khetav 'al yede Y. M. Zalkind [and A. L. Bisko]. London: Bi-defuso shel Y. Naroditski, 673 [1913]. 255 p.; 19 cm. Yiddish-Hebrew dictionary.

1915: [IUW] English-Yiddish encyclopedic dictionary: a complete lexicon and work of reference in all departments of knowledge / prepared under the editorship of Paul Abelson. New York: The Jewish Press Publishing Co., 1915. xviii p., 1 .., 1749, vi p. 11 pl. (7 double, 10 col.) 28 x 20 cm. Romanized record. In Yiddish. Parallel title in Yiddish: English-Idishes entsiklopedishes verterbukh.

1924: [LILLY] English-Yiddish encyclopedic dictionary: a complete lexicon and work of reference in all departments of knowledge / prepared under the editorship of Paul Abelson. New York: Hebrew Publishing Co., 1924. ©1915. ix pages, 1 unnumbered page, 1749 pages: illustrations; 28 cm. Title also in Yiddish: English-Idishes entsiklopedishes verterbukh. Bound in black boards, stamped in blind.

1925?: [LILLY] Liliput dictionary, English-Yiddish / by Zina Horowitz. Bronx, N.Y.: Minkus Bros., [1925?]. 621 p.; 54 mm. "Printed in Germany." Approximate date of issue from NUC pre-56 255:259; cover title from OCLC 34987830. From the library of Ruth E. Adomeit, with her bookplate. Bound in brown sheep, gilt spine, edges red.

1931: [IUW] Idish-Shpanisher verter-bukh; Diccionario español-idisch / fun Y.L. Vinokur; redaktirt fun Menasheh Konstantinovsky. Buenos Aires: G. Kaplanski, xiv p., 498 col., xii p., 514 col.; 18 cm. Spine title: Diccionario español-idisch e idisch-español. Yiddish-Spanish dictionary.

1941: [IUW] Russko-evreiskii slovar' dlia nachal'noi shkoly. Moxkva, Der Zmes, 1941 175 p. 18 cm. Russian-Yiddish dictionary.

1968a: [LILLY] The joys of Yiddish: a relaxed lexicon of Yiddish, Hebrew and Yinglish words often encountered in English ... from the days of the Bible to those of the beatnik, by Leo Rosten. New York, McGraw-Hill [1968]. xxix, 533 p. 23 cm. First edition according to Tannen. . Bound in orange cloth with maroon spine, stamped in gold; with dust jacket.

1971: [LILLY] The joys of Yiddish: a relaxed lexicon of Yiddish, Hebrew and Yinglish words often encountered in English ... from the days of the Bible to those of the beatnik / by Leo Rosten. Harmondsworth: Penguin, 1971. xxxix, [4], 4-547, [5] p.; 18 cm. Originally published, New York: McGraw-Hill, 1968; London: W.H. Allen, 1970. From the library of Cid Corman, with his signature and ms. notes. In cream printed wrappers.

1968b: [LILLYmk] Modern English-Yiddish Yiddish-English dictionary, by Uriel Weinreich. New York, YIVO Institute for Jewish Research, 1968. xliii, 789, [1], 16 p. 23.3 cm. Added t.p. in Yiddish. Pages 373-[790] also numbered 3-420. Original light blue and black cloth over boards, lettered in light blue and black; dust jacket black and white, lettered in white, blue, light yellow and black. Includes English-Yiddish, pp. 3-370, Yiddish-English, pp. 373-[790] (also numbered 3-420). Second copy: [IUW]. Dalby 1633: "A brief-entry, two-way dictionary, intended mainly for English speakers, by an eminent historian of Yiddish."

"The principal purpose of the Modern English-Yiddish Yiddish-English Dictionary is to furnish the advanced student of Yiddish with access to the language of modern cultivated usage.... The Dictionary is designed in the main for persons who have a firm grounding in English and at least a rudimentary command of Yiddish" (Author's Preface).

1968c: [LILLYmk] Student's Dictionary English-Yiddish, Yiddish-English, by Aaron Bergman. New York: Kinderbuch Publishers, 1968. 141 p.; 131 p. 25.5 cm. English-Yiddish, pp. 11-132, Yiddish-English, pp. 9-131.

"There is an increasing interest on the part of young Jews who for many reasons were denied access and exposure to [Yiddish] in the past. To the awakening interest of the young we dedicate this dictionary.... It is also dedicated to the memory of the man who compiled book—Aaron Bergman (1896-1964), who spent the last years of his life, the devoted life of a Jewish teacher, working on this volume. Unfortunately, he died before fully completing and revising it. The final revisions and editing of this work was left to us" (Itche Goldberg).

1968d: [IUW] Yiddish for Yankees; or, Funny, you don't look gentile, by Martin Marcus. [1st ed.] Philadelphia, Lippincott [1968]. 48 p. illus. 14 x 19 cm. Yiddish-English dictionary.

1978: [IUW] A Yiddish word book for English-speaking people / Samuel Rosenbaum. New York: Van Nostrand Reinhold Co., c1978. xix, 180 p.; 24 cm.

1982a: [LILLY] Hooray for Yiddish!: a book about English / Leo Rosten. New York: Simon and Schuster, c1982. 363 p.; 25 cm. Author's name at head of title. Signed by the author. ALS from the author removed to Manuscripts Department. Bound in purple cloth shelfback and gold boards, with dust jacket. Includes Yiddish vocabulary list.

1982b: [IUW] The Jewish word book / Sidney J. Jacobs. Middle Village, NY: J. David, c1982. x, 356 p.; 23 cm. Hebrew-English-Yiddish dictionary.

1982c: [IUW] Milon Yidish- 'Ivri shalem / me'et M. Tsanin. [Tel Aviv]: Hotsa'ah la-or 'a. sh. H. Leyvik 'a. y. Agudat softe ve-'itona'e Yidish be-Yisra'el, c1982. 472, [1] p.; 25 cm. Added t.p. in Yiddish: Fuler Yidish-Hebreisher Verterbukh. Added t.p.: Complete Yiddish-Hebrew dictionary. "Bikher fun M. Tsanin: p. [1].

1984: [IUW] Russko-evreiskii (idish) slovar': okolo 40.000 slov / pod redaktsiēi M.A. Shapiro, I.G. Spivaka i M.ĠA. Shul'mana; ocherk "O Ġazyke idish" sostavlen Ġ.M. Fal'kovichem; [avtory R.ĠA. Lerner ... et al.]. Moskva: "Russkii Ġazyk", 1984. 719 p.; 27 cm. Title on added t.p.: Rusish-Yidisher yerterbukh. Russian-Yiddish dictionary. Dalby 1631: "The largest bilingual dictionary into Yiddish."

1985: [IUW] English-Yiddish, Yiddish-English dictionary / David Mendel Harduf. Willowdale, Ont., Canada: D.M. Harduf, c1983, reprinted with corrections, 1985. 241, 118 p.; 18 cm. Title on added t.p.: Yidish-English, English-Yidish yerterbukh.

1986: [IUW] The Yiddish dictionary sourcebook: a transliterated guide to the Yiddish language / by Herman Galvin & Stan Tamarkin. Hoboken [N.J.]: Ktav, 1986. vii, 317 p.; 24 cm. English-Yiddish-English dictionary.

1987-1992: [IUW] Transliterated English-Yiddish dictionary = Transliterirter English-Yidisher yerterbuch / David Mendel Harduf. Willowdale, Ont., Canada: Harduf Books, c1987-1992. 4 v.; 29 cm. v.1. A-H. v.2. I-Z. [v.3] Transliterated Yiddish-English dictionary.

1990: [IUW] Jiddisches Wörterbuch / Ronald Löttsch. Leipzig: Bibliographisches Institut Leipzig, c1990. 204 p.; 20 cm. Yiddish-German dictionary.

2000: [IUW] Wörterbuch zum jiddischen Lehnwortschatz in den deutschen Dialekten / Heidi Stern. Tübingen: Niemeyer, 2000. 250 p.; 24 cm. Lexicographica. Series maior, 102. Originally presented as the author's thesis (doctoral)--Universität Erlangen, Nürnberg, 1997. Includes bibliographical references (p. [52]-54) and index. Abstract in English and French. A dictionary of Yiddish loan-words in German dialects.
2001?: [IUW] Milon ħadash: 'Ivri-Yidi, Yidi-'Ivri = Nayer yerterbukh: Hebreish-Yidish, Yidish-Hebreish / 'arikhah Ĥanah Raikher. Yerushalayim: Sh. Zaĥ, [2001?]. 18, 785 p.; 25 cm. Hebrew-Yiddish, Yiddish-Hebrew dictionary.

2001: [IUW] Milon Liĥute śiĥot: Idish - l. ha-ĥ./Anglit = Likkutei sichos dictionary: Yiddish - Hebrew/English. Mahad. 3. Brooklyn, New York: Zalman Goldstein, 762, 2001. 121 p.; 16 cm. "Student Edition". Yiddish-Hebrew-English dictionary.

2013: [LILLY] Comprehensive Yiddish-English dictionary / Solon Beinfeld and Harry Bochner. Bloomington, IN: Indiana University Press, c2013. xxxix, [2], 2-704 p.; 27 cm. "Adapted from Dictionnaire Yiddish-Francais by Yitshkhok Niborski and Bernard Vaisbrot with the assistance of Simon Neuberg, c2002 Bibliotheque Medem, Paris, licensed from Maison de la Culture Yiddish-bibliotheque Medem, Paris, France"--T.p. verso. Bound in teal printed boards.

2016a: [LILLY] Comprehensive English-Yiddish dictionary (based on the lexical research of Mordkhe Schaechter) / Gitl Schaechter-Viswanath, Paul Glasser, Editors in Chief; Chava Lapin, Associate Editor.. Bloomington; Indianapolis: Indiana University Press, [2016] ©2016. xxi pages, 1 unnumbered page, 826 pages; 29 cm. Schaechter-Viswanath, Gitl editor. Glasser, Paul E. editor. Lapin, Chava, editor. Schaechter, Mordkhe, 1927-2007, researcher. Bound in light blue illustrated wrappers, with a dark blue spine.

2016b: [IUW] Słownik jidysz-angielsko-polski = Yiddish-English-Polish dictionary / Anna Jakimyszyn-Gadocha. Słownik jidysz-angielsko-polski = Yiddish-English-Polish dictionary = Yidish-English-Poylish yerterbukh / Anna Jakimyszyn-Gadocha. Kraków: Wydawnictwo Uniwersytetu

Jagiellońskiego, [2016] ©2016. xxiv, 136 pages; 21 cm. Pages numbered in opposite directions. Includes bibliographical references (pages xxiii-xxiv).

[YIDDISH, WESTERN] Modern Yiddish has two major forms. Eastern Yiddish is far more common today. Western Yiddish is divided into Southwestern (Swiss–Alsatian–Southern German), Midwestern (Central German), and Northwestern (Netherlandic–Northern German) dialects. Yiddish is used in a number of Haredi Jewish communities worldwide; it is the first language of the home, school, and in many social settings among many Haredi Jews, and is used in most Hasidic yeshivas.

Ethnologue: yih. Alternate Names: Judeo-German, Yiddish, Yidish. Autonym: ייִדיש (Yiddish).

1773: [LILLYmk] Kleines Jüdisch-Deutsches Worterbuch. Prague: Collegiums der Gesellschaft Jesu, durch Joh. Adam Hagen, 1773. Yiddish-German.

1915: [IUW] Praktische Grammatik der jiddischen Sprache für den Selbstunterricht. Mit Lesestücken und einem Wörterbuch / Von Salomo Birnbaum. Wien; Leipzig: A.Hartleben, [1915] 188 p. 17 cm. Kunst der Polyglottie, 128.T. Lettered on cover: Bibliothek der Sprachenkunde. Added t.-p., illus., on verso of series t.-p. "Kurze Bibliographie": p. 185-188. Includes Yiddish-German dictionary.

1916a: [LILLYmk] Jüdisches Wörterbuch, mit besonderer Berücksichtigung der gegenwärtigen in Polen üblichen Ausdrücke, by Hermann L. Strack. Leipzig: J. C. Hinrichs'sche Buchhandlung, 1916. 204 p. + 4 pp. Ads. 21.7 cm. Original gray cloth over boards, lettered in black. Yiddish-German, pp. [1]-204.

1916b: [IUW] Wörterbuch der wichtigsten Geheim- und Berufssprachen: Jüdisch-Deutsch, Rotwelsch, Kundensprache, Soldaten-, Seemanns-, Weidmanns-, Bergmanns- und Komödiantensprache / verfasst von Erich Bischoff. Leipzig: T. Grieben, [1916]. viii, 168 p.; 17 cm. German dictionary of slang. Includes Yiddish-German vocabulary. Second copy: [LILLYmk].

1962: [LILLY] Jiddisches Wörterbuch; Wortschatz des deutschen Grundbestandes der jiddischen (jüdischdeutschen) Sprache, by Siegmund A. Wolf. Mannheim, Bibliographisches Institut [1962]. 203 p. facsim. 25 cm. Original black cloth, lettered in yellow. Errata slip inserted. Bibliography: p. 27-34. Yiddish-German, pp. 89-196. Second copy: [LILLYmk], lacks errata slip.

1993: Reprint of 1986 second edition: [IUW] Jiddisches Wörterbuch: mit Leseproben: Wortschatz des deutschen Grundbestandes der jiddischen (jüdischdeutschen) Sprache / Siegmund A. Wolf. 2. durchgesehene Aufl. Hamburg: H. Buske, 1993. 203 p.: facsim.; 25 cm. Entries in romanized Yiddish, with definitions in German. "Unveränderter Nachdruck der 2. Auflage von 1986." Includes bibliographical references (p. 27-34).

1966: [IUW] Grammatik der jiddischen Sprache. Mit einem Wörterbuch und Lesestücken, von Salomo A. Birnbaum. 2., durchgesehene Aufl. Hamburg, Buske [c1966]. 196 p. 17 cm. First ed. published in 1918 under title: Praktische Grammatik der jiddischen Sprache für den Selbstunterricht. Bibliography: p. 185-195.

1967: [Lillymk] אַרִיט / She'erit: resten van een taal: woordenboekje van het Nederlandse Jiddish, by H. Beem. Assen: Van Gorcum & Co., 1967. Western Yiddish-Dutch dictionary.

“A real Amsterdammer ... knows hundreds of [words like] kalletje, mazzel, kapsones, sof and pleite. These are as common to him as any other Dutch word. The Jews brought Yiddish as their native language to the Netherlands. This independent language was lost in the 19th century, but when speaking Dutch, the Jews used typical Jewish words, sometimes more, sometimes less. Those around them took these words over. In this book those fragments are collected, approximating the situation in 1940; what remains speaks for itself” (from the dust jacket, tr: BM)

1974: [IUW] Uit Mokum en de mediene. Joodse woorden in Nederlandse omgeving. [Door] H. Beem. Assenm Van Gorcum, 1974. 86 p. 20 cm. Yiddish-Dutch dictionary.

1983: [LILLYmk] Dictionary Shmictionary! A Yiddish and Yinglish Dictionary, by Paul Hoffman and Matt Freedman. New York: Quill, 1983. 189 p. 23.5 cm. Original cream wrappers, lettered in black, blue and red. Includes Yiddish/Yinglish-English, pp. [17]-183, with bibliography, pp. [185]-189.

“You’re in pretty elite company... if you don’t know much about Yiddish. This book, Dictionary Shmictionary, provides pronunciations, etymologies, definitions, and example sentences of Yiddish words and Yinglish words (bastardized Yiddishisms) that have infiltrated English” (Introduction).

2004: [IUW] Westjiddisches Wörterbuch: auf der Basis dialektologischer Erhebungen in Mittelfranken / Alfred Klepsch. Tübingen: M. Niemeyer, 2004. 2 v. (xii, 1643 p.): map; 25 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 1629-1643). Western Yiddish-German dictionary.

[YIDINY] Yidiny (also spelled Yidin, Yidiñ, Yidinj, Yidinʸ, IPA: [ˈjidiɲ]) is a nearly extinct Australian Aboriginal language, spoken by the Yidindji tribe of northern Queensland (WikP)

Ethnologue: yii. Alternate Names: Boolboora, Deba, Eneby, Gerrah, Gijow, Gillah, Guwamal, Idin Idindji, Idinji, Idin-Wudjar, Indindji, Jidindji, Kitba, Maimbie, Mungera Ohalo, Pegullo-Bura, Warra-Warra, Warryboora, Woggil, Yetinji, Yiddinji, Yidin, Yidindji, Yidini, Yitintyi, Yukkaburra.

1873: see under AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES:
POLYGLOT.

1977: [IUW] A grammar of Yidin / R. M. W. Dixon. Cambridge; New York: Cambridge University Press, 1977. xxiii, 563 p.; 24 cm. Cambridge studies in linguistics; 19. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Vocabulary: Yidin [Yidiny]-English, pp. 546-559. Includes index. Bibliography: p. 540-545.

"Only words occurring in the discussion, examples and texts of this book are listed here; proper names are not included" (p. 546).

1991: [LILLYbm] Words of Our Country: Stories, Place Names and Vocabulary in Yidiny, the Aboriginal Language of the Cairns-Yarrabah Region, compiled and edited by R[obert] M. W. Dixon. St. Lucia, Qld., Australia: University of Queensland Press; 1991. Original yellow wrappers, lettered and illustrated in red. Pp. i-v vi-x xi-xiv, 1 2-312 [2]. First edition. Includes thematically arranged Yidiny-English vocabulary, pp. [136]-277, an alphabetically arranged Yidiny-English vocabulary, pp. [278]-302, and an alphabetical English finder list, pp. [303]-312. The first substantial vocabulary of the language. Second copy: [IUW].

"For many thousands of years the Yidiny language was spoken by the Aborigines of the Cairns-Atherton Tablelands region [in Australia]. Today the people and the words are all but extinct. Here, in tracking this sophisticated language, linguists R. M.W. (Bob) Dixon records its last speakers.... The vocabulary is ordered into fields of meaning (such as parts of the body, kin terms, animals, and verbs of motion) ... The book provides vital information on the history of the region, dialect differences and the extraordinary 'mother-in-law' language which distinguished this ancient and rich culture" (from rear cover).

[YINTYINGKA] The Yintyingka, now extinct, were an Indigenous Australian people of central and eastern Cape York Peninsula. The Yintyingka language belonged to the Middle Paman language branch of the Pama-Nyungan language family, and was closely related to the Ayabadhu language, to the point that they are regarded as dialects of the one language (WikP). Ethnologue lists this language as Umbindhamu, with Yintjingga as the closest alternate name to that chosen by Verstraete and Rigsby in their lexicon of 2015 (see below).

Ethnologue: umd. Alternate Names: 'Uuk-Umpithamu, Baka, Banjigam, Barungguan, Barunguan, Ganganda, Jintjingga, Koko Ompindamo, Kuuku-Umpinhamu, Njindingga, Umbuigamu, Umpinhamu, Umpithamu, Uuku Umpithamu, Yintjingga

2015: A grammar and lexicon of Yintyingka / Jean-Christophe Verstraete and Bruce Rigsby. Berlin; Boston; Munich: De Gruyter Mouton, [2015]. xiv, 414 pages; 24 cm. Original maroon and light gray paper over boards, lettered in black and white, with color illustration of beach and water on front cover. Pacific linguistics, 1448-8310; volume 648. Yintyingka lexicon, Yintyingka-English, pp. 197-372, English-Yintyingka finder list, pp. 372-389. Includes bibliographical material, pp. [390]-399.

"This book presents a description of Yintyingka, a Pama-Nyungan language of Cape York Peninsula in Australia. The langue is no longer spoken, but the analysis is based on a range of archival materials from the 1920s to the 1990s, as well as the authors' fieldwork experience with neighboring languages. In addition to the classic domains of linguistic analysis, this book pays special attendant to the language in its social context, historical-comparative analysis, and the methods used to analyse the archival material" (from the rear cover).

[YIPMA] Yipma (pronounced as Hipma) is an Angan language of Papua New Guinea. Dialects are Wantakia, Baruya (Barua), Gulicha, Usirampia (Wuzuraabya). 'Baruya' refers to the accent of the Bruwa tribe, currently residing around the Marawaka station area. The original tribe that had been in Marawaka is the Anzii tribe. They are now located at the foot of Mount Yelia in three villages; Wauko, Ande and Mala. The Baruwa tribe were refugees, from somewhere in the Meniyamiya area of Morobe province, who had been driven out of their land in a tribal war, the Anzii while still in Marawaka peacefully took them in. After some time, tribal war broke out between the Anzii tribe and the Baruwa tribe and the Anzii tribe moved out from Marawaka to where they are now. Thus, "Baruya" is not a dialect but an accent, but 'Hipma' is more acceptable to speakers of other dialects. Usirampia is another accent of the Himpa language, but it is mixed up with another language called Bulekiye. It sounds more like Hipma though there are some Bulekiye influences in it. The Anzii tribe speaks the pure version of the Hipma language and there are no influences from other languages because they were surrounded by enemy tribes from the time they were relocated until the arrival of whitemen and did not make many contacts outside their landmarks (WikP).

Ethnologue: byr. Alternate Names: Barua, Baruya.

1973: see under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1975: see 1975a under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YIRANDALI] Yirandhali (Yirandali, Jirandali), also known as Pooroga, is an extinct Australian Aboriginal language of Hughenden in Central Queensland. Yirandhali is a Pama–Nyungan language. Dixon (2002) speculates that it may belong in the Maric branch of that family, but further research is required before this can be verified, due to the limited lexical material that is available in the language. There is very little information available about the languages of this region. Oral recounts suggest that the town area of Hughenden was a place that was passed through rather than a place that was used as a regular campsite. The Flinders River is often a dry river bed. At the nearby Porcupine Gorge, in an area known locally as 'the Tattoos', there are signs of Aboriginal rock drawings. This area would have been a more reliable source of water (WikP).

Ethnologue: lju. Alternate Names: Dalebura, Dal-leyburra, Irendely, Pooroga, Yerrundulli, Yerrunthully.

1927: [LILLYbm] Christison of Lammermoor, by M. M. Bennett. London: Alston Rivers: 1927. Original dark brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. 1-11 12-280 plus frontispiece. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes English-Dalleburra [Yirandali] "Dictionary (Fragmentary)", pp. 271-276. First partial vocabulary of Yirandali.

"The earliest (and only?) account of the Dalleburra tribe of the Lammermoor Tableland, Queensland" (Gaston Renard description). "Segregation is the only hope of saving the race. Protectors who cannot protect, regulations that are not enforced, political expediences, are not going to save them. Only the grace of God can open the eyes of Australians to what they are doing and inspire them to reverse their practice. To the end that justice may be done before it is too late, Colonel Genders and many other high-minded Australians are petitioning for the erection of an inviolable Native State which shall be administered in the interests of the aborigines" (p. 99).

[YOGAD] Yogad is an Austronesian language spoken primarily in Echague and other nearby towns in Isabela province in northern Philippines. Anthropologist H. Otley Beyer describes Yogad as a variant of Gaddang language and the people as a sub-group of the Gaddang people in his 1917 catalogue of Philippines ethnic groups. Glottolog presently groups it as a member of the Gaddangic group; in 2015, however, Ethnologue placed Yogad as a separate member of the Ibanagic language family. Godfrey Lambrecht, CICM, also distinguished separately the peoples who spoke the two languages [WikP]. Population: 17,900 (2005 UNSD). Ethnic population: 29,100 (2010 census).

Ethnologue: yog.

2000: [IUW] A dictionary of Yogad / Philip W. Davis & Angel D. Mesa. Muenchen: Lincom Europa, 2000. xxx, 393 p.: map; 24 cm. Library binding, preserving the original bright yellow wrappers lettered in black. First edition. Languages of the world. Dictionaries; 17. Includes bibliographical references (p. xxix-xxx). Yogad-English, pp. 3-340, English-Yogad, pp. 345-393.

“The variety of Yogad which appears here is that of a male speaker (the second author) in his mis-sixties, who is a native of Echague [a town in the Philippines where the language is spoken]. Although Yogad is his first language, he is also fluent in Ilokano, Tagalog, and English; and he has some knowledge of Ibang” (Introduction, p. [iv]).

“Dictionaries of Philippine languages are some of the most comprehensive available, and they have set a high standard for the lexicographer. Even so, grammars and dictionaries can never be complete, and neither is this dictionary of Yogad, which represents one stage in continuing work on the language” (Foreword).

[YOKE] Yoke is a poorly documented language spoken by about 200 people in the north of Papua, Indonesia. The name is also spelled Yoki, Yauke, and it is also known as Bitovondo. It was spoken in a single village in the interior until the government relocated a third of the population to a new village, Mantarbori, on the coast. In the late 19th century, a word list of "Pauwi" was collected by Robidé van der Aa at Lake Rombekai, where the Yoke say they migrated from; this is transparently Yoke, apart from some words which do not appear in the modern language but are found in related Warembori (WikP).

Ethnologue: yki. Alternate Names: Bitovondo, Jauke, Pauwi, Yauke, Yoki.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YOKUTS] Yokutsan (also known as Yokuts and Mariposan) is an endangered language family spoken in the interior of Northern and Central California in and around the San Joaquin Valley by the Yokut people. The speakers of Yokutsan languages were severely affected by disease, missionaries, and the Gold Rush. While descendants of Yokutsan-family speakers currently number in the thousands, most of the constituent languages are now extinct. The Yawelmani dialect of Valley Yokuts has been a focus of much linguistic research (WikP).

Ethnologue: yok.

1851-1857: see Vol. 4 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT

1877: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 14 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

[YOM] Yom, or Pilapila, and formerly Kiliŋa or Kilir, is a Gur language of Benin. It is spoken in the town of Djougou and the surrounding area. A very closely related dialect called taŋgələm is also spoken by the Taneka people (WikP).

Ethnologue: pil. Alternate Names: Kpilakpila, Pila, Pilapila.

1983a-b: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1984: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[YOMBE] WikP redirects Yombe to "Kongo" Language and lists it as a dialect of the Kikongo H16 group. Ethnologue lists Yombe as one of four separate languages under Kikongo.

Ethnologue: yom. Alternate Names: Bayombe, Ciyoombe, Kiombi, Kiyombe, Yoombe.

1922-1927: [LILLYbm] Mayombsch Idioticon. [Deel I. A tot en met Mup'esukila.] Deel II. Mup'ioka tot einde. Met twee kaarten, 2 vols., by Leo Bittremieux. Ghent: Drukkerij "Erasmus," 1922 [wrappers dated 1923]. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [Vol. I] 1-7 8-416; [Vol. II] [4] 417-821 + + 2 p. adverts. First edition. At head of front wrapper: "Koninklijke Vlaamsche Academie voor Taal- & Letterkunde." Uitgave van het Van de Ven-Heremans-Fonds Nr. 7. Bibliography, pp. 12-17, complete Yombe-Dutch dictionary in two volumes, pp. 33-799, illustrated glossary of tattoos, pp. 778-795, with photographs, p. [786]. Two folding maps following p. [806]. This copy with ink stamp "het Bureau der Commissie voor 'sRijks Geschiedkundige Publicatiën." Zaunmüller, col. 405. First dictionary of Yombe, which is spoken in Zaire (Belgian Congo). Second copy: [IUW].

1927: [LILLY] Mayombsch Idioticon. Deel III. Verbeteringen en aanvullingen, plantenkundige woordenlijsten en zakenregister, by Leo Bittremieux. Revisions and additions, botanical wordlist and subject-matter index. Pp. 823-[918] (continuing pagination from Vol. 2). Yombe-Dutch, pp. [843]-881 (revisions and additions to original volumes); Yombe-Latin plant names, pp. [883]-899, subject-matter index, Dutch-Yombe, pp. [901]-917. This copy with the ownership stamps of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder.

[YORUBA] Yoruba (English pronunciation: /'jɒrəbə/; Yor. èdè Yorùbá) is a language spoken in West Africa, mainly in Nigeria. The number of speakers of Yoruba is approaching 30 million. It is a pluricentric language spoken principally in Benin and Nigeria, with communities in other parts of Africa, the Americas, and Europe. A variety of the language, Lucumi, is the liturgical language of the Santería religion of the Caribbean. Many Yoruba words are used in the Afro-Brazilian religion known as Candomblé. Yoruba is most closely related to the Itsekiri language (spoken in the Niger Delta) and to Igala (spoken in central Nigeria) (WikP).

Ethnologue: yor. Alternate Names: Yariba, Yooba.

1843: [LILLY] Sierra Leone. A description of the manners and customs of the liberated Africans; with observations upon the natural history of the colony, and a notice of the native tribes. By Robert Clarke. London: James Ridgway, [1843]. iv, 178, [1] p., 11 leaves of plates: ill., front., map;. 23 cm. (8vo). Bound in quarter modern oasis. Date from preface. Author was Senior Assistant Surgeon to the colony. This copy inscribed in ink on the title page "With the publisher's compl." NUC pre-19556, 111:352. English-Akoo [Yoruba], vocabulary, pp. 154-157. Includes three Akoo proverbs, Akoo [Yoruba]-English, p. 154.

"The following Akoo proverbs were handed to me by Mr. H. Townsend, of the Church Missionary Society, to whom I am indebted for much of the information respecting the religious ceremonies of the Akoos. I may here mention, that this gentleman is following up the labours of the Rev. J. Raban, who published a vocabulary of the Akoo language [A vocabulary of the Eyò, or Aku, a dialect of western Africa, by John Raban. London: Church Missionary Society, 1830]. I subjoin a list of Akoo words, with which he kindly furnished me" (p. 154).

1846: see 13) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1852: [LILLY] A Vocabulary of the Yoruba Language, compiled by the Rev. Samuel Crowther. Native Missionary of the Church Missionary Society. Together with Introductory Remarks, by the Rev. O. E. Vidal, M. A. Bishop Designate of Sierra Leone. London: Seeley's, Fleet Street, and Hanover Street, Hanover Square, 1852. Pp. i-iii iv-v vi [1] 1 2-38 [1] 1 2-287 288 289-291 292. 22 cm. Original brown cloth over boards, decorated in blind, and lettered in gold on the spine; bright yellow endpapers, no headband or tailband. Yoruba-English, pp. [1]-287 (second pagination), "Additional Words," Yoruba-English, p. 289, and "Additional Proverbs," Yoruba-English, pp. 290-291. This copy with the ownership stamps of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his notes in black and red ink on the title page, and numerous additions to the vocabulary in pencil on the inner rear free endpaper. First dictionary of the Yoruba language.

"A new and improved edition of Mr. Crowther's Yoruba Grammar is now in the press, having just received his revision and corrections. And it is hoped that the present work, containing near 3000 vocables, may do much toward settling a rich and euphonious language, spoken, probably, by 3,000,000 of the African race, but till within the last ten years never reduced to writing. The materials were collected by Mr. Crowther since his return to his native land, and the proverbial and idiomatic sayings interspersed throughout the book were taken down by him from the lips of his countrymen in the course of common conversation" (Advertisement).

1858: [LILLYbm] Grammar and Dictionary of the Yoruba Language with an introductory description of the country and people of Yoruba, by Rev. T.J. Bowen. Washington: Smithsonian Institution, 1858. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black; hand-sewn signatures apparently removed from a temporary library binding; most of original wrapper on spine perished. 136 pp. including 2 pp. of errata. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 406. Part I is Yoruba-English (pp. 5-89, including appendix) and Part II is English-Yoruba (pp. 91-134). Ex-library copy with deaccession stamps from both Richmond College Library in Virginia and the Oklahoma Baptist University Library. An ink inscription dated Oct. 6, 1897, signed by Robert J. Kellogg states "Received from Richmond College Library in exchange for Bentley's Dict & Gram. of the Kongo Language." Second copy: [IUW].

"This work is the result of the labors of one of the members of the Southern Baptist Missionary Society, who resided several years in the Yoruba country" ("Advertisement"). "The task of reducing the Yoruba language to writing was begun about twenty years ago in Sierra Leone by a youthful Yoruba named Adzaye [called Rev. Samuel Crowther] ... His first Grammar and Vocabulary [was revised and] published in London in 1852 [see above]. This vocabulary, which contains 'nearly three thousand vocables,' is the basis of the present enlarged dictionary" (Bowen).

1913: [LILLY] A dictionary of the Yoruba language: Part I—English-Yoruba, Part II—Yoruba-English. Lagos: Church Missionary Society Bookshop, 1913. Original maroon cloth, lettered in white. Hendrix 1787. Cf. Zaunmüller 406.

1950: Second printing of 1937 second edition [IUW] A dictionary of the Yoruba language. 2d edition. London: Oxford University Press, 1950. 218, 243 p.; 19 cm. First published 1913; second edition 1937; second impression (reprinted photographically) 1950. "The present dictionary is indebted to the works by Samuel Crowther and E. J. Sowande."

1961: Seventh printing [LILLYbm] A Dictionary of the Yoruba Language. London: Oxford University Press, 1961. Hardbound without d.j. Seventh impression. First edition 1913.

1958a: [LILLYbm] Atúmò ede Yoruba: A Short Yoruba Grammar and Dictionary, by Isaac O. Delano. London: Oxford University Press, 1958. Original dark blue cloth, over boards, lettered in gold; d.j. pale turquoise, lettered in brownish-orange. 210 pp. First edition. "This is believed to be the first dictionary entirely in Yoruba."

1958b: [LILLYbm] Dictionary of Modern Yoruba, by R[oy] C[live] Abraham. London: University of London Press, 1958. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold; d.j. red and white, lettered and decorated in white and red. Pp. [6] i-xli xlii, 1-776, with errata slip tipped in at p. i. First edition. Yoruba-English only. Second copy: [IUW]. Zaunmüller, col. 405 (as in preparation). Dalby 1634.

"This is the first African dictionary to be illustrated and the first to mark tone throughout the key-words and examples. It is an authoritative and encyclopaedic work ... the outcome of many years of research sponsored by the Nigerian Government and by University College, Ibadan. The Dictionary is an entirely original work embracing every aspect of Yoruba civilisation.... The author, who was at one time Government Anthropologist and later Government Linguist in Nigeria, is at the moment engaged on an English-Yoruba Dictionary which will be complementary to the present work" (from the rear cover of the d.j.). "In the recent part, many suggestions have been made to replace the indigenous tongues of Nigeria with a lingua franca such as English, but in fact, far from this happening, the Nigerian languages are today, more in a position to maintain their vigour than ever" (Preface). English was, in fact, subsequently named the official language of Nigeria.

1962: [LILLYbm] Yoruba Numerals, by Robert G. Armstrong. London: Published for the Nigerian Institute of Social and Economic Research by the Oxford University Press, 1962. Original cream wrappers, lettered and decorated in blue. Pp. 1-34-36. First edition. Series: Nigerian social and economic studies, no. 1. Ex-library copy with stamps. Includes Arabic numerals-Yoruba, pp. 23-34.

"The traditional Yoruba numeral system is a fascinating chapter in the history of mathematics and of the development of human thought. It is a vigesimal system, which is to say that it reckons the higher numbers by twenties" (p. 5).

1969: [IUW] A dictionary of Yoruba monosyllabic verbs, by I. O. Delano. [Ile-Ife, Nigeria] Institute of African Studies, University of Ife, 1969. 2 v. 33 cm. Vol. 1. A-L. Vol. 2. M-Y.

1983a: [IUW] Dicionário yorubá (nagô)--português / autor, Eduardo Fonseca Júnior. Rio de Janeiro, R.J., Brasil: Sociedade Yorubana Teológica de Cultura Afro-Brasileira, 1983. 436 p.: ill.; 23 cm. Yoruba-Portuguese dictionary.

1983b: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1984-1990: [IUW] Yoruba metalanguage: Èdè-ìperí yorùbá: a glossary of English-Yoruba technical terms in language, literature and methodology / sponsored by the Nigeria Educational Research Council and compiled by the Ègbé-Onímò-Èdè-Yorùbá (the Yoruba Studies Association of Nigeria); edited by Ayọ Bamgboṣe. Lagos: Published by Nigeria Educational Research Council, 1984-1990. 2 v.; 24 cm. Vol. 2 edited by Oladele Awobuluyi.

1985: [IUW] Yorùbá, a língua dos òrìsá / Fernandes Portugal; prefácio, Agenor Miranda Rocha. Rio de Janeiro: Pallas, 1985. 201 p.; 21 cm. Includes bibliographies. Yoruba-Portuguese dictionary.

1986: see under HAUSA.

1987a: see 1987b under HAUSA.

1987b: see 1987c under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1991a: [IUW] The first illustrated Yoruba dictionary: two parts: Yoruba-English, English-Yoruba / Joseph Ajayi Fashagba. 1st ed. [S.l.: s.n.], c1991. vi, 464 p.; ill.; 29 cm.

1991b: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1993: [IUW] English-Yoruba dictionary of engineering physics = Ìwé itumò òrò inú èkò èdà-àrigbéwòn t ìmò ètè / J.A. Odetayo. [S.l.]: J.A. Odetayo, 1993. iii, 118 p.; 20 cm. Library binding, preserving original blue and white wrappers, lettered in white. English-Yoruba, pp. 3-67, Yoruba-English, pp. 69-94, addenda, English-Yoruba, pp. 94-99, Yoruba-English, pp. 99-103. Includes appendix of laws of physics, English-Yoruba, pp. 104-111. Errata slips inserted.

1996a: [IUW] Fama's èdè awo: Òrìsà Yorùbá dictionary / [Adewale-Somadhi]. 1st ed. San Bernardino, CA: Ilé Òrúnmìlà Communications, 1996. xxvi, 143 p.; 21 cm. Yoruba-English dictionary.

1996b: [IUW] Yoruba-English/English-Yoruba concise dictionary / Olabiyi Babalola Yai. New York: Hippocrene Books, c1996. 257 p.; 16 cm. Library binding, presenting original yellow and black wrappers, lettered in black and yellow Yoruba-English, pp. 14-114, English-Yoruba, pp. 116-257.

1997: [IUW] Dictionnaire yorùbá-français: suivi d'un index français-yorùbá / Michka Sachnine; avec la collaboration de Akin Akinyemi. Paris: Karthala; Ibadan: IFRA-Ibadan, c1997. 382 p.; map; 25 cm. Series: Dictionnaires et langues. Yoruba-French, French-Yoruba index.

2002: [IUW] Lexique des soins de sante primaire: Français-Yorùbá = Iwé itumò ètò itojú ara: Faransé-Yorùbá. Cotonou: Centre national de linguistique appliquée (CENALA), 2002. 8 leaves; 29 cm. At head of title: Agence intergouvernementale de la Francophonie. French-Yoruba dictionary of first aid.

2012: [IUW] Atúmòsòyìnbo: a Yoruba-to-English dictionary and thesaurus / Olú Ìṣòlá, Jùmòkè Ògúnrindé, Bólá Olájidé, Káyòdé Òjèládé. Ibadan: The School of English, 2012. 102 pages; 25 cm.

2014a: [IUW] A bilingualized dictionary of Yorùbá monosyllabic words / L.O. Adéwólé. [Ilésà]: Elyon Publishers, 2014. v, 234 pages; 20 cm. Original two tone green, wrappers, lettered in white, yellow, red and black, with a color illustration of a graduation cap on the front cover. Yoruba-English, pp 3-97, English-Yoruba pp. 98-200.

2014b: [IUW] My diko: the Yoruba-English vocabularies' teacher / Abdul Hakeem Abdus-Salaam. Ibadan, Nigeria: Lillah Publications Bureau, Jan. 2014. 205 pages; 19 cm.

[YOY] Yoy is a Tai language of Thailand and Laos (WikP).

Ethnologue: yoy. Alternate Names: Dioi, Du'o'i, Duoi, Giy, I, Jui, Lao Yuai, Yay, Yi, Yoe, Yoi, Yooi, Yooy, Yuai, Yueai.

1908: [IUW] Essai de dictionnaire idoi3-français reproduisant la langue parlée par les tribus Thai de la haute rivière de l'Ouest ... suivi d'un Vocabulaire français-dioi3, par Jos. Esquirol et Gust. Williatte ... Hongkong, Impr. de la Société des missions-étrangères, 1908. lvi, 669, [1] p. fold. tabl. 23 cm.

[YUANGA] Yuanga (Yuaga), or Nua, is a New Caledonian language spoken in the north of the island (WikP).

Ethnologue: nua. Alternate Names: Bonde, Gomen, Juanga, Nua, Nyua, Nyuaanga, Thuanga, Yuaanga, Yuaga, Zwanga.

1899: see under OCEANIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1946: see under MELANESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YUG] Yugh (Yug) is a Yeniseian language, closely related to Ket, formerly spoken by the Yugh people, one of the southern groups along the Yenisei River in central Siberia. It was once regarded as a dialect of the Ket language, which was considered to be a language isolate, and was therefore called Sym Ket or Southern Ket; however, the Ket considered it to be a distinct language. By the early 1990s there were only two or three non-fluent speakers remaining, and the language was virtually extinct. In the 2010 census only one ethnic Yugh was counted (WikP).

Ethnologue: yug. Alternate Names: Jug, Sym-Ket, Yugh, Yugi.

1768: see under SAMOYED LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1771: see under SAMOYED LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

2011: [IUW] Die Jugen (Sym-Jenissejer) im Lichte ihrer Sprache / Heinrich Werner. München; LINCOM Europa, 2011. viii, 408 pages; 3 maps; 24 cm. Original yellow, black and red wrappers, lettered in black and yellow, with a photo of a bronze tribal object. LINCOM studies in anthropology; 17. Vocabulary, German-Yug, pp. 54-357. Includes bibliographical references (pages 405-408). First German-Yug dictionary. Based on Werner's fieldwork 1961-1971 with the last remaining speakers of the language.

2012: [IUW] Dictionary of the Yugh language / Heinrich Werner, edited by Edward J. Vajda. München; LINCOM Europa, 2012. xi, 465 p.; 24 cm. Original red, gray-green and yellow wrappers, lettered in white, red and black, with a 1964 photo of one of the last living speakers of the language on front cover. Languages of the world. Dictionaries; 47. Yugh [Yug]-English, pp. [12]-328, English-Yugh [Yug] index, pp. [329]-395.

"Heinrich Werner, author of this first ever Yugh-English dictionary, has devoted the past five decades to the study of Yugh and its sister Yenisean languages, the critically endangered Ket and long extinct but partly documented Kott, Assan, Ari and Pumpokol of south Siberia.... The dictionary derives from his original fieldwork with the last fluent speakers conducted between 1961 and 1971 and also includes all of the archival materials documented by earlier linguists and explorers. The dictionary offers as full an inventory of Yugh lexicon as it is now possible to compile" (Editor's foreword).

[YUGUR, EAST] Eastern Yugur is the Mongolic language spoken within the Yugur nationality. The other language spoken within the same community is Western Yughur, which is a Turkic language. The terms may also indicate the speakers of these languages.

Traditionally, both languages are indicated by the term Yellow Uygur, from the autonym of the Yugur. Eastern Yugur speakers are said to have passive bilingualism with Southern Mongolian, the standard spoken in China. Grigory Potanin recorded a glossary of Salar language, Western Yugur language, and Eastern Yugur language in his 1893 Russian language book The Tangut-Tibetan Borderlands of China and Central Mongolia (WikP).

Ethnologue: yuy. Alternate Names: Eastern Yogor. Enge'er, Enger, Shera Yogur, Shira Yugur, Yogor, Yögur, Yugar, Yugu.

1911: [LILLY] A visit to the Sarö and Shera Yögurs, by Carl Gustaf Emil Mannerheim [1867-1951]. Helsingfors: 1911. 72 p. illus., map. 26 cm. Later black unprinted wrappers. Includes English-Sarö Yögur [West Yugur]-Shera Yögur [East Yugur]-Mongolian, pp. 61-70. This copy with the bookplate of Peter Hopkirk and a t.s.l. laid in from the Embassy of Finland concerning the archives of the author. Peter Hopkirk is the author of several books on the history of central Asia.

1982: [IUW] 东部裕固語词 / 内蒙古大学蒙古语文研究所. Dong bu Yugu yu ci hui [Eastern Yugur Vocabulary] / Nei Menggu da xue Menggu yu wen yan jiu suo. [Huhehaote Shi: Nei Menggu da xue Menggu yu wen yan jiu suo, 1982. 4, 129 p.; 20 cm. Original stapled cream wrappers, lettered in black. Series: 语言, 方言调查材料; 017. Yu yan, fang yan diao cha cai liao; 017. Cover title. East Yugur-Chinese, pp. 1-128. From the Dr. John Gombojab Hangin collection from The Mongolia Society.

1987: [IUW] "Tōbu Yugurugo shii" Mōkogo bungo sakuin = Written Mongolian index to the Shera-Yëögur vocabulary / Kuribayashi Hitoshi hen. Tōkyō: Tōkyō Gaikokugo Daigaku, 1987. xx, 132 p.: map; 21 cm. Index to Jegün Yuğur kelen-ü üges (Dongbu Yugu yu ci hui), Kōke Qota: Ōbōr Mongğol-un Arad-un Keblel-ün Qoriy-a], 1984. (v. 17 in series Mongğol tōrül-ün kele ayalğun-u sudulul-un cubural.) Japanese translation added. Includes bibliographical references. In Mongolian, Eastern Yugur, Chinese and Japanese. From the Dr. John Gombojab Hangin collection from The Mongolia Society.

[YUGUR, WEST] Western Yugur (Western Yugur: yoyır lar (Yugur speech) or yoyır söz (Yugur word)) is the Turkic language spoken by the Yugur people. It is contrasted with Eastern Yugur, the Mongolic language spoken within the same community. Traditionally, both languages are indicated by the term "Yellow Uygur", from the endonym of the Yugur. There are approximately 4,600 Turkic-speaking Yugurs (WikP).

Ethnologue: ybe. Alternate Names: Sari Yogur, Sarig, Sarygh Uygur, Sary-Uighur, Ya Lu, Yellow Uighur, Yugu, Yuku.

1911: see under YUGUR, EAST.

[YUIN-KURIC LANGUAGES] The Yuin–Kuric languages are a family of mainly extinct Australian Aboriginal languages that existed in the south east of Australia. They belong in the Pama–Nyungan family. These languages are divided into the Yuin, Kuri, and Yora groups, although exact classifications vary between researchers. Yuin–Kuric languages were spoken by the original inhabitants of what are now the cities of Sydney and Canberra. Most are now extinct. The koala is named from the word gula for the animal in the Dharug language, a Yuin–Kuri language within the Yora group, and the same word occurs in other Yuin–Kuri languages, such as Gundungurra, within the Yuin group. The Kuri (northern) group has been reduced to its southernmost languages: Worimi languages: Worimi (Worimi, Katthang, Birrpai), Awabakal; Dunghutti language. Languages once classified as Kuric include Yugambal, Yuggarabul (Yuggera), and Nganyaywana (Anaiwan) further north (WikP).

Ethnologue lists ten languages under the Yuin family, but does not list Kuri or Yora groups.

1979: see under POLYNESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[YUKAGHIR, NORTHERN] The Tundra Yukaghir language (also known as Northern Yukaghir; self-designation: wadul) is one of only two extant Yukaghir languages. Last spoken in the tundra belt extending between the lower Indigirka to the lower Kolyma basin (69°N 154°E), Tundra Yukaghir was formerly spoken in a much wider area extending west to the Lena basin (WikP).

Ethnologue: ykg. Alternate Names: Jukagir, Northern Yukagir, Odul, Tundra, Tundre, Wadul, Yukagir.

1910-1926: [IUW] The Yukaghir and the Yukaghirized Tungus, by Waldemar Jochelson. Leiden, E. J. Brill Ltd.; New York, G. E. Stechert, 1926. xvi, 469 p. illus., XXVIII pl., fold. map. 36 cm. Library binding, preserving original tan wrappers of part 1, dated 1910, part 2, dated 1924, and part 3, dated 1926. Memoirs of the American Museum of Natural History; v. 13, pt. 1-3. Publications of the Jesup north Pacific expedition. vol. IX, pt. I-III. Issued in 3 parts, 1910-1926, with continuous pagination. Part 2 includes: Yukaghir-English, pp. 317-329, and English-Yukaghir, pp. 330-342. Bibliography: xiv-xvi.

"The appended vocabulary is a part of my extensive Yukaghir Dictionary which I have in manuscript form. The present vocabulary contains the words that occur in the Yukaghir texts in this volume. Most of the words are given in their base forms and in both dialects, called by me the Kolyma and Tundra dialects. Words of the Tundra dialect are marked with an asterisk. Words used in both dialects are marked with a small circle. The Kolyma dialect was in use in the region of the Kolyma river and the valleys along its tributaries; the Tundra dialect in the northern tundra between the lower parts of the Kolyma and Lena rivers" (Introductory Notes to the vocabulary, p. 315).

1975: Reprinted [IUW] The Yukaghir and the Yukaghirized Tungus / by Waldemar Jochelson. New York: AMS Press, 1975. xvi, 469 p., [15] leaves of plates: ill.; 24 cm. Reprint of the 1910-1926 ed. published by E. J. Brill, Leiden, and G. E. Stechert, New York. Includes index. Bibliography: xiv-xvi.

1955: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1957: [IUW] Jukagirisch-deutsches Wörterbuch, zusammengestellt auf Grund der Texte von W. Jochelson, by Johannes Angere. Stockholm, Almqvist & Wiksell [1957] xvii, 271 p. 23 cm. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Jukaritsch [Northern Yukaghir]-German, pp. 1-257. Bibliography: p. 258-259. First dictionary of the language.

"At the turn of the century, the Russian explorer and scholar Waldemar Jochelson collected a significant number of Jukaghir texts, published for the most part in his Materialy po izucheniiu Īukagirskogo iazyka i fol'klora: sobrannye v Kolymskom okruge (St. Petersburg, 1900). The present dictionary has been compiled on the basis of that work. I have also taken a long list of words that appeared in Jochelson's work The Yukaghir and the Yukaghirized Tungus [[1910-]1926]. In [Part 2 of] that work [1924] Jochelson arranged the Jukaghir words in alphabetical order with English translations. His English translations have been taken over here without change, since the Jukaghir words are not given in an accompanying text, precluding a correct translation from the English into German" (Vorwort: tr: BM).

1958: [LILLYbm] Īukagirskii ĭazyk, by E. A. Krejnovic. Moscow: Izd.-vo Akademii Nauk SSSR, 1958. Original cream paper over boards, lettered and decorated in brown and gray. Pp. 1-3 4-288. 27 cm. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Includes Yukagir-Russian vocabulary of both Northern and Southern Yukagir, pp. [270]-280, and [281]-284. From the library of Carleton T. Hodge.

2001: [IUW] Īukagirsko-russkii slovar' / G.N. Kurilov; otv. redaktor, P.A. Sleptsov. Novosibirsk: Nauka, 2001. 606 p.; 25 cm. Original white cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Jukaghir-Russian dictionary, pp. [17]-606. Includes bibliographical references (p. 7).

2007: [IUW] Slovar' ĭukagirsko-russkii i russko-ĭukagirskii (tundrennyi dialekt): okolo 3500 slov posobie dlia uchashchikhsia 5-9 klassov obshcheobrazovatel'nykh uchrezhdenii / Ė. S. Atlasova. Sankt-Peterburg: Prosveshchenie. Sankt-Peterburgskii filial, 2007. 141 p.; 22 cm. Uniform series: Īazyki narodov Severa, Sibiri i Dal'nego Vostoka. Jukaghir-Russian, Russian-Jukaghir dictionary for school levels 5-9.

[YUKAGHIR, SOUTHERN] The Southern, Kolyma or Forest Yukaghir language is one of only two Yukaghir languages. Last spoken in the forest zone near the sources of the Kolyma, divided between the Sakha Republic and the Magadan Oblast (around 65°N 153°E), previously in the wider area of the upper Kolyma region (WikP).

Ethnologue: yux. Alternate Names: Forest Yukagir, Jukagir, Kolym, Kolyma, Odul, Southern Yukagir, Yukagir.

1920-1926: see under YUKAGHIR, NORTHERN.

1955: see under URALIC LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1958: see under YUKAGHIR, NORTHERN.

[YUKI] The Yuki language, also spelled Ukiah and also known as Ukomno'm, was a language of California, spoken by the indigenous American Yuki people, formerly in the Eel River area, the Round Valley Reservation, northern California. It became extinct some time in the 20th century. Yuki is generally thought to be distantly related to the Wappo language. Yuki consisted of three dialects: Northern Yuki (Round Valley Yuki), Coast Yuki, and Huchnom (Clear Lake Yuki). These were at least partially mutually intelligible, but are sometimes counted as distinct languages (WikP). Population: No known L1 speakers. The last speaker, Arthur Anderson, died around 1990: (Golla 2011). Ethnic population: 1,200 (2000 A. Yamamoto).

Ethnologue: yuk. Alternate Names: Northern Yukian.

1851-1857: see Vol. 3 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1877: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 14 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1984: [LILLYbm] Yuki Vocabulary, by Jesse O. Sawyer and Alice Schlichter. Original wrappers. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1984. 314 p. Original yellow and white wrappers, lettered in black and white. First edition. University of California Publications: Linguistics Volume 101. English-Yuki, pp. 17-246, and Yuki-English, pp. 249-312. First dictionary of this language. Second copy: [IUW].

[YULU] Yulu, also known as Binga, is the Central Sudanic language of the Yulu and Binga people. The Binga dialect is similar to Yulu proper, though some of the vocabulary "differs greatly" (WikP).

Ethnologue: yul. Alternate Names: Youlou.

1970: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES...POLYGLOT.

1987: see under KARA.

[YUPIK, CENTRAL] Central Alaskan Yup'ik or just Yup'ik (also called Yupik, Central Yup'ik, or indigenously Yugtun) is one of the languages of the Yupik family, in turn a member of the Eskimo–Aleut language group, spoken in western and southwestern Alaska. Both in ethnic population and in number of speakers, Central Alaskan Yup'ik is the largest of the languages spoken by Alaska Natives. As of 2010 it was also the second largest aboriginal language in the United States in terms of numbers of speakers. Yup'ik should not be confused with the related language Yupik spoken in Chukotka and St. Lawrence Island. Of a total population of more than 23,000 people, more than 14,000 are speakers of the language. Children still grow up speaking Yup'ik as their first language in 17 of 68 Yup'ik villages, those mainly located on the lower Kuskokwim River, on Nelson Island, and along the coast between the Kuskokwim River and Nelson Island. The difference between Yup'ik and Iñupiaq is roughly the same as the difference between Spanish and French (WikP).

Ethnologue: esu. Alternate Names: Central Alaskan Yupik.

1851: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 20 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1944: [LILLYbm] Grammar and Vocabulary of the Eskimo Language as spoken by the Kuskokwim and Southwest Coast Eskimos of Alaska, by John Hinz. Bethlehem, Pennsylvania: The Society for Propagating the Gospel, The Moravian Church, 1944. Original black cloth, lettered in gold. Pp. I-VII VIII-XIII XIV-XVI, 1 2-194 [14]. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 121. Includes Eskimo-English, pp. [141]-194. "In appreciation of Various Gifts and the Gift of 'Brother X'" lettered in gold on the front cover. With ink stamp on the title page: "Copyright 1944 / by / The Society of the United Brethren for Propagating the Gospel Among the Heathen."

"Because I had been in Greenland and Alaska and had studied the two dialects of the Eskimo language, [Dr. A. Schmitt, Professor of Comparative Philology at the University of Erlangen] asked me to prepare a short grammar and vocabulary. Not having been in Alaska now for over fourteen years and being already over seventy years old, I hesitated to undertake such a difficult task; however, in order that all my written notes and the vocabulary of the Alaskan Eskimo, which I had gathered during those years, should not be lost, I began at once to prepare a grammar and vocabulary for the use of others, and as a groundwork upon which others might continue to build" (Preface). This work was reprinted in 1955. Strangely, no mention is made of Augustus Schultze's Grammar and vocabulary of the Eskimo language of north-western Alaska, Kuskokwim district (Bethlehem, Pa.: Moravian Publication Office, 1894).

1955: Reprinted [IUW] Grammar and vocabulary of the Eskimo language: as spoken by the Kuskokwim and southwest coast Eskimos of Alaska, by John Hinz. Bethlehem, Pa.: The Society for Propagating the Gospel, the Moravian Church, 1955, c1944. xiii, 199 p.; 24 cm.

1984: [LILLYbm] Yup'ik Eskimo Dictionary, compiled by Steven A. Jacobson. N.p: Alaska Native Language Center, University of Alaska, 1984. Original red cloth over boards, lettered in gold; d.j. red and white, lettered in white and black, and decorated in black. 758 pp. First edition. Includes Yup'ik-English and English to Yup'ik index. With "Bibliography of Lexical Sources," pp. 645-648. The only major Yup'ik dictionary.

"A photocopied preliminary edition of this dictionary in 200 copies was distributed in 1982. The present edition is extensively revised." "The Central Yup'ik Eskimo language is spoken in southwestern Alaska in the Yukon-Kuskokwim Delta and Bristol Bay areas. All Central Yup'ik dialects are covered in this dictionary.... Central Yup'ik is one of three Yupik Eskimo languages. The other two are Siberian Yupik ... and Alutiq (also called Sugpiaq, Suk, Pacific Gulf Yupik, and, loosely, Aleut). These three Yupik languages, along with the Iupiaq or Inuit language ... constitute the Eskimo branch of the Eskimo-Aleut family of languages.... The first written list of Yup'ik words was compiled on Captain James Cook's expedition of 1778.... Yup'ik vocabularies were written by many travelers, explorers and missionaries over the years. We have consulted all the vocabulary lists available.... We have attempted to be as complete and comprehensive as possible in writing this dictionary. No potential entry was intentionally omitted."

[YUPIK, CENTRAL SIBERIAN] Siberian Yupik (also known as Central Siberian Yupik, Bering Strait Yupik, Yuit, Yoit, "St. Lawrence Island Yupik", and in Russia "Chaplinski Yupik" or Yuk) is one of the Yupik languages of the Eskimo–Aleut language family. It the largest Yupik idiom spoken in Siberia, and it is spoken also on St. Lawrence Island. Its speakers, the Siberian Yupik people, are an indigenous people who reside along the coast of the Chukchi Peninsula in the Russian Far East and on St. Lawrence Island in the Alaska villages of Savoonga and Gambell. In Alaska, about 1,050 people from a total Siberian Yupik population of 1,100 speak the language. In Russia, about 300 of an ethnic population of 1,200 to 1,500 speak the language, making a total of about 1,350 speakers worldwide (WikP).

Ethnologue: ess. Alternate Names: Bering Strait Yupik, Saint Lawrence Island Eskimo.

1980: [IUW] ĪAzyk ěskimosov Beringova proliva, by G.A. Menovshchikov. Leningrad: "Nauka", Leningradskoe otd-nie, 1980. 332 p.; 22 cm. Central Siberian Yupik-Russian dictionary.

[YURACARE] Yuracaré (also Yurakaré, Yurakar, Yuracare, Yurucare, Yuracar, Yurakare, Yurujuré, Yurujare) is an endangered language isolate of central Bolivia in Cochabamba and Beni departments spoken by the Yuracaré people. There are approximately 2,500 speakers. These numbers are in decline as the youngest generation no longer learns the language (WikP).

Ethnologue: yuz. Alternate Names: Yura.

1893: [IUW] Principes et dictionnaire de la langue yuracare ou yurujure, publiés conformément au manuscrit de A. d'Orbigny, by Lucien Adam. Paris, J. Maisonneuve, 1893. 122p. 25cm. Bibliothèque linguistique américaine, t. 16. First dictionary of the language.

[YUROK] The Yurok language (also Chillula, Mita, Pekwan, Rikwa, Sugon, Weitspek, Weitspekan) is an Algic language. It is the traditional language of the Yurok tribe of Del Norte County and Humboldt County on the far North Coast of California, U.S., most of whom now speak English. The last native speaker died in 2013. As of 2012, Yurok language classes are taught at the high school level, and other revitalization efforts are expected to increase the population of speakers. The standard reference on the Yurok language is the grammar by Robins (1958).

Ethnologue: yur. Alternate Names: Chillula, Mita, Pekwan, Rikwa, Sugon, Weitspek, Weitspekan.

1851-1857: see Vol. 3 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1877: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 13 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1958: [IUW] The Yurok language: grammar, texts, lexicon, by Robert Henry Robins. Berkeley, University of California Press, 1958. xiv, 300 p. 26 cm. University of California publications in linguistics; v. 15.

1973: see under COMANCHE.

Z

[ZAGHAWA] The Zaghawa language is a Saharan language spoken by the Zaghawa people of eastern central Chad (in the Sahel) and northwestern Sudan (Darfur). The people who speak this language call it Beria, from Beri, the endonym of the Zaghawa people, and "a," Zaghawa for 'mouth.' It has been estimated that there are between 75,000 and 350,000 Zaghawa language speakers who primarily live in Chad and the Darfur region of Sudan (WikP).

Ethnologue: zag. Alternate Names: Beri, Beria, Beri-Aa, Berri, Bideyat, Kebadi, Kuyuk, Merida, Soghaua, Zagaoua, Zagawa, Zauge, Zeggaoua, Zeghawa, Zorhaua.

2004: [IUW] Grammaire du beria (langue saharienne): avec un glossaire français-beria / Angelika Jakobi et Joachim Crass; avec la collaboration de Bakhit Seby Abdoulaye. Köln: Köppe, 2004. xiii, 292 p.: ill.; 24 cm. Nilo-Saharan, v. 18 Includes bibliographical references (p. [275]-282) and index. Zaghawa-French glossary.

[ZAHKRING] Zakhking (also Eastern Mishmi or Zaiwa; known as Meyor in India and Zha (Zhahua 扎话) in China) is a language of Arunachal Pradesh and 3 villages in Tibet. Zakhking has been classified as a Midzuish language. Blench and Post (2011) consider Zakhking to be an East Bodish language that has been influenced by Midzu (which they classify as a language isolate) or other divergent languages of the region. In 2015, Blench suggests that Zakhking may be a language isolate. [Blench argues that Zakhking had borrowed heavily from Midzu and Tibetan, and then later borrowed from Naga languages and Jingpho as well. Scott DeLancey (2015) considers Meyor to be part of a wider Central Tibeto-Burman group (WikP). Population: 600 in China (Bradley 2007). Total users in all countries: 1,000.

Ethnologue: zkr. Alternate Names: Charumba, Songgu Zhahua, Zaiwa, Zha.

2017: see under INDO-ARYAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[ZAIWA] Zaiwa (autonym: tsauɽvaɽ; Tsaiwa, Tsaiva, 载瓦; Burmese: ဇိုင်ဝါ/အဇိုင်) is a

Burmish language spoken in parts of southwest China and eastern Burma. There are around 100,000 speakers. It is also known as Atsi, its name in Jingpo. Other names for the language include Atzi, Azi, Aci, Aji, Atshi, Atsi-Maru, Maru, Zi, Tsaiwa, Szi and Xiaoshanhua. Pela (Bola), with 400 speakers, was once classified as a dialect. From the 1950s Zaiwa was written using the Roman script. A Gospel of Mark was published in Zaiwa in 1938 in the Fraser alphabet and in 1951 in the Roman script. Not to be confused with Atsi dialect of Fang.

Ethnologue: atb. Alternate Names: Aci, Aji, Atshi, Atsi, Atsi-Maru, Atzi, Azi, Szi, Tsaiva, Tsaiwa, Xiaoshanhua. Autonym: Zaiwa.

1906: see under JINGPHO.

1992: [LILLY] 汉载词典 / Han Zai ci dian. 云南省德宏州少数民族语文指导工作委员会, 中国社会科学院民族研究所语言室编; 编写人朵示拥汤, 徐悉艰, 穆途端 = Myiwa Zaiwa dangzhi zhvum / Doqshi Yongtang, Xu Xijian, Mituq Don. 朵示拥汤. 徐悉艰. 穆途端.; Yongtang Duoshi; Xijian Xu; Duan Mutu; Yunnan Sheng Dehong Zhou shao shu min zu yu wen zhi dao gong zuo wei yuan hui.; All authors. 四川民族出版社, Chengdu: Sichuan min zu chu ban she, 1992. 1158 p. 18.3 x 11.3 cm. Red cloth, lettered in gold; light blue d.j. lettered in dark blue. First edition. Series: Zhongguo shao shu min zu yu yan xi lie ci dian cong shu. Chinese Minority Languages Dictionaries Series. Chinese-Zaiwa, pp. 1-983.

[ZANDE] Zande is the largest of the Zande languages. It is spoken by the Azande, primarily in the northeast of the Democratic Republic of the Congo and western South Sudan, but also in the eastern part of the Central African Republic. It is called Pazande in the Zande language and Kizande in Lingala (WikP).

Ethnologue: zne. Alternate Names: Asande, Azande, Badjande, Bazenda, Pazande, Sande, Zandi.

1912: [LILLYbm] Vocabulaire Français-Azande et Azande-Français, based on information furnished by Block, Bulle, et al. Bruxelles: Imprimerie Veuve Monnom, 1912. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black. Pp. [2] / 2-312. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1804. Includes French-Zande, pp. [1]-150, Zande-French, pp. [151]-299, and numbers in Zande, pp.301-312, all based on information gathered by 32 different individuals, who are listed by last name, with individual entries identified by their initials. This copy with the blind stamp of the Munger Africana Library on the front wrapper. The earliest Zande vocabulary listed in Hendrix is French, by Witterwulghe. Hendrix also lists a German (actually Flemish) Zande vocabulary published in 1965 by J.J. M. Dijkmans, but this may simply be dual-language texts. Second copy: [IUW].

1921-1925: [IUW] La langue des azande / par C.R. Lagae et V.H. Vanden Plas. Gand: Editions Dominicaines "Veritas", 1921-1925. 3 v. in 1: fold. map; 25 cm. Contemporary binding, half cloth and marbled paper over boards, label lettered in gold on spine. Three vols. bound as one. First editions. Vol. I: Grammaire, exercices, legendes, 1921; 150 p. Vol. II: Dictionnaire Français-Zande, 1922; 154 p.; Vol. III: Dictionnaire Zande-Français, 1925; 175 p. Bibliothèque Congo; no. 6-8. Zaunmüller, col. 406. Hendrix 1803. Vol. II: French-Zande, pp. [7]-254. Vol. III: Zande-French, pp. [9]-175. Second copy of Vol. III: LILLYbm, in original gray wrappers, lettered in black.

1931: [LILLYbm] Zande and English Dictionary, compiled by Rev. Canon Gore & Mrs. E.C. Gore. London: Sheldon Press, 1931. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in black. 310 pp. First edition. With a label printed in red: "With the Author's Compliments," pasted to the half title. Zaunmüller, col. 406. Hendrix 1801. First English dictionary of this language.

1952: Revised [second] edition [LILLYbm] Zande and English Dictionary, compiled by Rev. Canon Gore & Mrs. E.C. Gore, revised edition by H.C. Bullen. London: Sheldon Press, 1952. Hardbound without d.j. First revised edition. Zaunmüller, col. 406. Hendrix 1802.

1965: [IUW] Zande-woordkunst, by J. J. M. Dijkmans. [Tervuren]: 1965. vii, 68 p. 27 cm. Hendrix 1800.

Zande is spoken by about 500,000 people in Sudan near the border with Zaire, and by 2 million people across the border in the latter country.

1983: [IUW] A dictionary of Zande plant names from south west Sudan / Jesse C. Hillman, Sheila M. Hillman. New York: Wildlife Conservation International, New York Zoological Society, [1983]. 59 p. "June 1983." Includes bibliographical references (p. 2) Zande to scientific names. Scientific to Zande names, with plant family. Zande plant names for which no identification has yet been made.

[ZANGSKARI] Zangskari (Zanskari, Zaskari) is an endangered Tibetic language. It is mostly spoken in Jammu and Kashmir, especially Zanskar in Kargil district adjoining the Ladakh region. It is written using the Tibetan script. Zangskari is divided into four homogenous groups, namely Oot (Stod) or Upper Zanskari spoken along the Doda River, Zhung (Gžun) or Central Zanskari mostly spoken in Fadum valley, Sham (Gšam) or Lower Zanskari follows the lower portions of Zanskar River and lastly Lungnak (Luṅnag) along the upper Zanskar River region (WikP).

Ethnologue: zau. Alternate Names: Zanskari, Zaskari.

1978: [LILLY] Zangskar Vocabulary: A Tibetan Dialect Spoken in Kahmir, by Michiyo Hoshi and Tondup Tsering. [Tokyo]: Institute for the Study of Languages and Cultures of Asia and Africa, 1978. 96 p. 26.3 cm. First edition. Original light green wrappers, lettered in black. Monumenta Serindica No. 5. Vocabulary: English-Zangskar [Zangskari]-literary Tibetan [in many instances], pp. 1-77 (1000 numbered words); alphabetical index to English, pp. 78-96.

"The present vocabulary of Zangskar... is a result of shy three months 'working with Mr. Tondup Tsering..., a native of Zangskar.... As we found it rather hard to communicate with each other through any of the three languages Japanese, Lhasa Tibetan and English, which I usually adopt as media for the investigation, we had to rely, at the start, upon literary Tibetan, to which Zangskar shows close correspondence, and his patient explanations with gestures. With the progress of my understanding of Zangskar as well as the improvement of his Japanese, the later phase of my investigation was mainly conducted by means of these languages" (Foreword).

[ZAPOTEC LANGUAGES] The Zapotec (English pronunciation: /'zæpətək/) languages are a group of closely related indigenous Mesoamerican languages that constitute a main branch of the Oto-Manguean language family and which is spoken by the Zapotec people from the southwestern-central highlands of Mexico. The 2010 Mexican census reports 425,000 speakers, with the majority inhabiting the state of Oaxaca. Zapotec-speaking communities are also found in the neighboring states of Puebla, Veracruz, and Guerrero. Labor migration has also brought a number of native Zapotec-speakers to the United States, particularly in California and Bridgeton, New Jersey. Most Zapotec speaking communities are highly bilingual in Spanish. The name of the language in Zapotec itself varies according to the geographical variant. In Juchitán (Isthmus) it is Diidxazá [didza'za], in Mitla it is Didxsaj [didz'sa^h], in Zoogocho it is Diža'xon [dizaʔ'zon],[7] in Coatec Zapotec it is Di'zhke' [diʔʒ'keʔ],[8] in Miahuatéc Zapotec it is Dí'zdéh [diʔzdæ] and in Santa Catarina Quioquitani it is Tiits Së [ti'ts sæ], for example. [9] The first part of these expressions has the meaning 'word' (perhaps slightly reduced as appropriate for part of a compound). (WikP).

Ethnologue lists 57 separate languages under Zapotec.

1578 [1942]: [IUW] Vocabulario castellano-zapoteco / Juan, de Córdoba, 1503-1595. Introducción y notas de Wigberto Jiménez Moreno. Ed. facsimilar. México, Instituto Nacional de Antropología e Historia, 1942. 2p., 7-37 p., 1., facsim.: 2 p., 430 numb., 1., 23 cm. Biblioteca lingüística mexicana [I] Facsimile of original ed., 1578, which has title: Vocabvlario en lengva capoteca. Bibliographical references included in "Notas" (p.23-31) "Adiciones a la bibliografía lingüística zapoteca de Peñafiel": p.33-37.

1987: Second facsimile edition [LILLYbm] Vocabviario en langva capoteca, hecho y recopilado por el mvy r verendo padre fray Juan de Cordoua, de la orden de los predicadores, que reside en esta nueva españa. Mexico: Pedro Charte & Antonio Ricardo, 1578 [facsimile edition: Mexico City: Ediciones Toledo, 1987]. Original tan wrappers, lettered in brown, with reproduction of original title page repeated on front cover. 434 pp. (pagination of original manuscript). First edition thus, one of 2,000 copies. The original manuscript is in the Museo Nacional de Antropología e Historia. "Los últimos 7 folios...fueron obtinados de otro facsimil de este mismo vocabulario, publicado en 1942" (The final seven folios were obtained from another facsimile of this same vocabulary published in 1942; tr: BM).

1893: [LILLY] Vocabulario Castellano-Zapoteco. Publicado por la junta Columbina de Mexico con motivo de la celebracion del cuarto centenario del descubrimiento de America / Junta Colombina de México. Mexico [City]: Oficina Tipografica de la Secretaria de Fomento, 1893. First edition, folio, pp. [2], iii, [1], 222; text in double column. Lacking binding. Untrimmed and unopened sewn gatherings. An Ayer Linguistics duplicate with a Newberry release stamp on the verso of the title page. Spanish-Zapotec, pp. [1]-222.

"Almost certainly James C. Pilling's copy with a large front panel of an envelope addressed to him at the Bureau of American Ethnology, Smithsonian Institution, laid in. Published to commemorate the fourth centennial of the discovery of America. Edited from an 18th-century manuscript with the binder's title Diccionario Sapoteco del Balle, at one time, presumably, the property of the library of the Dominicans at Oaxaca, and later presented to Porfirio Díaz, president of Mexico. The Diccionario de la Lengua Zapoteca known to have been compiled in the 17th century by Fray Cristóbal Agüero, a Dominican at Oaxaca, is lost, so that it is impossible to say whether there is any relation between the two works. See Advertencia and J.T. Medina, La Imprenta en Mexico, vol. II, (1907), p. 381. Zaunmüller, col.406" (bookseller's description: Rulon-Miller).

1899: [LILLY] Principios generales para aprender a leer, escribir y hablar la lengua Zapoteca, acompañados de un vocabulario Espanol-Zapoteco y Zapoteco-Espanol..., by Arcadio G. Molina. Segunda edición. Oaxaca: Imprenta de San-Germain, 1899. 12mo, pp. 175, [3]; red library cloth, title gilt direct on spine, t.e.g; fore-edge chipped on some leaves, not touching text. Second edition. An Ayer Linguistics duplicate, with label on lower pastedown and release stamp on flyleaf. Palau 174439. Spanish-Zapoteca, pp. [9]-49.

[ZAPOTEC, ISTHMUS] Isthmus Zapotec, also known as Juchitán Zapotec (native name diidxazá; Spanish: Zapoteco del Istmo), is a Zapotecan language spoken in Tehuantepec and Juchitán de Zaragoza, in the Mexican state of Oaxaca. Guevea de Humboldt Zapotec, a different language, is sometimes referred to as "Northern Isthmus Zapotec" (Wikip).a

Ethnologue: zai. Alternate Names: Zapoteco del Istmo. Autonym: diidxazá.

1959: [LILLY] Castellano-zapoteco, zapoteco-castellano: dialecto del zapoteco del istmo, compilado por Velma Pickett y colaboradores. México, Instituto Linguístico de Verano, 1959. First edition. ii, 246 p. illus. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves; núm. 3. Spanish-Isthmus Zapotec, pp. 1-132, Isthmus Zapotec-Spanish, pp. 133-230. Second copy: [IUW].

1968: Third edition [IUW] Vocabulario zapoteco del istmo; castellano-zapoteco y zapoteco-castellano, compilado por Velma Pickett y colaboradores. [3. ed.] corregido y aumentado. México, Instituto Linguístico de Verano [1968]. 163 p. illus. Serie de vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves; núm. 3.

2018: [IUW, on order] Diccionario del idioma Zapoteco / Oscar Méndez Espinosa. Primera edición. Tehuantepec, Oaxaca: Universidad del Istmo, 2018. 5 volumes: color illustration; 23 cm. Spanish and Zapotec. Contents: Vol. I. A-Dz. vol. II. E-M. vol. III. N-Q. vol. IV. R-S. vol. V. T-Z.

[ZAPOTEC, LOXICHA] Loxicha Zapotec (Western Pochutla Zapotec) is a Zapotec language of Oaxaca, Mexico. It is one of the most populous varieties of Zapotec, and the majority of speakers are monolingual. Not all varieties of Zapotec from towns named

"Loxicha" are part of Loxicha Zapotec. San Baltázar Loxicha Zapotec, which includes Santa Catarina Loxicha, is a distinct language.

Ethnologue: ztp. Alternate Names: Diste, Western Pochutla Zapotec, Zapoteco de Loxicha.

1917: see under ZAPOTEC, XADANI.

[ZAPOTEC, MITLA] Mitla Zapotec, or Didxsaj, is an Oto-Manguean language of Oaxaca, Mexico. Guelavia Zapotec is reported to be 75% intelligible, but the reverse is apparently not the case (WikP).

Ethnologue: zaw. Alternate Names: Didxsaj, East Central Tlacolula Zapotec, East Valley Zapotec.

1901: [LILLY] Lyobaá ó Mictlan; guía histórico-descriptiva / Nicolás León. México [Tip. y lit. "La Europea"] 1901. 53, 53 p. illus., 77 pl. (part fold., part col.) incl. map, plan, facsim. 25 cm. (8vo) "Presente de la Delegación mexicana á los miembros de la segunda Conferencia internacional americana." Text followed by English translation. "Bibliografía de los más importantes escritos referentes á las ruinas de Mitla": p. [35]36. Bound in yellow cloth, with brown lettering and design. 1. pte. Ojeada historico-descriptiva. 2. pte. De Oaxaca á Mitla. 3. pte. I. Etimologías de los nombres en lengua india, que se encuentran en esta guía. II. Guía de la conversación en castellano y zapoteco del valle, Spanish-Tzapotec del Valle [Mitla Zapotec], pp. [47]-48. III. Explicación de las láminas. English summary includes same vocabulary, English-Tzapotec del Valle [Mitla Zapotec], pp. [47]-48 (second pagination).

1991: [LILLYbm] Diccionario zapoteco de Mitla, Oaxaca, by Morris Stubblefield & Carol Miller de Stubblefield. Mexico, D.F.: Instituto Linguístico de Verano, 1991. Original blue wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. i-iv vxvi, 1 2-300. With maps and illustrations First edition. 1000 copies. Series: Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indígenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves", no. 31. Includes Mitla Zapotec-Spanish, pp. 3-131, and Spanish-Mitla Zapotec, pp. 135-189. Second copy: [IUW].

"There are almost forty dialects of Zapoteco that are mutually intelligible. The Zapoteco of Mitla is understood by 18,000 people from eight different villages, and each village speaks in a manner slightly different from the people of Mitla" (Introduction, tr: BM).

[ZAPOTEC, SAN JUAN GUELAVÍA] Tlacolula Valley Zapotec or Valley Zapotec, formerly known by the varietal name Guelavia Zapotec (Zapoteco de San Juan Guelavía) is a Zapotec language of Oaxaca, Mexico. Tlacolula Valley Zapotec is a cluster of Zapotec languages spoken in the western Tlacolula Valley, which show varying degrees of mutual intelligibility. The languages in this group include:

Santa Ana del Valle Zapotec

Teotitlán del Valle Zapotec

San Lucas Quiaviní Zapotec

Tlacolula de Matamoros Zapotec

San Juan Guelavía Zapotec

San Jerónimo Tlacoahuaya Zapotec

Teotitlán del Valle dialect is divergent, 59% intelligible to San Juan Guelavía proper.

In April 2014, linguist Brook Danielle Lillehaugen, along with students from Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges, visited Tlacolula de Matamoros to present an online Tlacolula Valley Zapotec talking dictionary to local leaders. It was estimated that about 100 elderly speakers of this Zapotecan language remain (WikP).

Ethnologue: zab. Alternate Names: Guelavía, Western Tlacolula Zapotec, Zapoteco de San Juan.

1999: [IUW] Di'csyonaary x:tè'n dìi'zh sah Sann Lu'uc = San Lucas Quiavini Zapotec dictionary, by Pamela Munro and Felipe H. Lopez with Olivia V. Méndez, Rodrigo Garcia, and Michael R. Galant. Los Angeles: UCLA Chicano Studies Research Center Publications, c1999. 2 v.; 28 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index. English, Spanish, and Zapotec. Contents: v. 1. Zapotec-English-Spanish dictionary; v. 2, pt. 1. English-Zapotec index. Pt. 2. Spanish-Zapotec index.

[ZAPOTEC, SIERRA DE JUÁREZ] Ixtlán Zapotec is a Zapotec dialect cluster of Oaxaca, Mexico. Varieties share about 80% mutual intelligibility. They are: Yareni (Western Ixtlán, Etla Zapotec), spoken in Santa Ana Yareni. Atepec (Macuiltianguis Zapotec), spoken in San Juan Atepec and San Pablo Macuiltianguis. Central Ixtlan. Sierra de Juárez.

Ethnologue: zaa. Alternate Names: Ixtlán Zapoteco, Zapoteco de Atepec.

1983: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Zapoteco de Juarez: Zapoteco-Espanol. Espanol-Zapoteco. Ca titsa' qui' ri'u, by Neil Nellis & Jane Goodner de Nellis. Mexico: Publicado por el Instituto Linguistico de Verano, 1983. Original white wrappers, lettered and decorated in green. Pp. i-ii iii-xxiii xxiv, 1-2 3-484. With maps and illustrations. First edition. Series: Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indigenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves", no. 27. Includes Sierra de Juárez Zapotec-Spanish, pp. 3-249, and Spanish-Sierra de Juárez Zapotec, pp. 253-334. Second copy: [IUW].

"Zapotecos, along with Mixtecos, are one of the two most important indigenous groups in southeast Mexico.... Their language is subdivided into more than twenty regional dialects" (Prologue).

[ZAPOTEC, XADANI] Xadani Zapotec (Eastern Pochutla Zapotec) is a Zapotec language spoken in southern Oaxaca, Mexico (WikP).

Ethnologue: zax. Alternate Names: Eastern Pochutla Zapotec, Zapoteco de Santa María Xadani.

1917: [LILLYbm] "El Dialecto Mexicano de Pochutla, Oaxaca," by Franz Boas, in: International Journal of American Linguistics, Vol. 1, No. 1 (July 1917), pp. 9-44. Includes Pochutla-Spanish, pp. 24-40, and Spanish-Pochutla, pp. 40-44.

[ZAPOTEC, YATZACHI] Yatzachi Zapotec is an Oto-Manguean language of the Zapotecan branch, spoken in northern central Oaxaca, Mexico. 2,500 self-reported being Yatzachi speakers for the 1990 Mexican census, but the actual number of speakers is unknown. The Yatzachi dialect belongs to the Villa Alta group of Zapotec dialects, of which the main dialect is San Bartolomé Zoogocho. The degree of mutual intelligibility between Yatzachi and the San Bartolomé Zoogocho dialect is estimated to be around 90 percent (WikP).

Ethnologue: zav. Alternate Names: Villa Alta Zapotec, Zapoteco de Yatzachi.

1997: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Zapoteco de Yatzachi el Bajo, Yatzachi el Alto, Oaxaca, by Inez M. Butler H[aworth]. Tucson, AZ: Instituto Lingüístico de Verano, 1997. Original white wrappers, lettered and decorated in green. Pp. i-iv v-xx, 1-3 4-528. First edition. 150 copies. Series: Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indígenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves"; No. 37. Includes Yatzachi Zapotec-Spanish, pp. [3]-408. and Spanish-Yatzachi Zapotec, pp. [411]-528. Second copy: [IUW].

"The Zapoteca presented in this work is that spoken in San Baltazar Yatzachi el Bajo, and San Baltazar Yatzachi el Alto in the district of Villa Alta, Oaxaca... This dictionary was compiled over many years. Its intention is to include all words and phrases in common usage, although there are surely many words still lacking due to human limitations. It also includes those words of Spanish origin which are in daily use" (Introduction, tr: BM). "This dictionary is enriched by the collaboration of five Zapotec speakers, who explored the semantic range of each entry and constructed illustrative sentences for each sense.... The number of entries approaches 8,000.... The extensive coverage of the lexical items in the dictionary has resulted in a larger page size than the other dictionaries in the series" (publisher's blurb).

[ZAPOTEC, ZOOGOCHO] Zoogocho Zapotec, or Diža'xon, is a Zapotec language of Oaxaca, Mexico. It is spoken in San Bartolomé Zoogocho, Oaxaca, Santa María Yalina, Tabehua, and Oaxaca City. As of 2013, about 1,500 "Zoogochenses" live in Los Angeles, California. Classes are held in the MacArthur Park neighborhood to preserve the Zoogocho Zapotec language. The language is also known as Tabehua, Yalina, Zapoteco de San Bartolomé Zoogocho, and Zoogocho (WikP).

Ethnologue: zpq. Alternate Names: Zapoteco de San Bartolomé Zoogocho.

1999: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Zapoteco de Zoogocho Oaxaca, by Rebecca Long C. & Sofronio Cruz M. Mexico, D.F.: Instituto Linguístico de Verano, 1999. Original pale green wrappers, lettered and decorated in dark green. Pp. i-iv v-xx, 1-2 3-531 532. First edition. 500 copies. Series: Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indígenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves", no. 38. Includes Zoogocho Zapoteco-Spanish, pp. 3-316, and Spanish-Zoogocho Zapoteco, pp. 319-399. First dictionary of this Zapoteco language.

"The population of Zoogocho was registered in the census of 1990 as totaling 716 inhabitants. The census also reported that 72 people over fifty years of age were monolingual, speaking only Zapoteco as well as 560 who speak Zapoteco and Spanish. We may add to those who live in Zoogocho, a number originally from that village who live in the city of Oaxaca, in Mexico City, and the United States, primarily in Los Angeles" (Introduction, tr: BM)

[ZARAMO] Zaramo is a Niger–Congo language, formerly the primary tongue of the Zaramo people of eastern Tanzania. Today there are very few speakers, as the Zaramo population mainly use Swahili instead. The language is also known as Zalamo, Kizaramo, Dzalamo, Zaramu, Saramo or Myagatwa. The New Testament was published in the language in 1975 (WikP).

Ethnologue: zaj. Alternate Names: Dzalamo, Kizaramo, Myagatwa, Saramo, Zalamo, Zaramu.

1869: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

[ZARMA] Zarma (also spelled Djerma, Dyabarma, Dyarma, Dyerma, Adzerma, Zabarma, Zarbarma, Zarma, Zarmaci, and Zerma) is a member of the Songhay languages. It is the leading indigenous language of the southwestern lobe of the West African nation of Niger, where the Niger River flows and the capital city, Niamey, is located, and it is the second leading for that entire nation, after Hausa, which is spoken in south central Niger. With over 2 million speakers, Zarma is far and away the most widely spoken of the Songhay languages. The two other major Songhay dialects or languages are spoken upriver in the neighboring nation of Mali. They are Koyraboro Senni, centered on the city of Gao, with about 400,000 speakers, and yet further upriver from Zarma territory, Koyra Chiini, centered on the eminent ancient university city of Timbuktu, with about 200,000 speakers. According to some reports, speakers of Zarma do not understand Koyraboro Senni. Further downriver, another dialect of the Songhay languages is Dendi, with about 100,000 speakers. In earlier decades, Zarma was known as Djerma, and it is still sometimes called Zerma (especially among French-speakers), but today it is usually called "Zarma" as this is what Zarma-speakers call their own language (Wikipedia).

Ethnologue: dje. Alternate Names: Adzerma, Djerma, Dyabarma, Dyarma, Dyerma, Zabarma, Zarbarma, Zarmaci.

1982: [IUW] Concepts et conceptions songhay-zarma: histoire, culture, société, by Jean-Pierre Olivier de Sardan. Paris: Nubia, 1982. 447 p.: maps; 26 cm. Bibliography: p. 430-436. Filmography: p. 437. Songhai language--Dictionaries--French. Zarma language--Dictionaries--French.

1984: [IUW] Sarrusey ce-diraw sanniizey: vocabulaire administratif zarma-français / Abdou Hamani. Niamey: Université de Niamey, Faculté des lettres et sciences humaines, Département de linguistique, 1984. 120 p., 28 cm. Library binding, preserving original green and white wrappers, lettered in black. Zarma-French, pp. 7-120. The preliminary material explains that this lexicon is intended to facilitate legal matters by utilizing Zarma terms in the courtroom, so they may be understood more fully by those involved in court cases.

1994: [LILLY] Dictionnaire Zarma-Français (République du Niger), by Yves Bernard & Mary White-Kaba. Paris: Agence de coopération culturelle et technique, 1994. First edition. [26], [2], 331 p., [11]. 24 cm. Original orange wrappers, lettered in black, with a photo of native compound on the front cover. The orange totally fades to yellow, as it has on the spine of this copy. The dictionary is preceded by a sketch of the grammar. Zarma-French dictionary, pp. 1-331, followed by an appendix of the flora of Niger, Zarma-Latin-French (unpaginated). This is the first dictionary of Zarma.

"Editing and publishing a dictionary that one wishes to be fundamental is a risky business, particularly when no previous corpus of material has been established. Thus it is possible that in spite of all our precautions, some quite ordinary word has been left out, either because it was simply forgotten, or lost in the course of the continuous rearrangement of the text; we hope this hasn't happened too often... we are taking this risk. While leafing through the dictionary it will become clear that it is far from elementary, it is rich in its number of words, turns of phrases, expressions, proverbs, in short the entire culture of Zarma. We hope that teams of specialists will soon enlarge and deepen our work" (Introduction, tr: BM).

2000: [IUW] Lexique hausa & zarma: démocratie et développement à la base: terminologie essentielle. Niamey, Niger: Démocratie 2000, [2000] 168 p.; 21 cm. Series: Collection "Devenir citoyen." "Décembre 2000."

2002: [IUW] Parlons zarma = let's speak Zarma = mu zanta zabarma = iri ma salan zarma ciine, by Moussa Djibo. First edition. Niamey, Niger: Editions Alpha, 2002. 79 p.; 20 x 28 cm. In Hausa, Zarma, French and English.

2005: [IUW] Document de recherche pour un dictionnaire Français / zarma / soṇey / dendi, by Yves Bernard. Niamey, Niger: Yves Bernard, 2005. 223 p.; 30 cm. library binding, preserving original yellow wrappers, lettered in black, with a photo of tribal home on front cover. Translation aid; not a complete dictionary. Partial alphabetical list from French language to Zarma, with some Dendi and Songhai variations, pp. 1-223.

[ZAY] Zay (Oromo: Lak'i, Laqi) is an Afroasiatic language of the Semitic branch spoken in Ethiopia. It is one of the Gurage languages in the Ethiopian Semitic group. The Zay language has around 5,000 speakers known as the Zay, who inhabit Gelila and the other five islands and shores of Lake Zway in the southern part of the country. Zay is an unwritten language. Most speakers are multilingual in other Gurage languages, in the Oromo language, and in Amharic (WikP).

Ethnologue: zwa. Alternate Names: Gelilla, Lak'i, Laqi, Zway.

1979: see under GURAGE LANGUAGES.

[ZAYSETE] Zayse-Zergulla is the combined title for the two closely related dialects of Zayse (also Zaysete, Zaisse, Zaysite, Zaysse) and Zergulla (or Zergula). The division may be more along ethnic or geographic lines than linguistic. It is an Afro-Asiatic Omotic language, and is spoken in the southwestern part of Ethiopia, to the immediate west of Lake Chamo. It is similar to the Gidicho dialect of the Koorete language (WikP).

Ethnologue: zay. Alternate Names: Zaisse, Zayse-Zergulla, Zaysitè, Zaysse, Zergula.

1938: see under BASKETO.

[ZAZAKI, NORTHERN] Zaza language, also called Zazaki, Kirmanjki and Dimli, is an Indo-European language spoken primarily in eastern Turkey by the Zazas. The language is a part of the northwestern group of the Iranian section of the Indo-European family, and belongs to the Zaza–Gorani and Caspian dialect group. Zaza shares many features, structures, and vocabulary with Gorani. Zaza also has some similarities with Talyshi and other Caspian languages. According to Ethnologue (which cites [Paul 1998]), the number of speakers is between 1.5 and 2.5 million (including all dialects). According to Nevins, the number of Zaza speakers is between 2 and 4 million (WikP).

Ethnologue: kiu. Alternate Names: Alevica, Dersimki, Dimilki, Kirmanjki, Northern Zaza, Shar Ma, So-Bê, Zaza, Zonê Ma.

1860: see under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1983: [IUW] Kürmançî ve Zaza Türkçeleri üzerine bir araştırma: inceleme ve sözlük / Tuncer Gülensoy. Ankara: Türk Kültürünü Araştırma Enstitüsü, 1983. x, 69 p.;

20 cm. Series: Türk Kültürünü Araştırma Enstitüsü yayınları; 64. Research on Kurmanci /Zaza Turkish: review and dictionary.

1984: [IUW] Göztürk-Uygur Zaza Kurmanc lehçeleri üzerine bir araştırma / Hayri Başbuğ. Ankara: Türk Kültürünü Araştırma Enstitüsü, 1984. 88 p.: ill.; 20 cm. Türk Kültürünü Araştırma Enstitüsü yayınları; 74. Bibliography: p. 87-88. Study of Kurmanic dialects, with vocabulary.

1986: [IUW] Doğu Anadolu Osmanlıcası: etimolojik sözlük denemesi: (proto Türkçe--Eski Türkçe--Orta Türkçe--Osmanlıca--Türkiye Türkçesi--Kurmanç ve Zaza ağızları)= Eastern Anatolia Ottoman: etymological dictionary experiment: (proto Turkish - Former Turkish - Middle Turkish - Ottoman - Turkey Turkish - Kirmanji and Zaza dialects) / Tuncer Gülersoy. Bahçelievler, Ankara: Türk Kültürünü Araştırma Enstitüsü, 1986. 535 p.; 24 cm. "Errata slip inserted." Bibliography: p. 23-27.

2010: [IUW] Zazaki/Kirmanckî Kurdish / Gülşat Aygen. München: Lincom Europa, 2010. vi, 78 pages: 1 color map; 22 cm. Original orange, yellow and red wrappers, lettered in red, black and yellow, with a color photo of a Kurdish carpet on the front cover. Languages of the world. Materials; 479. Lexicon: most commonly used verbs: Zazaki [Northern Zazaki]-English, pp. 72-75. "This [list] is compiled from the textbooks and dictionaries of Zazaki listed in the bibliography" (see pages 76-78).

"Zazaki, also called Kirmancca or Kirmanckî, is considered to be one of the four dialects of Kurdish (Kurmanji, Zazaki, Sorani, Gorani) by some scholars, and as a separate Iranian language by others.... Among the Kurdish languages and dialects spoken today, Zazaki is claimed to be one of the dialects that has been most oppressed.... The goal of this book is not to provide a comprehensive grammar [of Zazaki] but to make the basic grammatical features ... accessible in English, and encourage linguists to work on this intriguing yet little-studied Indo-European language" (Introductory Remarks).

[ZAZAO] Zazao is an Oceanic language spoken in the Solomon Islands. Its speakers live on Santa Isabel Island. It is considered nearly extinct, and its speakers also use the Cheke Holo language or the Zabana language (WikP).

Ethnologue: jaj. Alternate Names: Jajao, Kilokaka.

1926: see under MELANESIAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1953: [LILLY] "A Vocabulary of the Kilokaka Language, Ysabel Island, Solomon Islands," by Ben Napu, in: Journal of Austronesian Studies, Vol. I, Part 1, 1953, pp. 139-144. 21.5 cm. Original cream wrappers, lettered in black. Mota-Kilokaka [Zazao] vocabulary, pp. 139-143, phrases, pp. 143-144. This copy from the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder, with his ink ownership stamp.

"The Kilokaka language is a bush-dialect spoken on the mid-southwest coast of Santa Ysabel.... The vocabulary, now printed in full for the first time, was compiled by Ben Napu for the Rev. Dr. C. E. Fox and forwarded to S. H. Ray in 1915, who sent it to W. G. Ivens ten years later. Dr. Ivens passed it on to me just before the last war and the original is preserved among the manuscripts in my library. A few words from it were quoted by Ray (A Comparative Study of the Melanesian Island Languages, Cambridge, 1926).... I have not thought it necessary to include an English translation of the native words; the student may consult either Codrington and Palmer's Dictionary of the Language of Mota (London, 1896), or the vocabularies from the Torres Islands included in this number of the Journal of Austronesian Studies" (p. 139).

[ZENAGA] Zenaga (autonym Tuḍḍungiyya) is a Berber language spoken between Mederdra and the Atlantic coast in southwestern Mauritania and in Senegal. It shares its basic linguistic structure with other Berber idioms, but specific features are quite different. In fact, Zenaga is probably the most divergent surviving Berber language, with a significantly different sound system made even more distant by sound changes such as /l/ > /dj/ and /x/ > /k/, as well as a difficult-to-explain profusion of glottal stops. The name 'Zenaga' comes from that of a much larger ancient Berber tribe, the Iznagen, who are known in Arabic as the Sanhaja (WikP).

Ethnologue: zen.

2008: [IUW] Dictionnaire zénaga-français: le berbère de Mauritanie présenté par racines dans une perspective comparative / Catherine Taine-Cheikh; avec la contribution d'Abdel Wedoud Ould Cheikh, Les communautés zénagophones aujourd'hui. First edition. Köln: R. Köppe, 2008. xcix, 649 p.: ill.; 25 cm. Original light orange and red cloth over boards, lettered in black. Berber studies; v. 20. Zenaga-French, pp. 2-659. Includes bibliographical references (p. xciii-xcix). Historical and linguistic introd. in French.

[ZHUANG LANGUAGES] The Zhuang languages (autonym: Vahcuengh, pre-1982: Vabcuenḡb, Sawndip: 話僮, from vah 'language' and Cuengh 'Zhuang'; simplified Chinese: 壮语; traditional Chinese: 壯語; pinyin: Zhuàngyǔ) are any of more than a dozen Tai languages spoken by the Zhuang people of southern China in the province of Guangxi and adjacent parts of Yunnan and Guangdong. The Zhuang languages do not form a monophyletic linguistic unit, as northern and southern Zhuang languages are more closely related to other Tai languages than to each other. Northern Zhuang languages form a dialect continuum with Northern Tai varieties across the provincial border in Guizhou, which are designated as Bouyei, whereas Southern Zhuang languages form another dialect continuum with Central Tai varieties such as Nung, Tay and Caolan in Vietnam. Standard Zhuang is based on the northern Zhuang dialect of Wuming (WikP).

Ethnologue lists Zhuang as a macrolanguage of China, including at least sixteen separate languages.

1991: [LILLYbm] William J. Gedney's The Tai Dialect of Lungming: Glossaries, Texts, and Translations, edited by Thomas John Hudak. Ann Arbor, Michigan: The University of Michigan, Center for South and Southeast Asian Studies, 1991. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. i-ii iii-xlii, 1-2 3-1189 1190. First edition. Series: Michigan Papers on South and Southeast Asia, no. 39. Includes Lungming dialect-English, pp. 7-22. First dictionary of this language, considered part of the Zhuang macrolanguage of China. This copy with printed label pasted inside front cover: "This book compliments of | THE CENTER FOR SOUTH AND | SOUTHEAST ASIAN STUDIES | of the | UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN".

"A member of the branch of Central Tai, Lungming is spoken in Lungming, a Tai-speaking town and county [in China] in the southwestern part of Kwangsi near the border of Vietnam.... [W]estern scholars have tended to identify the Tai dialects of western Kwangsi as Nung.... In China, on the other hand, all the Tai dialects are officially referred to as the Chuang (Zhuang) language.... Specific studies of the Lungming dialect are restricted to citations by Gedney in various linguistic papers... and to this monograph.... Central Tai dialects provide the basis for Savina's 1924 French-Nung-Chinese dictionary.... There is also a Tay-Nung grammar and Tay-Nung dictionary published in Vietnam (Hoang, Luc, and Hoang 1971, 1974).... Lungming has no native writing system; all writing is done in Chinese characters" (Introduction).

2006a: [IUW] พจนานุกรม จ้วงเหนือ จีน-ไทย-อังกฤษ = 壮-汉-英-泰词典 (壮语北部方言) = Northern Zhuang-Chinese-Thai-English dictionary (the Northern Zhuang dialect) / [compilers, Somsong Burusphat, Qin Xiaohang]. Photchanānukrom Čhūang N̄a Čhīn-Thai-‘Angkrit = Zhuang-Han-Ying-Tai ci dian (Zhuang yu bei bu fang yan) = Northern Zhuang-Chinese-Thai-English dictionary (the Northern Zhuang dialect) / [compilers, Somsong Burusphat, Qin Xiaohang]. Nakhonpathom, Thailand: Institute of Language and Culture for Rural Development, Mahidol University, 2006. xxxix, 432 pages, 8 unnumbered pages of plates: illustrations (some color), plates; 26 cm. Original cream wrappers, lettered in black, with a color photo of a woman weaving on the front cover. Includes bibliographical references (page xxxix) and index. In Zhuang (romanized), Chinese, Thai and English; prefatory material in English. Zhuang-Chinese-Thai-English, 1-329, English index, pp. 331-432.

2006b: [IUW] Photchanānukrom Čhūang N̄a Čhīn-Thai-‘Angkrit / [compilers, Somsong Burusphat, Qin Xiaohang]. Nakhonpathom, Thailand: Institute of Language and Culture for Rural Development, Mahidol University, ©2006. xxxix, 432 pages, [8] pages of plates: illustrations (some color); 26 cm. Cover title: Northern Zhuang Chinese Thai English dictionary. Includes bibliographical references and index. Zhuang-Chinese-Thai-English dictionary. As noted above in the macrolanguage description, The Northern Zhuang dialect of Wuming is the basis for standard Zhuang.

[ZIALO] Zialo (self-identification Ziolo) is a language spoken by the Zialo people in Guinea. The language of Zialo which belongs to the Southwestern group of the Mande branch of the Niger–Congo language family is spoken by approximately 25,000 people residing in the province of Macenta in the southeast of Guinea. The Zialo area covers over 50 villages (including two centers of subprefectures). Nearly a third of all Zialo live now in the nearby towns of Macenta and Gekedou, as well as in the city of Conakry. The Zialo language does not have its own writing system; people use French in all official paperwork. Zialo was recognized as a distinct language and studied by the Moscow-based linguist Kirill Babaev, member of the Russian Linguistic Expedition to Guinea, in January–February 2010. Before that, Zialo was considered a remote dialect of the language of Loma, however, significant differences were discovered between the two. Zialo speakers name five major dialects of the language: Bayawa, Wolo-Ziolo, Woyjawa, Kelighigo and Lawolozu, of which the last one seems the most specific. The Zialo probably came to their present location from the south, the present-day territory of Liberia, as indicated by their legends. Nowadays, the majority of Zialo are Christians; there are also groups of Muslims and animists (WikP).

Ethnologue: zil. Alternate Names: Shialu, Ziolo, Ziyolo.

2010: [IUW] Zialo: the newly-discovered Mande language of Guinea, by Kirill Babaev. München: Lincom Europa, 2010. 253 pages: 2 maps (1 color); 25 cm. LINCOM studies in African linguistics; 82. Includes bibliographical references (pages 171-178). Includes Zialo, English and French vocabulary list.

[ZIGULA] Zigula (Zigua) is a Bantu language of Tanzania and of Somalia, where it is known as Mushunguli (Mushungulu). It is best known for the Mushunguli dialect. Mushunguli is spoken by about 23,000 people from the Bantu minority ethnic of southern Somalia, in Jamaame, Kismayo, Mogadishu, and the Juba River valley. It shows affinities with other adjacent Bantu varieties. In particular, Mushunguli shares strong lexical and grammatical similarities with the language of the Zigua people who inhabit Tanzania, one of the areas in south-eastern Africa where many Bantu in Somalia are known to have been captured from as slaves during the 19th century. Ethnologue notes that the Mushunguli in Tanzania are the Wazegua. Many Mushunguli Bantu men also speak as working languages the Afro-Asiatic Maay and Somali languages of their Somali neighbors (WikP).

Ethnologue: ziw. Alternate Names: Chizigula, Kizigua, Kizigula, Msegua, Seguha, Wayombo, Wazegua, Zeguha, Zegura, Zigoua, Zigua, Zigwa.

1906: [LILLY] Zigula exercises, comp. for the Universities' mission to Central Africa, by Walter Harold Kisbey. London: Society for promoting Christian knowledge, 1906. 96 p. Original blue cloth, lettered in black. Second edition, with a new preface. First edition was 1897. Not in Hendrix. Includes English-Zigula vocabulary, pp. 89-96.

2008: [IUW] Kizigula: msamiati wa Kizigula-Kiswahili-Kiingereza = Zigula-Swahili-English lexicon, by Zacharia Mochiwa. Dar-es-Salaam: Languages of Tanzania (LOT) Project University of Dar-es-Salaam, 2008. iv, 70 p.; 24 cm. Original multi-colored wrappers with yellow stripes, lettered in white, black, pink and brown, with map of Tanzania on the front cover. LOT publications. Lexicon series; no. 20. Zigula-Swahili-English, pp. 1-70.

"It is our hope that this lexicon will also serve as a guide in setting standards and conventions in the Zigula orthography as well as motivating literacy among the Zigula people" (Introduction).

[ZINZA] Zinza (Dzinda) is a Bantu language of Tanzania, spoken on the southern shore of Lake Victoria (WikP).

Ethnologue: zin. Alternate Names: Abazinza, Binza, Dzinda, Dzindza, Echidzindza, Echijinja, Ecijinja, Ecizinza, Ekizinza, Jinja, Kizinza, Omuchizinza, Zinja.

2008: [IUW] Luzinza: msamiati wa Luzinza-Kiswahili-Kiingereza na Kiingereza-Luzinza-Kiswahili = Zinza-Swahili-English and English-Zinza-Swahili lexicon, by Yunus I. Rubanza. Dar es Salaam: Languages of Tanzania Project, University of Dar es Salaam, 2008. viii, 142 p.; 25 cm. Original multi-colored wrappers with yellow stripes, lettered in white, black and blue, with map of Tanzania on the front cover. LOT publications. Lexicon series; no. 8. In Zinza, English, and Swahili. Zinza-Swahili-English, pp. 1-93, English-Zinza-Swahili, pp. 97-142.

"[We have been able] to put together a word list of 3650 items in Zinza-Swahili-English section, and a word list of 1845 items in the English-Zinza-Swahili section. This makes it a treasure of its own kind as it is the first collection of this magnitude for this language" (Introduction).

[ZOQUE LANGUAGES] The Zoque (/ˈsoʊkeɪ/) languages form a primary branch of the Mixe–Zoquean language family indigenous to southern Mexico. They are spoken by around 70,000 indigenous Zoque people. The Zoques call their language O'de püt. There are about 100,000 speakers of Zoque languages. 63,000 people reported their language to be "Zoque" in the 2010 census. An additional 41,000 reported their language to be "Popolucan"; probably 90% of these are Sierra Popolucan and thus Zoque (WikP).

Ethnologue list seven languages under the heading Zoquean.

1892: see under MESOAMERICAN LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

1898: [IUW] Langue zoque et langue mixe; grammaire, dictionnaire, textes traduits et analyses, by Raoul de La Grasserie. Paris, J. Maisonneuve, 1898. 384 p. 25 cm. Bibliothèque linguistique américaine. t. XXII

[ZOQUE, COPAINALÁ] Chiapas Zoque is a dialect cluster of Zoquean languages indigenous to southern Mexico (Wichmann 1995). The three varieties, Francisco León (about 20,000 speakers in 1990), Copainalá (about 10,000), and Rayón (about 2,000), are named after the towns they are spoken in, though residents of Francisco León were relocated after their town was buried in the eruption of El Chichón Volcano in 1982. Francisco León and Copainalá are 83% mutually intelligible according to Ethnologue (WikP).

Ethnologue: zoc. Alternate Names: Zoque de Copainalá.

1948: [IUW] Diccionario Español-Zoque y Zoque-Español, por W. Roy Harrison y Margarita B. Harrison. Mexico, D. F., Instituto Linguístico de Verano, 1948. v, 85 p.. 85 p. 20 cm. Library binding, preserving original light brown front wrapper, lettered in black, with drawing of tribal woman in desert landscape on front cover. Español-Zoque, pp. 1-85, Zoque-Español, pp. 1-85 (second pagination).

"This dictionary contains about 2,000 words in the Zoque language spoken in Copainalá, Chiapas" (Prologo, tr: BM).

1981: [LILLYbm] Diccionario Zoque de Copainalá, by Roy & Margaret Harrison & Castulo Garcia H. Mexico, D.F.: Instituto Linguístico de Verano, 1981. Original pale green wrappers, lettered in black and decorated in green. Pp. i-ii iii-ix x, 1-2 3-489 490, Maps and illustrations. First edition. 1500 copies. . Series: Serie de diccionarios y vocabularios indígenas Mariano Silva y Aceves, no. 23. Includes Zoque-Spanish, pp. 3-230, and Spanish-Zoque, pp. 239-398. Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary does not pretend to be a complete compilation of the Zoque language, but it includes the majority of the basic words and is divided into a vocabulary of approximately 5,000 words in the Zoque part and 4,700 words in the Spanish part" (Introduction).

[ZOQUE, FRANCISCO LEÓN] Chiapas Zoque is a dialect cluster of Zoquean languages indigenous to southern Mexico (Wichmann 1995). The three varieties, Francisco León (about 20,000 speakers in 1990), Copainalá (about 10,000), and Rayón (about 2,000), are named after the towns they are spoken in, though residents of Francisco León were relocated after their town was buried in the eruption of El Chichón Volcano in 1982. Francisco León and Copainalá are 83% mutually intelligible according to Ethnologue (WikP).

Ethnologue: zos. Alternate Names: Santa Magdalena Zoque, Zoque de Francisco León.

1987: [LILLYbm] Diccionario zoque de Francisco Leon, by Ralph Engel & Mary Allhiser de Engel. Mexico, D.F.: Instituto Linguistico de Verano, 1987. Original yellow wrappers, lettered and decorated in brown. Pp. i-iv v-xxxiii xxxiv, 1-2 3-429 430. Maps and Illustrations. First edition. 1000 copies. Series: Serie de vocabularios y diccionarios indigenas "Mariano Silva y Aceves", no. 30. Includes Zoque-Spanish, pp. 3-257 and Spanish-Zoque, pp. 261-327, double columned. Second copy: [IUW].

"This dictionary presents the words of the Zoque language as spoken in the city of Francisco León, Chiapas, prior to the eruptions of the volcano Chichonal, which occurred from 28 March to 4 April 1982, and which completely destroyed the area of the cities of Francisco León and Chapultenango. There were some 10,000 speakers of Zoque living in their homes there. We do not know the exact number who lost their lives, but probably more than 500 died, most of them in the city of Francisco León... Zoque is the only non-Mayan language in the state of Chiapas. It is related linguistically to Mixteco of Oaxaca and Popoluca of Veracruz... This dictionary provides 4,000 Zoque words and their Spanish equivalents" (Introduction, tr: BM).

[ZOQUE, RAYÓN] Chiapas Zoque is a dialect cluster of Zoquean languages indigenous to southern Mexico (Wichmann 1995). The three varieties, Francisco León (about 20,000 speakers in 1990), Copainalá (about 10,000), and Rayón (about 2,000), are named after the towns they are spoken in, though residents of Francisco León were relocated after their town was buried in the eruption of El Chichón Volcano in 1982 (WikP).

Ethnologue: zor. Alternate Names: Zoque de Rayón.

1984: [LILLYbm] Vocabulario zoque de Rayon, by Roy Harrison & Margaret B. de Harrison. Mexico, D.F.: Instituto Linguistico de Verano, 1984. Original pale green wrappers, lettered and decorated in red. Pp. [14] 1-2 3-115 116-118. Maps and Illustrations. First edition. 1500 copies. Series: Serie de diccionarios y vocabularios indigenas Mariano Silva y Aceves, no. 28. Includes Zoque-Spanish, pp. 3-51, and Spanish-Zoque, pp. 55-107. Second copy: [IUW].

"This vocabulary contains 2,500 words in the Zoque language spoken in Rayón, Chiapas... The material for this vocabulary was collected by the authors during their research in the years 1981-1983" (Introduction, tr: BM).

[ZOROP] Yafi, also known as Zorop, is an Eastern Pauwasi language of West New Guinea. It is spoken in Warlef village, Senggi District, Keerom Regency (WikP). Population: 230 (2005 SIL).

Ethnologue: wfg. Alternate Names: Jafi, Jafi Wagarindem, Wagarindem, Wargarindem, Warlef, Yaffi, Yafi.

1975: see 1975b under TRANS-NEW GUINEA LANGUAGES: POLYGLOT.

[ZULGO-GEMZEK] Zulgo-Gemzek is an Afro-Asiatic language spoken in northern Cameroon. Dialects are Gemzek, Mineo, and Zulgo (Zəlgwa). Blench (2006) considers Zəlgwa-Mineo and Gemzek to be distinct languages (WikP).

Ethnologue: gnd. Alternate Names: Gemjek, Guemshek, Zulgo.

1986: [IUW] Wàkità máyàhà gār gà báɓlam zùlgwa, nàsàrá, pǎltà = lexique zulgo-français-fulfuldé = deftere bee bolle zulgo, fransaare e fulfuldé, par Beat Haller

(ed.) Yaoundé, République du Cameroun: Société Internationale de Linguistique, 1986. 59 p.; 30 cm.

[ZULU] Zulu (Zulu: isiZulu) is the language of the Zulu people, with about 10 million speakers, the vast majority (over 95%) of whom live in South Africa. Zulu is the most widely spoken home language in South Africa (24% of the population), and it is understood by over 50% of its population. It became one of South Africa's 11 official languages in 1994. According to Ethnologue, it is the second most widely spoken of the Bantu languages, after Shona. Like many other Bantu languages, it is written with the Latin alphabet. Even in English, the language is often referred to by using its native form, isiZulu (WikP).

Ethnologue: zul. Alternate Names: Isizulu, Zunda.

1846: see 13) under LANGUAGES OF THE WORLD: POLYGLOT.

1847: [LILLY] Voyage dans l'Afrique australe: notamment dans le territoire de Natal, dans celui des Cafres Amazoulous et Makatisses et jusqu'au Tropique du Capricorne, durant les années 1838, 1839, 1840, 1841, 1842, 1843 & 1844, avec dessins et cartes, par M. Adulphe Delegorgue. Paris: Au Dépôt de Librairie, [1847]. 2 v. ([xvi], 580; [4], 622, [2] p.; [11] leaves of plates): ill., 2 folded maps, port.; 24 cm. Bound in quarter green morocco and marbled boards, edges sprinkled red, original wrappers retained. Imprint date from Mansell, 137:690, cf. BM 50:571 and BN 37:731. Included at the end of the second volume is a vocabulary of the Zulu language.

1850: [LILLYbm] The Zulu companion, offered to the Natal colonist, to facilitate his intercourse with the natives, by C. W. Posselt. Pietermaritzburg: D. D. Buchanan, 1850. Contemporary (?) blue paper over boards, with tan label printed in black. Ff. 1-3 4-64 (missing leaf preceding title page?). First and only edition. Not in Zaunmüller.

"The natives within the colony of Natal, called by the general name of Amazulu, constitute that class of population which is employed for various works by every white man in this district. One of the greatest difficulties which the latter meets with from this class of laborers, arises from his inability to make his wishes and orders understood by his servants. To try to have removed, in some measure, this difficulty, is the object of this little volume... This work, being divided into Twelve Chapters, commences with the subject of hiring a servant, then proceeds to give orders and directions referring to grooming, herding, kitchen-work, house-building, gardening, &c., till, in the Eleventh Chapter, it deals out approbations of good conduct, admonitions, and threatenings. The concluding Twelfth contains a translation of the Ten Commandments, the Lord's Prayer, and the Apostolic Creed" (Preface).

Posselt was a member of the Berlin Missionary Society. "A very creditable little Zulu-English phrase book of 64 pages, printed in Pietermaritzburg" (C.M. Doke, "Bantu Language Pioneers of the Nineteenth Century" in Contributions to the History of Bantu Linguistics).

1855: [LILLYbm] An English-Kafir dictionary of the Zulu-Kafir language, as spoken by the tribes of the colony of Natal, by James Perrin. Pietermaritzburg: Printed by May & Davis, 1855. Contemporary green cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. [4] 1 2-225 226. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing only the 1917 revised edition). Hendrix 1838 (with London SPCK as publisher). Wolf 3788 (listing only "new edition revised by Brickhill, 1865-out of print"). Includes English-Zulu, pp. [1]-225.

"[T]his little book ... will be found, I doubt not, a most valuable help for Missionaries and others, in acquiring the language of our Natives. In the compilation of this, and of the Kafir-English Dictionary, Mr. Perrin has derived considerable assistance from the Vocabularies prepared by some of the American Missionaries, to which they very kindly gave him free access" (Advertisement, J. W. Natal).

"This little book of 225 pages (single column), containing about 5,00 English words, was a meritorious piece of work.... Perrin's work is particularly valuable in the equivalents he gives to English idiomatic usages, as a glance at such entries as 'come,' 'break,' 'cut,' 'draw,' ... and many others will shew" (Doke, "Bantu Language Pioneers of the 19th Century," p. 44, in Contributions to the History of Bantu Linguistics).

"Mendelssohn located a copy [of this work] in the British Museum Library, but had not one in his own collection (vol. II, 154) South African bibliography to ... 1925, Vol. III, page 656, locates six repositories only, surprisingly none of them in Natal. Can this be possible? The same source records the existence of Perrin's A Kafir-English dictionary of the Zulu-Kafir language, ... also published in 1855, but by the S.P.C.K. in London.

"Perrin was born in Chichester in 1801 and died at Durban in 1888. He worked with the American missionary Josiah Tyler at Esidumbini mission station from 1850. He also served as secretary to Sir Theophilus Shepstone, the native administrator. At first a member of the Anglican Church, Perrin later joined the Baptists following an ecclesiastical disagreement with Bishop Colenso. The two nonetheless remained friends, and under the supervision of Colenso, Perrin combined the vocabularies drawn up by various missionaries to make 'the first Zulu dictionaries.' (Dictionary of South African biography, Vol. II, page 540).

"Bleek says of this dictionary that it was 'compiled by Mr. James Perrin (who is now Clerk to the Secretary of Native Affairs in Natal), partly from manuscript vocabularies of different missionaries. [It was] published by the Bishop of Natal. ... Contains more than seven thousand words.' (Philology ... South Africa, page 96). The partnership of May and Davis, responsible for the printing of this little work, had its origin in the firm of David Dale Buchanan, editor, printer and publisher of The Natal Witness. These two printers were in Buchanan's employ until his legal practice and public duties began to absorb more of his time, when they took over the printing operations on their own account. (Smith, The spread of printing ... South Africa, pp. 94 - 95)

"(This first edition not in Smith, Catalogue of Bantu, Khoisan and Malagasy in the Strange Collection of Africana, where # 1143 records the 4th edition of 1890)" (Bookseller's description: Christison Rare Books, Pietermaritzburg).

1865: New edition, revised [LILLY] Perrins' English-Zulu dictionary, revised by J. A. Brickhill, Interpreter to the Supreme Court of Natal. Pietermaritzburg: P. Davis & Sons, 1865. Original pale maroon cloth decorated in blind and lettered in gold on spine. Pp. 1-5 6-226 227-228. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (giving only 1917 edition). Hendrix 1839. Includes English-Zulu, pp. [5]-226.

1917: New and revised edition [LILLYbm] Perrins' English-Zulu dictionary, Natal: P. Davis & Sons, 1917. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold and decorated in blind. Pp. 1-5 6-322. New and revised edition. Zaunmüller, col. 409. Hendrix 1840. Includes English-

Zulu, pp. [5]-322. This copy with a contemporary ink ownership inscription: "L. Bpyd Darby | Bellevue | Dec 1st 1918".

1857: [LILLYbm] A Zulu-Kafir Dictionary etymologically explained, with Copious Illustrations and Examples, preceded by An Introduction to the Zulu-Kafir Language, by Rev. J[acob] L[udwig] Döhne. Cape Town: G. J. Pike's Printing Office, 1857. Original tan wrappers, lettered in black. 2 p. 1, [iii]-xlii, 324. 23.3 cm. First edition. With printed errata slip pasted in at title page. Zaunmüller, col. 410. Hendrix 1828. Wolf 1372 ("out of print"). Zulu-English, pp. [1]-417.

"Jacob Ludwig Döhne had the distinction of producing the first scientific dictionary published on a South African Bantu language... a remarkable work for its time. He followed methods treatment which are most approved today... Döhne's dictionary... is still of value to students of Zulu... Döhne's work shews commendable balance, and must have served as a source for the later Zulu lexicographers" (C.M. Doke, "Bantu Language Pioneers of the Nineteenth Century," in Contributions to the History of Bantu Linguistics).

A second copy: [LILLY], with manuscript dictionary: A Zulu-Kafir Dictionary etymologically explained, with Copious Illustrations and Examples, preceded by An Introduction to the Zulu-Kafir Language, by Rev. J[acob] L[udwig] Döhne. Cape Town: G. J. Pike's Printing Office, 1857. Contemporary half-calf roughly 'repaired' with brown paper tape, hinges splitting internally, some browning and foxing. Pp. [2] i-iii iv-xlii, 1 2-417 418 + 176 inserted pp.

"Döhne began his missionary work amongst the Xhosa in the Ciskei. His earliest publication in Xhosa is a catechism published in 1841 at Fort Peddie. The Seventh Frontier War (1846 - 47) led Döhne and a few of his colleagues to accept an invitation from Sir Theophilus Shepstone to move to Natal where they might endeavour to convert the Zulu to Christianity. Together, they founded the Emmaus mission station at the foot of the Drakensberg in 1847, where Döhne soon learnt Zulu and began to prepare his dictionary for publication. 'This was the first complete dictionary of a Bantu language and contained considerably more material than the Zulu dictionary by James Perrin which had appeared in 1855.' (Dictionary of South African biography, Vol. I, pp. 247 - 248).

The copy on offer here carries the signature of Th. Reichelt, dated 5.7.66. and that of W. Bourquin, dated August 1911 (?). It is extensively annotated (partly in longhand; partly in shorthand), probably by Reichelt, and includes a manuscript appendix of over one hundred pages in the same hand ('Ergänzungen'). We have been able to trace very little respecting Reichelt, other than that in 1878 he is described as 'late Moravian missionary in Kaffraria' and as author of 'an interesting pamphlet recently published in the German language' on the history of Shiloh and the missions of the United Brethren in Kaffraria (South African bibliography to ... 1925, Vol. IV, page 11. Smith, Catalogue of Bantu, Khoisan and Malagasy in the Strange Collection of Africana, # 1138. [We have priced this item with an eye to the research-potential of the mss. notes. An extensive manuscript dictionary (Xhosa-English-German), also compiled by a Moravian missionary, Leopold Richard Baur (1825 - 1889) fetched R46 500 at auction in Johannesburg in 1985]" (bookseller's description: Christison Rare Books).

1967: Facsimile reprint [IUW] A Zulu-Kafir dictionary etymologically explained, with copious illustrations and examples, preceded by an introduction on the Zulu-Kafir language, by the Rev. J. L. Döhne. Cape Town, 1857. Farnborough (Hants.), Gregg P., 1967. xlii, 417 p. 24 cm. Facsim. reprint of 1857 ed. (does not include the manuscript portion present in the Lilly copy).

1861: [LILLYbm] Zulu-English Dictionary, by John W[illiam] Colenso [1814-1888]. Pietermaritzburg: P. Davis, 1861. Original brown cloth with printed label on spine, worn and stained. Pp. i-iii iv-viii, 1 2-552. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing only 1884 edition, with new edition 1934). Hendrix 1819 (listing 1905 4th edition, with note that first edition was 1861). Wolf 1069 ("out of print"). Dalby 1637 (listing 1905 4th edition, with note that first edition was 1861). Includes Zulu-English, pp. [1]-548, with addenda, pp. 549-552.

"I trust...that this book may be of some use in promoting the study of a very elegant and expressive language... one that cannot be expected to lose its interest, not only for the missionary, traveller and trader, but also for the statesman, and the ordinary colonist of these parts, for many generations" (Advertisement).

This copy with numerous contemporary manuscript additions and corrections. presumably by the book's owner A. N. Montgomery. Early newspaper clippings have been pasted to the endpapers and on the verso of the title page; an advertisement for Bryant's 1905 dictionary [see below] ('70 per cent more than in Colenso's dictionary ... only one worth buying') is pasted on page viii, but not obstructing text. One newspaper clipping is a letter from A. N. Montgomery of 1882 concerning Zulu orthography; a second is a 1905 review of the new edition of Colenso's dictionary.

"Armorial bookplate of 'Alexander Nixon Montgomery; late Captain of The Royal Fusiliers' on the pastedown endpaper. This bookplate does not appear in South African bookplates from the Percival J.G. Bishop Collection. Montgomery (1839 - 1911) was author of Cetywayo, Natal, Zululand (London, 1882) and The Natal magistrate (Pietermaritzburg, circa 1879). In the former pamphlet, he suggests that Cetshwayo should be returned to Zululand as king of the Zulus, subject to certain conditions. (South African bibliography to ... 1925, Vol. III, page 361). Not in Mendelssohn. Colenso's dictionary saw at least nine issues to about 1905. The printing firm of P. Davis came into existence in 1860 when John May retired from the partnership of May & Davis. (Rossouw, South African printers and publishers; 1795 - 1925, page 101) (This first edition is not in Smith, Catalogue of Bantu, Khoisan and Malagasy in the Strange Collection of Africana, where # 1136, records only the 4th edition of 1905)" (bookseller's description: Christison Rare Books, Natal).

"The outstanding figure in Zulu literary work at this period was undoubtedly John W. Colenso, Bishop of Natal..... Though not so 'philological' as Döhne's work, this dictionary contained more words and was more easily handled by the seeker after meanings of words than the earlier work, and so became more generally popular, going through a number of editions, and even outlasting the more modern works of Bryant and Samuelson, to still be in print [in 1940]. This dictionary contains upwards of 10,000 entries. It is remarkable that Colenso found time to do such valuable linguistic work on Zulu in the midst of so many other labours, harassed as he was by theological controversy, involving great literary effort, and distracted as his attention was by his championing of the cause of the Zulu king and his people.... Colenso's name will always be held in honour where Zulu literature is known" (C.M. Doke, "Bantu Language Pioneers of the Nineteenth Century," in Contributions to the History of Bantu Linguistics).

1878: New and revised edition [LILLYbm] Zulu-English dictionary, by J[ohn] W[illiam] Colenso [1814-1883]. Maritzburg: Davis & Sons, [1878]. Original red cloth over boards, worn and lacking the original paper label; upper hinge split; preliminary pages detached and frayed, foxing throughout. Pp. [2] i ii-vi, 1 2-656. New and revised [second] edition. Zaunmüller, col 409 (listing only 1884 edition, with new edition 1934). Hendrix 1819 (listing 1905 edition and noting first edition of 1861). Includes Zulu-English, pp. [1]-621, with addenda, pp. 621-640.

"The first edition was published in 1861; this, the [revised and enlarged] second edition, was printed at Colenso's Ekukanyeni Mission press, but by a partnership of Magama, Mubi & Co. These men were amongst Colenso's early converts. (South African bibliography to ... 1925, Vol. I, page 591) The item on offer here would appear to represent the first production by this Black pioneer printing partnership. (Furthermore, we know of no earlier book printed by a black-managed printing firm.) (cf. Fransie Rossouw, South African printers and publishers; 1795 - 1925, page 98). Of Magama and his fellow Zulu printers at the Ekukanyeni mission press, the following is written: 'Sommige van die vakleerlinge was mettertyd [early 1860s] so bedrewe in die boekdrukkuns dat Colenso die drukkery in hulle sorg kon laat. Tydens sy drie jaarlange besoek aan Engeland in verband met die kerk stryd het hy 'n jong Zulu, Magama, in beheer van die drukkery gelaat. Hierdie man was so bedrewe in die drukkuns dat hy die pers aan die gang gehou het asof Colenso self daar was. (P.J. Schutte, Sendingdrukkerse in Suid-Afrika; 1800 - 1875..., page 353)

This copy carries the signature of 'Mubi ka Nondenisa; Ekukanyeni; 1879'; and was evidently the property of the Mubi of the printing partnership. It is [copiously] annotated (very possibly by Mubi himself) on several pages as well as on the endpapers [these revisions and additions do not appear to have been incorporated in the following edition of 1884]. Although in poor condition, we consider this to be a rare and important association copy. (This second edition is not in Smith, Catalogue of Bantu, Khoisan and Malagasy in the Strange Collection of Africana, where # 1136 records only the 4th edition of 1905)" (Bookseller's description: Christison Rare Books).

1884: new edition, revised and enlarged: [LILLY] Zulu-English Dictionary, by the Right Rev. J. W. Colenso, D.D, D.C. L., Bishop of Natal. New Edition revised and enlarged. Natal: P. Davis and Sons, Maritzburg and Durban, 1884. Third edition. xvi, 673 p. 16.5 cm. Contemporary brown half-leather and pebbled green cloth over boards; spine with raised bands, decorated and lettered in gold. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing only this 1884 edition, with new edition 1934). Hendrix 1819 (listing 1905 4th edition, with note that first edition was 1861). Zulu-English, pp. [1]-673. This copy with the bookplate of the Bath Public Reference Library, "presented by Miss A. Jones". Preface reprinted from the 1878 edition, with the errata listed there corrected in the text.

1905: Fourth edition [LILLYbm] Zulu-English Dictionary by J[ohn] W[illiam] Colenso [1814-1883]. Fourth Authorised Edition. Revised and Enlarged. Cover title: Colenso's Zulu-English Dictionary. Fourth Edition. Natal: Vause, Slatter & Co., 1905. Original olive cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. i-v vi-xiv, 1 2-728. Fourth edition, with preface by Harriette Emily Colenso. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing only 1884 edition, with new edition 1934). Includes Zulu-English, pp. [1]-714, Zulu-English supplement, pp. 715-719, and Zulu-English hybrid words commonly used (1898) in Isipiki [Fanagolo], pp. 721-724.

"I believe that a fine language like the Zulu is a valuable possession for the country, and that the debasing of it into an ungrammatical mixed lingo, only half understood on either side, which is now going on, is a positive evil; not merely a measure of the harm done to the Native by contact with Europeans as he experiences it, but also a cause contributing to that harm....Hybrid words must, of course, arise wherever two or more vigorous races begin to live and to work together...and I have recognised this need by appending to the dictionary proper a list of some of those words now in common use by Natives in Natal" (Preface).

1967: Facsimile edition of 1905 edition: [IUW] Zulu-English dictionary, by J. W. Colenso. 4th authorised ed., revised and enlarged, republished. Farnborough, Gregg, 1967 [i.e. 1968] xiv, 728 p. 19 cm. Facsimile reprint of 4th ed., Natal, Vause, Slatter & Co., 1905. Edited by the author's daughter, Harriette Emily Colenso.

1877: see under XHOSA.

1880: [LILLY] An English-Zulu dictionary: with the principles of pronunciation and classification fully explained, by Charles Roberts (1836-1901). London: Natal: Printed for the Wesleyan Missionary Society, Davis and Sons, [1880]. xxii, 259 p., 15.8 cm. Original dark green cloth, decorated in blind and lettered in gold. First edition. Hendrix 1841. Not in Zaunmüller. English-Zulu, pp. [1]-259.

"Several years ago an American minister of a kindred Society, who had purchased a copy of the Author's Grammar, wrote him expressing both 'regret that the English-Zulu Vocabulary was not larger,' and the opinion 'that a copious and reliable English-Zulu Dictionary was a desideratum in Natal.' These, and similar observations made subsequently by others, led irresistibly to the conclusion that Perrin's small book, though possessing considerable merit, is not sufficiently comprehensive to meet the varied necessities of those persons whose requirements go beyond the ordinary details of daily life... [and so] the Author commenced the present work. It contains Zulu for about Eighteen Thousand English Words" (Preface).

1902: Second Edition, second printing [IUW] An English-Zulu dictionary; with the principles of pronunciation and classification fully explained, by Charles Roberts. "Second Edition with Supplement | Second Impression" on title page. London: K. Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., 1899 [1902]. xxii, 267 p. Library binding. 15 cm. English-Zulu, pp. [1]-259, Supplement, English-Zulu, pp. [260]-267.

"The Supplement to this edition, which contains more than four hundred additional words, includes some of foreign origin, which are clearly understood by the Natives in their commercial intercourse with the English and Dutch Colonies; and the Zulu language will, in the future, be further enriched by similar words. Terms have yet to be invented or Zuluised to distinguish between a palace and a hut, a cathedral and a chapel, a crypt and a grave, a molecule and a ball" (Preface to the Second Edition).

1891: [LILLY] Kleines Deutsch-Kaffirisches-Wörterbuch. Hilfsmittel für Kaffrisch-Lernende mit Specieller Rücksichtnahme auf Übersetzungen aus dem Deutschen in's Kaffrische, by Phil. Mate. Mariannhill: St. Thomas Aquins Buchdruckerei, 1891. Pp. [6] 1 2-173 174. 16.3 cm. Contemporary unlettered brown quarter-calf and decorated maroon paper over boards. First edition. German-Kaffrischen [Xhosa], pp. [1]-173, Berichtigungen [errata], p. [174]. First German-Zulu dictionary.

"The goal [of this dictionary] is to offer a helping hand to missionaries and teachers as well as all those interested in learning the Zulu language. It is sufficient to point out that attempts of this nature, that is, an alphabetical compilation of words, German-Zulu has not previously been made" (Vorrede, tr: BM).

1892: [LILLYbm] An easy Zulu Vocabulary and Phrase Book with Grammatical Notes, by Samuel Gibbs. Natal: P. Davis and Sons, 1892. Later dark green polished quarter-calf and green cloth over boards, preserving original wrappers, spine lettered in gold, title page professionally laid down on paper. Pp. 1-7 8-53 54. No edition indicated, preface dated 1884. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1836 (listing "2nd edition" of 1941 "reprint of 1892 edition"). OCLC locates one copy dated 1890 and three copies dated 1897, none dated 1892. Beginning apparently in 1941, this vocabulary was reprinted several times without attribution by Shuter and Shooter in Pietermaritzburg. Not in Zaunmüller. Gibbs is listed as a Zulu translator and interpreter, Samuelson as an attorney, Supreme Court. Includes word lists grouped by theme, as well as a "general" English-Zulu vocabulary, pp. 13-25.

"The primary object of this little work is to help new-comers in their common intercourse with Kafirs" (Preface).

1902: Enlarged edition [LILLYbm] An easy Zulu Vocabulary and Phrase Book with Grammatical Notes, by Samuel Gibbs, with additions and amendments by R. C. O Samuelson. Natal: P. Davis and Sons, 1902 [cover date: 1903]. Later gray quarter-linen and gray paper over boards, preserving original front wrapper. Pp. 1-7 8-51 52. No edition indicated, preface dated 1884. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1836 (listing "2nd edition" of 1941 "reprint of 1892 edition"). Gibbs is listed as a Zulu translator and interpreter, Samuelson as an attorney, Supreme Court. Includes word lists grouped by theme, as well as a "general" English-Zulu vocabulary, pp. 13-25.

1894: [LILLYbm] A First Kafir Course, by C. J. Crawshaw. Cape Town: J. C. Juta, 1894. I-iii iv v vi-vii viii 1 2-114 115 116-133 134-135. 21.5 cm. Original red cloth, lettered and decorated in black. Second edition. Includes English-Kafir, pp. [115]-125, and Kafir-English, pp. 125-133. Not in Zaunmüller.

1897: Third edition [LILLYbm] A First Kafir Course, by C. J. Crawshaw. Cape Town: J. C. Juta, 1897. Hardbound without d.j. Third edition. Includes Kafir-English / English-Kafir vocabularies, pp. 115-133. Not in Zaunmüller.

1900: [LILLYbm] A Zulu manual, or vade-mecum, being a companion volume to "The Zulu-Kafir language," and the "English-Zulu dictionary," by Charles Roberts [1836-1901]. London: Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co. Ltd., 1900. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Pp. i-v vi-viii, 1 2-153 154-156. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1842. Includes Zulu-English Botanical, Geological and Natural History terms, pp. 44-47, 50-56, and English-Zulu vocabulary, pp. [75]-153. Second copy: [IUW].

"The desirability of preparing a companion volume to [the author's previous works] was, some time ago, suggested to the author. Botanical and Geological terms, as well as those of Natural History, have been arranged in a convenient form. Various other additions have been made, partly with the object of assisting those missionaries who are accustomed to attend the sick, and prescribe for them simple remedies. ... The remarks, as to the superstitions of the South-African natives, will enable the reader to understand what would otherwise remain unintelligible" (Preface).

1901: [LILLYbm] Three native accounts of the visit of the Bishop of Natal in September and October, 1859, to Umpande, King of the Zulus; with explanatory notes and a literal translation, and a glossary of all the Zulu words employed in the same: designed for the use of students of the Zulu language. Third edition., [by John William Colenso]. Pietermaritzburg; Durban: Vause, Slatter & Co., 1901. Original black cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in blind. Pp. [4] 1 2-172. Third edition. Not in Zaunmüller. First edition 1860. Colenso, Bishop of Natal, was the author of a Zulu-English dictionary first published in 1861.

"I have found it necessary also to add a glossary. Mr. Perrin's small dictionary being out of print, and Mr. Dohne's being too large for the wants of the ordinary student" (Introduction).

"A remarkable little publication for the times...It contains three Zulu texts... followed by a full glossary... It is a great tribute to Colenso's linguistic ability that the word-division he used in 1860 is practically identical with what has been decided in the latest orthography [1931] settlement as correct for Zulu....This little book was recently declared by competent Zulus as one of the four best examples of the purest Zulu" (C.M. Doke, "Bantu Language Pioneers of the Nineteenth Century," in Contributions to the History of Bantu Linguistics).

1904: [LILLY] The Zulu-Kafir language simplified for beginners, by the Rev. Charles Roberts. 3rd ed., enl., 4th impression. London: Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co. Ltd., 1904. [7], vi-viii, [3], 2-177, [1] p.; 23 cm. Bound in maroon cloth, spine stamped in gold, covers blind stamped, with black endpapers. English-Zulu Dictionary, English-Zulu, pp. [123]-151, Zulu-English Dictionary of Selected Words, Zulu-English, pp. [153]-177. Second copy: [LILLYmk]. The first edition appeared in 1874, the second in 1880.

"The [second edition (1880)] having been stereotyped, I have not been able to re-arrange the larger vocabularies at the end" (Preface to the Third Edition).

1905: [LILLYbm] A Zulu-English dictionary with notes on pronunciation, a revised orthography and derivations and cognate words from many languages; including also a vocabulary of Hlonipa words, tribal-names, etc., a synopsis of Zulu grammar and a concise history of the Zulu people from the most ancient times, by A[lfred] T. Bryant. Pinetown, Natal: The Mariannhill Mission Press, 1905. Original brown cloth over boards [hinges cracked], lettered in gold. Pp. 1-5 6-111 112, ²1 2-778 779-782. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 409. Hendrix 1814. Includes Zulu-English, pp. ²[1]-737, "Vocabulary of the Hlonipa language of the Zulu Women" (Zulu-Hlonipa), pp. ²[738]-747, and "appendix of additional words, improvements, corrections, etc.", pp. ²762-778.

Hlonipa is a system of respect in which Zulu women "avoid mention of in conversation, certain words...which contain the radical of the name of certain persons to be so respected...This practice naturally causes the speech of the women to differ very considerably from that of the men; indeed, were all the hlonipa words placed together, they would of themselves constitute quite a decent language" (pp. ²255-256).

"After patiently plodding along for a period extending for over twelve years, I am at length enabled to offer the public my Zulu-English Dictionary—the result of labours accomplished entirely in the solitude of various remote native missions in Zululand and Natal, with neither a reference library to consult, nor the conversation and advice of neighboring students to profit by....The Zulu language is eminently well stocked and vividly expressive, is resourceful and plastic to all demands. It luxuriates in sweet mellow vowel-sounds, and the quaint musical cadence of its flow rivals the most silvery-toned Italian.... [T]he Zulu language is in the keeping of the female sex...the ordinary vocabulary and word-knowledge of the women was in marked excess of that of the men... [Nevertheless the practice of hlonipa] has done much to corrupt or destroy [the language]].... [T]his is, I believe, the first time the female hlonipa language has been brought to publication" (Preface).

c. 1920 [LILLY] Zulu Vocabulary and Phrase Book for the use of Immigrants and Settlers in the Province of Natal and Zululand. Fourteenth Edition. Revised and Corrected. Durban, Natal: T. L. Cullingworth, n.d. [c. 1920]. 50 p., 18.3 cm. Original tan wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. English-Zulu, pp. 9-31; English-Zulu phrases, pp. 32-50. The first edition of this work appeared in 1850 under the title Zulu Vocabulary, and Phrase Book: Designed as an Introduction to the Language Spoken by the Kafirs & Zulus in Port Natal, 33 p., published in Natal by J. Cullingworth. By 1873 it appeared under the present title. It had reached its 14th edition by around 1920, still at only 50 pages in length, and continued to be reprinted.

1915: [LILLYbm] An English-Zulu dictionary, with the principles of pronunciation and classification fully explained, by Charles Roberts. London: Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner and Co., 1915. Original maroon cloth over boards, lettered in blind and gold. Pp. i-iii iv-xxii xxiii-xxiv, 1 2-267 268. Second edition, sixth impression with supplement. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing only the 13th impression, dated 1951). The first edition was 1880 the second edition with supplement was first published in 1895.

ca. 1917a: [LILLYbm] An abridged English-Zulu word-book. Incwadi yabantu yamazwi esingisi ecasiselwe ngesizulu, by A[lfred] T. Bryant. [Mariannhill, South Africa]: Mariannhill Mission Press. [ca. 1917]. Original red cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-5 6-471 472-476. No edition indicated. Includes English-

Zulu, pp. [5]-471. This copy with the ownership signature of John Holford, dated 1938. No preface or copyright date indicated. Binding is early twentieth century.

1953: Seventh edition [LILLY] An abridged English-Zulu word-book. Incwadi yabantu yamazwi esingisi ecasiselwe ngesizulu, by A[lfred] T. Bryant. [Mariannhill, South Africa]: Mariannhill Mission Press, 1953. Original green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-7 8-378 + three blank leaves. Seventh Edition noted on title page. English-Zulu, pp. [7]-378. This copy from the library of the noted linguist Johannes Rahder with his ownership stamp.

ca. 1917b: [LILLYbm] Incwadi yesisngisi nesizulu. Zulu without a grammar, by conversational exercises. For housekeepers, farmers, overseers, storekeepers, doctors, police, and all such as come into frequent contact with natives, by A[lfred] T. Bryant. Maritzburg; Durban: P. Davis & Sons, [ca. 1917]. Original gray-green cloth on boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. 1-4 5-130. Third edition. Not in Zaunmüller. With an English-Zulu vocabulary of "more than 1500 common words," pp. 111-130. Bryant published a Zulu-English dictionary in 1905, which he re-issued in an abridged form in 1945, together with a "second, altered and perfected" edition of the present title.

1923a: [LILLYbm] A Concise English-Kafir Dictionary, by J. McLaren. London: Longmans, Green and Co., 1923. Original red cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. 320 pp. First edition. Blind stamped "Presented by the Publisher" on the title page. Zaunmüller, col. 409.

"This Dictionary has been compiled as a companion to the author's... Concise Kaffir-English Dictionary. It is considerably larger...as there is no large English-Kafir dictionary corresponding to Dr. Kropf's Kafir-English book, and it seemed desirable to define all the words and phrases that the ordinary student of the languages would be likely to need. The spelling 'Kafir' has been adopted in this book, instead of 'Kaffir,' in conformity with the usage of the Education Departments and the Universities of South Africa."

1923b: [LILLYbm] Zulu references for interpreters and students, by Carl Faye. With 5 portraits and a map. Pietermaritzburg: City Printing Works, Limited, 1923. Original green cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [14] 1 2-122 123-126. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Hendrix 1834. Includes various thematically arranged Zulu-English vocabulary lists, including official terms, pp. 60-62, physical features of country and relative terms, Zulu-English and English-Zulu, pp. 63-76 This copy with the blind stamp of the Munger Africana Library on the title page.

"The greater part of these References was drawn up originally for my own use, with no thought of publication.... the purpose of publication is merely to place on record, in handy form, information which recently has to be referred to by Zulu interpreters in courts of law and in lawyer's offices, by police, and on occasions by missionaries, teachers in Native schools, and by others who have to deal direct with Natives in the Province of Natal, as well as by Zulu students.... It has been found desirable ... merely to hint and no more, at forces which are at work... changing the life and language of the Zulus.... There is the big subject of miscegenation; the old religious ideas of the Zulus are being slowly displaced, despite the struggle for existence of Zulu superstition; influences are at work affecting the type of dwelling of the Zulus, their food, dress, handicrafts, customs, and thought.... To have elaborated on any one of these topics would alone... have called for a different kind of work from the present one... It is only fair that this explanation should be made, lest it should seem that I have been unaware of the gravity of these matters" (Introductory Note).

1948: [LILLYbm] Zulu-English Dictionary, compiled by C[lement] M[artin] Doke & B[enedict] W[allet] Vilakazi. Johannesburg: Witwatersrand University Press, 1948. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold. Pp. [2] i-vii viii-xxvi, 1 2-903 904. First edition. Zaunmüller, col. 409. Cf. Dalby 1636. This copy with the release stamp of the British Museum, and with "British Museum" and a crown stamped in gold on front and rear cover, and "British Museum" stamped on top edge. Includes Zulu-English, pp. [1]-903.

"The preparation of this dictionary was carried out under the auspices of the Bantu Studies Department of the University of the Witwatersrand and the Native Education Department, Natal.... The compilers based their original work upon A. T. Bryant's 1905 Zulu-English Dictionary, with the ready consent of the author, who wrote in 1937 that 'such a Zulu Dictionary as you forecast had sometime t come, and that time has come.' The need for a new Zulu dictionary was urgent. Both Bryant's outstanding work and the late R. C. Samuelson's King Cetywayo Zulu Dictionary were out of print; only Colenso's work, very sound but now out of date and inadequate in scope...was still procurable" (Introduction)."

1953: Second edition, enlarged [LILLY] Zulu-English Dictionary, compiled by C[lement] M[artin] Doke & B[enedict] W[allet] Vilakazi.

Johannesburg: Witwatersrand University Press, 1953. Original dark blue cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in gold; gray d.j. lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [2] i-vii viii-xxvi, 1 2-918 919-920. Second edition revised with addendum. Zaunmüller, col. 409 (listing both 1948 and 1953 editions). Dalby 1636.

"Advantage has been taken of the need for a second edition to make a number of corrections and improvements in the text, and to add a very considerable number of new words....In order to avoid the expensive upsetting of the whole type of the first edition, the new words are gathered into an Addendum at the end of the volume; the rightful place in the text, however, is indicated by a star H, which will immediately direct the consulter's attention to the Addendum" (Prefatory Note to the Second Edition).

1958: [LILLYbm] English and Zulu Dictionary, compiled by C[lement] M[artin] Doke, D. McK. Malcolm, & J. M. A. Sikakana. Johannesburg: Witwatersrand University Press, 1958. xiv, 572, vi, 342 p. 19 cm. Hardbound without d.j. Murphy 107: 1096. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. English-Zulu, pp. [1]-572 and Zulu-English, 342 p.. Also published in separate vols. under the titles: English-Zulu dictionary, and Zulu-English vocabulary.

1958: Separate English-Zulu issue [IUW] English-Zulu Dictionary, compiled by C[lement] M[artin] Doke, D. McK. Malcolm, & J. M. A. Sikakana. Johannesburg: Witwatersrand University Press, 1958. Xii, 572 p., 18 cm. Library binding. First edition. Not in Zaunmüller. Dalby 1635. English-Zulu, pp. [1]- 572.

"The aim of this dictionary is two-fold: to meet the needs of the Zulu speaker who wishes to know the meaning and use of idiomatic words, and to meet the needs of the English speaker who wishes to know how to render the English into Zulu. The English-Zulu Dictionary is intended as a companion to the Zulu-English Dictionary (Doke and Vilakazi) which first appeared in 1948" (Prefatory Note).

1958: Separate Zulu-English issue [LILLY] Zulu-English Vocabulary, compiled by C. M. Doke. Johannesburg: Witwatersrand University Press, 1958. viii, 342 p. 18 cm. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Zulu-English, pp. [1]-342.

1971: Second printing of the two-way dictionary [IUW] English-Zulu dictionary, compiled by C. M. Doke, D. McK. Malcolm [and] J. M. A. Sikakana [sic] 2nd imp. Johannesburg, Witwatersrand University Press, 1971 [i.e. 1972]. xiv, 572, vi, 342 p. 19 cm. Reprint of the 1958 ed. which has title: English and Zulu dictionary. Vol. 1. English-Zulu dictionary. Vol. 2. Zulu-English vocabulary.

1962: [IUW] Compact Zulu dictionary. English-Zulu; Zulu-English. Compiled by G. R. Dent; edited by C. L. S. Nyembezi. [2d. ed. rev.] Pietermaritzburg, Shuter & Shooter [1962] 147 p. 16 cm.

1969: [IUW] Scholar's Zulu dictionary; English-Zulu, Zulu-English, compiled by G. R. Dent and C. L. S. Nyembezi. Pietermaritzburg, Shuter and Shooter [1969] xi, 519 p. 19 cm.

2009: Fourth edition [IUW] Scholar's Zulu dictionary: English-Zulu, Zulu-English / compiled by G.R. Dent and C.L.S. Nyembezi. 4th ed. Pietermaritzburg: Shuter and Shooter, 2009. viii, 583 p.; 19 cm.

1983: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1983 [1985]: [IUW] Dictionary of basic English Zulu / K.B. Hartshorne; assisted by J.H.A. Swart and E. Posselt. Johannesburg: Educum Publishers, c1983 (1985 printing) 645 p.; 22 cm. Series: Across the curriculum.

1991a: [IUW] Afrikaans Zoeloe woordeboek met Engelse vertalings, compiled by Ernst Kotzé en Patrick Wela. Kaapstad: Tafelberg, 1991. xxxv, 301 p.; 23 cm. Afrikaans-Zulu-English dictionary.

1991b: [IUW] The concise trilingual pocket dictionary: English, Zulu, Afrikaans = Die kort drietalige sakwoordeboek: Afrikaans, Zoeloe, English, by P.C. Taljaard. Johannesburg: Ad Donker Publisher, 1991. 110, 104 p.; 18 cm.

1991c: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

1995a [1996]: [IUW] Compact Zulu dictionary: English-Zulu, Zulu-English / compiled by G.R. Dent; edited by C.L.S. Nyembezi. 6th ed. (rev. enl.) Pietermaritzburg: Shuter & Shooter, 1995 (1996 printing). 134 p.; 15 cm.

1995b: [IUW] Wat = What = Kuyini: Afrikaans, English, Zulu, by Comien van Wyk, Ian Lusted, Thokozile Luthulu_Xala. Durbanville: Garamond, 1995. 40 p.: col. ill.; 30 cm. A picture dictionary.

1995c: [IUW] English/Isizulu linguistic and literary terms = Amatemu Esingisi/Esizulu elingwistiksi nelithrisha / compiled by M.B. Kumalo. 1st ed. Lea Glen, Florida [South Africa]: Vivlia, 1995. vi, 48 p.; 17 cm. Includes bibliographical references (p. 46-48).

1995d: [IUW] Everyday Zulu: a vocabulary and reference book = incwadi yamagama nokwandisa ulwazi. Rev. ed. Pietermaritzburg, South Africa: Centaur Publications, 1995. vii, 88 p.: ill.; 21 cm. Includes index.

1995e: see 1995 under AFRIKAANS.

1995f: [IUW] Trilingual Business Dictionary = Idikshinari Yebhizinisi Yezilimi Ezintathu = Drietalige Sakewoordeboek / J. D. U. Geldenhuys, E. E. Viljoen, K. D. Mboweni-Marais. 3. ed. Pretoria: J. L. van Schaik, 1995. 296 p.; 21 cm. English-Zulu-Afrikaans dictionary.

1996: [IUW] Kompakte Zoeloe woordeboek: Afrikaans-Zoeloe: Zoeloe-Afrikaans = Isichazimazwi sesibhunu nasesizulu, compiled by G.R. Dent. Pietermaritzburg: Shuter and Shooter, 1996. 319 p. First edition.

1998: [IUW] Halala means welcome: a book of Zulu words / written and illustrated by Ken Wilson-Max. 1st ed. New York: Hyperion Books for Children, c1998. 1 v. (unpaged): col. ill.; 32 x 17 cm. Introduces words in Zulu, a "musical language with unusual clicking sounds" while following the activities of a boy at home in South Africa. Target audience: "Ages 3-7"--Cover p. [4].

201-?: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2005: [IUW] Illman's English-Zulu phrases and dictionary: Asikhulumeni = Let's talk: a basic guide of useful English-Zulu phrases and vocabulary: what to say and how the words are pronounced phonetically / [Shirley Illman]. 3rd ed. [South Africa]: Paddy Illman, 2005. 172 p.: ill.; 21 cm. English-Zulu phrases and dictionary.

2006: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2008a: see 2008b under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2008b: [IUW] Le zoulou de poche / Irène Roussat; illustrations de J.-L. Goussé. Chennevières-sur-Marne: Assimil, 2008. x, 213 p.: ill.; 15 cm. Uniform series: Assimil langues de poche.

2012: see under AFRICAN LANGUAGES... POLYGLOT.

2015: [IUW] Zulu plant names / Adrian Koopman. Pietermaritzburg, South Africa: University of KwaZulu-Natal Press, 2015. xviii, 324 pages, 12 unnumbered pages of plates: illustrations (color); 23 cm. Includes bibliographical references and index.

[ZUNI] Zuni /'zu:ni/ (also formerly Zuñi) is a language of the Zuni people, indigenous to western New Mexico and eastern Arizona in the United States. It is spoken by around 9,500 people worldwide, especially in the vicinity of Zuni Pueblo, New Mexico, and much smaller numbers in parts of Arizona. Unlike most indigenous languages in the US, Zuni is still spoken by a significant number of children and, thus, is comparatively less threatened with language endangerment. Edmund Ladd reported in 1994 that Zuni is still the main language of communication in the pueblo and is used in the home (Newman 1996). Within the language, the language itself is called Shiwi'ma (shiwi "Zuni" + -'ma "vernacular", trans. as "Zuni way") and its speakers are collectively A:shiwi ('a:(w)-"plural" + shiwi "Zuni") (WikP).

Ethnologue: zun. Alternate Names: Shiwi'ma, Zuñi.

1851-1857: see Vol. 4 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1860: see under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1907-1930: see Vol. 17 under INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES OF NORTH AMERICA: POLYGLOT.

1958: [LILLYbm] Zuni dictionary, by Stanley [Stewart] Newman [1905-]. [Bloomington, IN: Indiana University Research Center in Anthropology, Folklore, and Linguistics, 1958. Original cream wrappers, lettered black. Pp. i-iv v vi, 1 2-117 118. First edition. Series: Publication of the Indiana University Research Center in Anthropology, Folklore, and Linguistics, 6. Also International Journal of American Linguistics, vol. 24, no. 1, part. II. Includes Zuni-English, pp. [7]-49, English-Zuni, pp. [50]-108. This is the first dictionary of the language. A glossary of common Zuni terms, by E. Richard Hart was published by the Pueblo of Zuni in 1973. Second copy: [IUW].

Bibliographical references

Bartholomew, Doris A. & Louise C. Schoenhals: Bilingual Dictionaries for Indigenous Languages. Mexico D.F.: Instituto linguistico de Verano, 1983. Original pale tan cloth over boards, lettered and decorated in brown and white. 370 pp. Includes a Bibliography of Bilingual Dictionaries for Spanish North America, pp. 351-361.

Beam, C. Richard: "Pennsylvania German Lexicography: Past and Present," in: Yearbook of German-American Studies 38, 2003, pp. 255-292. Original paper over boards, issued without dustjacket. Includes annotated chronological list of all vocabularies and dictionaries from 1870 (Harbaugh's Harfe) through 2004.

Black, George F.: A Gypsy Bibliography: Provisional Issue. Edinburgh: Edinburgh University Press, 1909. 139 ff. Privately printed for the members of the Gypsy Lore Society. Original drank green wrappers. With the author's signature on front wrapper. [LILLY]. Second copy: [LILLYmk]

Black, George F.: A Gypsy Bibliography. London: Bernard Quaritch, 1914. Original green wrappers, lettered in black. 226 pp. + 12 pp. Series: Gypsy Lore Society. Monographs. No. 1. [LILLY]. Second copy: [LILLYmk].

Bright, William: Bibliography of the Languages of Native California. Including closely related languages of adjacent areas. Metuchen, N.J. & London: The Scarecrow Press, 1982. Original light orange cloth over boards, lettered in black. 222 pp. Native American Bibliography Series, no. 3. 12/26/99. $39.95. Ethnographic Arts. This copy with the ownership signature of [W.W.] Elmendorf, author of Structure of Twana culture, New York: Garland, 1974, and other similar works.

Capell, A.: A Survey of New Guinea Languages. Sydney: Sydney University Press, 1969. Original green cloth over boards, lettered in white; dust jacket brown, lettered in black and white, with photographic illustrations on front cover. 158 pp. This copy with loosely inserted review of the book by Karl J. Franklin, as well as bookplate and ink ownership signature of Bryan Ezard. Ezard is author of A grammar of Tawala: An Austronesian language of the Milne Bay area, Papua New Guinea (Canberra, Australian National University, 1997), and has translated selections of the New Testament into Tavara (Papua New Guinea) for the Wycliffe Bible Translations. August 1998.

Casada, James A.: Sir Harry Hamilton Johnston: A Bio-Bibliographical Study. Basel: Basler Afrika Bibliographien, 1977. Original pale green wrappers, lettered in black. 120 pp. First edition.

Claes, F.: Lijst van Nederlandse woordenlijsten en woordenboeken gedrukt tot 1600. F. Claes. Nieuwkoop: B. De Graaf, 1974.

Collins, James T.: Malay, World Language of the Ages: a Sketch of its History. Kuala Lumpur: Dewan Bahasa dan Pustaka, 1996. Original stiff violet illustrated wrappers, lettered in two shades of yellow and white. 92 pp. First edition.

Collison, R. L.: A History of Foreign-Language Dictionaries. London: Andre Deutsch, 1982. Original stiff violet wrappers, lettered in white and pink. 214 pp. First edition.

-----: Dictionaries of Foreign Languages: A Bibliographical Guide to the General and Technical Dictionaries of the Chief Foreign Languages, with Historical and Explanatory Notes and References. London: Hafner Publishing Company, 1955. Original blue cloth over boards, lettered in gold. 210 pp. First edition. Also: second edition, revised and enlarged, New York: Hafner, 1971. 303 p.

Dalby, Andrew: A Guide to World Language Dictionaries. Chicago, London Fitzroy Dearborn Publishers, 1998. 470 p. [LILLY] [LILLYmk] [IUW].

Doke, C. M. & D. T. Cole: Contributions to the History of Bantu Linguistics. Johannesburg: Witwatersrand University Press, 1961. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 130 pp. First edition.

Dutton, Tom: Police Motu: Iena Sivarai (its Story). [Waigani]: University of Papua New Guinea Press, 1985. Original yellow illustrated wrappers, lettered in red. 298 pp. First edition.

Fabbri, Maurizio: A Bibliography of Hispanic Dictionaries. Catalan, Galician, Spanish, Spanish in Latin America and the Philippines. Appendix: A Bibliography of Basque Dictionaries. Galeati, Imola, 1979. First edition. Original dark red wrappers, lettered in white. 381 p. [IUW]

Ghali, Wagdy Rizk: Mu'jam al-mu'jamat al-'arabiyah: rasd hasri sharih lil-mu'jam al-'arabi al-matbu' = Arabic dictionaries: A comprehensive annotated bibliography of printed Arabic dictionaries. Bayrut: Maktabat Lubnan Nashirun, 1993. [LILLYmk].

Hendrix, Melvin K.: An International Bibliography of African Lexicons. With preface by Carleton T. Hodge. Metchen, N. J.: The Scarecrow Press, 1982. Original black cloth over boards, lettered in gold. 348 pp. First edition. This copy with tipped-in printed presentation slip from the author, inscribed in ink: "Carleton, This is it! I hope you like its final form. I cannot thank you enough for your moral and intellectual support over the past six years. Melvin Providence, 10 June 1982". From the library of Carleton T. Hodge.

Jakobson, Roman, Gerta Hüttl-Worth & John Fred Beebe: Paleosiberian Peoples and Languages. A bibliographical guide. New Haven: HRAF Press, 1957. Original brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 224 pp. First edition.

Jones, Ruth: African Bibliography Series. Ethnography, Sociology, Linguistics and related subjects. North-East Africa. London: International African Institute, 1959. Original stiff wrappers, spiral bound. 51 ff. First edition.

Karpinska, Laura: English-Latvian lexicographic tradition: a critical analysis. Berlin; Boston: De Gruyter, [2015]. Includes complete list of known English-Latvian dictionaries with minimal bibliographical information.

Katzner, Kenneth: The Languages of the World. London and New York: Routledge, 1992. Paperback. 378 pp. Revised edition, first published in 1986.

Lewanski, Richard C.: A bibliography of Slavic dictionaries. 2d rev. & enl. ed. Bologna, Editrice Compositori, 1972-73.

Ludewig, Hermann E.: The Literature of American Aboriginal Languages. With additions and corrections by Professor Wm. W. Turner. Ed. by Nicolas Trübner. London: Trübner and Co. 1858 [1857]. Original gilt and blind embossed dark brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold; a small chip to the spine has been expertly repaired; xxiv, 258 pp. Withdrawn from the Library of the Historical and Philosophical Society of Ohio, with their bookplate. First edition. "A Landmark bibliography of all the known books relating to words and vocabularies of all the tribes of the Americas" (Andrew Cahan). Field 959: "... as a monument of industry, is scarcely excelled."

Marsden, William: A catalogue of dictionaries, vocabularies, grammars, and alphabets: in two parts. First edition. London: [s.n.], printed 1796. [6], 154 pages; 27 cm (fol.) Bound in half green straight-grain morocco and marbled boards, edges sprinkled. Contents" (from t. p.) Part I. Alphabetic catalogue of authors. II. Chronological catalogue of works in each class of language. CBEL, II, 926. [LILLY].

Marsden, William: Bibliotheca marsdeniana philologica et orientalis. A catalogue of books and manuscripts collected with a view to the general comparison of languages, and to the study of Oriental literature. London, Printed by J.L. Cox, 1827. 2 preliminary leaves, 308, [3] pages 27cm. Bound in full diced calf. The collection was presented to King's college, London, in 1835. List by C.R. Boxer "Relics of the Marsden MSS in King's College," see bibliographical file. With the author's signed autograph presentation inscription. From the library of C.R. Boxer.

Murphy, John D. and Harry Goff: A Bibliography of African Languages and Linguistics. Washington, D.C.: The Catholic University of America Press, 1969. Original pale brown wrappers, lettered and decorated in black and red. 148 pp. First edition.

Books in Māori, 1815-1900: an annotated bibliography, compiled in the Alexander Turnbull Library [by] Phil Parkinson & Penny Griffith = Ngā tānga reo Māori: ngā kohikohinga me ōna whakamārama / i hangā i Te Whare Pukapuka o Alexander Turnbull. Auckland [N.Z.]: Reed Pub., 2004. 1013 p.: ill.; 22 cm.

Pilling, James Constantine: Bibliography of the Athapaskan Languages. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1892. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 126 pp. First edition. Ex-library. With ownership stamp of Capt. Robert E. Donnelly.

-: Bibliography of the Chinookan Languages (including the Chinook Jargon). Washington: Government Printing Office, 1893. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 82 pp. First edition.

-: Bibliography of the Eskimo Language. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1887. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 116 pp. First edition.

-: Bibliography of the Iroquoian Languages. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1888. Original brown half-leather and green pebbled cloth over boards, lettered in gold; a.e. marbled. 208 pp. First edition. On of 100 numbered large paper copies [no. 41]. With embossed stamp on title page: "Bureau of American Ethnology Library."

-: Bibliography of the Muskogean Languages. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1889. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 114 pp. First edition.

-: Bibliography of the Siouan Languages. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1887. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 88 pp. First edition. With the ownership stamp of Capt. Robert E. Donnelly, and the contemporary ink signature of Jas. A. Robertson.

-: Bibliography of the Salishan Languages. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1893. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 86 pp. First edition. With the ownership signature of R. Lehmann-History.

-: Bibliography of the Wakashan Languages. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1894. Original gray wrappers, lettered and decorated in black. 70 pp. First edition.

Powell, J. W.: Introduction to the Study of Indian Languages with words phrases and sentences to be collected. Second edition-with charts. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1880. Original dark maroon cloth over boards, lettered in gold. Badly water stained. 228 pp. + 20 pp. of lined paper. Second edition, with four charts and an "Alphabet to accompany second edition of 'Introduction to the Study of Indian Languages'" loosely inserted at rear of volume.

Reinecke, John E., et al: A Bibliography of Pidgin and Creole Languages. Honolulu: The university Press of Hawaii, 1975. Oceanic Linguistics Special Publication No. 14. Original orange-brown and white wrappers, lettered in black. First edition. 804 pp.

Schmidt, Ruth Laila & Omkar N. Koul: Kohistani to Kashmiri: An Annotated Bibliography of Dardic Languages. Patiala, India: Indian Institute of Language Studies, n.d. [ca. 1983]. Original orange cloth over boards, lettered in gold. First edition. 78 pp.

Schoenberg, Wilfred P.: Jesuit Mission Presses in the Northwest: A History and Bibliography of Imprints, 1876-1899. Portland, Oregon: The Champoege Press, 1957. Original red cloth over boards, illustrated in yellow and lettered in gold. 76 pp. First edition. One of 804 copies.

Shanmuganar, Pulavar Sundrara: History of Tamil Lexicography. Pondicherry: Puthuvai Painthamizh Pathippakam, 1967. Original gray wrappers, lettered in brown. 60 pp. First edition. 12/31/98.

V&D: [IUW] Voorhoeve, Jan & Donicie, Antoon: Bibliographie du Nègro-Anglais du Surinam, avec une appendice sur les langues créoles parlées à l'intérieur du pays. S'Gravenhage: Martinus Nijhoff, 1963. 115 p. First edition. Library binding preserving original purple front wrapper with white label lettered in black.

Vater, Johann: Litteratur der Grammatiken, Lexika und Wörtersammlungen aller Sprachen der Erde, von Johann Severin Vater. 2., völlig umgearb. Ausg. Berlin, Nicolaische Buchhandlung, 1847. [xii] 592 p. 22 cm. [IUW].

Taylor, Douglas: Languages of the West Indies. Baltimore: The Johns Hopkins University Press, 1977. Original orange cloth over boards, lettered in black. 284 pp. First edition. Includes reprinted wordlists from historical sources of numerous wordlists from the West Indies area, including creole languages.

Thomas, Cyrus & John R. Swanton: Indian Languages of Mexico and Central America and their Geographical Description, accompanied by a linguistic map. Washington: Government Printing Office, 1911. Original brown cloth over boards, decorated in blind, and lettered and decorated in gold. 108 pp. First edition.

Wolf, [Gustav]: Linguistisches Vademecum, das ist: Eine alphabetisch und systematisch geordnete Handbibliothek ausgewählter Werke und Abhandlungen auf dem Gebiete der Linguistik, 3 vols in one. [Leipzig]: Wolf, 1884-1887]. Original blue gray cloth pasted to boards, lettered and decorated in black. Pp. [2] 1-214 215-216 +2 pp. adverts. First edition. This copy with the bookplate of the noted Munich bookseller Theodor Ackerman.

Zaunmüller, Wolfram: Bibliographisches Handbuch der Sprachwörterbücher. Stuttgart: Anton Hiersemann Verlag, 1958. Original brown cloth over boards, lettered in gold. 495 pp. First edition. This copy with the bookplate of Gert Zischka, the noted lexicographer and author of the Index Lexicorum (1959).